

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

The Top o' Texas and Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association Field Day and barbecue here last Thursday was well covered by newspapers, radio and television. In fact, we haven't seen so many reporters and photographers together at one time since the national conventions last month.

Tom Kelly covered the event for the Amarillo newspapers and Fred Parker was here with camera and scratch pad for the Pampa Daily News.

Cotton John Smith and photographer Bill Rhew were here on behalf of the farm and ranch department of KGNC radio and television.

Flip Breedlove, Pete Land and Ralph Thomas did a wonderful job of preparing the barbecue and Jake and Faris Hess and Frank Carter did a fine job in seeing that there was plenty for everybody.

Breedlove, Land and Thomas were presented with new hats for a job well done and the Lions Club members who served the meal devoured more than enough good barbecue to make up for the time they spent in serving it.

One of the speakers Thursday night said that he thought Hereford breeders shouldn't go too far in trying to find short bulls. He said he thought that in this west Texas country a bull with longer legs wouldn't be as apt to hit his center.

McLean received 1.04 inch of rain Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:00 o'clock. Bob Glenn and some of the other city boys said that the dust didn't even stop blowing northwest of town.

Don't forget the Tiger- Irish game in Shamrock tomorrow night. The boys deserve and need your support.

Lions Club Told Of Football Squad At Tuesday Meeting

Six guests and one re-instated member were present when Lion Boss George Saunders called the regular meeting of the McLean Lions Club to order Tuesday at noon.

Lion Sammy Haynes was in charge of the program and he presented Coach Hap Rogers and Assistant Coach Jack Riley, who discussed the McLean Tiger football squad.

Coach Rogers told the club that prospects are not as good now as they had been a few weeks ago, due to the loss of six experienced and valuable men. He added that the local team is in good physical shape but that they are short on experience and weight.

Some of the boys who would have added much strength to the team but will not be playing this year are Dale Greenhouse, Clyde Rawlings, E. W. Riley, Fred Smith, Jim Rice, who received a broken arm, and Lester Sitter.

Coach Riley said that he had never seen a bunch of boys who had more desire than the group he is working with here this year. He said that McLean might not have the best ball club in the Panhandle or the worst ball club, either, but that it would certainly have the hustlingest group of boys in the area.

In other business, Lion Boss Saunders named the committee in charge of the broom sale which will be held November 13. The committee is composed of Johnnie Back, Rsh Turner and Elmo Whaley.

Guests present were Faris Hess, a guest of Hickman Brown, Raymond Darsey, County Agent Ralph Thomas, Assistant Agent Robert Adams, Coach Hap Rogers and Assistant Coach Jack Riley.

Ranch Fire Wipes Out Two Sections North of Alanreed

Almost two sections of grass land were burned before firemen from McLean, Lefors and Pampa could get the blaze under control when fire swept over a portion of the Billy Davis Ranch, 11 miles north of Alanreed, Thursday afternoon.

The fire broke out about 12:30 p. m. It was stopped at 3:30 by a crew which included two units from McLean's Fire Department, one from Lefors and two from Pampa. About 50 volunteer firefighters from nearby ranches, farms and oil rigs helped extinguish the fire.

James E. Parker, owner of the land on which Davis holds a grass lease, said the fire broke out about 100 yards from the Parker Brothers 1-A oil well. The blaze missed the rig by about 20 yards.

Parker said he went to the ranch house where the foreman's wife, Mrs. Hennie Sloan, turned in the alarm to the McLean and Lefors departments and called neighbors to help fight the fire.

The firefighters used county road maintainers to scrape fireguards and stop the blaze after it had moved over a strip three miles long through the rolling grass and thistle covered range land.

No firemen were injured and no cattle were lost.

Coach John Bond's Irish have a definite weight advantage. At least seven of the Tigers' heaviest and most experienced players will not see action at all this season. Those lost from the team are Dale Greenhouse, the 195-pound right end; Clyde Rawlings, 190-pound right tackle; E. W. Smith, 140-pound guard.

The Tiger team, which consists of 25 active players, is composed of five seniors, five juniors, nine sophomores and nine freshmen.

Although the Tigers are handicapped in the weight and experience departments, Coach Rogers and Assistant Coach Jack Riley have stated that the boys are in good shape and certainly have a fighting spirit.

With ten games scheduled for the season, the Tigers' first conference encounter will come October 19 when they meet Clarendon here. The first home game of the season will be against Wheeler next Friday, September 14.

Hereford Breeders Enjoy FIELD DAY AND BARBECUE

Between 300 and 400 persons were present for the Field Day of the Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders Association which was held in McLean last Thursday.

For the first time the field day was sponsored by the Top o' Texas group in cooperation with the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association.

The Hess Ranch, one mile south of McLean, was the scene of the earlier portion of the field day when visiting cattlemen and their families looked over the Hess stock.

As the crowd gathered they were served cold drinks and ice-cold watermelon. Problems encountered in raising Hereford cattle, drought, markets and the cattle business in general were main topics of discussion.

Leaving the Hess Ranch at 5:30, the group then went to Duncan Field where barbecue, beans, and all the trimmings were served beginning at 6:00 o'clock. The barbecue was prepared by Flip Breedlove and Pete Land of Clarendon and Ralph Thomas of Pampa.

Members of the McLean Lions Club served the meal which was donated by J. L. Hess, Faris Hess and Frank Carter.

Master of Ceremonies Faris Hess got the program underway at 7:30.

Jack Roach of Amarillo, a past president of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association, spoke on "What I Look for in Buying a Bull."

Roach said that if he could see only one part of an animal he would want to look at the head when choosing a bull.

He said that he believed too much stress had been placed upon obtaining a short bull.

Main speaker of the evening was Doyle Chambers, a professor in the animal husbandry department of Oklahoma A & M College. Chambers spoke on "Dwarfism" in cattle.

He pointed out to the group that in order for a dwarf to be produced, a defective gene must be obtained from one of the parents. He told of various researches being carried on in an attempt to locate a method of determining those cattle carrying the genes which cause dwarfism.

A question and answer session was conducted by Chambers following his talk.

'Congo Crossing' Is Vivid Tale, Jungle Adventure

After dropping over the side of an African riverboat into waist-deep water and slowly wading ashore, Virginia Mayo wrapped herself in a blanket and remarked:

"What ever happened to my plans to do only musicals?"

The girl who has been called the most beautiful blonde in the world, was deep in the throes of adventure in the Belgian Congo with co-stars George Nader and Peter Loree, whipping up the rugged Universal-International Technicolor drama, "Congo Crossing," which opens Friday at the Derby Drive-In.

"Instead of piousettes we have Pygmy poison arrows," moans Miss Mayo. "I'm beaten, shot at, burned by the sun, fever-ridden, bug-bitten, foot-sore, arm-weary, scratched, bruised, and you-name-it. A fine state of affairs for a girl who wants to dance a little and sing a song or two."

Virginia, who hails originally from St. Louis, had a musical career rolling along in high gear a few short years ago. It began after Samuel Goldwyn discovered her at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe in New York, signed her to a film contract and gave her an auspicious debut with

Danny Kaye in "Up in Arms." After three more musicals with Kaye, she got a wonderful break in the straight dramatic role of Dana Andrews' gold-digging wife in "The Best Years of Our Lives."

Editorial

ANOTHER "SCRAP OF PAPER?"

"Biggest stake in the diplomatic poker game currently being played over the Suez Canal is oil," says The Oil and Gas Journal. If, for instance, Egypt's Premier Nasser's seizure resulted in closing this vital waterway to international traffic, the oil would have to be carried around the Cape of Good Hope or greatly increased pipeline capacity would have to be built between the Middle East and the Mediterranean. In either case the cost—both in money, and in the even more essential coin of time—would be enormous, and the effect on the industry of England and much of Western Europe would be catastrophic.

Going beyond oil, the implications of Nasser's action are ominous in the extreme. The New York Times came straight to the principle at stake in these words: "If, at any time and under and conditions, a man or a nation can simply throw away their commitments, the whole basis for normal living is undermined if not destroyed."

It isn't a question of how much money General Nasser can take out of the canal or even of whether he can operate it at all. It is a question of whether international agreements such as that respecting Suez are morally binding or are scraps of paper to be torn up at the whim of the dictator. That is a matter of the utmost concern not merely for Britain, France and Egypt, but for all of us.

Both Britain and France have made it clear that Nasser's action will not be countenanced. The hope—as President Eisenhower has said—is that this matter of vast gravity can be settled without recourse to force of arms.

ALICE-IN-TAXLAND

There is an Alice-in-Wonderland quality about our federal income tax laws, with their extremely high upper-bracket rates. U. S. News & World Report gives an example.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the federal government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

Does that sound absurd? Well, here's the true story. The world's highest-salaried ball player ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep on practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on this player's income is 84 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket.

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ball player would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4,200."

Very few of us have any personal experience with either $100,000 incomes or $5,000 fines. But this factual illustration indicates just how confused, inequitable, and generally unsound our tax laws are. Like Topsy, they just grew—and grew into a crazy quilt. That's why sentiment for a complete overhaul has been snowballing.

Big Rabbit Drive

A rabbit drive was organized last Friday on the farms of J. W. Johnson, J. W. Bailey and Ryan Gibson, in which about 75 men participated. Over 900 rabbits were killed, or that many were counted. Rev. Baxter Goughly was the champion, bagging 37 of the mule-ear variety.

On Friday of this week a drive will be held on the ranch of G. W. Klutts north of town, and it hoped that two hundred people will be present. The rabbits are doing considerable damage to farms along Red River.

Pioneer Study Club Annual Breakfast

Mrs. Jim Back and Mrs. Forrest Hupp were hostesses last week to members of the Pioneer Study Club at a breakfast in the home of Mrs. Back.

The breakfast tables were beautifully decorated in fall colors and at each plate was a place card bearing the name of a guest with a title best fitting her career—in keeping with "Career Women," which is the club's program theme for the year.

Mrs. Sinclair Armstrong, retiring president, conducted the installation service and gave each new officer a career woman's name: Mrs. Freeman Melton, Jr., president (Eleanor Roosevelt); Mrs. Elmo Whaley, vice president (Faye Emerson); Mrs. Guy Hester, secretary-treasurer (Ouida Culp Hobby); Mrs. Hickman Brown, reporter (Mary Margaret McBride); and Mrs. Lucille Gething, parliamentarian (Amy Vanderbilt).

Mrs. Melton then conducted the business and named her committees. Fruit bowls, bacon, scrambled eggs, hot rolls, jelly and coffee were served to Mesdames Sinclair Armstrong, Hickman Brown, J. D. Coleman, Lucille Gething, Guy Hester, Freeman Melton, Jr., W. D. Priest, Hap Rogers, Elmo Whaley, June Woods, W. E. Bogan, H. W. Finley, Jesse Coleman, Jack Riley, Clyde Magee, and the hostesses.

There will be a called business meeting at 4 o'clock September 13 in the home of Mrs. Elmo Whaley.

Refreshments of cookies, kool-aid and coffee were served by the Lena Lair circle to the following: Mesdames Leo Gibson, Joe Suderman, Leroy Williams, Homer Abbott, Bunia Kunkel, Joe Taylor, Arthur Boyd, Morris Brown, Frank Simpson, A. L.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stevens are announcing the engagement, and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Ann, to Joe Ed Sherrod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sherrod of Alarid.

Nuptials will be read in the First Baptist Church Saturday evening, October 27, at 7:00 o'clock. Friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Congressman Rogers Reports— TO THE PEOPLE

The annual adjournment of Congress always causes a noticeable lull in the activities around the Capitol and the House and Senate office buildings. But, the most notable curtailment of activities in the Capitol occurs when the tourist season begins to taper off during the last two weeks of August. The slackening of the tourist trade is felt, not only on Capitol Hill itself, but all over the city of Washington and its suburbs. There are many people here who make their living from the tourist and the tourist trade. Among these are the guides in the Capitol Building. They meet you at the entrance to the main rotunda, and for a small fee, will escort you in a group to all of the important places in the Capitol Building proper and, also, the House and Senate wings. These guides know their business well and can give you a pretty thorough history concerning the Capitol in the brief time required by the tour. On one occasion some folks from the Panhandle had joined one of these tours before I realized they were in town. When I saw what they were doing, I just joined with them and went on the tour. While we were in the gallery of the House of Representatives chamber, I suggested to the guide, a very nice woman, that she tell them something about the occasion when the Puerto Ricans fired a fullsalade of shots from the gallery into the membership of the House. She looked somewhat dismayed and stated that she had been instructed not to go into that affair and asked who I was. I informed her that I was a member of Congress and had been present when these people shot at the members. Whereupon, she suggested that I might want to explain the matter so that it would not get her into trouble with her superiors. So, I temporarily became a lecturer on a guided tour and explained the Puerto Rican shooting affair to the group. I have never found out why reference to the Puerto Rican affair was prohibited, but suppose there must have been a good reason.

There are times during the height of the tourist season when it is almost impossible to pass through the corridors of the Capitol Building unless you are in one of these tours. The groups are large and there are several of them moving about at the same time. On some occasions during the season when it has become necessary for me to go over to the Senate side of the Capitol I have gone to the sub-basement and crossed over underground. Incidentally, you can go all over Capitol Hill underground, except to the Library of Congress and the Supreme Court Building. These passages are not used by the tourist groups because there is nothing of interest to a tourist unless he happens to be a plumber, electrician or some kind of engineer.

One of the main features of the tour is Statuary Hall, which is a small rotunda to the south of the main rotunda. It is the place that the House of Representatives originally met in the Capitol Building. It now contains statues of American notables, such as Sam Houston of Texas, and some people from other states whose names I have difficulty in remembering. There is one spot in this small rotunda that is marked by a brass marker in the floor. The guide gets her group around this particular spot and explains to them that they are to remain there and listen. She then goes across the rotunda to the other side and talks in an ordinary tone of voice. The peculiar acoustics of this particular rotunda carry the sound of her voice clearly and audibly to the group gathered around the brass marker. There are several stories about the acoustics of this rotunda, but one of the favorites is the one about Thomas Jefferson. It was reported that he had his desk located at the exact spot where the brass marker was in the floor so that he could hear, without difficulty, what all of the members of the House of Representatives were saying about him.

But as I pointed out, things are getting pretty quiet because tourists are beginning to dwindle. It will soon be very, very quiet around the Capitol until Congress reconvenes in January of 1937.

I wish that it were possible for every person in the United States of America to have the opportunity of visiting the Capital City and staying long enough to go through the government buildings, both historic and modern. It is always good to see these high school groups come into Washington. They always get a first hand view of what their government is and how it works. For the future success of any democracy, an understanding of the government by the people is essential.

McLean and Firemen Are Thanked for Disaster Fund Aid

Up to and including Tuesday, August 28, the total contributions to the Dumas-Sunray disaster relief fund amounted to $39,212.17. This amount was raised by the Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas and cities, firms and individuals.

The McLean Fire Department contributed $100 to the disaster fund, as did the City of McLean, making a total of $200 contributed here.

A check for $20,913.16 payable to the Sunray firemen's relief fund has been mailed to Chief Earl Shields, who together with Chaplain Rev. David M. Hamblin and Mayor Dick Rodgers compose the committee to disburse the funds in the Sunray department.

A check for $18,299.01 payable to the Dumas firemen's relief fund has been mailed to Chief Roy Meier, who together with Chaplain Rev. Karl Ernst and Mayor H. S. McMurray are the committee to disburse the funds in the Dumas department.

Olin Culberson, secretary-treasurer of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association, expressed his appreciation in a letter addressed to the McLean Fire Department. He said, in part:

"The generous response made to this appeal for assistance to the families of our deceased fellow firemen is proof positive of the goodness of the heart of the people of Texas, and particularly the firemen.

Any additional contributions that might straggle in after the closing date of Tuesday, August 28, will be divided on the same basis and sent to the same committees for distribution.

'Three Stripes in The Sun' Slated For Derby Drive-In

Columbia Pictures' sensational true love adventure, "Three Stripes in The Sun," starring Aldo Ray, Phil Carey and Dick York and introducing beautiful Japanese actress, Mitsuko Kimura, opens Wednesday at the Derby Drive-In Theatre. Reported by Hollywood to be an unusually powerful story of love that triumphs over the barriers of different languages, cultures and traditions, "Three Stripes in The Sun" is one of the very few Hollywood films ever to be shot entirely—with one inevitable exception—in Japan. As such, it is said to bring to the screen new and fascinating backgrounds of the teeming and colorful streets of Japanese cities, it shines and beauty spots.

The story itself is unique, based as it is on the real love story of M. Sgt. Hugh O'Reilly, the professional soldier and veteran of combat in the Pacific theatre who went to Japan for occupation duty
