Construction on a fourth new service station on the new south lane of Highway 66 in McLean will be started within the near future. The new station is to be built by Ernest Watson immediately south of the Dysart Motor company building. Gulf Oil corporation products will be handled at the station upon its completion, and material is already being brought to Watson's lots prior to the beginning of the work.

"Corky" Dawson, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dawson of McLean, had a somewhat narrow escape last Saturday night at the Santa Fe district camporall for Boy Scouts, held on the T. T. Griffin place. At about 2 o'clock Sunday morning Corky's sleeping bag caught fire. Fortunately, a fellow Scout, Jimmy Rice, also of McLean, awakened, and then awoke Corky. The youngster managed to slip out of the sleeping bag—without getting any burns. Apparently no other member of the more than 200 Scouting party was awakened. So Corky crawled into another sleeping bag and finished out the night.

Calvin Harrell, who has been stationed here with the State Highway Patrol for the past two or three years, is being transferred to Lubbock, effective May 1. Harrell came to McLean as one of a pair of men stationed in McLean. The other patrolman now on duty here is R. C. Parker, who was sent here to replace J. D. Heard. Heard was transferred to Austin.

Mrs. Luke Armstrong was back at her teaching work in the elementary school this week after suffering an injury to a knee when she fell in the hall of the school building last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Armstrong suffered a fractured bone in her knee, but was able to return to work this week with the aid of crutches.

Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, superintendent of the Pampa district, will preach at the Heald Methodist Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. It was announced this week. Dinner will be held at the church, and at 2 o'clock, Rev. Kirby will direct the 4th quarterly conference.

Vernon Gibson, agriculture teacher of McLean High School, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday noon. Gibson outlined the work his 71 agriculture students do during the year, pointing out the six phases which the boys are taught.

Guests at the meeting included County Agent Ralph Thomas of Pampa, and Coach Hap Rogers. Members of the prize-winning McLean High School band will be treated to a free movie at the Derby Drive-in Friday and Saturday nights. Amos Page, manager of the theater, is issuing passes to all band members for either of the two nights in appreciation of the fine showing the band made at the Interscholastic League Music Festival last weekend in Canyon, Bandmaster Gerald Smith said.

The McLean P-T-A. will meet Wednesday, May 6, in the grade school cafeteria. The purpose of this meeting is to install new officers for the coming school year. A special invitation is extended by Principal James A. Prock to all mothers who will have children starting to school next fall to attend this meeting. The school nurse will be present to assist the mothers in any questions they might like to ask pertaining to having their children ready for enrolling for next school term.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Martin Jr. and son Bruce of Amarillo spent the week-end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wyatt.

Hauck Named Scoutmaster Local Troop

L. F. Hauck was named as the new Scoutmaster of the McLean Troop No. 25 at a meeting of the Scout executive committee Tuesday night.

Hauck will succeed Jimmie Don Morris as the leader of the local troop. Morris, who has served in this capacity for several years, will continue to work with the troop as an assistant Scoutmaster. Lack of time to devote to the troop's activities was cited by Morris as his reason for resigning.

Other assistants who will aid Hauck are Gene Greer and C. L. (Tex) Gentry.

Eight members of the new Scout committee have also been chosen. They are J. W. Meacham, W. W. Boyd, Floyd Guthrie, Ted Simmons, Sammy Haynes, Luke Henley, J. C. Claborn, and Jimmy Dawson. The committee was to meet Wednesday evening to select its chairman.

The local troop now has a total of about 25 boys as members, it was explained, and the boys are greatly interested in the work. During the past few years, the Scout committee has experienced much difficulty in obtaining men to work with the boys. Those men who have been interested point out that the Scoutmaster and his assistants must spend considerable time in doing the work as it should be done, and few men have consented to aid.

Church Christ Singing Normal June 22-July 3

The North Texas Singing Normal, which attracted large classes here in 1952, will be held at the Church of Christ in McLean June 22 through July 3, it was announced this week.

The same staff of teachers is being lined up for the classes again this year, Guy Saunders, who is aiding in the arrangements for the singing normal, said.

Last year these teachers were Tillit S. Teddlie, well-known gospel preacher and song writer, who served as principal director of the school; Palmer Wheeler, who has been at two singing schools here in the past and who is now with the Church of Christ in Memphis; and George Saunders, well-known singer of McLean.

Classes will be held daily Monday through Friday for the two-week period, with six hours of class work being held each day. Classes to be offered include those in rudiments, sight singing, harmony, music appreciation, voice culture, song directing, and group singing.

In the school last year, no charges to attend the classes were made. Out-of-town students who attended—and some of them came from several hundred miles away—were housed in local homes.

"Everyone is invited to attend, regardless of their church affiliations," Saunders said. "The school was well attended last year, and we hope it will be much larger this year. It is our sincere wish that many will take advantage of the opportunity and attend every session of the school, if it is at all possible."

New Cleaning Shop Is Opened

A new business—Verla's Cleaners—is slated to open in McLean today.

The new cleaning and pressing shop is being opened by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones. Until recently, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, who formerly lived in McLean, have been making their home in Shamrock.

The new plant is located in the building immediately west of the McLean Zero Lockers, on the north lane of Highway 66.

"We invite you to bring your cleaning and pressing to our new shop, and you're also invited to drop in at any time and look over our facilities," the new owners said.

McLean High School Band Wins Two Division 1 Ratings at Meet

Local Weather Undecided-All Types in Week

You name the weather you want, and the McLean area can almost produce it. During the past week, the weather has shown a great variance, with just about every type believable—with the exception of snow and ice. And there was some ice two weeks ago.

Rain came, too. Not much rain, but one shower last Thursday morning brought .07 of an inch in moisture. Tuesday noon a very brief shower fell, but it was not sufficiently heavy to register on the weather gauge which Pete Fulbright supervises.

McLean has now received 1.60 inches for the month of April, and 3.20 inches for the year.

High winds have been the most common type of weather in the area for the past week. Actually, the area has not had a real dust-storm, but instead has had sand-storms, two or three of them. The highest winds followed the brief shower of Tuesday, but the winds subsided shortly after.

Mingled in with the winds, and the showers, have been two or three days of ideal spring weather. Sunday was a beautiful spring day, with only light winds and a clear sky. Monday was another fair day, until late in the afternoon when clouds threatened to bring some change—the change never quite getting here.

So, if you're one of those people who tire of the weather monotony which plagues certain sections, then come on to McLean—we can produce just about any kind of weather you may have missed in the past.

Scouts Attend Council Camp

Boy Scout Troop No. 25 of McLean spent the week-end on a camporall at the T. T. Griffin Ranch north of Alameda. Present were a total of 203 boys and 42 men of the Adobe Walls Council.

The McLean troop had the largest number of boys making the advancement to first class scouts. Boys making the advancement were Joe Don Biggers, Frankie Smith, Virgil Richardson, and Johnnie Wardlow.

The boys were awarded second place for maling camp. They were accompanied by Jimmie Don Morris and Eugene Greer.

McLean boys attending were Jimmy Dawson, Bobby Dawson, Joe Don Biggers, Jerry Biggers, Billy Crockett, David Crockett, Jackie Mercer, David Stevenson, Virgil Richardson, Frankie Smith, Johnnie Wardlow, Donald Patterson, Billy Heasley, and Jimmy Rice.

MINISTER Thomas F. Shropshire has resigned as minister of the McLean Church of Christ; he delivered his last message at the local church Sunday. Shropshire and his family left early this week for Post, where they plan to make their home.

McColum New Minister Local Church Christ

Harold McColum of Bayfield, Colo., has been chosen as the new minister of the Church of Christ. He will deliver his first message as minister on Sunday, May 10.

The new minister succeeds Thomas F. Shropshire, who has resigned. Shropshire moved this week to Post to make his home. He stated that he plans to enter evangelistic work, as well as to sell Bibles, instead of accepting work as a minister. Mrs. Shropshire is a former resident of Post, and for the time being, the family will make their home there.

McColum has preached for the Church of Christ in Bayfield for the past four or five years. He has also done local work for churches in Durango, Colo., and Iowa Park and Breckenridge.

He is a graduate of Oklahoma A and M College.

The new minister is married and has three daughters, Sandra Jean, aged 10; Linda Ann, 6; and Karen Kay, 4. He and his family plan to move to McLean early in May, and will make their home at the church parsonage.

Mrs. Kenneth Simpson and son of Jacksboro visited several days last week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willis.

Tops Others in Sight-Reading And Concert

Bandmaster Gerald Smith's McLean High School band won two Division 1 ratings in the only two contests the band entered in the annual regional Interscholastic League Music Festival held on the West Texas State College campus at Canyon Friday.

The McLean band took the top honors in concert and sight-reading in the Class A bracket. In the concert contests, the bands entered play numbers on which they have practiced; in sight-reading, the bands are required to play numbers which they have never heard. Bands are allowed to enter in three contests—the third one being marching—and the local band was not entered in marching.

One other Class A band won two firsts. The Memphis high group won Division 1 ratings in sight-reading and marching. Five ratings are given in each class, one through five, with five being the lowest accorded to any band.

In the contests for individuals, several second and third division ratings were awarded to local players.

Placing were the following: Owen Rhea, second in bass solo; Howard Birdwell, second in trumpet solo; Doris Chase, second in trombone; Bethie Mantooh, second in clarinet; Floella Cubine, second in clarinet; Bob Stubblefield, second in clarinet; Gayle Mullanax, second in cornet; Monta Jean Kennedy, third in clarinet; Bethie Mantooh, Floella Cubine, and Frankie Tucker, third in clarinet trio.

Judges of both the concert and individual and ensemble competition were Roger Fern of the University of Tulsa; Maurice McAdow of NTSC, Denton; and Oakley Pittman of Southern Methodist University. Hiram Henry of Oklahoma A. and M. College judged sight-reading. "We are very proud of the band for taking first division honors in both contests entered this year," Bandmaster Smith said this week. "Our band members have done an excellent job this season, and we believe we have one of the very best bands in the entire area."

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCabe and son Robert were visitors in Pampa Saturday, and in Shamrock Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Mertel and girls were Pampa visitors Sunday afternoon.

THIS BEAUTIFUL FLOAT entered in the recent rodeo parade by the McLean Lions Club was one of a very few entries in the parade this year. Sitting atop the float in cowgirl regalia is Miss Pat Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson. Many business men stated, since the rodeo, that one thing is certain—they will have some type of entry in the parade next year; as one man said, "I'll have something in that parade even if I have to just walk in it myself."

CITY MARSHAL J. A. Sparks, left, points to the one-way sign—one of more than 50 which were installed recently on the divided lanes of Highway 66 through McLean. Receiving what is apparently a word of warning from the city marshal is Mayor E. J. Lander. The two men were among other city officials, highway department officials, and contractors to participate in a brief ceremony when the road was opened to traffic Friday, April 17. Most people are becoming accustomed to one-way traffic, but an occasional car is discovered going the wrong way.

Two Essays on— GRAVITY, FRICTION

Editor's Note: Here are two essays written by local 8th grade students on the profound subjects of gravity and friction. They are being printed here because of the deep thought which the students are giving such subjects. These two essays were among the best to be turned in.

WHAT A QUEER WORLD THIS WOULD BE WITHOUT GRAVITY

By Joe Dwyer

Did you ever stop to think what a queer world this would be without gravity? Probably you have not. But just suppose that we did not have gravity. Where would you be? What would you do? These are two simple questions that I shall try to answer. First I will take up the question, "Where would you be?" Suppose at this very moment all gravity vanished. The paper you are holding in your hands would probably float away and you would float with it. If you did not grab something firmly planted into the earth you would keep on sailing until you reached the sun.

Now I would like to answer the question, "What would you do?" You would float around in space. You wouldn't jump into your car and run down town, because without gravity the car would merely stay in one place because it could get no traction. You could not play basketball because if you ever missed or hit the ball it would keep on going because there would be nothing to slow it down.

I am just thinking what a queer world this would be without gravity.

WHAT WOULD THIS WORLD BE LIKE WITHOUT FRICTION?

By Janie Martindale

Without friction this would be a queer and useless world. Belts of machinery would slip, nails would not hold, trains, buses, automobiles, bicycles, and all other motor vehicles would not stay on pavements and roads.

Instructor. Do you wish to learn to play golf, madam?
She: Oh, no. It's my friend here who wants to learn. I learned yesterday.

Millie: Grandma, what kind of a husband would you advise me to get?
Grandma: Well, young lady, my advice is to leave all husbands alone and get yourself a single man.

The right temperature at home is maintained by warm hearts and not hot heads.

If you brood over your troubles, you'll have a perfect hatch.

We worry about a lot of things from time to time, but one thing which causes us no worry is our line of products. For we well know that Chevron products are tops in their field. Drive in and give them a trial.

NOT ALL FEDERAL

QUITE NATURALLY, most of us think of the tax problem primarily in connection with the federal government. Washington, D. C., collects most of our tax money today. And Washington, D. C., has been the center from which most of the revelations of waste, incompetence and graft have come. On the brighter side, the hopes of tens of millions of people are pinned on the new federal administration's pledged efforts to wring the water out of government financing, to balance the budget, and to eventually reduce taxes.

But the taxpayers will make a serious mistake if they focus their attention on the federal establishment to the exclusion of all else. State and local governments are big tax collectors too—and they are asking for more, not less, money.

U. S. News & World Report recently dealt with this problem in an admirably written and documented "special report" to its readers. It began on this note: "Don't start celebrating the prospect of a tax cut yet. State and local taxes are going up, not down. License fees, sales taxes, other levies are on the increase. For many, they can wipe out any cut in federal income taxes."

Since 1945, U. S. News says, the income of local government has nearly doubled—it jumped from $13,200,000,000 in 1946 to $24,400,000,000 in 1952. That is certainly a handsome increase—but spending outran it, going from $11,220,000,000 to $26,000,000,000. Last year, in other words, local government incurred a deficit of $1,500,000,000. Deficits nearly as large have been piled up in other postwar years. And local government is facing demands for tremendous future projects. To take but two examples, some estimates say that $30,000,000,000 should be spent on the major highways alone, and $10,000,000,000 on schools.

The result, as U. S. News puts it, is that "tax gatherers in states and cities . . . are all poised to pounce as soon as the federal government relaxes its grip."

The sources of local government revenue are many and diverse. Today 29 states have individual income taxes. So do 24 cities—where, before World War II, Philadelphia alone had this dubious distinction. Several states have gross-income or gross-receipts taxes on business. Practically all cities, of course, impose license-taxes on businesses, and in 196 of these cities these taxes are based on gross receipts.

Thirty-two states tax retail sales, usually expecting food and medicines. All the states have a gasoline tax which is paid by the motorist. And, finally, there is that old stand-by, the property tax. This is tending to go up too—either directly, through increases in the rate, or indirectly, through higher assessments.

To quote U. S. News again, "There is a tax, in fact, on almost every move a person takes. Take New York City as an example. The New Yorker pays a property tax, a 3 per cent tax on retail sales, a gross-business-receipts tax, a tax on occupied hotel rooms, an automobile-use tax, a special cigarette tax. . . . The New York situation is by no means unique. Nearly all cities use one or more such levies."

So, even though the U. S. Treasury takes the biggest bite out of our pocketbooks, the city hall and the county seat and the state capital are important, too.

TALK

By LESTER

Perhaps one of the best orientation programs yet devised for incoming freshmen in a high school is in the process of being carried out in the Pampa schools.

Under the leadership of Superintendent Knox Kinard and Principal Jack Edmondson, a detailed program for out-going seniors of the high school and incoming freshmen has been worked out and is nearing its completion.

It goes something like this: Monday of last week was declared freshman day in the high school. All of the incoming freshmen, and their teachers, were brought to the high school building in the morning. On the same day, the seniors were given the day off for their annual picnic, and, in this way, classroom space was made available for the visitors.

The freshmen actually had their classes in the high school building, by their regular teachers. In addition, two or three assembly programs for the freshmen were held. In these programs, the high school program was explained, the incoming students were given an opportunity to meet their future teachers, and a general outline of what is expected of high school students was given.

The school has a regular weekly tabloid paper, and for the freshman day program, the size of the paper was doubled. Students in various high school departments—homemaking, agriculture, commercial work, etc.—wrote articles explaining the work done and the material studied in each department. It was a big undertaking to gather all these articles together, but it was done, and done exceptionally well.

Pampa has a junior high school, separate from its grade school. On the same date that the freshmen appeared at the high school, the 6th graders who will move into junior high next fall were taken to the junior high building, where a similar program was conducted.

Now for the seniors, who are graduating this spring, much help is being given.

First of all, the 170 members of the senior class were called into an assembly program. The Kiwanis Club of Pampa cooperated in the plan, and had as a guest speaker, a college professor from WTSC, Canyon. The professor explained to the seniors what they may expect to find in any college, not particularly WTSC. He told them what abilities they should have before attempting college work, and if they were short of these abilities and did not have the will to acquire them, then the seniors may as well not attempt to go to college.

After the assembly program, the seniors were divided into smaller groups, according to the work they had indicated they plan to do in a survey which was made earlier in the spring. For example, two ministers met with students who indicated they wanted to work in the religious field; two doctors and a registered nurse met with those who wanted to be in medical work; a dentist met with would-be future dentists; several businessmen met with those who indicated they wanted to be in the merchandising field in the future, etc.

In each group meeting, the general advantages and disadvantages of each field were first explained—with no punches pulled. The seniors were given an opportunity to ask questions concerning their future chosen profession. And the men and women meeting with them gave their answers straight from the shoulder.

All in all, the whole plan—including the orientation program for the youngsters and the outlook-on-the-future for the seniors—seems to me to be excellent.

This is the first year that the Pampa school system has tried this plan; but the school officials are so highly pleased with the great interest manifested by the students that it is almost a certainty that it will be continued. As far as I know, few schools attempt such programs. Almost all schools do have an orientation program for the first graders each year. But the extra education is dropped there.

One thing which the Pampa school officials have learned is that both juniors and seniors should be included in the "orientation" portion of the program. Sincerely, I believe it is a plan which could be carried out here quite well. Of course, it would be on a smaller scale; but no doubt, businessmen and people in other walks of life would be most willing to cooperate to the fullest. Pampa has as many high school, and the plan is working. It's a little late to do much about such a plan this year, but plans could be formulated for the spring of 1954.

I can remember when I was going to school, and in the town where I absorbed what little education I have, I went to three different school buildings. And I certainly felt lost the first few days in each of the three. And I can also remember when I went off to school—you talk about being an ignorant country boy, well, I was really one.

Perhaps if I had had the advice which the seniors of Pampa high are getting, I might have chosen some profession which is a bit more lucrative than the one I did. Which would have been almost any other.

GMC'S 19 NEW MODELS DO MORE FOR YOU

GMC TRUCKS

Truck Hydra-Matic and record high compression insure top performance in the lightweight field

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

HAUL HEAVIER LOADS MORE EASILY

228 cubic inch engine with 105 horsepower—highest in its class.

SHIFT FOR THEMSELVES—WITHOUT MISTAKES

Dual-Range Truck Hydra-Matic* unerringly selects the right gear ratio for all needs—automatically.

GET MORE POWER FROM REGULAR GAS

8.0 to 1 compression—highest of any gasoline truck engine—extracts more punch, faster response, from non-premium fuel.

SAVE FUEL

Hydra-Matic's 3-speed range for traffic, 4-speed range for open going, cuts engine rpm to the minimum needed for the job.

CUT MAINTENANCE COSTS

Hydra-Matic's fluid coupling prevents engine strains, shock loading of drive line and rear axle, reducing servicing and repair needs.

SAVE TIME

Better acceleration without shifting lag, cuts "traffic light time" at every stop.

SPARE THE DRIVERS

Elimination of clutch-and-gearshift effort keeps drivers fresher, more alert to accident hazards.
