Yarborough Urges McClellan Creek Project Approval

Senator Ralph W . Yarborough, D-Texas, testified in support of the McClellan Creek Watershed Project in Carson, Gray, Donley counties in Texas, saying the project is needed to protect the area from severe flooding. Senator Yarborough called upon the Senate Flood Control, Rivers, and Harbors Subcommittee to approve the McClellan Creek Watershed Project. The following is Senator Yarborough's testimony before the subcommittee:

"The need for the project is great. The people of these counties are subject to frequent and often severe flooding. This watershed project would be a significant benefit to the people of this area by protecting their land, crops, roads, and bridges. "McClellan Creek is a tribu tary of the North Fork of the Red River and is located in the Pahandle of Texas a n d i n cludes portions of Carson, Gray,

Paying Federal Estate Taxes

Most of us try over the perfod of our working years to accumulate some sort of an estate to pass on to our heirs. It is not surprising that there are a lot of our mature citizens who want to know how much federal estate tax will be owed on their life's accumulation. Due to the community property law in Texas you don't owe any Federal estate tax on community property unless the estate amounts to $120,000 or more ($60,000 for each spouse.) The rates are graduated above this amount. If you want to avoid paying a great deal of Federal estate tax there are a number of provisions in the law that allows you to pass a part or even all of your estate on to your heirs, tax free. If you need additional information Internal Revenue will be happy to explain the general rules.

WHEREVER WE LIVE

Harold assured Davie and Tommy that moving day did not mean the end of life for us. In fact, we were not going to the end of the earth. Many people would still be around us. Of course, not our same favorite people . . . whom we will keep on loving even though we don't see them . . . but new friends who would find places in our lives.

Our new neighbors opened their hearts to us. Our boys brought school friends home with them to play and sometimes to eat dinner.

Best of all, our family found a new church home — among people who welcomed us because they loved God. Anywhere we go in our country, there is always a church where we can worship with other people.

You, too, can find one wherever you move—and right where you are now.

It is in line with the overall

The religious camping experience offered by Panfork Baptist Encampment northeast of Wellington reached 768 boys and girls of the Eastern Panhandle and their sponsors during the three summer sessions. The last of these, the Junior Boys camp, ended Thursday, July 23.

The Youth camp, July 6 to 10, opened the series, and the Boys events were enlivened with drives to catch insects and other wildlife, with one youth bringing in a toad that measured 10 inches from nosetip to toe. Snakes were in the catch also.

At the close of the camp, directors met to plan the com-

Seedless Watermelon Try One

The eating is as good, but the fun that many small fry have of spitting seeds when eating watermelon, is missing from the seedless watermelon.

The melon has no seeds, but small seedcoats are present in the meat of the melon, Dr. J. E. Larsen, Texas A&M University Extension horticulturist, siad. The seedcoats look very much like a small immature cucumber seed, both in size and color, and are completely edible, he said.

"Most seedless watermelons, are of the Tri-X hybrid 313 variety and are dark green with faint, light green stripes." "The melon may occasionally have four or five mature seeds present in the meat, but this is rare.'

Seedless watermelons are generally sweeter than other mens, Dr. Larsen said, and urged consumers to try one.

Dr. Larsen noted that seedless watermelons should be harvested only in the full ripe stage as there is no after-ripening af ter the melon is harvested.

"The seedless watermelon also has a longer shelf life than do the seeded avrieties." Dr. Lamen said. LOOK FOR THESE BEST FOOD
