

Just Between Us by JBU

We had fully intended—despite threats from the affected party—to publish a rare sort of picture in this corner of The McLean News this week, but due to circumstances beyond our control those best-laid plans didn't materialize.

Maybe later.
Subject of the photo—and, indeed, the center of attraction—was one Tom Greenwood all decked out in, of all things, a maternity smock.

We had the privilege of being the only outsider present when Marie Foundations employees threw a surprise—and the latter word can be emphasized—pink and blue shower for Tom, and, of course, his wife.

Far be it from us to disclose our source of information, but we were tipped off that the big event was to come off precisely at 11:30 a. m. on Friday. That's noon-time for Marie Foundations workers.

And you should have seen those women scoot away from their sewing machines and into the dining area at the factory.

Tom, the production superintendent, was greeted with that specially made smock by Billie Cash and other office personnel when he arrived from back in the plant. The shocked boss protested mildly at first when they started putting the smock on him.

And he became almost violent when he saw me—with camera in hand—standing by. But the women were more determined, and had their way.

A table, decorated complete with a stork, was literally buried with gifts. Thoughtfully, someone had invited the Mrs., and she arrived in time to help open the presents.

Lying flat on his back—and not liking it a bit—the past several days has been one B. J. McCartney, McLean's city manager.

Mae had complained for some time about severe leg and back pains before going to the doctor for an examination. X-rays revealed a slipped disc or some such trouble.

And Mae was put to bed at his home with a 10-pound bag of sand hanging from each leg.

When we last looked in on him Tuesday night, the pain hadn't subsided.

Get well quick, Mac—we miss you.

Humor was popping out all over the place the other night at the Lions Club's teacher appreciation dinner.

But Sammy Haynes came nearer than anyone else to bringing the house down, when he introduced his wife thusly:

"To solve all the world's problems and keep us all well, I'll loan her first to Nikita and then to Fidel."

If you're one of those McLeaneers who have tossed the questionnaire sent you a couple of weeks ago by the city commission into the garbage can, all we can say is you missed a golden opportunity.

Too often we shoot off our mouth about how the city is operated, but we hesitate to go before those responsible and voice our opinion. (See JBU, Page 8)

Claude's Next On McLean Schedule

The McLean Tigers try to hit the comeback trail Friday night when they take to the road for another non-district meeting with the Claude Mustangs.

SCD TO VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Cotton John Smith, radio farm director of Amarillo's KGNC-TV, will be principal speaker next Tuesday night at the Gray County Soil Conservation District supervisors meeting in the McLean High School auditorium.

The public is invited to attend the 7:30 p. m. session. Main purpose of the meeting is the election of a supervisor for Subdivision No. 2 of the Gray County SCD.

James W. Cliett presently is serving as supervisor of the subdivision, which includes the McLean and Alanreed areas.

Smith will summarize the highlights of trips he has made to Europe, Alaska and Canada.

Persons qualified to vote in Tuesday's election are landowners who are over 21 years of age. Wives of eligible landowners, providing they meet the age requirement, also may vote.

Soil conservation districts are subdivisions of the State of Texas, and by law are charged with the responsibility of carrying out a soil and water conservation program.

Through the districts, such items as technical service, equipment, leadership in small watershed projects and many other services are provided to cooperating landowners.

Picture Recalls McLean Concert Band of 1908

Articles appearing in The McLean News' "Down Memory Lane" feature have made many long-time residents think back even farther than those 40, 20 and 10-year-ago events.

Among those interested readers is S. R. Jones, who first came to the City of McLean soon after the turn of the century. In fact, Jones, now retired, turned his memory to the year 1908 to recall the city's Concert Band.

And he discovered a picture of that musical group in the possession of Kiah Hodges, the director. Hodges, in the insurance business in Clinton, Okla., the past 50 years, two of his brothers, Sam and Jack, and Jones were members of the band.

All four had come to McLean from southern Illinois in 1906 and 1907. The band was organized. (See BAND, Page 8)

SCOTCH GOLF TOURNAMENT SET THIS SUNDAY

A Scotch Tournament for both men and women is scheduled Sunday afternoon at the McLean golf course, Joe Burroughs, tournament chairman of the Lions Golf Association, announced Wednesday.

Burroughs invited all men and women in McLean—whether they are members of the association or not—to enter the event.

Tea-off time is set for 2 p. m., but persons interested in playing were asked to meet at the golf course at 1:30 p. m. for pairing.

Burroughs explained that men and women will be paired together in the tournament. Each pair will use only one golf ball, with the man and woman taking turns swinging.

No entry fee will be charged, but prizes are to be available for the winners.

The Scotch Tournament is the first competition planned for the recently opened McLean golf course, located on SH 273 northwest of the city.

R. D. (Sonny) Back is president of the McLean Lions Golf Association.

LOCAL HORSES TAKE PLACINGS

Additional honors were won at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last week by two McLean men.

Registered quarterhorses entered by Neville and R. D. (Sonny) Back joined Angus cattle exhibited by George and Guy Saunders of McLean in the ribbon-winning circle.

Neville Back's winnings include: Poco Pine Back, second place in the 59 stud class and third in the Golden Spread Futurity; Back's Poco Gem, fifth in the 60 stud class, Poco Sheba, sixth in the 58 filly class.

R. D. Back's unnamed quarterhorse took third in the 60 stud class.

Neville Back plans to enter both Poco Pine Back and Poco Sheba in the Texas State Fair in Dallas.

Earlier last week, George Saunders of McLean had captured several high placings with his Angus cattle, and his parents won a second place with one of their Angus. The local Future Farmers of America won a second place with its exhibit at the Tri-State Fair.

Fiscal Year Will Begin Saturday

McLean's first city budget, estimating total revenue at $113,992.86 and proposing the expenditure of the same amount, has been approved by the city commission for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

Adoption of the budget, submitted by City Manager B. J. McCartney, highlighted a meeting of the governing board last Thursday night.

The new fiscal year begins Saturday. This is the first formal budget prepared for the city in at least recent years.

In his letter of introduction to the commission, McCartney pointed out that each department of the city government is shown as a separate account in the budget.

'Clearer Picture'

"This breakdown will give a clearer picture of the activities of each department, showing the cost of services rendered in some instances and anticipated revenue in others," he explained.

The lion's share of the $113,992.86 revenue expected for the city during the year will come from sale of gas—$50,000.

Other anticipated income in 1960-61 includes:

Water collections, $25,000; street and alley rental, $1,800; licenses and permits, $100; sewer collections, $3,600; refuse collections, $3,800; miscellaneous income, $20,602.86.

$13,513 From Taxes

Total estimated income from tax sources is $13,513.65.

The tax levy is $1.25 on each $100 valuation, while the assessed valuation of real property in the city is $1,088,991. The budget, however, estimates that 90 per cent of the total levy will be collected during the year.

Estimated cash on hand for the general budget is $3,000, as of Oct. 1, and this amount was not. (See BUDGET, Page 8)

Tax Refund Forms Are Due by Friday

Area farmers have until midnight Friday to file a federal gasoline tax refund form for fuel used on their farms the past year, Gray County Foster Whaley said Wednesday.

Whaley said the forms are available at his office in Pampa, or they may be obtained at The McLean News office.

Regulations permit farmers to obtain refunds of federal taxes on gasoline used on the farm.

GAS SUPPLY IS ADEQUATE

No additional gas supplies are necessary to meet the needs of the city during the approaching winter.

That's the opinion of the Thurmond-McGlothlin gas-well testing firm in Pampa which recently completed a study of the capabilities of city-owned wells.

Findings of the firm were presented to the city commission last Thursday by Alderman Joe Burroughs, who said the tests indicated there apparently is sufficient gas available for residents.

However, Thurmond-McGlothlin found salt water, shale and mud in the City of McLean well and a small amount of salt water in the Biegel well.

Periodic Blowing Burroughs suggested periodic. (See GAS, Page 8)

Wilson Is Selected To Attend Meeting

David Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson, McLean, was one of two Texas Tech students chosen to attend the American Institute of Chemical Engineers convention in Tulsa, Okla., this week.

Wilson, a junior at Texas Tech in Lubbock, is majoring in chemical engineering. He is a 1964 graduate of McLean High School.

Bake Sale Saturday

The Presbyterian Women's Organization of the local church will hold a bake sale this week.

The sale will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 12 noon on Saturday, Oct. 1, at the S & S Finance building.

In a New England town, one Sunday morning, the minister asked everyone in the congregation who wanted to go to heaven to rise. All but one man rose.

Then the minister asked those to stand who wanted to go to hell. Nobody rose.

The puzzled parson looked down at the non-cooperator and asked where he wanted to go.

"Nowhere," was the answer. "I like it here."

Even though you may "like it here," you will find those trips around town much more pleasant if you let our courteous attendants keep your car filled up with good Chevron gasoline. We sell oil, tires and other accessories, too.

A Belle For Adamo

Five-year-old Lea Adamo helps her father, rising young American painter Joseph Adamo of Los Angeles, arrange his special outdoor art exhibit at a one-night stand on their summer-long cross-country tour which is carrying art into the heart of America.

He conceived his "Artmobile" built around a Volkswagen pickup truck, when it seemed to him that artists were losing touch with the America beyond the big cities. Adamo says that while interest in art has been at a peak in metropolitan centers, many smaller communities suffer because they do not have facilities to develop and maintain museums and galleries and cannot support working artists on a permanent basis.

In addition to the outdoor exhibits of his works, Adamo is lecturing before dozens of groups. But unlike the itinerant medicine-man shows of the 1800's, Adamo is selling nothing on his American tour, nor does he charge for his illustrated lectures. He says his compensation comes from meeting and talking with Americans from all walks of life, and seeing the varied landscapes which will be put on canvas when he returns to his California studio. Little Lea acts as hostess during her father's exhibits. The 28-year-old artist's wife, Mary, will join her traveling family in New York for the trek back to Los Angeles.

Capital Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—(Special)—He will not try to muzzle anyone who wants to complain about the national Democratic party platform, says Gov. Price Daniel.

But the state Democratic convention in Dallas Sept. 20 is not the place, said the governor, to debate the pros and cons of the national platform. This convention, he said, is traditionally for the purpose of writing a state platform and certifying Democratic nominees for state office.

Edward J. Drake, chairman of the Dallas County delegation, wrote the governor that the Dallasites would like to have a "full and factual" discussion of the national platform at the Sept. 20 meeting.

Gov. Daniel said there are planks in the national Democratic platform to which he is definitely opposed. But he said he didn't feel there was enough difference between the Democratic and Republican platforms to justify criticizing one without applying the same criticisms to the other.

Gov. Daniel said he was definitely opposed to freeing the Texas Democratic electors, as proposed by some, to vote for whom they please. He said he felt it was a matter of "simple integrity" for the Democratic electors to vote for the Democratic candidates if the party carries the state.

Since the Los Angeles convention, the governor's position has been to work for the Democratic ticket without endorsing the total platform.

SCHOOLS NOT PENALIZED—A ruling by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has provided a way out for Texas schools faced with conflicting state and federal orders regarding integration.

State law provides that a school system which integrates without approval of local voters loses state aid. Wilson ruled that this does not apply if the school is complying with a federal court order to integrate.

However, the ruling did not knock down the state law in question. Wilson said that schools that are not under federal court order and integrate without approval in a local election would still lose state aid and accreditation.

Immediately affected are two large school systems—in Houston and Dallas—both of whom are under court order to begin gradual integration plans.

SALES TAX NEED SEEN—Next year's money needs will be so staggering the Legislature will have to resort to sales taxing, general about.

This prediction is made by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, chairman of the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy. Fly was defeated in his race for reelection last May but contended his tax stand had nothing to do with it.

Those who do come back, said Fly, may face the need to raise as much as $108,000,000 in new money. This is the estimated new revenue need if the Legislature enacts bills to raise teacher pay and provide medical aid for oldsters—both programs with wide popular support.

Latest report by the tax study group shows that Texas families are now paying less state taxes than the national average. Annual state tax bite on a theoretical "average" Texas family is $115.89 a year. Nationally, the "average" family pays a state tax bill of $235.51 a year.

MEDICAL AID URGED—Legislation to provide state-federal payments for medical care for Texans on old-age assistance has near-top priority on his list, says Gov. Daniel.

He noted that there are in state mental hospitals some 3,000 oldsters who are not really mentally ill, but who have no other place to go.

A medical aid program that would make possible the care of these people in nursing homes or their own homes would be "a great step forward," said the governor.

Enactment of such a program, he told the statewide Conference on Aging, is "near the top of the list of unfinished business of this administration."

He noted that a constitutional amendment to make such a program possible was approved by Texas voters nearly two years ago.

INVESTMENT EASING SOUGHT—State Board of Education will ask the next Legislature to pass a law allowing investment of some of the permanent school fund in corporate stocks and bonds.

Object would be to obtain higher earnings from the $400,000,000 trust and provide a hedge against future inflation. Investment in corporate securities has already been allowed under the law for the University of Texas permanent fund, but the public school fund is limited to government bonds.

Board also went on record as favoring salary raises for Texas teachers, noting that teachers trained here are being lured away by higher salaries in other states. No specific amount was suggested for the raise.

YOUTH COUNCIL HARMONIZES—With past differences smoothed over, the Texas Youth Council is now in accord over the executive director's purchase of government surplus buildings.

Earlier Council Chairman W. C. Windsor Jr. of Dallas had declared that Dr. James Turman did not have authorization to purchase the two buildings for $230. Other two council members backed up Turman. Windsor called a special meeting to look into the matter.

After conferences, which Gov. Daniel also attended, Windsor announced he was completely satisfied.

Turman said he had been offered $25,000 for one of the buildings purchased for $150 but that the contract with the government forbade such a re-sale.

One building is to be used to provide a classroom for Negroes at the Gatesville School for Boys and the other a lunchroom for the Gatesville School for Girls.

SHORT SNOOTHS—August collections for the state wine, liquor and cigarette taxes totaled $9,611,005, reports State Treasurer Jesse James.

This is an increase of $2,473,188 over August collections a year ago which was before tax increases went into effect.

State general revenue fund ended the fiscal year last month with a deficit of $3,572,407. Revenue for the year was $1,252,298,961—an all-time high, but not enough.

State Department of Agriculture has announced the beginning of a demonstration livestock auction market program beginning Oct. 16.

Two livestock auction reporters are now being trained under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dairymen are warned to watch for mastitis when purchasing dairy replacements. Arch Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, suggests that all animals be checked by a veterinarian before the purchase is made; that you'll be wise to beware of the seller who is unwilling to have his animals examined; that you be extra careful in loading, hauling and unloading dairy animals and that new additions be isolated for a week or longer before turning them with the herd.

Texas traffic crashes which took two or more lives each in July and August wiped out one-third the improvement in total traffic fatalities for the first six months of the year.

HERE! '61 CHEVY TRUCKS

WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more... the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturd-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. L. C. Haynes, who passed away 25 years ago, Sept. 27. I think oft times as the night draws night

Of an old house on the hill, Of a yard all white and blossom starred

Where the children played at will, And when the night at last came down,

Hushing the merry din, Mother would look around and ask "Are all the children in?"

I wonder if when the shadows fall On the last short, earthly day When we say goodbye to the world outside

All tired with our childish play, When we step out into that other land Where mother so long has been, Will we hear her ask, just as of old, "Are all the children in?"

A horse that bucks high or stands on his hind feet and paws the air is said to be "chinning the moon."

Mrs. Lonsdale, who plans to visit here this fall, is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Montgomery of McLean.

John Lonsdale was described by a Santa Monica sports writer as "a little guy physically but a mountain of a man to hundreds of Santa Monica kids."

Parents, friends, relatives and scores of youngsters turned out to say "thank you" to Lonsdale.

Highlighting the evening was a special trophy presentation by Howard Hamilton, representing the Helms Athletic Foundation. For his "untiring efforts on behalf of the youth of Santa Monica," he was also presented a plaque by the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce.

But the trophy Lonsdale probably will cherish most was given him by a 12-year-old Little Leaguer—a baseball autographed by members of his team, the Lions.

Lonsdale, employed by Douglas Aircraft, has devoted his life to helping youngsters, because "I just want to see that kids get a better shake and more encouragement than I got."

"If dads don't have the interest or time I want to make sure someone does," he continued. "We're not trying to build high school or college stars, just teach them leadership, fair play and to be sports."

Lonsdale's football career at Santa Monica College was very brief. A 125-pound halfback, he met a 250-pound tackle head-on. Lonsdale was carried off the field with a ruptured spleen.

Since he became interested in the youth recreation program, Lonsdale's baseball teams have won four league championships. His Little League football teams have captured three titles, and he is now president of the conference.

In addition, he is president of the Santa Monica Biddy Basketball League, and a few years ago his team won the state title and entered the nationals in Washington, D. C.

Cheese is a featured item on the October plentiful foods list. Beef, lamb, broiler-fryers and turkeys are the four meats listed. Cranberries, potatoes and rice complete the list.

Pastor, Layman at Methodist Meeting

Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor, and Sammy Haynes, lay leader, represented the McLean First Methodist Church at a mass meeting of the Methodist Northwest Texas Conference Wednesday in Lubbock.

The mass meeting climaxed three Methodist evangelistic rallies.

Some 5,000 persons from throughout the conference gathered in the huge Lubbock Municipal Auditorium to hear Arthur J. Moore, former bishop of the Atlanta, Ga., area.

Led by Bishop Paul V. Galloway, bishop of the Northwest Texas-San Antonio Area, Methodist ministers and leading laymen met at the Lubbock First Methodist Church during the day for an initial planning period of the evangelism and stewardship program for the next year and ensuing quadrennium.

Part of the "Decade of Dynamic Discipleship" emphasis, the rally, along with two others slated in Dallas and Fort Worth, were expected to bring Methodists from all over the northwest section of the state.

Bishop Moore, former president of the Methodist council of bishops and Methodist board of missions, is an active evangelist. He began his ministry some 49 years ago and has been a bishop in the Methodist Church since 1950, being elected in a Methodist General Conference meeting in Dallas.

Several persons from McLean and throughout this area are expected to attend the Baptist General Convention of Texas District 10 convention and Brotherhood rally next Tuesday in Borger.

The 23rd annual district convention will be held at the Borger First Baptist Church, beginning at 9:45 a. m.

R. G. LeTourneau, often called "God's businessman," will address the Brotherhood rally at 7:15 p. m. LeTourneau, Longview inventor and industrialist, is well known as a church layman.

A barbecue at 6 p. m. will open the Brotherhood rally.

Morning and afternoon sessions are planned at the convention for 9:45 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Lunch will be served at noon by the Borger First Baptist Church.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

By Uncle Zeb

"A penny saved is a penny earned." If we remember correctly, this proverb was in our spelling book when we were a youngster. It was not as far back as the old Blue Back book, but ancient enough that we stay awake at night for other reasons than the draft.

Be that as it may, saving anything, much less pennies or dollars, is a habit that has just about gone out of date. Just about as unpopular as last year's Easter bonnet. In fact, it is almost next to impossible to do if we are to keep up with or even stay close behind our next door neighbor.

THE LAST STRAW

A British playwright was feeling very sorry for himself because it was his 50th birthday. George Bernard Shaw, at 90 at the time himself, heard the playwright's moans and told him sternly, "You should be happy instead of downcast, you foolish fellow! You have escaped the forties, which are the old age of youth, and are embarking on the fifties, which are the glorious youth of old age."

Veterans Information

Q—My father, a World War II veteran, died of a non-service-connected disability and I may be eligible to receive VA pension since I am under 18 and not married. Please explain the active service requirements which apply to my deceased father.

A—Your father must have had at least 90 days of active service, part of it during wartime. Also, he must have been discharged under other than dishonorable conditions. There are certain exceptions to this 90-day service requirement which your nearest VA office will gladly explain.

Q—I applied to VA by letter for disability compensation, and received an application form to be filled out. Is there a time limit on mailing this form back to the VA?

A—If you want VA to consider your original letter as the effective date of your application, the form you received must be completed and returned to VA within one year from the date it was sent to you.

Q—I am eligible for a VA grant for a "wheelchair house," but I have already purchased a home on my own. Could I use this grant to pay off the mortgage?

A—Yes. A "wheelchair housing" grant may be used to pay off the indebtedness of a home which you have already acquired.

Q—I am in my sophomore year at college under the Korean GI Bill and entitled to additional VA allowance because I recently married. What kind of evidence of my marriage must I submit to VA in requesting the additional allowance?

A—Send VA a certified copy of the public record or the church record of your marriage. Either one will do, but you must send one or the other. A certified copy is a true copy which bears the seal and signature of the one who keeps the records, in the church or court.

The best Scotch or saving story going the rounds just now had to do with a family who recently moved into a new neighborhood. The wife of a nearby neighbor had been watching the trucks unload and was reporting to her husband at the supper table.

"You know, dear, that family moving next door just don't have anything. They have no carpets, no television set, automatic dryer; even have only one automobile between them."

"My, my," replied the husband, "some of those poor poor people one runs into now and then. All they seem to have is money."

Even with the politicians worrying about our future, and the tax department thinking about our present, and it's already too late to change the past, we still think that folks ought to start a savings account right off. No one would want to see our young people do without all the things that Grandpa couldn't have, but a reasonable savings account can bring more happiness at certain times than a dozen misspent bank rolls.

If we could only be middle of the road and make good money, spend for what we need, and be sure to save a part for that rainy day ahead.

BIRTH RATE IN TEXAS IS FAIRLY STABLE

While the national birth rate is steadily declining, the birth rate for Texas has remained fairly data for the first six months of 1958, 1959 and 1960.

During the first six months of this year there were 110,996 live births in Texas—compared to 110,774 during the same period last year and 108,395 in the first half of 1958.

The birth rates for 1958 and 1959 were identical—23.6 per 1,000 population.

However, during the first six months of 1960 it was only 23.2 per 1,000 which is a slight drop but still above the national average.

Another development indicated in the six-months provisional statistical data is the upturn in the death rate for Texans.

For the past 15 years, the Texas death rate has declined steadily year after year, but so far during 1960 there has been an increase.

The death rate for the first six months is 8.3 per 1,000 population. The total deaths were 39,498.

In 1958 there were 36,630 deaths for a rate of 8.0 per 1,000 and in 1959 there were only 36,033 deaths indicating an all-time low of 7.7 deaths per 1,000 population.

If this rate maintains through the year, it is possible that 1960 will have the highest death rate since 1951, when it was 8.2 per 1,000 population.

Very little change was noted in the number of fetal deaths and fetal death ratios during the first six months of the last three years.

Accurately compiling statistical data for analysis by public health authorities is one of the major duties of the records and statistics section of the Texas State Department of Health.

By noting the decline or increase in certain death figures, health authorities can gauge effectiveness of health programs or spot potential health trouble spots.

The records and statistics section keeps all birth and death records for the State of Texas.

Commercial Club Proposed
A growing discontent with things as they are, and a keen general interest in the improvement of our town and country finally resulted in action on Friday of last week, when W. C. Cheney and others went about among the businessmen and talked commercial club to them, asking each one to be present at a meeting to be held that evening.

At about 7.30 p. m. a large crowd of businessmen and progressive citizens assembled at the T. J. Coffey business place and after the meeting had been called to order, lively discussions ensued concerning the need of a commercial organization and means of making one successful.

No permanent organization was gone into at that time, but T. J. Coffey, Clayburn Cash and John W. Kibler were appointed as a committee to see the businessmen and others interested in the town's development.

blowing of the wells to get rid of the water and mud.

Cal Fraser, owner of Marie Foundations Co., met with the commission and disclosed that he is ready to execute an option to purchase the building and property where the factor is now located.

Fraser asked that the city, which owns the property, prepare a clear title.

At Fraser's suggestion, the governing board also took action to close an alley through the property—immediately east of the present Marie Foundations building—to clear the way for future expansion.

To Hire Representative
Aldermen adopted a motion to enter into agreement with the other owner of property in that block to close the alley.

Representatives of the Fuller Brush Co. agreed to employ a local representative of their firm during a discussion of the new city solicitation ordinance which went into effect last month.

Spokesmen for the company met with city commissioners. They said that the firm refuses to permit its salesmen to purchase city licenses, as acquired in the new ordinance.

City aldermen explained that the ordinance was adopted to keep "fly-by-night" firms from doing business in McLean.

Ordinance Adopted
The new tax levy ordinance for fiscal year 1960-61 was approved by the commission and it will be effective with its publication in today's McLean News.

The commission was informed by letter that the McLean board of education desires to purchase the municipal building-gymnasium and is willing to retire each year all the bonded indebtedness possible.

Aldermen also agreed to contribute $250 toward a fund being raised in the movement to construct a new hard-surfaced road between McLean and Hedley and voted to send City Manager B. J. McCartney to the Texas Municipal League convention in Galveston next week.

Rev. Jesse Leonard, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said the invocation to open Thursday meeting.

The practice of opening each commission meeting with prayer was started earlier this month. Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor of the First Methodist Church, said the invocation at the Sept. 6 session.

The date for the next city commission meeting was set for 7 p. m. Oct. 6.

BAND

ed in the winter of 1907.

"The Hodges boys had played with a good band in Carterville, Ill.," Jones said, while "the rest of these fellows were beginners making plenty of noise and enjoying it."

Jones remembers particularly the Fourth of July celebration here in 1908.

"This band played on the corner where the bank is now located. Oldtimers threw their hats in the air and shouted when we played 'Dixie,' then the band marched south to the railroad playing 'Marching Through Georgia.'

"Those same men met them and told them if they played 'Marching Through Georgia' any more they would run them out of town."

The last count we heard the total was right at 20.

Maybe some of you just put your questionnaire back, planning to mark your opinions later. If so, why not complete it right now the line and raced to paydirt.

The Tigers marched to the Bucks' 17 after recovering to the side kickoff, with Watson and Clyde Windom carrying the chores. But the drive stalled there, and White Deer took over.

Fullback Thomas Lester dazzled the locals with his power running. Lester counted the first three White Deer touchdowns, and Johnny Spence added the fourth. Gary Campbell tallied the fifth shortly before the half.

Jim Thurmond went across for the sixth counter early in the third period, and as the quarter neared an end Spence crossed into the end zone for the seventh.

Kenny Jackson rang up the final six-pointer of the evening for White Deer.
