Jail Inmate Hanging Is Apparent Suicide

Thursday afternoon set off an afternoon of violence in Muleshoe which left a truck driver from Clovis injured, and an illegal alien from Mexico dead in unrelated incidents.

Events started at 1:37 when the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center received a report that a train had struck a large truck at the railroad crossing near the Corral Restaurant.

The first officer to arrive at the wreck called for the "Jaws of Life" Rescue Tool to open the truck door to remove the driver who was still inside the cab of the truck. However, the door was opened and he was removed prior to arrival of the rescue tool.

He was taken to West Plains Medical Center for x-rays and treatment of head and facial wounds. The driver, Les Harrelson, 29, of Clovis, was released from the hospital in Muleshoe Friday. He is a driver for American Cattle Company of Clovis.

According to reports, Harrelson had just loaded his truck at an elevator north of the railroad tracks and was southbound on an access road when the right front of the cab of the large truck was struck by a slowmoving train.

The impact shoved the truck off the roadway and down a steep incline, while almost jacking the trailer. No one on the train was injured. Engineer of the southbound train was Tim Claude Bourn of Stanton.

A large wrecker had to be called from Lubbock to remove the truck from the steep incline.

JAIL DEATH

Also on Thursday, Bailey County's first jail suicide was reported.

At approximately 2:45 p.m., Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements and Texas Ranger Jim Mull, of Plainview, found Fernando Torres Alvarado, 25, of Maravito, Mexico, hanging from an overhead bar in his cell at the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center. He was pronounced dead at the jail by Justice of the Peace K.B. Martin at approximately 2:50 p.m.

His body was transported to West Plains Medical Center for neck x-rays before being taken to Singleton - Ellis Funeral Home.

Sheriff Clements said Alvarado had been apprehended near Progress near midnight on April 19, and was being held as an illegal alien and for questioning into the death of Florencia Segura, 28, of Clovis.

The body of Ms. Segura had been found lying near the center of FM 1760, 11 miles west of Muleshoe at 1:35 a.m. on Monday, April 16.

Her badly mangled body was transported to a medical examiner's office in Albuquerque for an autopsy after being removed from the highway.

Witnesses said Ms. Segura had left a dance between Clovis and Portales around 11:30 p.m. on Sunday night with a man identified as being Alvarado. This was two hours before two truck drivers from Portales found her body.

Sheriff Clements told the Journal that a border patrol officer from Lubbock had been in Muleshoe on Wednesday and had taken a statement from Alvarado, and that Ranger Mull had arrived in Muleshoe Thursday morning to question him.

The sheriff said Alvarado had been placed in a cell by himself around 12:45 p.m. Thursday following questioning by the ranger. At 2:45 p.m., Ranger Mull and Sheriff Clements went back to the cell to remove Alvarado for additional questioning. The sheriff said that as he was unlocking the door of the cell, Ranger Mull opened a window on a door and saw Alvarado's body hanging.

On opening the door, they found his body was already cold and said they both checked him for any sign of life before notifying the justice of the peace.

According to a sheriff's office spokesman, Alvarado had had a mattress cover, tied part of it around bars covering a skylight in the roof of the cell, tied the other end around his neck and apparently stepped off a top bunk in the cell.

X-rays showed his neck was not broken, and that he apparently died of strangulation.

Luis Enrique Castresana of the Mexican Consulate in Lubbock, said Alvarado was from Maravito, Mexico, and at presstime, he was attempting to contact members of his family before a decision would be made on the disposition of his body.

GOLF WINNER...Mary Watkins was presented a trophy as winner of the women's division in a golf tournament conducted at the Muleshoe Country Club this month.

A limited number of tickets went on sale for the banquet at $5 each, and there is a possibility of a few tickets still being available for the annual banquet.

Governor Names May Senior Citizen Month

Governor William P. Clements has designated May as Older Texans Month.

The Governor signed a memorandum urging Texas communities to pay special tribute to senior citizens during the month of May.

"So that we may continue to benefit from the wisdom and experience of our matured Texas citizens, of whom there are more than 1.6 million, it is important that we provide opportunities for them to remain active," Governor Clements said.

"By acknowledging their contributions of the past, we can encourage their continued service," he added.

Ceremonies honoring Outstanding Older Texans are being planned by Area Agencies on Aging and nutrition projects for the elderly throughout the state.

Certificates signed by Governor Clements will be awarded to seniors who have provided outstanding services to their communities.

These awards will be presented at luncheons, picnics and other festivities scheduled by regional and local agencies providing services for the elderly.

The calendar of special events for Older Texans Month also includes arts and crafts exhibits, talent shows, dances, domino tournaments, senior olympics and free health screenings.

The screenings will focus on common infirmities of the aging, such as glaucoma, diabetes, hypertension and hearing impairments. They will be conducted at local health fairs, organized in cooperation with health officials and medical professionals.

Sponsoring Area Agencies on Aging and nutrition projects serve as focal points for the statewide network of aging services, administered through the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wanted to take this means of commending the folks of Muleshoe, and in particular the Muleshoe Jaycees, on a well-run Miss Tri-County contest last Saturday.

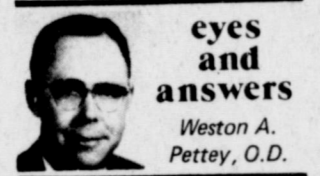

Carol and I remarked several times that, to have four separate contests (or age divisions), involving 53 girls, the contest officials did a great job of keeping things going. It was remarkable that the finals on Saturday were over by 10 p.m.

Naturally, you have nothing but good memories when your daughter is a winner, but even without this "bonus," we would have been impressed.

The Happy Days theme was very appropriate, since it brought back fond memories for us dads and moms. It was quite a nostalgia trip for yours truly, as we recall our days at Muleshoe High School with a great deal of pride. Even though we are now involved in another community, we are still proud of MHS, and like to think we have a number of good friends and neighbors in the Muleshoe area.

Seeing our daughter, Laura and the other beauties from the area on the MHS stage reminded us of the times we were in the junior and senior plays, or singing in a musical program of some sort. We had thought that those "Happy Days" were all in the past, but thanks to Laura and the folks who produced the Miss Tri-County contest, we were given the rare privilege of returning to our old familiar surroundings, for yet another Golden Memory to add to our collection.

Thanks again,
Bill (s)

Pettey, O.D.

Dear Dr. Pettey: How do I go about choosing the right sunglasses?

We've said that sunglasses should be optically ground whether or not the wearer needs a vision corrective prescription.

Remembering that, let's discuss the four general types of sunglasses lenses: Neutral—light coming through them is reduced in intensity but its color is essentially unchanged; colored—not only is intensity lessened but the color of the light is modified; polarizing—reflected rays from some sources are absorbed by the lenses but others go through; reflecting—a thin metallic coating on the outer surface reflects some of the light. The principles of absorption (reduction in intensity), polarization, and reflection can be combined in a single lens.

All sunglass tints affect color perception, some tints more than others. Five to ten percent of the male population has a color weakness, the combination of colored lenses and any amount of color deficiency can mislead the eyes. Tints in the green, brown, and smoke groups are recommended, because they interfere least with color perception.

The frames should accommodate lenses large enough to provide ample sun/glare protection; they should not have large flat side pieces that interfere with side vision. Your glasses should fit so that your eyelashes do not brush against the lenses. The lenses should be equal in thickness and absorption; they should have no optical imperfections or distortions.

YOUR ELECTRIC BILL IS HIGHER IT'S COSTING US MORE TO PRODUCE ELECTRICITY

Electric bills are higher these days, and even though the cost of almost everything else is higher too, you are still concerned about your cost of electricity. We're concerned too.

The cost of the fuels necessary to operate generating plants is increasing by leaps and bounds. To counter the shortage and spiraling costs of natural gas and fuel oil, SPS has built new plants which use lower-cost coal. But building these plants costs money, too — three times as much as gas-fired plants. Even so, fuel is the largest single expense we have. About 51¢ of every dollar SPS received from its customers in 1978 went for fuel. Fuel always has been and always will be part of your electric bill. It's higher today than it was yesterday, and tomorrow it will be higher still.

SPS is working to keep the price of electricity as low as possible, but as the cost of producing electricity goes up, our only choice is to ask our customers to pay a higher price. It's the only way we can maintain the adequate supply of power and the dependable service you expect.

1978 Texas Ag. Sales Led By Livestock

Higher cattle prices helped push estimated sales from Texas farm and ranch marketings in 1978 to more than $8 billion. That is a billion more than in 1977 and compares with $2.7 billion 10 years ago.

"Although higher expenses absorbed most of the increase, net income should have increased moderately above the $1.1 billion earned in 1977," points out Dr. Carl Anderson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Of course, all producers did not share equally in the higher earnings," emphasizes Anderson, a marketing economist at Texas A&M University. "Some farm operators suffered considerable financial setbacks. In particular, the dramatic increase in cost of pumping water has severely tightened the cost-price squeeze on profit margins from growing irrigated crops."

Despite the ups and downs and uncertainties of farming and ranching, Anderson believes that the potential for further agricultural growth is great. "With anticipated increases in food and fiber demands throughout the world and the importance of agricultural exports to this nation's balance of payments, agriculture in Texas is destined to play an even greater role in the future."

Agriculture, including all its agribusiness phases, added more than $30 billion to the economic activity of the state last year. Farm assets in Texas -- land, buildings, livestock, machinery and farm financial assets -- were valued at more than $55 billion.

Looking at the $8 billion plus in estimated cash receipts, meat animal sales accounted for almost $4 billion, up from $2.7 billion in 1977. As a result, livestock sales, including poultry, are estimated at close to $5 billion compared with $3.5 billion in 1977.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear Editor:
It looks like this country is faced not only with a shortage of energy but a shortage of horse sense. Take the 55 mile an hour speed limit. If that's what we want it looks like a better way to achieve it could be found than pleading with everybody to comply, especially when about two-thirds don't. The horse-sensical way would be to require governors on cars, set for a maximum speed of 55 miles an hour. That'd do it and it wouldn't cost very much. Most cars are being re-called anyway and the governors could be installed then.

This would be a lot cheaper and far more effective than having highway patrolmen trying to slow millions of drivers down, which is about like having one cowboy on a bicycle trying to head off a wild stampede.

While we're waiting to get the governors installed, control traffic by having two patrol cars travel side by side at 55 miles an hour at 50-mile intervals down two-lane highways. If it's a three-laner, use three cars; four, use four. This will work, except that it'll back cars up from the Pacific to the Atlantic, from Muleshoe to the state capitol.

Or take lawnmowers. There must be 25 or 30 million of them, a large percentage of which will start. Think how much gasoline could be saved if the Energy Department spent some if its money not on pleading with the people to conserve but on a crash program to produce a lawn grass that grows only two inches high. Think how much more sleep city people could get by not being woke up Sunday mornings by the roar of power mowers.

I realize this would throw lawnmower makers out of work but they could turn to something else, although I don't recommend farming. I don't believe you can talk people into saving energy, any more than you can talk politicians into saving their breath.

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

Farmers To Contact Legislature

An official of the Texas Farmers Union is urging all citizens in the rural areas of the state to call upon the legislative leadership in Austin to give lawmakers and the people of Texas a chance to cast an affirmative vote for the family farm system.

Ron Butler, State Secretary of the Waco based general farm organization, has expressed fears that the Family Farm Security Act, a bill to aid entry level farmers in obtaining a loan for property, is suddenly becoming overlooked in the "plethora of political verbage and pet projects being carried by state legislators."

"We've watched for almost four months as the 66th Legislature has 'diddled' with the agricultural productivity tax, mangled and maligned state reimbursement provisions for rural school districts, attempted to excite and appease us with rhetoric about gasahol, stalled on prohibitions against foreign land ownership and otherwise done little beyond giving farmers a little leeway on overweight harvest trailers," said Butler.

"We're asking House Speaker Bill Clayton and Constitutional Amendments Committee Chairman Al Brown to move the Family Farm Security Act out of committee for a floor vote. We want their colleagues to record their support for the family farm and we want the electorate of Texas to have an opportunity to show its support. If the House of Representatives wants to really do something for the small farmer and especially the struggling young farmer, this is the issue to push the green light on."

At issue is a four step legislative process requiring low votes from each chamber of the legislature to establish a loan guarantee program to undergird conventional loan applications of beginning farmers. The House has already acted affirmatively on enabling legislation now expected to sail smoothly through the Senate and the Senate in turn has sent a constitutional resolution required to fund the program to the House. The Senate bill (SJR 13) now awaits committee hearing and a two-thirds approval by House members.

The Senate resolution, however, appears to be bogged down in the House Constitutional Amendments Committee where it has lain without action for a month. Texas Farmers Union observers feel that if the resolution does not clear committee soon, the House will not have chance to send it on to ballot proposal for Texas voters before their adjournment.

"We want every farmer and rancher, every supporter of the family farm, to know that the bill is currently immobilized," concluded Butler. "We want everyone to stop their plowing and planting for just one moment to contact their elected representatives and especially Speaker Clayton and ask that they get the Family Farm Security Act moving again."

The measure also has strong support from Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown and an endorsement from the Independent Bankers Association of Texas. The Farmers Union spokesman says, however, that it is not lack of official support that has stymied the bill, but rather "some political game playing over which farmers should voice their intolerance."

Property Insurance Rate Reduction Set

Price increases and even price gouging may result of the North Texas tornado, but property insurance rates will not be adversely affected this year, according to an industry spokesman.

"Insurance rates are scheduled to go down July 1," says Tom B. Lee of Austin, general manager, Texas Insurance Advisory Association, "which in a small but important way should help recovery in the Wichita Falls - Vernon area."

Lee describes the tornado as the worst in Texas history from the standpoint of property damage, "but I don't foresee any insurance market problems or change in the availability of insurance to cover such things as tornadoes."

He said insured property losses will be approximately $200 million, surpassing all previous losses from a single tornado hitting Texas. Lee said this is more than four times the insured property losses in the Lubbock tornado, "and we have still - lingering memories about how bad that was" in 1970.

"The enormity of the loss, both to people and property, is mind - boggling even a week or more after the fact," Lee said, "but that is what insurance is for. We're often criticized by people who do not suffer damages, yet the disaster in North Texas should clearly establish both the need and the benefits of this kind of financial protection."

Lee said his information is that property insurance companies and their agents are helping policyholders "as efficiently as the circumstances allow."

He said, "We're still urging patience, as it takes time to adjust so many losses."

Lee said also that in circumstances similar to what has happened in Wichita Falls, "we've seen out-of-state rip - off artists come in and try to take advantage of situations where there is widespread damage and the immediate need for rebuilding. We caution pro-

Teachers Objecting To State Comparison

inside teachers objecting. Governor Clements claim that all state employees should be treated alike--and that teachers are state employees--"is full of holes big enough to drive a drilling rig through," a Texas State Teachers Association official said Friday.

"Neither teachers nor state employees will receive enough salary increase in the pending appropriation bill, or from the Governor's recommendation, to offset cost-of-living increases," TSTA Exec. Secy. Callie W. Smith said.

But when the Governor talks about treating "all state employees" alike, Smith commented, "Examine the facts:"

Salary: The 5.1 percent raise proposed for state employees is built on a higher salary schedule than that for teachers. Beginning salaries for state employees exceed $12,000 a year for all positions comparable to a teacher. Many state employees with only a high school diploma have a beginning salary in excess of $12,000.

Teachers hold at least a bachelor's degree, earned at their own expense. Many return to school yearly to keep up with their fields--again at their own expense. The state starting salary now is $8,540.

The 5.1 percent proposed by the Governor for teachers is only about 1.5 percent more than they would receive under present law.

Social Security: State pays most (5.85 percent) of the employee portion for state employees, plus the state's full matching share. Not many teachers

GOD LOOKS ON THE HEART

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

Compare the Spray Sickle with the conventional box type...

Just look at the differences!

The Spray Sickle is front mounted - and the Box Type is rear mounted. The Spray Sickle as a broadcast unit may be used for standard row spacings - narrow or wide row spacings - skip row - forage, hay and pasture crops as well as pre-plant applications. The Box Type may be used for standard row spacing only. These are obvious differences - the less obvious differences make the big difference in performance and results!

The Spray Sickle solves
a lot of problems the Box Type can't!
