

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

October 30 will mark the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rice and we think that is a remarkable record. Mr. Rice said he heard of a fellow who said he had been married 55 years and had had hot biscuits every morning for breakfast all that time. Mr. Rice said he could make no such claim but he couldn't complain about his own happy years. Mr. Rice served as the first mayor of McLean back in 1909.

As guest of the Larry Fullers, we attended the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at Pampa Tuesday night and we can truthfully say that we enjoyed every minute of it. The affair was held in the cafeteria of Pampa High School and a crowd of approximately 450 persons was present. The world champion barbershop quartet, the Four Hearsemen, entertained the group with several selections followed by the famous after dinner speaker and humorist, Art Briese of Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. Briese kept the entire group literally rolling in the aisles for over an hour. Those boys over at the county seat really go all out when they throw a shindig.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Meador also attended the banquet and their sentiments seemed to run right along with ours. Boyd is probably the best known man in McLean when you start traveling around the Panhandle. His excellent record and work in Lionism, the Highway 66 Association and all of the many civic enterprises to which he gives so unselfishly of his time, have earned this recognition for him. Our town is fortunate to have him and he makes a mighty good goodwill ambassador for McLean.

At Fathers Night Game—

CYCLONE DEFEATS TIGERS

By NEAL SHULL

The Memphis Cyclone raced past the "never-say-die" McLean Tigers 19-0 in a District 1-A grid battle Friday night on Duncan Field.

McLean led in first downs, 12-9. The Cyclone recorded 231 yards to McLean's 78. The Tigers connected with eight of 16 overhead shots for 113 yards. Memphis hit two of seven for 30.

Coach Hap Rogers' losers battled for everything they were worth but could not offset the difference.

In the first quarter, Memphis kicked and Charles Crockett returned it to the 40. After three plays, McLean fumbled and Memphis recovered on their 45, for the first Memphis touchdown. Dean Sustaire, on a pass and run, went 38 yards with good blocking to pay dirt. David Davis ran across the conversion.

Again Memphis kicked and the Tigers fumbled. Memphis recovered on McLean's 22. Dean Sustaire crashed from the one for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

McLean started a drive on their 20 but Crockett lost yardage and Cooper punted the Tigers out of danger. Memphis, a few plays later, fumbled and Butch Turpen recovered, but the Tigers were unable to score.

In the second quarter, Crockett intercepted a pass from Sustaire for a nice runback. Paul Garvin made a good 21 yard run. But McLean fumbled and the Cyclone recovered on their 40. After an interchange of the ball several times, Dale Greenhouse recovered a Memphis fumble. On a pass from Crockett, Morris Wells made a brilliant run of 65 yards before he was stopped on the Cyclone's 10.

In the third quarter, Cooper kicked off and Sustaire made a runback to their 30. Memphis fumbled and Jimmy Vineyard recovered on the Cyclone 20. Then McLean fumbled, Memphis recovered. Sustaire neatly side-stepped Tiger blockers and ran 80 electrifying yards for the touchdown. The conversion attempt was blocked.

Memphis kicked off and Gilbreath made a 10 yard return to the 49. The Tigers were unable to make a first down, so Crockett punted.

In the fourth quarter, the Tigers marched on their 37 down to the Cyclone 18, picking up five first downs along the way, but were unable to go all the way. The game ended with McLean in possession of the ball. The score: Memphis 19, McLean 0.

J. LESTER DYSART heart attack fatal

SERVICES FOR J. L. DYSART THURSDAY

Funeral services for J. Lester Dysart, who died Tuesday afternoon of last week in Pauls Valley, Okla., were held at the Stubblebean Funeral Chapel in Pauls Valley Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dysart had lived in McLean for the past 15 years, prior to moving to Pauls Valley last May.

Burial was in the Whitehead Community Cemetery near Pauls Valley. Pallbearers included C. H. Day, Boyd Meador, Guy Hibler, Don Haslam, and R. T. Dickinson of McLean. Lester Campbell of Shamrock and Bryan Burrows of Pauls Valley, both former McLean residents, and nine grandchildren.

Dysart had been in apparent good health, and had remarked several times during recent weeks that he was feeling better than in a number of years. Death came suddenly, however, when he suffered a heart attack at a lumber yard in Pauls Valley where had gone for some building materials. He had been engaged in working on a house near Pauls Valley, where he and Mrs. Dysart were to make their home in the future. Just prior to his death, he and a friend had gone for a cup of coffee and then returned to the lumber yard. Shortly after, he complained of feeling slightly nauseated, and sat down on a bench. Moments later the attack struck him, and death came immediately.

A former Ford dealer in McLean, Dysart was born in Texas April 13, 1894. He was reared in Dallas, and later farmed near Vega for several years. Following that, he was in the auto parts business in Wichita Falls, and then moved to McLean to become a partner in the Ford agency. During World War II, he worked at the McLean prisoner of war camp, and following the war he again became the Ford dealer. In October of last year, he sold the agency to the present owner, Joe Smith.

While living in McLean, Dysart was very active in civic work. He was a past president of the McLean Lions Club, and was twice winner of the "Lion of the Year" award. He was a long time member of the American Legion, and was active in Legion work many years. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge of McLean.

Dysart was also interested in the American Red Cross work, and served for several of the past few years as home service chairman. He had also served as chairman of the P. O. U. S. A. of McLean.

A member of the Methodist church, Dysart was a former steward.

Survivors include his wife, Kathleen of Pauls Valley; one son, Cabot Dysart of Roswell, N. M.; one stepson, Gale Plummer, junior student at West Texas State College, Canyon; one granddaughter, Kathy Dysart of Roswell; and two brothers, Bland Dysart of Dallas and Leland Dysart of Melissa.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. W. M. Tibbets Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Bent Lowe of Erick, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker of Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. Florence Lowe of Los Angeles, Calif.

Hungry Burglar Hits Derby Drive In Wednesday Morning

Some thief (or thieves) who had an enormous appetite for juicy burgers and hot dogs hit the Derby Drive in Theatre Tuesday night or in the small hours of Wednesday morning.

The thief apparently broke in the projection booth and crawled through a small window to gain entrance into the concession stand. The lock on the door to the concession stand had been tampered with and Amos Page was unable to unlock the door with a key. He had to get in the same way the thief did after being notified of the burglary Wednesday morning.

Stolen from the concession stand were cigarettes, hot dog and juicy burger buns, wieners and sauce for the juicy burgers. "It looks like officers might be searching for somebody with a stomach ache," one observer noted.

Two New Members Installed by Lions At Tuesday Meeting

Lion George Saunders, 1st vice president, was in charge of the Tuesday noon meeting of the McLean Lions Club. Lion Boss Hickman Brown had been on a two weeks vacation but returned home in time for the Tuesday luncheon.

Leslie Talbert, local band director, and Jack Dyer, vocational agriculture teacher at McLean High School, were installed as new members of the club by Lion Boyd Meador.

Amos Page, program chairman, introduced Mr. Crawford, who is with the Caravan for the Blind, who spoke to the club about the lighthouses for the blind in Texas and some of the products made by the blind people. Mr. Crawford had samples with him of goods that local Lions will sell, including brooms, mops, brushes, ironing board covers and floor mats that are manufactured by the blind. Date for local sales by the club has been set for November 10. The sale of these products makes it possible for many blind persons to be self-supporting who otherwise would be charges of the state.

Lion Boyd Meador announced that the annual chest X-ray checkup will be here at the Joe Smith Motor Company next Thursday, October 27. He urged that all Lions strive to get as many people as possible to get the free X-rays in order to justify the continuance of the service from year to year.

Lion Ralph Thomas of Pampa was a guest of the club.

Mrs. M. J. Williams of Shamrock and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams visited in the Everett Watson home Sunday.

Private Eye Salutes—

A LOCAL MINISTER

Nearly everyone thinks of a minister of the Gospel as having a job of "doing good," and they do. But, did you ever think of the many things that a minister does because he is requested to do, or because he just wants to do them?

This week, we hail the work of a local minister. Almost everyone knows him even though he has lived in McLean but a few years.

To this man, the opportunity of meeting a new face and calling on people is a challenging one. It makes little difference which church, or no church, this man goes about very quietly making calls on the sick, the shut in and the lonely, trying to bring

Residents of McLean and surrounding area will have an opportunity to receive free chest X-rays next Thursday, when the State Department of Health brings its mobile unit here between the hours of 1:00 and 6:00 p. m. October 27.

The machine will be located at the Joe Smith Motor Company and all persons fifteen years of age or older are eligible for free chest X-rays. The chest X-ray takes only a few minutes, there is no pain, and the individual is X-rayed fully clothed. All information given is confidential and so is the results of the X-ray.

Residents of Alanreed and other outlying communities nearby are urged to come to McLean on Thursday, October 27, to take advantage of this free service.

The X-rays are free but they are not charity. The state-wide program is paid for by the taxpayers' money and is offered in an effort to eradicate tuberculosis from Texas.

Other chest ailments than tuberculosis are located by the chest X-rays, including heart ailments, cancer, and other conditions of the chest that should have the attention of the individual's family doctor.

If no suspicious conditions are revealed by the X-rays, the individual receives a card to this effect from the State Department of Health. Should there be a condition that indicates further investigation, the family doctor is notified.

This is one of the few drives that comes to town that does not cost anything directly, and local citizens are urged to take advantage of it.

TEX CARSON CIRCUS TO BE HERE SUNDAY

Unfolding its mobile arsenal of amusements beneath a big spread of canvas shot skyward, the Tex Carson Wild Animal Circus will arrive in McLean Sunday morning for one afternoon performance only. Location of the circus big top will be between the divided highway west of Andrews Equipment Co.

The birds and the beasts will be there. The clowns, the acrobats, the wire walkers, the beautiful horses with their beautiful riders, and more of everything than was ever assembled and labeled a circus will be on view and Tex Carson will be in town Sunday morning around 6 a. m. and erection of the big top will begin immediately, a circus spokesman said.

There will be only one performance here beginning around 2 o'clock.

There will be old favorites including Dorothy Anderson, troupes of riders, trapeze performers and others who likewise defy death and gravity.

cheer and comfort as well as referring to the Bible when requested to do so. In one incident, he was told that a man was in the hospital and a call would be welcome. The informer failed to give the correct hospital and this kindly man searched the Pampa hospitals, inquired at Clarendon and Groom, and finally had to admit that he was on a cold trail. He had only met the man once, but he went all out trying to bring comfort to someone that he thought needed cheering. All of that outside his own parish duties!

So, Rev. J. Edwin Kerr of the Presbyterian church, we say, "Well done," and may your days in McLean be many.

1956 PONTIACS ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

Pontiac's 1956 models, which may be seen here tomorrow at Andrews Equipment Co., display the greatest number of color combinations in its 30-year history of producing one of America's favorite cars.

Pontiac owners this year will be able to pick from 56 different color combinations for the exteriors of their cars alone. Added to this are 79 trim combinations available on the interiors which offer Pontiac customers a variety of choice in colors that stagger the imagination.

Leading the color parade this year for Pontiac are combinations of sandalwood tan and sun beige, and Catalina blue and nimbus grey, exclusive on the Custom Star Chief series, which are expected by Pontiac to be popularity leaders in the color field.

Colors are not the only feature of the new 1956 Pontiacs to win new enthusiasts for this year. Fabrics of leather, nylon, morokide, and metallic thread are in such profusion as to intrigue the most discriminating tastes.

Pioneering in colorful interiors for many years, Pontiac offers for 1956 such colorful combinations as top grain hand buffed leather in handsome rust and beige or two-tone blue color tones or nylon faced fabrics in a combination of satin and repp weaves to give a three-dimensional effect.

Some discriminating owners may choose "stardust" covered fabric sprinkled with flecks of silvery ornamentation, or modern morokide, electrically welded to sponge rubber cure in a stitched ribbed pattern.

And those 79 trim combinations which provide for at least two, or in some cases as many as nine different interiors for each body, are not the only color additions. For even the 1956 instrument panels in some models boast new two-toning, complimenting both the colors of the interior and the exterior. Add to this a new trend to white this year with white control knobs, white lettering and trim, even to a beautiful new white steering wheel for the exciting convertibles and station wagons, and you have a car designed to please the most discriminating customer.

Texas Veterans' Land Board to Re-open Oct. 31

Earl Rudder, commissioner of the General Land Office, has announced from Austin that the Veterans' Land Board would accept requests for application forms to purchase land through the veterans' land program beginning October 31. Rudder stressed that all requests must be by mail. Requests received before October 31, will not be honored, and will be returned.

Rudder continued that the requests received the five-day period of the first week, beginning Monday, October 31, will be placed in a locked box, and then be drawn and numbered. A limited number will be mailed application forms immediately. The remainder will be notified of their relative position. After that first week, requests for application forms will be numbered consecutively as received.

Rudder cautioned veterans on the following matters: (1) old application forms will not be honored since entirely new forms have been written under the amended veterans land act. These application forms can be obtained by written request to the Veterans' Land Board ONLY: (2) The veteran should not send checks or cash with the request for application forms.

(3) The veteran's request must clearly set out his mailing address.

"UNDERSTANDING IS A TWO-WAY STREET"

Farm-City Week, to be observed during the October 23-29 period, is one of the best ideas of its kind that has appeared in a long time.

Its purpose is to create improved understanding between urban and rural dwellers—and to emphasize that neither is self-sufficient. The two groups are interdependent, and this interdependence is a primary source of our strength, wealth, and welfare as a nation.

The week's sponsors include the farm organizations, schools, farm publications, agricultural equipment manufacturers and other industrial concerns, the Department of Agriculture, and such organizations as the American Medical Association and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Kiwanis International has been chosen as the coordinating agent, because it has nearly 4,100 clubs throughout the country which can lead at the local level. Activities of the week will include city-run trade and farm fairs, week-end exchanges between young people of cities and farms, and participation by urban people in "Day on the Farm" programs.

There is an old saying that "Distant fields look greener." We humans tend to think that the other fellow's advantages are greater than ours—and that his problems aren't nearly so severe. Farm-City Week is designed to help get rid of that misconception. As Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said, "We need to understand one another—and understanding is a two-way street. We need to see that no economic group can exist by and for itself alone. We need to cooperate . . . that is the way to serve our nation, our brothers and our God."

"THE HISTORY OF MY LIFE"

In every far-flung reach of this country, millions of people look forward each week to the appearance of their local small-town papers. These papers are the running histories of the communities and regions they serve, and there is nothing that can take their place.

Now and then some old-time reader troubles to tell the editor just how he feels about the local paper. That pleasant experience happened the other day to the editor of the News, Hemet, California. The correspondent was a woman who had lived in the Hemet area for more than half a century. She wrote: "I have many fond memories of your newspaper and the people who have been connected with it. Not long ago . . . it occurred to me that in the files of your paper is the history of my life."

"Your paper recorded my birth, my childhood parties, my graduation from high school and later from college, my marriage, the arrival of each of my four children and the death of one of them—and now, in more recent years your columns have been recording the arrival, one by one, of my grandchildren . . . is it any wonder that your paper means so much in our home and that we look forward eagerly to receiving it each week?"

The country paper is an intensely personal thing, close to the lives and work and thoughts and aspirations of all who read it. And it's a certainty that no medium of communication and opinion has so large a proportion of loyal, beginning-to-end readers.

Well Bred Herd of Herefords

The following from a Missouri paper, relative to the herd of Herefords recently purchased by C. M. Carpenter in Kansas City, is self-explanatory, and substantiates the assertion that this is one of the best small herds in this section of the country:

"P. E. Spelman has just returned home from Kansas City where he delivered 22 head of fine young Hereford cattle to a Mr. Carpenter of Texas, for which he received a fancy price.

"While these cattle were in the yards at Kansas City, Mr. Spelman received many compliments on the herd. Each head safely passed the rigid examinations made by the government, and Mr. Carpenter was delighted with his purchase. Mr. Spelman has almost a nation-wide reputation as a breeder of fine Hereford cattle, having been in that industry for over 30 years, and during that time has sold many head of high priced Herefords to buyers all over the United States."

35 per cent home stored, and 15 per cent yet to thresh, it can be said that the Texas Panhandle and Plains have produced this year 12 million bushels of wheat, or double the production of last year.

The 50 per cent soft has averaged the farmer about $1.05 per bushel, which means that between six and seven million home wheat dollars have already been put in the Texas Panhandle and Plains circulation. — Amarillo Panhandle.

Is Building New Church
Work has commenced and is progressing rapidly on the new Nazarene church which is being erected by Contractor T. A. Cooke on the corner just north of the Western Lumber Co. The little building when completed will be neat and attractive and well suited to the needs of the congregation at this time.

It is understood that the contract price is in the neighborhood of one thousand dollars, the major portion of which was subscribed by the members of the Nazarene church themselves.

This church will be a substantial and attractive addition to the town and S. R. Jones, the head of the organization here, is to be congratulated upon the growth and expansion of his little congregation.

'56 Chevrolet sets new
in top-secret test!

Not long ago a hush-hush, camouflaged '56 Chevrolet scorched the nerve-breaking road up Colorado's Pikes Peak for a new NASCAR® certified record—the first time that old King of the Mountains has seen a new official stock car record in years! And what a road! 170 chilling turns and no guardrail! It's the first and only time a new model ever proved itself such a great road car before its introduction! The '56 Chevrolet showed the kind of performance that makes driving safer and more fun. So wait for the car that beat the King of the Mountains!

Maurine Morgan and John R. Taillon Exchange Vows

Miss Maurine Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Morgan of McAlester, Okla., and John R. Taillon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Taillon of New London, Conn., were married Sunday afternoon, October 16, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dickinson in McLean. Rev. Marvin Fisher read the double-ring ceremony.

The bridal party stood before the mantle in the living room which was decorated with pink gladioli, white and orchid asters, and fern tied with pink satin ribbon and topped with small white wedding bells. Gold candleabra were placed at each end of the mantle.

The bride's dress was a two-piece ensemble of mauve pink jersey trimmed with pink pearls and rhinestones. She wore a small mauve pink hat and carried a bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Dickinson, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and the best man was Kenneth Morgan, brother of the bride. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress. Her corsage was of red carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

The bride's niece, Betty Dickinson, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Barbara Carter, who sang "Because of You" and "Always."

A reception followed the wedding. An imported linen cloth covered the refreshment table, where pink candles in crystal holders flanked the wedding cake which was encircled in a decorative scheme of net and ribbon. The centerpiece was a crystal basket of pink carnations and white asters tied with streamers and love knots of pink satin ribbon. Mrs. Bob Leggett cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Kenneth Morgan poured the punch. Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Leggett, Mr.

and Mrs. Charlie Morgan, and Mrs. Horace Morgan of Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hinchey of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morgan of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Morgan of McAlester, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. John Turner and Chery of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Dickinson and Nancy, and Barbara Carter of McLean. After the wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home at 400 West Grand, McAlester, Okla. Mr. Taillon is IBM supervisor with the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot, and Mrs. Taillon is assistant manager of the Muskogee Industrial Finance Company.

County Agent Says Cattle Grub Is Costly to Ranchers

The common cattle grub is probably the most costly of the cattle parasites. They take thousands of dollars from the income of livestock producers in the area each year, says County Agent Ralph Thomas.

The grubs are appearing as lumps under the hide of dairy and beef animals, and are easier to kill at this stage than any other in the life cycle, says Thomas.

Rotenane, which is available in the form of cubes, used as a spray, dip or dust, is very effective for controlling the pest. Thomas says that seven and a half pounds of cube powder containing five per cent rotenane to 100 gallons of water makes a good spray solution. The material should be applied to the backs of the animals with a power sprayer with at least 200 pounds of pressure. It is better to put the cattle in a chute so that the spray can be applied directly on the backs.

A dust can be made from one pound of five per cent cube mixed with two pounds of talc. Ready-prepared dust should contain at least 1.67 per cent rotenane. Thomas says that about three ounces of the dust should be rubbed into the back of each animal.

Regardless of whether dust, dip or spray is used, applications should be made at 30 day intervals.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Tie This One For Consideration-

Closed the office early last Saturday to go after pheasants with Pops Foster. I used fewer shells than the old gentleman and took home more birds—but not because I did better shooting.

I'd borrowed a dog for the occasion. Pops took along Blue, his ancient pointer. Several times I noticed Pops walk up to a clump of bushes Blue had pointed at and fire into the air—though he hadn't flushed a single bird.

Naturally, I wanted to know why. "Well," he said sheepishly, "I've been hunting with that dog for 11 seasons. His nose isn't much help any more—but I'd rather waste a shell than let him know." From where I sit, Pops always shows consideration for people, too. For instance, this is a small thing, but he puts a bottle of beer on ice for me when I visit him—though he never takes anything but coffee himself. Even if he doesn't agree with me on a matter of personal choice (which is his right) he'd rather not make a "point" of letting me know.
