Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

You want to curb traffic accidents and destruction, go to the source of the problem—traffic accidents at night.

Night traffic accidents cost the nation more than daytime crashes. More than 740,000 injured and $2,041,000,000 in economic loss per year—in spite of the fact that only a third as many lights are operating at night as during the day.

The essential difference in night driving is reduced visibility because of insufficient light.

Improvements reported by the National Street and Traffic Safety Bureau shows how adequate lighting reduces night accidents.

78 LIVES SAVED

Edmond C. Powers, educational director of the Lighting Bureau, says that adequate light not only enables drivers and pedestrians to see and be seen, it affords the ability of warning signs and other safety precautions.

Adequate lighting saves much more than it costs. For $2.00 to $3.00 per capita per year, a community can have modern, adequate lighting.

TAX REVISION

EVERY CONGRESS enacts tax laws. But the last Congress did something which is unprecedented in modern times. It passed a law overhauling the entire federal tax structure—the first such overhaul in 75 years.

Writing in the Saturday Evening Post of October 2, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey describes the purposes of the new law as being these: "To remove many hardships on individuals; to reduce restraints of the kind of enterprises which creates new business and new jobs; to close loopholes; and—so far as possible—to make the laws more simple, clear and certain."

Then Mr. Humphrey observes that the benefits of the law are of two kinds—direct and indirect. We will enjoy the direct ones next April when income tax returns are due again. Just about everyone will be helped, from working mothers, who will be allowed deductions for baby-sitter charges, to farmers who want to buy new equipment. In this connection, the secretary adds that the government is eager to acquaint taxpayers with their rights under the new law, and urges that anyone who has questions go to the nearest Internal Revenue office for help with his return.

The indirect benefits, for the most part, will not be felt so quickly. But in Mr. Humphrey's view, they are by far the most important. He writes, "By removing restraints, this new law will release new energies throughout our economic system, working quietly but steadily to create new enterprises, more and better jobs, new productive efficiencies, larger payrolls, and a healthily rising standard of living for all the 160,000,000 people of America."

That sentence is worth a second reading. It clearly explains the philosophy of the fiscal experts who wrote the 929-page law, of the Congressional majority which voted for it, and of the President who signed it. This philosophy is rooted in the idea that the way to achieve the greatest good for the greatest number is to encourage initiative and enterprise—both among individuals, and among businesses and industries of all sizes and kinds.

A practical example of this kind of thinking is found in the provision of the law which partially eases double taxation of dividend income. Mr. Humphrey points out that in manufacturing industry it costs an average of nearly $15,000 to buy the plant and equipment needed to provide just one job. Thus, in his words, "the double taxation of dividend income has made it increasingly difficult to attract risk capital to create these jobs." So industrial expansion in late years has been mainly paid for through borrowings instead of sales of stock. That, in his view, is potentially dangerous for a business with a heavy load of debt "moves timidly instead of boldly." Hence, the dividend-income provision was written into the bill.

Finally, the secretary ends with these bright words: "Our tax revision of 1954 represents a mighty effort to bring our tax laws up to the needs of a modern America, a giant stride forward toward economic health, growth and sanity."

LES TALK

By LESTER

This week the new car models for 1955 start showing off. The first two to be shown in McLean will be the Chevrolet and the Pontiac. The Chevrolets went on display this morning at Cooke Chevrolet. The Pontiacs go on display this evening at 6 o'clock at the Andrews Equipment company. Other makes will follow soon with their new models.

The two showing today are very pretty, very high-powered. I'm sure that other makes will also be pretty and high-powered, too.

Was talking to Chuck Cooke about the new Chevrolets. I remarked that I couldn't quite understand why the horsepower is increased every year. "It's simple," he answered. "The public demands the higher horsepower, the greater zip. So the manufacturer puts it in."

New cars are expensive these days, even the so-called low-price cars. But actually, if you will think about it a bit, the new cars aren't any higher than they were 15 years ago. You simply get a whale of a lot more car than you did then. Now you get a much more powerful engine, a much more sleek body style, a lot more comfortable ride, a lot more chrome trim, a lot easier seats, a much more roomy auto. In other words, if you still could buy a 1939 model car, brand new, the price probably wouldn't be much higher, if any, than it was at that time.

As in the case of higher horsepower, the public has demanded these improvements. Look at it this way: When new models come out, more beautiful and more improved than the last ones, nearly everyone wants one. Those who possibly can do so, buy the new model. The competitor must meet his opposition, so he puts something else in, and when he does, the price can go only one way up.

This demand on the part of the public (I do not claim to be an exception) has done away with the low-priced car. We still have the "lower-priced" cars, but no more of the low-priced cars.

For example, if a manufacturer comes out with a small car and tries to sell it, the people just laugh it out of existence, even though the price is low.

Seems that we all want to keep up with the Joneses, don't we?

See by the papers where a disease is taking the lives of ducks and geese in the general area again. This happened not too long ago in this area, many will recall.

The latest seige has been on Deep Lake, about 12 miles south of Pampa, where between 300 and 500 ducks and geese have been found dead.

The disease is known as Western Duck Sickness—a form of botulism, known as "Botulism Type C." The disease, prevalent only in the western part of the U. S., is also dangerous to domestic livestock, especially cattle, and is mainly caused by low, stagnant water.

Actually, what happens, according to veterinarians, is that the nerves of the bird are affected so that he is unable to walk or fly, and, in the common analysis, he dies of starvation. In domestic livestock, it works on the nerves and causes blindness and a twitching and jerking of the muscles.

If any dead birds are found on your place, you are advised to contact Game Warden G. P. Davis of Shamrock. It would be to your benefit.

I have talked to a few of our farmers lately (most of them are fairly hard to catch in town these days for a very long period of time), and they are pleased with the cotton production.

Saw Paul Kennedy on the streets a few days ago, and he is surely pleased with his cotton. Paul said he already had in as much cotton as he had expected to make only a few weeks ago. And still has considerable to gather. Bryan McPherson was all smiles a couple of weeks ago, mainly due to his cotton yield. E. T. Duncan was wanting me to come out and take some pictures of the pullers in one of his fields. He figured it would make three-fourths of a bale.

Seems that most of the farmers who have any crop at all are expecting to get up to half a bale per acre.

For a time, it appeared that it might not be much use to put a sack into some of the fields. But nearly all of the fields are paying off.

That's what I call good news.

I didn't have it in the paper, but my prediction last week was McLean 54, Canadian 7. Reckon I was pretty optimistic, wasn't I?

1: This week's predictions:
McLean 34, White Deer 12,
Canadian 6, Lefors 0,
Memphis 25, Clarendon 0,
Panhandle 34, Gruver 7.

Buy wisely!

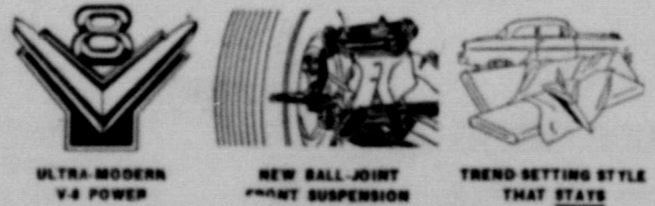

If you knew that the car you were thinking about buying would be a "has-been" at trade-in time, would you buy it? Wise buyers know that the more their car is worth on resale, the sounder their original investment. That's why more and more car buyers are swinging to FORD... the low-priced car that returns a higher proportion of its original cost at resale time than any other make.

Buy FORD!

Today's FORD has features so modern that in a few years it will still be considered... and valued as... an up-to-the-minute car. Proving just how modern these features are, no other low-priced car has them... nor do some far costlier cars! For example, in FORD you'll find...

Buy now!

There's no better time than now to see you, FORD DEALER. It's a fact that your old car will never be worth more on a trade-in than it is right now. And there are so many things about FORD that will make you want to own one! Come see for yourself. Take a Test Drive!

You get a GREAT DEAL with FORD!

"FOR THE NEXT TWO YEARS THE WELFARE OF OUR NATION REQUIRES A REPUBLICAN-LED CONGRESS"

"Pete" LaMaster

You elected "Ike" Eisenhower to office in 1952... and in the two short years he has been President, he has done much to stabilize our economy, bring our soldiers home from Korea, establish a workable peace plan for the world, and reinstate America to the position of leadership that is rightfully ours.

You gave this great American a job to do. Now... give him the help he needs to complete his dynamic program. Your vote for Pete LaMaster on November 2 will be a vote of confidence for President Eisenhower and will give him a cooperative Congressman from the Texas Panhandle.

O'Dell Hotel Completed

Arrangements are about complete for the opening of the new O'Dell Hotel and Cafe which will be one of the finest of its class in this entire section. The handsome new building which has just been completed is finished throughout in the latest and most approved manner and the furnishings are as handsome as any to be found in most any hotel in this section. Mr. O'Dell made a special trip to Oklahoma City to buy the furniture and the fact that he has spared no expense is evidenced by the appearance of the interior of the hotel.

In the office on the first floor, there are to be found a score of handsome leather upholstered rocking chairs that harmonize with the other rich furnishings of the apartment. The dining room, which is just back of the office and connected with it by a wide archway, is also furnished with heavy oak tables and leather upholstered dining chairs. In this room also will be found the breakfast counter which for the present will be in charge of Johnnie Rogers, recently of Oklahoma, who is an experienced and efficient caterer. Back of this is the spacious kitchen, which is equipped with every modern convenience. The big steel range, the first to be brought to McLean, represents the very latest development of the stove maker's art and leaves nothing to be desired in this respect. To the rear of the kitchen and facing Railroad Street is the private apartment which Mr. O'Dell is having fitted up for his own use when stopping in town.

On the second floor there are 16 bedrooms, 8 on each side, separated by a 20-foot reception hall running the entire length of the building. These rooms are all plastered and calcimined and the floor stained around the handsome rugs that cover the center. The furniture in these rooms is also of the very best, consisting of heavy brass beds with coil springs and good mattresses and bedding. The dressers and washstands are of handsome oak finish and the chairs are leather upholstered rockers. Each room is well ventilated and furnished with electric lights and steam heat. The reception hall will have three large rugs on the floor and other furnishings are in keeping with that of the office and the other apartments of the building.

On the first floor is the gentlemen's bath and toilet rooms and on the second is the ladies'. Both are fitted with hot and cold water, electric lights, steam heat, etc.

On the whole this handsome new hostelry will be second to none and would be a credit to a town much larger than McLean. There is no announcement as to when it will be open to the public, but the work of placing the furniture and getting it in shape for occupancy is being pushed with all possible haste.

Henry Kinard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kinard, who live north of McLean, had the misfortune of having a mule kick him on the face Monday of this week. His father hurried him to town and three stitches were necessary to close up the wound.

Disease of Heart Is Leading Cause Of Texas Deaths

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in Texas, declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer. It takes more lives each year than cancer, accidents, or any other cause of death, in fact, one-third of all deaths are due to heart disease and the toll is rising. It can be curbed if you will have a periodic health examination by a qualified physician and follow his instructions for protecting your heart.

An annual physical examination sometimes brings to light adverse conditions, many of which can be corrected before they cause serious damage. Only a physician can recognize for certain the danger signals of heart trouble, and tell you how to care for yourself.

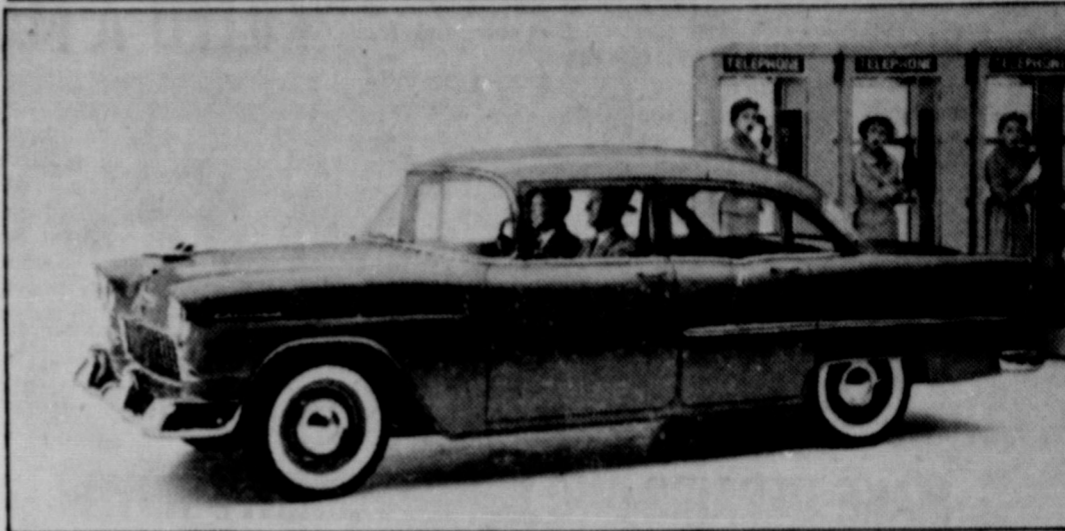

If your physician tells you to slow down or reduce your weight, to cut down on your heart's work load, heed his advice. He wants to help you take care of your heart and to keep you in good health. There's no replacement possible.

The heart needs good care to stay in good running order. Almost anything you do affects your heart. The food you eat, the stairs you climb, the hours you sleep, the pace you set for yourself, your illnesses, the worries you brood over, the tensions you live under—all affect your heart. These are the patterns of your life. These are what make you tick. These conditions play roles in making your heart the kind of heart it is. And there are indicators to warn you of trouble, if you look for them.

The heart can work at a fast pace, and under handicaps, for a long time, because it draws on its reserve power. But when the reserve power of the heart begins to wear out, you experience some of the symptoms commonly associated with heart disease. You may experience a shortness of breath, pain over the heart or breast bone, swollen ankles, and heavy and uneven heart beats.

Of course, at any time, sudden, strong physical exertion will cause a person's heart to beat faster. But if, under ordinary circumstances, you experience any of these symptoms, heed the warning and see your physician. You may not have heart trouble, but it's smart not to take chances.

You can choose from two new sixes, too!

Chevrolet also offers the last word in six-cylinder performance and economy! There's a new "Blue-Flame 136" teamed with Powerglide and a new "Blue-Flame 123" with either standard transmission or Overdrive.

Can't you tell just by looking that Chevrolet and General Motors have come up with a completely new idea about the low-priced car? The idea is this: to build a car that offers the very newest thing in styling, the most modern features, the finest kind of performance and the highest quality of manufacture—all at a modest price. It's something that took a lot of doing and that only this world's leading car builders could do. Everything's new in this Motoramic Chevrolet from its lower top right down to its tubeless tires. Tom Largin Says — KILLED A MAN 51 YEARS AGO

year-old resident of McLean, that he killed a man 51 years ago and now wishes to be forgiven for the crime, has caused considerable comment in the local area during the past few days.

Actually, Largin's "confession" was made more than two weeks ago, but had not been publicized until last week-end when several daily newspapers carried the story.

Largin, who retired from carpentry work a few years ago, is now ailing from a heart trouble, and told his story from his bed.

He said that when he was 22 years of age, he was "hoboing" on freight trains in search of a better job than the one he had with a railroad at that time. One night, at the town of Hearne, he decided he would go to Kosse, a town about 35 miles north of Hearne in Limestone County.

Largin said that when he headed for a freight train that was pulling out, two or three railroad policemen gave chase. One, he stated, flashed a light in his face and started shooting. A bullet ripped his coat, which he dropped; he then picked up a car-pin (a heavy object used to tie the cars together) and threw it at the railroad bull. The pin hit the man.

The aged resident said he went to a farm house early the next morning and asked for breakfast. The farmer later went to town, and upon returning, stated that a man was killed in the railroad yard by a hobo with a car pin the night before.

Largin and his wife have lived in McLean since 1942. He has been ill for about two months, and first told his story more than two months ago to Rev. Archie Cooper, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Dr. C. W. Finley of Lubbock and Dr. James E. Finley of Brownfield spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. H. W. Finley.

Mrs. Bill Day and daughter Karen spent the week-end with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franks, in Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hunt, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Preston and Charlie Hunt of Amarillo, were in Brownfield Friday to visit Mrs. Hunt's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sparks, who were in a Brownfield hospital following an automobile accident Monday. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sparks sustained serious injuries, but are expected to recover, according to reports received here.

Mrs. J. H. Jenkins spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Joe Morris, who is very ill in Wewoka, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Kunkel of Pampa visited with Mrs. Bunia Kunkel and other relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Mantooth and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mantooth of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tedder and Mrs. R. A. Mantooth of Weatherford, Okla., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Odell Mantooth Friday and attended the football game.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Foster of Borger spent the week-end visiting with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Myatt visited with relatives in Amarillo Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers are attending an Eastern Star meeting in Houston this week. Mrs. R. W. Barnett of Weatherford, Okla., is staying with Billy and Christa Carol Rodgers during the absence of their parents.

First V8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Profiting by recent research in combustion and manufacturing techniques, the V8 is unveiled as "far more precisely built and efficient in performance than others in its class." Named the "Turbo-Fire V8," the V8 delivers 162 horsepower.

Higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sixes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design, which in the last few years has won virtually 100 per cent acceptance by other makes.

Integrated body and frame design. Chevrolet points out it has been able to obtain close unity with body and frame by engineering components to complement each other.

Front and rear suspensions revamped. Added riding comfort and road-ability, Chevrolet states, are assured by vastly improved suspensions.

Increased safety through greater visibility. Every car window of safety plate glass—front, rear, and side—is larger in 1955 Chevrolet bodies.

PLANE CRASH NEAR JERICHO FATAL TO MAN

Fletcher Pope, Amarillo photographer, died as the result of an airplane crash Monday afternoon as an aftermath of the three-car collision which occurred near Jericho last Friday afternoon.

Pope had been commissioned to make pictures of the scene where three people, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnson of Elk City, Okla., and Mrs. Howard McCoy of Kalamazoo, Mich., had lost their lives in an auto accident Friday.

Also injured in the plane crash was Cecil Kinerd, an employee of the Amarillo Flying Service and pilot of the plane. Pope had hired the services of the flying company to make the pictures for a law firm, it was reported.

Witnesses at the site said the plane came in low and struck a power line as it began to climb. They said the plane was low enough to go under the lines had it remained in level flight, but the propeller struck the line as it began to rise in the air. The plane nosed over and crashed into a field nearby and was badly damaged.

Kinerd was able to walk away from the crash, but he was taken to the Groom hospital for treatment.

Pope died two hours after reaching the hospital. He had suffered a broken leg and hip, head injuries, and severe lacerations about his body. Pope was owner and operator of the Pope Photo Records company in Amarillo.

Mrs. Vergal Smith and daughter of Dumas visited with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willis, over the week-end.

Mrs. J. W. Kibler was in Shamrock Monday on business. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dunn have returned from Amarillo, where they spent a week.

Turkey Puff

Your family will cheer leftover turkey when you serve it to them tempting Turkey Puff.

Here's a good way to use bits of turkey if you are lucky enough to have some of the holiday bird left after the big day. Turkey Puff combines the leftovers in a delicious blend of tender spaghetti, crunchy bread crumbs, seasoning and beaten eggs.

When it's baked, Turkey Puff has a crispy crust to contrast with its tender interior. Serve it hot with creamed vegetable mushroom sauce. A tangy relish of fresh apple slices topped with cranberry sauce stars will be a most welcome addition to the meal.

As pretty as it is tasty, Turkey Puff will be the main attraction of your next club luncheon. It is a meal-in-one when complemented with a crisp salad, tender, flaky, hot biscuits with butter, margarine and steaming cups of coffee.

Turkey Puff will prove to you how versatile macaroni products are. They eke out all kinds of leftovers and help stretch more expensive foods. Though macaroni products provide valuable amount of plant protein and food energy, they are one of the least expensive foods on the market.

If you'd like a distinct texture contrast for Turkey Puff, sprinkle French fried noodles over the sauce. You can parboil French fried noodles in a flat-bottomed wire basket or strainer and fry in deep hot fat (365° F.) until golden brown. Drain. Sprinkle lightly with salt.

TURKEY PUFF 4 ounces spaghetti, broken 2 cups hot milk 1 cup soft bread crumbs 1/2 teaspoon salt Dash pepper 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten 1 cup turkey or flaked turkey

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and rinse. While spaghetti is cooking pour milk over bread crumbs. Let stand 10 minutes. Add salt, pepper, butter or margarine and egg yolks. Fold in egg whites. Carefully fold cooked spaghetti and turkey and pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Serve with creamed vegetable sauce or mushroom sauce.

Makes 4 servings.
