

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

The McLean-Panhandle football game last Friday night proved to be the most exciting one that Tiger fans have seen all season. The 13-13 final score was the least exciting part of the game. The two touchdowns that were called back and the Tigers getting within one yard of decisive victory kept the game going at an exciting pace all the way. Coach Jack Riley's team is looking better all the time but they face their toughest competition of the season here tomorrow night.

If all the personnel at the American National Bank seem a little more friendly than usual it is probably because they will begin occupying their beautiful new bank building within the next few days. Workmen are putting the finishing touches on it now and by Monday the bank will be open for business in the completely remodeled building. Plans for open house will be announced soon.

The new electric scoreboard will be in operation tomorrow night. The main part is already up and running and the additional attachments that were ordered will probably be ready in time for the Tiger-Rattler game.

Saturday Morning Football Practice Offered 7, 8 Graders

A Saturday morning program of supervised football play is planned for the 7th and 8th grade boys of McLean Junior High School, Coach Jack Riley said Wednesday.

Coach Riley has requested a written note from the parents of each boy, giving permission for him to participate in the program. He has requested that each boy be at the City Park at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Play will continue until about 11:30 each Saturday.

Boys who are given permission to participate by their parents should wear levis, tennis shoes and an old shirt, the coach said. Coach Riley said that there would be nothing strenuous or dangerous about the practice, but that he or none of the coaches could accept responsibility for any accidents that might occur.

All three coaches, Jack Riley, Jim Wood and Bill Adams, will supervise the Saturday morning play.

They visited with Gayle and Monta Jean and returned home Sunday. Irene Chase visited her husband, H. L., in Amarillo Hospital with a back injury.

If you missed the McLean-Panhandle game Friday night you missed a very exciting game. It was the best game we have seen the Tigers play since we have lived in McLean. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zevely visited with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Melton and other McLean fans during the half. The Zevelys teach at Panhandle. They are former McLean teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Murff and daughters, Allison and Tanya, of Amarillo were in Panhandle to see the game. We saw many strangers rooting for the Tigers. Must have been former residents living near Panhandle. We also noticed that not many football fans were exceeding the speed limit en route home.

The highway patrolmen were really on the job. Maybell Nash underwent major surgery in Highland Hospital in Pampa last week. Hope she has a speedy recovery. We were pleasantly surprised Saturday with a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cloninger and children, Susan and Terry, from Andrews. They were vacationing and en route to Tulsa, Okla., to visit relatives. Sunday visitors in our home were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sparks and children, Suzanne, Sherri and Michelle, of Chillicothe. Panhandle Panthers Gain 13-13 Tie With McLean Tigers Friday

By JIM VINEYARD

The Panhandle Panthers fought back for a 13-13 tie with the McLean Tigers before 1,000 people at Panhandle Friday night. The Tigers, playing their best ball of this year, ran wild and amassed 286 net yards to 160 for the Panthers. The Tigers moved the ball well on the ground and had the passing of David Woods and Jim Rice to gain ground in the air. Woods and Rice passed for 137 yards.

McLean received the opening kick and Jerry Biggers returned it to the Tiger 38. Then, the third play from scrimmage, Biggers scampered 53 yards to the Panther 13. Eight plays later Biggers went over right guard one yard to paydirt. Woods' try for the point was stopped.

McLean recovered David Woods' outside kick. The Tiger drove the ball to the Panther 25 before the ball changed hands on downs. In a series of 16 plays the Panthers had moved to the McLean four. Addington went the final four up the middle for the touchdown. Richards' try for the point was nullified by a 5 yard penalty. His second try, a pass, was incomplete.

Axe's kick was returned to the McLean 45 by Jim Allison. Bill Crockett got two off left guard. David Woods' pass to Kent Wiggins was good for 27 yards to the Panther 24. The David Woods hit Bertie Woods for 13. Then Woods, who enjoyed a great night at tossing the pigskin around, hit Billy Crockett for 10 more to the Panther two. On that play the Panthers were penalized half the distance to the goal for unnecessary roughness. Rice was held for no gain, but on the next play he skirted left end for the touchdown. D. Woods kicked the extra point. The first half ended here with the score 1-6 in favor of McLean. McLean kicked to the Panthers to start the second half. The Panthers drove to the McLean 38 from their own 48 in nine plays before David Woods intercepted Addington's pass on the Tiger 36. The Tigers penetrated into Panther territory but two penalties, one for 5 and one for 15, set them back to their own 42 where Williams intercepted Jim Rice's pass. The Panthers failed to move the ball for a first down in four plays so the ball changed hands again. Woods picked up one first down on an 18 yard scamper. David Crockett got 8 and the Tigers were penalized 5. Woods picked up 6. Rice lost 5 and the Tigers were penalized 15. Rice to Woods pass for 26 yards left fourth down and 4. Rice's pitch out to Biggers was low. Biggers recovered, but lost a yard and the Panthers took over on downs. Panhandle took over on their own 36. Williams got 7. Bell spurred 32 to the Tiger 24. Addington got 5. Bell lost 2. Richards lost 1. Bell for 2 and the ball went over on downs. David Crockett picked up 1. On the next play the Panthers hopped on a McLean fumble. Three plays later Jim Rice grabbed Williams' fumble on the first bounce and bounded 81 yards for a T. D. The touchdown was called back because the ball had hit the ground before Rice scooped it up. McLean failed to move the ball in this series of downs. Penalties were beginning to take their toll of the Tiger yardage. Woods punted out and the Panthers took possession on the Tiger 35. Jimmy Richards passed a wobbly pass to Axe for 25. Then Williams hit Bell in the end zone for the second Panther score. Jim Richards carried the extra point over and made the score 13-13. Axe missed the ball on the first try on the kickoff. Then he kicked to the McLean 32 and David Crockett returned to the 42. Rice was set back 8 on an attempted pass. Woods passed to Rice for 4 on a screen pass. The Tigers received another 15 yard penalty on that play. Woods passed to Bill Crockett for 27. David Crockett broke away for 53 yards to the Panther 2 yard marker where Monty Bell saved the game and drug him down on the 2. David Crockett got 1. Rice lost 5. Woods picked up 1. That left fourth and goal for the Tigers. David Woods' pass was incomplete in the end zone.

Two plays later the ball game was over. Kent Wiggins, Bennie Woods, Preston Morgan and Paul McCurley turned in good plays on the line while Rice, Biggers, D. Woods, B. Crockett and D. Crockett played outstanding play in the backfield. The Tigers were without the playing of their top linemen, Eddie Brown and Jackie Bailey, who were injured during practice last week.

The Tigers will play host to the Stinnett Rattlers this week on Duncan Field. The Rattlers are rated No. 1 in the top ten. The Tigers will be shooting for an upset. Let's all come out and give the Tigers some spirited backing.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Hugh Williamson

Find a dove hunter and you can quickly organize a debate about open seasons.

For example, take the fellow who goes dove hunting the first part of the season. He gets birds, all report. But a lot of them are small and still have their pinfeathers. That man may say they opened the season too early.

Then you take the fellow who goes out late in the season. The birds are scarce because cooler weather has caused them to move south. This hunter says they opened the season too late.

There's no solution in going out in the middle of the season. Everything depends on the weather and when the birds hatch. These are factors over which the game regulation people have no control.

I have been talking over this situation with some of the game management folks, and they are looking for the answers. They will tell you that the doves are increasing in number, unlike most other game birds and animals. That's because the dove is an adaptable creature. Take away his natural habitat, remove his watering place, and he'll come nest in your front yard.

Another thing about doves. They may be inclined to nest mainly in the spring, but this home-making and young-raising is likely to go on through the summer and on into the fall, sometimes all year long. So the hunter will get the small birds, no matter what the season.

The government biologists are studying all these angles, and based on what they find, there may be changes in dove hunting regulations. Perhaps the season will be lengthened, or the bag limit increased, or both.

As it is now, the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service sets the length of season. That's because the dove is a migratory bird, and the regulation officials want to give the hunters of all states an equal chance for birds. As far as the seasons dates are concerned, the federals leave that pretty much up to the states.

Add it all up, and what you get is the happy fact that doves thrive in spite of drought and high water, and that the outlook for dove hunters is likely to keep getting better and better.

New Rod Material
Strange and wonderful things turn up as the scientists of this day and age pursue knowledge. A good example is the new fishing rod material developed by the genius-type workers on guided missiles.

The stuff is called missileite, which Conolon now is using to make rods that are reputed to be stronger than glass. The new material is a combination of fiberglass and resin.

Another innovation by Conolon is the guide that is anchored to the rod at one side only. The advantage is in greater flexibility of the rod.

"Splat" Fishing
One of the outdoors magazines recently published a yarn about "splat" fishing, which is much the same thing we know as skitter fishing. East Texans in particular have been familiar with it for years.

Anyway, these "splat" fishermen used a stout cane pole and a shortish, heavy line. Fishing from a boat at night, in very shallow water right along the bank, they used a long-shank hook baited with pork rind. One of their tricks was to run a rubber band from the eye of the hook to the barb, making it practically weedless.

They dropped the bait out on shore, then pulled it in so that it plopped into the inches-deep water. When the bass took it, they horsed him right in, taking no chances on losing him in the brush.

The system, with many variations, works—as many old-timers in Texas and elsewhere know very well. It is a form of what you call "meat" fishing, as opposed to "sport" fishing.

Sometimes sport fishing pays off, sometimes it doesn't. When it fails, a man will be tempted to go after fish by whatever means.

The other afternoon I wished for one of those skittering rigs. The weather was warm, so I figured the bass might be congregated where a spring-fed stream empties cool water into the river.

No fish responded, but I saw a big bass splash twice by an old stump, not 20 feet from where I was fishing from the bank. I dropped a topwater dure on the spot, and the bass took it immediately—took it under the stump where my four-pound spinning line wasn't anything like enough to pull him out.

If I'd been skittering, of course, it would have been a different story. Or maybe if I had been in a boat, casting into the bank with a bait-casting outfit, it would have been all right.

Tackle Argument
Talk about debates, you can get into one pretty fast when you bring up fishing tackle.

There's the purist who wouldn't look at anything but a fly rod, and who wouldn't think of using anything but a dry fly. He fishes for trout and nothing else.

Then, there's the fly rod man who will not only use his rig to cast wet as well as dry flies, but will go so far as to fish for types other than trout and who, upon occasion, might slip a worm on his hook if nobody is looking.

In our part of the country we favor the casting outfit because the heavier lines help us get our bass out of the lily pads and brush.

Aristocrats of the casting school would never use anything but a topwater lure. Down the scale you will find those degraded people who use deep runners, spinners and spoons. Then, there's the fellow who will bait his hook with minnows, crawfish, shrimp, or anything else the fish will bite.

There are several categories of spin fishermen.

At the bottom of the heap are the cane pole and trotline fishermen. They catch the most fish. I am not going to talk about the bait they use. Least of all am I going to talk about catfish bait. Who's kidding whom? If somebody tells me I can catch a 15-pound blue cat by using a dog's tail for bait, Poopsie had better get under the house.

Desert Sheep Back in Texas

Austin, Sept. 21—Wild desert sheep which once roamed the mountains of the Big Bend area of Texas are now being given a chance for a comeback. Five of

...and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—(St. John 6, 37.)

Sometimes, for reasons that we vainly try to justify, we look upon another human being with distaste or contempt. Then we should remember the abounding compassion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and humbly pray for His forgiveness.

these animals, three ewes and two rams, are getting acquainted with their new home in Texas.

They are the sole occupants of a one-section trap in the Black Gap wildlife management area in West Texas.

Capture of the sheep was a long and tedious job for Biologist Tom Moore of the Game and Fish Commission and personnel of the Arizona Game & Fish Department this summer. Traps were set near water holes in the Arizona desert country. The wary sheep, however, failed to fall into the traps as rapidly as hoped for. Finally four were caught and moved from Arizona to Texas, via airplane.

Then a couple of weeks ago, a big ram was found tangled in a wire fence in Arizona. It was moved to Texas via pick-up truck. Apparently it also likes its new home, according to the director of wildlife management of the Game & Fish Commission.

"From here on, it is a proposition of watching and waiting," he said. "We hope we may have two or more lambs next spring. We may try to trap some more of the big horns. If they do well, it is possible that some day we may again have a controlled hunt of desert big horns in Texas."

Fatalities Decrease In Panhandle, Report For August Shows

Traffic fatalities in the Panhandle during August fell below the number killed on the area roads during July, according to figures released by Captain J. W. Blackwell, officer in charge of the Amarillo district of the Texas Highway Patrol.

The report shows that only nine persons were killed in accidents in the Panhandle during August while a total of 14 died during July.

During August a total of 94 persons were injured in the 185 accidents investigated by officers of the district during August.

The Press Battles for its
JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested "for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers."
Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.
Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 500 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.
The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took Zenger's case to the Supreme Court. Hamilton's speech to the jury was a ringing statement of the rights of the press and must still vigorously be read.
All men have the right to speak their minds publicly to remonstrate with their rulers. It is the duty of every citizen to assert with courage and without fear the blessing of liberty... and to preserve it."
Today in our country... interests and private interests are the press are counted to law. No today the press must have constant freedom intact.

STOP FOR THAT SCHOOL BUS

With school in session again all over the state, it might be well to review the law concerning traffic around school buses. The law says, in effect, that upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging children, the driver of any vehicle shall stop immediately before passing. After coming to a stop the driver of the vehicle can proceed with due caution at a speed which is prudent and does not exceed ten miles per hour.

This law was passed for only one reason, to protect school children as they boarded and left buses. During last year there were seven lives lost during the school year in collisions involving school buses. There was a total of 335 accidents involving these vehicles.

So, observe the law when you meet or catch that stopped school bus. Children sometimes forget that a car approaching at 60 miles an hour is hard to beat. —Memphis Democrat.

WORK

In machine age, perhaps more than anything else, has culled man's pride in his work until this nation has reached the point where the accent is upon mediocrity.

There is not to do something to give people pride in their work. Say the manufacturers, the business firms, the schools and government agencies. There seems to be no substitute for pride in one's work when it comes to producing something worth while.

Any buyer of a new automobile within the past few years knows that he must make numerous trips to his dealer's asking that missing screws be replaced, that doors be adjusted so they fit, that rattles be taken out of the body, and a dozen other small, but annoying details that indicate only one thing—the people that made that car had no pride in their work.

The government has set up its Civil Service rules so that a man who works harder and applies himself to his work advances not one whit longer than his fellow worker. All that matters is that each does his job well enough to avoid being fired and the promotion is made solely on the basis of seniority.

The labor unions operate on this theory of seniority, not worth.

School teachers are paid on the basis of years worked, not on the basis of merit, if there is any way to decide a teacher's merit.

Our country is full of people today who watch the minimum, and look forward eagerly to the day when they can escape the misery of it.

Workers are to be pitied. If a worker gets no more than his wages, he is cheating himself.

Pride in his work is without price. This person gives his job a little more than he gets in so doing enriches his own life. A bore and a chore, his job is no longer a chore.

Experience.

An editor of a Pennsylvania newspaper says that people have become so used to getting an interview from the newspaper that they are getting a few who were not worth the trouble to get them to the newspaper.

But the amenities of life, the newspaperman thinks that the newspaperman should have an opinion about national affairs. He should have the great bulk of the newspaperman thinks that the newspaperman should have an opinion about national affairs.

Wrong when people in a great hurry to express an opinion.

But the agriculture revolution has made it possible for each man to produce enough for himself and 19 other men. 50 years ago he could produce only enough for himself and 6 others. The driving force in this revolution has been mechanization.

THERE MUST BE A BETTER WAY!

Denison, Texas, Press: "... like the good and faithful family dog, the newspaper comes to the master of the house and remains until it has brought its message. You can wrap up the history of the family or the nation in your home town newspaper. That's why it is the greatest entertainer of all time."

Tempe, Ariz., Daily News: "The democratic tradition was strong in Poland long before it had followers in most other European countries. Although nominally a monarchy, it was ruled by elected kings, not men who attained royal rank by no better right than that of inheritance."

Bellingham, Wash., Herald: "The new ambassador-designate to Ceylon says he could not name the prime minister of Ceylon because he could not pronounce his name correctly. It is Solomon West Ridgeway Diaz Bandaranaika. Let the senator who would not have goofed also cast the first stone."

Foster-Moore

At the home of the bride Sunday morning at 9 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Minnie Foster and Rev. James Walton Moore, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. F. Hamilton in the presence of the bride's family and a few friends.

Miss Foster belongs to one of the oldest families of McLean and has won a most enviable position by her splendid Christian character and many womanly traits. She is a graduate of the McLean school, has had two years at a junior college and is in every way fitted for the duties of a young minister's wife.

The happy couple left Monday, amid the good wishes of a host of friends, for Louisville, Ky., where Rev. Moore will enter the Baptist ministry for a two years course of study. They were the recipients of many handsome presents.

In honor of the bride, a number of young ladies of the Baptist church entertained a large party of friends at the home of Mrs. C. E. A. Pollard Monday afternoon from 1 to 2:30 o'clock, with an informal reception, the entire party accompanying the couple to the train.

Honor Roll

Last week in the sixth and seventh grades, the honor roll was instituted. Each day a list of the honor students is placed in the hall and at the end of the week those averaging 95% on department, punctuality and attendance will be given a place on the honor roll and their names printed.

Following is the honor for the past week: Jack Back, Victor Back, Reginald Smith, Velma Williams, Douglas Wilson, James Jackson, Ruby Anderson, Arlie Grigsby, Elmer Free, Norman Johnston, Inez Shaw and Elsie Gracey.

Red Cross Elects Two

At the meeting of the local Red Cross chapter Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church, Mrs. S.

E. Boyett was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. S. B. Fast as first vice chairman, and E. R. Eakins was elected as treasurer to take the place of A. G. Richardson.

A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring officers for their splendid work.

Personals

Mrs. F. P. Wilson is enjoying a visit from her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Alexander, and cousin, Mrs. Carl Jones, both of Dallas.

S. W. Rice and family arrived Saturday from Carrizozo, N. M., and will again make this their home. Many friends are delighted to have this good family back.

Mrs. J. L. Crabtree has as her guests this week Mrs. C. G. Nicholson and daughter of Shamrock. On Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fast and McAdams Watkins, Walker and Smith enjoyed an outing in the Shamrock community.

J. W. Grogan made a trip to Kansas City this week.

Margaret Lee Passes Away

Friends were grieved Friday to learn of the death of little Margaret Lee, which occurred at the home of her uncle in Erick, Okla. The little girl with her parents had lived here about a year but had moved to Erick on account of her illness which lasted about a month.

Margaret was beautiful in face and character and all who knew her loved her. The News extends sympathy to the bereaved parents on the loss of their only child.

I would especially like to thank Larry Fuller and Southwestern Public Service company for the quick and efficient service of re-instating our electric power. Your helpfulness was deeply appreciated.

Asian Flu Virus Well 'Seeded' in Texas, Health Dept. Reports

Austin, Sept. 2.—Earlier predictions of a widespread Asian influenza epidemic this fall and winter appear to be materializing. Reports of cases coming in from all quarters indicate that Texas has been well "seeded" with the virus.

Only five brief months have passed since late April when the disease was first recognized in Hong Kong. This speed of spread is typical of the illness.

So far, Asian influenza, which is really a new strain of a virus type well known to laboratory technicians, has been comparatively mild. This very fact has caused some people to ask why so much noise is being made about it. There are several good answers.

First, even mild influenza can be disabling for four or five days, followed by a period of lassitude and weakness. If enough people are stricken at the same time, as in an epidemic, medical care facilities may be overtaxed and vital community services may break down. These possibilities may be averted by forewarning and careful planning.

Second, influenza is always unpredictable. Cases are frequently complicated by bacterial infections. And, even when uncomplicated, the illness has a particularly dangerous impact on persons suffering from heart ailments or other chronic diseases.

Experience has shown that the average period of a local epidemic is about four weeks, but 80% of those who become ill do so within a period of about two weeks. Frequently whole families get sick at the same time so there is no one to care for the sick, to fix meals, or look after family affairs.

The unusual features associated with Asian influenza has rekindled interest in events just preceding the world-wide epidemic of 1918-1919. It started in Western Europe in 1918, and by August had spread into Scandinavia and the Orient. By October most of the United States was involved.

In January and February of 1919, the epidemic intensified and mortality rates rose sharply. Before it was over it had killed more than 800,000 people in the United States alone.

Fortunately, with modern epidemiology and laboratory techniques, we are in a better position today to cope with the situation. Too, for the first time in history, this nation is in the unique position of having already begun production on a vaccine before an anticipated epidemic actually struck. Six drug houses have been licensed to produce the vaccine and are working on around-the-clock schedules. Vaccine will be released to states on the basis of population as it becomes available.

THE TIGER POST

Written by and for the Students of McLean High School
Published weekly by the following McLean High School seniors: Charlene Hall, Natalie Herndon, Nancy Tate, Molly Miller, Janiece Magee, Jimmy Vineyard, Oran Durham, Larry Back, Don Smith.

School was dismissed Monday so everyone could go to the fair. Free tickets were given to all students on Friday. The band participated in the parade which was televised on Channel 10. It was no trouble to pick out the blistered and tired fair-goers after the day's fun.

The seniors had their pictures taken Thursday by Bill Megert from the Marquise Studio in Enid, Okla.
Friday a pep rally was held to boost the McLean Tigers for the game Friday night with the Wheeler Mustangs. It had the best response that we have had in quite a while. The band played several selections. The town people are urged to attend our pep rallies on each Friday at 3:15.

Dr. Moore, Jesse Leonard and John McKay of the Baptist church held a chapel assembly Wednesday morning. Mr. McKay sang several beautiful spiritual songs, assisted by Mr. Paul Miller at the piano. Dr. Moore gave a very interesting talk on "Dreams." Dr. Moore is from Borger and Mr. McKay is from Seagoville.

The F. H. A. girls met Thursday night at 7:30 to elect officers and discuss the year's program. Charlene Hall and Linda Gransley were elected president and vice president at the close of last year. Janiece Magee was elected secretary; Martha Cardwell, treasurer; Darlene Potter, reporter; Dorothy Pakan, historian; Peggy Sharp, pianist; Nancy Meacham, song leader; Almada Gibson, parliamentarian. The club dads and moms are: Mr. Clayton and Mrs. Grimsley, senior; Mr. and Mrs. Parvin, junior; Mr. and Mrs. Turner, sophomore; and Mr. and Mrs. Pakan, freshman.

The FFA boys met Thursday night for the election of officers. David Woods was elected president; Joe Howard, vice president; Jackie Bailey, secretary; David Crockett, treasurer; Jim Rice, reporter; and Preston Morgan, sentinel. They also discussed the different projects and different people to be on the committees. The senior chapter conducting team went through the opening and closing exercises.

We would like to congratulate the following students for being chosen to the annual staff this year: Molly Miller, Darlene Potter, Janiece Magee, Nancy Tate, Kenneth Gossett, Eddie Brown, Oran Durham, Jimmy Vineyard, and Lester Sitter. A junior is selected each year to get experience for next year when he will be automatically chosen editor.

EDITORIAL
In our editorials this year we hope to present several people's viewpoints on different ideas. Recently some of us have been discussing personality and character. Each of us has a different concept as to the meaning of personality and character. A renowned author, Mr. Ralph Emerson, has said that character is a "reserved force which acts directly by presence, and without means. It is conceived of as a certain undemonstrable force, by whose impulses the man is guided, but whose course he cannot impart; which is company for him, so that such men are often solitary, or if they chance to be social, do not need society, but can entertain themselves very well alone."

Older people often give more thought and a deeper meaning to character and personality. Mr. Kennedy, when asked, said that "personality is those characteristics, mental and physical, which individualize a person. A person is born with his personality." To Mr. Kennedy, "character is those acquired traits by which a person is known." Mrs. Riley has said that "character is a censured expression of individuality."

To Laura Switzer, character is "personality, poise, self-confidence, self-reliance."

Jessie Lowe says that "personality is what you notice about people, how they act, if they are friendly, etc., while character is whether they are friendly or not."

Most students are of the opinion that personality is the way in which you associate with people, the way you treat them, how you mix with them, and how friendly you are toward others. These are some of our thoughts. Perhaps you, too, would like to think it over.

Joe was having trouble getting up in the morning, so his doctor prescribed some pills. Joe took them, slept well, and was awake before he heard the alarm. He took his time getting to the office, strolled in, and said to the boss, "I didn't have a bit of trouble getting up this morning."

"That's fine," said the boss, "but where were you yesterday?"

Poll Tax
"Tickets" for Texas' 1958 political bouts go on sale next week. Poll taxes, $1.75 each, can be bought from Oct. 1 until Jan. 31.

Holders of the small white receipts not only can watch, but participate in the biennial struggle to decide who'll be "top dog" for the next two years. In the ring will be contenders for the offices now held by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, and so on down the line.

"Ticket" holders also can attend their Democratic party precinct conventions next May when the first round of a fight for party control will be staged.

Assuming you have $1.75, paying a poll tax shouldn't be hard. Dozens of groups—Jaycees, labor unions, women voters, etc.—plan massive drives. Most voters probably will be able to find a poll tax selling booth within blocks.

Exact number of potential voters is not known, of course. But some civic leaders hope as many as three million persons will pay poll taxes. Previous record is 2,410,188 for 1956, a presidential election year.

Another peak is expected in 1960 when census projections show more than 5 1/2 million should be eligible to vote in Texas.

Oil Quotas Sag

After three months on an all-time low producing pattern of 13 days, the Railroad Commission cut the October production to 12 days. Daily allowable will be 2,964,062 barrels.

Major oil buyers at the commission hearing indicated that any more production would result in an oversupply.

For a state heavily dependent on oil tax revenue and already faced with fiscal problems, the oil cut means tough times for the state budgeters.

More Taxes, Says Board

Even before the oil slash, the legislative budget board had some hard facts to share with Texas taxpayers.

By 1958, says the board, the average Texan will pay 6.4 cents of each dollar he earns in state taxes. This is compared to 5.3 cents per dollar in '57.

It's the inevitable result of a billion-dollar-a-year budget, say the fiscal experts. They attribute the soaring expenses to inflation and citizen demand for more government services.

As to paying for it, the board says, "All taxes ultimately come from the individual. There's no one else to pay them."

On the brighter side, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported the state department started the new fiscal year this fall in the black. Calvert's report showed Texas took in approximately $100,000,000 more than it spent up to Aug. 31.

"Bug" on the Loose

In schools, colleges, offices—even jails—over Texas, thousands of people are a-bed.

Nearly 3,000 cases, with flu-like symptoms, have been reported to the State Health Department. Finding out whether it's Asian flu requires special tests. Health Department officials are swamped with specimens and requests for tests.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hunt and children spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hunt.

SERVICE

THE SHORTEST WAY TO DO MANY THINGS IS TO DO ONE THING AT A TIME

(Author's name below)

Prescriptions cannot be mass produced on assembly lines. Each one must be compounded individually because it is specifically written for one person. For that reason it usually shortens sickness time.

Invariably the medicines in a prescription give relief more quickly than patent medicines or home treatments. Your physician's skilled diagnosis usually prevents serious sickness—if you consult him at the first sign of trouble. The shortest way to continued better health is to do this one thing first—consult your physician when sick.
