GOSSIP (More or Less)

The senior class of McLean High School is sponsoring a chicken and spaghetti dinner Wednesday, February 1, at the Lions Hall. The meal will be served from 11 until 2 o'clock. Everyone is invited to eat with them.

Bonita Bailey, high-scoring forward on the McLean High School girls' basketball team, re-injured her knee in the McLean-Panhandle game in the Municipal Building Monday night. She was taken to Pampa for treatment immediately after hurting the knee. Her condition was reported as improving the following day, but she will definitely be unable to continue basketball.

Bonita had played the entire first half of the game, with her knee in a leather brace. She hurt the knee early in the second half when she attempted to turn around after gaining control of a free ball.

Milton (Buff) Morris, governor of Lions International District 2 T, paid his official visit to the McLean Lions Club Tuesday noon. Governor Morris, whose home is in Canyon, stressed the importance of the service which Lions Clubs throughout the world are giving. He traced briefly the history of the organization, starting from its inception in 1917. He explained that Lions International now includes more than 10,000 clubs in 41 different countries, with a total membership of more than one-half million men.

In concluding his address, Morris urged the local Lions, and others as well, to contribute to the Lions Crippled Children's Camp, now under construction near Kerrville under the sponsorship of Lions in Texas. The camp, which will cost about $370,000 to build, will be used for treating crippled children from over the entire state to two weeks of camp life. Morris stressed the happiness which he feels the camp will be able to bring to crippled children in Texas in the future.

The district governor also inducted four men into the club, the four having become members recently. They were C. E. Cooke, George Saunders, Dickie Everett, and C. L. Gentry.

Next week, members of the boys' basketball team of McLean High School will be dinner guests at the regular Lions Club meeting.

Our Cage Players

TO THE RIGHT are members of the boys' and girls' basketball teams of McLean High School, both of which hold very good records for the season. The boys by downing Canadian tonight can win the District 1-A title; the girls will probably finish in second place in the district, having lost to Panhandle twice. The boys have only one district loss, that to White Deer Tuesday night. Boys pictured, from left to right, are Jimmy Farren, James Kelly, Wayne Moore, Rodney Gunn, Wayne Smith, Rex Immel, Ricky Mantooth, Don Haslam, and James Smith, and Coach Don Leach. Girls shown are, left to right, front row, Texetta McCurtley, Lajune Chilton, Mary Graham, Joyce Bruner, Bonita Bailey, and Sue Hugg; middle row, Mariene Moore, Marie Watson, Sammie Jane Wood, Annette Smith, Mavis Wedley, and Christine Hunt, and Coach Leach; back row, Gwen Burnett, Sue Chase, Helen Bruner, and Billie Mae McClellan.

Piano Bought By P-TA for Grade School

The McLean elementary school is the proud owner of a brand-spanking new piano—thanks to the excellent work of an active Parent-Teacher Association. The piano bought by the P-T. A. was delivered to the school last week, and has been set up in the cafeteria. It is in this room that most of the school programs are held. The cafeteria, in addition to getting daily use by students, has already been used for several banquets. The piano was bought from the McBrayer Piano company in Amarillo for a price of $550. The P-T. A. had on hand about $300 to pay down on the piano, and the organization will still owe the remaining $250, Mrs. W. W. Shadd, P-T. A. president, said.

The blond-finish piano, with full keyboard, bears the brand name of Jesse French. Mrs. Shadd stated that the committee going to Amarillo to make the purchase felt they were getting a "good buy" at the price the firm made, and that finance terms were easy.

Accompanying Mrs. Shadd to Amarillo were Superintendent Paul Kennedy, Mrs. Woody Wilkerson, and Mrs. J. C. Claborn. The local organization has had only two money-raising activities during the past year. These included the Varsity Show last fall, and the recent basketball games. Some of the money, raised from these two events was used to buy furniture for the teachers' lounge in the elementary school, some for "blackout" curtains for showing films in the cafeteria, and the remainder was applied on the piano. The P-T. A. is "now broke," Mrs. Shadd said, since the down payment on the piano required the remainder of the money made on the two events, in addition to the dues paid by members. The organization boasts more than 100 members, each of whom pays dues of 50 cents per year.

Mrs. Harcrow Dies in Amarillo

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Lauvex Harcrow of Amarillo, former resident of McLean, were held Wednesday afternoon in Boxwell Brothers Ivy Chapel in Amarillo. She was 27 years of age. Mrs. Harcrow died Monday morning in St. Anthony's Hospital after an extended illness. Officiating at the funeral rites was Jack L. Mackey, minister of the Southside Church of Christ. Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery, Amarillo. Mrs. Harcrow, wife of L. L. Harcrow, had moved to Amarillo from McLean about one year ago, and was well known to many local residents. Survivors include her husband; one son, Lewis Wayne; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Rogers of Amarillo; and a sister, Mrs. Helen Jean Floyd, also of Amarillo.

District Meeting Of Postmasters To Be Held Here

Postmasters from throughout the 18th congressional district will meet in McLean Saturday, February 21, Postmaster Johnnie Back has announced. The postmasters were invited to meet here by the McLean Jaycees at their last session in Dumas early last fall. The invitation was extended by Postmaster Back. The group will meet for a business session in the American Legion Hall, with registration beginning at 2 o'clock. At 3 o'clock, they will divide into two classes, each of which will probably be conducted by a postal inspector. Following the classes, beginning at about 6:30 o'clock, a banquet for the visitors will be held in the elementary school cafeteria. An out-of-town speaker, yet to be designated, will be featured at the banquet, the local postmaster said.

15 Boys Have Top o' Texas Show Entries

Fifteen members of the McLean chapter of the Future Farmers of America will have entries in the Top o' Texas Junior Livestock Show in Pampa this week-end. Vernon Gibson, FFA sponsor, has announced. Pigs entered in the Junior division will be shown Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and club calves will be shown at 9 o'clock Monday morning. The Junior sale will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. "We would like to invite everyone to attend the show and see the stock which our boys are entering," Gibson said. "We would also appreciate some bidders from McLean during the sale Monday afternoon." The FFA judging contest will (Continued on back page)

Miami Cage Teams To Play P-T. A. Here on Monday

The McLean P-T. A. Moms and Dads will meet the Miami women's and men's basketball teams in two games in the McLean Municipal Building Monday night, February 16, at 7:30 o'clock, it has been announced. The games will be a return match for the two local teams, since they played in Miami recently. Admission will be 35 cents for adults, 25 cents for high school students, and 15 cents for grade school students. All proceeds will be used to aid in paying off the indebtedness on the piano recently bought by the P-T. A. for the local elementary school. In the first games with the Miami teams last Saturday night, Miami walked away with both the men's and women's games. The Miami women have been playing together for several years, and have several young women on their team.

Scotch Lite For Bumpers To Be Installed

Members of the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce will be on the streets of downtown McLean Saturday to install scotch lite reflecting materials on car bumpers. The charge for each car on which the material is installed will be $1. President Sammy Haynes said, and net proceeds of the safety campaign will go into the Jaycees activity fund. The regular meeting of the Jaycees, postponed from Monday night, will be held tonight in the American Legion Hall at 7:30 o'clock, Haynes said. The meeting was postponed due to a conflict with the McLean-Panhandle basketball games. All members, and all others who wish to attend, are urged to be present, Haynes said. The scotch lite campaign is being carried on by Jaycees, as well as other organizations, throughout the United States. Installation of the material on rear bumpers of cars has the full approval of the State Department of Public Safety in Texas. The material is a highly-reflecting substance, and cars which have the material on their rear bumpers can be seen from cars approaching from the rear for several hundred yards. The material reflects much greater than ordinary glass reflectors, and safety officials throughout the nation believe such installation can be a heavy factor in cutting down the number of highway accidents.

Alec Templeton Concert to Be In Shamrock

Alec Templeton, world-famed musician, will be the highlight of the season for members of the Community Concert Association, when he presents his program at Clark Auditorium in Shamrock Monday night, February 16, at 8 o'clock. Admission to the concert will be by membership card only. The association held its annual membership drive early last fall, when memberships were offered to local residents. Templeton first took piano lessons at the age of four. Unlike many other small children, he did not endeavor to evade the piano, but would beg to be allowed to play "just a little longer." He was born in Cardiff, Wales, and at 16 years of age, entered London's Royal College of Music. He then attended the London Academy of Music. The pianist first made his formal debut in the U. S. in Chicago's Orchestra Hall. Since that time, in America and throughout the world, Templeton has been celebrated not only in radio, concert, and recordings, but also as a composer. An American citizen since 1940, he lives with his wife in Greenwich, Conn.

Cold Spell Nips Warm Weather For Two Days, Brings Moisture

A regular winter cold spell blew in from the northwest Monday, lowering the spring weather temperatures of last week to below-freezing levels at night, and bringing a small amount of needed moisture throughout the Panhandle of Texas. The moisture total in McLean was only .13 of an inch Monday night, Pete Fulbright, local weather observer, reported. A brief shower early last Friday morning brought .04 of an inch, making the year's total moisture stand at .42 of an inch. The McLean moisture was partly rain, partly sleet, and perhaps a very small amount of snow. Further west, however, more moisture was received. Amarillo reported better than one-third of an inch, part of which came in the form of snow. Other areas to the west of McLean received about the same amount. Apparently the rain and snow was heavier to the north of McLean, too. Toward Pampa and Borger, the highways iced over, making driving dangerous Tuesday and Tuesday night. All highways were kept open, but drivers were warned to proceed carefully. When the cold front was moving in from New Mexico Monday, the Amarillo weather bureau issued livestock warnings to cattlemen throughout the Panhandle. The temperature dropped to about 25 degrees in McLean Monday night, and then fell to an even lower degree Tuesday night. Wednesday, the clouds dispersed, and the temperature began to climb. The weather bureau forecast that all clouds in the Panhandle would be gone by Wednesday afternoon, and that today would be fair and warmer. The cold spell was an abrupt ending to the spring-like weather being enjoyed all last week by Panhandle citizens. The temperatures during the days last week were ranging in the 80's, and no freezing weather was present at night.

Baptist WMU Treats Seniors With Banquet

Members of the 1953 graduating class of McLean High School were treated to the first of their senior activities when they were given a banquet by the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church Thursday night of last week. The banquet is an annual treat given the seniors—33 in the class this year—by the Baptist women's organization. As a general rule, it is the first in a series of activities in which members of each graduating class participate. Guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Thurman Upshaw of LeFors, pastor of the Baptist church of that community. He spoke on "Christian Education." Special guests, in addition to the seniors, included Superintendent Paul Kennedy, High School Principal Freeman Melton Jr., and the two class sponsors, Vernon Gibson and Mrs. J. D. Coloman.

Williams Buys Appliance Firm From Colebank

Sale of the McLean Electric company, owned by George Colebank since the origin of the firm a few years ago, to Howard Williams was announced this week. Williams has been serving as manager of the firm since it was started by Colebank as the local dealer for Frigidaire appliances. Colebank sold all his interest in the business to Williams, but retained ownership of the building in which it is located. The building, for the past two weeks, has been undergoing extensive remodeling. A new modern front has replaced the old one, and work on a hardwood floor was completed early this week. "It has been my desire to own the business for some time," Williams said, "and I am glad that I have been able to acquire it. I invite each of you to come in at any time, visit with us, and see the complete line of household and electrical appliances which we carry." The store, in addition to handling Frigidaire refrigerators, ranges, washers, driers, irons, and water heaters, will handle Motorola and RCA television sets. Williams already has a number of television sets on display. Williams will also continue to carry electric light fixtures, and the various electrical equipment used in wiring homes and businesses. He also carries many small electrical appliances, such as radios, irons, clocks, etc.

Boys Need Victory Over Canadian To Win 1-A Title

McLean's boys basketball team, leading the way in District 1-A, needs one more victory to cop the district title for the first time in several years. Both the boys' and girls' teams will play Canadian there tonight, and a victory by the boys will clinch the district title. A loss to Canadian will place the boys in a tie with White Deer for the title, and a play-off of two out of three games would be forthcoming next week. The girls, with two losses to Panhandle now on their record, are out of the district running, but will, in all likelihood, finish in second place. The boys downed Panhandle 52-36 Monday night to remain undefeated in district play, but lost that perfect record Tuesday night when they were edged by White Deer 60-59. The Tigers had whipped White Deer on the local court 53-52 a few weeks ago. The girls lost to Panhandle 35-28 to lose out on chances of winning the district title, but came back to blast the White Deer girls Tuesday night 63-27.

Gordon Suits To Give Show Friday Night

Gordon Suits, the "Old Red Robin" of Station KGNC, Amarillo, will present his "Musical Magic" show in the McLean High School Auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock. The show will be sponsored by the Progressive Study Club of McLean. Suits appeared in McLean about one year ago under the auspices of the local Lions Club, and his program was acclaimed by the audience as one of the best one-man shows to be presented here in some time. The radio star breaks his show into a variety of acts, including numerous popular songs, songs by the "Gordon Suits Quartet," magical tricks, and comedy. He is aided in some of the show by Mrs. Suits. Most people of the area, who have not seen him in person, are acquainted with him through his programs on KGNC. He appears on daily programs, and is featured in many types of songs as the "Old Red Robin." Each Sunday morning, he presents a program called "Holiday Time on Old McDonald's Farm," designed especially for children who are listening. Eighty per cent of the fur seals in the world are found on the Pribilof Islands off the coast of Alaska.

Rain Heavier West, North Of Local Area

Husbands — bless 'em — can be irritating creatures. There I was, delicately maneuvering a meringue on Jeff's favorite lemon pie when he came pounding in with all the grace of a cub bear.

"Get a question for you," he beamed.

"Can it wait a minute, Jeff? I almost ruined this pie."

"Can't wait. Bet you don't know this. What's the one thing all the following have in common: the Statue of Liberty, our refrigerator, St. James Palace in London, a milking machine, electricity..."

"Take a breath," I got in edgewise. "I give up."

"Copper," he says. "The vital ingredient in all these is copper, man's oldest and most useful metal. Why do you know we wouldn't have radio or vacuum cleaners or diesel engines or a thousand and one marvels without that red metal?"

He went on and on sounding like an encyclopedia hot off the press. Finally he produced the source of his enthusiasm... a booklet called "Romantic Copper." I took one look and was engrossed for the next half hour with one of the most interesting bits of reading I've come across in a long time.

If you're as curious as the Stuarts are about what goes on around you, do what Jeff did—write for a free copy of "Romantic Copper" to Copper and Brass Research Association, 429 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, New York.

I don't deny that I'm glad Jeff brought up the whole subject. What irks me is that at dinner my favorite spouse blithely remarked:

"Don't think I'm criticizing, dear, but what happened? This meringue on the pie... it just isn't up to par!"

A NEED ARISES

GAMMA GLOBULIN seems to be settling somewhat into its proper spot as one phase of the total national blood program under the office of Defense Mobilization, and conducted through the facilities of the American Red Cross.

News casts and press releases, January 26 and 27, may have brought questions to you since they quoted Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to the effect that a safe new vaccine against polio has been found. The vaccine, however, has not been sufficiently tested on humans. Field tests are planned, according to Dr. Weaver, during 1953.

While the release did not carry the point, it is nonetheless true that it could be 1954 or later before anything scientifically significant on the vaccine is known.

Meanwhile gamma globulin is still the best tested, temporary preventive of paralysis from polio.

The American Medical Association Journal, Vol. 150, No. 17, December, 1952, pages 1696-1698, carries a comprehensive report by the AMA committee on blood banks. A supplementary report dealing with blood fractions (plasma, serum albumin, and gg) is part of the AMA report.

Significant in the report is this: "From a practical point of view, while every reasonable effort should be made to provide adequate amounts of gg, as an interim measure, for minimal estimated epidemic needs for poliomyelitis in the coming season, primary consideration should be given to the requirements of the armed services and of civil defense for whole blood and its derivatives and of gg for the prophylaxis of measles and infectious hepatitis."

Another important factor is that "attention is called to the fact that present production of gg is but a small fraction of the minimal epidemic needs for polio alone, as estimated by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This fact emphasizes the urgent need to increase the rate of fractionation of human plasma as rapidly as possible."

Fractionation facilities are being expanded under the O. D. M. as rapidly as possible, but still cannot produce gg in the anticipated quantities needed. Fractionation of plasma produces much needed serum albumin and gg, and the report points up the value therein.

Beginning March 1, the annual fund drive of the American Red Cross will begin. The organization is seeking an additional $7 million, to be used to expand its blood program, the expansion to include gathering blood to be used in making the gamma globulin. Next October, if sufficient residents show their interest, a bloodmobile unit will visit McLean. Both the funds drive and the collection of blood will require your full cooperation. Prepare to give money to the funds drive in March, blood to the bloodmobile unit in October.

Polio Vaccine Near--Sanitation Still Important

Reports of a vaccine capable of preventing polio, and the use of gamma globulin for minimizing the effects of the disease are heralded as major achievements in the research against this greatcrippler and killer of children. Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, warns that both are still in the experimental stage. While they hold great promise, much study will yet have to be done before being available to the general public.

In the meantime, Dr. Cox advises that everyone observe the known rules of sanitation. These practices have proven their value not alone in the prevention of other such diseases as typhoid fever, dysentery and malaria. Even when a definite preventive of polio is available to the public they should not discontinue their efforts toward maintaining sanitary surroundings.

Sanitation efforts should be carried out every month and every day in the year. Householders, business houses and industry are responsible for keeping their property in a sanitary condition. Cities must furnish an uncontaminated water supply, maintain an efficient sewage disposal system and proper garbage collection and disposal.

Dr. Cox placed the responsibility on the individual when he said, "Insanitary places do not make the person but the person makes the places." If you have been lax in maintaining cleanliness of your surroundings during the past few months, now is a good time to start an intensive clean-up. Texans can help prevent disease and assure themselves of better health by maintaining a high standard of sanitation.

LES TALK

By LESTER

Paul Kennedy, superintendent of the local schools, Jack Edmondson, principal of the high school at Pampa, and I were discussing some of our days in the service over a cup of coffee the other morning.

And, naturally, we were all trying to think up something which might interest the other two in conversation.

Jack started it off by saying that he moved to Pampa in 1940, and when the draft registration time came around for him, he registered in Gray County, rather than his former home county, Hall County. Jack was reared in Estelline, and went to Pampa upon graduation from college. Jack was certainly not unpatriotic, but like most young men, he was in no hurry to go to the army—it was still peace time then, you recall. So he registered in Gray County, figuring he would have a little longer out of the army since Gray is a much larger county, in population. But when the first draftees left Gray County, Jack was among them. You see, he wound up with No. 250 in the nation. In Gray County this meant No. 60. By the time the fathers, and other exemptees, were removed, Jack was No. 30. By the time the initial physical exams were taken, Jack was No. 3. So he was drafted, and stayed in for five years.

Then Paul told how he sent all his extra money home to Frances before he left California for the Philippines. He didn't figure he would need much money en route, or in the Philippines, either, for that matter. So he left practically all the cash he had with Frances. But when he got to the islands, things in general were all mixed up, and there was little organization set up. As a result, eight months passed before Paul Kennedy got a pay day. You might say, he was broke by that time, to be sure.

Then that, of course, reminded me of a time in the service when I ran completely out of money. It was in 1943, and the armed forces had made a ruling whereby wives could get an allotment from the government if the husband in service would contribute to the amount. To make a long story short, the ruling was made retroactive to several months past, and for a period of several months, I received only $5 per month pay—instead of my usual $60. About that time, my wife came to Idaho, where I was stationed, at the time, to be with me for a while. I met her at the bus, gaily flipping a silver dollar. The first thing she asked when she stepped from the bus was, "Is that dollar all you have?" It was.

Those days in the service are sometimes pleasant to recall. But

This week is open house week at the City Hall, and at the other city facilities. The councilmen who serve you, in cooperation with a statewide "know your government" observance, are issuing a special invitation to all to see just what the City of McLean has in the way of facilities, etc. No big preparations for the week were made in advance. You won't be served any fancy refreshments. It's a week set aside to remind you that what the city owns is part yours, although your part may be very small. And if you own a small share in anything, you should be interested in seeing just what your investment amounts to. So visit the City Hall, go over to Pete Fulbright's hangout, and find out for yourself just what kind of equipment, how much manpower, etc., it takes to operate a business as big as that of the City of McLean. It might surprise you.

We've got a big dictionary here at the office which says:

"St. Valentine's Day: Feb. 14, observed as a festival in honor of St. Valentine, a Christian martyr of the 3rd century. It was a very old notion that on this day birds began to mate. The custom of sending love tokens at this time has no actual connection with the saint, whose name was probably introduced through some mistake."

Nevertheless, St. Valentine's Day is still February 14, regardless of the possible misnomer. And February 14 is Saturday. And the wife or girl friend (or both) will expect something. Got your gift yet?

It tickled me—but not to death: "That young man that walks with you through the park doesn't look very polished, daughter."

A Ballerina Is Transformed

Tanaquil LeClerc, 23-year-old ballerina of the New York City Ballet, looks like any average American girl when you meet her on Manhattan's boulevard. In its February cover story, Cosmopolitan magazine says she finishes daily rehearsals with her simple black tights drenched with sweat, eyes red-rimmed, hair straggly, and her whole appearance totally unglamorous. But for performances, make-up and costume transform "Tanny" into such figures as the exotic "Swan Queen"—a process that requires a full hour.

Teeth Decay High in State Doctor Says

More than half of the children in this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school.

That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced

February 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts:

Ninety-eight per cent of all 15-year-old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed, or filled.

Over 2884 million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled.

One-half of the children between the ages of three and nine have never in their lives had dental treatment.

"One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer George W. Cox says, "is the seemingly widespread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent set.

But dental scientists say that the care given baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth, Dr. Cox points out.

The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of youngsters' teeth. And they make this prediction:

"The children will be grateful . . . especially when they are no longer children."

Average depth of the ocean is about two and one-half miles.

WHAT IS GIFT NIGHT?

You Can Bake a $2500 Cake!

Pretty Mrs. Stephen Hornung shows you how to decorate her fabulous cake with which she won the Grand National Pillsbury Bake-Off prize. Any small flower that is in season, plus a crown of chocolate dipped hazelnuts is a fitting topping for this delicious cake. She declares that her success in winning was due to using the ingredients she is well acquainted with—the all-purpose flour and a dependable double-acting baking powder. You will like this "meringue cradle cake" so well that it will become a favorite in your family, too.

MERINGUE CRADLE CAKE

Meringue
 4 egg whites
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup pecans, filberts, or other nuts, finely chopped
 1 square unsweetened chocolate, grated

Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold up in soft peaks. Add 1 cup sugar gradually, beating to a meringue that will stand in stiff, glossy peaks. Fold in nuts and chocolate. Grease a 9- or 10-inch waxed pan; line bottom with waxed paper. Spread meringue evenly over bottom and three-quarters of the way up side and tube of pan.

Cake
 2 cups sifted Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour
 3 teaspoons Calumet Double-Acting Baking Powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1 cup sugar
 4 egg yolks
 3/4 cup milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter, add 1 cup sugar gradually, creaming well. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Then add flour, alternately with milk and vanilla, in four additions, beating well after each amount. Four into meringue-lined pan.

Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 60 to 70 minutes. Let cool 20 minutes before removing from pan. Garnish top with chocolate-dipped nuts.

Note: This cake may also be baked in two 9x5x3-inch loaf pans. Bake at 325° F. for about 50 minutes.

Health Talk—
CARE AT HOME

Making a patient comfortable is an art, but it is one the home nurse can learn. Often all she needs to do is to put herself in the patient's place in order to foresee and meet his needs.

Take the arrangement and appearance of the sickroom, for instance. Are you the kind of person who counts the flowers on the wallpaper or imagines he sees things in the spots on the ceiling? Then you'll doubly appreciate how disturbing a lack of order can be to someone who is sick. Unless he is unconscious or extremely ill, a patient is very sensitive to his surroundings. This is the main reason why the sickroom should be light, cheerful, and not cluttered with unnecessary articles. A mass of furniture also makes it hard to clean the room.

For a long illness a hospital bed, either rented or bought, is ideal; however, an ordinary bed can be raised on wooden blocks to make care of the patient easier for the home nurse. A firm, comfortable mattress is almost essential.

Some place should be provided for the patient's personal belongings at the bedside; a night table, a straight chair, an orange crate, or even a shoe bag left within his reach will serve the purpose. In addition to toilet articles, cigarettes, and the like, material for recreation such as books and a radio may be kept there. Also at the bedside should be a water pitcher and drinking glass; paper tissues and a wastepaper bag for their disposal; a bell or other call system; a bedjacket, sweater, or shawl if the patient is allowed to sit up in bed; and a warm bathrobe or dressing gown and a footstool if he is allowed out of bed. A bedpan and urinal (for the male patient) will be needed if bathroom privileges are not allowed.

The ideal temperature of the sickroom should be about 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and adequate circulation should be provided. Drafts directly on the patient are to be avoided, however. Glare in the patient's eyes can be prevented either by placing the lamp out of his line of vision or, if it can't be moved, by shielding it with an inflammable cover.

The home nurse probably will find it convenient to group articles which she uses at the same time; a firm box top can serve as a tray to carry them. As an example, for the bed bath she will find it handy to gather in advance the bath linen, rubbing alcohol, and talcum powder.

In serving a meal, the nurse should see that food is served as attractively as possible, the patient is prepared to eat it, and help is available if he can't feed himself. To assist a patient who can't sit up in bed, the napkin should be placed to protect the pillow and nightclothes and the tray set where he can see it, if possible. He may want at least to hold his bread and to suggest the order in which food is rotated. Small bites should be offered and a sip of water or other fluid given occasionally. Either a drinking straw may be used or the patient's head and shoulders gently lifted to give him a drink. Liquids shouldn't be too hot or the patient's lips and tongue may be burned.

Often a daily schedule can be worked out to assure needed care for the patient, yet eliminate most conflicts of nursing with household duties and allow the home nurse enough time for rest, recreation, meals, and outdoor exercise. A schedule suggested by the American Red Cross will include approximately the following:

Before all meals. Offer bedpan or assist patient to bathroom, wash face and hands, clean mouth and teeth, brush or comb hair, give a glass of water or hot drink, and straighten the bed.

After breakfast. Attend to bath and grooming.

Throughout the day. Take the temperature, pulse, and respiration, and give medicines and treatments, as ordered.

Midmorning, afternoon and evening. Give fruit juice or milk drink as suggested by the doctor. After lunch. Allow visitors if the doctor permits; in convalescence, suggest some light occupation or diversion.

Evening. Give a light back rub, straighten bed, adjust windows and amount of bedcover, dim lights.

Vets Problems To Be Aired At Vega Meet

All interested veterans of the 18th Congressional district and particularly Korean veterans are invited to attend an American Legion sponsored meeting at the post home in Vega the evening of Tuesday, February 24, when a panel of experts will discuss benefits to which they are entitled.

The meeting has been arranged by Ernest Davis, one of five full time state service officers maintained by the American Legion. Davis is stationed at the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Lubbock.

The purpose of the panel, Davis states, is to inform all veterans who have served in the armed forces of the United States government since the beginning of the Korean conflict, June 25, 1950, of their rights to which they are entitled.

Others on the panel with Davis will be James V. Manning, veterans administration contact representative from the regional office, Lubbock; Lloyd C. Rector, veterans representative of Texas Employment Commission; Tom Gahagan, representative of the State Veterans Affairs Commission, Lubbock; and Rhea Smith of Amarillo, Potter County service officer.

Veterans will be asked to bring their problems and ask questions concerning insurance, pension, educational, and other benefits to which they are entitled, Davis states.

Korean veterans have been invited to submit personal problems or questions in advance of the meeting to Mike McCully, 18th district commander of the American Legion, P. O. Box 147, Clarendon, or to bring them to the meeting personally.

Arrangements for the Vega meeting are being arranged by Post Commander James T. Halburton. Doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Callahan spent Sunday in Childress with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Callahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Roberts spent the week-end in Oklahoma with relatives.

Globetrotters Play in Pampa February 25

Abe Saperstein's western unit of the Harlem Globetrotters, the all-time wonder team of basketball, will be at the Pampa High School fieldhouse Wednesday night, February 25, to headline a huge doubleheader card against the Philadelphia Shas. The opener at 7 o'clock will match the Boston Whirlwinds and the Hawaiian Surf Riders. Special halftime entertainment also will be a feature of the gala card. The games are sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis Club.

Now in their 26th season of cage heroics, the fabulous magicians of the court—the Globetrotters—are out to surpass their last season's silver anniversary exploits, which included an around-the-world tour and kept them in action almost up to the start of the current 1952-53 campaign.

Always one to strive for bigger and better things, Owner-Coach Saperstein has assembled what he regards as his finest aggregation of players and showmen in the Trotters' long and spectacular history for the new extensive schedule he has arranged to keep them busy until next September.

In making the first around-the-world jaunt ever undertaken by a basketball unit, the Trotters were Uncle Sam's ambassadors of good will as they took their super show around the circumference of the globe. In Italy they were honored with an audience before the pope and they made front pages everywhere when they responded to an unprecedented request that they perform for him.

The entire season saw the Trotters win 325 games while losing only eight for a 25-year total of 4,233 triumphs against 260 defeats, a .941 percentage.

Another standout highlight of the season was their third successive triumph over the nation's College All-Americans in the annual World Series of Basketball. Leaving a trail of shattered Lux office records in their wake on the transcontinental tour made by chartered plane and watched by more than 200,000 fans, the Trotters won 11 games to 5.

Tickets for the fieldhouse show are on sale in advance.

Wesleyan Guild Meeting Is Held In Church Parlor

The Wesleyan Service Guild met in the parlor of the McLean Methodist Church Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Shelton Nash as hostess.

The program opened with a song, "Dwelling in Beulah Land." A piano solo, "Saved by Grace," was played with variations by Mrs. Frank Rodgers, Mrs. Hickman Brown gave the devotional, and the program, a continuation of the Book of Acts, was presented by Mrs. Freeman Melton Jr.

Attending was one guest, Mrs. Wayne Hill, and the following members: Mesdames Odell Mantooth, Jimmy Dawson, Guy Beasley, J. W. Meacham, Earnest Beck, Paul Mertel, Guy Hibler, Paul Kennedy, S. A. Cousins, Wilson Boyd, Clyde Andrews, Clyde Magee, June Story, Vernon Gibson, Paul Middleton, C. W. Parmenter, Sinclair Armstrong, Ercy Cubine, Rodgers, Brown, Melton, and Nash.

Mrs. George Preston returned home Wednesday after spending a week in Amarillo with her granddaughter, Kay Ayers, who underwent a tonsillectomy.

Cook Pork Well, Doctor Warns

"Trichinosis is a disease caused by eating raw or partly cooked pork which contains the trichina worm. This disease as a rule causes several deaths and an undetermined amount of illness in Texas each year," states Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Definite symptoms and signs of illness are associated with trichinosis. In the beginning there are abdominal pains, nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea, lasting about a week. Migration of the embryos in the blood stream causes fever and severe muscle soreness, especially in the diaphragm and the muscles of the arms and legs. The third stage, during which cysts surround the larvae in the muscles, is the critical one. If infection is severe, there may be edema, or swelling of the eyelids and elsewhere, marked loss of weight, weakness and delirium.

The prevention of trichinosis depends primarily upon the thorough cooking of all pork. Most cases follow the indigestion of wieners, sausage or other pork products, eaten in raw or partly cooked form. The hazard of this party.

The public is invited to attend services which will begin at 1 o'clock each evening.

disease is greater in connection with home butchering, unless safeguards are exercised. Rare should be eliminated because they play an important part in the spread of infection among swine. Prolonged refrigeration, as carried out under federal supervision, destroys trichina larvae. Thorough cooking and the use of meat which bears the stamp of federal inspection are safeguards against trichinosis.
