Paving, Curb & Gutter Work Continues Here

Workmen continued grading, building forms and pouring concrete this week on McLean's paving project. Approximately 3,000 feet of the 9,000 feet to have curbs and gutters had been completed by Thursday afternoon.

The curb and gutter work will probably run through the first week in July.

Meanwhile the city crew began grading and hauling the base material behind the curb and gutter crews in preparation of the actual paving which the city boys will do.

Contractors Bledsoe and Duncan of Amarillo began work on the 9 1/2 blocks of curbs, gutters and paving last week.

Another 29 blocks of asphalt paving is to be seal-coated—a new process which will vastly improve McLean's streets.

This is the largest paving project ever done in McLean.

Past head football coach, Jack Riley, who only recently resigned his post here, will return to McLean Public Schools in September in a new capacity.

Mrs. Riley was re-hired as a commercial teacher in the high school, a position she has held for three years.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all regular services at the church.

DIAL PHONE SYSTEM NOW IN OPERATION

A total of 722 telephones switched to the dial system in McLean last Saturday night, leaving the city with a modern and completely automatic telephone system.

District Manager Clyde Dickerson stated that in the future only one service man would be needed and obtained in McLean to insure continued service with the dial system.

H. V. "Red" Ballard will remain in charge of all telephone maintenance, and may be contacted in case of any telephone disorder of emergency.

Southwestern Bell Telephone workers have installed during the past few weeks the maze of wires in the new building that now houses the dial system. The new building is located on the south lane of Hightway 66.

Directories bearing the new numbers for McLean phones were mailed last week.

Little League--It's A Hit!

Little League baseball hit full stride this week with games Monday and Tuesday nights and more on tap tonight. Coach Harvey Taylor's high-flying Cubs netted another victory Tuesday to make their record 3-0. They beat the Pirates of Lefors by 12-11.

Jack Dyer and Bob Parrish have also been helping coach the Cubs. Jim Parrish has proved to be a tough pitcher and hitter both for the Cubs. He got a home run, triple, double and single the other night in four trips to the plate.

Kenneth Parrish has also won one game for the Cubs. Centerfielder Freddie Smith has collected seven hits, Shortstop Johnny Fuller has six hits and Johnny Carpenter, the second baseman, had five hits—all these were before their last game.

Coach Johnny Haynes' Braves picked up their first win of the season Tuesday night by tromping the Indians from Lefors by 13-11. King was the winning pitcher.

The Braves' record is now 1-2. Tom Greenwood is helping coach the team. Bidwell, Pool, Windom, McCurley, Hess and Crockett have also played good ball for the Braves.

Haynes said he'd been having some trouble getting all his boys out for practice.

The McLean Pony Leaguers won their first game Tuesday night by easing out the Lefors bunch 13-11. Kenny Willingham was the winning pitcher. Home runs were hit by Willingham and Woods. Lefors got only one hit while McLean collected 12.

They had previously lost to the Lefors team 7-8.

Coaching the Pony Leaguers is Sonny Back. Sonny says he needs some more boys bad—ages 13-16.

The other Little League team, the Cardinals, coached by Sammy Haynes, has won 2 and lost none.

Don Blair, Bob Stubblefield and Sid Lands are helping coach this group.

Winning pitchers have been John McCabe and Patton, each winning one game. McCabe got a grand slam home run in the last of the sixth the other night and Patton has six hits in two games. Durham has also been playing well at first base.

"It's An Awful Shame"

Firemen Give Charles The Axe

Great shame drops fell on the head of Charles Cullin last week when Fire Chief Boyd McAllister told Charles he could no longer be a fireman.

In the last regular meeting of the group the decision was cast by the local fire fighting force.

Meador stated that although Charles had attended fires regularly, he had been irregular in attending the Thursday night meetings, which are required by ordinance to be paid members.

Weekly Story Hour Slated at Lovett

Plans are being laid at the Lovett Memorial Library to begin a weekly story hour for boys and girls 3 to 7, and a reading program for boys and girls of all ages.

There will be a required number of books to be read out of specific classifications, and at the time of completion of requirements, reading certificates will be given.

Mrs. Bob Black and Mrs. S. A. Cousins will be the story tellers for the little folks. These boys and girls will be accredited with reading one book each time they attend the story telling hour on the back lawn at the library each morning from 9:30 until 10. The only qualification for registration is the ability to sit and listen to a well-told story for 15 minutes at a time. Games and songs will be used, also. Children are asked not to wear their best clothes.

PTA Makes Gift To Grade School

The Parent-Teacher Association voted before school was out to buy a Texas flag for the grade school, a three-speed record player, and curtains for the rooms on the east side of the school.

Erma Hester, chairman of the committee, announced this week that all those items have come in. She said the curtains would be hemmed some time this summer by the mothers.

The date of this work will be announced later.

California-Bound Girl Scouts Enjoy McLean Hospitality

California-bound Girl Scouts—23 of them—and their five adult sponsors stopped over in McLean and had a big time Sunday night.

The girls, from Greater St. Louis, Mo., were on their way to the West Coast on a sight-seeing trip. They had scrimped and saved for two years to get $4,000 together to make their long awaited trip.

They plan to go out on the southern route—Highway 66—and then return to St. Louis by way of the Pacific Northwest.

While in McLean they camped out at the City Park and the city treated them to a free swim at the Windom pool.

"We've never had such a nice reception," said their leader, Mrs. Marvin Eaton. "And you've have one of the most beautiful parks I've seen in a small town."

Mrs. Erma Hester, just back from a library workshop, is full of plans and ideas for McLean's library.

Today, Miss Jo Battle, an instructor in the library workshop and recently hired as a consultant for the Reno, Nev., library, is here to give recommendations for some reorganization.

Erma, who has been a librarian only a short time, says she really had a hard time "catching up" at

MAX WADE in the GROOM NEWS: Opportunity may knock only once, but temptation bangs on the door for years and years.

As for helpful household hints, Max says that to drive a nail without smashing your thumb, hold the hammer with both hands. And this one: Along about the time we tell our kids you can't put more in a container than it will hold, along comes a woman in slacks.

Writing on the right of newspapers to print government records, since it is the business of the entire public, PAT BENNETT reminds us that "Error, like weeds, gets a little hold and soon takes the field... officials should never forget that public life is just that—business in a glass house. And, as Harry Truman says, if you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen." WALTER LIPPMAN in a free society, the state does not administer the affairs of men. It administers justice among men who conduct their own affairs.

From the Sideline, HAROLD HUDSON in the OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD says you can't take it with you, but you better not try traveling without it. And a boy is growing up when he stops memorizing ballplayers' batting averages and starts memorizing movie actresses' measurements.

CECIL O. WAGGONER in the CLAUDE NEWS: Say "How cool you look," and it pleases a woman. Tell her she doesn't look so hot and it makes her mad. Women are so unreasonable.

GENE ALFORD in the MOORE COUNTY NEWS says the city officials in Dumas aren't tough on dog owners at all. Says back in a small Missouri town the mayor posted this bulletin: "All persons are hereby notified to pay their dog tax by April 1, otherwise they will be killed."

PAT BENNETT in the CROSBYTON REVIEW: Everybody gets caught up in a telephone gag now and then. This one concerns Mrs. Billye Stockton during her high school years.

One day shortly after a sandstorm, the phone rang and Billye answered. "Would you please put something around your receiver," said the official sounding voice, "we're going to blow dust out of the line in a moment." When Billye's father (the gangster) walked in, she had a rag wrapped around the phone and was waiting tensely for the fall-out. "Mother had just cleaned the house," she recalls, "and I wasn't about to let them blow dust all over everything."

Q—The firm I work for is transferring me to another city and therefore I must sell my house. Will it be possible for me to get my GI loan entitlement back, so I may apply for another loan?

A—Yes. It is possible to have GI loan entitlement restored in cases where the sale is for compelling reasons. VA, however, must be released of all liability on the present loan.

Q—I have a dental condition resulting from combat wounds, but for which I am not entitled to receive compensation. Is there any deadline in my case for applying for outpatient dental treatment?

A—No. Veterans whose non-compensable dental conditions resulted from combat wounds may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed.

Q—I am studying for my doctorate degree under the Korean GI bill. How many hours of classroom work does the VA consider to be full time?

A—For graduate studies, there is no set number of hours. VA accepts the word of your school whether you are on a full-time

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word competes only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. A Chevy down a snakey back road and you'll feel the difference. It's sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense

WHY THAT CAMEL!

Some folks have their way, in a few years the pill could change America will be doled out to you," a booklet just issued by the American Medical Association. "It will be a pill paid for by the government (out your taxes) and prescribed by a doctor who works not you—his patient—but for the government. This r-coated potion which some people are trying to do down the nation's throat is called 'socialized medicine' or more euphemistically, 'compulsory health insurance'."

Good many of us probably believe that the social-medicine drive is dormant if not dead—after all, all-out campaign to force it on the country was attempted some years ago and got nowhere, for the simple reason that the public at large was overwhelmingly opposed to the scheme. But its advocates have not given up the fight. They have merely changed their tactics. They are trying to bring it about on a step-by-step basis. Year bills are introduced which would provide so-called "free" medical service to certain special groups. The current example is the proposed measure which would give it to the people drawing social security checks. Obviously, if such efforts as these are successful, it will be a matter of time until we have socialized medicine in practice if not in name. The parable of the camel who got his nose in the tent applies perfectly here. The AMA's booklet goes in considerable detail in showing that socialized medicine has produced in various countries—Britain, Austria, Germany, and so on. The record, generally speaking, has been a sorry one. The standards of medical care have deteriorated, and the bills have zoomed. And that could happen here.—Western Observer in Anson.

COUNTING OUR BLESSINGS

How many times have we Swisherites been guilty of apologizing for our treeless landscape, our lack of beautiful mountains, the smallness of our towns, or our lack of cultural attractions?

How many times have we been ashamed of our country when we had visitors from the city?

How many times have we pretended to despise our town for fear out-of-state visitors would think we were snobs?

It's true that our country is different from many other places, and grass always greener on the other side of the fence. When we visit the city, it has an attraction because it offers diversion. A change is always good for a person. That is why most everybody, regardless of his age, likes to take a vacation once a year. City folks go to the beach. Those who live near the beach go to the mountains. All who can go to Europe or Hawaii. And it goes. But visiting a place and making it one's home are two different things.

In what ways is life in Swisher County preferable to life in other places in America or abroad?

We mention a few.

Consider the blessing of going to bed in the still of a night with no clanging streetcars, no honking taxis, no flashing electric signs to disturb one's rest.

Consider the blessing of comparatively clean, wide streets and sidewalks on which to drive or walk instead of narrow, alley-like thoroughfares found in so many cities.

Consider the blessing of being able to walk through our business districts without having to wade through hordes of destitute people begging alms.

Consider the blessing of clean, pure air to breathe instead of the humid atmosphere of many cities, polluted with the aroma of decaying vegetables and unbathed people—not to mention Los Angeles' smog.

Consider the blessing of being protected by pure food laws, making it possible for us to eat and enjoy anything we see in a store with the knowledge that it will not injure our health.

Consider the blessing of modern super markets which stimulate our appetites.

Consider the blessing of being able to communicate with most anyone we desire, unbound by language differences.

'Best Short-Order Cook I've Ever Had'

Consider the blessing of living in a country without having to fear that any daybreak may see civil insurrection and bloodshed.

Consider the blessing of going to bed at night with a doctor, ambulance, miracle drugs, hospital and other facilities just as close as our telephone.

Consider the blessing of associating with people, a majority of whom worship the same God.

Consider the blessing of living in a town where our major problems concern such things as water tanks, paved streets, new school buildings, and street lights, instead of housing hordes of displaced persons, feeding starving children, building local fortifications.

Consider the blessings of drug store soda fountains, having cups of coffee with friends, riding around without gas rationing, visiting friends without having a gestapo around wondering what we are up to, going and coming as we please without having to have permits and reasons.

All these things—and the list is endless—are taken for granted in Swisher County, but not so in many parts of the world. Touring the world, visiting the big cities, viewing the wonders of nature, all this is fine for the vacationer. But for just plain living, give us Swisher County, despite the dust drouth and small town ways.—Tulia Herald.

Congressman Rogers Reports TO THE PEOPLE

WHO GETS THE NATIONAL INCOME?

The gross national income of this country has been increasing measurably. In 1955 it was $391.7 billion; in 1956 it jumped to $414.7 billion; in 1957 it was $433.9 billion; in 1958 it was $437.7 billion; and it is estimated that it will reach $467 billion in 1959. The increase is not really as great as it would appear because of the inflationary trends which have developed—meaning that it takes more dollars to buy the same amount of goods. In other words, the increase is not as great measured in constant 1947 dollars as in current dollars.

In any event the people wonder who gets this income, and that is what I propose to try to tell you in this newsletter. The information is compiled from statistics gathered together by the Department of Commerce on the subject and is considered most accurate.

It seems that the persons who have jobs and are receiving a wage or salary are now enjoying the greatest increase in their share of the national income. The records reflect that wage and salary earners are now getting approximately 71% of the national income. This figure includes the fringe benefits and the social insurance, such as social security and unemployment compensation benefits. This means that wage rates have increased at a more rapid pace, percentage wise, than has the national income. The present take of wage and salary earners, including social insurance and fringe benefits, is the result of wage rates which have increased faster than the national income. The measurable increase in interest rates has resulted in a substantial increase for those who loan money or who own interest-bearing mortgages and bonds. In fact, the share of this group has doubled since World War II. In 1945 this group was getting 1.7c out of each dollar; in 1949 this had increased to 2.2c, and now it stands at 3.7c. This is a long way from the tremendous take that was being enjoyed by that group during the heyday of the late 20's, but this share seems to be on the upward trend.

Contrary to the general opinion of many, and contrary to some of the propaganda that has been passed around this country about the amount of money going into the hands of the farmers, the records reflect that the farm group is receiving less than 50% of what it was 13 years ago. The present take of the farm group is less than 4c of every national income dollar. This is not an all-time low, but it is getting pretty close. The all-time low occurred in 1957 when the farm group was getting 3.2c out of every national income dollar.

Another group which has been hit hard is the small business and professional group. This group is receiving less of the national income dollar today than it has any time since the great depression of the early 30's. They get 8.6c out of every dollar of the national income. In 1946 this group was receiving 13c. Hence, they have been on a continual decline since the end of World War II. Some think that if the small business income was separated from the professional income, the facts would be more startling. It seems that professional income, when taken separately, has been slightly on the rise. This means that the small businessman has

Comment from the Capital — WHAT ARE WE BUILDING? by Vant Neff

What's happening in our country? Just look at the recent news.

The head of one of the country's leading unions threatens that "his union" will not support the Kennedy-Ervin Labor Reform Bill if certain concessions he wants are not in it.

A West Coast union boss states that even if the government orders him to ship arms to fight oppression in the East, he will refuse to load ships!

We find another well-known union boss flouting the final decisions of the United States courts and utilizing union funds in his retaliation efforts against an employer for seeking the protection of the courts.

These are but three examples of power-mad union officials who are determined to do just what they feel like doing, no matter what.

What's going on here? And what are we allowing to happen?

Are these men bigger than the courts? Are they a sovereign power bigger than the government?

Do they want to make the laws?—and are they, in effect, making them? What are we building here?

Now, from what the McClellan Committee uncovered we know that something must be done about the evils existing in many unions. We know about acid throwing . . . unfair picket lines . . . abusive tactics . . . racketeers and gangsters in unions. The Kennedy-Ervin bill was supposed to correct these revelations.

Let's admit that Senators Kennedy and Ervin meant to draft an effective bill. But what does the bill actually do? Nothing. Nothing at all!

It contains a batch of "sweeteners" that are nothing more than concessions to union power.

It requires unions to file the names of their officers and a copy of their constitution and by-laws if they have one—and a great many do not!

It provides for no greater "reform" than any bill or law that has preceded it. The union racketeer can still thumb his nose at the government.

And the little business man . . . what about that poor guy? He may give his employees every conceivable benefit—and yet let anyone decide to unionize his shop and he is powerless to stop an abusive picket line around his premises. If he as much as raises his voice, this bill allows the union to charge him with "influencing his employees" and he must report the cost of the "influence". The Kennedy-Ervin bill does nothing—absolutely nothing!—to protect him from this kind of abuse!

The small business man can do nothing for his own protection or the protection of his employees from racketeers in unions, but the unions are not stopped by this bill from displaying misleading banners, distributing one-sided literature, and coercive propaganda. They even devote union funds to back candidates who will work hand in glove with them.

The Senate has passed the Kennedy-Ervin bill . . . was it because they didn't want to offend union leaders by legislating real union reform? The people are demanding adequate, effective labor reform. Our last remaining hope lies with the House of Representatives where the representatives closest to the people meet. Surely, they must see the need of a bill that will make the necessary labor corrections that the Kennedy-Ervin bill so obviously fails to make! They must send back to the people a complete measure against union evils. We can not take a "piece" of a bill now . . . and perhaps more later on! Otherwise, what we are building . . . is dictatorship from unions. Now . . . it is up to our representatives in the House of Representatives!

under a great deal more than is reflected by the figures, which lumps both the professional and small business income together.

The group receiving rents has stayed about the same—that is, about 3.4c out of each dollar.

Another group which has been on the decline is the management group, which is concerned primarily with corporate profits before taxes. The reduction in that group has been from 17c in 1950 down to 10c this year. It was 12½c in 1946.

These marked changes indicate many things—a few of which are as follows: Many farmers are continuing to leave the farms and moving into the labor market. It must be remembered that the labor market has a minimum wage and maximum hour law. Hence, a greater number of people moving into the labor market would not necessarily mean lower wages because of more people seeking work. The statistics also reflect the impact on small business and professional groups, of the many requirements of government that have burdened business in the past several years. Many people have given up small business and are refusing to go into business because of the complex requirements of the government in keeping records and making reports. This burden has been not

WATERSHED PROGRAM GIVEN AS ANSWER FOR McLEAN AREA

Whether you live in the country or along "Main Street" in some busy town, you're probably close to the flood orbit of a watershed. And it may be later than you think.

Poorly protected watersheds can be dangerous actors, set to cut loose with the first big storm.

Within a few hours McClellan Creek can become a raging torrent doing countless amounts of damages. Bridges and roads are washed out. Valuable bottomland is either badly washed away or covered up by sand and silt, rendering it almost useless. Fences being destroyed is an annual occurrence. During 1957 and 1958 the highway to McLean remained closed a good part of the summer while bridge and road repair was going on. Livestock was lost and homes threatened. Loss of life could have occurred. Lake McClellan has received a heavy load of silt.

The United States has a long string of rough, costly floods. In many states they come with nearly round-the-clock frequency. Then there are the ones that sneak up and come at you without much warning, like those destructive floods on our own McClellan Creek.

Today many communities look to the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, known as P. L. 566, as the answer to a good share of the nation's flood and water problems.

The Act provides for a community, project-type approach to soil and water resource development, use and conservation. Small watershed undertakings are the people's own projects.

When a flood problem or other water use problem exists, local people set up their own watershed projects. Under the act these organizations can receive technical and financial assistance from the U. S. Department of Agriculture in planning and carrying out the works of improvement for (1) flood prevention; (2) agricultural water management, including irrigation and drainage; (3) non-agricultural water management, including municipal or industrial water supply.

In passing the small watershed act, Congress made clear that there are the ones that sneak up and come at you without much warning, like those destructive for development and flood protection of major river valleys.

The act can be used by local people to tackle flood prevention and water management problems only when these problems cannot feasibly be handled under current federal conservation programs.

Thus Congress paved the way for a joint attack on complex conservation problems that local people cannot be expected to solve single-handed with only previously existing technical, financial, research and educational assistance.

One of the things rural and farm people like most about watershed protection and flood prevention enterprises is that they are essentially their own undertakings.

Too often rampaging floods and high water problems are too tough and complex for local people to tackle singlehanded. It's a team undertaking in this age with residents of flood fans and bottomlands working out watershed problems side by side with uplanders.

P. L. 566 has been described as a program by, for and of the people in which Uncle Sam lends a helping hand—not federal work with local help. Rural residents band together and sponsor a watershed project, then plan, build and manage it.

Watershed runoff—the strong arm of floods— isn't limited to mountain slopes and hillsides. Your own lawn, orchard, pasture or cropland sheds water, too. Generally most of the larger watersheds are flood threats. Those dry washes, quietly-running mountain brooks, wilderness trout streams and sleepy-looking creeks don't fool veteran flood-watchers.

Bottomland residents in the shadow of unprotected watersheds who have escaped floods, may be just plumb lucky. With the weather dishing out so many surprises, there's no telling what new trouble storms will stir up.

In most of the country's agricultural areas, the flood pattern is much the same. In addition to damaging property, roads and utilities, seasonal floods put a bad crimp in farm operations like spring tillage, seeding operations, fall harvests along with plugging farm drainage and irrigation systems.

typically American community-major new action approach, is one of the management

Mrs. Betty Jean Taylor, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a red and white print squaw dress, with a shoulder corsage of red roses and silver lace.

Bill Rodgers served the groom as best man.

Miss Peggy Sharp played the nuptial music, and Mrs. Frank Simpson and Mrs. Morris Brown were vocalists.

Following the ceremony, Misses Betty Dilbeck and Martina Giesler, sisters of the groom, served the wedding cake and punch. They were attired in pink and silver squaw dresses.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Taylor, Jimmie Don and Scotty Mac of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. ## Here's a Rice Pudding That's Really Different

In Sweden, it's called "grot." In any language, it's great, this delicious variation of rice pudding. The secret: addition of aromatic bitters to the basic mix.

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Most everybody likes a creamy rice pudding. For a change, try this adaptation of a Swedish dish called "grot." It is served on special occasions. For its special lift, aromatic bitters, a blend of tropical herbs, is used. It does wonders with many foods.

Aromatic Rice Pudding (6-8 servings)

Four tablespoons uncooked rice, 1 quart milk, 4 tablespoons sugar or more, to taste; 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons aromatic bitters, ½ pint whipped heavy cream.

Mix rice with milk, sugar and salt in a saucepan or flameproof bowl. Bring to boil, then lower heat.

Place pan on asbestos pad and simmer very slowly, uncovered, for 1 to 1½ hours, or until thick.

Stir occasionally during cooking to blend top skin into rest of pudding.

Turn off heat. Carefully stir in bitters and let pudding cool in pan. Chill in refrigerator.

Just before serving, fold in whipped cream. Garnish with maraschino cherries.

Ginger in another old favorite gives a new taste.

Ginger Meringue Bread Pudding (6-8 servings)

Combine ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ground ginger, 2 whole eggs. Beat only until mixed.

Stir in 1 cup cold milk and 2 cups day-old bread crumbs.

Add 3 cups scalded milk. Pour into a 1½-quart greased casserole.

Bake in preheated slow oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, for 1½ hours or until knife inserted into center comes out clean.

Cool slightly and spread meringue over top.

Meringue

Beat 2 egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Add 1/16 teaspoon salt and 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon at a time. Add ¼ cup ground ginger. Spread over pudding.

Bake in very slow oven, 300 degrees Fahrenheit, for 15 minutes or until meringue is slightly browned.

Mrs. Mamie Pettit accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Ballard and Jimmy of Fort Worth to Dumas Wednesday to visit in the Carl Pettit home.

Science and Your Skin AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE BEAUTY PROBLEM

The human body is sixty or seventy per cent liquid. Dehydrate us, grind up our bones, and what are we? A handful of chemicals... and you cannot put us back together again with a glass of water like instant coffee. But we can help to moisturize, to rehydrate the cell structure of the skin, by constantly providing a supplementary source of moisture like a new beauty "ice" - so necessary to keep the skin cells actively reproducing a healthy, glowing, young-looking skin.

The amazing fact about the skin is that each cell lives for four to five days. As new cells are made, the old ones are pushed up, out, and off, revealing the fresh new skin underneath. This process is constant. Then why don't we all look like new born babies? Because of our miserable interference with this wonderful natural process. We pile on make-up. We stuff our pores with grease and waxy creams. We fail to remove make-up properly. We overexpose ourselves to sun and wind. We laugh, we cry, we ham it up, and the play of emotions across the face sets up tensions and pressures which slow down surface circulation. To have a healthy, glowing, dewy skin, we must keep the natural process of evolution active.

Recently, one of the country's most distinguished commercial laboratories developed a revolutionary new moisturizer - a beauty "ice" which flows moisture into the skin. It contains five non-oily, non-greasy moisturizers, known to be compatible with the natural moisture from which beautiful, glowing new cells are created. As a plus, it also contains humectants which actually draw moisture from the air itself. Paradoxically it provides a mild astringent action which encourages circulation near the skin's surface, thus increasing its receptivity to the moisturizing ingredients.

An entirely new concept in skin care, this cool, clear-crystal, beauty "ice" softens and counteracts dryness; retards moisture loss; tingles; refreshes; tends to reduce large pores. Good for all skin types, it imparts an unbelievable smoothness. Wait until you wear it, under make-up! Women of all ages hail its discovery as a round-the-clock, round-the-year necessity.

Life-Cycle of Skin Cells

Diagram shows how cells change in their outward exfoliation from new, live moisture-filled cells (a) to: cuboidal, squarish cells (b); to diamond-shaped granular cells (c) until they reach the outer surface and flake off (d).

DIAL TELEPHONES FOR McLEAN ARE HERE AT LAST!

Sunday morning callers no longer heard the familiar "number please" - instead a steady hum that indicated your number can now be dialed.

This brings about some important changes. One is that every number has been changed. It will take a while to learn the numbers you call most frequently, and just a little patience in looking them up in the meantime. It is important that you use your directory to find the number, and here's why. The same circuits are used for the information operator that connect you with the long distance operator. We are certain enough circuits have been provided for normal usage but if too many people call information for numbers that are already listed in the directory, it will result in a busy signal when you try to reach long distance.

PAYMENT OF BILLS

For your convenience your bills may be paid at the City Hall to Mrs. Stella Lee, at the same place you pay your gas and water bills. PLEASE BRING YOUR BILL WITH YOU WHEN MAKING PAYMENTS. Mrs. Lee does not have a copy of your bill.

VACATION HINT

When you stop in the middle of your vacation this year to remember friends or family back home, why not give the "wish you were here" greeting a new twist.

Do it with a Long Distance call. It's more fun that way, and you can catch up on the news at home, too.

And remember to call station-to-station. It's cheaper—you can make three calls for the price of two.

BUSY TELEPHONES

With school out for the summer, telephones in many homes will probably be getting a real workout.

There'll be calls from the children's friends at most any hour of the day—to round up the group for a game, to arrange to meet at the movies, or to compare notes on a new bike or the latest record album.

Whatever the call, the telephone is always there to help teenagers—and small fry, too—have more fun during vacation.

If you have children whose friends keep the phone ringing at a merry clip, make it easy for your youngsters to answer without running through the house. Extension telephones will do the trick.

Why not call the telephone company for a home extension telephone today? The cost is low, just $1.00 a month plus installation.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Plan To Attend Church This Sunday

"CHRIST HAS THE WORDS OF ETERNAL LIFE!"
By George Dolak, Pastor
Trinity Lutheran Church, Pagan

Many people in Jesus' day were looking for someone who would make Israel a great nation. Many people who followed Jesus deserted Him when they found out that He was not an earthly king. Having been forsaken by all but the Twelve Disciples, Jesus turns to them and asks, "Will ye also go away?" And it is Peter who answers, declaring, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life!"

"To whom shall we go?" This is a question which is vitally important today. Through the Scriptures we know that Jesus is "The Christ," the Son of the Living God. There is no other one to whom you can go with a guilty conscience, or with a troubled, sorrow filled heart. There is no other one who can give you true comfort, help, and eternal life. Where would you go if you forsook Jesus? Would you turn to those who teach a doctrine of salvation by works—maintaining that if you try hard enough you can save yourself? Or would you go to those who deny the Bible as God's inspired Word and ridicule those who believe it? Would you turn to those who deny that Christ is God, who deny the miracles, the resurrection, and the salvation obtained by Christ? If you left Jesus, would you go to those who try to "save" people from sin, sickness and death by simply teaching that these things do not exist? If you left Jesus, would you go to those who say there is no God, no hereafter—to those who say that death is the end of a person's existence? If you go to any of these you are indeed without hope, comfort, and assurance. How foolish it would be to leave Jesus and go to any other. Those who would lure you away from Christ and His pure Gospel have nothing at all to offer you.

It would be the height of folly to leave Christ because He alone has "the words of eternal life." He alone is able to save men for an eternity of happiness with God. His words contain the power to save men's souls forever. St. Paul declares, "The Gospel is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." In the Gospel He offers to you His victory over death. He promises the believer, "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." These are the words of eternal life. If you have accepted them you have eternal life.

To go to any other than Christ is to place your hope and trust in something which lasts but a short time compared to the eternity of bliss which He promises in the life to come. God forbid that you should make that fatal mistake which would cause you to leave Jesus Christ and join forces with someone or something else. May you ever confess with Peter, "Lord to whom shall I go? Thou hast the words of eternal life. And I believe and am sure that Thou art that Christ, the Son of the Living God."

Canned Pear Desserts Tempt Our Appetites

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Sweet chocolate pear crisp combines the spicy flavor of canned Bartlett pears and sweet chocolate in a rich, brown sugar crust. It can be served hot or cold, with whipped cream, ice cream or plain cream. Perfect for porch parties.

YOUR Dial Telephones ARE ON THE JOB!

McLean's dial telephones are on the job.

At 1:01 a.m. Sunday this city's telephone system was changed from manual to dial operation. Although the change was made smoothly, in a matter of minutes, many months of work by scores of telephone people were required to make your dial system possible.

Dial equipment had to be manufactured and installed, a building was constructed. Thousands of complex switches and other parts had to be precision-made. Thousands of feet of tiny wires had to be arranged. Many hundreds of wire ends had to be hand-soldered.

As a result, McLean's telephone users can dial their calls, using up-to-date telephone equipment. On a second's notice, your system can make any one of the 222,000 interconnections possible among the city's telephones.

We are glad we're able to give McLean this modern dial system to meet its telephone needs, today and tomorrow.

Registration for the two activities will be Saturday, June 27, in the library from 1 until 6 p. m. Everyone is invited to participate.
