COTTON YIELD BETTER THAN WAS EXPECTED

Ginning of cotton in the McLean area was going forward at a rapid pace this week as 800 bales had been handled by the McLean Gin as of Wednesday morning.

B. F. Holland, manager of the local gin, stated that cotton was being brought in at a fast pace. The gin has been working on a 24-hour per day basis part of the time as the harvest continued in full swing.

Holland said that the grade and staple of cotton was looking up very well. The inch rain of two weeks ago did little damage to the maturing cotton.

The need for more boll pullers is also still here, Holland said. The gin is able to keep up with the cotton being brought in, and could handle even more if a full 24-hour schedule were followed every day. Actually, the ginner said, the gin was caught up Wednesday morning early, but more lint was expected shortly.

The warm, sunny weather is speeding harvest considerably. The bolls have been opening rapidly, and pullers have been able to work almost every day since harvest began.

Most cotton farmers are well pleased with the yield, too. For a while, it was thought that the yield per acre would be small, due to the drought. But the production is much, much better than had been estimated.

Many farmers will average a yield of half bale to the acre. A few weeks ago, these farmers would not believe that the yield would be over one-third bale per acre, and many were of the opinion that a fourth bale yield might be considered good.

473 People Given Free Chest X-Rays In Annual Survey

A total of 473 people were given free chest X-rays when the X-ray machine of the State Department of Public Health was in McLean Saturday afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock.

The machine was set up in the showroom of the Joe Smith Motor company. The biggest rush came between 3 and 4:30 o'clock, immediately before and after the weekly Appreciation Day activities.

A goal of 600 people to take the X-rays had been set by Larry Fuller, local chairman of the project. He had been told that that many would be necessary to make the machine available here next year. However, technicians with the machine said that the 473 who took X-rays was a good number for a half-day visit.

GROUP MAKES HIWAY STUDY; NEEDS LISTED

The State Highway Department estimates that Texas needs $22 billion to bring its state highways up to standard; and if and when the department ever gets it, a considerable amount of the money would be spent on roads in which most local citizens are interested.

The money needed was brought to light by D. C. Groer, state highway engineer, at a recent meeting of 59 leaders of statewide and regional organizations interested in better roads. The big problem is how to raise the whopping amount needed in the state to build the roads considered necessary.

Two more meetings of the group are scheduled, and out of the final meeting, it is hoped that some definite plan will come.

Among the projects in which local citizens will be interested are the following:

U. S. 66—A total of nearly 30 miles of four-lane highway from the Potter County line to the Gray County line. This would involve an estimated expenditure of $2,770,000.

U. S. 60—Several projects, listed here, including four-lane construction from the Potter line to the Gray line, at a cost of more than $3 million; widening an underpass; and considerable improvement on other portions of this highway.

State Highway 273—Reconstruct, widen and surface, at a cost of $1,145,000, from 6.5 miles southeast of Pampa to the junction of Highway 66 at McLean. This is the McLean-Pampa road.

The projects also include the widening and resurfacing of U. S. 66 across Wheeler County, but not including Shamrock.

TAHOKA MAN BUYS McLEAN FORD AGENCY

Sale of the Dysart Motor company, McLean Ford agency, to Joe Smith of Tahoka has been announced.

The sale was actually effective October 1, when Smith took over management, but transfer of the agency was not confirmed by the Ford Motor company until Thursday of last week.

J. Lester Dysart, Ford dealer in McLean for the past few years, will remain with the firm for a short time. He has not announced his future plans.

Smith stated that staff members in addition to himself will include C. B. Patton, formerly of Lubbock, as salesman; Bill Simpson, as mechanic; and Joe Coleman, as part-time bookkeeper. Patton and his family have already moved to McLean to make their home.

The new owner of the firm has been connected with the Shamrock Motor company in Tahoka, Ford agency, for the past year. Prior to that time he was engaged in farming.

Smith and his wife are members of the Baptist church. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, and formerly belonged to the New Homes Civic Club. A veteran of World War II, Smith was in the army paratroopers, and was a prisoner of war in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their three daughters moved to McLean this week. They are renting the H. A. Longino house.

Tiger Grid Team Still Rated Third By Amarillo Paper

The McLean Tigers remained in third place among Class A Panhandle football teams in the weekly ratings of Eddie Mullens, Amarillo Daily News sports writer.

Again topping the list were the Paducah Dragons, powerhouse of District 9-A.

Four District 1-A teams, McLean, Lefors, Canadian, and Clarendon, still remain in the top teams.

Mullens' choices for the top ten teams in the Panhandle are as follows: 1. Paducah Dragons; 2. Hale Center Owls; 3. McLean Tigers; 4. Lefors Pirates; 5. Canadian Wildcats; 6. Springlake Wolverines; 7. Dimmitt Bobcats; 8. Crosbyton Chiefs; 9. Clarendon Broncs; and 10. Happy Cowboys.

1-A GRID TILT TO BE TIGERS' HARDEST TEST

The McLean Tigers will tangle with the powerful Canadian Wildcats Friday night in an all-important District 1-A contest. Time for the game is 7:30 o'clock on Duncan Field in McLean.

The Wildcats, who tied for district championship honors last year, are undefeated in conference play, and have lost only one game this season.

That single loss was to the Class AA Perryton Rangers, one of the classiest teams in double-A play, by a score of 39-0. In other games, the Wildcats whipped Spearman 35-0, Wheeler 46-0, White Deer 20-0, and Memphis 6-0. The victories over White Deer and Memphis place Canadian in a three-way tie with Lefors and McLean for the 1-A leadership.

Although the Wildcats lost seven starters from their team of last year—the one which gowned McLean 12 to 0—they still boast one of the most powerful Class A teams in the Panhandle.

Leading the team in the backfield this year are Pat Tipps, all-district in 1953, and Eugene Schenahals. Bill Hines, tackle, is another all-district man in the line-up.

Coach Johnny Cardinal's other returning lettermen include Charles Vinson, Jerry Green, Roger Freeman, John Ramp, Bill Chumbley, Bill Miller, and John Briggs.

The Canadian eleven won five and lost only one game in last year's district play. Actually, their record gave the Wildcats a tie for the championship honors, but Memphis advanced to the bi-district, having won over Canadian during the season.

The Tigers, in downing Panhandle last Friday night, showed their best form of the season to date. Their teamwork is still drawing favorable comment from fans.

Aiding the Tigers last week was the return to full-time play of Don Haslam, who has been out all season with a shoulder injury. He is likely to start in the backfield again with Ricky Mantooth, James Smith, and Troy Smith. This will leave Rodney Gunn to serve with Jimmy Farren at the end positions; Don Trew and Wayne Woods, at tackles; James Jolly and Arthur Vineyard, at guards; and Gerald Tate, at center. Charlie Vineyard has returned to school and has again reported out for football; Superintendent Freeman Melton Jr. has written to authorities with the Texas Interscholastic League to determine when he will be eligible for play. When Vineyard is eligible, the team will again be aided greatly.

In other 1-A games this weekend, Lefors goes to Panhandle, White Deer goes to Memphis, and Gruver goes to Clarendon.

The Lefors-Gruver game was called off last week, with Gruver forfeiting. The Gruver school authorities explained that the team had too many boys out with injuries to risk fielding a team. As a result, the Lefors team was credited with a 1-0 victory over Gruver, and the loss will go into the record books as a forfeit.

SERVICES HELD IN PAMPA FOR H. WILLINGHAM

Henry L. Willingham, father of F. L. Willingham of McLean, died Wednesday of last week in a hospital in Pampa. He was 71 years of age.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Central Baptist Church in Pampa under the direction of the Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Officiating were Rev. Carroll Ray, pastor of the church, and Rev. Gene Harrison, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Phillips. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Pampa by the side of his wife, who died January 5, 1952.

Willingham was born September 24, 1883, in Montague County. He moved to Pampa in 1943 from Wheeler. A retired carpenter, he was a member of the Central Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. R. M. Greer of Phillips and Mrs. S. B. Baates of Pampa; two sons, F. L. Willingham of McLean and S. B. Willingham of Dunavista; a brother, W. F. Willingham of Poplar Bluff, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. D. R. Henry and Mrs. Mark Winton of Pampa; seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

AUTO STORE TO NEW SITE

The McLean Auto Supply, under the management of Ed Henley, is in the process of being moved to the Hibler Truck and Implement building from its present site on Main Street.

The change is being made principally for two reasons, Guy Hibler, owner of the business, stated. One is to allow the firm to cut down on its overhead expenses; and the other is to enable the store to be open at all hours during the day—in the past, Henley has had to close for the lunch hour, etc.

The stock and equipment are being moved at the present time, and the entire move will be completed by November 1, Hibler stated.

DAIRY MEET AT CLARENDON ON OCTOBER 29

Dairymen in Donley County will get a chance to hear Dr. R. E. Burleson, extension dairy specialist from the Texas A. and M. College at 1 o'clock Friday, October 29.

The meeting will be held in the office of County Agent H. M. Breedlove in Clarendon. Breedlove is urging that everyone interested in dairying be present and discuss dairy problems with this specialist from the college.

Rations and feeding of the dairy herd will be discussed, along with culling and selecting of dairy cows for replacement in the herd. Much interest has been shown in Donley County in the dairy business, and during these dry years feeding has become a problem and still stay on the profit side of the books.

Burleson will discuss the dairy business from all angles and answer any questions that anyone might wish to ask.

THREE GO TO HIGHWAY 66 CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Meador and Mrs. Geneva Wright represented McLean at the annual National Highway 66 Association convention Wednesday, in Clinton, Okla.

Meador was elected president of the Texas unit of the association at a meeting held two weeks ago in McLean.

Presiding at the Clinton meeting was R. S. (Bob) Miller of Joplin, Mo., national president during the past year.

The meeting was a two-day affair, although most of Tuesday's program consisted of committee meetings. Wednesday's program included a report by the national president; a report by the national secretary, Mrs. Frank Smith of Clinton; and an address in the afternoon by Raymond Gary, Democratic nominee for the governorship of Oklahoma.

Each state reported on the activities carried on during the past year. A banquet Wednesday night concluded the program.

During the past year, the association has spent more than $20,000 in advertising and promoting Highway 66 as the best cross-country tourist route. The main portion of this money has been spent on billboard advertising and on folders for tourists. In addition, some newspaper advertising has been done in the eastern papers, in an attempt to lure more traffic on Highway 66.

National directors from Texas are G. L. Harrison, outgoing state president of Shamrock; and Cecil Killough and Bob Dowell of Amarillo.

Saturday Date For Chili Dinner

A chili dinner, open to the public, will be served by members of the senior class of McLean High School Saturday. The dinner will be held in the Harris King building downtown.

The meal, at 50 cents per person, will consist of a bowl of chili, piece of pie of the customer's choice, and coffee.

The seniors will use the proceeds from the dinner to aid in the election of their candidate, Arline Grigsby, for Queen of the Harvest. The coronation of the queen will be held at the annual Halloween Carnival.

McLean's gallant Tigers got off to a slow start, but soon overcame that slowness, and rolled to a 65-13 victory over the Panhandle Panthers in a District 1-A contest played on Duncan Field in McLean Friday night.

The display by the Tigers was their best for the season, just as their opposition was the best this year also.

The 11 Tigers on the field, regardless of which 11 it happened to be, played as a unit as they have never done before. The blocking was superb, and so was the running, the passing, the receiving.

To give any one person credit would be in error, so well was the team work in the Panhandle encounter. The Panthers were certainly no pushover, and early in the game, it appeared that a hard battle was in the making. Once the Tigers started to roll, however, there was no stopping them.

The big quarter was the second period, when the McLean team scored four times and the Panthers once. That Panther score was on the longest run of the evening, when John Trent returned a kick-off 99 yards, practically untouched. Tracy Cooper nearly caught up with Trent but was unable to pull him down.

The Tigers scored twice in the first period, four times in the second, twice in the third, and twice in the fourth. James Smith and Ricky Mantooth tallied four markers each to run their season's total up to 108 for Smith and 96 for Mantooth.

The scoring was as follows: The Tigers marched from their own 33 to the Panther 18, with the pass-lateral play, Mantooth to Troy Smith to James Smith, accounting for the longest gain. From there James Smith hit right tackle, cut back, and went over. His attempt to convert failed.

Still in the first period, James Smith made a nice punt return to the Panhandle 38. A couple of running plays, plus a 15-yard penalty on the Panthers, moved the ball to the 9. One pass and three runs, with Mantooth going over from the one-foot line, accounted for the marker. Don Haslam converted, 13-0.

Early in the second period, Haslam circled left end 42 yards to move the ball to the Panther

Two losses moved the ball back to the 13, but from there James Smith circled left end to score. Haslam missed the kick, 47-7.

Later in that period, the Panthers moved downfield on a series of passes, with Trent passing to Max Callihan from the 7 to score. Trent's pass to Mitchell for the point failed, 47-13.

Later, James Smith received a punt from Hedrick on the McLean 46, returning to the Panhandle 28. From there Mantooth circled right end to score. The ball was fumbled in the conversion attempt, 53-13.

In the fourth period, the Tigers started from their own 30, moving down to the Panhandle 19. Mantooth passed to Haslam over the goal for the score. Haslam's kick failed, 58-13.

Near the end of the game, the Tigers moved from their own 30, with Paul Garvin and Troy Smith doing most of the carrying, to the 1-yard stripe. Garvin went around left end to score. Trent's fumble on the Panther 4

KRAUT, PORK 'N' APPLES — A DINNER TREAT

What could be more tempting than a kraut, pork 'n' apple dinner on a brisk October or November evening, particularly when the choice is Kraut-Pork Pinwheel with Apple Sauce? Fancy as this dish looks, there's nothing elaborate about its preparation. The pork pinwheel practically rolls itself and both the kraut and the apple sauce require no more effort than wielding a can opener.

KRAUT-PORK PINWHEEL WITH APPLE SAUCE

|--|---|
| 1 pound lean, boneless pork shoulder, ground 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce 1 teaspoon salt Freshly ground pepper | 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs 1 No. 2 can sauerkraut, drained 1/4 cup finely chopped onion 4 slices bacon Canned apple sauce |

Combine pork, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and bread crumbs; mix thoroughly. On a large piece of waxed paper, flatten meat mixture with rolling pin into a 7x10-inch rectangle.

Cut sauerkraut into short lengths with scissors or sharp knife. Spread sauerkraut and onion evenly over surface of meat. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Place slices of bacon diagonally across top of roll. Place in greased shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 40 minutes, or until done. Slice crosswise and serve with canned apple sauce.

Wallpaper Links Past With Present Furniture

Wallpaper is an ideal way to link something elegantly decorated of the past ages with the very modern present day in your home. Here a very new design in wallpaper shows soft green in an open-air treatment on a creamy white background in the dining room, coordinating beautifully with a colorful print above through the doorway on the walls of the library-sitting room.

The lady-like delicacy of the design in the dining room paper tones down the severity of the modern blue-green leather covered console and the very plainness of the walnut dining table.

Again, tying in the past with the present, the very old china cabinet in a soft blue-green color fits happily with the more formal pattern of the 18th Century wallpaper in the adjoining room.

This paper, with its neatly drawn figures of a man in a high hat and a woman all in blue encircled by a wreath of greenery ties in with the wreath-like leaves of the dining room paper. The colors used in this old world paper are complementary, too... the soft blues of the lady's costume, with scatterings of yellow flowers... the gentleman's blue trousers, chartreuse-green coat, black hat... the wreathes or rosettes of green, all on a lovely white background. It's a delightfully picturesque paper reproduced from a design made during the Directoire period in France and was found in Versailles covering a child's trunk.

Carpeting in a light beige color ties in with the overall color scheme and with the background of both wallpapers.

"New Look" Air Conditioned Home

With the annual Fall check-up of furnace equipment and the many replacements necessary throughout the country's older homes just ahead, here is an example of what is happening in modern buildings as well as new ones, where year-round air conditioning is being installed. The compact, closet-size Carrier Weathermaker in the background cools and dehumidifies in summer, heats in winter and circulates filter-cleaned air all year.

The Weathermaker Home concept of building the home around this unit is bringing changes in residential design—a new look—for better living, and minimum construction and air conditioning costs in addition to year-round comfort. For the attractive housewife shown, it means substantially reduced housework, lower cleaning bills, less frequent redecorating, and a healthier, happier family and home life.

Sugar Is A Girl's Best Friend!

Eating is fun... but carrying around the results of excessive eating isn't. After a season of fun, relaxation and big country-sized dinners, you're up to an uncomfortable size 44. Any ideas as to how to do this big job of slimming down?

NOT THIS . . .
It takes a lot of energy, will power and real hard work over a long period of time to get even slight results from exercises alone. How and what you eat is all important . . . no matter what else you do.

your appetite. Healthy people get hungry when their blood sugar level is low.

Sugar raises the blood sugar level faster than any other food. So . . . to keep from overeating, eat or drink the good foods and beverages that contain sugar. One teaspoon of sugar has only 18 calories. Put a teaspoonful into a cup of coffee or tea around 11 AM and see how easy it is to refuse second helpings at noon. Do the same thing an hour or so before dinner.

NOT THIS . . .

Cheating at the refrigerator or anywhere else robs just one person of beauty and good health . . . and that's you. Why not try a sensible and scientific way of living — by eating the right foods in the right way for good health and a good figure.

AND, LOOK AT THIS . . .

Of course you have to be sensible and honest about your diet. A workable reducing diet, one that doesn't set you apart from others at mealtime must include all of the basic foods needed for a balanced diet. You simply don't eat as much of each . . . thanks to having sugar beforehand. See how you can have your cake and your pretty figure too!

We're A-Movin' To New Location

Between now and November 1, we'll be moving all of our stock and equipment to the Hibler Truck and Implement building, in the same location we used to be in.

We're making the move for two reasons: first, to be honest about it, we are moving to cut down on our overhead expenses; and second, by making the change, both Ed Henley and Guy Hibler will be on hand to give you better service, enabling us to be open all hours of the day.

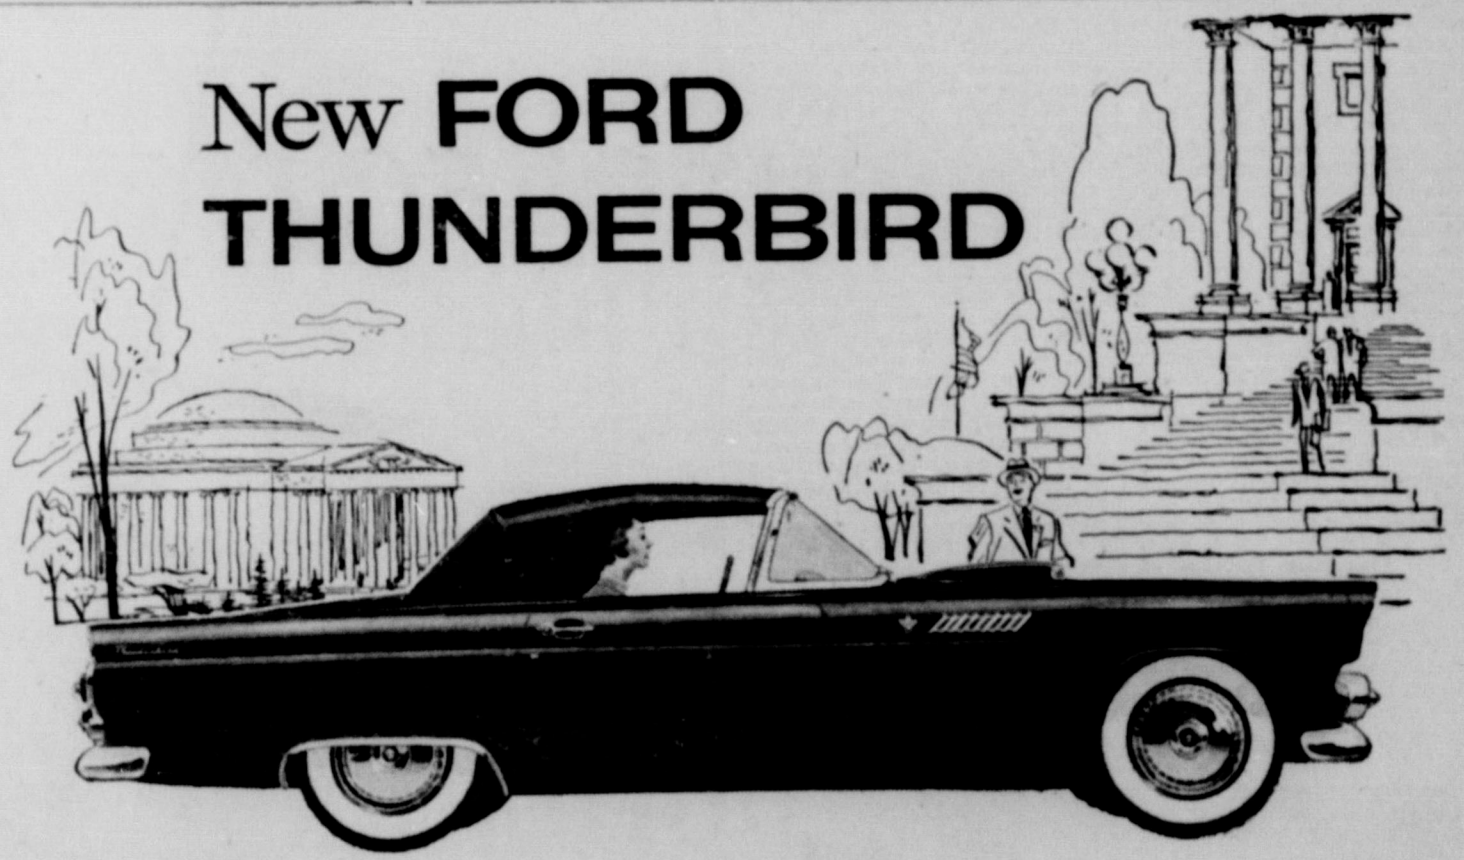

You will continue to find the same high quality auto parts and accessories, tools, etc., at our store, and we hope to give you even better service than in the past.

friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-

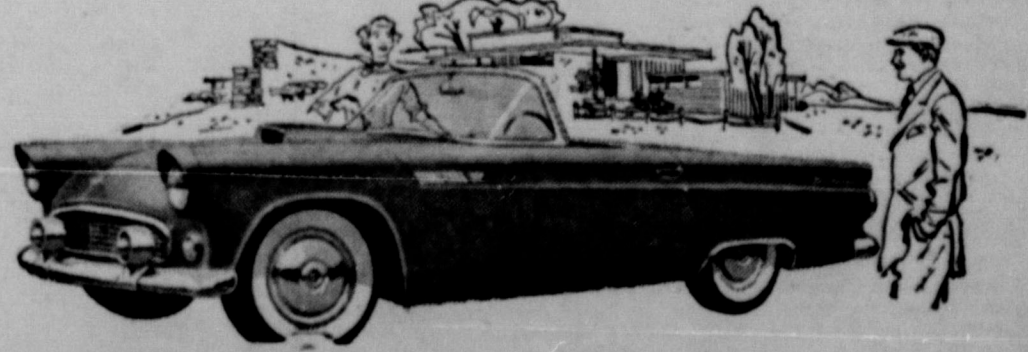

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

U. S. Land Ownership Is Problem

By Cong. Walter Rogers

Some time ago, I made a few remarks in a newsletter about the Trust Territory over which this country has jurisdiction and which lies in the far Pacific Ocean. These islands are in three groups, the Marshalls, the Carolinas, and the Marianas, with the exception of Guam. Guam has been a United States possession since 1898. All of these islands together cover a space in the Pacific Ocean about the size of the United States. If all were lumped together, they would constitute a land mass less than half the size of Rhode Island. It is interesting to note that all of these islands, except Guam, have been under the control of four separate powers, to-wit, Spain, Germany, Japan, and the United States. This frequent change of authority has resulted in frequent change of policy, as far as the Micronesians are concerned.

Of course, when the United States occupied these islands in World War II, and then accepted them in trust subsequent to that war, we inherited all of the problems that have been accumulating through the years. It was my pleasure to have an extended visit with Judge Edward P. Furber, who is now serving as Chief Justice of this territory. We had a most interesting discussion concerning the problems and what Congress must do to solve some of them. One of the toughest will be the problem of land ownership. Many people in this country think that perhaps the method of handling land ownership is complex here, but you should see what happens when you have several systems mixed together. One man might claim under the Japanese title, another under Spanish, another under German title, and another under the tribal laws. The solution is going to be very, very interesting, in fact, it could be the source from which we might find a better method of handling land titles and ownership.

Cost of Reclamation Projects

The Commissioner of Reclamation recently forwarded me information on 69 federal reclamation projects, or major divisions of projects, in operation during 1953. The total acres now served by full or supplemental irrigation is 7,147,000. The 1953 harvest established a record in production of 25.7 million tons of food, fiber, forage and pasture crops. This meant there was an increase of about 2.1 million tons over the 1952 harvest. The value of the 1953 crops from these projects totaled almost 786 million dollars. That would mean the third highest value production in reclamation history, despite some rather sharp declines in unit crop prices received by farmers. It was the eighth consecutive crop to exceed one-half billion dollars and brings the total of all harvests since 1906 from federal reclamation projects to 9.7 billion dollars. It is well to point out that this cumulative value of all the harvests, to-wit, 9.7 billion dollars, is four times the cost, as of June 30, 1953, of all plant, property and equipment of all completed and uncompleted reclamation projects. It is also more than eight times the cost of works built and operated exclusively for irrigation. There have been many complaints registered against reclamation projects, and many of them have been called socialistic and a waste of government money. Although there have been some failures in these projects, the overall picture reflects that the leaders in this country, who founded the reclamation program more than five decades ago, knew what they were doing, and their work has paid great dividends.

1200 Top 4-H'ers To Attend Club Congress

These 4-H members, planning a group discussion with a leader, are typical of serious-minded 4-H'ers everywhere. Their capacity for leadership, well developed through local club organization, enables them to share responsibility for many of the educational events of the 4-H Congress.

The Nation's top 4-H Club members, 1,200 strong, will be honored delegates to the 33rd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 28-December 2, 1954. The delegates—mostly farm boys and girls—will come from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, and will represent more than 2 million members.

Most of the all-expense trips to Congress for the state, sectional and national winners are provided through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, a citizens group which has been helping 4-H work 33 years.

In 1954, a record year, the Committee spent $1,960,000 to help the Cooperative Extension Service further the influence and membership of the 4-H Club program. Grants from private sources are used for merit awards such as trips, medals, scholarships, savings bonds and leader training.

Among the corporations and foundations providing grants are Allis-Chalmers, American Forest Products Industries, Carnation Co., Chicago Board of Trade, Coats and Clark, Inc., Cudahy Packing, Elgin Watch Co., Ford Motor Co. and Ford Tractor and Implement Division, General Motors, Hercules Powder, International Harvester, Kellogg Co., Kelvinox, Kerr Glass, Massey Harris, Montgomery Ward, Agricultural Chemicals Division of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Simplicity Pattern, Standard Brands, Tomi Co., United States Rubber, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, and Wm.

Wrigley Jr. Co. and Gene Autry. Railroads cooperating include Burlington, Illinois Central, North Western, Rock Island, Milwaukee, and Santa Fe.

Nine oil companies collaborate in the program, including American Oil, General Petroleum, Pan-Am Southern, Pure Oil, Standard Oil Foundation, Inc. (Chicago), Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky), The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Standard Oil and Gas Co. and Utah Oil Refining Co.

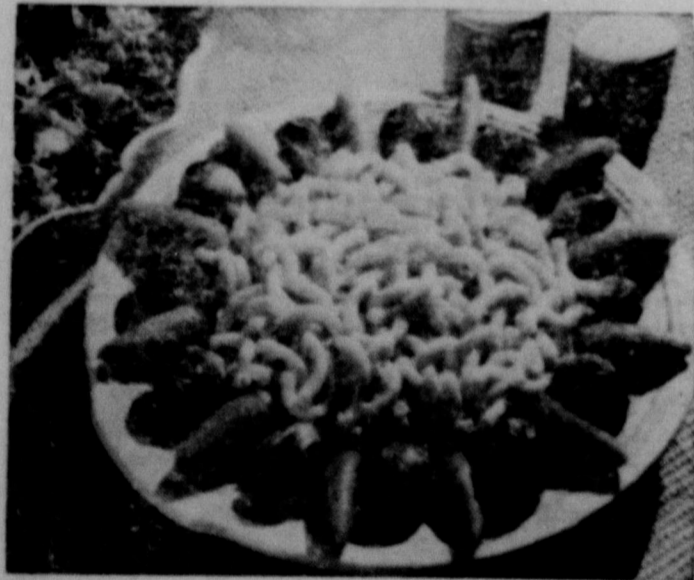

Individual donors include The President of the United States, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson, and Conrad Hilton.

"A modern farmer, to be successful, must be an economist, engineer, mechanic, chemist, biologist, as well as a practical person with a love of the soil and growing plants and animals," points out G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee.

"Likewise, today's homemaker must be a nutritionist, interior decorator, textile specialist, horticulturist, and an operating engineer if her home is to be modern and efficient, and her family healthy, happy and well dressed.

4-H Club members, by training in agriculture and homemaking, are ready to engage in a practical and profitable farm and home life. "Too, each 4-H Club is a tiny democracy, and club members, trained in the operation of the club, are potentially our most solid citizens of the future. For these reasons, 4-H is receiving wide-spread support from many organizations and civic leaders."

Golden Vegetable Platter

Star this Golden Vegetable Platter on your menu during National Macaroni Week, October 21 to 30.

Good food is vital. But often good food isn't eaten because of the way it is served. Food should look good, as well as taste good. Once food is cooked and ready for the table, the homemaker has the responsibility of serving that food in an attractive manner.

Golden Vegetable Platter would do any cook proud. Colorful and appetizing in appearance, it makes the most of its ingredients. Chewy macaroni in a rich, creamy cheese sauce is heaped in the center of the platter. Then it is surrounded with a bright wreath of carrots and Brussels sprouts.

Complete the colorful meal scheme with a crispy tossed salad enriched hard rolls, and milk. Ideal dessert is Apple Betty.

Quick-cooking macaroni foods are valuable helpers. Keep a supply of them on hand for emergency main dishes, and budget stretching meals.

GOLDEN VEGETABLE PLATTER

- 4 ounces elbow macaroni
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup cubed American cheese
- Cooked buttered Brussels sprouts
- Cooked buttered whole carrots

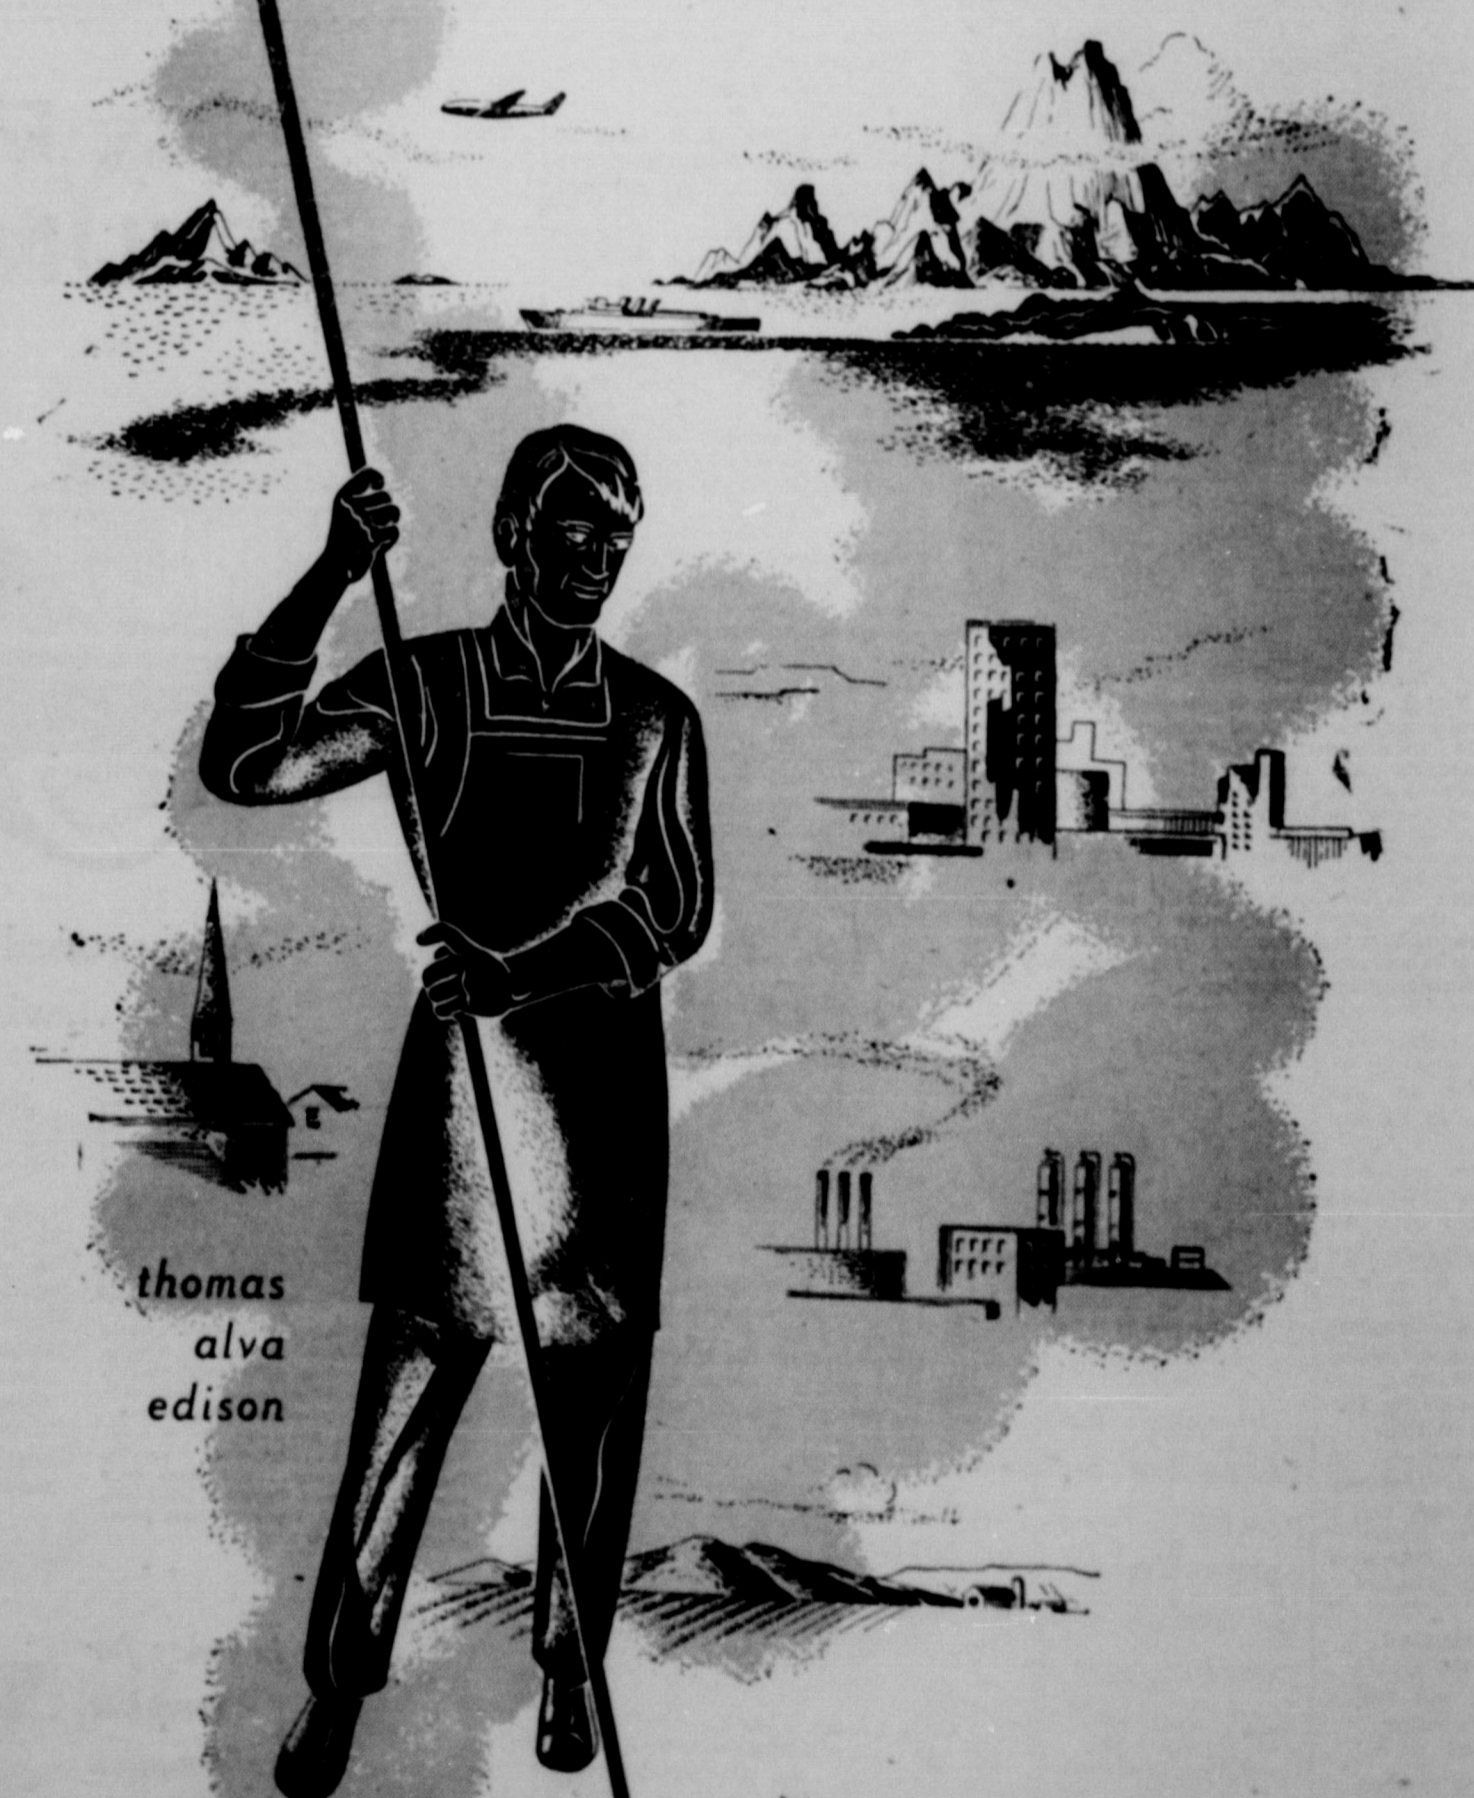

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and rinse. While macaroni is cooking, melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir until melted. Fold in macaroni. Arrange on hot platter with Brussels sprouts and carrots around macaroni.

Makes 4 servings.

The lamp was never very bright—and it burned for only 40 hours—but today its brilliance is seen everywhere in modern electric living. What's more, all of our pictures of the future—in homes, farms, businesses and industry—are painted around the wonders of electricity, and its comforts and conveniences. Thomas Edison—Lamp Lighter. Editorial

ABOUT ONE AMENDMENT

THIS EDITORIAL is not intended as a "for" or "against" the proposed amendment entitled S. J. R. No. 7, but is merely a discussion concerning it. The amendment, to be voted on along with 11 others November 2, deals with old age assistance.

The amendment would increase the amount the State Legislature can appropriate for old age assistance from 35 million to 42 million dollars; and secondly, it would require the Legislature to enact laws under which the names of recipients of public assistance would be available to the public.

Naturally, the uppermost question in the minds of most people is, "how much will the increase amount to each person on the assistance rolls?"

The last annual report of the State Department of Public Welfare indicates that little, if any, addition would be made to the monthly payments received by those now on the rolls. In the fiscal year 1953, the full amounts of grants, determined by the department on the basis of individual need, were paid except in one month; and the reduction in that month amounted to 25 cents per person for recipients of old age assistance and aid to the blind.

Approximately one out of seven in the old age assistance group receives the maximum of $55 per month. This maximum is not increased by the proposed amendment. Better than one out of five recipients of aid to the blind and better than one out of five recipients of aid to dependent children are already receiving the maximum.

It appears to be highly questionable that the proposed increase in state funds would benefit many of those now on the rolls. The additional money would permit adding more people to the rolls.

Substantial increases in the amounts paid to needy persons have been made in the last three years as a result of additional money made available by the federal government. Observers believe that any material increases in the future will come from the federal rather than from the state funds. More and more people are being transferred to the federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance rolls (Social Security), and, as new ones become eligible for assistance, more and more of them are eligible for the federal Social Security funds.

As for the publicizing the names of recipients of assistance (this is the second part of the proposed amendment), there are, of course, two lines of thought: One, that the general public is entitled to know who is aided at the taxpayers' expense and that such publicizing of names might cause those not in need to drop off the rolls; and two, that revelation of the names would cause hardships and embarrassment to the recipients, particularly the dependent children.

As we stated in the beginning, this editorial is not meant to be a "for" or "against" article, but merely an explanation. So much has been said about the amendment which would "increase" the old agers' pensions that we felt that the meaning of the amendment should be explained.

Range Ridin's Rugged

FALL ROUNDUP time on the sprawling, unfenced Wyoming rangeland, with the ruggedness it demands of cowhands, is facet of modern cattle ranching that has never yielded to mechanization. In herd collecting, branding and myriad other chores, the West's riding, roping cowboy and his horse are irreplaceable.

OFF-DUTY, cowpokes stage rodeos at mere drop of a dust-caked hat. Scene at Lander, right, showing rider proving mastery of bucking horse, is typical of action they produce.

HOLLYWOOD romantic tales to the contrary, it's a hard and tricky business. Deftly lassoing calf and wrestling animal to ground often means violent scuffle. But it's regular part of the task.

ASIDE FROM never-changing cowboys' role, today's ranch life is a lot more comfortable than it was 30 or 75 years ago. No longer are cattle trailed at notable distances to market, as they were when cattle were driven hundreds of miles to Dodge City, Kas., shipping points. Trucks, like these International tractor-trailer combinations, perform the hauling.

LES TALK

By LESTER

An idea, which sounds pretty good to me, has been suggested by Miss Ruby Cook. It has to do with the collection, and eventual use, of cornerstones of old buildings which are torn down from time to time.

Miss Cook thought up the idea because of the dismantling of the old grade school building in McLean. It has a cornerstone, you know, and that stone will likely be discarded as many other cornerstones in the Panhandle have been discarded over the years.

At first Miss Cook thought that perhaps the stones might be used in the eventual construction of something in Gray County. However, I suggested to her that she contact the authorities of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum at Canyon. The museum is somewhat the center of historical relics, etc., of the entire Panhandle region. Maybe so, the museum can lead a drive for the collection of old cornerstones from buildings which are torn down, or which have been torn down, throughout the Panhandle. Then some type of structure might be erected in Canyon at, or near the museum, using the stones as a true historical monument of days gone by and of people whose names appear on the stones.

At any rate, Miss Cook said she would contact the museum people and see what they think of her idea.

Until last Friday night, I was not sure that McLean had as good a team as it has. Our opposition had been weak, and I just didn't know. Now I believe we have a most superior team. That doesn't mean that we have the district title cinched, or anything like that, for many things can happen to a team.

But in that Panhandle game, I saw the best teamwork I have ever seen in a high school football game. The blocking on the offensive plays was superb. The line play was excellent. I sincerely don't believe anybody could pick out the outstanding player, either on the line or in the backfield.

To make up a really superior team, that teamwork is most necessary. The best backfield runner in the country cannot do much without help from his line. And the best line in the country isn't much good to a team unless the backs are capable of using the help.

It takes a combination of both to make up a really good team.

Last Friday night, the McLean Tigers had both. I sincerely hope that the teamwork continues, that no jealousies arise. And I don't believe that those jealousies will arise this year. The boys really want to play, really want to win.

So let's take one game at a time. Canadian is next. Let's get those Wildcats, Tigers!

Mr. Smith seems like a very nice fellow, and I think you'll like him. Drop in and get acquainted, and make him feel like he's welcome in our community. Too often too many of us are too foreign to our new citizens for too long a time.

Just what plans Lester Dysart has for the future I do not know. For the past several years, I have lived next door to the Dysarts, and we have become very close friends.

Few people in our community give people credit for what they do for the community. In Lester's case, few people have given him credit for the many fine things he has done to help other people and the community in general.

He has had one job for several years which no other person seems to be willing to take. That's the job of home service chairman of the American Red Cross. As his next door neighbor, I have some idea of how many calls he has had; I also know the wisdom he uses in helping these people. It's a hard, thankless job.

Lester has also been a most active member of the McLean Lions Club. The club has a few members upon whom the president (whoever he may be) can depend when help is needed. That's why Lester has been on so many Lions committees—when he is given a job, he does it.

As chairman of various drives, Lester has helped the community very much. As March of Dimes chairman, he led the drive for the second highest amount ever contributed by local citizens for that cause. He is also usually called on to help in the Red Cross drive for funds. He is usually called on to help raise money for the annual Christmas decorations.

When you live next door to a man as long as I have lived next door to Lester, you get to know pretty well how much civic work he does. Lester has done plenty of civic work during the eight years I have been in McLean.

As I said before, I do not know what his future plans are. If he should choose to move from McLean, our community will lose a valuable civic worker, a good citizen. Perhaps he will not leave—let's hope not.

Pretty Home Wedding

Tuesday morning at 8:30 at the home of the bride, Rev. M. J. Hawkins pronounced the beautiful ceremony that made Charles W. Andrews of Crowell and Miss Maye Major of this city man and wife. A large number of friends attended the wedding and accompanied the happy couple to the depot where they took the train to Crowell, in which city they will make their home.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Major and was one of the city's fairest flowers, and her absence from local activities will be keenly felt. The groom is a progressive young business man of Crowell and one of that city's leading citizens.

To the happy couple the Herald joins their many friends in extending their best and most sincere wishes for a long and happy voyage on the sea of matrimonial felicity.—Hail County Herald.

The winner of four or more out of seven games takes the pennant, but as the Boston team took the first four, the series closed. This is the first time in the history of organized baseball that one team took all the games played in a world series. The Philadelphia Club won the honors last year from the New York team.

Pineapple Nut Bread Will Give Meals Added Sparkle

"Special" Treat for the Lunch Box or—Quick and Easy For an Afternoon or Evening Snack

Versatile is the word for Pineapple Nut Bread. It fits into every eating occasion—from lunch box to party fare. Any meal no matter how simple, can be turned into something of real elegance with a delicious fruit-nut bread.

All quick bread batters—like muffins—should be stirred as little as possible—never beaten. Batter should look lumpy—not smooth.

Good in its own right, Pineapple Nut Bread requires only the simplest of fillings. Delicious just "buttered" or spread with cream cheese.

PINEAPPLE-NUT BREAD

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
1/2 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 No. 1 Flat can (1 cup) crushed pineapple, not drained
1 teaspoon soda

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into bowl. Add raisins and nuts. Combine egg, vanilla, and shortening; add to mixture. Dissolve soda in pineapple and add. Stir just until blended. Pour into greased 8" x 4" x 4" loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees (moderate) about 1 hour, or until done. Cool on rack.

PRETTY TOUGH!

It isn't easy to connect the two mysterious photographs shown here with the beautiful young lady in the modern, leather-upholstered Pontiac Star-Chief Catalina. But, they are very intimately associated. The little mystery pictures show, to the left, a cross section through a piece of genuine leather magnified one hundred times. The other shows a cross section through a piece of synthetic or imitation leather, magnified to the same degree. When the lady chose this beautiful upholstery she did not base her choice on the story told by these cross sections. She picked it because of its beautiful appearance and her instinct for quality. Actually the cross section pictures tell the story behind these more cultured or aesthetic qualities of leather.

HOTEL OF THE FUTURE IS PIONEERED BY STATLER PROTOTYPE IN HARTFORD

The indoor plantings which frame this contemporary fireplace in the new Hotel Statler at Hartford blend with a garden court, beyond the window walls, to give the hotel's guests the impression that a nearby park extends right into the lobby.

The hotel of the future is now being pioneered in historic Hartford, Conn., where the Hotels Statler Company recently opened a new 455-room hostelry which many hotel men consider the first of an entirely new type of smaller city hotels.

This prototype of tomorrow's downtown inns has been carefully designed and engineered to serve as a test model, incorporating literally thousands of improvements in hotel operation developed by the efficient Statler organization during its 46 years of hotel keeping.

The new Hartford hotel is different from any other in the world in several important respects. One of its architectural innovations is the use of glass-and-metal exterior panel walls only 1 1/4 inches thick. These walls weigh a quarter as much as those of any other downtown tower building, and one-tenth as much as conventional masonry walls.

While other buildings have been built with exterior walls of glass and metal, such walls heretofore have been backed by conventional masonry to produce an over-all thickness more than four times that of the Statler walls.

The new walls consist of only a glass-fiber insulating core, sandwiched between an exterior surface of 20-gauge metal, with a porcelain finish, and an interior surface of asbestos board which is merely painted to match the other walls of the room.

Architect William B. Tabler of New York City, who designed the Hartford hotel, won approval of this revolutionary exterior wall only after he had convinced city building authorities that, in addition to saving weight and space, it provided better insulation than old-fashioned masonry walls and at least an equal measure of fire protection.

The hotel stands directly across the street from a century-old park which surrounds the state Capitol. Architect Tabler took advantage of this by using lavish plantings of trees and shrubbery, both outside and inside the building, to create the impression that the park extends into the lobby of the Statler.

This impression, which not only enhances the beauty of the hotel but also augments the spaciousness of its lobby and other public areas, was considered so important that the architect was allowed to set aside one of the most desirable and valuable portions of the street level area, next to the main entrance, for use as a garden court.

Another of the new hotel's innovations is a new type of guest room—the "convertible single." Its design is keyed to the philosophy that the traveler who occupies a room by himself prefers not to have an extra bed in the room.

By furnishing these rooms with a studio bed plus a sofa bed, the new hotel accommodates this guest preference but in addition has a room suitable for double occupancy when the hotel is crowded.

Hallowe'en is near. The day that spooks are supposed to be flying about. The Social Security Administration has done much to keep the spooks away from many doors. Not that we've tried to prevent the youngsters to continue enjoying and celebrating, not only Hallowe'en but many other holidays.

With the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act, President Eisenhower and Congress have made the edifice of social protection even larger to include over ten million more people. About seven million employed and self-employed men and women are coming into the program on January 1, 1955, on a compulsory basis, and about three and a quarter million more working people are eligible on a voluntary basis or at the option of their employers.

Over three and a half million farm operators are covered by social security for the first time after 1954. This is the largest single group to be brought under the program. The new amendment also provides an easy way for the newly covered farm operators to report their earnings for social security purposes if their earnings are low.

A second large group is over two million more farm employees. The new amendment covers all farm employees who earn $100 or more in cash from the same farm employer in a year, and abolishes the regularity of work provision of the old law.

Active Reserve To Get Additional Opportunities

Fourth Army headquarters at Austin has received word that a comprehensive program designed to provide active duty reserve officers with long-term career opportunities more nearly parallel to those now enjoyed by regular army officers has been approved and will be put into operation soon by the Department of the Army.

Part of the army's long-range program for maintaining a vitalized officer corps for the active army, the new program places increased emphasis on developing career patterns for reserve officers similar to the career management programs now in effect for regular army officers. It also provides greater assurance of 20-year active duty careers for those qualified reserve officers who are selected for retention, subject to budgetary and strength limitations.

Among the positive steps being taken to attract and retain capable reserve officers in the active service is revision of the current system of active duty agreements of one, two, and three years so as to provide indefinite term agreements to qualified officers.

Not Hot-Rodders, Say Teen Drivers

Adult Americans may be surprised at one result of a national survey of licensed teen-age drivers. Eighty-two percent of them—boys and girls—are definitely opposed to "hot-rodding" on regular highways. Only 13% of those queried said they were drivers of "hot-rods."

The survey, conducted by Fact Finders Associates, Inc., New York, also revealed that 70% of the youngsters had never been in an auto accident, and nearly 60% insisted that, contrary to statistics, they are not more responsible for fatalities than other age groups. Here are typical reasons given for their lack of faith in accident figures:

"We have better nerves and eyes than older folks, our reflexes are faster, and we're able to think and act quicker."

"We have more sense. Like when we get sleepy—we stop and grab a cup of coffee. The only time my father stops for coffee on a trip is when it's time to eat, even though he's been on the road several hours and his eyes are getting droopy."

"When accidents happen and we're involved we automatically get blamed."

"We don't take chances and weave in and out like the grown-ups."

"A few reckless teen-agers who break the rules give the rest a bad name."

"The statistics must be wrong—there aren't as many teen drivers as there are grown-up ones."

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

'LEGION DAYS' PROCLAIMED BY PRESIDENT

October 20 through November 11 has been designated by President Eisenhower, Governor Allan Shivers, and many Texas mayors as "American Legion Days" and the local Floyd-Corbin-Florey Post of the American Legion is planning to dedicate that period to acquainting Texas citizens with the program of the organization, according to Post Commander Bill Kingston.

According to Commander Kingston, October 20 is the beginning of the new fiscal year of the American Legion, and since World War I, November has been known as "Armistice Day." "American Legion Days" will be concluded locally with a full scale observance of November 11, which has now become known as "Veterans Day."

Commander Kingston explained that Armistice Day, VJ Day, VE Day, and other dates were all of great importance, but it was decided to name one day in the year when all veterans will be honored.

The Texas Legislature and the United States Congress have designated November 11 as "Veterans Day." During the "American Legion Days" observance, Legionnaires will make a special effort to inform veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict with the aims and purposes of the American Legion, Commander Kingston stated.
