Vol. 56 McLean, Gray County, Texas, Thursday, March 26, 1959 No. 13

AREA RECEIVES RAIN OF ABOUT 1/2 INCH

Winter's final punch—we hope—last Friday afternoon and night dumped a total of .45 inch of much needed moisture on the McLean area.

A combination of rain and snow was responsible for the moisture. After raining most of Friday afternoon, old man winter threw thick snow down on the Pashanale in almost bilizard proportions for a while.

However, a bright Saturday melted off the remaining snow and by Saturday afternoon it was spring again.

According to figures at the City Barn, the .45 inch brought the March total to .49 inch and the 1959 total to 1.05 inches.

It was a sad contrast to last March when the area received 2.35 inches and had a total that far into 1958 of 3.70 inches.

Housing Project Here Given Green Light

HOUSING LOCATION—Bill Reeves, right, points out where part of the 12 new homes to be built in McLean soon will be located. Looking on are City Manager Dan Mize, left, and Mayor Ed Lander, center. Reeves is head of the McLean Housing Authority which received notice from the federal government this week that a loan for the homes would soon be signed.

Twelve Units To Be Erected In Summer; More May Follow

McLean's Housing Authority was notified earlier this week that the federal government will extend them a loan of $153,927 to build 12 low-rent homes here.

Bill Reeves, head of the Housing Authority here, said he expected the homes to be completed some time late this summer.

To be built on two sites in northeast McLean, the 12 homes will actually consist of six brick veneer, ranch-type duplexes.

Two duplexes are to be built on site B (shown in picture) and four will be built on site A. There will be 6 three-bedroom units, 4 two-bedroom units, and 2 one-bedroom units.

For the McLean Housing Authority it was the happy climax to two years of work on the project.

Reeves said that when these homes are completed, another survey could be run to determine if additional homes were needed in McLean. If the findings show that more homes are needed, then Reeves said another government loan could be secured with a minimum of delay.

The telegram received this week was above the signatures of Sen. Lydon Johnson, Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Walter Rogers.

It read: "Pleased to advise Public Housing Commissioner will shortly sign financial contract with McLean Housing Authority for 12 low-rent homes at an estimated cost of $153,927."

Rent on the new homes is expected to run approximately 20% of a family's gross income.

When the $153,927 loan is finally paid off in about 40 years then the homes will belong to the city of McLean.

As soon as the development program is signed and sent back to the Housing Authority here then the architect, Jack C. Whitworth and Associates of Fort Worth, will draw up preliminary plans.

When these are finally approved by both the McLean Housing Authority and the Public Housing Authority then working drawings can be made, approved, and bids advertised for.

Work could start as early as June 1, Reeves estimated, although it may be in July before the ball gets rolling.

It was almost two years ago that the Housing Authority was formed and received a $2,000 loan to begin work on the project.

Members of the McLean Housing Authority other than Reeves include Jim Hathaway, Elmo Whaley, Charles Cullin and W. C. Simpson.

Stella Lee is executive director and secretary.

Wise sayings and garrulous talk may fall to the ground, rather than on the ear or heart of the hearer; but a tender sentiment felt, or a kind word spoken at the right moment, is never wasted.—Mary Baker Eddy.

DIAL TELEPHONE INSTALLATION CONTINUING IN McLEAN

When McLean's new dial telephone system begins operation in June, all telephone numbers in McLean will change. Clyde Dickerson, group manager for the telephone company, said today: "Right now we're installing new dial telephones as rapidly as possible," Dickerson said. "However, this is just the first step. When the equipment in the new building is ready—we'll have to test each of these new telephones to make sure they're working properly." Dickerson also said McLean customers are being offered color telephones at a bargain price. "They're usually $10 plus an installation charge," he stated, "but there is no installation charge if you change to color at the time your dial telephone is installed. There is only the one time charge of $10 for the color instrument only."

At the time of the changeover to dial every McLean telephone will receive a new two-letter, five-figure number. New telephone directories listing these new numbers will be issued shortly before the changeover. The new McLean numbers will all begin with the prefix Granite 9, followed by four figures.

"These new numbers, in addition to working with the new dial equipment have been designed to fit into the national telephone numbering system which one day will make it possible for Long Distance calls to be dialed," Dickerson said. "All telephones across the nation eventually will have numbers made up of two letters and five figures like the ones here in McLean."

McLean Student Wins Second in County Spelling

McLean has the second-best speller in Gray County. Congratulations are being received by Marilyn McElroy for winning second place in the Gray County Spelling Bee held in Pampa on March 18.

Making the trip to Pampa with Mrs. Vera F. Beck, instructor, were Marilyn, an 8th grade student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McElroy; Joyce Beasley, local 7th grade winner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Beasley; Freddy Smith, 6th grade speller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Smith; Trudy Fultz, 5th grade representative, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Fultz; and Linda Gull, reporter for the Little Tiger's Growl, the 8th grade paper.

This year's bee required a longer time to finish, which indicates that the spellers must have been better than before, or at least there were more good spellers.

First place went to Phyllis Daising of Pampa Junior High School. For second place, Marilyn received a ball point pen and a blue ribbon. The other students received ribbons.

All contestants and their sponsors plan to attend the spelling bee at Amarillo April 26 as spectators.

Mrs. Beck and her spellers spent several hours before and after school studying.

Red Cross Drive Lags Behind Quota

There's always a laugh in the mailbag. Like the insurance company pamphlet that came in the other day.

Says nine-tenths of all household accidents occur in the kitchen . . . neglected to mention, however, that husbands wind up eatin' most of them.

POT SHOTS

Few weeks ago it was Honest Abe's birthday anniversary, and every newspaper reporter from the obituary-writing set on up felt duty bound to pen eulogies winding up with lofty speculation on what Abe would prescribe for current politics.

Over on the Johnson grass farm talk was that nobody would pay much attention to Mr. Lincoln nowadays. Some clean-shaven young efficiency expert in a gray flannel suit would've chopped him down before he got past a country JP office.

In Austin week before last they were committee wrangling over a bill to prohibit sale of beer after 10 p.m. and on Sundays. It was a rip-smartin' good session, too.

Declared the Rev. O. F. Dingler: "I think the liquor issue pretty well divides the Christians from the unsaved," which should somewhat simplify ticket sales on the Glory Train.

Favorite columnist Sydney Harris—appearing in the Amarillo Globe-Times—had an enlightening view on juvenile delinquency that is generally overlooked.

Most juvenile experts quoted in the papers talk in terms of "methods" or "techniques" for parents to observe in dealing with children . . . so that the reader can almost reduce the parent-child relationship to a check list of 100 "do's" and "don'ts."

But the kids are a lot smarter than they're given credit for. As Harris points out, children are acutely sensitive to the parent's inner attitude toward them, and no amount of technique practicing will cover up a lack of genuine love.

Retailers caught with a big inventory of 49-star flags are just as pants-down now as they were when the hula-hoopsters ran out of wiggles.

Scientific advance is a wonderful thing. If it gets any better I just don't know how I'll stand it.

Take for instance the great strides forward in weather predicting . . . all on account of the new Vanguard II which, having a bird's eye view of the clouds, etc., can predict the weather with 90 per cent accuracy.

You see the satellite sends back telemeter messages to weather stations that can be translated within only a couple of weeks which mean we now can predict with astonishing accuracy what the weather did two weeks ago.

AROUND TOWN

Passing the city park the other day I saw that the tennis courts were jammed . . . and I knew it was spring.

My peripatetic partner who this week begins a peripatetic column—whatever that means—says he intends to write a strictly "informative" column—no jokes and mesain' around.

Says one smart-aleck column in a paper is enough if not too much.

I may be insulted worse yet when I find out what "peripatetic" means.

This smart-aleck's prediction was vindicated Tuesday when Keith Wolfe's play swept to an easy victory in the district one-act play contest.

I won a dollar on it, too.

The old fidgety pessimist Wolfe was moanin' around before the contest like Casey Stengel about the Yankees' chances next year . . . so I told him he couldn't lose either way if he bet me a dollar that McLean wouldn't win.

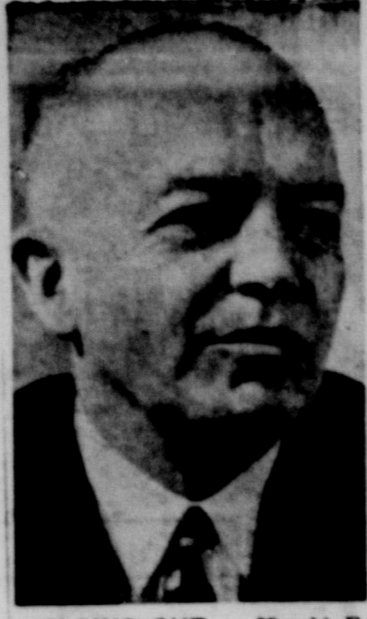

Some people are easy.

SEES BETTER DAYS - By the end of 1959, the United States will be in a position of "minimum unemployment," says Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell above, who further predicts definite labor shortages in some areas.

HELPING OUT - Harold E. Stassen, former presidential adviser on disarmament and one-time governor, says he's accepted a Republican bid to run for mayor of Philadelphia in 1960. Stassen emphasized he agreed to run mainly to help boost the Republican party's efforts in '60.

Delight Family With This Easter Chick Cake!

Easter Chick Cut-Up Cake is a delight to make, a treat to eat and a charming centerpiece for the Easter dinner table. Children will love this fanciful creation. It's not hard to make.

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Here's a gay and wonderful idea for Easter dinner dessert. The youngsters in the family will love it, too.

You don't need special baking pans. Just bake two round eight-inch cakes. Use a mix, if you prefer.

Follow the simple directions for cutting one of them to make the "feathers" of this perky "chick." Tinted, flaked coconut does the rest.

Easter Chick Cut-Up Cake

Two round 8-inch cake layers, cooled; butter frosting (about 2 1/2 cups); yellow and red food coloring; one can (1 1/2 cups) flaked coconut, tinted yellow; Gumdrops. Orange-colored toothpicks.

Place one layer on a large tray for body of chick.

On second layer, measure in 1 1/4 inches all around from outer edge and mark a circle. Cut out the center with a sharp knife. The circle will be chick's head.

Cut remaining ring of cake into five equal pieces.

From one end of each of these cut a small, triangular wedge.

Place head next to chick's body. Place four of the larger cake pieces in position as tail feathers. Use fifth piece for chick's hat. Use one of the small, triangular wedges as a point on the hat. Arrange two wedges for the beak; the remaining wedges will serve as bird's feet.

Frosting

Color frosting as follows: Set aside about 1/2 cup of the white frosting.

Tint remaining 2 cups yellow. Tint 1/4 cup of the yellow frosting orange with a few drops red coloring. Use sparingly until shade desired is obtained.

Spread yellow frosting over head, body, and tail. Sprinkle with the yellow coconut. Cover the hat with white frosting.

Frost bill and feet with the orange frosting.

Attach feet to body with the toothpicks. Use colored gumdrops for chick's eye, and for bow at neck. A gumdrop flower decorates hat.

LUMPS FROM APIS MELLIFERA

Most people avoid bees—for obvious reasons. Rheumatism sufferers of old, however, tried to get stung. They thought bee stings were an effective treatment for rheumatism. Now most of us prefer the more reliable—and painless—remedies of today. Thanks to medical science we have many safe, fast-acting pain relievers. Other powerful drugs, too. When you're ill, take advantage of these newer medications—but only upon the advice of your physician. Then let us render complete prescription service.

CREEPING NIGHTMARE

Washington columnist William S. White writes: "Federal expenditures are becoming so vast and so diffuse in purpose as to raise a serious question whether any President or Congress will be able within a few years actually to control any budget. May not internal events, as for illustration sudden business recession, or external events instantly requiring vast outlays in the cold war, become the real future masters of the budget?"

"This is the creeping nightmare of some fiscal conservatives. It is not so much the level of present spending that they fear. It is the possibility that men may lose to the robot power effectively to control spending at all."

Mr. White here highlights something that students of federal fiscal affairs have long been deeply concerned about. The budget has become less and less manageable, and there is a real and present danger that before long it will become totally so. The Hoover Commission dealt at length with this, and proposed basic administrative reforms which would make it possible for Congress and the executive to deal with the budget as a whole, rather than as a hodge-podge of separate appropriations. But nothing has been done.

The size of the budget is a bad enough matter. But the ever-increasing difficulty of not controlling it is infinitely worse. Whether we like it or not the time is approaching when we will not be able to throw out our political pipe dream and admit that government can't live beyond its means forever.

PUT THE MONEY WHERE IT BELONGS

A 40% tax on even an extreme luxury would seem excessive to most people. But such a tax is in effect on an absolute necessity—gasoline. Federal, state and local taxes on motor fuel now equal a national average of 9c a gallon. And that amounts to 40% of the service station price of regular grade gasoline, exclusive of the tax.

To make a bad matter worse, it is proposed that the gasoline user be socked still harder, by raising the federal tax from its present 3c rate to 4½c.

The excuse for this is that the money is needed to pay for the multi-billion dollar highway program, and that the burden should be imposed on highway users. But that is a highly misleading alibi. For, if all the money collected from these users were applied to the road program there'd be no financing problem.

Simple statistics tell the story. In the last fiscal year the federal government took in $3.6 billion from what is known as "highway-related" collections. These collections include the gasoline tax, along with other motor vehicle taxes. But only $2.1 billion of that money was earmarked for highway purposes. A whopping 42% of the total—$1.5 billion—went into the general fund, to be used for federal activities that have no relation to highways.

There is, therefore, no justification whatever for increased gas taxes. What is needed is to put current revenues from highway users where they belong—on the road.

STOP SIGN NEEDED

Proposed legislation that would permit the Tennessee Valley Authority to issue revenue bonds to finance future expansion of its power system has met with the opposition of no less an official than the U. S. Comptroller General Campbell. In his audit of TVA activities during the 1958 fiscal year, he told Congress that the revenue bond scheme is just as unsound as present TVA financing arrangements whereby the agency is permitted to use power revenues for additional power-producing facilities. In his words: "We have consistently taken the position that, in our opinion, the financing of government activities of this character should be by appropriations." He urged that TVA be required to obtain specific and prior authorization for projects to be financed out of power revenues.

The reasoning behind the Comptroller General's position is easily understood. The revenue bond scheme would give TVA still further freedom from anything resembling effective Congressional control. It would expand virtually ad infinitum, and create a socialist state on an ever-growing scale. It is true that the currently proposed legislation would impose certain financial and other restrictions—but these could be changed or eliminated at any time once the revenue bond principal was established. It is almost inevitable that this would happen and that unfettered revenue bond financing would be extended for the expansion of other federal projects.

TVA legislation is needed—but the needed kind is of a very different character. We need to give Congress more, not less, power over TVA's purse strings. We need to make TVA pay taxes on the same basis as would a private enterprise conducting a comparable business. We need to establish a rate structure for TVA power that will honestly meet all costs, direct and indirect. We need to make it keep books in the manner the law demands of commercial business. And we need to do these things soon. In this country, socialism needs a stop sign and not a green light.

Congressman Rogers Reports—

TO THE PEOPLE

50 Stars By July 4th
It seems that the long battle in Hawaiian statehood is now over. I have written a number of newsletters on the subject of Hawaii attempting to become a state. The action of the Senate and the House last week approving statehood for Hawaii ended the long battle, and Hawaii will unquestionably be a state before July 4. Further reports on the subject will concern the activities of Hawaii as a state, rather than as a territory attempting to become a state. The proponents of statehood hope to have everything in order so that Hawaii, along with Alaska, will be recognized on July 4 as being entitled to designation in the flag of the United States as a full-fledged state. This will mean 50 stars rather than 49. The flags which have been manufactured with 49 stars will, no doubt, become collectors items.

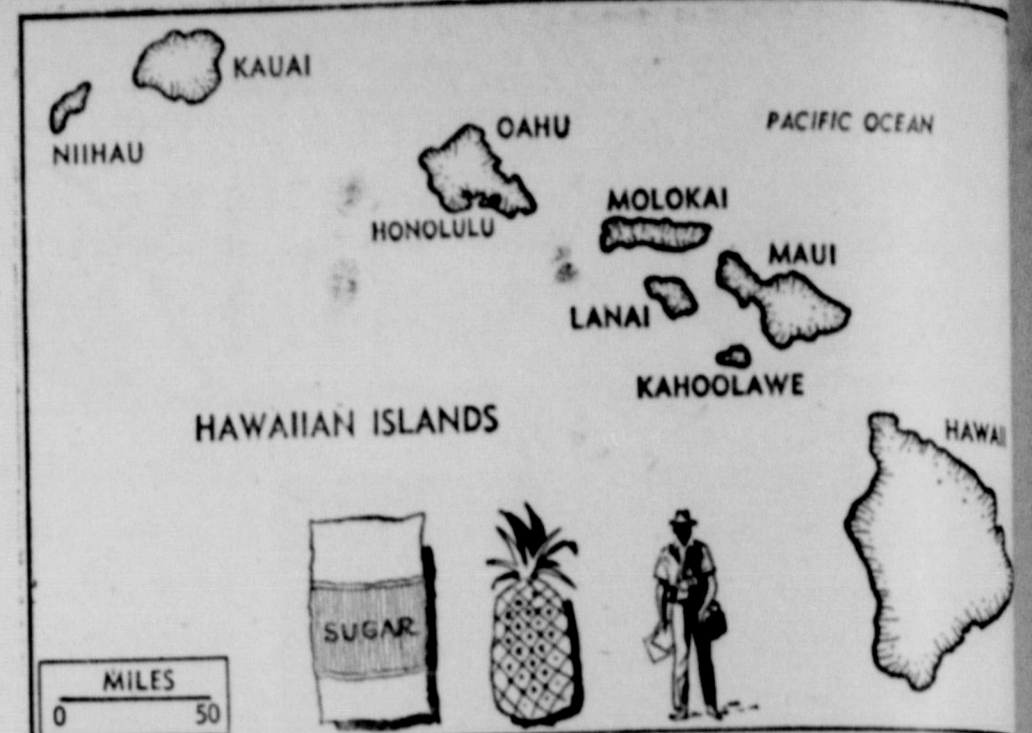

ARMY'S NEXT CHIEF—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, above, is slated to succeed Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as Army chief of staff. Taylor is expected to retire when his second two-year term ends June 30. Lemnitzer at present is Army vice chief of staff.

Most of you know of my opposition to the admission of both Alaska and Hawaii. Contrary to many news stories portraying the opposition as being interested in racial matters, voting strength, and other surface items, the actual opposition of the sincere opponents was based upon the fundamental proposition stemming from the fact that both Hawaii and Alaska were separated from the other 48 states by the high seas, in the case of Hawaii, and by the high seas and foreign territory in the case of Alaska. In both cases the territory separating us from Alaska and Hawaii was territory over which we did not have exclusive jurisdiction. In the history of governments in the world, the creation of statehood status for Alaska and Hawaii found no precedent. In other words, it has never been tried before. Basically, that was the premise upon which the opposition was based. Those of us who opposed the move to the end felt that the present is not the time to be embarking upon experiments in the philosophy of government—namely for the reason that we are told daily that our philosophy of government is face to face with the greatest challenge in the history of man—namely communism. However, since by the application of democratic processes the decision has been made to embark upon this new political sea, certainly one of us who opposed the move yield to the decision of the majority and will endeavor by our greatest efforts to make the venture an outstanding success.

We all hope that the great merrymaking and rejoicing, which took place in the Hawaiian Islands when passage of the statehood bill was announced, is fully justified, and we shall work toward that end.

Mrs. Berta Kunkel and Buren accompanied Mrs. C. T. Chapman and son to Kress, where they are visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. A. D. Johnson, and family.

THE ISLANDS—Newspaper, above, shows the eight principal islands of the Hawaiian Archipelago which will be embraced by statehood for Hawaii. In all, there are 23 or more islands some of them little more than reefs, in the state-to-be. Hawaii's approximate 6,420 square miles of territory compare with the combined areas of Connecticut and Rhode Island—48 square miles. Hawaii's population numbers some 600,000 persons. Her principal industries are sugar, pineapples, tourism, in that order, with tourists, alone, bringing an estimated $2 million dollars to the islands annually. Capital is Honolulu, on the island of Oahu.

The Peripetatic View

Recently a well-known speaker and industrial consultant addressed an area Chamber Of Commerce group on the subject of, "The economic Rolebook at the Grassroots Level." He related some information that was gratifying not only for the Panhandle of Texas in general but for McLean specifically.

The rulebook, as he saw it, dictated the axioms of the soundest and healthiest economy under which a small town could exist. The more outstanding of these rules stated that the customer, in all cases, was again the top man in the bargain. For the first time in thirty years this is true.

McLean, like all other cities large and small, has been jugged back and forth from the booming false prosperity of wartime to the tight-fisted recession and depression post war periods.

Now, after the flurry of recession-worry in 1957, the economy is finally shaping into the balance that has been lacking for so long.

The main significance can be applied into almost every field of business. Now the customer either has cash or is taking advantage of the switch to paper bargaining, and he can demand quality in his product. He no longer is forced to accept anything because of its rarity, and seldom refuses it because of its price.

Following this will be the inevitable improvement or removal of sub-standard business, along with the definite change in housing and rent-property, which has always been a chief factor in the over-all condition of any community.

In McLean this balance of economy has been evidenced by the improvement and addition of businesses, the interest in building and the drive of that paid off in ten units for the town.

This situation must be an ideal opportunity for community to flourish and can be abundant.

Area Observations

MAX WADE in the GROOM NEWS: "A penny goes a long way today. You can carry it around for weeks before you find something you can buy with it."

At Canadian where editor BEN EZZELL of the CANADIAN RECORD has carried on a heated crusade to maintain the city-manager form of government (he was successful—barely), he says in his "Spur of the Moment" column: "If you're not worried in times like these, you're neurotic."

And again: "Nothing turns a mans head like the realization that he's just run through a stop sign."

Chatting with editor DON EARNEY of the WHEELER TIMES, comes this bit: "A while back they took Doc Daddler into the operating room for surgery. 'Now frankly,' warned Doctor Witt, 'I must tell you, Lee, that this is a very serious operation. Four out of five patients do not survive. Is there anything I can do for you before I begin?'"

"...old Lee, help me put my... the fact on..."

Spring can't be long off. Editors over the Golden Spread and down south are smelling it in the air and airing it in their columns.

It's inevitable that somebody will get off on a fishing tangent and editor AARON EDGAR of the MUNDAY TIMES obliged. Says editor Edgar: "Jack and some other anglers were fishing at their favorite spot. They hung a big one, and it seemed the whole crew would fall in landing him. Finally he was landed, then they couldn't find any scales big enough to weigh him. So they took a picture of the fish and sent the film off to be developed—and when it was returned the picture itself weighed 40 pounds!"

We will refrain from adding that very bad pun about the whole thing smelling fishy.

the week's observations:

"In Fort Worth last week a Negro porter risked his life carrying two white women to safety after they were trapped by fire in the Fortune Arms Hotel. Let's get up a bedsheet brigade and torch a cross on his lawn for messin' around with white wimin. First thing you know, these women, as an expression of gratitude, will invite the porter to dinner. Then they'll have a couple of beers. First thing you know, they'll be going steady, and it doesn't take any White Citizen's Council to figure the eventual and inevitable boudoir integration and pollution of the races. This rescue business involving both white and colored could turn out to be as racially disastrous as the two drinking from the same water fountain."

WILLARD JONES in the HAMLIN HERALD: "We understand a young fellow with laryngitis over at Anson whispered over the telephone, 'Is the doctor in?'"

"And the nurse whispered back, 'No—come on up.'"

"Some men," says DOUGLAS MEADOR of the MATADOR TRIBUNE, "dedicate their lives to failure and achieve outstanding successes in their endeavors." He also reports that, "The popularity of sin is so well established that no condition is placed on the frequency or condition of its appearance."

Down in that good Quannah country, editor ED EADIN of the QUANAH TRIBUNE-CHIEF has gone off and got cross-wives with Norman Vincent Peale.

See: "We have little use for the namby-pamby philosophy of Norman Vincent Peale." His nebulous advice to "think big" is a travesty on the Christian gospel he purports to preach.

"Dr. Peale creates the illusion that simply by thinking good thoughts, surely everything will turn out all right."

"We have always gotten our inspiration, not from idyllic dreamers, but from those weath-

Mr. Mize, your City Manager, is now on the job and available to take care of your needs. Please call Mr. Mize and discuss your city problems with him. You will welcome this change-over to City Manager system after you have had an opportunity to see it work. A city is comparable to a corporation in its manner of operation. The taxpayers are the stockholders. They select the aldermen who act as the Board of Directors and they in turn employ an EXPERIENCED executive to run the business. That is what the city is doing and you are bound to benefit individually from this type of operation. The secretary's job and pay are abolished. This added service to you for very little more money. Drop in and get acquainted with Dan.

Below is one of the many letters received by us during the time we were investigating City Manager versus City Secretary operation of City Government. This letter is from the City of Rockdale, Texas, which is a little larger than McLean.

"With reference to your letter of Nov. 4, 1958, we changed to a Manager form of government by ordinance and still have the same Manager who acts as Secretary.

"I am the third Mayor since this form of government was installed and will complete my third year in April, 1959. I think that this form of government works well and most ECONOMICALLY, as it puts all the responsibilities on the Manager who is accountable to the Mayor and Council only, and eliminates a lot of politics that go into the elective offices.

"All the various departments of the City are under the direct supervision of the City Manager." Another city slightly larger than McLean says: "This is to advise you that we have used this form (City Manager) for the past 25 years, and very successfully, too, so I would not hesitate to recommend this form to you."

Easter-- Day of Glory And Triumph

The Resurrection—the triumph of love and goodness over hate and evil—the vindication of all that the Master said and of all that He is, is with us, today.

Easter is an eternal beginning, a spiritual beginning for all mankind. In obedience to the great commission to go forth into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature, 20 centuries have come and gone, but Easter remains the glorious affirmation of the faith in Jesus.

Greater even than the outward power of churches and organizations is the mystic fellowship of all believers, who have taken to themselves the Christian name, and who have sought to live according to the teaching and example of the Master.

The evil that Jesus fought, and which crucified Him, is still abroad in the world. But it is foolishly easy to underestimate the power of good, the forces of righteousness, and the strength of Christian progress.

The power and impulse of Christianity are not derived from the past.

As Easter reaffirms, Jesus lives, and leads. He lives and leads in every devout soul whose daily life is attuned to love.

He lives in every service to one's fellow man.

He lives in missionaries, in the home, in industry; He lives wherever men carry Him in their hearts.

In a world where there is so much of evil, it is good to know that Easter is always with us in those who sincerely and devoutly follow in His footsteps.

OUR IMMORTAL HOPE!

By Jack Riley

Pastor McLean Methodist Church

When the Greek empire was the center of learning drama was a great means of entertaining. However, the characters in the dramas would often get their lives in such emotional conflict that they seemed hopeless. Then the stage-manager would send one of his "gods" to unravel the conflict.

Jesus Christ came into such a world drama. He came to a government needing a Ruler; society needing a Redeemer; and man needing a Savior. Jesus Christ came to unravel the drama of life.

The reason for the emotional conflict was that the people had leaned heavily on the LAW as the way to righteousness and God. Jesus came to reveal the Fatherliness of God. A God of Love and Mercy, not a God of wrath and punishment. In "Green Pastures," the Lord visited His creation one more time as the temple was being attacked. He asked the soldier on duty guarding the temple, "Who are you fighting for?" The soldier replied, "The God of Hosea." The Lord commented, "Is He not the God of Moses, too?" "No, He's not a God of wrath," said the soldier. "He is a God of Mercy!" The Lord replied, "How do you know He is a God of Mercy?" "Because He has suffered," replied the soldier. The "God in Christ" is a God of Mercy. The cross killed His body. The tomb kept it . . . but not all of it . . . His spirit is immortal!

Our immortal hope: . . . because I live ye shall live also." John 14:19. In the experience of "being born from above" (regeneration) real resurrection takes place. Paul supports this in Gal. 2:20: "It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And I know the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God." He shows that Eternal Life is not merely an extension of life (that is what most of us may get), but a Transformation of life; ("be not conformed to this world . . . Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mold, but let God remold your minds from within, so that you may prove in practice that the plan of God for you is good, meets all His demands and moves towards the goal of true maturity." Rom. 12:2, J. B. Phillips), not the projection of conditions on earth into an endless future, BUT A NEW WORLD OF BEING; not quantity of time, but QUALITY OF Spirit . . . "This mortal nature must put on immortality." I Cor. 15:53.

Edgar Lee Masters in his Spoon River Anthology has his character Samuel Gardner say, "Now I, an under tenant of the earth, can see that the branches of a tree spread no wider than its roots. AND HOW SHALL THE SOUL OF MAN BE LARGER THAN THE LIFE HE HAS LIVED?"

Because Christ lives I shall live also is our immortal hope!

Ticklers

I learned one thing at this last trial. I knew my dog wasn't too steady to wing and shot since he was allowed to break when the birds flushed during last hunting season. When the birds were flushed from this point, I waited until they flew over the hill until I shot into the air, and even though the dog wanted to follow the flight he held steady (I was giving him whoa signals). Later that evening one of the judges remarked that a dog handler is supposed to shoot while the birds are in shotgun range. Of course, this is a natural conclusion but I, possibly like many other amateurs, would never have thought of it had it not been mentioned.

Jim Mangard, Amarillo, easily won first place in the derby stake with an orange and white Palomintang pup called Sam.

Many of the handlers were commenting on the scarcity of birds the first day. In fact, it appeared as though there weren't enough to conduct a field trial. The second morning there were nine coveys tabulated by Jack Woodford and myself. The woods were tall and dry. The scenting conditions were a result, a dog owner didn't have much of a chance of demonstrating his dog to the judges. Field trials are much like bird hunting. Some days your dog will find all of the coveys and work out the angles while on other days old Pluto won't do so good.

The natural conditions made it very difficult on a pointing dog. The dry conditions of the North Plains is typical, hence the bird work of the dogs was scarce but it singled out the dogs that had the ability to work in these conditions.

According to A. S. Jackson, Chief Wildlife Biologist in the Panhandle, there will be controlled grazing on the refuge this year, thus adding to the habitat of bobwhite quail and also to the pleasure of pointing dog enthusiasts.

March is more than halfway past now. Game birds and animals have weathered the winter, that is, those that exist on the ranges at this time. The individuals that weren't strong enough to endure the extremes of the winter blasts of the winter, the short food supply in some cases, have all fallen out. We started out with a brood and breeding stock that has weathered the winter. Given a fair chance, the turkeys will produce to the extent that we might very well have such a huge surplus that a hen season might be necessary.

A dry spring and a fairly damp summer are ideal for these birds. On the other hand, the quail will multiply to the same extent if the conditions are favorable. A wet spring and especially a wet July and August will add up to a spectacular quail population this fall. We will have to wait and see what the rainfall will measure.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brown and children visited in Quanah during the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry.

Donnie Lowe of Erick, Okla., visited Mrs. W. M. Tibbets Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd B. Smith spent the week end in Amarillo visiting in the Keith Howell and Jim Williams homes.

Mrs. C. T. Chapman and son, Tommy of Grand Prairie spent last week with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Eunice Kunkel. Sunday guests of Mrs. Kunkel were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kunkel of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Kunkel and Mrs. Bob Shifman and children of Pampa.

PANHANDLE OUTDOOR LIFE

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

The field trials last week were tame dogs that made contact with small and, strangely enough, these three were the ones that placed first, second and third. Talk was that some of the bird work performed wasn't at all up to par, or not enough bird finding, but that was the way it was. The judges called back three big-running dogs in order to give them a chance to show on game but on their second try they still didn't find the bobwhite. As a result, Earl Jackson, Oklahoma, won first, Jerry Brislow, Amarillo, won second, while Bill Sharp annexed third with a good-looking setter. Mr. Sharp's son Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains.

UP TO THEM — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, above, says that, while he won't avoid discussion of the Berlin issue, neither will he bring it up when he stops in Moscow on his present 10-nation tour.

I was riding high with old Tex's as I had in the gun-dog stake until a Mr. McDavid put down a pointer that literally seized the ground and came up with a covey and. The dog seized up first place. In Bill's setter, Joe, won second place under adverse conditions. Joe's brace mate flushed birds that he dog was working but, nevertheless, the dog still held and when set on again pointed and a single was flushed in front of him. The judges, Mr. Shelton and Mr. Cornelius, failed to overlook one single mistake of the dogs or the handlers. After a dog points, the handler is supposed to dismount, walk in front of the pointing dog, flush the birds and then shoot. That is simple enough to me but

COUNTRY PLATTERS LES CARROLL

Despite the current popularity of Rock and Roll, recording companies have not forgotten lovers of Gospel music. Several new releases make very pleasant listening, and are highly inspirational.

"Had Him With a Song," by Jimmie Davis, is an album of 12 very beautiful religious songs, many of which were never previously recorded. "Look for the Silver Lining" is an album of inspiring music, and Roberta Sherwood will brighten your day (both Decca).

At the height of his success as a Western singer, Tommy Collins entered theological school. He has selected a number of best-known and beloved Gospel songs for his album, "Light of the Lord" (Capitol).

Among singles, be sure and try Rex Allen's "The Mystery of His Way," and "The Voice of My Saviour," by Jimmy Martin (both Decca).

If you like music on the dreamy side, two albums that fill the bill perfectly are "The Isle of Enchantment" by Charles Dant (Coral), and "Isle of Golden Dreams" by Wayne King (Decca).
