Neil Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Price of McLean, received his bachelor of business administration degree and his commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve, in graduation exercises at Texas A. and M. College last Friday night. His parents attended the exercises.

Price will work with the International Business Machines Corporation (IBM) until August 1 (he was to report to Houston to work Wednesday), and then will report August 5 to Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio for four weeks of processing and indoctrination. From there he expects to be sent to either a Georgia or Florida base to begin his training in jet pilot work. His tour of duty is scheduled for three years, at the end of which duty he will return to work for IBM.

He is a graduate of McLean High School, and is married.

The Tiger guard received many honors following the football season and was named to several all-state teams. He will also participate in the annual game at the Texas Coaching School in August. He has accepted a scholarship at Tulsa University at Tulsa, Okla., and will enroll in school there this fall.

Mrs. Hugh Grogan narrowly escaped being bitten by a rattlesnake Monday noon of last week when she stepped out of her car in the double garage adjoining the Grogan home and stepped over a snake. The snake had three rattles. Previously she had killed two larger ones near the home, one with ten rattles and one with nine. Mrs. Grogan believes the snakes are living near the garage and then going to the garage where it is cool. "Not a very pleasant thought when you step out of your car at night," she concluded.

Mrs. Eva Peabody was awarded $37 in merchandise certificates at the weekly Appreciation Day activity in McLean last Saturday afternoon.

Meeting Monday To Discuss Hospital Annex for McLean

A discussion of the prospects of obtaining a county hospital annex, to be located in McLean, will be held at a public meeting in the McLean High School auditorium Monday night, June 6, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The meeting has been called by members of the hospital committee, recently named by the Gray County commissioners court to make a survey of the desires of county residents as far as enlargement of Highland General Hospital is concerned.

Considerable interest has been manifested in constructing an addition to Highland General in Pampa, and the general consensus of opinion—including the opinion of a number of residents who live in other parts of the county—is that an annex might be built in McLean at the same time. Nothing definite concerning the matter has been done, and what to do will be discussed Monday night.

WHEAT QUOTAS UP FOR VOTING AGAIN JUNE 25

Texas wheat farmers will join with the nation's growers June 25 to decide in a national referendum whether marketing quotas will continue in effect for their 1956 crop. The State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee urges Texas producers to participate in the vote.

"Under the present surplus situation, we are required to proclaim marketing quotas," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said.

"We will have almost as much wheat in the total supply after harvest this year as we had a year ago. In other words, we will have enough wheat to take care of all our domestic and export needs for two full years."

Benson said that wheat is one of the major problems facing the Department of Agriculture this year.

Any producer in commercial areas who will plant more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1956 is eligible to vote in the referendum. Two-thirds of the vote must favor marketing quotas before they can be put into effect.

Local voting places for the June 25 balloting will be announced for each county.

The available supply of wheat for the 1955-56 marketing year is 66 per cent above the considered "normal supply." The secretary must call for marketing quotas when the normal supply exceeds 20 per cent.

In the referendum last summer, 73.3 per cent of the farmers voting approved the quotas.

WHEAT CROPS IN PANHANDLE TERMED POOR

In most all wheat-producing areas in the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas, the yield is expected to be from five to 50 per cent of normal, according to the latest farm labor bulletin published by the Texas Employment Commission.

The rains came—but too late in most instances to help this year's wheat crop. That is the general picture in areas where wheat is a big money crop. Little wheat has been raised in the McLean area during the past few years. A considerable amount was planted five or six years ago, but since that time, the wheat acreage has been almost negligible.

The bulletin reports that Pampa, Shamrock, and Canadian received rains too late to be of benefit. Less than 20 per cent of the seeded acreage will be harvested, with per acre yields far below normal due to early drought conditions. Harvest should get underway about June 15.

In other vicinities, the reports are: Berger, Spearman, Lipscomb, and Perryton: Less than ten per cent of seeded acreage will be harvested, with yields far below normal.

Amarillo, Canyon, Dumas, Stratford, and Dalhart: Harvest should get underway about June 20 on the small remaining acreage; per acre yields far below normal.

Hereford: 20,000 acres of dry land wheat will be harvested with far below normal yields; 75,000 acres irrigated wheat will average from 20 to 30 bushels per acre.

Plainview, Floydada, Tulia, and Silvertown: Scattered hail damaged about 5,000 acres of irrigated wheat; below normal yields expected from 80,000 acres irrigated wheat.

Dimmitt-Friona: Above average yields expected from the remaining 145,000 acres to be harvested due to irrigation and recent rains.

Lubbock, Dickens, Crosbyton, Aspermont, Guthrie, and Jayton: Only Dickens and Crosbyton indicate more than 1,000 acres to be harvested—and that below normal.

Childress, Paducah, Matador, Memphis, Wellington, and Clarendon: Only spotted areas and terraces will be harvested. Abandonment runs from 75 to 95 per cent throughout the area.

Vernon, Crowell, and Quanah: Limited combining in area; harvest in full swing by June 5.

Mrs. Larry Fuller and son Craig spent last week at Creede, Colo., fishing. Mr. Fuller went to Creede Friday and returned home with his family Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Martin and Mrs. Walter Smith of Amarillo visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Heasley and daughter Sunday.

DIVISION MEET OF LEGION SET FOR AMARILLO

Members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary from 191 posts in the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, and 21st congressional districts gather in Amarillo Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5, for their annual Fifth Division convention.

Presiding will be Division Commander W. G. "Bill" Abbott, Midland attorney and former department judge advocate of the American Legion. Others to participate in the convention with Division Commander Abbott are the five district commanders in the Fifth Division jurisdiction.

These are William B. Dorris, Alpine, 16th district; Dr. Cyrus B. Cathey, Hamilton, 17th district; Paul Spillman, Wellington, 18th district; Hilton Lambert, Snyder, 19th district; and Lee Gripon, Lampasas, 21st district.

Mrs. M. L. Hopson, Alpine, Fifth Division Auxiliary president, will be in charge of the women's portion of the convention program.

Host post of the convention is Hanson No. 54 of Amarillo, one of the largest in the state in point of membership and with one of the state's finest American Legion homes where the convention sessions will be held. It is commanded this year by Selden Simpson who has appointed a number of strong committees which are arranging this year's convention program.

Registration will begin Saturday morning. Starting at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon the 40 and 8 will be in charge of afternoon activities. A Dutch treat lunch at the American Legion home will precede the annual convention dance which will begin at 9 o'clock.

A joint session of the American Legion and Auxiliary, presided over by Commander Abbott, will be held Sunday morning. At 11 o'clock the annual memorial services will be held.

Following luncheon, the American Legion and Auxiliary will go into separate business sessions. Division officers for 1956 will be elected and delegates named to the national convention to be held in Miami, Fla., in October.

Several important resolutions are due to be acted upon and passed on for final action at the state convention which will be held in San Antonio July 22, 23, and 24.

No Official Word On Second Vaccine; Probably 30 Days

No official word concerning the Salk vaccine for the second round of shots for children in Gray County has as yet been received.

President Eisenhower, in a news conference Tuesday, stated that the second inoculation for first and second graders should be completed before the infantile paralysis season reaches its peak in August. Enough Salk vaccine will be manufactured within the next 30 days, to do this job, the president said.

Within 60 days, he said, he has the assurance of Surgeon General Leonard Scheele that both the first and second shots for all youngsters in the highest priority group will be administered.

GRADUATION ENDS ACTIVITY LOCAL SCHOOL

School activities for the 1954-55 year officially ended Friday night when this year's senior class attended commencement exercises in the Municipal Building.

Principal speaker for the affair was C. A. Cryer, superintendent of the Berger schools and a former superintendent of the McLean schools.

The valedictory address was given by Wayne Woods, and the salutatory address by Eugene Washburn.

Members of the eighth grade class held their final exercises Thursday night of last week. J. C. Claborn made the principal address; Lester Sitter gave the valediction and Dorothy Pakan the salutatory.

Last week was a busy time at the two schools. Final exams were completed early in the week, and then preparations for the elementary school and high school exercises took up most of the time. Teachers found themselves busy with the "winding-up" of records, etc., for the school year.

Several of the teachers have already left for the summer destinations, although many of them will spend the summer months here. Some activities will be held during the summer, including activities in the homemaking department.

Practically all teachers plan to be back here for another year. Vernon Gibson, agriculture teacher, has announced that he will go to Dublin High School next year, however; and Billie Brown does not plan to return here for another year. The remainder of the teaching staff have indicated they will be back.

'Slow Down and Live'

HURRY BUG IN A HURRY

"Don't be a Hurry Bug, slow down and live!"

This advice was given to area motorists this week by Mayor E. J. Lander as he discussed the speed control program of the National Safety Council.

The Hurry Bug referred to by Mayor Lander is one of Walt Disney's new creations—a character who exhibits all the traits of the speed-happy driver.

"A Hurry Bug is so intent on getting to his destination in the shortest possible time that nothing else matters to him," the mayor said. "Courtesy, good judgment, safety—they all go by the board when he's behind the wheel."

Lander said that the typical Hurry Bug is a top candidate for ulcers or a nervous breakdown and also stands a mighty good chance of cracking up in a traf-

'MAY'S TOTAL NEARS 8-INCH MARK IN AREA

A very heavy downpour hit McLean Wednesday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. Possibly more than one inch of moisture fell in a few minutes, and the rain was still falling at 5 o'clock. The clouds immediately prior to the downpour were extremely dark.

Showers, ranging up to one-third of an inch, fell in the eastern Panhandle Monday night, and another light shower fell Tuesday night.

In McLean, the official measurement was .15 of an inch for Monday, and .04 for Tuesday. This brought the official total for May to 7.87 inches, and the year's total to 8.59 inches, according to the records of Pete Fulbright, local weather observer. Other rain gauges registered up to one-third of an inch in the surrounding area. Several farmers, who keep gauges at their homes, report over ten inches during the month.

Although only .04 of an inch of moisture was recorded in McLean for Tuesday evening, much heavier rain fell to the east, the south, and the south-east of McLean. On the Saunders ranch, 1.55 of an inch fell; to the southeast, approximately the same was reported; and to the east, even as close as the Derby Drive-in, the downfall was a great deal heavier than in town. Some hail was reported to the south and south-east, also.

May's rainfall has been the heaviest for the month in several years. In 1954, 5.36 inches fell in May; in 1953, only 1.05 inches came in May; and in 1952, only 2.89 inches.

Grasslands are coming back rapidly. Ranchers, many of whom were beginning to "look at their hole card," were more jubilant as prospects for good pastures became brighter. Cattle may be seen grazing contentedly now, in comparison to the dry pastures so common a mere few weeks ago.

The rains came at the right time for the row crop farmers; and, in addition, the rains have fallen correctly most of the time. The McLean area has received only one or two hard rains; the gentle rains have been more common and the moisture has been given time to soak down into the once-parched land.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Saunders and Mrs. John Robertson visited Tuesday with friends and relatives in Pampa.

Editorial

PLAN FOR FARMERS

IN APRIL the Department of Agriculture published a booklet which represents more than a year of study and preparation. It is entitled "Development of Agriculture's Human Resources—a Report on Problems of Low-Income Farmers." Its importance is spotlighted in a letter written by President Eisenhower to Congress: "In this wealthiest of nations where per capita income is the highest in the world, more than one-fourth of the families who live on American farms still have cash incomes of less than $1,000 a year. They neither share fully in our economic and social progress nor contribute as much as they would like and can contribute to the nation's production of goods and services. . . . We must open wider the doors of opportunity to our 1,500,000 farm families with extremely low incomes—for their own well being and for the good of our country and all our people."

In submitting the report to the President, Secretary of Agriculture Benson recommended the launching of pilot operations in not less than 50 of the 1,000 low-income counties during the coming fiscal year. He then described a 15-point program which is to be followed, with the proper balance among the various elements involved to be determined by the special circumstances of each area. These points include: Expand and adapt agricultural extension work to meet the needs of low-income and part-time farmers. Develop needed research in farm and home management, marketing, nutrition, etc. Increase technical assistance, such as that provided by the Soil Conservation Service, to low-income farmers. Encourage the states to expand vocational training to rural areas of low income. Request the Department of Labor to strengthen the Employment Service in rural areas and further adapt it to the needs of rural people. Encourage the expansion of industry in the rural low-income areas. Enlist the aid of the State Agricultural colleges in conducting research and in other ways. Aggressively encourage farm, business, and other leadership to assume local responsibility and to unite in efforts to aid in the development of agriculture's human resources. The secretary also said that Congress will be asked for a $30,000,000 appropriation for the Farmers Home Administration to launch the program.

It is clear, as the President said in his letter to Congress, that the "program recognizes that this is not exclusively an agricultural problem but that opportunities for off-farm employment are a part of the solution." Most of the low-income farmers live on small, unproductive farms of a marginal or worn-out nature. To many observers, one of the most important needs is to encourage large numbers of these people to take productive jobs in factories. Actually, over the years, much of the increase in our industrial labor force has come in this fashion.

There is still another reason why this would be good for the whole country as well as for the farm families concerned. Most economists believe that we will experience a labor shortage for 20 years or more. The low-income farm group is one of the few available potential reservoirs of manpower left.

Life expectancy at birth in the 17th century was 18.2 years. In the 20th century it is 58 to 60 years.

Get away from the crowd when you can. Keep yourself to yourself, if only for a few hours daily.—Arthur Brisbane.

LES TALK

By LESTER

Once in a while, a person runs across a good bargain. Here are a few such deals which paid off in the past:

On May 6, 1626, Peter Minuit, director general of New Netherlands, picked up Manhattan for a song by paying the Indians the equivalent of $24 in assorted trinkets. And of course, today Manhattan is one of the highest priced parcels of real estate in the world. Land values run into the billions. Just for example, the land on which the Empire State Building stands has an assessed valuation of approximately $15,000,000.

Buying a topflight race horse for a few hundred dollars is about as common as hitting the daily double with a pair of long shots. But take the case of Alsab. He was bought at auction for a mere $700 and promptly made his owner's racing silks a familiar sight in the winner's circle. Alsab earned $60,000 in one race alone . . . piled up the princely sum of $350,000 in four years of racing.

Every art collector dreams of buying a painting for a pittance, dusting it off and discovering an old master. A Johannesburg businessman did just that recently. He bought a painting for $375 at an auction sale because he liked the looks of it. When appraised by an expert, the painting turned out to be "L'Erection de la Croix" . . . an original Van Dyck worth an estimated $30,000.

The stamp known as the 1856 Guiana, issued by British Guiana in 1856, originally cost one cent. Today it is a collector's item worth at least $100,000. Actually the 1856 Guiana isn't much for looks—in fact, it's downright drab—but the point is "you can't hardly get them no more." So far as is known, all that remains of the original issue is one frayed specimen in the hands of an anonymous—and obviously well-heeled—philatelist.

The price tag on baseball players' services often is astronomically high. Big league clubs pay fabulous $50,000 bonuses to sign up promising rookies. But "Stan the Man" Musial's contract was snapped up by the St. Louis Cardinals for a modest $65 per month. Winner of six batting titles and three most valuable player awards, Musial now makes $80,000 a year. His estimated value: around a quarter of a million dollars.

There is a book called "Tamberlane" that made a 12,000 per cent profit. Written by Edgar Allan Poe and printed in Boston in 1827, this rare first edition was a book buyers dream come true for Richard Lichtenstein. He ran across a copy while browsing at a sidewalk bookstore in Boston, and bought it for 15 cents. Sold at auction in 1932, it brought Mr. Lichtenstein $1,850. More recently, similar copies have sold for as high as $20,000. Got any copies of "Tamberlane" in your attic?

Last month H. A. Longino advertised in the classified column of this newspaper a number of odds and ends he wanted to sell. Within two weeks after the ad had appeared, he had sold far more than enough of the material to pay the 99 cents for the ad and had the material out of his way. He was paid for those odds and ends that many of us are inclined to toss out into the alley and let the trash man pick up. You may not make as much as some of the fabulous deals above, but you may have a great number of items which somebody else is willing to pay for—items that are merely cluttering up your house or yard. Had you ever thought about advertising them and realizing something from them?

A man had his new dog out for a walk when he came to a river. He threw a stick in for the animal to fetch. To his astonishment, instead of plunging in, the dog walked out on the surface of the river and retrieved the stick. Not believing his eyes, the man threw the stick again. Again the dog walked across the water and fetched it. "Where did you get that dog?" asked a passerby. "I bought him for a hundred

Elect Officers

At the stated communication of the local Masonic lodge on Saturday night of last week, officers for the ensuing Masonic year were elected as follows: J. H. Hodine, worshipful master; J. N. Phillips, senior warden; H. N. Roach, junior warden; W. H. Holt, senior deacon; Scott Johnston, junior deacon; A. G. Richardson, secretary; and W. R. Patterson, treasurer.

Installation will take place at the next regular meeting of the latter part of next month.

Civil War Horse Still Survives

The oldest horse that served the country in the war of the rebellion is still alive, at the age of 53 years, at Horseheads, N. Y. It is owned by P. A. McIntosh who is also a veteran of the same war. To prove his assertion, Mc. McIntosh shows the government brand on the animal's hip, which reads "I. C., 1865." Horse and man served in the same regiment. Although bent with age, his hair turning gray, and his teeth becoming worn, the old warhorse is still able to eat 12 quarts of oats and take his master to town several times a week. It is estimated the animal is at least 53 years old. Farmers say the average life of a horse is about 15 years.

Study Club Program

The club enjoyed a lecture on food values by Miss Hamilton of Austin at the meeting Friday afternoon at Mrs. Foster's. The lady is an excellent speaker and handled her subject in an able manner. Beginning the first of September the club will have a domestic science department and anyone who would like to take up this work (whether you are a member of the club or not) is invited to do so.

Week-End Party

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Richardson, and David N. Beals of Kansas City enjoyed a visit to the hospitable Luther McCombs home Saturday night and Sunday, returning to town late Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs.

dollars," said its owner proudly. "Boy, did you get stung," said the stranger. "That dog can't even swim."

Came across a sad-looking fellow lying across the railroad tracks. "You'd better get up and out of there," I warned him. "The train is due by here any minute."

The man shook his head negatively. "I'm committing suicide," he explained. "So what are you doing with that loaf of bread beside you?" I asked. "You know how lousy the service is these days," was the answer. "A fellow could starve to death waiting."

Professor: Richard, is it wise to economize?

Richard: I don't think so. I know a man who took long steps to keep from wearing out his four dollar shoes, and he split his eight dollar pants.

McCombs are delightful hosts and made the stay of the visitors one long to be remembered, adding to their hospitality two splendidly prepared menus, products of their garden and barnyard.

The McCombs ranch is located at what was formerly the headquarters of the Pyron ranch and is one of the most beautiful spots in this entire section. The old ranch house sits in a magnificent grove of large locust trees whose dense shade protects it from the heat of the sun. A few years ago this property was purchased by W. I. Rush of Kansas City, who built a lovely modern California bungalow in a nearby grove of younger trees, and in this delightful retreat the McCombs entertained their guests.

Lemon Cherry Desserts For Dieters

No one needs to wait for cherries to be ripe to make this delectable dieters' treat for dessert because the cherries are sitting on the grocers' shelves all through the year just waiting for the shopper. Waiting for the shopper, too, is the new non-calorie sweetener, Sucaryl, which can be cooked in any recipe without becoming bitter or losing its sweetness. Sucaryl adds never a calorie while satisfying every requirement for sweetness.

This Lemon Cherry Dessert is a brand new recipe developed especially for dieters. It is bright, perky, gay, and appealing for all ages. Children adore gelatin desserts as colorful and fruity as this. Dieters in the medium aged groups will be delighted with its satisfying heartiness (and low, low 60 calories for each big serving.) And the members of our senior society will bless you for providing them with a sweet morsel that is so easy to eat and so easy to digest.

Sucaryl is a blessing, too, for those who like plenty of beverages throughout the day. — early morning coffee breaks, afternoon tea, and evening drinks. For all these beverages, Sucaryl sweetens without adding calories — and brings a satisfaction of something under the belt to stay the pangs of hunger. Try it and see.

FAMOUS TEXANS' RECIPES

Glamorous Cattle-Raiser Picks Beef and Kidney Pie

Greer Garson

Fort Worth—Beef & Kidney Pie, a legacy from her native England, wins praise for Texas' most glamorous cattle-raiser, Greer Garson.

The casserole is admired by the celebrated actress's Texas friends almost as much as her prize winning herd of all white beef Shorthorns which she imported from Scotland.

Miss Garson, wife of Dallas oil executive, E. E. Fogelson, exercised her rights to Texas citizenship five years ago when she purchased the small pure-bred Shorthorn herd and began to expand it.

Currently, Mrs. Fogelson is engaged in a cross-breeding experimental program with the object of producing a new type of beef.

When asked to name her favorite beef recipe for the Texas Beef Council's "Famous Texan" collection, Miss Garson narrowed it down to three, each expressing her personality. The publishers plan to include all three in the book which is now being compiled.

Rich in taste, delicate in spicing, the following recipe serves six.

2 beef kidneys cut 1/4" pieces
4 ounces chopped onions
1 tablespoon flour
1 clove garlic chopped
2 tablespoons tomato puree
1 cup sherry (or dry red wine) salt, pepper, thyme, parsley to taste
1 bay leaf (optional)
1/2 pound mushrooms, fourthed
1 egg, beaten

Saute beef rapidly, remove from pan, drain. Sauté kidneys, drain off excess grease and water. Combine beef and kidneys; return to pot; stir in onions and brown. Blend in flour, chopped garlic, tomato puree and wine. Add enough water to cover, mix in seasonings, and simmer two hours. In separate container, saute mushrooms; add to beef and kidney mixture when cooked. Pour into baking dish; cover with

Pie Crust Dough
3/4 pound flour
3/4 cup cold water
6 ounces salted butter

Combine flour and water; spread dough on table. Place butter in center. Fold dough over the butter (like a book). Roll it with rolling pin. Fold it twice and let rest 20 minutes; fold it twice more and wait 20 minutes and repeat the process a third time. Roll dough out 1/4-inch thick and cover the beef-kidney mixture. Brush top with beaten egg to give a golden color to crust. Bake in moderate oven (350°) for about 30 minutes.

Beef and Kidney Pie
2 pounds top sirloin (or triangle) cut 1/2" square

SPEAKING & CARDS

TAKE A CARD

You, too, can do card tricks and you don't need any special paraphernalia, magic wand or mumbo jumbo. Just a deck of ordinary playing cards and a fellow conspirator. Now try this card trick, "Tap Happy," on your friends next time you attend a party.

Take any nine cards from the deck while making certain to include one Nine (Nine of Spades, etc.). Lay them out, face up, in the form of an "H" (as shown in the illustration).

Have your accomplice leave the room while you get one of your cards in the pattern—without removing it, of course. Then call your assistant back in.

Without speaking a word, proceed to tap each of the cards once, one at a time. Your partner gets his clue in where you tap the Nine card. You see, the pattern of the pips on the Nine card corresponds to the pattern of your nine-card layout. Thus, if someone has selected the Four of Spades in the lower right-hand corner, you tap the lower right-hand pip on the Nine. Where you tap the other cards makes little difference but you should try not to make your tap on the Nine any different than your others.

Your accomplice should wait until after you have tapped all the cards before he tells what card has been selected.

You will find that around the third or fourth time you do the trick everyone in your audience will have his own pet theory as to how it works. You can alter the trick by using more than one tap per card, by having more than one nine in the layout, or by many other variations.

"Tap Happy" is one of several card tricks contained in a colorful, illustrated booklet, "It's All in the Cards," recently published and offered in exchange for an Ace of Spades from an old or used deck. In addition, the booklet contains some interesting facts about the little-known history of cards, suggests some exciting variations on old games, lists a few unusual uses for cards and otherwise provides countless ways for you to get more fun out of your deck of playing cards. To get your copy send an Ace of Spades to Playing Cards, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

BLUES, WHITES PLAY 13-13 TIE

The Blues and the Whites, opposing teams in the recent elementary school inter-squad game, battled to a 13-13 tie Monday afternoon, May 23. The game, originally called for May 19, was postponed due to rain. The Whites scored first when David Crockett went across in the opening quarter; but the Blues came back in the second frame to even the score at 6-6, with Joe Howard making the tally. Both teams missed their attempts for extra points. In the third quarter, the Whites again scored, with Jerry Biggers making the touchdown and Crockett plunging across for the point, and the Whites led 13-6. In the fading seconds of the game, Howard again scored to make the score 13-12 as the gun sounded to end the game; Howard ran the extra point across after the game time had expired to tie up the encounter 13-13. Outstanding backs for the Whites were David Crockett and Billy Crockett; and for the Blues, Howard and Jimmy Rice. Outstanding on the line for the Blues were Lester Sitter and Carey Don Smith; and for the Whites, Paul McCurley and Bob Weaver. The two teams were made up of members of the 7th and 8th grades of the local elementary school.

Kunkel Family Gathers for Reunion

One of the bigger reunions of families in the local area was held Sunday in the American Legion Hall when the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kunkel gathered for their annual affair. A basket lunch was enjoyed at noon, and the rest of the time was spent in visiting. Onele Sam Kunkel (as he was affectionately known) and his wife and four children came to the Golden Spread area 50 years ago next July 19. They traveled in two covered wagons and a back, taking 15 days to make the 350-mile trip from Eastland to McLean. The family settled 12 miles north of McLean, on what is now known as the Fred Sliagar place. Each year, the remaining members of the family meet here, and the reunion always attracts a large crowd. Of the seven living children, only one, Mrs. M. H. Kinard of Lubbock, was unable to be present. The children present, with their families, were Nugent Kunkel and his wife of Sunnyvale, Calif.; Henry Kunkel and his wife of Dallas; Mrs. Mary Etta Hudgins of Erick, Okla., and Sidney Kunkel and his wife, Mrs. Della Holloway, and Mrs. Callie Haynes, of McLean. New Tricks With An Old Friend

What common household product do you find in the bathroom cabinet, the kitchen cupboard, and somewhere in the garage? Can't guess? Well, here are some more clues. You use it as a dentifrice, for emergency relief of indigestion, for putting out fires and for shining up just about anything in the house that needs a shine. Answer: baking soda.

Let's take a look at some of its most practical yet least heralded uses. First, in the bathroom. Make your brush and comb sweet and fresh by rinsing it in a quart of water to which you've added two tablespoons of soda after the regular washing. Use baking soda to wash your bathroom tile. Sprinkle some baking soda on a damp cloth and rub it over the soiled areas. Now, let's look at the kitchen. To brew a consistently good pot of coffee, your coffee pot must be clean... free of filmy coffee oils. Form a practice of soaking your coffee-making equipment twice a week for a few minutes in a solution of three tablespoons of baking soda to a quart of water. Then rinse. Baking soda is a mild alkali which readily emulsifies grease and oil, and it's this chemical action which speeds up the job. Baking soda is non-abrasive so it will not scar or mar polished surfaces. What does husband do with baking soda in the garage? For one thing, he cleans the car windshield and headlight with a dampened cloth sprinkled with soda. Bugs and filmy grease rub off easily, and after a rinsing clear visibility returns. He also keeps a box on hand in the glove compartment of the car, for baking soda is a fine fire quencher. Toss baking soda on a fire, and it helps smother it by generating carbon dioxide which shuts off the outside air.

It's Your Life—USE CARE IN SWIMMING

The number of drowning fatalities in Texas streams and lakes is running far ahead of last year. "Folks can't afford to forget their rules for water safety," cautions the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee. "The opening of swimming pools, along with the call of the streams, rivers and lakes, places added impetus on the necessity of safety in the water." Of the 80,000,000 people who are expected to go for a swim this year, some 7,000 will drown. Many drownings are caused by over-confidence, the committee says. "Too often people who have little swimming knowledge venture into deep water to show off their partially-developed skills and end up in trouble. Select a safe place for swimming, preferably one supervised by a life-guard, the committee advises. Don't go into deep water unless you are a seasoned swimmer, and then don't stay too long. Before diving, be sure the water is deep enough and free of obstructions. Never swim alone. Don't enter the water when tired or overheated, and wait at least two hours after eating to take a dip. And, know how to save a drowning person and how to apply artificial respiration. The committee's final advice to

Three Intestinal Diseases Increase During Summer

The summer season always brings an increase in the incidence of dysentery, diarrhea, and enteritis, all of which are major menaces to the lives of small children, annually causing the death or illness of hundreds of Texas youngsters. Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health, declares that the chief causes of these intestinal diseases are contaminated milk, water or food; allowing the child to get over-heated or exhausted; excessive sugar in the infant's formula; and foods that have been improperly refrigerated. All foods should be clean and fresh and all leftovers should be refrigerated so as to avoid spoilage. The utmost care should be used in preparing the infant's formula which should, of course, be prescribed by a physician and his recommendations as to sanitation precautions and correct refrigeration should be implicitly followed. The commissioner of health warned parents especially of the disease transmission by flies. Children in any home that is not free from flies are in danger of contracting dysentery or other intestinal diseases which may be fatal. If dysentery or diarrhea symptoms appear in your child, call your doctor immediately. Dr. Holle advises. His treatment of the disease is your best insurance against fatal results, since such diseases are really a very serious threat to the child's life.

Noted Doctor Says You Can Learn to be Healthy

At least 50% of all the illnesses that doctors are expected to cure are emotionally induced—and can be prevented!

Thus writes a prominent mid-Western authority, Dr. John A. Schindler, head of the Department of Medicine at Wisconsin's famous Monroe Clinic, in his newly-published book, "How to Live 365 Days a Year." Dr. Schindler shows how it is possible to live without fear, fatigue and nervous stress... and thus eliminate half the ailments that beset mankind. His methods are based on over 20 years of trial and error... and successful results. Thorough scientific research convinced Dr. Schindler that the common complaints of many of his patients were emotional in origin. He sought their cooperation in an effort to find the specific causes. His probing made it apparent that most of them were being defeated by problems with which they could not cope. In most instances, he found that when the problem was solved, the distress vanished. One case from his book proves the validity of his methods. A grocer patient suffered from stomach pain. He was in competition with several chain stores. He had a nagging wife and a son who was constantly in trouble. Some consultants said he had ulcers, others said he had none. This confusion added to his pain. But twice a year, the patient went fishing in a town about 25 miles from home. As soon as he arrived on its Main Street, his pain stopped. There was no recurrence until two weeks later when, on his return, he caught sight of the courthouse tower of his home town. Immediately, like magic, his pain acted up again. Here is a case in which the patient recovered from his ailment whenever he removed himself from the cause of emotional stress—his business, his nagging wife and his errant son. In "How to Live 365 Days a Year," Dr. Schindler outlines his "learning-maturity" method for overcoming emotionally induced illnesses. The basic theory is to substitute thinking that creates healthy emotions whenever stress-making emotions like fear, worry and anxiety take over. He reveals the techniques he has used in his clinic to guide people to happier, healthier lives.

Liberace's Magic Formula

Less than ten years ago, Wladziu Valentino Liberace was an unknown nightclub piano thumper squeezing out a meager living at a shabby trade. Today, the idol of millions, Liberace is the world's highest-paid pianist, a television phenomenon whose personal appearances cause thundering herds of admirers to riot for a glimpse of him.

What power shot him upward to such fantastic success, even though, as he readily admits, he is not the greatest pianist on earth? It was a power revealed to him in a book, "The Magic of Believing," by Claude M. Bristol. "I discovered," says Liberace in the introduction to a special "Liberace edition" of the book, "that believing in myself could make others believe in me. Immediately I began practicing the principles and philosophies expressed in this remarkable book and found the secret of what has proven to be a successful formula."

But whether it be Liberace, Babe Ruth, George Washington—or the ordinary man-in-the-street—this magic of belief, says author Claude Bristol, is the locomotive power of success. And whether you want an increased income, a new home, a happier marriage, or just a good night's sleep—believing can make it so. Bristol, a hard-bitten ex-police reporter who powered his own way up to success by the "magic" he describes in his book, wrote "The Magic of Believing" at the urging of those thousands who, hearing him lecture, wanted the "facts" of this hidden power put down so that everyone could read them and be inspired by them.

Liberace

Why did Liberace write an introduction to a book which had already sold hundreds of thousands of copies? "Because," he says, "I wanted to help tell others how they, too, could release the powers within them to realize their dreams as I have realized mine."
