'WHEN' IS KEY WORD IN USE OF DEFOLIANTS, DESICCANTS

Defoliation and desiccants have a place on the High Plains. But when they are used properly—and when cotton is ready for their application—they can do more harm than good.

Older, more mature cotton frequently can be prepared for market harvest before frost, says Harry Newman, agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. Experience shows that proper use of harvest-aid chemicals permits earlier harvesting of mature cotton before exposure to weather damage reduces the grade or actual field losses occur due to bad weather. Research shows that open cotton left in the field generally deteriorates one grade and around 1/32 inch in staple per month of weathering.

"When" is the key word in using harvest-aid chemicals. For example, if a defoliant or defoliant is applied before cotton is fully mature—more than 60 per cent of bolls open and preferable 80 per cent—not only yield decreases but also detrimental effects to seed and lint quality are possible. The more immature the cotton, the greater the losses. In any event, harvest-aid chemicals should be used only when at least 60 per cent of the bolls are fully open, indicates research at the center.

Proper timing of harvest-aid chemical use has been easier to obtain on cotton grown under non-irrigated condition than under heavy irrigation. This is because dryland or light-irrigated cotton generally matures 30-40 days before frost.

Economics is the biggest consideration when debating between harvest-aid chemicals or letting frost do the job. According to John Seibert, Extension Area Farm Management Specialist, it is up to each producer to determine, under his conditions, whether or not use of harvest-aid chemicals is profitable. From all indications, concludes Seibert, it is often hard to economically justify their use.

County Agent Foster Whaley can supply you with additional information on harvest-aid chemicals—their use and value.

Discovery of applying rotary motion to machines is considered to be one of the greatest inventions in all history.

YOU CAN'T ENFORCE A BET

Is a bet with a friend, with witnesses present, a valid contract upon which you can collect in court? Can you force a person to pay off a bet that he made with you?

Jim was the town's most loyal supporter of the Marysville baseball team, even though the team was having a disappointing season. Tom, a supporter of Johnstown, a rival team, offered to bet Jim a sizeable sum of money that Johnstown would beat Marysville.

Jim was quick to accept and asked several bystanders if they would be witnesses to the bet.

That weekend Marysville won, but Tom refused to pay. Jim claimed that the bet amounted to a valid and binding contract. He wanted to bring a lawsuit against Tom to collect the money that he felt Tom legally owed him. However, he was advised that he did not have a case.

The bet that they made was a gambling contract, and as such was illegal. Where both parties assert rights founded on a contract which is illegal and void, the court will refuse to enforce it, leaving the parties just where they placed themselves, and as they were before coming into court. The court has said that they owe it to public justice and to their own integrity to refuse to enforce contracts essentially violating morality or public policy. It is a judicial duty always to turn a claimant upon such a contract out of court regardless of how the character of the contract is made to appear.

In this case, even though Jim could prove that he had made a contract with Tom, and regardless of the number of witnesses Jim could call into court to swear to the terms of the contract, the contract itself was an illegal one, made for an illegal purpose, gambling, and as such the courts will refuse to enforce it.

The courts will allow great freedom to people in the making of agreements between themselves, but they draw the line when the agreement made is illegal. The courts will not aid people in breaking the law.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

ADJOURNMENT

Having set records for the scope and volume of legislation considered—and for the length of time it has met—the 88th Congress is preparing at this writing to bring to an end, at least temporary, to 21 months of continuous meetings.

By the time you read this, I expect that decisions will have been made as to whether the 88th Congress finally will adjourn or whether it will recess until later this year, perhaps returning again to Washington in mid-November.

No peacetime Congress of the past held meetings on more days than has the 88th. Only the 77th and 78th Congresses, legislating under the emergency pressures of World War II, were in longer continuous session. Not since 1940 were the House and Senate still meeting in October during a presidential election year.

Through Oct. 1, 1964, the House and Senate had agreed on the provisions of 579 legislative proposals, and, with the signature of the President, they have become law. Introduced in the House and Senate through Oct. 1 was a total of 19,116 bills and resolutions of all types.

The many bills that are introduced compared with the few that are passed indicates the exhaustive study given legislative proposals by the House and Senate.

Many legislative matters regarded as important by many Americans will not be decided in this Congress. These proposals will be introduced again and given further consideration during the 89th Congress convening in January, 1965.

The major issue mainly responsible for keeping Congress in Washington as election day approaches is that involving the apportionment of state Legislatures. The Supreme Court's decision of June 15, requiring that state Legislatures be apportioned on the basis of "one-man one-vote" rule, has caused heated controversy.

The Senate declined to pass a

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

By FOSTER WHALEY
 Because of the importance of the Bangs Testing Program in the county and state I am devoting my entire space this week to this subject. The following article has been reviewed by Dr. Virgil Patrick, USDA veterinarian, and is supposed to be correct on the procedure that will be followed in the county. The article follows:

Bangs testing of all Gray County breeding cattle will begin Oct. 26, according to Raymond Maddox, chairman of a group of cattlemen that petitioned Gray County for brucellosis testing earlier this year. Dr. R. D. Eaton, district veterinarian, USDA, and Mack Tiner, Texas Animal Health Committee, met with a group of Gray County ranchers last week to work out details of the testing program which will begin Oct. 26 and will be completed by Nov. 30, 1964.

Testing is required when at least 75% of the cattlemen in a county representing 51% of the cattle, petition to the Texas Animal Health Commission for a testing program. It was estimated that over 95% of the Gray County ranchers signed the petition.

According to Dr. Eaton, for a county to qualify after testing for a modified brucellosis free status not more than 1% of the cattle in 5% of the herds can be infected. All herds must be tested. In herds having 50 cows or less, all will be tested. In larger herds only 20% or 50 head, whichever is greater, will be tested. All female cattle over 12 months come under the test unless they have been officially calfhood tested. In this case they are exempted from testing if under 30 months of age.

Calves between 6-10 months are vaccinated free on request at the time of testing only.

In case a reactor is found in the herd, all cattle in this herd will be tested. All cattle in a herd, regardless of the number, will be tested if the rancher so desires.

At the recent meeting several lineup men were selected who will assist in coordinating the mammoth testing program. They are W. R. Combs, Lefors; Wilson Boyd, McLean; Raymond Maddox, Grandview; Roland Dauer, Pampa; Elmer McLaughlin, Lakeview; Charles Webb, south of Labeton, and Leslie Darsey, Alanreed. It will be the responsibility of these lineup men to report to the central laboratory when certain herds are to be tested. I will assist by coordinating the testing of four "bleeders" that will be working out of the Pampa headquarters each day. The laboratory is to be tied into the utilities on the east side of the courthouse annex, just south of the rodeo grounds on the Miami Highway. We would be happy to attempt to answer any questions you might have on the testing program.

Hootenanny Is Set Saturday at Groom

Another Hootenanny, similar to McLean's Jubilees, will be held Saturday night at the St. Mary's School in Groom.

The event starts at 8 p.m., and all talent from this area is invited to appear on the program.

Proceeds from the show will be used to purchase an anesthetic machine for Groom Memorial Hospital.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
LEAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—(Special)—It's almost time to vote again. General election ballots already are in the hands of local officials, for printing.

Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin has mailed out the sample ballot to the clerks. Along with it went a 4-page certified list of all state and district candidates. Many clerks had been pressing for the material so they could order necessary printing well in advance of the Nov. 2 election date.

Absentee voting begins 20 days before the general election, and clerks must post ballots 10 days earlier than that.

This ballot will list Democratic nominees in column 1, Republicans in column 2 and Constitution Party candidates in column 3.

Three constitutional amendments also will appear on the ballot: One would remove authorization for transfer of up to one per cent from the permanent school fund to the available school fund for current spending; Another would set tougher requirements for creation of special observation and reclamation districts; and The third would permit the Legislature to authorize medical care payments (on a matching basis with the federal government) to needy persons over 65 who are not receiving old age assistance.

Martin held up his final certification of candidates pending a Supreme Court ruling on a Scurry and Burden Counties suit. Court declined to hear Snyder Attorney I Ray Martin's request for list-12 as an independent candidate for 12th district attorney. Martin also sought, unsuccessfully, to keep Democratic nominee for district attorney, Wayland G. Holt, off the November ballot.

crisis at the Association of Western State Engineers' convention here.

Marvin C. Nichols of Fort Worth told the group that the proposal of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation for a canal along the Gulf Coast, to carry surplus water from the Sabine and Neches to water-shy Gulf Coast areas of South Texas, should be held up until the state gets the money from the Legislature to investigate alternatives. He feels that canals or pipelines, carrying surplus East Texas water to upper points of Central and South Texas streams, would be far better. Thus the water could be used more than once.

Leon Hill of Amarillo, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, said that engineers can propose plans, but they must be referred into "people plans" before they will gain enough public acceptance to reach reality.

John Simmons of Orange, general manager of the Sabine River Authority, endorsed the idea of that big river's surplus water being carried to areas which need it. He believes such transfers of water should be made by arrangements between river authorities, under supervision of the Texas Water Commission.

J. E. Sturrock of Austin, manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, told the delegates that by the year 2010, population growth may necessitate the $100,000,000 proposal to move water from Alaska to supply the Southwest United States and Northwestern Mexico. He warned the water engineers that it is their responsibility to educate the people on the coming crisis in water, and to be ready with proposals to meet that crisis.

VETS LAND PROGRAM RE-NEWAL URGED—State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler says Texans ought to vote again on whether to continue the veterans land program.

It just now is starting to make money for the state, he advises in his annual General Land Office report. Profits were reported as nearly $3,000,000 last year and eventually should run to $80,000,000—maybe $100,000,000.

Voters last year turned down a proposal to issue an additional $150,000,000 in bonds to continue the purchase of land for resale to qualified veterans at low interest rates.

EMPLOYMENT STILL ON RISE
—Non-farm employment in July rose to 3,316,300, compared to 3,314,200 in June and 3,255,500 in July, 1963, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Percentage of job-seekers in the period dropped from 4.4 per cent of the state's potential working force to 4.2 per cent—a healthy change from the 4.8 per cent of jobless in July a year ago.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

John Haynes completed a cross-fence on his ranch north of McLean. The fence will be used to protect an area from grazing which will be seeded to native grass next spring. John also plans to spray 400 acres of sandage brush.

Noble Fish constructed a livestock pond on Johnson Ranch east of Alanreed. He plans to construct several ponds to distribute grazing and control water erosion.

WATERSHEDS—The Gray County SCD and commissioners court voted to sponsor a watershed development program on Red Deer Creek. This watershed starts in Gray County and extends through Roberts and Hemphill Counties where it empties into the Canadian River.

Flood control structures and sound conservation measures will eliminate approximately 75 per cent of the water erosion, which will enable farmers and ranchers to develop productive bottomland areas along Red Deer Creek. Watershed dams can also provide additional storage for irrigation and recreation.

WINDBREAKS—This is the time of the year that most landowners and operators start making plans to establish evergreen and deciduous trees for home beautification and protection from extreme climatic conditions.

Experiments have proven that home fuel bills can be reduced 15 per cent with well arranged evergreen windbreaks. They will provide ventilation and shade during hot summer months.

Trees should not be planted too close to the house because they could make a snow trap. For technical assistance in locating and spacing windbreak trees, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.

TIGERS

 won after the game opened, then blocked a field goal attempt.
 Starting from its own 29, McLean mustered a serious threat. With Crockett carrying most of the load, the Tigers pressed down to the Wheeler 24.
 The local fullback showed his way even closer than that, but the first penalty of the evening—15 yards for clipping—moved the Tigers back to the Wheeler 31.
 Pass Deflected, Intercepted
 Fuller started to pass, but the Mustangs rushed him and deflected the aerial into the arms of Guard Gene Watson. Crockett chased Watson. The McLean five before pulling him down.
 Porter smacked the line for two and Richard Wallace smashed across the goal line. The try for extra points failed with 38 seconds left in the first quarter.
 And that's how the score remained at halftime—6-0. Wheeler.
 McLean was on its way again after the intermission rest. Another penalty stopped the drive.
 Halfback Eddy Windom grabbed a pass from Fuller and galloped to Wheeler's 30. The play originated on the McLean 27. Windom's run was nullified by a 15-yard penalty.
 Start on 49
 Wheeler's second scoring drive began on the Mustang 49 after a punt. Porter went 10 yards to cap the march, and Halfback Bobby Van Pool added the two points to give the visitors a 14-0 lead just 41 seconds before the third quarter closed.
 The Mustangs scored again with 6:06 remaining in the final period, with the aid of a 15-yard penalty against the Tigers. There was no signal from the officials to indicate what rule had been broken.
 Van Pool went 38 yards for the six-pointer, but the conversion try failed.
 The locals got their lone TD on the first play after the ensuing kickoff.
 Porter capped the scoring on a 31-yard run with the clock showing 57 seconds to go in the game. Defensively, the entire team performed well. Especially outstanding were Windom, Ronnie Hunt, Harlon Pool, Johnny Fuller, Crockett, Dwight Hathaway and George Green.

DIVERTED ACRES CAN BE GRAZED BEGINNING OCT. 1

Acres diverted under the 1954 wheat and feed grain program have been released for grazing beginning the first of this month, the Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service announced.
 Miss Evelyn Mason, office manager, said the grazing may be done without any loss of payment.
 No grazing of diverted acreage is usually permitted between May 1 and Nov. 1 but the early release date came as a result of the county's designation as a drought area.
 Producers wishing to make hay on the diverted acres must still sign up and refund some payment. And, Miss Mason pointed out, it is still necessary to sign up and take a reduced payment for grazing or having soil bank land.
 Under the 1965 wheat and feed grain programs, a producer cannot receive wheat payment on any farm if the allotment is exceeded on any other farm he owns, operates or shares.
 The ASCS manager said this is true in all cases except where the producer substituted wheat and feed grain and is within the program and on 150 per cent farms. These farms are participating in the program and are not considered to have exceeded the allotment or base.
