1972 McLean Rodeo Big Success

We must say good bye to these days for another year. Though those days are gone, excitement, the joy of riding and the agony of being will linger on through the hearts of all who were participants.

As usual, the 1972 edition of the McLean 66 Roundup rodeo was booming success. On the night under the rain threatening clouds cowboys and cowgirls from everywhere did their thing. Thursday evening when the colors were set the rodeo was underway.

One of the highlights of the evening was the crowning of the queen. Both finalist, Debbie Morris, and Betty Bailey waited anxiously. The new queen would be the one who sold more admission tickets. The title was bestowed upon Miss Debbie Morris, the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Big Morris, of McLean.

On the Friday night performance progressed everyone came more and more excited about the big parade which was to be Saturday. The parade, Saturday afternoon, was one of the best parades ever, so a couple of old-timers were quoted as saying, "made my way through the streets of McLean. This parade depicted special happiness and 'work-together art' which has never been portrayed in a McLean rodeo parade. There were contrasting ways of transportation, for instance, riding a bicycle, which was Illinoisan Annie Krookshank, Mrs. Helen Hill's sister's way of contributing to the celebration.

The Saturday night show was one who had worked so hard and waited for the outcome of the judge's decision on the trophy. The VFW chapter of McLean was awarded second and a Pampa Rodeo Club was placed at third.

Ted Simmons Chevrolet was the setting of the money-making job. Each cowboy probably more concerned about this than any thing at the time. In the bareback riding, 1st-Rex Rash, 2nd-Speck & Red Doyce and 3rd-Frank Hunter.

Rodeo Parade Best Held In Years

The McLean 66 Roundup Rodeo ended Saturday, highlighted by a colorful parade and a capacity crowd at the final performance.

The Saturday afternoon parade included several floats fire trucks, bicyclists, and of course, many local cowboys and cowgirls. State Rep. Tom Christian, Republican from Claude, was in the parade and attended the 8:30 rodeo show. Newsmen from KGNC-TV in Amarillo also were present.

Parade trophy winners were: first place--McLean Hospital Auxiliary float; second place--McLean VFW float; third place--Coronado Drillettes, a Pampa riding club.

In the bicycle division, Rhonda Woods won first place, Carey Don Smith won second place and Stacie Smith won third place.

The 1972 Rodeo was successful at the gate, with good crowds Thursday and Friday and an excellent one Saturday night. The rodeo announcer jokingly observed Saturday that, "Every cow in Gray County could be stolen tonight because everybody's at the rodeo." The rain traditionally associated with McLean's rodeo failed to show up for any of this year's performances.

George Terry and J. Boyd Smith of the parade committee expressed their thanks to the following parade participants:

Texas DPS patrol car; Rev. Herman Bell and Rev. Robert Brown, colorbearers; McLean Area Ambulance; "George Wallace" (Scott Raines) and nurse (Kathy Raines); all bicyclists; all motorcyclists; Rufe Jordan, Gray County Sheriff; Jimmy Shelton, deputy sheriff; McLean Fire Dept.; Cliff Campbell, rodeo producer from Wellington; Bob Sherrod Rodeo Association president; the Coronado Drillettes; State Rep. Tom Christian; Ted Simmons El Camine; all horsemen; Howard Williams; VFW float; Eugene Hesse; Britt Hathaway float; Hospital Auxiliary float; Methodist float; and the GA's (Baptist girls). Terry and Smith also thank anyone who might have been omitted from the list.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Fitzpatrick, Rusty and Jim Hays from O'Fallon, Mo., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Day.

the being the eldest person present.

Officers elected for 1973 were Mr. Bill Crisp of Alanreed, president; Mr. Harvey Craig of Lubbock, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Smith, secretary and treasurer.

Benediction and grace was given by Forest Carter.

The rest of the day was spent in enjoying the usual good lunch and visiting. Diane Gibson and Gail Rhode registered around 200 guests attending from Texas, Oklahoma, Washington, California, Arkansas, and Virginia.

Don't Blame Big Game

"That herd of antelopes has to go," declared the late Panhandle rancher.

"They've infected my cattle with disease, and I won't sacrifice my cows for the sake of wildlife."

Angry landowners have confronted Parks and Wildlife biologists in the past with fears that wildlife will transmit disease to their livestock.

The June issue of Texas Park and Wildlife biologists disclaims this belief.

A 10-year study, according to the magazine, shows that antelope, suadad sheep and white-tailed deer aren't guilty of infecting Panhandle livestock with such diseases as leptospirosis and brucellosis.

Exhaustive studies of antelope, white-tailed deer and suadad proved that the wildlife were free of the diseases.

Conclusions of the study indicated that Panhandle livestock probably contacted the diseases from a variety of sources including a local water supplies and insects.

Parks and Wildlife biologists feel that the research saved hundreds of antelope and other game from annihilation.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"You Dirty Crook!"

Baseball umpires and football referees take it in stride. But there are times when the cry "You dirty crook!"—or words to that effect—can amount to slander. How the courts look upon such outbursts tells a great deal about the law of defamation of character.

Take this case: During an argument at a golf course, one player called another "a lousy crook." The latter filed suit for slander, charging that the epithet had branded him as a common criminal.

But the court disagreed. At least in this situation, said the court, the words were no more than generalized bluster.

Oliver Wendell Holmes once expressed the law's attitude as follows:

"A word is not a crystal, transparent and unchanged; it is the skin of a living thought, and may vary greatly in color and content according to the circumstances and the time in which it is used."

Accordingly, another court found it was indeed defamatory for a jeweller to say of a rival jeweller that he was "a crook mixed up in some crooked deals."

This time the comment, made during a business conference, was clearly meant to be taken literally.

Even in a non-business setting, this kind of language may be defamatory. At a club meeting, one of the members denounced the club president as "a cheat and a fraud." In short order, the president filed suit for slander.

In a court hearing he pointed out that the remark had been made not merely as a general insult but as a specific comment on his performance in office. The court decided that, since the office was one of trust and honor, the words were weighty enough to support a suit.

"Those words," said the judge, "cannot but impair confidence in (the president's) ability to hold the office."

MRS. JAY BEN MCMILLEN

Leslie Schubert and Jay Ben McMillen Exchange Vows In New Mexico

Mrs. Leslie Ann Schubert of Hobbs, New Mexico became the bride of Jay Ben McMillen of San Marcos at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 3 in the Grace Lutheran Church at Hobbs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Schubert of Hobbs. Parents of the bride-groom are Mrs. Robert McMillen and the late Mr. McMillen of Lakeview and former residents of Alanreed.

Rev. Robert G. Letallen, performed the double-ring communion service.

Elmer Kiekhaefer of Hobbs, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Richard J. Downey on the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white silk organza peau and re-embroidered Alencon lace, designed along princess lined silhouette and with a detachable chapel train. The sculptured bodice and ring collar were overlaid with imported lace which extended over the sheer organza shoulder line to form the scalloped caps of the Dresden sleeves. Chapel length veil of imported illusion was applied with matching Alencon lace motifs and attached to a lace covered Camelot hatlet. Bridal bouquet was a formal cascade of white glamelias blossoms arranged against a background of English ivy garlands and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Jennifer Leigh Schubert, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Barnard, Hobbs, and Miss Janie Tompkin, Andrews

The wore formal gowns of hand-screened printed stripe voile in shades of green on white, featuring a belted waist-line and white chiffon sleeves shirred above the elbow for a Victorian effect.

Each carried a large white silk rose centered in a cascade of English ivy and baby's breath. Head dresses were crowns of English ivy garlands.

Serving as best man was Gary Phillips, Hereford; Groomsmen were Ronald McIlroy and Robert Daniel both of Lubbock. Ushers were Charles Schubert brother of the bride of Hobbs.

Holiday Inn was the setting for the reception held following the ceremony. The couple will make their home in San Marcos.

The bride is a graduate of Hobbs High School, Pre-nursing student at Texas Tech and will continue her education at Southwest Texas State, San Marcos.

The groom is a graduate of McLean High School, a May graduate of Texas Tech and is now employed as Horticulturist at Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

"Leadership is hell." That quote from a political leader came to mind during the 64th annual National Governor's Conference in Houston last week.

It's darned tough to serve as a public official these days.

Not just for presidents, vice presidents and candidates for presidents have their lives threatened--but governors and candidates for governor face physical threats these hectic days in America's political history.

This fact was brought to mind by the extremely tight security measures at the host hotel for the National Conference for state chief executives.

Security police, Texas Rangers, and state patrolment almost outnumbered the governors, aides, newsmen, and guests who were allowed to observe the proceedings at the important annual function of state heads of government.

Mrs. George Wallace, wife of the Alabama Governor, had six security men surrounding her when she moved around the corridors of the hotel.

When Vice President Spiro Agnew arrived, Secret Service men were all over the place. Even the hotel employees wore photo ident badges--reminiscent of defense plant and Navy installation days of World War II. We heard no complaints except from one elderly hotel janitor who kept picking up walky-talky conversations between the security police on his hearing aid.

The three-day program of the state's chief executive was an "economic war" of sorts.

Principal topics of the conference revealed that financial problems are their top concerns--as they reviewed revenue sharing with the Federal government, financing of elementary and secondary education and funding the "war" against crime and drugs.

Host Governor Preston Smith and his staff and a hospitable Houston made the serious problems easier to study with a well-rounded entertainment program for the governors, their families and staffs. An outdoor pool-side Texas western party, (appropriately by the world's largest swimming pool, according to the hotel staff), an excellent transportation organization delivering guests to all Houston entertainment and tourist facilities--and a formal ball with Duke Ellington's Orchestra complete the lighter side of the serious meet.

Other important topics of interest to Texans covered at the Conference were: diversification of industry to rural areas, a resolution requesting the appointment of a farmer as next Secretary of Agriculture of the United States; a NASA economic impact report for the state and the role of the states in national growth patterns.

National political intrigue made the Conference more interesting with visits from Sen. George McGovern and Sen. Hubert Humphrey--and the appearance of Mrs. Wallace.

SPECIAL SESSION MEETS-- The Legislature convened in special sessions at midweek under lame duck leadership in both houses and the governor's office.

Gov. Preston Smith, defeated in his bid for re-election, pledged to offer a 1973 budget which would require no new taxes and, indeed, to allow no consideration of taxation.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, also defeated for governor, said Smith should show lawmakers how he proposes to trim appropriations.

House Speaker Rayford Price was defeated in his home district, as was Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio, chairman of the budget-writing House appropriations committee.

Legislative Budget Board--which includes Barnes, Price and Fink among its members--calculated that even a "tight" 1973 budget would require $89, 2 million in new revenue.

After a day-long session, the board concluded its staff would just have to get together with Smith and see what he had on his mind.

The LBB staff-drawn budget called for $828, 2 million in spending during the next fiscal year--or $89, 2 million less than the revenue forecast.

Virtually certain to land on the special session agenda is new state officials' code or ethics legislation. Barnes said he will press for such a bill, and a House committee prepared its own version.

LEGISLATURE ALTERED-- Primary elections assured a drastic shakeup among rank and file members of the legislature as well as the top leadership.

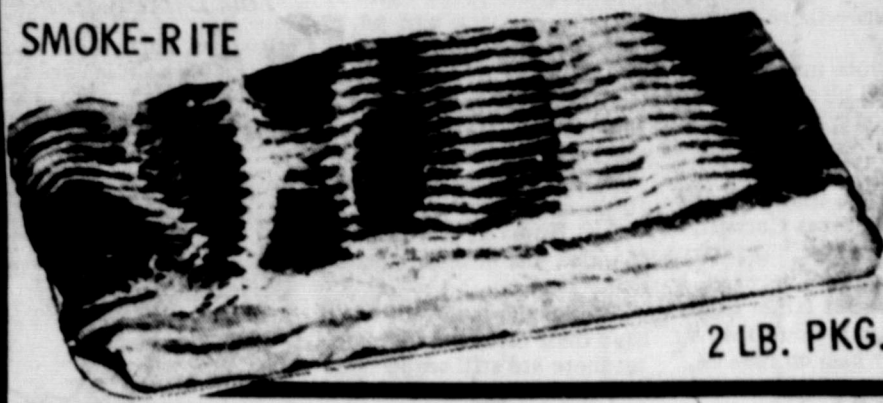

There will be at least 76 new members in the House of Representatives--a majority. The turnover rate is the highest since 1953 when 88 freshmen representatives took office. The November general elections may remove a few more of the incumbents, and no more than 74 percent House members are assured of returning.

Former House Speaker Gus Mutcher was among the veteran incumbents defeated.

Defeat of Price in the house set off another scramble for speaker. Re. Price Daniel of Liberty claimed he already had the job racked up with 89 to 100 votes. Rep. Frank Calhoun of Abilene challenged him last week, expressed doubt that Daniel had anywhere near a majority and said he will begin his own campaign with about 50 dependable votes.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, Bullock advocated future primary elections be held and financed through county clerks offices, with single polling places serving both major parties.

Such a system, said Bullock, would reduce primary costs by at least a third and increase efficiency. Bullock said he distributed $1.6 million to Democratic committees and $396,709 to Republican groups to pay the bulk of local primary costs. AG OPINIONS-- A person can serve as a state Parks and Wildlife Commissioner and school district trustee at the same time but can't draw any type of compensation, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: Texas Water Quality Board may distribute "clean water" bumper stickers.

Texas Tourist Development Agency may draw vouchers favoring the Confederate Air Force, Lower Rio Grande Valley and McAllen Chambers of Commerce for advertising and promotion.

Shell redeposited on bay floors as pads for drilling barges can be removed only on permit.

County employees cannot buy with county funds goods from a store owned by a county commissioner.

Real property lost to tax judgment can be purchased by the owner at a Sheriff's sale at its adjudged value although this is for an amount less than the full judgment. The judgment may be enforced for the balance against the tax debtor.

Weekly Market Report

"To put the lid on soaring summer prices, inspect local food markets this week for economical buys," advised Gwen Dolyne Clyatt, Houston consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In beef sections, consider ground beef, frankfurters, spare ribs, steaks and roasts for outdoor cookouts. Many markets feature hams of all types and also offer luncheon meats as good choices for the picnic season.

as thrifty meat and protein buys," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Despite larger supplies, demand for fryers will likely remain strong. Specials on the birds continue to offer real bargains, any price rises won't be great enough to knock them off the low-cost list."

According to the Texas A&M University employee, the 1972 turkey crop climbs five per cent larger than last year, with cold storage stocks of the birds also numbering more this year.

"This adds up to economical turkey buys with numerous sales," she said. "Join the trend to year-round consumption of the hearty birds."

Fresh fruit markets have tagged watermelon with attractive prices as supplies increase considerably. Texas-grown honeydew melons, with extra good flavor, also boast moderate to low prices. Large red plums, peaches, Bing cherries and seedless grapes stock the market but have not yet passed into the economy class.

Also cabbage, carrots, tomatoes, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions.

School Textbooks To Be Selected

The following procedure is set forth by the State Department for the selection of textbooks by the local schools.

A list of books which publishers intend to offer for adoption in November, 1972. The commissioner of Education requests that this list be given publicity and kept available for public inspection and review.

The Textbook Committee will make its recommendations from the list on October 11. The responsibility for giving final approval to the State Textbook Committee's recommendation rests with the Commissioners of Education and the State Board of Education. A list of books recommended by the Committee will be mailed to you on November 21.

Textbooks adopted from the list will become available for distribution to Texas school children for the school year beginning September 1, 1973. Local school officials may choose one or more of the textbooks adopted for each subject, which means that final decision as to the specific texts that will be used in each school system will be made by local selection committees and local boards.

This list of textbooks that the public may inspect and review is on file in the McLean J.S.D. Business Office, which is located in the Elementary School. The public is invited and welcome to look at the list week days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Oil And Gas Production

Net $35,028,739

Sale of Gray County Oil and Gas production accounted for $35,028,739 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a Study by Texas MidContinent Oil & Gas Assn.

In producing 6,813,892 barrels of crude oil and 72.7 billion cu. ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 46th in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $23,984,900; natural gas value was $11,043,839.

The county is among 190 Texas counties with oil and production value topping $100,000, although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Gray County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced," Robert A. Buschman, association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

The Association study showed that Gray County farmers, ranchers, and other royalty owners received $4,378,592 as their share of the production.

The county's wells generated $1,103,305 in crude oil production taxes for state government and $328,288 in state taxes on natural gas. Oil and gas producers spent $2,561,307 in drilling 31 wells in the county last year, $804,916 of which was lost in drilling 7 dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures showed 1,673 oil and gas industry employees in the county last year, with an annual payroll of $16,536,824.

Processing plants also added

Oil and Gas Journal lists one carbon black plant, one petrochemical plant, and seven natural gasoline plants with a daily combined capacity of 260 million cu. ft.

MISCELLANEOUS

Mind you, it was not just torture from insecticides, pesticides, dusts etc; that were sprayed into my living quarter from underneath. The place under there was a sort of club room. All the best people congregated there. It seemed to me they did not try to be quiet, they wanted me to hear them. They scraped their backs against the floor,
 kicked it with their heels,
 made rhythmic taps on the gas or water pipes. If they wanted to hammer something they did so. Once they built a short wall of concrete about ten feet long, so that if I went under there, they could run before I could crawl the length required to catch them. They built fires under my house, filed pipes in two, and I am sure they often served refreshments-such as navy beans, and coffee.

A friend loaned me a dicta-phone. I had thought to use it in my writing. One night it occurred to me that the machine might record the noises under my home. Without much hope of success, I set the dictaphone on the concrete floor of the back porch over the spot from whence was coming the most activities. Voices! At first few sentences was intelligible.
 Then a new voice, came in
 as if he had been running.
 "Listen Kidal" Listen, she's got a box--something and it's right over us."

Then went right on with their construction work.

I set the machine on the bare floor in the living room.
 And there came back to me
 a familiar voice, saying:
 "-- and he hasn't done a damned thing. Not a damned thing.

Practically no one would have anything to do with me.
 I was a naughty woman. The dictaphone probably saved me
 my sanity. (To be continued)

SET-ASIDE ACRES

Producers are reminded that set-aside acres must not be grazed between May 15 and October 15. The only exception to this is to those producer who obtained prior approval to graze until June 14 due to drought and authorized reduction in payment on their final payments. This approval ends on June 14. Be sure you to graze set-aside after that date.
 Producers are again reminded that the acreage designated for set-aside must be of average productivity to the land on which the crop is planted.

If lower productivity land is designated, reduction will be made in the payment. Be sure to have the correct acreage before using the rest of your land for crops and than discovering you do not have enough set-aside acres that will not qualify. Please remember that turn-rows, lakes, and small areas cannot be used for set-aside acreage.
REPORT FEED GRAIN AND COTTON ACRES WHEN PLANTED

Final payments will begin after July 1. However, your payment cannot be made until you have made your final certification. If your farm is in the feed grain and cotton program, the papers cannot be sent in for payment until you have reported grain sorghum and cotton. A report must be made even if your did not plant any acres. The crop must be plant before the acreage can be reported- but you are encouraged to report
 when you have finished planting so your payment can be made earlier.
REAP SIGN-UP

The sign-up period for practices to be carried out in July, August and September is the first week in July through July 7. Some funds are still available for practices that will be carried out in June during this quarter allocation.
STATISTICAL REPORTING SERVICE SURVEY

 mining harvest acres and production for the state and county. Reports are needed so the county will be well represented and you are encouraged to fill out your questionnaire and return it if you receive one.
