In regard to his performance this season, Head Coach Jack Riley stated that Jim had made exceptional progress and stands as one of the finest athletes on the Tiger squad. In field generalship, Rice has moved the McLean team to score a total of 77 points in the three games played this season. During last season he was mentioned for all-district honors.

A participant in other phases of athletics, he has also been active in basketball and track for the past three years.

Experience is one of the main elements in the value of McCurley to the team. He is now in his fourth year of football and has earned three previous letters.

In addition to football, McCurley has participated in both basketball and track for the past three years. In other fields he has been a member of the FFA for three years and served his class as reporter for three years.

Sitter Brings First '58 Cotton To McLean Gin

Spencer Sitter delivered the first bale of 1958 cotton to the McLean Gin Tuesday. The cotton, picked from a 4-acre irrigated field on the Sitter Ranch 20 miles south of McLean, produced a 480-pound bale from an 1800-pound load.

No report was available on the cotton grade, but the 44-acre field is expected to produce about two bales to the acre.

B. F. Holland, gin manager, said the first bale in 1957 was delivered on Sept. 27.

Cotton acreage in the McLean area is light this year. Approximately 32% of the normal cotton acreage is in the soil bank and about half of the planted acreage was either blown out or hailed out.

McLean Bank Deposits Show Continual Rise

An increase in deposits in the American National Bank in McLean reflects a steady increase in business activity here according to Clifford Allison, executive vice president of the bank.

Deposits as of Sept. 24, were $1,854,666, compared to $1,816,760 on June 23. Allison said deposits have increased approximately $300,000 since the bank opened its new building last fall.

Much of the increase, he said, is the effect of two good payrolls in the town. Marie Foundations factory now employs about 100 persons. Also adding a sizeable payroll to McLean economy is the El Paso Natural Gas plant.

Building here is hitting a record pace and a major project now in progress is construction of a new building and all new equipment by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. McLean phones are being changed to the dial system.

Another major commercial project is construction of a new building to house Puckett's Food Store. Brown's Rexall Drug store has recently been completely remodeled.

Also under construction is an

McLean population is estimated at approximately 2,000, and civic leaders say the figure would be considerably higher except for the housing shortage.

Oct. 10 has been designated as the date for the official beginning of the Boy Scout finance drive in McLean, according to Jim Hathaway, drive chairman.

On the morning of the 10th, a breakfast will be held in the McLean Cafe at 6:30 for the team captains who will serve in the McLean area. These are Hickman Brown, Mrs. Naomi McCarty, Sammy Haynes and Truitt Johnson. John C. Haynes will serve as special gifts chairman.

These captains meetings are being held in each community of the Santa Fe District, Boy Scouts of America.

In over all charge of the district campaign is Jerald Sims of Pampa. The drive will be carried on outside the Pampa-Lefors United Fund areas.

Game Marks First Of '58 District Slate

Tomorrow night the McLean Tigers roll into their first conference encounter of the 1958 season as they clash with the highly-touted Canadian Wildcats in a game there set for 7:30 p. m.

With three victories under their belt in non-district warmers, the Tigers will be facing one of the teams pre-polled to control the 2-A loop.

Under Coach Grady Burnett, the Wildcats will field the heaviest and most experienced team that McLean has faced this year.

The forward wall of the Wildcats will average 184 pounds per man, compared to the much lighter line of McLean at a 155 pound-per-man average.

In the backfield the Canadian team averages 177 pounds per man, compared to 150 pound average for Tiger backs.

Posing one of the biggest threats to the Tiger defense will be Canadian's flashy quarterback, Ken Abraham, who is now earning his fourth letter with the Wildcat squad. At 170 pounds, Abraham is one of the fastest men in the region, in addition to his highly praised ability in engineering and deception at the key position.

Also rated as one of the top gridirers in the area is Canadian's fullback, Jim Wilborn. Wilborn weighs 185 pounds and furnishes the power attack for the Wildcat offense.

Carrying the load for McLean in the game will be Quarterback Jim Rice, who has established himself during the earlier part of the season to be one of the district's most lethal ball handlers. Sharing the running will be Fullback Billy Crockett and Halfbacks David Crockett and Jerry Biggers. This foursome has demonstrated its outstanding ability through the first three games, causing McLean to be considered more every week as a strong offensive power.

Head Coach Jack Rikley stated this week that he and the team are well aware of the strength of the Canadian unit. He said it had proved the fact that it fully deserves the rating of being one of the district's top contenders.

Game time has definitely been set for 7:30, although it had been mentioned before that conference games would be later.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGulre and daughter, Nancy, of Roswell, N. M., spent the week end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Longino.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Prater and daughters, Linda and Donna, visited Mrs. Mildred Grigsby last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stewart were in Hamlin Saturday to attend the funeral of his uncle, Will Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnson and girls of Petersburg spent the week end with Mrs. Bunia Kunkel. Sunday guests in the Kunkel home were Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Kunkel of Pampa.

MR. AND MRS. NICHOLSON TO OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

IT HAPPENED HERE

Taken From the Files of The McLean News, 1918 Wilson-Sullivan

Last Saturday evening Mr. Allen Wilson and Miss Fay Sullivan were married at the Presbyterian manse. For several days these young people have kept their friends watching and guessing, but on Saturday evening they leaped over the broom stick and stepped into the matrimonial boat and set sail on life's happy sea. These young people are some of McLean's most popular ones.

The words that made their lives one were said by Rev. Smith, pastor of the church. A host of friends wish them a happy and prosperous voyage, and bid them God speed on life's sea. That infair dinner

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilson gave a dinner in honor of their two newly married children, Allen and Maude, and their better halves. Mr. and Mrs. Evan Sitter, another newly married couple, were also present.

'Tis said that three is a crowd, and so there was a crowd of "newly weds" on hand to participate in this happy event. Quite a number of other friends were also honored guests. It is useless to say that Mrs. Wilson knows how to fix things to suit the appetite. Everyone who has eaten there knows that. The feast was luxurious and hugely enjoyed by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson know how to entertain their friends and make them want to come again. When the time came to go the guests all departed leaving with the host and hostess their many thanks and best wishes. To the newly weds they feel most grateful for making this day possible, and bid them God speed over life's fitful sea.

S. H. Bundy left Monday for Vega where he and his family intend to make their home.

D. A. Davis went to Amarillo Sunday to attend the O. R. T. meeting. He returned Monday.

Emmett Thompson went to Oklahoma City Sunday.

Lucius Rogers returned from Canyon Monday.

Mrs. Veatch and Mrs. Ballard spent Tuesday in Amarillo doing some winter shopping.

J. E. Cubine went to Oklahoma City Sunday.

Culberson Bogan and wife and Miss Lorene Stanfield went to Amarillo Thursday.

T. J. Coffey and mother and Mrs. Luther Coffey and family spent last Sunday in Erick, Okla., visiting Dr. Yarborough and wife.

Mr. Latson is building himself a new house just north of the Presbyterian church.

A number of young people enjoyed a chicken supper at Mrs. Frank Faulker's Saturday night.

Mrs. J. S. Morse returned last Saturday from a visit of several days with her sister in Woodward, Okla.

Luther McCombs is going around with a long face these days. Mrs. McCombs is gone, you know.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crockett and Mrs. Christian and her son, Hansel, went to Amarillo last Sunday to visit with S. B. Christian and family. They returned home Sunday.

Built-In Oven Must Be Right Height for You

Convenient built-in oven with four cooking units nearby saves footsteps and means more space

There's a lot of cooking going on around a house these days. In many instances this means that mom is the indoor cook and dad the outdoor chef.

When this is true, cooking units such as a built-in oven with a drop-in cooktop nearby should be placed near the doorway to a terrace or patio. Once cooking is done, guests can serve themselves from food set on the oven door.

Color is coming to more kitchens, and this is true of this appliance which comes in four shades as well as the standard white. Remember, whether you plan to have one oven unit, two stack units or two side by side, see that the men set the units at a comfortable, convenient height for you. One housewife discovered workmen had installed her kitchen wall units at a height for the average woman, but she wasn't the average height, so the units had to be rehung.

"HEAVEN-SENT OPPORTUNITY"

As Senator Bridges of New Hampshire sees it, this country faces a double-edge threat. One edge is Russia. The other consists of the people "who believe this nation should adopt its own version of socialism."

As an example, the Senator selected the electric industry, pointing out that it has been the first target of the government ownership forces. And they have had some marked successes in their drive to nationalize it—as the tax-eating, tax-dodging Tennessee Valley Authority and other such monolithic agencies amply demonstrate. And now the socialists have found a new world they seek to conquer in atomic energy. Of this, Senator Bridges said: "Our hydroelectric potential that is economically justifiable, is nearly exhausted. The atom, therefore, represented to them a heaven-sent opportunity to branch out in a new direction."

That caused the Butte, Montana, Standard to say editorially: "So while the welfare-staters are aboard a new horse, they are riding to reach the same goal—government ownership of all power facilities. As the hydroelectric potential is running out, they are getting aboard the atomic power potential. That's why there's such an outcry when anybody suggests private enterprise should invade the atomic power field."

Leading socialist spokesmen have long emphasized the need for taking over the power industry. Control of electric energy could be used to achieve control of everything and everybody. If atomic energy, with its unlimited potentialities, is ever nationalized, the total state will be here.

NO NEED FOR PICKETS

It was only a few years ago that a big American city was startled by a line of women picketing the mayor's office. Some of them pushed baby buggies or held infants in their arms. They bore signs saying:

"We Demand Salk Vaccine" and "Protect Our Children Against Polio."

This was the year when the Salk vaccine, only recently developed by March of Dimes researchers, was in such demand that the drug manufacturers could not turn it out fast enough. Polio epidemics still raged across the country. Hospital wards were crowded with paralyzed patients.

Today, thanks to the Salk vaccine, epidemics are few and small, the playgrounds are filled with healthy youngsters and many of the polio wards are being turned to other uses. Today, with three out of four children vaccinated, there are no more lines demanding vaccine.

Instead, we have another phenomenon. With ample supplies at hand for inoculating all who need it, the vaccine is piling up on warehouse shelves.

More than 45 million people in the polio-susceptible age groups under 40 have failed to get this essential protection. Each of these 45 million is a possible victim of polio and its incurable crippling. With so many people still vulnerable, polio experts like The National Foundation (formerly The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis) warn us that epidemics might once again break out.

If you have not had your complete series of three Salk shots, get them now. It's the cheapest health insurance on the market.

Congressman Rogers Reports—

TO THE PEOPLE

How Dangerous Is Atom Bomb?

The Soviet Union has the capacity of attacking any target within the United States with nuclear weapons. Initial attacks will probably include sufficient nuclear weapons to hit all of our critical target areas, and less heavy raids will follow. Any of our cities can be substantially destroyed by one explosion from a bomb or missile. The enemy will probably aim its attack at the daytime centers of population within each city. Any city attacked will need a substantial amount of outside aid to meet the emergency. A warning time of only one hour is expected in case of an attack from bombers. In event of an attack by missiles the warning time will be reduced to only a fraction of an hour.

Studies on civil defense in the United States have identified 92 critical target areas with a population of 68 million people. Our air defense officials have described 170 standard metropolitan areas, each with a population of 50,000 or more. These areas contain 55% of the industry of this country. An attack on the most important 50 of these 170 metropolitan areas would bring under fire 50% of the population, 50% of the key facilities, and 60% of the industry of the United States.

The magnitude of such a catastrophe is obvious. For example, a 10 megaton bomb—a weapon of only one half the explosive power detonated by the United States at Eniwetok in 1954—exploded over the middle of New York City would include in its three-mile radius of total destruction a daytime working population of at least four million. Within this three-mile radius all buildings would be totally destroyed, and an expected mortality rate of 75% would produce three million deaths. The remainder would be so severely injured that they could survive only if hospitalized immediately, a doubtful contingency when we consider the disruption and devastation surely to result from the blast.

Furthermore, within an additional seven-mile radius of the explosion all buildings would be heavily damaged, and the most conservative estimates indicate a mortality rate of 30%, with at least 40% of the remainder injured to varying degrees of severity. In New York City—to use this example again—there would be 900,000 additional dead and at least 600,000 injured.

A successful attack on the 50 most important urban centers in this country, containing 50% of the population of the United States, would cause 15 or 20 million dead and 20 to 25 million injured. Such a casualty would produce unseparable medical problems. Under normal conditions a hospital requires five persons to care for one patient. But most hospitals and most doctors will be within the target area and will, therefore, suffer the same damage and casualties as the rest of the population. Essential lifegiving blood transfusions for millions of casualties will be out of the question. The medical situation is further complicated by the almost certain disappearance of hygienic conditions of life—leaving survivors open to a whole range of epidemic diseases caused by destruction of water purifying apparatus, the breakdown of sanitary disposal systems, and the spoilage of food from lack of refrigeration.

A city without electricity, without fuel, without a pure water supply, without telephone exchanges, without hospitals, without an effective government and police force, without a coordinate system of exchange of goods and services, without the operation of trained technical and managerial skill—such a city is not a city at all. It is only a rubble of concrete and steel, a jungle in which there is only the slightest chance for survival.

I do not claim the apocalyptic wisdom to predict the outcome of a nuclear war between the communist bloc and the free world. Given the refusal of the Soviet Union to agree to an effective system for controlling atomic weapons and the determination of the non-communist world to defend its freedom and independence, we have had no alternative but to arm ourselves with the most powerful weapons at our command. We do this in the hope that war can be prevented and that civilization can somehow continue to balance two weights of terror on the precipice of survival.

This newsletter is not for the purpose of frightening anyone out of their wits. It is for the purpose of furnishing factual information established after very careful calculation. It must be remembered that even though the Soviet Union does have the power first mentioned in this newsletter, the United States has equal power, if not more, and the Russians know it.

Bible Comment:

Jesus Set Pattern For Uplifting Backward Peoples

Many persons express surprise that a man of the cloth will always accompany a condemned man to his death, or that missionaries spend their lives working to uplift, educate and convert savages and derelicts to a finer way of life.

The question, "Are these people worth it?" is answered clearly in the Bible.

We have record that Christ was entertained in the home of Levi, where many publicans and sinners sat down to eat with Him. The narrow-minded Pharisees complained, "The man receiveth sinners and eateth with them."

The incident was an epochal contradiction to the shopworn adage, "A man is known by the company he keeps."

In meeting people on their own level, Christ lifted those people to something higher.

The dedicated missionaries and others who administer to the backward, the condemned, the insane and the vagrant are doing more than meeting those unfortunate on their own level—they are seeking to emulate the efforts of Christ.

Those that administer to must not be judged simply by their outward appearances. How many of the lost and backward have been uplifted to responsible places in civilized society may never be known. But the inroads that the workers of Jesus make daily into ignorance, despair and misfortune must eventually contribute to a reshaped world—a finer society inspired by Christian Love.

The publication reports that cotton consumption in the United States, in the end uses covered in the study, increased from almost 7.6 million bales in 1947 to more than 8.1 million bales in 1956. In 1939, before the National Cotton Council's programs to increase cotton consumption through research and promotion were inaugurated, only 6.6 millions bales of cotton were consumed in these end uses.

The report shows that cotton expanded, in the household uses market although its share of the market declined somewhat. Consumption in this field in 1947 was slightly more than two million bales, while in 1956 it had climbed to almost 2.5 million bales. Cotton's share of the household market declined, however, from 56 to 52 per cent. By comparison, in 1939, cotton held 62 per cent of the market but consumption was only 1.9 million bales.

Cotton's greatest loss during the period covered by the report came in industrial uses. From 2.7 million bales consumed in 1947 cotton dropped to about 2.7 million bales in 1956. Consumption in this area, however, remained virtually steady from 1953 on. Researchers were not able to estimate cotton's share of the overall industrial market because of insufficient data on the consumption of competing materials in certain areas.

An increase in the apparel market led the way toward a general rise in cotton consumption during the ten years ending in 1956.

According to the National Cotton Council, cotton scored a gain of more than 1.25 million bales in the apparel market during that time. In 1947, cotton held 56 per cent of the market, in terms of raw cotton equivalent, with consumption estimated at 2.7 million bales. By 1956, cotton held 61 per cent of the apparel market with consumption estimated at more than four million bales. These figures are contained in "Cotton Counts Its Customers—Special Edition," a report just released by the Council's market research section. It contains cotton consumption estimates on more than 400

By Jack Riley

Pastor McLean Methodist Church

A person AWOL from Uncle Sam's outfit must pay the consequences.

God called Jonah to go to Ninevah and cry against the wickedness of the people. Jonah didn't want the job of speaking to those non-Jews. He was a Jew among Jews. To escape this task Jonah was AWOL. He hopped a boat for Tarshish, a Jewish mining colony in southwest Spain. All was well—except for a storm at sea. In fear, the sailors all prayed to their gods for protection. The AWOL character was asleep below deck. The captain suspected something. Everyone cast lots to determine the guilty one who had caused the storm. Jonah is accused. He felt the same way as the sailors. The solution was to put him overboard. Here a fish enters the story of AWOL Jonah. (It is best I leave this portion of the story for fishermen to interpret.)

Jonah spoke to the people of Ninevah, "Yet forty days and Ninevah shall be overthrown!" Jonah 3:4. The people repented. The king put on sackcloth and prayed to God.

This displeased Jonah . . . the AWOL is impossible. He didn't want the non-Jew to have God's mercy and forgiveness. Jonah went out of the city limits and sat down. The sun was hot . . . but a castor bean stalk grew up to shade him. He cooled off. During the night a worm attacked the plant and it died. This made Jonah mad enough to die.

Church member, are you AWOL from your church? "What do you mean, you sleeper? Arise, call upon your god." Jonah 1:6. Perhaps we in the boat (church) have cast lots and cast you overboard because you failed to meet "our" laws (have this mind in you which is in us also). We didn't let you in "our" social group because you failed to "sack out" as you should. We frowned upon your leadership in "our" church because you were not a good enough Christian—yet!

It bothered the sailors when they put Jonah overboard. Jonah was concerned in the tummy of the fish. We have more sensitive tummies than we do minds and hearts in "our" town. When our tummies are affected, we get concerned. Yet two-thirds of the people in the world today are hungry. Three-fourths of the people of the world live under dictators. Three-fifths of the people of the world today can neither read nor write. (And they don't have TV.) Two-thirds of the people of the world are not Christian. One-half of those have never heard the word Jesus Christ.

Are we concerned when the sinner repents? How often have we heard these questions: "Does he mean it? How long will it last? He'll never make it. You mean we have to associate with him?"

Jonah cursed the cutworm when he could have proclaimed God. But Jonah was AWOL!

Miss Helen Valree Nutt, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Nutt of McLean, and M. A. Boyce, Jr., of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Boyce of Quail, were united in marriage Sept. 27 at 8 p. m. in the Assembly of God Church.

Rev. Nutt, pastor of the church and father of the bride, read the single ring ceremony.

Miss Katy Harrington of Shamrock sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond, and "Wither Thou Goest" by Singer. She was accompanied by Miss Anita Loyd who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Wanda Hall of McLean served as maid of honor. Marion Boyce, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Claude Hendricks and Freddy Boyce of Quail. Freddy is a brother of the groom. Candlelighters were

MRS. M. A. BOYCE, JR.

Diana Shugart and Aaron Lee Nutt, brother of the bride.

The church was beautifully decorated with an archway of pink roses, pink carnations, huckleberry fern and queen's lace, flanked by seven branched candelabra with cathedral tapers.

The bride's dress was of white Chantilly lace with a bolero with pearl buttons. The long sleeves came to a point at the wrist. Her fingertip veil hung from a collette or orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of pink carnations with pink satin streamers showing with pink feathered carnations.

A reception was held in the Assembly of God parsonage. The round table covered with yellow linen held a six-layer wedding cake topped with a bride and groom and decorated with pink roses, and a punch service. Cathy Hendricks and Mary Hall served and Hazel and Carol delightfully registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Tennessee and other points of interest the bride chose a green dress with brown prima cotton.

Mrs. Nutt wore a green suit with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother chose a tan dress with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of McLean High School. The groom attended school at Victory, Okla., and is employed by the R. C. Cement Co. in Amarillo.

The couple will be at home at 502 Lake St. in Amarillo after Oct. 4.
