spenders, inc.

I have some friends who go around shaking their heads and chucking "Money won't buy happiness."

These people never have any money. But they are positive it won't buy happiness. I suppose they wouldn't be caught dead with a $100 bill.

And then I have some rather carefree friends who go around saying, "Money may not buy happiness, but it sure helps you choose the type of misery you like best." These people never have any money either. (You see I just don't have any rich friends.)

At any rate it is my theory from watching rich folks (from afar) that the reason money doesn't do much for them is that they just don't know how to spend it.

Now I am convinced that there is as much of an art to spending money as there is to making it. And generally the people who make lots of money are so obsessed with making money that they don't know what to do with the stuff when it's finally in the till. So they give up and re-invest it to make more dough.

And on the other hand, the people that are obsessed with how to live the good, abundant life never have much time left to make money.

Taste in living and wealth are rarely found at the same address.

Now with these conclusions established, I don't see why there wouldn't be a real market nowadays for an enterprising young fellow like myself to set up a Money Spending Guidance Service for rich folks.

Heck, I could make little Nicky Hilton look like a piker.

Of course if I turned out to be a real successful spender, it wouldn't last long... the bureaucrats'd draft me for President.

of conservatives

In Alexander King's delightful new novel, "Mine Enemy Grows Older," there is this brief passage:

"I believe, for instance, that most professional aviators are politically very conservative. And where do I get such an idea? Well, partially from the life and confessions of people like Lindbergh, St. Exupery, Rickenbacker and Ernest Udet. . . I think the loneliness of flying, the sense of absolute power and the constant imminence of disaster are not particularly conducive to all-embracing, democratic feelings."

Now King's book is anything but political, and that quote was thrown in apparently as sort of an after thought. At any rate it coincides with a personal prejudice of mine. I feel that same sort of sentiment when I see this spacious Texas prairie. There is a sort of wild, exhilarating freedom about the vast rolling prairie that—like flying—is not conducive to "all-embracing, democratic feelings."

And I have always thought that anyone who has experienced this exhilarating spirit of freedom could never be enthusiastic in promoting a movement which would regiment citizens into a planned, welfare society.

This sort of speculation leads to the interesting question of why liberals are liberals and why conservatives are conservatives.

Immediately I will contend that political beliefs, like religious convictions, are inherited by most people. And if you want to verify this, try going around counting on the one hand the Democrats who had Republican parents, or the Catholics with Baptist parents, or the Presbyterians with Methodist parents, etc. ("Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it," says Proverbs.)

So there is heredity . . . and then there is the money motive. Everybody knows that conservatives are selfish people with a lot of money that want to hog it all, while the liberals are poor folks that are trying to get their fair share of the loot through government manipulations.

But there are exceptions to both these generalizations. For instance, both Governor Rockefeller of the Republicans and ex-Governor Harriman of the Democrats are liberals—yet both are millionaires. (It takes either a millionaire or

Councilmen Schedule 1960 City Election For April 5th

FOUR POSITIONS OPEN

The calling of an election for three city councilmen highlighted the activities of the meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

By resolution of the council, the city election will be held on April 5th, with filing deadline for the three positions to be 30 days prior to election.

Terms expiring this year are Councilmen Amos Page, Odell Mantooth and Jess Kemp.

In other action by the council, it was voted to accept the low bid, submitted by Ellison Chevrolet Co., on the purchase of a half-ton pickup. The new pickup will be used in the water and gas department.

Other action included refusing the offer of the McLean Fire Department to buy the old Telephone Co. truck. The volunteer firemen bought the vehicle and then decided to offer it to the city.

Also authorized was the purchase of six new street lights, to be added to the most needy places for lighting in the city.

Regarding the present buses running from other communities to McLean, facilitating workers at Marie Foundations, a schedule was approved for daily fees for workers to pay. The payment by the workers is to cover cost of gas and oil for the vehicles.

The schedule, as approved, is as follows: Shamrock, 25c; Erick, Okla., 40c; Clarendon, 30c; Hedley, 40c; Groom, 25c; and Alanreed, 15c.

Several applications have been received by the council for replacement of City Manager Dan Hise, but no specific move has been made. Presently the council is screening the applications received.

Windstorm Damages High

For the past 30 years conservatives have left a bad taste in the public's mouth because they have been identified as old moss-back reactionaries that were "agin" everything. On the other hand a few unsavory conservative radicals such as the late Joe McCarthy and J. Evetts Haley have done their share to make conservatism highly unpalatable.

If we conservatives even hope to deter the socialistic trend we are going to have to become more adept at stating our case in a sensible way, become a positive, yea-saying group, and prove that we can best meet social and economic needs of the people on a private basis.

The best defense is a good offense.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hedrick of Lefors visited in the J. W. Meacham home Sunday.

When a man is wrong and won't admit it he always gets angry.—Halliburton.

Gusts of wind estimated up to 70 mph in velocity ripped through McLean all Tuesday morning, doing considerable damage.

Dozens of television antennas were toppled by the gusts, and shingles on a number of houses were torn off. Part of the roof of the Andrews Equipment Co. building was ripped off.

In addition, elm trees all over town were whipped about until limbs littered sidewalks and streets.

The dust storm, reminiscent of Dust Bowl days of the 30's, hit a peak about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Then to add insult to injury, the willy-nilly Texas weather cleared off and then rain commenced later Tuesday afternoon.

Roof damage in McLean was estimated up to $5,000 with TV antenna damage around $3,000.

WAYLAND QUEEN BEES, TIGER EXES MEET HOME TEAMS FRIDAY

Friday night in McLean two feature basketball games are scheduled for fans, with both the Tigers and Tigerettes slated for action.

At 8 p. m. the Tigerettes will meet the famed Wayland College Queen Bees, the freshman team of the world-known Flying Queens. Playing with the Queen Bees will be Laura Mae Switzer, who ranked as one of the all-time athletes to participate with McLean High School. Despite her freshman status, Miss Switzer has played part of the season with the Flying Queen squad. Also on tap for the night will be the opening game, slated for 7 p. m., which will pit the Tiger exes against the Tigers of this year.

Admission for the double-header will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrel Tibbets and children, Cindy, Mike and Robin, of Beaver, Okla., and Mrs. Marvin Tibbets of Lefors visited with Mrs. W. M. Tibbets Saturday.

MRS. JAMES WESLEY WHITAKER

SOCIETY

Helen Bruner and Wesley Whitaker Wed in Amarillo

Rev. R. L. Kirk officiated at the double-ring ceremony Saturday evening which united Miss Helen Janice Bruner and James Wesley Whitaker in marriage. The vows were exchanged in Wesley Methodist Church in Amarillo before the altar which was flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and carnations and seven branch candelabra.

Mrs. Frank Rodgers of McLean provided traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Don Trow as she sang "Always."

Mrs. Whitaker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bruner of McLean and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Whitaker of Amarillo.

Mrs. Gordon Keetch of Shamrock served as her sister's matron of honor. Her sheath dress was of blue brocade satin and she wore white accessories and a white gardenia corsage. Charles Whitaker was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ken McCarty and Skipper Wood, cousins of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress fashioned with a bouffant skirt and three-quarter length sleeves. Her waist length veil was attached to a tiara of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She wore mitts and carried a white orchid bouquet with blue streamers atop a white Bible.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlor. Miss Joyce Whitaker, sister of the bridegroom, served the three-tiered wedding cake which held a miniature bride and groom and blue forget-me-nots. Miss Linda Miller, cousin of the bridegroom, presided at the crystal punch service. The white linen covered table was centered with an arrangement of blue and white mums with blue streamers with "Helen and Wesley" inscribed in silver.

Miss Sandra Stephens of Pampa, niece of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride chose a brown cotton dress for the wedding trip to New Mexico and Arizona. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Whitaker is a graduate of McLean High School and Seagraves Beauty Academy in Abilene. She is employed at the Colonial Beauty Shop in Amarillo. Mr. Whitaker is a graduate of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo and has attended West Texas College and Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical College at Fort Collins.

The couple will be at home next week at 1009 N. Lake, Amarillo.

Marie Watson and Thomas Leon O'Neal Marry in Abilene

Olive Marie Watson became the bride of Thomas Leon O'Neal in wedding rites Saturday evening, Jan. 23, in the chapel of the College Church of Christ in Abilene.

Bob Harp, assistant minister of the church, performed the 7:30 double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Watson of McLean. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. O'Neal of Lamarque.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length white velveteen princess style dress. It was fashioned with a cowl neckline. Her waist-length veil of illusion was held by a head piece of white velveteen covered with seed pearls. She carried a white velveteen muff covered with a cascade of white carnations and centered with a white orchid.

Miss LaVoyne Haskins of Snyder was maid of honor. She wore a turquoise lace over satin sheath dress with a full overskirt of tulle. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Thomas Friday of Beaumont was best man. L. M. Watson of Hart, brother of the bride, and Thomas Friday served as ushers.

The reception was held in the parlor of McKenzie Hall immediately following the ceremony. Members of the house party were

Pioneer Study Club Meets with Mrs. Smith

The Pioneer Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Alice Short Smith Thursday, Feb. 4, for a regular meeting.

Refreshments were served to the guests as they arrived.

The program theme, "A Shirrtail to Hang to," was suggested in the green and white striped cloth "shirrtail" napkins on which was inscribed HANG ON.

Mrs. W. E. Bogan, president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Creed Lamb, secretary, read a note of appreciation from the Hickman Browns.

Mrs. June Woods reviewed the book, "A Shirrtail to Hang to," by Beth Day. She gave a very interesting account of Cal Farley's life and of the beginning of the familiar Boys Ranch near Tascosa.

The guests were Mesdames Gracie Durham, Rish Phillips, Dora Sanders and Druella Dwyer.

Members present were Mesdames Sinclair Armstrong, Jim Beck, Dale Glass, Jim Hathaway, Gay Hester, Creed Lamb, Clyde Magee, Forrest Hupp, Freeman Melton, Evan Sitter, June Woods, Evey Cubine, Jack Riley, David Fultz, Jesse Leonard, Kenneth McCall, W. E. Bogan and the hostess.

a program on membership and evangelism. Mrs. Winifred Rice brought the devotional from Psalm 145 and an article, "We Have a Job to Do." Missionary names for the day were given by Mrs. Lee Ola Payne, and prayer by Mrs. Barbara Hambricht. How to Be a Disciple was given by Mrs. Glass. Mesdames Carol McCall, Iona Meyers, Maude Cooke and Myrt McCoy read excerpts from Jesus' teachings to His disciples. The meeting closed with prayer.

Present, other than those on program, were Mesdames Mary Powell, Laura Goodman, Ruth Kemp and Dell Mize.

Mrs. Bill Bailey, Mrs. Wheeler Carter and Misses Christa Rodgers and Teena McMurry attended the Bruner-Whitaker wedding in Amarillo Saturday evening.

Mrs. Romain Pugh was a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo last week. She returned home Saturday. Mrs. D. L. Miller stayed with her mother and visited with her daughter, Mrs. Harl Moore, while there.

Mrs. Carl Dwyer returned home Sunday from Highland General Hospital where she had undergone surgery.

DOES GOD APPROVE

"Yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, that thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged." Rom. 3:4.

When we do a thing morally or religiously do we seek the approval of men or of God? Do you accept religious teaching just because many have accepted it before you, or because it is taught by some religious leader, or perhaps is incorporated into some creed book to which you subscribe?

Many religious leaders have been wrong, were not many people wrong in crucifying Christ, and do not many things written in human creeds conflict with biblical teaching, as well as with one another.

There is but one way that we can determine whether God approves of that which we are doing, and that is to look into the mirror of the soul, the Bible. James 1:23-25. We must accept that which God declares to be right, and reject that which He declares to be wrong. The Bible was written in the common language of the people, and was meant to be understood. The Bible is true and does not contradict itself. Its facts are to be believed, its commands to be obeyed, and its promises are to be enjoyed. God does not approve when we follow men, and forsake His word. Matt. 15:9. Worship with us Sunday. David V. Fultz

A little inexpensive insurance

■ A home without basic first-aid supplies is in a dangerous position. Accidents can happen at any time. We'll be glad to suggest an inexpensive assortment of first-aid needs... gauze, tape, antiseptic, burn ointment, etc. But remember, though first aid can save lives, it's often important to follow up with a visit to your doctor. Only he is qualified to judge the seriousness of an injury and prescribe proper medical care.

A FEELING OF UNEASINESS

The 50's have ended. And, as usual, there has been a flood of historical and analytical accounts of what happened during that remarkable era.

Most of these have one thing in common—a recital of economic advantages that were tremendous by any standard of measurement, and perhaps unprecedented. Even so, as Relman Morin of the Associated Press reports, there is a feeling of uneasiness among millions of Americans.

Why should this be the case, in the light of all the countless material gains the 50's brought us? Two statements Mr. Morin quotes may help to answer that question.

Dr. Charles Frankel, a professor of philosophy and sociology, says: "Our society has met many great challenges and quite successfully in other years. But today it is drifting and has no sense of purpose."

George F. Kennan, who, in the course of a varied career, has been our ambassador to Russia and is regarded by many as the foremost U. S. expert on Soviet affairs, says: "If you ask me, as an historian, let us say, whether a country in the state this country is in today, with no highly developed sense of national purpose, with the overwhelming accent of life on personal comfort and amusement . . . If you ask me whether such a country has, over the long run, good chances of competing with a purposeful, serious and disciplined society such as that of the Soviet Union, I must say that the answer is 'No.'"

The good life does not just consist of "things." The good life involves character, decision, fortitude, the willingness to sacrifice when sacrifice is needed in the common cause. No matter how rich a nation may become, if its people fall into the pit of lazy complacency, if their values are restricted more and more to the purely material, then that nation is doomed to ultimate destruction.

MATTER OF SURVIVAL

A wave of protest has developed against rulings by the Internal Revenue Service and the Federal Power Commission which hold that certain electric company advertising is not a legitimate expense, and hence is not deductible for income tax purposes. The advertising in question has told the private enterprise side of the public-private power controversy.

Elisha Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, attacked the rulings before a House committee. His position is that government's taxing power must never be used to restrict or penalize the dissemination of information. Further, he said that no government agency should "be vested with power to determine what advertisement will best serve the particular advertiser and the sale of his product." Representative Brooks of Louisiana charges that the rulings were taken because of pressure "by forces in and out of Congress which favor more government in the electric power business." Then he made an extremely important statement—that "we should be even more vigilant against private business and industry than we are against government than against private competition because of the police power inherent in government."

The government agencies involved say that the questioned advertising deals with legislative rather than business problems. But the obvious truth is that legislative problems are of the utmost urgency to utilities, and to various other kinds of enterprise as well—literally, a question of life or death. Besides this, routine business problems pale to nothing. Most important of all, and entirely aside from the utilities' situation, if the power to tax can be used as a power to penalize or prevent the expression of opinion, our most essential freedoms are in sorry shape.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Will Wilson points out that in the 1923 Red River dispute with Oklahoma cross sections of century old timbers were shown the court as proof that the river had not been there in 1819.

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

 After the Supreme Court set the south bank of the Red River as the boundary a tremendous argument developed over the exact location of the south bank. In the ensuing fray, Texas stood to lose the most. Down through the years, the U. S. and Oklahoma had been content to let Texas exercise all acts of sovereignty over the area. That is, until oil was discovered. Attorney General Will Wilson points out that the discovery of oil in the Gulf of Mexico also brought on the tidelands case in which he is fighting the federal government before the U. S. Supreme Court. The first claim of Oklahoma to any land on the Texas side of the Red River came in 1918. T.

P. Roberts owned and had lived 33 years on a farm located in Texas near the Red River.

"Mr. Roberts was working his pasture early one morning," Wilson recalls, when, to his amazement, he discovered a posted notice, "This is Tillman County, Oklahoma Line."

"If the boundary was fixed at the foot of the Texas bluffs as the United States and Oklahoma contended, Texas would lose more than 500,000 acres of land. This land was populated by Texans, their homes, schools, Odd Fellows and Woodmen lodges, cemeteries and—oil wells," Wilson observes.

The solution lay in finding out what was intended in the 1819 treaty. A cattle truck full of evidence was spread out before the court. Texas introduced six albums of photographic study of the Red River from the Panhandle to the east side of Wichita County.

The Red River got in the mood of the controversy. She staged a flood in 1920 that filled the oil wells with sand, tore derricks from their moorings. They disappeared downstream with their owners' dreams.

In January, 1923, the U. S. Supreme Court declared the southern bank to be a cut-bank at the average level. The United States took a strip of land between the cut-bank and the stream's normal stage and also got Burke Bet and Goat Islands.

Oklahoma claimed that in 1819 the river ran opposite Wichita County at the foot of the Texas bluffs instead of a mile north of its present channel.

Texas stood to lose a region about 10 miles long and more than a mile wide.

In the 1923 Red River dispute with Oklahoma, Texas discovered some ancient trees growing where Oklahoma and the United States claimed Red River flowed in 1819. Cross sections of these century old timbers were shown in the court as proof that the river had not been here in 1819. The age of a tree can be determined by counting the rings.

"The court was impressed," Wilson points out. "It marveled at one in particular, a 170 year old pecan tree. The stump of this mute witness should be located and dedicated.

"It clearly did more than any man to win the battle for Texas."

The judgment of the court was swayed by a peculiarity of the Red River. The judges remembered well witnesses' testimony of the old Red River's vagabond nature.

Friends of the river reported finding the flowing channel near one side of the river in the morning and in the middle or near the other side in the evening.

"Certainly the haunting vision of an oil well located in Texas in morning and in Oklahoma in the evening prodded the court to look for a permanent boundary," Wilson observed.

The nearest was the cut-bank.

The U. S. Supreme Court appointed Engineers Arthur D. Kidder and Arthur L. Stiles to locate and mark this boundary. They worked hard and reported in 1924:

"We have marked the boundary line by wooden posts called 'witness posts' set along the bank at varying short distances from the boundary and from each other. Permanent reference monuments are located on the Texas and Oklahoma bluff overlooking the river valley."

Weary of the many surveys, old Red River again blew her top and flooded.

Downstream witnesses observed strange black posts with white caps rushing past in the flood waters. It was those "permanent" witness posts.

As a result of the work done by Kidder and Stiles, Oklahoma got 18 oil wells to 38 for Texas.

During the first few hectic days of a summer ROTC camp, the sergeant was chewing out a bunch of tired, dispirited cadets who had entered the mess hall with their caps on. He ended his tirade with the standard, "Just who do you think you are, anyway?" After a moment, from the depths of the mess hall came a meek, questioning little voice: "Human beings?"

We not only treat our customers like human beings, but we give them that "extra" service that makes them feel that their business is appreciated.

WILLARD JONES in HAMLIN HERALD: Rev. Byron Bryant, one of our favorite preachers, was illustrating a point in a sermon the other day, showing how a certain farm woman had listened to a sermon on reflecting the change in a person's living.

When the woman returned home she was telling her husband about what a good sermon she had heard, and how she had resolved to do better.

"What was the preacher's subject?" the husband wanted to know.

"Well, I don't really remember," she replied.

"What was his text?" he asked.

"Frankly, I can't tell you," "Well, what did he say that was so good," he further quizzed. "Well, I can't seem to tell you," she said. "All I know is that hereafter I'm going to put a full 16 ounces in every pound of butter I sell."

The Sin of Tolerance
The BOZEMAN (Mont.) GALLATIN CO. TRIBUNE: People are beginning to look beneath all the tinsel and fanfare of clever propaganda and catch glimpses of the shoddy base on which the so-called liberals rest their bid for power. We have followed too many false leaders, men who are strangers to the old words of "honor and faith and sure intent."

The tolerance that was once a virtue has now become a sin. We have become too tolerant. We have become tolerant about treason; we have become tolerant about chicanery in high places; we have become tolerant about immorality; we have become tolerant about crime, delinquency and illegitimacy; we have become tolerant about government waste.

about the loss of our freedoms; we have become tolerant about godlessness, about unbelief. We have been sapped of conviction, drained of our beliefs and bereft of our faith.

Whatever the disillusionment, no man should cease to hunt for what he wants or to hope for great things. Great things exist. It is men who destroy them or make them seem hopeless.

HAMLIN HERALD: While checking through the files of the Herald the other day, we ran onto this clipping from the Fort Worth Star Telegram of 30 years ago.

Groups of trades people who attended a revival meeting recently in Pratt, Kans., at a special business men's meeting were invited to choose their own hymns for the service, each group standing and singing its choice.

"The grocers started off with 'Help Somebody Today.' Then followed:

"Think on Thy Way" by the automobile men;
"Sweeter and Dearer" by the restaurant, hotel and bakery folks;

"Yield not to Temptation" by the lawyers;
"Wash Me Whiter Than Snow" by the laundrymen and dry cleaners;

"The Great Physician" by the doctors.
"Does It Pay?" by the bankers;
"The Home Over There" by the real estate dealers;

And the services closed with "I Love to Tell the Story" by the newspaper men.

"Be My Valentine" is sweetly stated with this pretty heart-and-flowers arrangement of crisp, golden Valentine cookies, colorfully decorated with icing or cinnamon candies. Made with flavorful 40% Bran Flakes, the cookie dough is easy to prepare but requires chilling before it's rolled and cut into heart shapes. After baking, decorate them to your heart's content, and see what a sentimental surprise they make for the family and for guests.

ORANGE FANCIES (VALENTINE COOKIES)
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups Kellogg's
40% Bran Flakes

1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Crush Bran Flakes into fine crumbs; mix with sifted dry ingredients. Blend butter, sugar and orange rind. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing after each addition. Chill. Roll chilled dough out very thin on lightly floured board; cut with floured cookie cutters. Place on lightly greased baking sheets. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 10 minutes.

Remove from baking sheets. Decorate in one of the following ways:
(a) Fill a pastry tube with white or colored confectioners' sugar ornamental icing. Decorate edges of hearts.
(b) Using white corn syrup, brush heart outline on cookies. Apply small cinnamon candies to corn syrup, as pictured.

Yields about 5 dozen cookies, 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Incidentally...

"Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name."
"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."
"Fourscore and seven years ago..."

Not a three-syllable word in them; hardly any two-syllable words. All the greatest things in human life are one-syllable things—love, joy, hope, home, wife, child, trust, faith, God. All great things are simple.

More politics from the CLAUDE NEWS by CECIL WAGGONER: I wonder if Governor Price Daniel knows Texas has a Panhandle?

That there is more in this area than mesquite, caliche and tumble weeds? And that we have the best man in the state in the race for governor, namely, Mashall Formby?

I see nothing in Governor Daniel's record that justifies a third term. He has been an average of average governors and is to be commended for the old "collegety," but a third term—don't think so; I was "politically shocked" by a third term candidate in the forties and am adverse to their worth.

When the state was rocking with political scandal after political scandal, Formby's Highway Department came through without a breath of wrong-doing and in an area where millions of dollars of tax money was being spent. That, to me, rates him as a man worthy of the governor's chair and I have a feeling that he could do Texas a great deal of good if elected!

We shall see!

BLACKWELL FILES FOR MAYOR POST

Fred Blackwell, long time resident of Lefors and former mayor, has announced his candidacy for the office of mayor, in the election to be held on April 5. Blackwell will oppose Frank Wall, who is now mayor of the city.

"I'm interested in the overall progress of the Lefors community," stated Blackwell, adding "I will work for the road program, which will include eight miles out of McLean and five miles out of Pampa, as I did in my last term as mayor."

Blackwell served as councilman from 1949 to 1951, and was then elected mayor for three consecutive terms, from 1951 to 1958. He did not run for re-election in 1958.

Sweetheart Of 20-30 Selected

Mrs. Ernest Foshee was elected "Sweetheart" of the 20-30 Club, in the annual Valentine meeting of the group Monday night, Feb. 8. Mrs. Billy Cox and Mrs. Gene Fort were chosen as attendants.

The group met early in the evening at six o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jos Archer and went to a restaurant in Pampa, where the sweetheart was elected and presented a large heart shaped box of candy. Boxes of candy were also presented to the attendants. The door prize was won by Mrs. Tony Bivins.

Following dinner, the group attended a local movie.

Attending were Mesdames Joe Archer, Tony Bivins, Billy Cox, Wavne Sims, Ed Lehnick, Ray Dickerson, J. M. McPherson, Ernest Foshee, and one guest, Mrs. M. E. Bigham.

Faith means believing what is incredible, or it is no virtue at all. Hope means hoping when things are hopeless, or it is no virtue at all. And charity means pardoning what is unpardonable, or it is no virtue at all.—G. K. Chesterton

CITY ELECTION CALLED

April 5 was the date set for a city election, by the city council at their regular meeting Monday night in the city hall. Three councilmen and a mayor are to be elected to fill the offices of those expiring, which are Mayor Frank Wall and Councilmen F. C. Jones, W. C. Breining and L. R. Cain.

Breining tendered his resignation to the council Monday night, due to his running for county commissioner, precinct 1.

March 5 is the last date for filing for any of the above offices. Candidates may file with Mayor Wall or City Secretary Iris Barron.

D. M. Jones was appointed election judge. The election will be held in the civic center.

Fire Chief John Archer, Secretary-treasurer R. E. McDonald and D. O. Boyd, assistant chief, were present at the meeting to present plans to the council for a new building for the fire department. A new building has been approved by the council, but city officials are now concerned for an appropriate building site for the new space for fire department equipment, vehicles, etc. The plans were postponed until an appropriate building site can be determined.

The city also voted to donate $50 to the summer recreation fund.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Frank Wall, Councilmen F. C. Jones, Eli Radabough, H. R. Cates, and Mrs. R. H. Barron, city secretary.

Shower Honors Miss Barber

The Valentine theme was used by the hostesses in a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Grace Barber, in the civic center Feb. 4. Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. C. McPherson and Mrs. W. C. Breining.

Hostesses were Mesdames Tom Florence, H. B. Neill, W. E. Wall, Boyd Beck, J. N. Smith, W. F. Hines, W. C. Breining, Claude Stanton, O. O. Bishop, M. L. Rippy, L. D. Rider, Joe Miller, R. C. McPherson, Gladys Pafford, G. E. Smith, Bernard Johnson, Bill Watson, Joe Watson and Jess Graves.

Others present were Mesdames W. R. Combs, Raymond Barnes, Grace Delver, Callie Peden, Jeff Stubblefield, Roy Timms; Misses Jerrie and Betty Barber. Approximately 40 gifts were sent.

Miss Jernigan Given Party

Mrs. J. C. Jernigan was hostess to the freshman girls in her home Friday night, Feb. 5, in honor of the 16th birthday of her daughter, Oweda.

Guests were Amy Earhart, Ann Stubblefield, Karen Carruth, Doris Halley, Merlene Dathrop, Joyce Jernigan, Kay Phillips and Mrs. J. D. Halley.

All the strength and force of a man come from his faith in things unseen. He who believes is strong; he who doubts is weak. Strong convictions precede great actions. LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with TurboSlide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Bigger brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

Drive it—It's fun-tastic! See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for fast delivery, favorable deals.
