Just Between Us

I've been by the News of this week, no doubt the first thing you noticed was the quietness. Well, there's a reason. Eunice is here!

We don't mean by this that Eugene Stratton, long-time and most faithful employe of the News, is a non-maker. But the machine she operates is.

Through more than 40 years they have been almost inseparable during each working week. And when someone else has to set type while Eunice is gone on vacation, that type seems to rebel.

-Jbu-

To say this in explaining why you might find a line upside down, backwards or in some other crazy position in this week's paper. Eunice entered Groom Memorial Hospital Sunday afternoon and underwent surgery Monday morning.

But you can bet that the minute the doctor says it's okay, she'll be back on the job. Her dependability is perhaps her most valuable trait.

It goes without saying, we wouldn't be writing these bouquets to her if she were going to operate the Linotype while this was being set. But since old JBS probably will have to set it up himself—if that cantankerous machine will cooperate—it should be all right.

-Jbu-

Never again!

You couldn't hold a gun to our head and force us to drive up Pike's Peak road the second time. We would simply tell you to go ahead and pull the trigger. Call us cowardly or what you will—one time up that monstrosity of a mountain is enough for us. Almost everyone who has tried it agrees.

Boyd Meador took the trip in the 20's and again in the next decade. The second time was enough.

The Flea Simpsons, who were along on our climb, had been up before, and they want no more of it.

Wayne McIlroy had warned us about it before we left McLean, but we didn't heed his words of advice.

-Jbu-

You keep wondering on the way up—and down—when your lane is on the outside, with thousands of feet to fall if you should slip, which vehicle coming from the opposite direction is the one that will hit you.

When your car will reach a speed of only 13 to 15 miles per hour, even when floor-boarded, there's that worry too that the engine is going to quit.

Then what do you do? What if the brake won't hold while you try to re-start the engine? In the excitement will you turn the steering wheel the right way to roll against the side of the mountain—or the wrong way and go over the edge?

-Jbu-

While pondering all these questions, the young ones are looking over the edge of the cliff that's one side of the road and babbling about how far down they can see. You do the normal thing and tell them in a commanding tone—"shut up."

The view from the top of Pike's Peak is something to behold. There high above the timberline we watched a rain shower move slowly across the Colorado Springs area.

The air was cool—a bit nippy, in fact—and we were pelted with light hail on the way back down the mountain.

Patches of snow remained here and there near the top.

But it was a relief when we reached the base of the peak and stopped for a couple of hours at the North Pole, or Santa Claus (See JBU, Page 2)

Moving to California

Davis Resigns as Tiger Coach

Derral Davis, head coach at McLean High School since 1960, has resigned to take a teaching position at Fullerton, Calif., Junior High School.

Davis submitted his resignation to Supt Jack Riley Sunday.

No successor had been selected by Wednesday afternoon.

Davis, who has had a highly successful four seasons in both football and basketball here, left for California Tuesday night.

Mrs. Davis and their four children—Elizabeth, 7, Kelly, 6, Carrie, 4, and William, 3—will move to Fullerton as soon as suitable housing is found.

Davis came to McLean High School as assistant football and head basketball coach in the fall of 1960.

He assumed the head football coach's duties at about midway of the 1960 season and has continued to coach the boys football and basketball teams since that time.

Under Davis, the football Tigers were District 2-A champions for one year and runners-up for two seasons. In basketball, the Tigers took the district title twice and finished in second place the other two years.

In California he will teach physical education.

"The hardest thing about making this decision was leaving the kids of McLean," Davis said.

"The record these athletic teams have had is pretty indicative of the type of kids we have in McLean," he added.

Davis was himself an outstanding football and basketball player at Pampa High School and later at Baylor University and in the Marine Corps.

Hundreds Expected Here Aug. 15

Dr. Herefords To Host Field Day

Doctor Herefords Ranch south of McLean will host the third annual Field Day on Aug. 15 for the Panhandle Area Texas Junior Hereford Association.

An estimated 1,000 to 1,500 persons are expected to attend the event, hosted by Faris Hess, owner of Doctor Herefords Ranch.

HEARING ON COLLEGE SET

A large representation of McLean residents is being urged for the State Board of Education committee hearing next Monday to determine whether a Gray County junior college district will be formed.

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the Starlight Room of the Pampas Hotel. Persons from throughout the county will have an opportunity to express their feelings on the question of whether a need for a junior college exists.

E. L. Henderson, chairman of the Gray County junior college citizens committee, in a talk before the McLean Lions Club last week explained that such an institution of higher learning would improve education level and the economy of the entire county.

People Will Vote

Following Monday's hearing, the State Board of Education will decide whether a junior college district is to be formed.

Then, if approval is given by the board, residents will have an opportunity to vote on the question.

McLean Mayor John C. Haynes has endorsed the establishment of a junior college.

In a statement prepared for the McLean News, Haynes said that "in my opinion, this is a program that all Gray County citizens can well afford to support. The establishment of a junior college could be the beginning of greater things."

Hereford Breeders Banquet Is Aug. 7

The annual summer banquet of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Association will be held Friday, Aug. 7, in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn in Pampa.

Jeff Williams, prominent after-dinner speaker from Chickasha, Okla., will be speaker for the evening.

Tickets for the event, which will be held at 7:30 p. m., are $2.50 per plate and may be secured in McLean from Faris Hess and Clyde Magee, both directors of the Hereford Breeders Association.

Ben Mathers of Canadian, association president, urged all persons in the cattle business in any way to attend.

The Field Day will open at 8:30 a.m. with registration, and is scheduled to be concluded at 4 p.m.

Judging contests will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and a barbecue, prepared by Flip Breedlove, Donley County farm agent, is to be served at noon.

Eight Stations

Eight stations will be set up for demonstrations during the afternoon.

These are to include the subjects:

Station 1—tattooing, horn-branding and horn-training; 2—Hereford promotion (registration and transfer of papers); 3—fitting, feeding and grooming; 4—hoof trimming; 5—Quarter Horse selection; 6—the Hereford bull; 7—vaccination, dehorning, castration and branding; 8—tips from the veterinarian and supplies.

Presentation of awards will be by the president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Hess has extended an invitation to local and area residents to attend the Field Day.

Classes In Figure Forming Next Week

Next Tuesday will see the first session of the figure forming control sponsored by the McLean Jaycees.

Scheduled in the building which formerly housed Louella's Ladies and Children's Shop, the sessions will be held each Tuesday and Thursday through August, from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

The fee will be $1 per lesson, or $1.50 per week.

Mrs. Bob Stubblefield will be instructor, and all women in McLean and this area are invited to enroll.

Information about the program may be had by calling Mrs. Cusper Smith (GR 9-2820) or Mrs. Jim Allison (GR 9-2649).

Heading and Heeling Contests Saturday

The McLean and Pampa Heading and Heeling Clubs will meet Saturday night in competition at Felton Webb Arena north of town.

Admission will be free, and the public is invited to attend the contests starting at 8 p.m., according to Bob Sherrod.

Mrs. Back Attends Writers Conference

Mrs. Vera Featherston Back left Wednesday morning to attend the Writers Conference at Glorieta, N. M.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Anne Pence Davis of Wichita Falls.

Undergoes Surgery

Miss Eunice Stratton underwent surgery Monday morning at Groom Memorial Hospital.

She was reported resting comfortably Wednesday and is expected to return to her home here later this week.

MEAT LABEL IS APPROVED

Will Show Buyers Domestic, Foreign

The McLean city commission Wednesday afternoon gave its approval to an ordinance requiring that all foreign meat sold in grocery stores and restaurants here be labeled.

Faris Hess, local rancher, appeared before the commission to ask that such an ordinance be adopted in order to let people know whether the meat they are buying is domestic or foreign.

Aldermen gave unanimous approval and have instructed City Attorney Don Lane to prepare an ordinance to this effect.

Adopted Elsewhere

Similar ordinances have been adopted in various cities and towns throughout the United States in an effort to reduce the amount of foreign meats being imported into this country.

High imports are blamed partly for the drop in prices American ranchers are receiving for their cattle.

Ranchers feel that consumers, if given a choice, will buy meat produced in the U. S. instead of imported meat. Labels would let the purchaser know whether he was buying foreign or American meat.

Greer's Cafe Will Open on Saturday

Gene Greer, former resident of McLean, announced this week that he will re-open the former Waggon Wheel Cafe at the east edge of the city on Saturday.

Greer, who grew up here, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Greer of McLean.

He is moving here from Sloom Springs, Ark., where he recently sold a cafe he had operated for sometime.

The cafe building here is being remodeled, and the name of the establishment will be changed to Greer's Cafe. It is located immediately west of the Dixie Motel on Highway 66.

Sam Sharp Honored On 81st Birthday

Sam Sharp was guest of honor at a surprise picnic dinner Tuesday night in observance of his 81st birthday.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rice and Norma Page, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sharp and Val, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Pugh and daughter, Mrs. James Farris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Pettit, Miss Ruby Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sharp.

Harlon Pool, post commander, asked all Legionnaires to attend the session in the Legion Hall.

PAKAN TELLS ABOUT LIFE IN WEST BERLIN

McLean Lieutenant Finds Challenge In Serving Near 'Wall'

(Lt. John Pakan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miro Pakan of McLean, is serving with the Army in West Berlin. Knowing the "people back home" are very interested in happenings in that divided German city, Lt. Pakan recently wrote the following letter to The McLean News. The letter was written on Independence Day, July 4, but mailed—as he noted on the envelope—"6 days late.")

By LT. JOHN PAKAN

Well, as most places where international concern exists, Berlin stands as no exception.

Between incidents both on and off the record, this city takes its place in the spotlight as exemplified last week with Bobby Kennedy's visit.

It appeared the visit followed the wake of our late President, such as speeches in the same places with the same theme. Certainly the pomp and security measures were nothing like JFK's visit, but the city's acceptance was comparable; however, it was small in numbers of persons.

'Over the Fence'

There are always the "over the fence" escapes. Only a few minutes ago another freedom-seeking group tried it with a truck and successfully made their way through the "Wall of Shame."

I understand the truck was military. This I do not doubt; it is a military vehicle, there will be a "flap" and half the U. S. forces will spend a sleepless night hoping they will not have to back up the police department.

Something like 19,000 men comprise the West Berlin Police Force. There are no other German forces here, under agreement by the post-war Potsdam agreements. But it is time for some agitation. With the Fourth of July and some weeks since a major "issue" has erupted, Ivan, as he is commonly called by our GI's, will try something or start thinking along those lines.

Live in Minds

It may make print or just live in the minds of whomever it happens to. At any rate, the challenge of serving the forces here is a most interesting one.

U. S. Forces Europe put their emphasis on Berlin this Fourth. We certainly had a fine parade this morning which will be followed by an open house at the Tempelhof Airport (Air Force). Gen. Freeman, U. S. Forces Europe's commanding officer, was here (the first time since JFK's visit).

As you may imagine, the parade included just about all the marching troops that could be mustered. More floats than ever (with German wording) and several bands gave the hour-long display some civilian air.

'Elbowage'

Almost as interesting as the parade, the German press and their style of news-gathering attracts the western observer.

Sometimes one wonders if they have such a thing as coverage.

Back's Le Bar In Futurity at Raton

Back's Le Bar runs for the big money this coming Sunday!

The 2-year-old Quarter Horse owned by Neville and Ruby Back of McLean qualified last Friday for the Raton Futurity scheduled Sunday afternoon at La Mesa Park in Raton, N. M.

Purse for the race will be $52,000, with the first-place winner taking a big share of this amount.

Twelve horses are due to enter the race. All qualified for the event in trial races run last weekend at Raton.

The first and second-place horses in each of the trial heats are eligible for the futurity.

Mrs. Back said Tuesday, before leaving for Raton, that Bobby Harmon, one of the top jockeys at La Mesa Park, will ride Back's Le Bar in the big race.

First Three Times

The local horse had injured a foot in an accident at the race track several days ago, but recovered to perform well in the trials. Mrs. Back said he is expected to be fully recovered before Sunday.

In four races before the trials Back's Le Bar placed first three times and second in the other outing.

He got revenge for the one loss, however. In a race on July 19, Back's Le Bar out-distanced the only horse that had defeated him previously.

Following next Sunday's futurity at La Mesa Park, Back's Le Bar will be taken to Ruidoso Downs, N. M., to prepare for the All-American Futurity.

This greatest of all Quarter Horse races will be run at Ruidoso on Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Cecil Carter was working on the inside of the J. W. Dougherty residence northeast of town the other day, and came across some interesting newspapers.

The papers, used for insulation, were dated 1915 and 1916, but the dates were about all he could read. They were printed in Bohemian.

Printed in Chicago, Ill., a line in English on the front page boasted that the paper was the "only Slovak daily in the United States."

One item in a grocery advertisement could be translated—coffee, 26 cents a pound.

C. P. (Slim) Callahan, long-time resident of McLean who now lives in Amarillo, was by to see us a few days ago.

Slim had been keeping up with the political gossip in JBU, and he wanted us to ask Bryan McPherson to explain the difference between a Democrat and a Republican.

We haven't seen Bryan since then, so haven't put the question to him.

Some hens in Japan apparently lay their eggs all ready for Easter.

Mrs. Raymond Smith showed us a dozen eggs she plans to put under one of her "settin' hens" Wednesday.

They were in pastel colors of pink, green, blue and yellow. And, get this, they were the product of a black hen!

Mrs. Smith heard about the eggs and had a friend send her a dozen from Logan, N. M. The hens that laid them originally came from Japan.

Black chickens are supposed to hatch from the eggs, and we should be hearing from Mrs. Smith again in about three weeks.

Junior Windom, tournament chairman for the McLean Lions Golf Association, was a bit astonished when he received an entry for last Sunday's tourney.

The entry was in the form of a note from a gent who reportedly is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma. After reading it, Junior is pleased his son, Clyde, chose Texas Tech.

The note:

"Tournament Chareman!

"I ain't found no partner yit, but I shot a 44 yesterday and a 42 today and I shore would like to play Sunday.

"My regular partner can't play on Sunday, so I will have to find a nother I.

"Yore Greens is shore slow to me—try to speed them up a bit!"

Windom isn't sure, but he believes the note was from the same joker who set off some firecrackers under him during the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Howard and family of Electra and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Howard and girls were here visiting in the Frank Howard home and with the H. C. Heasleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Vineyard and boys of Idalou were here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Windom Sr., last weekend.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

More history as it may be written.

And so it came to pass in this Great Land that the mighty Poohbahs of the Potomac became concerned with the plight of many of the citizens whose years were past three score.

For in a previous Dynasty of Poohbahs, there had been set up what was called Social Security. Into the great god of the times, called U. S. Treasury.

And there were Hossanahs throughout the Great Land until it was found by those who had waxed old, that the value of the dollar had waned. And so, to keep body and soul together, many sought to use their experience at light tasks befitting their years to supplement the pittance from the great god U. S. Treasury.

But the Great Poohbahs held up their hands and said, "Nay, if you want to continue to get from the U. S. Treasury the benefits of the money that wasteth away from thy paychecks for lo these many years, then like the lilies of the field, thou must toil not, neither must thee spin, for if thou earn more than 25 dollars per week, you lose Social Security."

And thus a mighty protest was set up. The Poohbahs were National Federation of Independent Business asked "How does it happen that older people who have investments can wax fat and happy on these incomes and still get Social Security while I am not permitted to help myself?"

And the Poohbahs replied: "Twice blessed is he who clips coupons, for he neither toils, nor spins, and thus does not irritate our great god, U. S. Treasury."

And so it came to pass that two leaders from the Province Known as New York, a Rep. Katherine St. George, and a Sen. Kenneth Keating proposed laws to permit those who had passed three score and five to earn as much as they could and still get the benefits of the monies that had been taken from them in their youth.

And this caused great consternation among the mighty Poohbahs of the Potomac.

And so a great council was held by the Poohbahs.

And the decision was to not permit people to help themselves. And forthwith with a mighty clamor of trumpets there was announced, instead, a big War on Poverty, which was a holy war to keep the people dependent on the manna scattered down by the great god, U. S. Treasury. The rallying cry was "Seek ye first the U. S. Treasury, and all things will follow after."

For this was an era when there was confusion about many things. In a place called Vietnam and a place called Laos, legions of the Great Land fought and died, and while some people called it war, the Poohbahs said no, it was not war, it was advising.

And so a great council was held by the Poohbahs.

SMITH-TEEPLES WEDDING VOWS EXCHANGED IN CHURCH HERE

The First Baptist Church was the setting on Saturday evening, July 11, for the wedding of Miss Barbara Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Smith, and Keith Teeple, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Teeple.

The double-ring service was read by Rev. George Young of Halfway before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Tiersed candelabra draped with blue satin ribbons provided the lighting for the background.

Selected music was played by Mrs. Paul Miller with Mrs. Morris Brown as soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace and net over satin, featuring a sabrina necklace, three-quarter-length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a pearl tiara.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds atop a white Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Linda Tindall, wore a blue dress and a corsage of white carnations.

Darla Taylor, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a light blue dress. She carried a small white basket filled with rose petals.

Donnie Woods served as best man. Ushers were Clyde Windom and Mike McCall.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth over blue and held an arrangement of blue and white flowers.

Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Rosie Lee Young and Mrs. Billie Kingston, sisters of the bride.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

Eben Warner staked a dam for construction on his ranch south of Lefors. He plans to construct eight dams and a cross-fence to distribute livestock grazing and control erosion.

Eben also plans to reseed approximately 400 acres of native grass. R. L. Pugh has started constructing a dam on his ranch south of Pampa.

Floyd Bull recently completed a dam on his ranch west of Lefors. Leslie Darsey is in the process of constructing three erosion control dams on his ranch north of Alanreed.

Les has done a lot of work to control water erosion. He has shaped and plugged several gullies so they could be established to native grass. This work is being done through the Great Plains Conservation Program.

TERRACES—Bill Crisp has constructed approximately four miles of terraces on his farm north of Alanreed. He plans to construct an additional five miles this fall. Bill plans to sprinkle irrigate the terraced land.

IRRIGATION — Paul Waggoner laid out an irrigation system on his farm south of Pampa. Alvin Reeves also laid out an irrigation system on his farm east of Pampa.

Many landowners are seriously considering development of irrigation in Gray County due to recent drought conditions. Assistance is available from the local Soil Conservation Service for laying out and designing irrigation systems.

Twelve cooperators of the Gray County SCD have received fish for stocking their farm and ranch ponds. Those wishing to stock their ponds in 1965 should contact Soil Conservation Service technicians or the county agent.

Up to 2,000 pounds of channel catfish per acre foot of water have been raised when properly managed. Ponds should be stocked in the spring at the rate of 2,000 to 3,000 catfish fingerlings per acre of water. In order to produce a good harvest of catfish, they should be fed six times a week. An approved formula: 15 lbs. fish meal (60% protein), 15 lbs. soybean oil meal (44% protein), 15 lbs. distillers dry solubles (24% protein). The feed should be pelleted. Pellet size should be 3/8 inch indiameter and one inch long. Feed five lbs. pellets per day for the first two months when stocked at the rate shown above. Increase daily feed amount by five pounds for each two months period following. Several large feed manufacturers are now offering packaged fish food in balanced formula.

Robert Rapstine has completed 6,300 feet of diversion terrace and a farm pond. Robert is carrying out a complete conservation plan under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

A pond was staked for R. L. Pugh on his ranch south of Pampa. An erosion control dam was staked for Leslie Darsey on his ranch north of Alanreed.

A field was staked for land leveling on the Turner Kirby farm east of Groom. Land leveling helps to get a better distribution of water.

Row direction for irrigation was laid out for the W. H. Ollingers on their farm east of Groom.

Boy Scout Troop 25 Enjoys Encampment Sunday and Monday

By CLIFFORD L. McPHERSON
Troop Reporter

The Boy Scout Troop 25 left the city hall at 1:30 (one-thirty) Sunday, July 26, for an encampment. We set up camp 15 miles north of town on the river. Sunday night we came in and attended the Baptist Church together.

From 9:30 (nine-thirty) until midnight we played games. We then had a small prayer meeting and went to bed.

Next day we worked on the requirements for our merit badges and ranks. We also learned to lash a tripod.

Mr. Booth took us on a field trip through some oil and gas leases and explained the operations. Clifford and Tom captured a ribbon snake and were offered as much as $1.00 for him. After that everyone wanted one!

Those attending, besides Scoutmaster James Booth, were: Tom Kesterson, Troy West, Roy King, Mike Wilcox, Clifford L. McPherson, Bob Ayres, Tommy Gipson, Henry Booth, Neal Middleton and Barry Marshall.

TO THE PEOPLE OF McLEAN

For several months the Gray County Junior College Committee has devoted a great amount of time and study to the proposed Junior College program. It is the opinion of the committee that a Junior College would be of great benefit to the area and would help strengthen the economy of Gray County.

The citizens of Gray County will have an opportunity to express their interest in a county Junior College on August 3, at which time a public hearing will be conducted by the State Board of Education in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn at 10:00 A. M. in Pampa.

We want to invite and urge all people of the McLean area to attend the hearing. The size of the delegation at the hearing might have a great impact on the outcome of the committee's recommendations. Therefore, we think it is most important that the room be filled with interested citizens of the County.

We suggest you mark your calendar and keep Monday morning, August 3, open for this hearing—then bring along your friends and neighbors and join with others in support of this worthwhile project.

Sincerely Yours,
E. L. HENDERSON, Chairman
Gray County Junior College Committee

JUNIOR HEREFORD FIELD DAY

A lot of work and planning is going into the Junior Hereford Field Day sponsored by Faris Hess. It will be held on Aug. 15. We delivered a large big top tent to the Hess Ranch last Tuesday.

We would like for all 4-H and FFA boys in the McLean vicinity to be on hand when we erect the tent. Call Jakey Hess or Joe Magee. Several tent poles are missing, plus a lot of other odds and ends. We hope to determine our needs next Tuesday and put the tent up on Friday, Aug. 14. What about some volunteers?

FOOTBALL FIELD

Jack Riley and Carl Dwyer are on this one. I'd go talk to one of them feverishly to get a good time this fall. Crab grass is creating some severe competition. They do an excellent stand of Bermuda grass. Earlier the field was sodded to Midland.

My honest opinion is that Midland has no place on a football field.

field, especially in this high altitude. I would also venture a forecast and say Midland will not succeed as a pasture grass either.

We have a number of plantings in the county that have proven very mediocre. Most any kind of grass given the same care would have produced much more.

It is expensive to get established. You can pay the expense of putting in an annual hybrid sudan-sorghum cross for several years for the expense of establishing Midland. We had five test plots in Armstrong County in 1968. Not a one of them is being grazed today. For two or three years these farmers were hoping next year would be a better year and each time they were disappointed.

Before I chased too many rabbits these fellows, I'll tell you who they are if you are interested. It is too high an altitude for Bermuda to do the job. There are some introduced grasses that have been a success.

My honest opinion is that Midland has no place on a football field.

At a great bargain, make a pause.

"Remember, children," father said, "when I was a boy I often went to bed hungry, and seldom had a square meal."

"Well, father," rejoined little Johnny, "that shows how much better off you are since you have known us."

Father shut his big mouth and finished his dinner without any further comment.
