GOOD HEALTH

1. WHAT IS AN EMERGENCY MEDICAL CALL SYSTEM?

2. IS REHABILITATION POSSIBLE FOR THE BED-RIDDEN AGED?

Answer to Question No. 1:

In recent years, county medical societies throughout the country have taken steps to insure the public of obtaining the services of a doctor at any time of day or night if the family physician cannot be reached, regardless of the patient's ability to pay. The local medical society publishes a telephone number to be called and provides a central switchboard to handle such calls. At the end of 1951, there were 354 emergency medical call systems in operation throughout the nation and the number is steadily increasing.

Answer to Question No. 2:

Yes, many old people who were once bedridden by certain chronic illnesses (such as heart disease, arthritis, etc.) have had their muscles "re-educated," thereby enabling them to dress and feed themselves and frequently to do simple, useful chores. The combined efforts of doctors, nurse and physical therapist will accomplish much toward rehabilitating these old people.

Answer to Question No. 3:

There is no specific drug to cure undulant fever (brucellosis). Some of the newer antibiotics help. Humans probably contract the disease by drinking unpasteurized (raw) milk or by eating meat from infected cattle. Local laws requiring pasteurization of milk and inspection of food animals by health authorities are the best hope for preventing the disease.

Typhus Fever Still Spreading

Typhus fever continues to make its appearance in various counties of Texas, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. Like typhoid fever, most cases appear during the summer and fall, and all citizens are urged to help control the spread of typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

"There is only one way in which typhus can be controlled," Dr. Cox said, "and that is by, as nearly as possible, completely exterminating rats in the state, since fleas from infected rats transmit the disease to man. We can begin to visualize the extent of the needed extermination campaign when we realize that there is estimated to be 13,000,000 rats in Texas."

There has been some confusion concerning the type of typhus fever which is occurring in Texas, but Dr. Cox pointed out that this disease is entirely different from the old world type which has followed some of the armies in Europe. Ordinarily the kind of typhus which makes its appearance in this section of the country is not a fatal disease, although there has been a death rate of about two per cent from typhus this year.

The poisoning and trapping of rats throughout the state will help to control the spread of this disease, although these are temporary measures. In order to be permanently rid of rats they will have to be starved out, which means that buildings housing food supplies must be rat proofed.

It should also be remembered that rats cost the householder millions of dollars each year in the amount of food they either eat or spoil.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Black and daughter Jan were Pampa visitors Monday.

LET'S DEAL THE CARDS FACE UP

In order to keep the record straight, the citizens of Gray County ought to know, and deserve to know, the facts. For that reason, and that reason alone, I respectfully ask your consideration of the letter I have received which is reproduced here for your convenience:

LAW OFFICES OF CURTIS DOUGLASS PAMPA, TEXAS

August 16, 1952

Curtis Douglass Henry Gilchrist Don Cain

J. B. Maguire, Jr., Attorney Pampa, Texas

Dear Mac:

My attention has been called to a portion of the contents of a certain letter which Bruce Parker is circulating among the voters of Gray County, which is as follows: "... according to the records my opponent is a partner of Curtis Douglass, an attorney, who defends more drunken drivers in the County Court of Gray county than any other attorney in Pampa... What would happen to your drunken drivers if the attorney representing them and the Judge were partners?"

A statement such as this should be ignored because it is silly and ridiculous, except for the fact that Parker, who seeks the confidence of the people of this county by asking for a public trust, stoops so low in last minute desperation by inferring that I would try to corrupt you in your judicial capacity, and that you would likely be susceptible. In my opinion, any person who would make such a reckless charge is wholly unfit to hold any public trust, or else simply lacking in intelligence.

You are not a partner of mine and have not been associated with me in the practice since February 1, 1952. Parker could have learned this by asking either you or me, and his failure to do so certainly shows an evil design. In the next instance, everyone knows that even if we were partners and you were elected, I would be disqualified not only at law but also as a matter of legal ethics to try a case before you.

Now as to the drunken drivers and their cases in the County Court of Gray County, the following shows a hurried check of the records in cases where I have represented the defendants. I will not use the name of the defendants, but will show only the date originated and the disposition made, viz:

STYLE	DATE OF ORIGIN	DISPOSITION
State of Texas vs. ....	Sept. 1945	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Nov. 1945	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Nov. 1945	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Feb. 1946	Not Guilty
State of Texas vs. ....	Nov. 1947	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Nov. 1947	Not Guilty
State of Texas vs. ....	Aug. 1948	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Nov. 1948	Dismissed
State of Texas vs. ....	Feb. 1951	Pending
State of Texas vs. ....	Dec. 1951	Pending
State of Texas vs. ....	April 1952	Pending

The above cases are all that I could find on the records. There could be others pending, probably two or three, but you will note that the dates on the above cases go back before Parker was judge, but at a time when he was County Attorney.

The above record speaks for itself.

If Parker is proud of this record, very well, and I can assure you that I did not try to corrupt him or use any improper influence upon him in the making of it. His failure to produce came either from a lack of knowledge of his duties, or else a failure to perform.

I had no idea I would be brought into, and made a subject of dispute in your race. I have no business with Gray County and seek none. I pay my taxes and that is about the extent of any business transaction I ever hope to have with the County. But in view of such a wild charge, one that imputes dishonesty not only to you, but also me, I consider it my duty to write you this letter.

You have been associated with me in the past in the practice of law. I enjoyed it very much, because you have proven to me your worth. You are a fine young man who has displayed, in every instance, honesty, fairness and a willingness and determination to do what is right. I wish you success in your race for the office you seek, and in doing so, I feel confident that you would never betray a trust and will make a public servant that all of the people of Gray County will be proud of.

Your friend, very truly, (Signed)

WHAT HIGH FEDERAL taxes and inflation are doing to family incomes in Texas and other states is brought out today in a report by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Taking an average family of four (husband, wife, and two children) as an example, the WTCC showed how today's family incomes at various levels compare with those earned in 1940 after Federal income taxes are deducted and due allowance made for the reduced purchasing power of the dollar as the result of inflation. The study pointed out:

A family in the $3,000 income group today has $2,866.80 for living expenses after Federal income taxes. This has a purchasing power of $1,519.40 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had the use of all of its $3,000.

A $4,000 family today has $3,644.80 left after taxes. This has a purchasing power of $1,931.74 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had $3,964.80 in 100-cent dollars after taxes.

As for the $5,000 family today, it has left $4,422.80 after Federal taxes. But this income is worth only $2,344.08 in 1940 purchasing power. In 1940, however, this family had $4,923.20 after Federal income taxes.

A $10,000 family today has $8,226.40 after taxes. But its purchasing power is $4,439.99 in 1940 dollars. In 1940 this family had $9,560 after taxes.

The $100,000 family has $43,968 after Federal income taxes today and this income has the purchasing power of only $23,303.04 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had $57,051.60 after taxes.

Looking at the picture another way, the WTCC brought out these additional facts with due allowance for taxes and inflation:

A family of four today must earn a net income of $4,165 to equal a 1940 income of $2,000.

A $3,000 income earned in 1940 compares with $6,595 earned today.

A $4,000 income earned in 1940 compares with $9,010 today.

A family which earned $5,000 in 1940 must show a net income of $11,480 today to maintain the same standard of living.

And it takes a net income of $736,000 today to equal the purchasing power, after taxes, of a $100,000 income earned in 1940.

The Victory Bell at Annapolis a navy victory over the army, is rung only on the occasion of in football.

LES TALK

By LESTER

Saturday is election day again. We know that you are interested in the election, for this Saturday you definitely choose your county commissioner and your county judge, in addition to a few state officials.

We know you are interested, but are you interested enough to make a trip to the polls and vote?

Recently I attended the second annual alumni reunion of Wellington High School. Nearly 400 ex-students of the schools in Wellington were in attendance. Once more I thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the visiting I did—and I sure did a lot of visiting.

Maybe one of these days, one of our local grads will get the reunion bug right here in McLean, and promote such a day for McLean High alumni. The fellow who started it in Wellington is a young fellow by the name of Jimmy Cochran. He has done much of the work concerned since conceiving the idea, and I must say he has done a remarkable job.

Isn't there some young grad around here willing to put forth a little effort, and begin plans now for a McLean reunion for next summer? Since I am not an alumnus of McLean schools, I hate to keep mentioning it, but I do know for sure and certain that all of you would enjoy such a meeting thoroughly.

It's quite a thrill to see friends of years ago and see how they have changed. Of course, most of them are like me—they don't think they have changed a lot. But they have, and so have I. It's just a simple fact that few of us like to admit we're getting older and broader, etc.

Anyway, let's be thinking about it for next summer. The paper will be glad to help out in any way it can.

The football field has a nice turf on it for the fall grid season. It will be in better shape than ever before. The reason is simple: much work has been done on the field.

The plot of ground known as the gridiron will be seen by the general public only seven times this fall, although I'll grant that it will be in use daily for work-outs.

The plot of ground which surrounds the high school, and now the new elementary school, has been on exhibition all during the summer and spring months. But what an exhibition it has been. I understand, as you do, that little could be done about the new school grounds, for the construction of the new building would not allow any beautification.

But that's not true in the case of the high school, the Municipal Building, and the city's veteran school building. All three places could have, and should have, undergone beautification programs during the summer. It's a cinch not much beautification will be done in the winter.

Some people say that school grounds cannot be kept covered with grass, yet I, and no doubt you, too, have seen very well kept school grounds. Chances are you'd be surprised how much respect the school students will show to a pretty grass lawn on their school grounds. Some students will, naturally, do all they can to ruin such lawns, but the majority will not.

I sincerely hope that next spring an all-out beautification system for our school properties will be put into effect.

While on this subject, I also sincerely hope that the city can find some way to lease the veterans' building to the school. First of all, it would make an ideal location for Vernon Gibson's vocational set-up. And then, perhaps it can be used for many other purposes of which I am not aware.

One thing for sure, I hope the city doesn't tear down the building. There would be some salvage from the materials in the building, it's true. But I don't believe they would amount to as much as the use of the building can in the future.

What I would really like to see is for the city to sell the building to the school, with the stipulation that the school, within a period of a few years, brick veneer the building to match the new elementary building. Then we would really have a nice educational set-up, as far as physical properties are concerned. All these thoughts I have, as you notice, cost money. But everything doesn't have to be done at once. Some sort of long-range improvement plan could be set up—and then followed on the mark. A budget system, so to speak.

Big industries work their expansion programs that way. Why wouldn't it work for the school system, too?

Anyway, let's please not tear down that vet's building. Even if the school doesn't use it, surely it can be made useful in some other way. And also, enough of this "sight-sore" business when speaking of the building. There are many, many store buildings right down here in the middle of town which look worse than that structure does.

A Four-Day Fishing Trip
A party of young people chartered by Mrs. J. H. Horton and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Richardson left here late Friday afternoon in two wagons for a four-day fishing and hunting excursion in Wheeler County.

The first stop was made at the Pursley Ranch, and we pitched our camp for the night. Early Saturday morning the caravan was on its way northwest and stopped for dinner at the R. B. Hearne Ranch, resuming travel about 1 o'clock. The next stop was Salt Creek, about two miles east of the night and enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Paul Cochran who owns a beautiful place on this picturesque creek. Here we caught our first fish and the hungry crowd enjoyed it very much.

The Cochran place is one of the oldest settled in that section, having been homesteaded about 30 years ago. One of the interesting landmarks of the Panhandle is the adobe house, now almost in ruins, that has stood the ravages of time for many years. Mr. Cochran has lived on the place since early childhood and has witnessed the wonderful transformation that has taken place since the pioneer days. Along the creek through the pasture are the magnificent big cottonwood trees and other trees, including quite a few black walnuts. In many a place the water is deep and very clear, and a report is current to the effect that a team of mules once ran into one of the holes with a plow and has never been seen since. In searching for the bottom of the hole, 60 feet depth was reached without any results.

Sunday morning the camp moved across the lane into the ranch of Jim Johnson on the same creek and we pitched our tent under the trees in a beautiful hay meadow that had been recently mowed. Mr. Johnson is also an old-timer, having lived in the section for about 25 years, and he is of that excellent school of pioneer gentlemen to whom the words "selfish" and "inhospitable" are entirely foreign. His place was posted against the ravages of promiscuous fishing and degrading, but when interviewed by a member of the party with reference to stopping on his proposes, he was very gracious and proffered us every courtesy that even a friend could expect. It was one of the real pleasures of the trip to know and enjoy the hospitality of Mr. Johnson.

We spent Sunday here resting and enjoying the cool breezes under the shade of the trees. In the afternoon a bunch of young folks went over to Mobeetie on a sightseeing trip. We stayed at the Johnson place until Monday morning, when we started on our homeward journey, taking supper at the Hearne Ranch and then driving to the Pursley Ranch, where we camped for the night.

Early Tuesday morning the weary crowd crawled out of their only moderately comfortable bed and cooked breakfast in the ranch house, courtesy of Woodie Hindman and Luther McCombs. Before leaving the ranch, Mr. McCombs invited the bunch down to the orchard and loaded them all with fine peaches, which were especially enjoyed. Then came the last stretch of the homeward journey which ended about 12 o'clock. The somewhat soiled but jolly bunch came on in solemn procession through the main street and took refreshments at the confectionery before dispersing.

On the whole it was a most pleasant outing and shall undoubtedly be repeated.

Those in the crowd were Mrs. S. H. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Richardson, Misses Lucille Horton, Annie Dalrymple, May Davis, Hattie Thompson, Ruby Rice, and Ruth Paschall; Messrs. Billie Biggers, Orin Thompson, Rhea Faulkner, Roy Rice, and Orman Horton, and Miss Helen and Master Charlie Horton.

Donley County— SOIL NEWS

The county mobilization committee composed of the PMA committee, the supervisors of the district, and the heads of the local agricultural agencies, at a recent meeting approved a 15,000 acre goal of cover crops this fall in Donley County.

This figure is at least twice the amount seeded last year. However, judging from the enthusiasm that most farmers have for cover crops, this goal will be greatly exceeded if ample moisture is received by planting time.

C. P. Hamilton, a member of the PMA committee, believes Donley County farmers should plant every acre of cotton land to a winter cover crop. This would certainly be the best thing that could be done to keep our soil at home next spring. It is common knowledge that cotton land is the land most susceptible to blowing. Therefore, first consideration should be given to seeding cotton land to a winter crop that will protect the soil next spring.

Seeding the cover crop of rye, wheat, australian winter peas, hairy vetch, or a mixture of these in the cotton middles in the latter part of August or September before the cotton is harvested is the best method.

There are several ways to plant the cover crop without injury to the cotton. The seed may be sown by hand and covered with the cultivating plows. Some farmers use a regular grain drill and remove the appropriate discs to miss the cotton rows.

Several farmers have had good success adapting the old one-row horse-drawn drills to their tractors.

The district has two drills especially designed for seeding cover crops in cotton middles. These seeders may be rented from the district at 25 cents per acre.

Farmers are urged to locate their cover crop seed now and be ready to plant as soon as moisture conditions are favorable.

Health Talk— YOU—A GARDEN

If your doctor asked you "How does your garden grow?" instead of "How are you feeling?" you might think him a little childish. But the development of your health is very similar to the development of a garden.

You are made up of three things, fluids, gases and solids. These three substances are constantly undergoing change, getting used up, being replaced, and having the waste eliminated. Like a garden of many plants, you are a hodgepodge of seeds, the solids of your body. Like the garden, those seeds must have air and water in order to grow and reach full bloom. Like the garden, when the blooms have died, there must be air and water in your body to remove the dead parts and salvage the seeds that can be used again.

Air is essentially a gas and most of the fluids of the body are comparable to water. Air serves not only to feed oxygen to the seeds scattered in all parts of the body, but as gas may be considered as a fuel that provides the heat which the body needs to cultivate its seeds. Heat is also supplied by calories in food and by vitamins, the internal version of sunlight.

Since the fluids of the body serve as the irrigation for the garden of health, they are extremely important in the safeguarding of health.

Many centuries ago Galen, one of the early Greek medical scholars, took up the study of the fluids of the body and decided that life was a cycle by which the body became less moist from infancy to old age. In his expression, you are born very moist and become drier in all parts through the years, accounting for the wrinkled and brittle condition of the very old. Galen is not credited with the origin of the expression "Aw, dry up," however.

Today the medical scholars know there is a certain desirable balance to be maintained between the solids and the fluids of the body as well as a balance between the acids and the alkalines or salts of the body. Since acids may be a broad indication of the gases and the salts may be generally considered as the solids that are traveling in the body streams from one part of the body to another, this acid-alkaline relationship becomes an important indicator of the whole health of the body.

The body is about 75 per cent water. Half of the body weight is made up of water which is held in the cells of the body and one-fourth of the body weight is made up of moving water, so-called extracellular water. Your dry bones and the squeezed-out organs of your body would account for only about one-fourth of your total weight if they could be weighed separately.

The gases that provide the heat in the body and the salts that form the structure of the body have a drying-out tendency so that more moisture must always be added, moisture in the form of water, internally and externally. The body streams not only deposit the "seeds" where they belong but also furnish the heat for that seed to expand and contribute to growth. Then the streams carry away the waste materials.

Such is the continuous growth in the body, however, that what is waste for one organ may be a "seed" for the next. So the fluid channels of the body, picking up material from one organ, take it to the next where it is filtered and the "good" is taken out, then carry what's left to the next where whatever that organ needs it takes out, then carry the remains on and on until finally there is only waste which no part of the body needs at that moment and the waste is eliminated from the body.

Some of the materials in the body do not move through the more obvious fluid channels such as the blood stream. Some materials are more portable and move through the pores of the walls from one part of the body to the next, a process called osmosis. From the deep layers of the skin certain waste products of the underskin waste products all the layers until they reach the top of the skin, forming scales that rub off and forming around the bathtub. As material moves from the skin towards the top skin also undergoing changes, some parts of it at each stage and becoming less and less as it gets to the outside skin dries there and warmth, moisture and solids in the form of warm water and soap are necessary to remove the waste

Khadi is a Hindustani word meaning "dust colored."

CLYDE ANDREWS, third from the left, owner of the Andrews Equipment company and local Pontiac dealer, is presented with a reproduction of an oil painting of old Chief Pontiac by T. A. Cullen, zone manager for the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, in a brief ceremony last Friday morning. Andrews has been named recipient of the Better Dealer award. Pictured above, left to right, are Charles Cousins, school business manager; Mayor E. J. Lander; Andrews; Paul Kennedy, school superintendent; Howard Horn, American Legion commander; Cullen; and Jack Reihly, Pontiac zone business manager.

Clyde Andrews, Pontiac Dealer, Receives Highest Dealer Award

Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors has named the Andrews Equipment company of McLean to the Better Dealer "Hall of Fame" for outstanding dealer accomplishments.

The firm is headed by Clyde H. Andrews, owner. With honors, Andrews has been presented a reproduction of the famous painting of Pontiac, chief of the Ottawas and Indian confederacy leader, for whom the car is named. T. A. Cullen, manager of the Pontiac Oklahoma City zone, made the formal presentation and lauded improvements, community service, and accomplishments of Andrews.

"Pontiac's Better Dealer program has been in effect for about two years now, with an aim to make Pontiac dealers pre-eminent in the automotive field," Cullen said. "It is not enough that those admitted to the select group be as good as competition . . . they must be better. They must be better than they were before, a year ago, a month ago, or last week. They must constantly improve and have progressive thinking. They must be capable of continuing healthy growth in order to earn and then keep the symbolic portrait, given for as long as the high standards are met."

Under the Better Dealer program each Pontiac dealer is graded on improvement of his physical property; number of qualified, trained workmen; service facilities and adequate equipment, parts and accessories inventory, used car lot operations and advertising and public relations programs. Service to his community is vitally important.

"Our dealers and their employees are the Pontiac division's only contact with the buying public. The good will being enjoyed by us today and that we will have tomorrow depends on these contacts of Better Dealers," said Cullen.

In this regard, Andrews has been active in community affairs for more than eight years. He is now a member of the local school board.

The firm's facilities are considered among the finest and most modern in the community. The building measures 5,500 square feet. The showroom measures 2,750 square feet, and the service department is completely equipped with the latest mechanical aids. It measures 2,000 square feet. There are 5,000 square feet of customer parking area. Parts inventory is considered adequate to serve the community's need, embracing more than 800 square feet. The entire operation is well signed and lighted in an attractive way.

Other members of this organization are: Amos Thacker, shop foreman, with over 25 years experience; and Delos Hanes and James Dale Andrews.

GROWING PAINS In Gray County

By FOSTER WHALEY

Hot, dry weather is playing havoc with the ranchers, cotton and grain sorghum farmers as well. I actually believe a good general rain ten days ago would have meant a million dollars to Gray County farmers and ranchers.

Three weeks ago McLean cotton farmers had the best prospects in years, and today the picture is different.

E. T. Duncan told me today (Tuesday) that if it would rain in the next few days he could make a quarter bale cotton crop. Rain a week ago might have run his yield up to three-fourths bale per acre. His feed looks fair in spite of the drought. Duncan is another believer in fertilizing his cotton with 16-20-0 and putting the fertilizer in with a chisel before planting.

Many McLean farmers are pulling their last watermelons which are being damaged fast by the scorching weather.

I heard one cattle man say, "If this weather continues ten more days I will lose $7,000 on cattle I bought last spring."

All this gloomy atmosphere in McLean should assist Mr. Shivers in getting Texas declared a disaster area.

Some time ago I had a letter from John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture, declaring that the quarantine on pink boll worms in Gray County had been lifted. This would mean that cotton burs could be hauled back to the farm if the farmer wanted his burs. However, it is my understanding that certain other restrictions still exist. I have written White regarding this matter and I hope to have a reply from him by next Tuesday, at which time it will be carried in this article.

Burl Glass, probably one of the hardest-working residents of McLean, has started quite an undertaking on his place southeast of McLean. He is trying to kill out bear grass on a quarter section of land with a grubbing hoe, and I would like to report that he is doing a pretty good job of it. While on his place today, he showed me one morning's grubbing and it looked like it would have taken a crew of ten men to do the work in a half day. Burl plans to do some experimenting on some shinnery oak with the chemical spray 2, 4, 5, T.

The buffel grass on the Paul Kennedy place is still holding up well in the dry weather. See you next week.

Bruce L. Parker, County Judge
Pampa, Texas

Dear Sir:

I take it from the letter you recently sent the voters of Gray County that you, AND YOU ALONE, have run all of the business of Gray County, and that the Commissioners Court has nothing whatever to do with the County's business.

If this is a fact, then tell me why the School Bus route from Little Seminole, through the Dunigan-Bull lease, to Lefors is in such terrible shape? To my knowledge, Mr. Archer, the bus driver, has had to appeal for help to dig the bus out in the dead of winter with freezing weather while it was loaded with children.

If the County is in such excellent financial shape, why the need to employ outside help, at considerable cost to the taxpayer, which help does nothing other than to look for some way to RAISE TAXES?

WHY IS A TAX INCREASE NECESSARY AT ALL IF THE COUNTY IS IN SUCH GOOD FINANCIAL SHAPE?

Also, I ask you what does it cost to stay at our County Hospital? ISN'T it a fact that a poor person, or one of moderate means, can't afford to set sick if he has to go to the County Hospital?

Your letter, claiming credit for everything, brings to my mind an old Chinese proverb:

"He who rideth the tiger finds it hard to dismount."

Yours truly,
