Edward Dwyer of McLean, senior at Texas Tech where he is majoring in animal husbandry, has been presented the Block and Bridle Club's merit award...

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Franklin left Tuesday for their new home in Ballinger, where Franklin will work as a field gauger for the Humble Pipeline company.

"We surely hate to leave, for we have come to like McLean and its people very, very much. We think McLean is one of the best towns in the entire Panhandle," Mrs. Franklin said.

In the June issue of American Home magazine appears a drawing of the double-unit barbecue furnace in the backyards of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Dwyer and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Campbell.

Members of the local Eastern Star chapter are operating the concessions stand during the softball league play this summer.

Three Added To Local Public School Faculty

Three new members of the McLean school faculty have been employed during the past week.

Included in the trio is the new assistant coach of the high school. He is Clint Williams, one of the members of the family of Phillips which furnished boys for the center position on the Blackhawk team for many years.

Other new faculty members recently employed include Dan Johnson, as junior high coach, and Mrs. Marjorie Martin, English teacher.

Williams, a 1951 graduate of West Texas State College, Canyon, played center on the Phillips High School grid team, and was also a member of the Phillips basketball team. At WTSC, he played four years of football as guard and tackle.

Johnson, who will work with the junior high boys and girls athletic teams, is coming to McLean from Booker. There he has been grade school principal, and has been coaching the Booker 6-man football team.

Mrs. Martin, who will teach freshman and sophomore English and speech, is a 1950 graduate of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. She is a sister of Harold Bunch, another member of the McLean faculty.

City Plans Paving If Property Owners Wish to Aid in Cost

A plan to pave 13 additional blocks of streets in McLean has been worked out by the city council.

Details of the plan are being carried in a notice elsewhere in this issue of The News. Whether all of the paving will be done will be dependent upon the willingness of property owners to participate in the cost of the work.

Commencement Exercises End School Term

A challenge to members of the 1953 graduating class of McLean High School to not "overdraw on their life account" was issued by Logan Cummings of Wellington, former local superintendent.

The commencement program completed school activities in McLean for the 1952-53 year. Baccalaureate services for the seniors were held Sunday evening, May 17.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Jones, former resident of McLean who died in Amarillo Saturday, were held at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in McLean Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Smith Resigns; Summer Band Probably Out

Resignation of Gerald Smith as bandmaster for the local schools virtually "knocked a hole" in the planned summer band program.

Smith resigned from the local faculty last week-end. He will spend the summer with relatives in Hereford, and then will attend West Texas State College in Canyon next fall.

The band director had originally planned to work with students in the summer band program. He and Kennedy had worked out a detailed instruction program which would be stressed.

Smith has been director of the local band for the past three years. During his time here, he has built the band up to a first-rate high school band.

Rogers Named Supervisor of Area Activities

A well-rounded recreation program, to continue for at least nine weeks and possibly longer, got underway in McLean this week.

Most of the activities will take place at the City Park. However, the softball field will be utilized also, and, in the event of bad weather, activities will be held in the Municipal Building.

The program will include recreation for all ages of children. In addition, one night each week will be set aside for those above school age, when such games as volleyball, table tennis, etc., will be played.

The Windom Pool will be reserved each Thursday morning for children who wish to swim, and Larry Fuller, who is a qualified Red Cross lifeguard and teacher, will be on hand to aid non-swimmers.

Another feature of the summer program will be a movie at the Avalon Theater each Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Admission will be 10 cents per child. In the event that more admission money is taken than necessary to pay for the film, the price will be reduced.

Page, theater manager, is offering the theater and its facilities free of charge, and is asking only that the film rental be paid. The shows will consist of cartoons and other comedies.

Tennis instruction will also be provided if desired, Kennedy said. The courts will be reserved at certain times for such use.

Memorial Day Cemetery Working To Be Sponsored by Legion Post

A cemetery working, climaxed by the appearance of a firing squad which will salute the memory of those killed in past wars of the U. S., will be held Saturday at Hillcrest Cemetery.

Sponsoring the cemetery working, and the brief program, is the Floyd-Corbin-Florey Post 315, American Legion.

The 21-volley salute will be presented at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the cemetery, Commander Luke Henley said.

During the day, the Legion will have cold drinks on hand for the people who are working at graves of loved ones in the cemetery.

Henley explained. The Claborn Funeral Home tent will be erected to provide shade where the workers may rest.

Henley urged all Legionnaires who have been in firing squads here in the past to be at the Legion Hall at 4:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Uniform will be khakis and Legion cap.

The annual cemetery workings are becoming a custom on Memorial Day in McLean, and each time more people than the previous year attracted show up to aid in beautifying the cemetery. A number of people from out of town are usually present.

At Home NEW BOSS

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McPherson of Amarillo announce the birth of a daughter Friday, May 22. She has been named Cheyrl Lynn, and weighed 4 pounds, 12 1/2 ounces.

Mrs. McPherson is the former Georgia Barrow of McLean. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McPherson of McLean are the paternal grandparents.

A 1/2 and Mrs. W. L. Gollightly of the Foster Air Force Base at Victoria announce the birth of a son, Stephen Frank, on Wednesday, May 13.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Turner and daughter of Lefors visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sharp Saturday.

High Winds Damage Area Barns

Extremely high winds hit the eastern edge of McLean, and the area on east of town for several miles, Saturday evening at about 6 o'clock, and considerable damage was done.

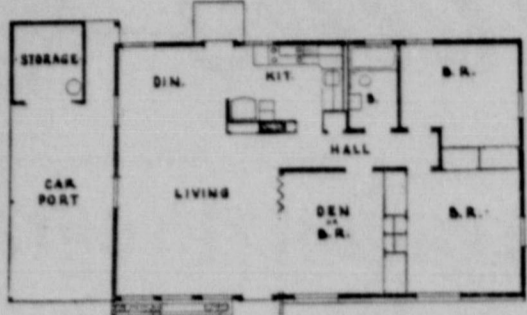

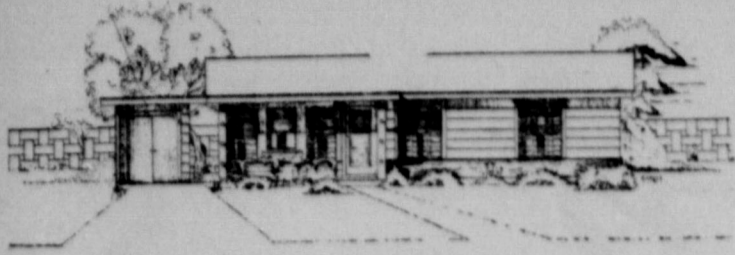

The high winds, accompanied by the usual heavy sandstorm, hit late in the evening Saturday, following the high temperatures during the day.

Several barns in the area to the east of town were reported damaged. Harris King stated that two sheds on his place east and north were flattened. Emory Crockett had a chicken house damaged, and the chicken house—the small chicken house—the metal roof, formerly used as a garage door, had not been located by Tuesday.

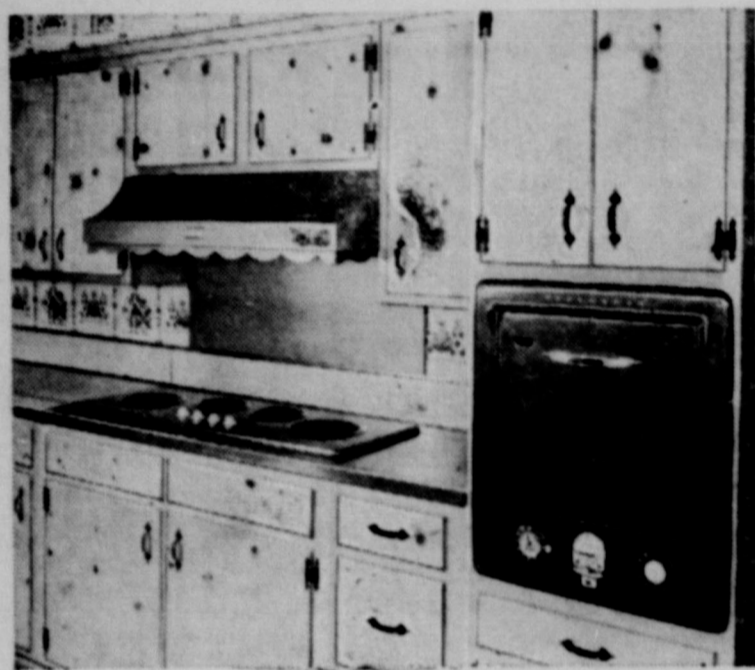

A large tree in Hillcrest Cemetery was blown over at the roots. City Superintendent Pete Fulbright reported.

The winds were high enough to move fairly large pebbles and rocks. Walter Kelly, who operates the Star Courts, and a new station at the east edge of town, said the wind was picking up fairly good-sized stones at its strongest blasts, as it blew by his station.

There were no twisting motions reported, however. Apparently the winds were hard, straight winds, accounting for the fact that the damage was comparatively light.

SOUTHWEST'S NEWEST — Here's the Westerner, brand new and precision-engineered for American home-owners in the Southwest. It is the first, too, from a major manufacturer of packaged homes for use in the Southwest and also represents the first time a major prefabricator has successfully undertaken a home specifically designed for regional distribution. The Westerner was given its initial exhibition, fully-furnished, at the San Antonio Home Builders Show, May 10-17. The home has two-bedroom as well as three-bedroom plans such as the layout superimposed on the architect's rendering above. The Westerner will cost about $9,300, excluding lot, and offers many optional features not included in this plan.

Built-in ranges and ovens are a luxury touch of modern home design. In the kitchen pictured above, four electric burners are set into the counter top. The oven is installed as part of the cabinetwork. The hood above the burners carries off cooking odors. Cabinets in this kitchen are of knotty pine in a natural finish, and the counter is covered with a yellow plastic material. The hood is of copper. A green, yellow and copper print on the walls continues the color scheme.

Monthly checks of almost $175,000, in the form of Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance payments, are mailed to more than 4,900 residents in the Amarillo social security field office area. This area includes the 26 Panhandle counties of Texas. More than one-half of the persons receiving payments are retired workers and their wives.

The remaining checks are to survivors of deceased workers.

The 1952 changes in the Social Security Act, effective in September, raised the amounts of practically all benefits about 12 1/2 per cent. Social security credits for military service from the start of World War II were extended to through 1953 and it was provided that a person will be considered "retired" even though he is earning as much as $75 a month between age 65 and 75 and regardless of earnings after age 75.

Money to pay social security benefits comes from the social security taxes paid by employees, employers, and self-employed people, on earnings up to $3,600 a year. The tax is now 1 1/2% each for employer and employee, and 2 1/4% for self-employed people. Under the law, rates are scheduled to increase to 2% each for employer and employee, and 3% for self-employed people, on January 1, 1954.

Counties and incorporated cities and towns are required to publish the facts about proposed bond elections.

"Notice of such election," says the law, "shall be given by posting a substantial copy of the election order in each of the precincts of such county, city, or town, and also at the county court house if for a county election, and at city hall if for a city election. Such notice shall also be published on the same day in each of two (2) successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within said county, city, or town, the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for said election. Spring Is Time For Community To Control Flies

Early spring is the best time for a community to start a fly control program, declared Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. That is before the fly population has a chance to multiply. It is estimated that one pair of flies under favorable conditions, could have countless descendants before winter.

Every time you kill a fly early in the season, and destroy breeding places, you stop whole colonies of flies before they can start. The most effective way of preventing swarms of flies is to destroy or make inaccessible to flies the organic material which attracts flies by their odors, and which are essential to them as food and breeding places.

Individual householders should make it their responsibility to clean up their own back yards. Garbage can should have a tight fitting lid and they should be leak-proof. Inadequate facilities for storage of garbage and refuse usually result in widespread fly breeding. Uncovered or partially covered garbage containers produce odors that attract a large number of flies. Good window screens will do a lot to keep flies out of buildings, thereby protecting food from contamination by fly-borne disease organisms.

There is no substitute for good sanitation in fly control. Every spot in town must be cleaned of garbage and trash. If a few dirty places are left, swarms of flies will breed. A neglected stable on the edge of town will furnish a plague of flies for the entire neighborhood. After garbage and trash have been removed, insecticides will help to reduce the fly population in local spots. It is a temporary protection, however, and should be regarded only as a supplemental or emergency means of control. Insecticide spraying will be effective only if sanitary conditions are maintained throughout the summer.

FOR EVERY CHILD

IN THIS ISSUE of The News is a story concerning the summer recreation program to be held in McLean most, if not all, of the summer weeks.

Superintendent Paul Kennedy, who has been working on details of the program with Coach Hap Rogers, wishes to emphasize at the beginning that the schedule of activities is more or less tentative, and can be changed if necessary to suit the majority of the children concerned. Some sort of schedule had to be worked out to start the program, and it is by no means a hard and fast schedule.

The main purpose of the entire program is to provide good, clean recreation for every child in the community. In speaking of community, it is not meant to confine the eligibility of children to the city limits, or to any particular area limits. The program, in other words, is open to all children.

To make such a program worthwhile, different types of recreation are necessary for different age groups. Older children, for example, do not desire to play with little children ordinarily, but prefer to play with those of their own age. So the activities are being planned in an attempt to include every age group—pre-school through high school. And a night program, once a week, is being planned for everybody.

For the program to be a success, it is almost a necessity to have a full-time supervisor, someone who is qualified to handle such a job, someone present at all times. Coach Rogers has agreed to accept this job, and his work will be on a paid basis. All other workers, who will devote small amounts of time, will be on a voluntary basis.

Still another item is necessary for a successful summer recreation program, however. That item is cooperation . . . cooperation on the part of parents and other adults as well as cooperation on the part of the participating children. Last summer's program was a success. It is hoped by the sponsors that this summer will find an even more successful venture. Regardless of who you may be, regardless of whether you have children interested in the program, your help is needed. McLean has long been noted for the fine children who grow up here. . . . McLean will always be so noted if all of us are willing to do our share in helping our children, and those of our fellow citizens, grow up in the right manner.

TALK

By LESTER

Sometimes when a feller sits down to write a column, such as this is supposed to be, he has trouble trying to think of anything to write. Which is what is happening now.

That song one of those hill-billy bands plays over KGNC has been ringing in my ears. "Thought I'd go fishin' . . . got to think it over . . ."

Not that I care anything about fishing, for actually I care little for fishing. Never did learn how to fish. But the very idea of going fishing is the idea of relaxing and enjoying one's self. Must be spring fever.

Remember Arnie Duncan, son of Maud Duncan and the late Al Duncan? Well, Arnie has been chosen as the most representative student in the Elizabeth Nixon junior high at Amarillo. Quite an honor, I'd say. Saw Arnie a few months ago, and he certainly is a fine looking young fellow. I know that Maud is proud of him, and I know that Al would be if he were still living.

Arnie wants to play football for the Sandies. Don Leach tells me that the Amarillo coach says Arnie has a good chance at working out with the Sandies when he enters high school next fall. The Sandies allow only a small number of freshmen to join the squad, and Arnie may be one of them. He's a bit small in size, and that may keep him out—but then, the Canadian Comet, Bill Cross, is small, too.

The American Legion Post is paying off those old bonds it owes as fast as the bond owners can be contacted. A number of citizens have donated their bonds, quite a few have already been paid, but there are still some outstanding. The Legion made enough on its rodeo this year to pay all the remaining bonds off, and the members voted to get out of debt.

The Legion is also doing some other worthy things at the present time. The cemetery working this week-end is one of their projects. Sending Wayne Moore to Boys State in June is another. And the Legion also helped one senior with his expenses on the senior trip—a member of the class who likely couldn't have been with his friends this week had it not been for the Legion.

Guess few organizations get all the credit they are due. The Lions Club, for example, has bought several pairs of glasses for children this year—children who couldn't afford to buy their own glasses. These little things that such organizations do go unpublicized frequently; yet these actions are most important to the betterment of our community.

Little Peter sat on his front stoop, head in his hands, crying. "Hello, Peter," said his little friend Bob. "What are you crying about?"

"My dog died," replied Peter. "Well, gee," said Bob, "that's not so much to cry about. Look at me. My grandmother died and you don't see me crying."

"I know," said Peter, "but you didn't raise your grandmother from a pup."

The waitress watched as the patron put eight spoonfuls of sugar in his cup of coffee and proceeded to drink it without stirring it first.

"Why don't you stir it?" she asked.

"Who likes it sweet?" was the reply.

Mrs. Roberts was determined to break her husband of the habit of swearing, which he not only would do at considerable length but with a passionate fervor. One day, hurrying himself somewhat while working in the yard, he really let go with a string of cuss words, loudly and without reserve. Determined to shame him, his wife gritted her teeth and repeated everything he said, word for word. Her husband stared at her for a moment, then shaking his head critically said, "Honey, you've got the right words, but the expression is all wrong."

Got out of town Saturday and Sunday, and went to Lubbock. There we visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bogan and Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Batson, both families being former residents of McLean. The Bogans have a new daughter, you know, now about three or four weeks of age. She is very pretty, but had little to say while we were there. C. W. and Connie are both doing fine; C. W. lacks at least another year's work to receive his degree from Texas Tech. Their son, Charlie, is also doing fine, getting bigger every day. Incidentally, the new daughter's name is Leian (pronounced Lee-Ann).

The Batsons are doing okay, too. Guess you remember the son Jimmy, if you knew the Batsons when they lived in McLean prior to 1945. Jimmy is married and has two daughters. Jimmy served for 18 months with the Marines in Korea, getting out of service about a year ago. He's now attending Texas Tech. They have two other sons. John is to be a doctor, and is going to attend Baylor Medical School at Houston. The smallest boy is Bobby, who is about 10 or 12 years of age. The Batson family had moved from McLean when we came here—understand they left here in 1945; but their many friends here still remember the fine work he did for area citizens for about 16 years. Incidentally, he is meeting with excellent success in his medical practice in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meacham were visitors in Lefors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hedrick.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

Having just won a signal victory, I'm prepared to state that some simple experimenting in typing your mate will save many precious hours trying to persuade a husband to go somewhere, do something, buy something!

Over a period of days as opening wedges I tried:

Sly Hints: Me: "This is another of the 269 bad days the Weather Bureau says we can look forward to this year so I can't hang out the clothes; and your shirts won't get done."

Jeff: "Doggone it, I've got to have a shirt tomorrow!"

Only a few men will see the point without further prodding.) Flattery: Me: "You're so much smarter than I am, explain something to me. One of the features of the dryer I'd like to get is that it automatically shuts off both the heat and tumbler when the door is opened accidentally or on purpose. That's an important safety factor but I don't know how it works."

Jeff: "Sorry, I don't know either." (Some mechanically-minded men will jump at this opportunity.) Practical Approach: Me: "The new dryer I have in mind has all sorts of wonderful advantages like an ultra-violet lamp to keep clothes air-fresh, capacity of 20 pounds of wet clothes; an automatic safety thermostat, a smoother tumbler surface that's gentle on clothes, only two dials to operate . . ."

Jeff: "That's nice." (Practicality is the thing a number of husbands can't resist.) Facts and Figures: Me: "Whirlpool Corporation is the world's largest manufacturer of home laundry appliances and they say that a clothes dryer actually saves 2,973 hours over clothesline drying!"

I needn't go into detail but it's the Facts and Figures that paved the way toward convincing my-type spouse. Now that I know the format I won't waste time with hints, practical approaches or flattery. As I say, once you have him 'vued, the rest is easy!

Arlington-Huselby
On Wednesday evening, April 30th, Mr. and Mrs. M. Huselby threw the doors of their beautiful ranch home open to a large number of invited guests, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Mabel, to Mr. John M. Arlington.

At 8:00 o'clock, as the strains of the wedding march were being played by Mrs. W. B. Dunn, the bridal party marched beneath an arch of evergreens, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Hawkins of Canadian.

The bride was richly dressed in white brocaded satin draped in chiffon, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore the traditional black.

The bridesmaids were Misses Arlington and Isabel Huselby, the former wearing yellow satin draped with all-over lace; the latter wearing yellow satin draped with all-over lace and pearl pendants.

The groomsmen were Joe Stickley of Canadian and Dr. Archie Cole of Mobeetie.

The color scheme of yellow and white predominated throughout the decorations, which were elaborate and beautiful.

After the ceremony, the guests were invited into the spacious dining room which was also beautifully decorated, to elegantly-appointed tables, where they partook of the bounteous hospitality for which the home is famous.

The wellknown and popular young people need no introduction to our people, having been reared here and coming from two of the wealthiest families of Wheeler County.

Among those present were Capt. and Mrs. G. W. Arlington, Misses Empress and Caroline Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Stickley and Joe Stickley of Canadian, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Health Talk—

SNAKE BITES

"Lay that whiskey down, babe," if you've got it in mind for snake bite. Whiskey speeds the flow of blood, increasing the spread of poison through the body, and depresses the part of the brain already slowed down by the venom.

If there are only surface scratches and no swelling, discoloration, or general reaction, the snake probably was non-poisonous, and the bite should be treated like a scratch. But—if there are fang marks (puncture points), pain, swelling, and a purple color, or faintness or other general disturbance, call a doctor and give first aid as follows:

Sterilize a knife or razor blade. Apply a band just above the bite. Apply alcohol to the region around it, and make a cross cut about one-fourth inch deep in the skin over each fang mark. Withdraw the venom with a suction cup, or with small glasses having a diameter of from 1 1/2 to 2 inches, in the following manner: Moisten the bite area with water, cold cream, or petroleum jelly. Light a small scrap of paper, drop it into the bottom of the glass, and allow it to burn a moment, then dump the burning paper into a pan of water. Press the mouth of the glass over the bite area until the cooling air starts suction; leave it in place a few minutes, while preparing another glass to replace it. Continue suction until considerable fluid has been recovered or until the doctor arrives.

Once rabies develops in man, it is fatal. Too many people still fail to realize the possible seriousness of dog bite, or the bites of other animals like cats, squirrels, and skunks. Because the animal may be rabid, it should be captured and penned up for a ten-day observation period, if at all possible. The wound should be washed with soap and water to remove all saliva, and the doctor called immediately. He will decide what further steps should be taken.

Victims of heat require quick treatment. With heat stroke (or sunstroke) the patient has a hot, dry skin; high fever; and a strong, rapid pulse. He may complain of headache. The patient with heat exhaustion has a moist, cool skin; pale face; and a temperature more nearly normal. He may faint. The victim of heat cramps, in addition to painful cramping of the abdomen or limbs, may have symptoms similar to heat exhaustion.

Treatment of heat conditions requires that the patient be removed to cooler surroundings and a doctor called immediately if the patient seems gravely ill. The heat stroke victim will need to be cooled off rapidly with cold packs, a cold bath, or wet sheets.

With a heart attack the patient may complain of pain, may seem to faint, or may have a hard time breathing. Pain under the breastbone may extend into the neck, the back, or either or both arms, or it may be felt only in the abdomen. Pain as a symptom of heart disease is seen almost altogether in people older than 35 years of age; in those younger, it usually can be traced to something else.

If the patient with suspected heart trouble feels better with his head propped up or sitting, keep him in that position. He should be encouraged to remain quiet. However, if he feels better walking, he probably isn't having a heart attack. Pain and fear of suffocating may make the heart victim nervous and apprehensive, and you should do what you can to calm him down. If he has medicine for an attack, give it to him.

A stroke is caused by a blood vessel in the brain breaking. High blood pressure probably is present. The patient is likely to be unconscious and paralyzed on one side. One pupil may be larger than the other. The patient's pulse will be strong and slow, but breathing may be difficult. He should be laid on his back with head raised a little and kept warm. If he must be moved, great care should be taken to see that he doesn't exert himself.

With either a heart attack or stroke, it is important to call a doctor right away.

This Light Must Never Fail!

HOME OF THE BRAVE

Memorial Day 1953

For pennies, you can keep a light aglow in your home. But the price to keep this torch of liberty aflame is so great as to be almost beyond comprehension. This torch that says "this is Freedom's cradle, this is Liberty's home," has been kept aglow by men and women who have given their lives that its beam may never be dimmed. This light must never fail.

Vows Exchanged By Jane Franklin, William J. David

Wedding vows for Miss Martha Jane Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Franklin of Ballinger, until recently of Alanreed, and William Jarrett David, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. David of Clarendon, were exchanged Monday evening at 6 o'clock in the Clarendon home of the bridegroom's parents.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Biggs, pastor of the Clarendon Methodist Church, before an arch entwined with fern and pink roses, flanked on either side by lighted tapers.

The bride was attired in an aqua linen suit, with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds, and she carried a white Rainbow Bible.

The couple left after the reception on a wedding trip to Arkansas and Missouri. For her going-away attire, the bride wore a navy suit.

After June 1, the couple will be at home in Clarendon.

Some Detergents Can Be Harmful If Used Improperly

There are detergents advertised on today's market for practically any cleaning job—from cutting stubborn grease on a mechanic's hands, to discouraging fleas on the family poodle.

They work, too, in most instances, but State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has this word of warning:

"Make sure you follow the directions to the letter. Otherwise you could end up with a discomforting case of housewives eczema."

These so-called "soapless" products have found wide favor with housewives for washing clothes and dishes. No doubt a good bit of their popularity is due to high-powered advertising, including the decorative boxes featuring happy ladies hanging the washing or putting up dishes which the product has cleaned all by itself.

Dr. Cox identifies the active ingredients of these products as chemical compounds which act to lower surface tension of water, making it more penetrating and able to break through grease and dirt to break it up and keep it from resettling.

Many brands contain special purpose ingredients, such as ammonium salt, which make the compound bactericidal.

A duck is supposed to sink like a rock in water containing some of these detergents, probably because the "wetter" water gets through the oil in the duck's feathers—which is the reason a duck is ordinarily water proof and able to float.

It stands to reason, Dr. Cox points out, that if these compounds will cut through grease and film, and there is no doubt that some of them will—they will also penetrate the natural oils of the skin and cause irritation and discomfort if the condition is neglected.

The health officer's recommendation? Keep some hand lotion within easy reach and apply it liberally after using detergents for household cleaning or laundry.

Those find withal who have such courses run, that generous plainness proves the better way. —William Alexander.

GOOD HEALTH

2. WHEN DO BABIES NEED EXTRA VITAMINS?

1. WHAT DOES THIRD PARTY PAYMENT MEAN?

3. HOW MUCH SCHOOL TIME IS LOST BY COLDS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
The term is applied to that method by which a hospital and physician receive payment for hospital services not from the patient himself but from an organization such as non-profit health insurance groups (Blue Cross), commercial insurance companies, industrial plans, cooperatives, or government agencies.

Answer to Question No. 2:
Before babies are a month old, they are often given, on the advice of a doctor, some form of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Premature babies especially need extra vitamin D since they may not have inherited much from their mothers and because they grow so fast. Many doctors give orange juice before they are a month old. Medical science's discovery of the importance of vitamins is one of the outstanding health contributions of the 20th century.

Answer to Question No. 3:
In a study of 7700 pupils it was discovered that the common cold was the cause of one-third of all absences. Most persons have one or two colds a year, but some average four or more. In case of frequent colds, it is advisable to consult your physician.

Health Talk—UPSET 'TUMMY'

The victim of an upset stomach is indeed an unhappy soul. As the trite, but true, phrase goes, there are times he's afraid he'll die and times he's afraid he won't die.

Of course, many causes for nausea and vomiting exist, such as motion sickness; eating when tired, nervous, or emotionally upset; or eating food to which the patient just happens to be sensitive.

Motion sickness is tied up with the ear and the brain. If you know you're subject to this condition and yet have to take repeated air trips or must go on a long ocean voyage, you should seek medical advice. Drugs to control airsickness or seasickness are available, and your doctor can give you tips for travel, such as the following: (1) eat a light, bland diet (not highly seasoned or greasy) before you embark. (2) Pick a seat near the center of the vessel where there is likely to be the least motion. (3) Keep your eyes fixed on a definite object on the ground or horizon and don't allow it to shift with the position of the ship or plane. (4) Try plugging the ears with cotton or wearing an abdominal support. (5) If a hot meal is offered on the trip, eat it if you are at all able.

If you become sick anyway, ask the stewardess or someone else for help right away. She can bathe your face, put your head back, and adjust the ventilation, among other things possibly to ward off the attack or lessen its severity.

Foods for a picnic should be wisely chosen. Chicken salad, potato salad, or custard pie which may spoil should be left out unless it can be kept cold, and any food should not be prepared too long in advance. Because of good sanitation and preparation of food, very few cases of food poisoning occur in the home. However, epidemics of food poisoning among eaters in restaurants or patrons of bakeries whose choices of pies are cream or custard are not uncommon.

If there are signs of food poisoning—a feeling of fullness, abdominal cramps, nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea—the patient should be put to bed and given nothing by mouth except water until the doctor sees him. Diarrhea can be a sign of other kinds of illness, for example, intestinal or general infection, dysentery, or appendicitis.

Victims of bad sunburn sometimes have an upset stomach. Of course, in their cases an ounce of prevention would truly have been worth a pound of cure. However, discomfort of the burn may be relieved in one or more of the following ways: (1) a lukewarm-to-warm bath, (2) sponging with a solution of tea, epsom salts, or vinegar, (3) applying a cream lotion, (4) applying a dressing covered with sterile petroleum jelly if there is blistering. Heavily starched clothing should be avoided, and perhaps some kind of pillow support can be rigged up to keep the top sheet off the burned area at night. The dead skin should be allowed to slough off of its own accord, using cold cream or lotion and leaving off face powder might make peeling less noticeable.

If there's anything that makes a person feel worse than a queasy stomach, it's hurting feet, and corns can be one of the worst offenders. Avoiding tight narrow shoes, discarding old shoes that no longer fit, and not wearing wrinkled or holey stockings are essential to get rid of corns. It's not much use to use corn plasters or other remedies unless the cause of corns is removed—that is, the bad fitting footwear. Paring corns with a knife, razor blade, or scissors is foolish because of the possibility of getting an infection through a nick in the skin.

Ingrowing toenails sometimes can be prevented by cutting the nail straight across. A good way to treat an ingrowing toenail is the following: (1) late in the afternoon, soak the toe in warm water fifteen minutes; when the nail become soft and pliable, dry the foot thoroughly. (2) Gently lift the side of the nail that "grows in" with a nail file and tuck a small wisp of cotton under it. (3) Remove the cotton at bedtime; soak again and tuck fresh cotton under. (4) Remove the cotton the next morning. While your toe is sore, wear a loose fitting house slipper.

If either a corn or ingrowing toenail fails to improve with home treatment, call your doctor. Diabetic patients in particular have to be careful about their feet because even a minor infection may lead to gangrene.

Large Pecan Tree in City Observes 50 Years of Life

We're not sure about the date, but a tree still growing in McLean is observing its 50th anniversary of existence this spring.

The tree is the large pecan tree in the yard of Irvin Altonson, according to Irvin Altonson, according to Irvin Altonson, according to Irvin Altonson.

It was planted back in the spring of 1903 by the late Judge Heasley, one of the early residents of McLean. Through the years it has continued to grow and has been preserved by residents of the lots where it now stands.

At the time Judge Heasley planted the tree, he was operating a blacksmith shop when the Alderson house now stands on the site.
