BANDS OPEN REHEARSAL NEXT WEEK

Daily Practice Planned; Students Urged to Attend

The McLean High School and Junior High Bands will begin summer practice next Monday, according to Director Jim Boyd.

Boyd reported that since the instruments are late in arriving, the junior high will not have their instruments issued to individual players.

However, students who play school instruments will have an instrument to play during the rehearsals.

First practice session for the senior high band students will be at 10 a. m. Monday. Boyd advised students to bring their instruments.

The band will be made up of seventh and eighth grade students, but the director said that any sixth grader desiring to practice with this band will be welcome.

Rehearsal will be from 10 to 11:30 a. m. each day.

Important Week
The high school band is scheduled to hold its first practice at 7 p. m. Monday. Every student who will be a member of the marching band is urged to attend this very important week of practice," Boyd said.

Instruments will be issued to those students who play school instruments beginning at 6:30 p. m. Each was asked to bring $2.50 for the rental of these instruments for one year.

No instrument will be issued until this fee is paid.

Rehearsal will end at 8:30 p. m. each day, with no practice planned on Wednesday night.

High school students who will participate in the marching band will also be issued uniforms at 6:30 p. m. Students must pay the uniform deposit of $2.50 before the uniforms will be issued.

Pick up Uniforms
Uniforms will be issued to those students who did not desire to obtain their uniforms from last year at 6:30 p. m. on Thursday night," Boyd said.

All uniforms that have been reserved but have not been picked up by that time will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis.

"One only problem will be in fitting the larger students, so I would suggest that you be the first to pick up a uniform if you did not reserve a uniform from last year."

Boyd announced that instrument instruction also will be available for any high school student who has not previously been in.

Tests to Be Given 5-Year-Olds At School on Monday

Tests will be given at 9 a. m. next Monday to children whose parents are interested in having them enter the first grade this year, even though they will not be 5 years of age until Dec. 1.

Testing will be in the first grade room.

Under a board of education rule adopted last fall, children who will be 6 by Dec. 1 may enter the first grade, provided they pass the test and provided the regular class is not filled.

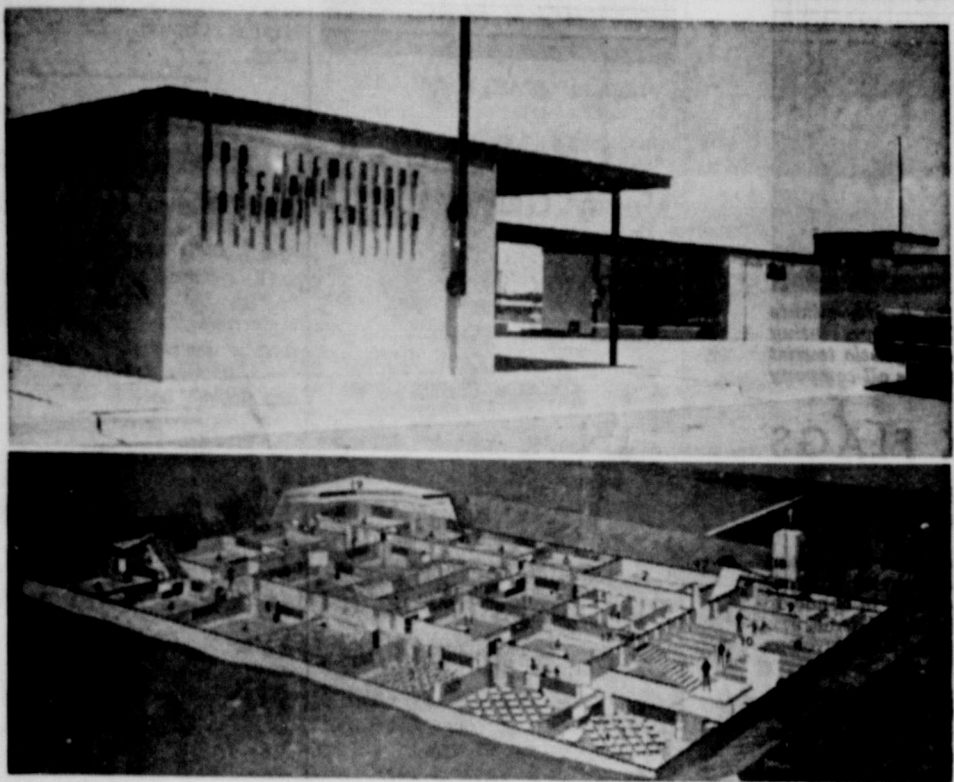

The age deadline set up by the board is Sept. 1, but the local board decided to change the deadline to Dec. 1.

However, the youngsters are required to pass a test to determine whether they are ready to enter school.

Making a passing grade on the test will not assure their being admitted to school this fall. A maximum of 30 students is permitted in the first and second grades.

Therefore, if there are 30 pupils enrolled who meet the Sept. 1 deadline, the board of education should Monday night that no other children will be accepted.

If there are less than 30, then students taking the test will be admitted according to scores.

School which is above ground, and a cross-sectional sketch of the underground facilities and supplies for 540 students or 2,000 shelter occupants. The underground school is the first of its kind in this country.

John C. Haynes Is Named to County Hospital Board

Mayor John C. Haynes has been appointed to the Gray County hospital board, succeeding the late Ruel Smith.

Haynes' selection for the post was announced Monday at a meeting of the county commissioners court.

He was nominated for the seat on the board by County Commissioner Truitt Johnson, and the choice received the endorsement of the entire commissioners court.

Smith had been named to the hospital board earlier this year, replacing Jewel Marcham, who did not desire re-appointment.

County Judge Bill Craig formally notified Haynes that he had been appointed to the board during Monday's meeting.

The hospital board governs the operation of Highland General Hospital in Pampa.

Haynes is serving his second term as mayor of McLean.

They left McLean on July 8 and returned last Friday, after their 6,800-mile trip.

WELL TO BE CLEANED OUT

The McLean city commission voted Tuesday night to clean out the city-owned Beagle gas well to improve the gas pressure before the heavy consumption period begins this fall.

Aldermen decided to employ Roy Barker to clean the well out, after it was reported that the pressure had dropped considerably.

Alderman Boyd Meador was elected mayor pro-tem for the remainder of his current term. He succeeds the late Ruel Smith.

Meador and Jack Shelton were appointed by Mayor John C. Haynes to serve as a building committee to oversee remodeling work now in progress at city hall.

The remodeling was begun this week by Kenneth Hambright.

Board Extends Contracts

The McLean board of education Monday night extended the contracts of the school superintendent and two principals and voted to change the age requirements for youngsters entering the first grade.

For the first time in several years, the board decided to give long-term contracts.

Supt. Lee Welch, beginning his third year as head of the local school system, was given a two-year extension on his contract, which had been last winter for one year.

In effect, this gives Welch a three-year contract.

Bob Green, high school principal, and Jack Riley, grade school principal, were given one-year extensions on their contracts, which now will be in effect through the 1963-64 school year.

Before being permitted to enroll in the first grade, however, a child must pass a test, if he is not 6 years old on or before Sept. 1.

It was explained by the board, however, that children made eligible to enroll by the Dec. 1 deadline would not be permitted to attend school by the board.

The age deadline had been changed last year to Dec. 1 in the McLean school system.

As stated, the motion changing the regulation back to the Sept. 1 deadline becomes effective with the 1963-64 school term.

Before being permitted to enroll in the first grade, however, a child must pass a test, if he is not 6 years old on or before Sept. 1.

It was explained by the board, however, that children made eligible to enroll by the Dec. 1 deadline would not be permitted to attend school by the board.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost. Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

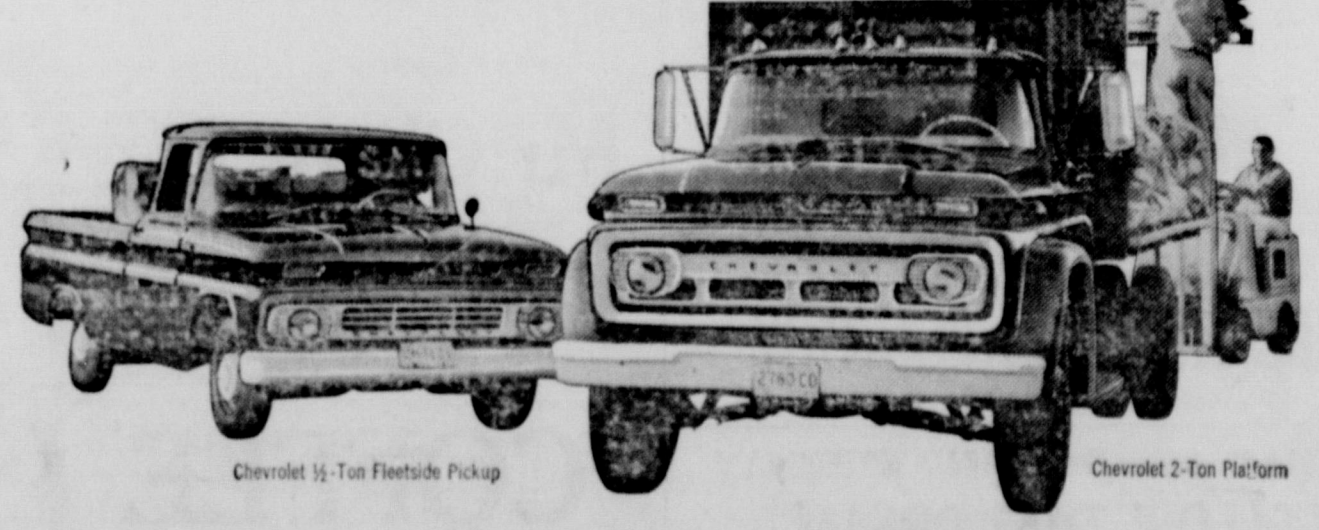

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

4-H CLUB WORK

Cecil Regier missed several of you McLean 4-H Club boys at a training school he had on keeping records the first of this week.

To win national 4-H Club honors, it is essential to keep a good set of records on your work.

Joe Magee has two top quality calves he is feeding for the spring livestock shows. The calves are pretty far advanced for this time of year.

I caught Joe and Jack Myers setting a corned post in a fence-building operation on the Clyde Magee Ranch south of town last Tuesday.

Looked like some preparation was going on for the Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders tour, which will touch several McLean ranches this coming Saturday, Aug. 18.

You'd better join them when they reach here.

WEATHER OVER STATE

Last week I attended a state-wide meeting of county extension agents at Dallas.

In visiting with agents all over Texas, I learned we are most fortunate in this area as far as moisture is concerned.

The county agent at Uvalde told me they are feeding cattle on grass at the present.

Agents south of Austin said cattle were beginning to move because of the drought. Surprising enough, though, prices were strong in the area.

I visited with J. D. Skaggs, Pampa the first of the week and he flew up to the Dakotas over the weekend. He said grass was excellent all the way up.

No doubt, but what this is helping hold the market up.

Look for a roll-back in cattle prices in 1963. Don't ask me where I got my information, but it's as authentic as Don True's weather forecast.

COTTON

The warm and hot weather is tailormade for most of our cotton in this area. Although most of it is late, it is really putting on at present.

Leon Andrews and B. F. Holland and I checked a few patches last Tuesday. They were well satisfied with the progress.

We also checked out the four rows of dwarf milo. The strong stalk is quite apparent, for which it is noted. Heads are fixing to erupt from the boot.

I hope to have a sign over it next week for your observation.

SCREW-WORMS

In talking with county agents last week from what normally is heavily infested screw-worm areas they tell me the cases they have are only a fraction of what they would expect had it not been for the screw-worm program.

They are fully convinced a complete knockout blow will be dealt the screw-worms in 1963.

Like to fish for "whites"? Only a few short years ago the white bass (Lepomis chrysops or Roccus chrysops) was almost unknown to Texas anglers. But Mississippi River Valley fishermen had been familiar with this wonderful game fish for a long time. In Texas, white bass apparently appeared first in Caddo Lake, then spread over the state. Actually, these fish are direct descendants of the big saltwater striped bass. They adapted themselves to fresh-water conditions and thrived. Now they are found from the Great Lakes to Mexico, from Alabama through Texas. Up to 5 pounds is claimed as a world's record for a white. However, no "official" record ever has been made. This freshwater bass is a great scrapper. It strikes hard and keeps on scrapping until boated. Whites are easy to recognize. They are a silvery color on back and sides, yellow white on the belly. Black stripes that are rather indistinct relieve the unbroken silver on each side. Distinguishing marks are the medium long mouth set horizontally in a scaly, rather conical head. White bass fins are distinctly separated. A fairly high back along with a flat perch-like body give white bass even more distinction. White bass like still, deep water with a sandy, gravelly bottom. Usually the species is found in medium and large lakes and streams—seldom in small streams or tank ponds. During February and March (and sometimes as late as April and May) the white bass in Texas move upstream looking for likely spawning grounds in shallow flowing water. Lake whites seek shallow stream inlets, while river whites prefer the sand bars. Eggs are laid among rocks or weeds in very shallow water. No attempt is made to protect these eggs when once deposited, or even to build a nest. The female dumps her eggs apparently with no maternal feeling. When the job is done she heads for deep water as fast as she can. Females have been known to lay over half million a eggs at one time. One hatched, the young remain in shallow water until strong, then migrate to deep water. In Texas most white bass are found in big lakes such as Buchanan Inks, Granite Shoals, Travis, Corpus Christi (Lake Mathis), Falcon (on the Mexican border) and of course Lake Caddo, their point of origin in Texas. So common are white bass in most Texas lakes that it is not too far-fetched to claim that more than half of all game fish caught in the Lone Star State are of this species. Schooling habits of the white bass, and the voracity with which it feeds, make for fantastic catches when the whites are running. Hundreds can be caught from one big school once it is located. How do you locate a school of whites? Most fishermen on the big lakes cruise about, watching for concentrations of feeding seagulls. Once such a flock is found, the fishermen hurry to that spot. If bass are there the surface will be rippled where thousands of gizzard shad are feeding. The white bass are just underneath, gobbling up the shad. Often the bait is grabbed the instant the gold or silver spoon (such as Dixie Jet), or an underwater spinning lure (like the Abu), starts flashing through the water. Fishing then is fast and furious until the school moves on. White bass may be found almost anywhere that food is plentiful. On warm nights try fishing with small, live minnows. A Coleman lantern suspended over the water, from a boat or dock, will attract bugs. Fish are drawn to the area by the light and the bugs that fall into the water. Small fish, crustaceans and insects form the major portion of the white bass diet. However it doesn't take a biologist to inform Texas fishermen that this great game fish goes all out for gizzard shad. White bass seldom live longer than four or five years. However, they grow fast. They reach a length of 12 inches, or longer, in two years from the date of hatching. Such fast growth, coupled with a short life span, makes for quick population turnovers. However, they multiply so fast that strict bag limits are not necessary. So fish to your heart's content, for whites.

TELEPHONE TALK
by George Newberry, Manager

WE MADE IT!
Whew! Telstar made it. I couldn't be prouder if I'd pushed the button that sent the satellite into orbit.

As you probably know, Telstar is the Bell System's new communications satellite. It acts as a sort of moving microwave relay tower in space. Signals from the earth are received by the satellite, amplified within it, and then transmitted back to the ground. Everyone here at the telephone company had his fingers crossed that Telstar would be successful. After all, that little 170-pound ball opens a whole new world of communications possibilities. Voices, television pictures and data messages can now leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way.

IT WASN'T EASY
Sitting back and reflecting on the many developments that made Telstar possible, three things come to mind:
1. Since the end of World War II, the Bell System has spent over one billion dollars for research and development in fields pertinent to satellite communications development.
2. Communications by satellite would be impossible without six Bell System contributions—the Transistor, the Solar Battery, the traveling wave tube, ruby masers, the waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations.
3. The Bell System paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the launching of Telstar. No one got a free ride. I could go on and on about Telstar, but I'll just make one more comment:
I am convinced that if there's ever a better way of providing communications—we'll do it.

tend the first grade unless the class is less than the maximum number of 30.

If the number of first graders exceeds the 30 limit set up by the Texas Education Agency, then the class must be divided and a second teacher hired.

At present, it appears that there will be approximately 30 first graders 6 years of age on or before Sept. 1. If there is less than this number, then a test will determine which children made eligible by the Dec. 1 deadline may enrol.

Youngsters would be chosen by their scores on the test.

An amended budget was presented to the board by school district Business Manager Charles Cousins.

Cousins reported a total of $238,325 was spent during the past year, with collections from all sources of $236,102.

However, Cousins pointed out that the expenditures exceeded the revenue because he had paid off $10,000 worth of bonds against the school district.

The bonds were paid before they were due with money accumulated by Cousins in the sinking fund.

The business manager explained that he always tried to keep some money in the sinking fund in order to be able to purchase any bonds which may be offered for sale before their maturity dates.

A decline in tax on production budget was set for 7:30 p. m. Friday in the high school building, with the public invited to attend.

Supt. Welch presented the budget to the board Monday night, pointing out that the amounts set up for each item is the same as in the 1961-62 budget.

He said, however, that the amount of money available will be less this coming year, and the budget may have to be trimmed.

A decline in tax on production was given as the reason for the drop in revenue.

George Terry was awarded the contract for electrical work and installing the heating system in the new band hall.

Terry submitted two bids, one for $1,177.71 if some of the light fixtures in the old band hall are used, and the other for $1,396.50 if all new fixtures are used.

The bid may be revised if the method of installation is changed.

The Thrift-Built Corp., which is constructing the band hall, has agreed to deduct $1,213 from the original bid if electrical and heating work is done locally.

In other action, the board of education discussed the preparation of a parking area at the high school for teachers.

Three major college problems today: salaries for professors, football for alumni, and parking space for students.

Out of each 8-hour day, Americans work 2 hours and 19 minutes to support the government, according to The Tax Foundation. In fact, taxes take a greater proportion of our earnings than any other category of expenditures—more than food, clothing, and medical care combined.

Taxes take about 29% of the total workday as compared with 17.3% for food and tobacco, 6.9% for clothing and accessories; 17.5% for housing and household operation; 4.4% for medical and dental care; 8.1% for transportation; 3.9% for recreation; and 12.9% for all other expenses.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture points out that the cost of food has risen less than most other items on the cost-of-living index.

For all items other than food, the increase is 30.9% since 1947-48. Transportation costs have gone up 45.7%; housing, 32.5%; rent, 43.1%; medical care, 59.6%. For all food, including that sold in restaurants, the increase is 12.2%. The real cost of our food is lower than it has ever been. Wages from an hour's factory work, for example, will buy 83% more round steak than in 1929.
