RAIN IS HEAVY SOUTH OF CITY; ONE INCH HERE

Rains up to two and one-half inches fell in the McLean area Tuesday night, with the heaviest downpour reported south of town.

The moisture was not believed damaging to most newly-planted crops; but the heavy downpour south is likely to cause considerable replanting.

Faris Hess reported that the two and one-half inch deluge came on the Hess ranch south of town. He said about half of it fell nicely, and then the other half literally "dropped" from the sky. Early Wednesday, he had not examined the feed and cotton which he had just completed planting, but he believed he would have to replant.

In McLean, the official weather gauge of Pete Fulbright, local weather observer, recorded 1.01 inches, bringing the year's total to 10.80.

From all reports which were gathered early Wednesday, the rain was general throughout the McLean area, with the amount ranging from one inch upward. The rainfall was spotted in the Panhandle, however, with some areas reporting up to four inches.

The moisture was the first for the month of June. During the first seven days, high winds had predominated the weather picture. The winds, accompanied by the summer heat, were quickly drying out the surface soil. Winds also did some damage to the small amount of wheat in the local area.

Temperatures soared above the 90-degree mark during daytime hours most of the past week to give residents their first real touch of summer weather.

T. B. SURVEY IS UNDERWAY

Amarillo has been chosen as headquarters in this section for a survey of tuberculosis now underway throughout Texas.

The study, called "Searchlight on TB," was initiated by the Texas Tuberculosis Association and is sponsored by 14 other agencies directly concerned with some phase of the disease which is labeled "Texas' No. 1 health problem."

Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler of Wichita Falls, president of the state TB organization, has said that the study is designed to give the state its first clear picture of the disease and conditions which contribute to its incidence.

A schedule of information on patients and treatment facilities will be gathered from every county in the state, Mrs. Fisher said. To facilitate this, Texas has been divided into 22 geographical areas. Tires county and adjacent ones fall in Area 1, with Amarillo as the headquarters.

Judge E. E. Jordan, Potter County judge, chairman for Area 1, has called a meeting of representatives from each of the 26 counties for June 23 at the Globe-News conference room in Amarillo.

The Potter County Tuberculosis Association will assist Judge Jordan in distributing materials for the paper work called for in the survey and in acquainting the representatives with sources of information pertaining to their own counties.

A member of the staff of the Texas Tuberculosis Association is helping with plans for the fact-finding job and will attend the area meeting.

Counties comprising this area include: Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

The end of the strawberry season meets the beginning of peaches—a never-better time to make a special preserve. Address Nancy Haven, Western Beet Sugar Producers, Inc., 2 Pine Street, San Francisco 11, California.

STRAWBERRY-PEACH JAM

5 1/2 cups whole strawberries 1 pkg. powdered fruit pectin
 4 tablespoons lemon juice (fresh, 7 1/2 cups beet or cane sugar frozen or canned) 1/2 teaspoon mint extract
 5 medium-sized freestone peaches (optional)

Wash and hull strawberries; crush with 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice (keeps berries bright).
 Wash, peel and pit peaches; crush with remainder lemon juice.
 Combine fruits in preserving kettle; stir in pectin well. Bring fruit to a full rolling boil on high heat, stirring constantly.
 Add beet or cane sugar and stir well. Bring back to full boil and cook for 3 minutes.
 Remove from heat; stir and skim alternately for 5 minutes (helps prevent floating fruit.) Stir in mint extract.
 Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal at once. Makes about 4 1/2 pints.

SCIENCE and your Health

THE AUTOMATIC EYE
 By Science Features

The miraculously sensitive and delicate instruments that people have on either side of their nose—their eyes—should be greatly appreciated. The camera, a close copy of the eye, has to be continuously adjusted and focused, but the eyes are fully automatic. They can glance from a magazine, out of a window, to a moving object and instantaneously send these sight impulses to the brain for appropriate reactions.

Because of their sensitivity, many parts of the eye areas—such as the lids, cornea or conjunctiva—can be easily damaged. An insignificant small particle in the eye, the most frequent cause of injury, can result in pain and tears that often stop a person in his tracks.

It is fortunate that people are made extremely miserable by eye trouble, because they then seek immediate relief. Doctors have new instruments and anesthetics to treat the eye and eliminate pain and they also use antibiotics and hormone drugs. The hormones, such as hydrocortisone, relieve the inflammation and antibiotics fight infection. A new preparation, called cortril with terramycin, is the first to combine these qualities for treating a wide variety of eye infections.

There are many common illnesses that can beset the eye: the minor scratch or bruise, styes, the highly contagious pink eye, or the swollen crusty condition called blepharitis are just a few.

Minor ailments, if not cared for, can cause loss of sight, so however slight the annoyance, it should be treated by a doctor.

SUGGEST—NOT DEMAND

BIG NEWS COMES hot and heavy these days. So, inevitably, many important developments that would make the headlines in quieter areas are obscured. This isn't the fault of the newspaper and newsmagazine editors and the radio and TV reporters. There simply isn't enough space and time to go around adequately.

To take one example, it's probable that relatively few people know how well, or how badly, the President's "Umbrella" legislation program has been faring. It has been over-shadowed to the point of disappearance by such attention-demanding events as the Indo-China tragedy, the bitter McCarthy-Army fight, the imbroglio at Geneva, and the Supreme Court's decision in the school segregation case.

Yet that program—negatively or positively, directly or indirectly—will affect every farm, family, and business in the country.

To begin with, there is no chance and never was that Congress will approve all of the program. For one thing, it is too extensive to be debated and digested in one year, and for another it envisions great new departures in policy which inevitably stir up strong opposition. Two prime examples of this can be cited. One is the proposal for Taft-Hartley changes, including the plan for having the rank and file of union membership vote on proposed strikes. This has been buried in the Congressional deep freeze. The other is Secretary Benson's effort to do something about farm policy and surpluses, of which the key reform would be to replace the present rigid-parity formula with a subsidy based on a sliding scale. Some farm leaders and organizations have agreed with Mr. Benson that an overhaul of the law certainly is in order. But it is very doubtful if anything really effective will be done in this election year.

By and large, the new tax bill is a real administration victory. There will be many changes and compromises, as everyone expected. But some tax relief has been given to individuals and to enterprise, and more is promised. One important qualification, which isn't the administration's fault or anyone else's, must be added, however. The Asia situation could lead to upping military and allied appropriations to a far higher level, and that would directly influence future tax rates and policy.

Approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway, though many question its wisdom, was a demonstration of White House strength. And there is a good chance that the President's foreign trade program has a good chance of enactment, though there probably will be many modifications which various lawmakers and industrial leaders think necessary in the interest of American enterprise and labor.

A notable feature of all this has been the President's refusal, with very few exceptions, to attach the "must" label to his proposals. He clearly believes that it is his duty and prerogative to suggest and to lead, but not to flatly demand. And that in itself will be a campaign issue next November, with the Republicans saying it is the proper attitude under our Constitutional system and the Democrats saying it is a sign of weakness.

Two women have been candidates for the presidency: Victoria Woodhull nominated in 1872, and Belva Lockwood in 1884 and 1888.

TALK

By LESTER

Mrs. Foch Shelton told me to quit talking about our animals and come up and see hers. She has dogs, and chickens, and a cow, and about 30 cats, she said. Daughter Chris likes to go see Mrs. Shelton, because of the animals and fowls.

I guess I had better cease writing about the animals in our neighborhood, but before I do, I will say that we now have one less. Our black cocker dog, Nig, is gone. The other day he was running over to meet us as we drove the car in the drive way. As he reached the drive way, he slipped, fell under the car, and was run over. Two days later he was dead.

Actually, we were considering very seriously the idea of giving Nig to some family away from town. He had become very bad about barking at cars, kids on bicycles, etc., and was getting to the point where he had people who walked by or came to the house afraid that he might bite.

For example, he nipped at Harlan Pool pretty seriously when Harlan came by to pick up the trash.

We had just about convinced Chris that the best thing to do was give him away. Then I ran over him and he died. Yes, we wanted to give him up, but not in the manner in which we did.

A joke:

Customer—I want to get some beet leaves for my husband. Do these have any poison spray on them?

Grocer: No, I'm sorry, madam, you'll have to get that at the drug store.

A girl may wear a golf outfit when she can't play golf and a bathing suit when she can't swim, but when she puts on a wedding gown she means business.

In the latest issue of the monthly newsletter put out by Director-General Roy Keaton of Lions International, Mr. Keaton gives out with some sound advice on a person's responsibility to his own Lions Club. It can well apply to any other organization and I'll quote here a few excerpts: "When one spark plug in an eight-cylinder motor is not firing, the other seven are forced to do all the work. When a four-motor plane is in flight and one motor fails, the other three must carry the load. When a member of your board of directors or a member of any committee from your club fails to assume his share of the work, the other members are compelled to do it for him. Any time anyone fails, neglects, or refuses to shoulder his share of the work, the other members are compelled to do it for him. Any time anyone fails, neglects, or refuses to shoulder his share of the work, the other members are compelled to do it for him. Any time anyone fails, neglects, or refuses to shoulder his share of the work, the other members are compelled to do it for him.

"Anyone who is frequently referred to as a great or an exceptional person is usually only an average individual with a great or exceptional record and reputation for shouldering his share.

"Any wise leader knows that it is necessary to submit oneself to frequent careful self-analysis. And he recognizes that the best time to build sound judgment is during the solitude of quiet moments of thought, for it is there that one usually builds the framework upon which all his decisions are made. He knows that decisions often have to be made promptly and executed swiftly. And when the time arrives for action, he's ready to act. He's ready to shoulder his share.

Leaders may be forgiven for a lack of wisdom but seldom for a lack of courage. You should cultivate a SHOULDER YOUR SHARE attitude of mind. It is a sure road to progress and success. Realize that every problem has a solution the same as every sum in mathematics has a correct answer. The right answer will eventually be found by someone who shoulders his share in seeking it, and whatever problems your club may have, remember that they can and will be solved by those who possess a vigorous and enthusiastic application of SHOULDER YOUR SHARE attitude.

"Keep always in mind that your success or failure depends mainly upon yourself. Never forget that you possess the ability, energy, power, and resources for making a highly successful leader. Your vital concern should not be what you have as many talents as someone else, but how you tend to develop and put to use those which you have. Put your good principles in practice. Transform your aspirations into noble acts. Change your dreams into deeds, your resolutions into results. Shoulder your share.

Elect Officers

At the regular meeting of the local Odd Fellows lodge Tuesday evening of last week, the officers for the ensuing term of six months were elected. Those chosen were B. F. Gardshire, N. G. J. F. Faulkner, V. G. and A. G. Richardson, secretary.

The various other officers of the lodge were appointed and the roster will be published after the installation, which will occur on the 29th instant.

Eagle Cafe Changes

The Eagle Cafe that has recently been in charge of Mr. Craig and formerly owned by Haynes and Edmonson, has changed hands and is now styled Haynes and Westler. Neither gentleman needs any introduction to the public, both being well and favorably known. A share of your business will be appreciated by them.

After I. O. O. F. Convention

A bunch of local boosters, members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, left Wednesday afternoon for Plainview, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Panhandle Odd Fellows Association. It is the intention of those in the party, according to the instructions of their lodge, to secure the 1915 meeting of the association for McLean, and every effort possible will be exerted in that direction.

The decision to try for this honor was reached at a recent meeting of the fraternity, at which every member heartily favored the move and promised their cooperation in the matter of entertaining the visitors should they decide to visit us. There are in the neighborhood of 200 delegates eligible to participate in the conventions of the association and any Odd Fellow may attend as a visitor, hence the likelihood is that 200 or more guests will be on hand.

A committee on arrangements have already been at work looking to the matter of securing accommodations for the visitors and every preparation possible is being made, the lodge feeling that an early start is necessary in order that the famed hospitality of the little city of McLean may not suffer. In case the association goes somewhere else—but that is out of the question.

Decoration Day Services

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion and as a token of respect to the memory of departed members, the local Woodman lodge, together with their auxiliary society, the Circle, joined in observing Decoration Day last Sunday.

The Woodmen met at the hall at 2 o'clock and marched in a body to the cemetery gate, where they were joined by members of the Circle. They then continued their march to the center of the cemetery where the ritualistic services of the order were had and the members dispersed to lay their floral tribute on the graves of deceased friends and brothers. After conclusion of this ceremony, both orders adjourned to the tabernacle where a specially pleasing program was enjoyed.

The song service, which opened the program, was led by D. N. Massay.

Following this, Miss Ruby Cook recited "O Why Should the Spirit of Mortals Be Proud?" Judre N. P. Willis of Canadian, candidate for district judge of this district, was present and delivered a most pleasing and entertaining address, taking for his subject, "Why We Decorate." Billie Biggers also delivered an address on fraternity that was very much enjoyed.

Visitor from Houston

Mrs. J. A. Herring, wife of United States Marshal Herring of Houston, was in the city yesterday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Pollard, superintendent of the poor farm. Mrs. Herring was en route to McLean to visit her father. She will return here about the middle of the month and will be joined by her husband, who intends to spend a week here with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard.

Mr. Herring is the U. S. marshal of the southern district of Texas. He was superintendent of the state penitentiaries during the Governor Campbell regime, and Mr. Pollard was one of the wardens—Amarillo News.

Mrs. Herring has been visiting here with her father, J. R. Black, and her sisters, Mesdames J. W. Sugg and W. B. Upham.

KILLING PAIN

By Science Features

A science in its own right, anesthesia has kept up with other medical advances and enables surgeons to perform operations that once were considered impossible. An anesthetic is a substance that makes surgery painless. It must be given properly as incorrect administration can lead to serious complications. Therefore many doctors, called anesthetists, specialize in the study and administration of these pain-killers.

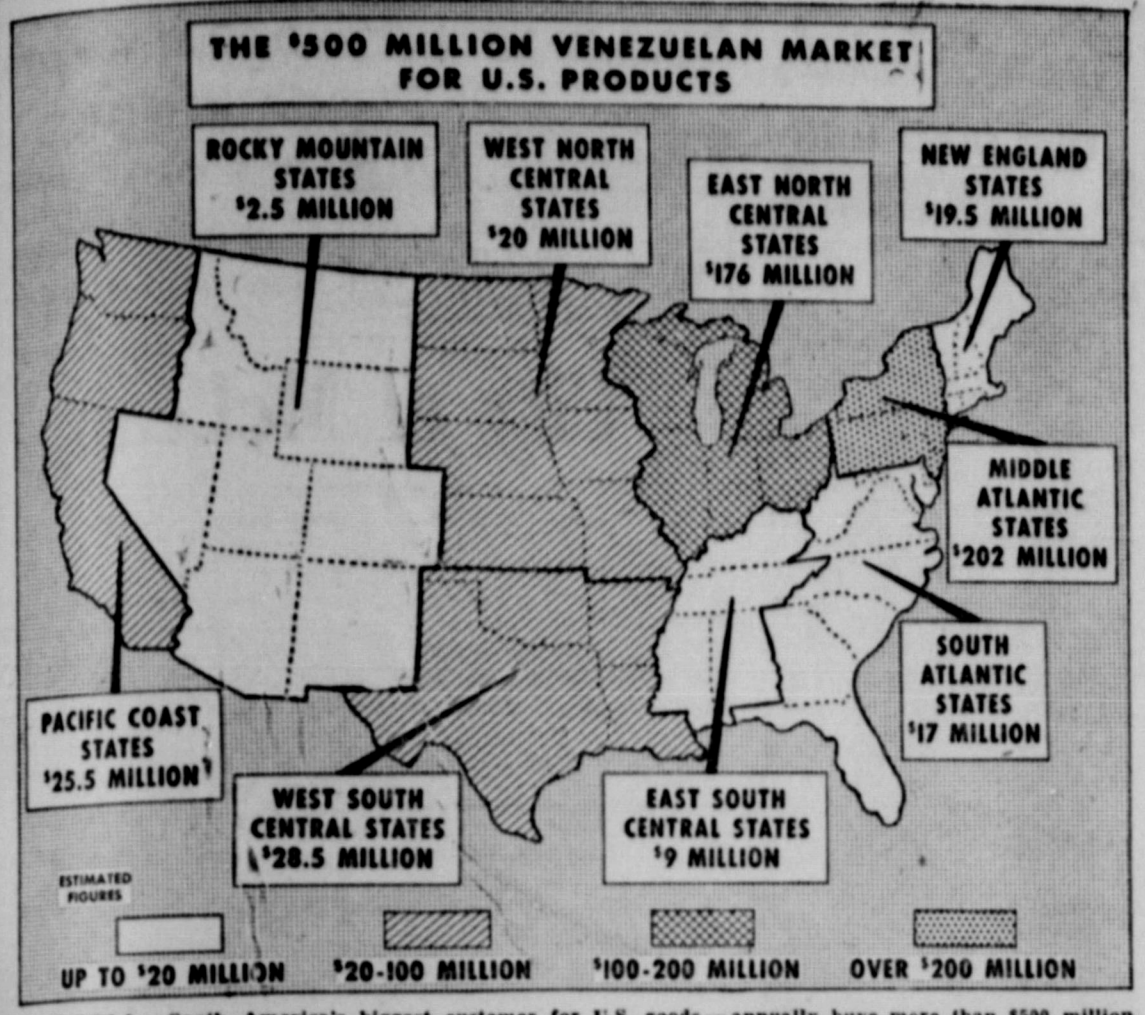

Anesthesia is almost completely an American contribution to medicine.

Prior to its application to surgery about a hundred years ago, wine, whiskey and opium were the common but inadequate means of preventing pain. Now, there are many types of anesthetics: general, spinal, regional block and local. The general ones, such as ether, laughing gas and chloroform are administered in a gaseous form and are breathed in by the patient. They usually result in absence of pain and complete unconsciousness.

Local anesthetics such as procaine are injected into one part of the body, and although the patient remains conscious, that area becomes so numb that the doctor or dentist can work without producing pain. There are also substances that can be injected into the lower spine or into other nerve roots that cause lack of sensation in certain related regions of the body.

Selection of the anesthetic depends upon the type of surgery to be performed and the condition of the patient. All anesthetics, however, have three main objectives: to make the operation painless, to thoroughly relax the patient and to avoid any damage or harm.

Heliotherapy is the treatment of disease by sun baths.

VENEZUELA—South America's biggest customer for U.S. goods—annually buys more than $500 million worth of products from United States factories and farms. Another $350 million of services (such as banking, insurance, etc.) are also provided to Venezuela by U.S. firms. A new independent study shows that exports to Venezuela come from hundreds of cities and towns throughout the U.S. The above map indicates the shares which different regions have in this expanding export market. Figures are estimated on the basis of the study, directed by Econometrics Specialists, Inc., which took in a 34 per cent sample of total exports to Venezuela. American ships play a vital part in this trade, said the American Merchant Marine Institute.

Good Lighting A Safety Factor

DARK - DANGEROUS - DINGY
Poor lighting fixtures such as this (left) are a real hazard near open stairways in the home. Note how greatest illumination is near ceiling and not at floor level where needed.

LIGHT - LIVABLE - LOVELY
Proof (right) of added beauty, safety and character of correctly designed lighting fixtures. Light level is directed downward to provide maximum stairway illumination.

One of the most accident inviting areas in the modern home is the stairway, according to insurance company records. In many instances, poor lighting is responsible for the injuries sustained as a result of falls and spills down long flights of stairs. If you are buying a home, be sure and check the efficiency of lighting fixtures protecting this area.

If you now own a home with one of the exposed bulb makeshift fixtures in the stairway area, you'll find it is good accident insurance policy for the entire family to replace this particular fixture with one that is specifically designed to light your stairway adequately. You will see the difference right away.

New engine power! New operating economy!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability cut your time per trip.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground to make loading and unloading faster and easier.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you can forget about clutching and shifting—for good! This proved, economical automatic transmission is optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save on operating costs. The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop as long as you own a Chevrolet truck. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks.

S. S. Bill Passes Under 'Gag' Rule

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Gagged Again
The Social Security bill that recently passed the House of Representatives was passed under the "gag" rule. This was the second time this session that major legislation originating in the Ways and Means Committee was forced through the House of Representatives while members stood handcuffed and gagged. The other time was when the voluminous tax revision bill was shoved through. One of the members of the Ways and Means Committee, appearing on television just before the tax bill came to the Congress, stated that the bill was being written by the Ways and Means Committee of that the House of Representatives would not be allowed to dot an i or cross a t. That is exactly what happened. The bill was printed on March 9, contained over 800 pages (small print), and was voted on on March 18. This procedure simply means that 16 members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives can dominate and control 435 duly elected members of Congress, insofar as legislation before that particular committee is concerned. The Social Security bill wasn't even printed when the House began considering the rule to debate the bill. An attempt was made to open the bill for certain types of amendments, but this was soundly defeated by a vote of 270 to 76. The great majority of the 76 were Southern Democrats, men who have always believed in the real democratic processes, and who realize that the "gag" rule practice is nothing less than steam roller politics, and that a slightly expanded use of this practice could do tremendous damage to the legislative processes so necessary in a democratic form of government. We sincerely hope that the Senate (where the "gag" does not apply), will remove some of the inequities of the bill.

Puerto Ricans Go on Trial
The Puerto Ricans, three men and a woman, are now on trial in Washington for the March 1 shooting in the House of Representatives. The woman undertook to make a speech when the case was called for trial, but was quickly hushed by officers of the court. It would be a good guess that she was going to make a speech on freedom for Puerto Rico. The poor gal doesn't seem to understand that the place to get water is at the well. Puerto Rico can have its independence if Puerto Rico wants it. The place to determine this is in Puerto Rico, not in the United States, either in the Congress or before a district court. If justice prevails, I would venture that it will be several years before this woman or her thick-headed pals have an opportunity to visit Puerto Rico or any place else. One of the witnesses who appeared in the beginning of the trial was my good friend, Congressman Ken Roberts from Alabama. He was shot in the leg and had a pretty tough time of it. In fact, he was the last to get out of the hospital. He is still on crutches and has a specially designed chair in which he sits. The chair is fixed so that it affords a special support for his left leg.

The Attorney General's Speech at Pasadena
I did not like the statement of the Attorney General to the effect that the recent segregation decision of the Supreme Court was a complete answer to Communist propaganda criticizing racial segregation in this country. The Communist propaganda agents could very easily say that such a statement was an admission on the part of the attorney general that the United States of America had been guilty of something before the Supreme Court made this segregation ruling. We should spend our time telling the world about the shortcomings of Communism, rather than trying to answer:

AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE HOMEMAKER IS BEAUTIFUL AND EFFICIENT

Lovely and intelligent are words describing the nation's number one homemaker, Mrs. Wanda Jennings of St. Louis, Missouri. She has just won the title, "Mrs. America for 1954," over fifty finalists in the annual competition.
Planning and serving nutritious and appetizing meals was a major factor in the selection of Mrs. America. She's shown here with her husband, Madison, and her son, Michael, at a typical "Quick 'K' Breakfast" which she planned as part of the homemaking program. Mrs. Jennings, as well as other finalists, served Kellogg's Variety Package as the basis for the breakfast which emphasizes the importance of cereal, fruit, bread, butter and milk in the daily diet.
In addition to menu planning, Mrs. Jennings demonstrated excellence in cooking, sewing, and other homemaking activities. She impressed the judges with her personal charm and grace and, thereby, won the title, Mrs. America for 1954.

We are all going to wake up some morning and find out that Communist criticism and condemnation cannot be satisfied by sacrificing our basic rights that distinguish Americanism from Communism. "COUNTRY FRESH"
 IN THE OLD DAYS, DISTRIBUTION OF "COUNTRY FRESH" TRUCK-FARM PRODUCE WAS LIMITED TO NEARBY COMMUNITIES AND THE LOCAL GROWING SEASON. TODAY, THE BOUNTY OF THE SOIL IS SHARED MORE WIDELY AND THE MARKETING OF PERISHABLE PRODUCE STABILIZED, BECAUSE OF PACKAGING INNOVATIONS, MODERNIZED TRANSPORTATION AND OTHER DEVELOPMENTS.

FROZEN FOOD PACKAGES, FOR EXAMPLE, APPROXIMATED 5 PER CENT OF ALL RETAIL FOOD SALES LAST YEAR. A LARGE PART OF THE FUNDS THAT BUILT THIS HUGE NEW INDUSTRY CAME FROM THE SAVINGS OF THE VERY PEOPLE BENEFITING FROM THIS IMPORTANT CHANGE IN THE LIVING HABITS OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

Sometimes you can go just so far in being subtle and clever... and then you outsmart yourself! For days I carefully planned a buildup designed to bring Jeff around to my way of thinking about acquiring a new washing machine. Since I had the 1954 revolutionary Whirlpool wringer-type washer in mind, I figured the best approach was to emphasize the new look for changing times. Casually and gradually I pointed out the new appearance of everything from trains to toasters, women's fashions to automobiles, water pitchers to bed sheets. When Jeff began tossing in a few ideas of his own I was sure I was on pretty safe ground and started to hit home with my basic purpose.

"Say, Jeff, You know all the conversations we've had about the new appearance of everything? I saw something today that really stopped me! I guess everyone's always taken for granted that wringer-type washing machines had to be as squat and bulky and unattractive as our old wreck. But you should see the new Surgomatic washer! It's completely streamlined with a beautiful rotunda cabinet from top to bottom. Really a handsome piece of machinery. And it won't take a back seat to any washer, in or out of the budget class."

Jeff obliged with some interested comments so I was sure I had scored and began pitching more convincing details. Happily I described push-button controls on the front panel which regulate washing action and water drainage while an exclusive timer dial automatically clicks off any washing time desired for various fabrics. At the end of a wash period the machine shuts off and the timer rings a bell to let you know the job is done!

That night I went to sleep peacefully, convinced that my clever groundwork would net me my prize. The following morning Jeff emerged from his routine shower and shave session and beamingly announced: "Your propaganda worked. Here's the new look you wanted!" He had shaved off his moustache!
