C. P. Gets Lion's Share Of Votes

Boss Lion rang the bell and commenced talking before hardly anybody finished their cake.

Somebody fouled up and there wasn't any program, but they decided to elect a secretary and that was better anyway.

The names of Lion Harvey Taylor and Lion C. P. Hamilton were put forth because some thought we ought to have a country secretary seeing as how the others had all been city boys.

Lion Johnny Haynes objected to this on grounds that it wasn't according to the true spirit of Lionism.

Lion John Haynes, who had been fined earlier for losing the roll and causing undue noise about it, rose to a point of order. But he sat down and Lion Harvey threatened to embezzle the money if they elected him.

Then they left, but Lion Harvey peeked when the voting commenced.

Lion C. P. won, but the tally wasn't announced because Lion Hickman couldn't count that high.

Lion Christian talked about the little league.

Lion Lamb was rowdy.

Large Crowd Attends Alanreed Homecoming

The annual Alanreed homecoming was held last Sunday in the Alanreed school gymnasium. There were 212 persons registered. 104 of whom were from the Alanreed-McLean communities, and 108 were from out of town.

An interesting program was enjoyed in the morning session. During the business meeting, L. H. Earthman was elected president for the ensuing year; Mrs. H. H. Worsham, vice president; and Mrs. Marvin Hall, secretary-treasurer.

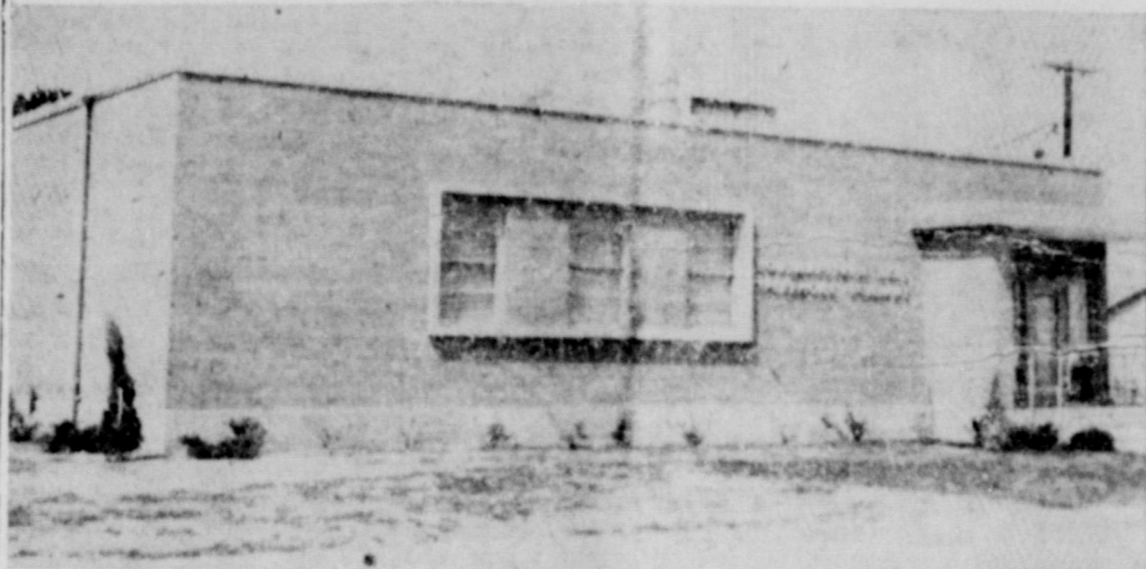

The award for having lived in the community the longest time went to Roy McCracken, who has been here over 60 years. Miss Alice Hommel of Dallas received the award for a former resident coming the longest distance for the homecoming.

Officers and committee members expressed thanks to everyone who helped in any way to make the homecoming a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Beasley and daughter, Martha Ann, transacted business in New Home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty and Vernon Kennedy made a trip to Cheyenne and Sayre, Okla., Wednesday of last week.

Dial System Switch This Week

DIAL SYSTEM INSTALLATION—Beginning Sunday morning the new Bell Telephone building, above, will be company headquarters. The new $135,000 structure houses a complex dial system that will accommodate McLean's needs until the city grows to more than twice its present size.

Telephones Will Cut Over Early Sunday Morning; New Office Set

"Number please."

That's an expression that's assuming a role in McLean's history along with nickel coffee and the horse and buggy.

Next Sunday morning at 1:01 a. m. Southwestern Bell Telephone officials will throw a switch changing McLean's telephone system to dial phones.

New directories were mailed to all Bell customers Thursday. Bell Telephone Manager Clyde Dickerson urges all customers to read the "information" page in these directories in order to clear up any questions concerning the new system.

Clyde announced with great regret that no longer could the time, weather and other topics of general gossip be given out.

That, he said, is a service that must be sacrificed to progress.

Company workers have been busily engaged the past weeks in connecting a maze of wires and switches in the new telephone building on the south lane of Highway 66.

There are now 722 phones in McLean and the new dial plant has a capacity of 1,500. The new Bell building was constructed at a cost of $135,000.

When the switch is made early Sunday morning, the phone center will be switched from the old to the new building, and the old building will be vacated.

Customers will pay their bills at the City Hall in the future instead of the old building.

An open house will be held at the new building sometime this fall.

Of the eight girls working as operators here, three will be transferred to other towns and the other five will not work, but will remain in McLean.

Nadine Hill will go to Amarillo, Betty Pearson is to go to Lubbock and Elizabeth Miller to Pampa.

Customers who have questions concerning maintenance or business affairs should dial "Operator."

Red Ballard will be in charge of the unit here.

Ballard explained that one difficulty that might be encountered in the new system is on "two party" lines—a party line with two people on it.

The difficulty, Ballard said, would be in one of the people with them for a visit.

HIGHWAY TOLL FOR MAY REPORTED

A report this week turned in by R. C. Parker, McLean Texas Highway Patrolman, indicated that 15 persons had been killed during the past month in this area as a direct result of traffic accidents.

In addition to the death toll, a total of 121 persons were injured and an estimated $116,035 was done in personal property damage.

The month's toll brought the number of deaths in this area during 1959 to 32, with 469 injuries.

The figure indicated a rise over the same month in 1958. During May of last year only one person was killed and 65 injured.

Reports were turned in for 165 accidents investigated by area patrolman during the month. These include all collisions occurring on highways as well as farm-to-market roads, county roads and cities.

Work Begins On Largest Paving Project Ever Here

McLean's streets are populated by a sizeable crew of engineers, contractors and workmen this week.

Work was begun Wednesday morning on the largest paving project in the history of McLean.

Contractors Bledsoe and Duncan of Amarillo began work on 9 1/2 blocks of curbs, gutters and paving.

Engineers were to have completed staking the streets in various parts of town by Wednesday and be through pouring by Saturday evening.

The project will constitute about 7,000 running feet. City Manager Dan Mize said.

In addition, 29 blocks of old asphalt paving will be seal-coated. Three have already been done.

This is a process not used here before. A much finer batch of crushed rocks is spread on top of a new coat of asphalt oil, and then rolled smooth.

The council predicts this will be far superior to the old asphalt paving where larger rocks merely stick to the top of the asphalt.

Junior ages are 12 through 16 years, and over 16 for the senior group. Mrs. Barnhill will also be available for private swimming lessons.

Those interested in any of the mentioned courses are asked to contact Dorris Windom.

Each Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the pool is open for ladies only.

Church of Christ To Have Guest Speaker Sunday

Henry Walker, minister for the church of Christ in Winona, Minn., will be speaking at the local church of Christ Sunday morning at 10:50 a. m.

Housing Work Begun

Announcement was made this week that final action had been taken and bids would be let immediately for the construction of the ten housing units in McLean.

According to Bill Reeves, housing authority commissioner, the final architectural drawings had been made and the last stamp of approval given for the building of the units.

Located in the northeast part of town, the ten units will be composed of five separate structures, including the ten living units.

According to the present schedule, the actual construction will begin by September, and the completion date tentatively set for the early part of 1960.

In recent action, a survey was run determining the actual need for housing in McLean, and the number of units was allocated accordingly.

The units will be of brick veneer construction, with curb and gutter adjacent to the front sides.

The construction of the curb and gutter will begin immediately. Information on the rental of the units can be obtained by contacting Reeves.

Jerry Don and Denise Payne of Tulsa spent last week with their grandmother, Mrs. Stella Payne.

NEW HOMES TO BE BUILT

Other news of new construction came this week with the announcement of the beginning of new homes to be built by Thorn and Meyers Construction Co. of Amarillo.

Thorn stated this week that the land on which the new homes will be built will be graded and ready in the near future.

At present, plans call for the homes to be three-bedroom with garage, priced from $9,000 to $12,000.

The first of the new homes should be ready for viewing in approximately 90 days. Following an initial three model homes, the two builders plan to construct 22 houses.

The new homes will be designed such that the buyers will be able to pick the interior size and colors, and prices will be determined accordingly.

Area Observations

Best Story of the Week Award goes to BOB RICHARDS in the TERRITORIAL ENTERPRISE published way out at Virginia City, Nevada. Says: One day last week I went home for lunch and upon prospecting the refrigerator found a species of sliced and spiced beef all neatly done up in an unopened transparent bag. This, I said to myself, will make an ideal stuffing for a couple of sandwiches. Studying the bag I found the words "tear here" and thereupon set out to tear there as directed.

After discovering that the plastic out of which the bag was fabricated was tougher than U. S. Grade A rhino hide, at least where it said "tear here," I explored other likely spots where an entrance might be effected. After about five minutes of such endeavor, during which I almost lifted a fingernail from its roots and narrowly missed an artery when the knife I'd pressed into service skidded over the bag's slippery surface, I threw the whole business into a garbage can, beef and all.

Watching all this had been my tomcat. That one can open almost anything containing food and so confidently, almost superciliously, he retrieved the bag and had his whack at the problem only to retire defeated in a mean temper.

As I prepared an egg sandwich I reflected that all had probably been for the best because the beef was likely infected with strontium 90 and both the tomcat and I just might find ourselves embarrassed if we took to glowing in the dark while on our unlawful occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Longino and boys, Clay, Joe and Bob, of Dallas are spending this week with their parents, the H. A. Longinos and the C. B. Peabodys.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Grigsby and children of Dumas visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. V. Grigsby, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Vada Kennedy of Stockton, Calif., and Mrs. Clifton Wilkerson of Amarillo spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Enloe Crisp.

Patsy and Billy McCoy of Amarillo spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McCoy.

H. M. BAGGARLY in the TULLA HERALD: Historians who write about this era will be deeply in debt to Sen. Everett Dirksen, the orator from Illinois, for two slips of the tongue, both made in one speech which may be remembered when some of his other utterances are long forgotten.

It was Dirksen, rising to the defense of Clare Booth Luce, who pleaded with his colleagues to go easy.

"Why beat a bag of old bones?" he asked when he meant simply to say, "Why re-hash old issues?"

Now some unkind Democrats have come along and mischievously ministered another part of that same speech in which Dirksen asked, "Why keep threshing old straws?"

The remark is quoted almost daily as debate proceeds on the confirmation of Adm. Lewis Strauss for Secretary of Commerce. The admiral has himself, of course, to blame for this unfortunate pun on his name. Everyone else pronounces it "straw," but he insists that it be pronounced "straws."

A. M. JACKSON in the SLATON SLATONITE: The story is old and told about a man who kept a live buzzard in a pen. When asked why, he explained it this way: "Brother, did you ever think how hard it would be to catch a buzzard if you ever needed one right quick?"

JIM GILLENTE in the HEREFORD BRAND: Better stop worrying about what your kids will do when they grow up, and see what they are doing right now.

BEN EZZELL in the CANADIAN RECORD: An automatic ice maker was installed recently at Hemphill Memorial Hospital... an ingenious device which turns out quantities of ice pellets automatically and shuts itself off automatically only when its storage bin is filled.

Certain members of the hospital staff on night duty on the first day the new machine was installed (and they shall remain nameless as far as we are concerned) became entangled with the intricacies of the machine. Unfamiliar with the automatic shut-off device on the ice-maker, they became alarmed at the rate at which "I cook complete broiler meals for my family—thanks to my Electric Range!"

Broiler Recipe...

Here's the recipe Mrs. Wadley used when these pictures were taken. It's a complete, delicious broiler meal — one you'll want to try.

- Steaks
- 2 cans asparagus
- 1 can pimiento
- 2 cans Mexican Tomatoes
- Grated Cheese

Drain liquid from cans of vegetables and arrange in bottom of the broiler pan. Place asparagus down center of pan. Place pimiento strips down the center of asparagus. Arrange 1 can of Mexican on each side of asparagus. Season vegetables with salt and pepper.

Wipe steaks with damp cloth, score fat around edges to prevent curling. Place on rack of cold broiler pan, season, and place under broiler unit of electric range so the top of the steak is four or five inches from the broiler unit.

Turn oven control to Broil. Leave oven door ajar. Cook on one side until brown (about 12 minutes). Turn and brown other side (about 10 minutes). Cut tomatoes in halves and put grated cheese on top. Arrange on broiler rack just before steaks are done.

says Mrs. Gary Wadley,
GUYMON, OKLAHOMA

That's the nice thing about an electric range — you can cook complete meals — at one time. There are several ways, too. You may cook complete deep well meals, complete oven meals, complete surface unit meals or, as Mrs. Wadley favors, complete broiler meals. All come out tasty, tempting and nutritious.

ON, JUNE, BRIDEGROOM

Weddings, now-a-days, are affairs of women. Details of weddings go into detail about what the bride and groom wore, what they did, and who they are. The fathers of the bride and bridegroom get a bare mention—when they are described as parents of the bride and groom.

The bridegroom, himself, one of the two principals, is mentioned little more than a bare mention—once at the beginning of the story says he's the guy getting married and once at the end, when the story tells where he went to school and such.

Men who attend weddings usually feel out of place, embarrassed. They are forced to by their wives, and squirm through the ceremony.

But things weren't always in such a fix. In the old days, everything about the wedding—including the word "wedding"—is designed to remind the women that they were a marketable commodity and even earlier, fair value for any strong-armed marauder.

The best man, for instance, is believed to be a relic of the days when a man simply carried off a girl who had wandered too far from home. The husband-to-be usually brought along a muscular friend to fight off the suitors.

The bridegroom had to hide out with his catch for a while until the girl's family got tired of searching for him. This was the beginning of the honeymoon. The bridegroom's tactics did little to foster "togetherness," and probably brought about the husband-mother-in-law battle of today.

The practice of buying a wife came later on, and left the bride with fewer bruises. It couldn't have done much for her pride.

Some African tribes thought a girl was worth about $100. Other figures were set in different tribes. And the day's "giving the bride away" merely represents the day when the father delivered his daughter to her bridegroom, who paid up.

The betrothal of children was common among early Anglo-Saxons. The bridegroom's pledge of marriage was accompanied by a "wed"—security for the purchase price of the bride. Earnest money we might call it. The purchase price for a bride has switched. Nowadays, the price is paid by friends in the form of gifts and daughter gets the gifts instead of daddy.

Incidentally, a woman in Tibet frequently marries several men, not because of romance, but because it is more than one to keep up the family. The way things are going, we might need to introduce that practice in the U. S.

TAXPAYERS' REVOLT?
"In state after state, new tax legislation is running head-on into a rising groundswell of revolt." Thus says Newsweek in an article based on a special survey made by experts where tax boosts are being considered. Moreover, Newsweek says, complaints aren't restricted to individual taxpayers. Politicians are joining in the revolt. And so are blocks made up of business people, farmers, and labor.

Newsweek cites chapter and verse to support its conclusions. Washington, where the governor seeks new taxes to finance a $2 billion biennial budget, is one. An small lumber town has become state-wide. The government's "anti-tax movement" started by a group of citizens in the governor's office has been flooded with protesting letters and petitions. Similarly-minded groups elsewhere have been making inquiries about the Washington revolt, obviously with the intent of adapting it to their own states. Massachusetts is in the same boat. There the governor wants a 3% sales tax, and opposition, in Newsweek's words, is "explosive."

The outstanding example is probably New York. Governor Rockefeller wants a whopping $277 million of new revenue to finance a spending program of more than $2 billion—largest in the Empire state's history. He proposes both to lower state income tax exemptions and to increase higher-bracket rates, thus hitting taxpayers harder on all income levels. Opposition has been come so strong that many Republican members of the legislature have come out against their governor.

So it goes—in California, Florida, Oregon, Idaho, Missouri and so on. And Newsweek reports an anomaly. The tax increases, generally speaking, are necessary unless the states retrench on governmental services. Yet the survey "showed that the taxpayers didn't want them to."

What will be the upshot of all this? In Newsweek's view, the likely outcome is compromise. There will be state income tax increases, but on a smaller scale than the governors propose. The hand of the tax collector will dig a little deeper into all of our pockets.

—The Sanger, Calif., Herald

One Traffic Fatality For County in May

The rural traffic accident summary for Gray County for the month of May, 1959, was released this week by Sgt. E. G. Albers, Highway Patrol Service, Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Highway Patrol investigated a total of 10 accidents of which seven were property damage, two personal injury, and one fatal accident. These accidents caused a total property damage of $3,857, with one person killed and three injured.

"Traffic accidents take no vacation," the sergeant said, "and with the Texas and national traffic toll on the climb, to stay safe we must step up our vigilance on the road."
"During the vacation months, thousands of motorists are on the highways, and too many of them are intent on cramming as much activity as they can into one brief vacation," the sergeant said, "and 'The result is often tragedy.'"
He cautioned vacationers to be on their guard against speeders, drinking drivers, and drivers who disregard traffic laws. Above all, he warned them to make sure they are never guilty of such offenses themselves.

A PARTY

On last Wednesday night a crowd of young people met for a frolic. Being only a few boys present, the girls asked them to spread. Two cars left town for the creek, where the nicest spread of sandwiches, olives and cake was made. Many interesting games were enjoyed, after which they returned to the cars and built a bonfire to toast marshmallows.

The crowd returned at 9:30 to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Coffey where the boys were bidden good night, but the girls' joys were not to be ended so soon. Mrs. Coffey had prepared a slumber party for them. These parties were named wrong, for these girls kept everyone in the neighborhood awake. Next morning the girls left for work reminding the hostess of their nice time and hoping for another in the near future.

Those present were Misses Vita Heasley, Rena Moody, Floye Glass, Orma Kibler, Winnie Newton, Jessie Alexander, Frankie Upham, and Mary Henry; Mrs. Coffey, T. J. Coffey, Enoch Bentley and Erwin Rice.

PERSONALS
Mrs. Louis Morse returned Saturday after a visit with home folks at Carter, Okla.

Mesdames Jasper Stephens and Emmett LeFors are visiting Mrs. Sims at Dallas.

Mrs. R. T. Tipton went to Alanreed Saturday for a visit.

Miss Ruth Bullock went to Boydston Saturday.

S. R. Jones was called to the bedside of his brother who lives in Illinois, Sunday.

ROSE QUEEN — Arlene Hennessy, 19, of Bayonne, N.J., is this year's National Rose Queen. In case you have not read of it, the rose is among the flowers which cause flowery oratory to sprout in the Senate these days, as senators continue the perennial hassle, annually renewed, over selection of a national flower for the United States.

There's No Frosting Problem in This

BY EDNA MILES

A food freezer that freezes without frosting is good news, indeed, for the home-maker.

There is a brand-new freezer on the market that never needs defrosting.

It automatically defrosts itself every 24 hours.

Not only that, it also eliminates that nasty frosting on food packages, freezer walls and shelves.

That way, packages never get stuck to each other or to the shelves. Their labels remain legible, so that a glance tells you what the contents are.

This new freezer is the upright, bookshelf-type, which makes it easy to reach packages when you want them.

Its entire capacity is 438 pounds, but the door alone will hold 82 pounds of foodstuffs.

For large, bulky packages, there's a special swing-out basket.

Straight-line design gives your kitchen a built-in look without the built-in expense.

The freezer can be installed flush against the wall, in line with base cabinets and other appliances.

This brand-new freezer defrosts automatically. It lines up flush with the walls to give a built-in look.

Bible Comment: Read the Bible, But Read It Correctly

A century of effort, intense effort, in distribution of the Bible by various Bible societies has not been accompanied by as great a moral and spiritual revolution as one might expect from such distribution of the Good Book.

One of many reasons may well be that it is not read in the right fashion.

Distribution falls far short of its intended purpose if the Bible is not read CORRECTLY.

Too often do we assume that, once the Bible is read, it produces the character and life that ought to follow.

What we forget so often, and what is so very important is the "how" of the reading.

Recall: the Bible is not one book, actually.

It is many books; 66 in the King James version, for example.

Moreover, those 66 books come out of a wide range of time. The writers span possibly as much as 1,000 years in their writings.

When Jesus said His "I say unto you," against what was "said by them of old time," He was setting higher truth in the Bible against what had been said in the Bible earlier.

He was declaring the reality of a progressive revelation in moral and spiritual ideas, and in the quality of human relationships.

To read the Bible without taking into account the progression in moral and spiritual conceptions is not only to misread it. It is to miss its highest revelation of God's message for man.

COUNTRY PLAYERS

For many years, folk singing was a form of entertainment enjoyed chiefly in the backwoods and mountains, and in concert halls. However, with the amazing success of the Kingston Trio's "Tom Dooley," and their LP Albums (Capitol), and the album, "Jimmy Driftwood Sings Newly Discovered Early American Folk Songs" (RCA), the charm of these songs has been rediscovered by the general public.

And recording companies are releasing some excellent material for your listening pleasure.

From Jimmy Driftwood's above-mentioned album, RCA has released as a single the latest folk song sensation, "The Battle of New Orleans," backed with another catchy one, "Damyante Lad." And Wilma Lee and Stony Cooper have a very snappy rendition of "Big Midnight Special" on Hickory.

Vanguard's LP, "Leon Bibb Sings Folk Songs," is an excellent collection of ballads, prison work songs and spirituals, and the interpretations have an intriguing quality that becomes more enjoyable with each listening; this is a "must" for any record collection.

Lovers of country music will enjoy "The Country's Best," a collection of 12 top hits by Capitol's leading country artists, and "This Is Tommy Collins," in which Tommy sings 13 of his biggest numbers (both Capitol).

In the pop field, the album, "Al Johnson Overcomes," will bring you many, many memories.

gives one a feeling of a visit to the old country church (Capitol). And Porter Wagoner's "I Thought of God" is another fine, inspirational song release (RCA).

FINE SINGLES are "I'll Catch You When You Fall" (Charlie Walker, Columbia); "Don't Bring Your Banjo Home" (Grandpa Jones, Decca); "Chasin' a Rainbow" (Hank Snow, RCA); "Better Love Next Time" (Jean Shepard, Capitol); "Lost Love" (Jimmie Davis, Decca); "This Is It" (Paris Bros., Brunswick); "You'll Never Be Mine Again" (Kitty Wells, Decca); "While You're Cheating on Me" (Louvin Bros., Capitol); "I Guess I'll Miss the Prom" (Bobby Helms, Decca); "A Pair of Sissors" (Dean Reed, Capitol) and "You've Got Everything" (Lence Roberts, Decca).

Plan To Attend Church This Sunday

COMPLAINING

By David V. Fultz

Minister McLean Church of Christ

Murmuring and complaining seems to be the lot of mankind, but I am sure no one ever had more to complain about than did Job. In fact, he has been given as an example to all ages as to how we should view our sufferings. In fact the inspired writer James suggests unto us that the end of all trials may be good if we view them properly. In the 5th chapter, verse 11, we read, "Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy."

Job had been afflicted from the top of his head to the soles of his feet with boils, his family and all his property had been taken from him, and whereas he had been once admired and respected he was now made a laughing stock of all those about him. Even his wife and friends lost their respect for him and thought he had done something wrong or else these terrible things would not have happened unto him. They thought he would be better off dead, and his wife suggested that he renounce God and die. But Job said,

"Though he slay me, yet will I trust him," and "When he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold."

Disappointments, sorrows and troubles come, it seems, upon some to a greater degree than others, but it is not the fact that they come that makes us either good or bad, but how we bear the burden when they do come. Often they teach us more about life and God than we could have known otherwise. When finally God spoke to Job out of the whirlwind, and blessed him with twice as much as he had before he was a much wiser and better man than before.

When we murmur and complain we sin against God many times. Like the Israelites in the wilderness who were punished severely for this sin, we may suffer eternal punishment. Not only so, but we will also suffer the loss of friends and loved ones while here because no one likes to listen to complaining all the time.

God has given us commands to obey, let us obey them without complaining.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are deal set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Going into the real heart of Chevrolet advantages is where your dealer comes in. He'll show you, in feature after feature, that you can't buy more truck dependability—in any weight class—at any price.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

on the party line calling the other.

He said if one dia number, only a busy signal would be received.

However, customers on a two party line may call the other party by dialing 1161 and then hanging up. Then both their phone and the other party's phone will ring simultaneously.

The caller should wait until the ringing has stopped, which will indicate that the other party has answered. Then the caller can pick up the phone and talk to the other member.

Ballard said the present party lines would not be changed. Along with the change to dial, there will be a change in rates beginning July 1.

District Manager Clyde Dickerson said a one party business line would run $8.50 per month with a business extension at $1.50. A one party residence is $5 and a two party residence is $4 with the residence extensions at $1.

McLean Scouts Plan Camp Trip

"Ki-O-Wah here we come!" is the yell of 14 boys and leaders of McLean Boy Scout Troop No. 25. The Scouts and leaders will leave here Sunday for Camp Ki-O-Wah, which is located near Canadian. They will return June 27.

The camp, run by the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, with offices in Pampa, is open for five weeks each summer with different troops attending each week. While at camp, the Scouts will enjoy hiking, camping, fishing, archery, rifle range, Scout craft, pioneering, nature, and K. P. duty.

Last year the local boys who went to camp received some honors and they hope to do even better this year.

A shake-down hike held June 12 and 13 was attended by six members, two leaders and three visitors. During the hike the boys brushed up on hiking techniques.

Scouts attending were Jackie Hess, Mike Johnson, Mike Grogan, Eddy Windom and Dickie Crockett. Leaders were Scoutmaster Jack Dyer and Assistant Scoutmaster Danny Douglas; and visitors were E. J. Windom, Pat Windom and Don Dyer.

During World War II, a bright young farmer in the army overseas received a letter from his wife wanting to know how she was going to plant the potatoes in the east 40 without help.

The soldier wrote back: "Whatever you do, dear, don't dig up the east 40. That's where the guns are buried."

As is customary in wartime, his letter was read by the censor. Not long after he received a reply from his upset young wife saying: "A company of soldiers overran the east 40 and dug it all up. What shall I do now?"

"Plant the potatoes!" came his reply.
