McCLELLAN CREEK WATERSHED RESULTS OF MANY PEOPLE

By LYNN McDANIEL

The Gray County Soil and Water Conservation Districts have been working since 1967 to get a Watershed project started on the McClellan Creek Watershed. The Soil and Water Conservation District asked the commissioners court of Gray and Carson Counties to co-sponsor the project. These have agreed to co-sponsor the watershed along with Gray County and McClellan Creek Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

The nine years of work are beginning to get results. The watershed planning party is now located in McLean and has begun work in securing information to assist the sponsors in developing their work plan on McClellan Creek.

The watershed party will be working over the entire watershed area. If you see these people, assist them in any way you can. There will also be economists working the area to assess the damages that have occurred to see if the project is a feasible project.

Probably many persons will see stakes along the creek. These stakes are locations where the planning party is collecting cross-sectional information on the creek for information on the capacity of the creek. The locations of these stakes does not mean that there will be a dam located at this location. These are reference stakes and are not stakes for the dams.

Three men will be located in Mc-

Lean permanently. Several other men will be working on the watershed at different times. These men will also be working on three other watersheds.

This watershed when completed will be a big asset to the towns of McLean, Groom and Pampa.

THREE HELD IN STATION BURGLARY

Three young suspects from Michigan were being held in Gray County jail Tuesday in connection with the burglary this past weekend of O. T. Rose's service station in McLean.

Donny Lee Atkinson, 18; Sheldon Lee Myers, 22; and Syd V. Talma, 18, were apprehended at Amarillo at 6:30 Monday evening by Amarillo city police.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said that about $21 was taken from a cigarette machine at the station and a .25 caliber pistol. When apprehended, Jordan said the suspects were driving an automobile taken from McLean.

The trio, all from Jackson in southern Michigan, were returned to Pampa from Amarillo by Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Shelton of McLean and Texas Ranger Bill Baten of Pampa.

School Enumeration Now Being Taken

The annual school census for McLean is now underway with Mrs. Carl R. Baker as enumerator.

This census includes all school-age children and those who will be starting next school year. Parents of children who will be 6 years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1966, are asked to contact Mrs. Baker if she has not already contacted them, so that their future first graders may be counted.

The census is to be completed by Feb. 1, and school administrators say it is important that all school children be enumerated. Mrs. Baker may be called at GR 9-2528.

Second Lt. Jerry W. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Sanders, McLean, completed a combat platoon leader course at the Army Infantry School, Fort Benning Ga., Jan. 21.

During the nine-week course, Lt. Sanders received advanced instruction in leadership, tactics of small infantry units, map and aerial photograph reading and Army administrative procedures.

LIONS PUSH FOR 100 PER CENT POLL TAX

The McLean Lions Club will set up a booth in downtown McLean Saturday, Jan. 29, for the purpose of collecting poll taxes. All who have not already paid their poll tax are urged to do so by Jan. 31.

Anyone who is unable to come to town, but would like to purchase a poll tax, may call any member of the Lions Club, and they will bring the necessary papers to your house.

On Monday, Jan. 31, the local men's club will participate in a house to house march to remind each eligible voter in McLean that Jan. 31 is the deadline to secure a poll tax, which insures Texans the right to vote in the upcoming political elections.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX!

Many persons are under the impression that the Texas poll tax will be ruled out by the federal courts, but this will be impossible before the May 7 primary elections.

Without a certificate that the tax has been paid, or an exemption in the case of first time or elderly voters, citizens will not have a voice in the local or state elections.

Leaders of both major political parties have urged Texans to pay the poll tax by the Jan. 31 deadline in order to make sure they are eligible to vote in all elections this year.

In McLean, voters may pay their poll tax to Mrs. Ruby Cousins at City Hall.

Brinson Named As Pampa Band Head

Harris Brinson has been named as the new Harvester Band and music director for Pampa schools, according to Jack Edmondson, school superintendent.

Brinson, who is now in his second year as band director at Pampa Junior High is married to the former Dorothy Pagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miro Pagan of McLean.

He will replace Harvester band director, Fred Stockdale, who has resigned to take an industry position in Oklahoma City. He assumed his new duties Monday.

In addition to the school responsibilities he inherits from Stockdale, Brinson also will take over Stockdale's responsibilities in connection with the upcoming Doc Severinsen Stage Band Contest scheduled Feb. 1.

Brinson received a bachelor's degree in music education from West Texas State. While there he was drum major and student conductor.

He has also studied at Texas Christian University.

After college, he served with the U. S. Army as a first lieutenant in the 1st Infantry Division. He served a year in Europe with the division.

Brinson, his wife, Dorothy, and their two children, Jennifer Marie and Zachary Wayne, reside at 1820 N. Wells, Pampa.

'Tops' In Basketball Play Tonight At Gym

The local Lions Club will sponsor the Bucket Brigade in downtown McLean all day Saturday, Jan. 29. The Boy Scouts will assist the Lions Club in one of the big money making activities of the drive.

Thursday night, Jan. 27, the McLean Lions Club will take on the school faculty in a basketball game which will no doubt be one of the highlights of the season. Harvey Taylor and Guy Hester will referee the game.

Everyone is invited to come out and watch their favorite team in action, with all proceeds received to go into the March of Dimes fund. Admission prices will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

The Mothers March, sponsored by the McLean PTO, scheduled for Friday, Jan. 28, has been called off indefinitely.

The following article was submitted for publication by the McLean school faculty and Lions Club:

Thursday, Jan. 27, at 7:30 p.m., the school faculty and the Lions Club will play a benefit basketball game for the March of Dimes.

Since this game is for a worthy cause, we do not want to pressure anyone. However, due to lack of participation in the past, we do feel some stipulations should be placed on the game. All men teachers who do not participate in the game and all women teachers who are not present at the game to form a pep squad for the faculty team will forfeit one month's pay.

All Lions Club members who do not participate in the game will be heavily fined. Last, but not least, all students who do not attend the game will definitely fail for the year.

As previously stated, we do not want to pressure anyone. We simply want to insure participation and attendance.

Sincerely
Sammy Haynes, School Board President
Joe Burroughs, Lions Club President

Certainly this letter is merely a jest. Let's all come out Thursday night and support the March of Dimes. We are sure that all of you students will want to see the dribbling duel of John Cecil (Meadow Lark) Haynes and Herb (Marcus Haynes) Germer. We will be looking forward to seeing you at the game Thursday night.

Letter Received In Thanks for School's Christmas Project

Students of McLean Elementary School collected 420 bars of soap the first week in December, to send to Vietnam. The shipment of soap was part of the Christmas Star Program, and was sent by plane from the Amarillo Air Force Base to Vietnam.

Mrs. Vera Back, English teacher in McLean, received the following letter:

To All Participants of Project Christmas Star:

On behalf of the people, the District Chief, and the American advisors of the Phu Cat District, Binh Dinh Province, I wish to thank everyone for their contributions to Project Christmas Star. The parcels were delivered to our advisory team and we in turn, distributed the contents to the refugees and the needy people of Phu Cat District on Christmas Day.

At present there are over 16,000 refugees in the district who have fled Viet Cong dominated areas to live under friendly protection. In addition, there are many widows and orphans who have lost their loved ones through Viet Cong hostilities. Their daily rations are very meager and they suffer constantly from lack of adequate clothing and housing. Your contributions have helped immensely in raising their morale and improving their lot. Thanks again from all of us.

Sincerely,
D. C. DeMio, Major
Phu Cat District Advisor

RABIES ON UPSWING

A renewed emphasis by state health authorities is being placed on a final vaccination against rabies after a definite upswing in this virus disease has been noted since early fall.

Dr. J. E. Pravy, state commissioner of health, said there is definitely an increase in animal rabies cases in many parts of Texas since September. And in the first week of the new year at least 12 cases have been confirmed by the state health laboratory.

The confirmation came from animal head autopsies performed on dogs, livestock and some wildlife.

The number of cases back in the fall reached four or five, but the figure jumped to 12 in November and 27 through Dec. 25. No single area of the state has been cited as leading the statistics, since the increase appears to be state-wide.

In the light of this, health authorities are stressing renewed animal rabies control programs at city and county levels of enforcement to protect the human population against having to take treatment or dying from the infection.

State health officials emphasize that a complete continuing rabies control program must include these phases: (1) Public education regarding the seriousness of rabies exposure and the relative ease with which rabies can be controlled in the animal population through concerted effort; (2) vaccination of all owned dogs and cats; (3) pickup and elimination of all stray dogs and cats; and (4) wildlife control procedures in the county areas and the eradication of those in cities and their fringe areas.

Registration Began Last Monday At Clarendon College

Registration at Clarendon College began at 9 a.m. Monday, Jan. 24, and will continue through Tuesday, Feb. 8. Classes began at 8:30 a.m. on Jan. 25.

In light of the increased enrollment last fall, the registrar's office is anticipating a large number of new students for the spring semester. More part-time jobs will be available under the expanded College Work-Study Program and car contracts are still available for commuting students. These two financial aids, added to the low enrollment cost at the small West Texas junior college help to explain why so many students are taking advantage of the two-year basic program which it offers—courses which transfer readily to any other college and which offer a solid foundation or future work. Any student who plans to enter Clarendon College for the first time should contact the registrar's office immediately for registration information.

Low Cost Windbreak Planting Stock Now Available

Texas farmers and ranchers can get low cost tree and shrub planting stock to set out as windbreaks, according to Bill Smith, extension forester, Texas A and M University.

Seventeen species of trees and shrubs are available from the Texas Forest Service at a delivered cost of $1.50 a hundred, plus sales tax. The plants will be shipped to landowners beginning in mid-February.

Application forms for ordering the trees are available from offices of local county agents.

The trees and shrubs can be used for windbreak, soil stabilization or Christmas tree plantings, but can't be used for shade or ornamental purposes. Orders for the trees must be in multiples of 50, and orders for less than 100 plants cannot be accepted.

Some of the planting stock available includes black walnut, catalpa, mulberry, bois d'arc, loblolly pine, red cedar, sycamore and euonymus.

Seeding orders will be packed in moss and moisture proof paper and shipped prepaid direct to the purchaser, said Smith.

In addition to the windbreak application form, a guide sheet for setting the stock out is available at the county agent's office.

College students home for between semesters were Larry Williams, Linda Tisdall, Gene Bench, Judy Going, Wayne Morris, Jim McCarty, Ernie McCracken, Mikki Green, Stanley Channell, Eddy Windom, Eileen Beltz and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson.

21 Rural Accidents Reported To Highway Dept. in December

Memories of 1965 are slipping quietly away for most people, but for those maimed in automobile accident and the families of others who were killed during the year, 1965 will be remembered always with dread and sorrow.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 21 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of December, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the calendar year of 1965 shows a total of 203 crashes resulting in seven persons killed, 158 injured, and an estimated property damage of $138,002.

Six of the 31 counties in the THP's Amarillo district had no traffic fatalities in 1965. These were Briscoe, Donley, Foard, Hansford, Lipscomb and Sherman—but 90 persons were injured and property damage reached $156,448 in automobile accidents in those counties during the year.

It is estimated when the final results are tabulated, we will find that less people were killed in Texas traffic accidents during 1965 than in 1964, the sergeant stated. The final count is expected to be about three per cent less than the 1964 all-time high of 3,006 traffic deaths.

The patrol supervisor reminded all motorists to think about reducing the deaths even more in 1966 than in 1965. This reduction can be brought about by strict observance of traffic laws and defensive driving practices. Remember, every time you drive you have a motive, that is, drive to live.

Persons Over 65 Should Enroll Now For Medicare

People 65 and over need to be reminded they do not have much longer to enroll in the Medicare program under social security, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

The enrollment period began Sept. 1, 1965, and will end March 31, 1966. Persons who were 65 or older in 1965, must sign up during this enrollment period if they want the supplemental medical insurance.

People who are receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits have received their enrollment cards by mail. Persons receiving old-age assistance benefits from the Texas Department of Public Welfare will be contacted by their welfare office. Others who have not signed up for either of these benefits should contact their Amarillo social security office now for assistance in enrolling.

This includes all persons 65 or older who may still be working and earning too much for them to receive monthly payments as well as those who are 65 or older and who have not worked under social monthly payments.

"Remember," Geldon said, "the enrollment period is limited. Get in touch with your Amarillo Social Security office for more detail about this new health insurance program. Do it today!"

Game Birds Need Weeds

Weeds hold a special lure for upland game birds. Although tradition considers weeds worse than worthless, they actually are of great value to game birds.

Quail are especially sensitive to food conditions and weather. Tall stands of weeds provide food and shelter.

Quail depend upon weed seeds for the bulk of their diet during the winter months when insects and growing plants are scarce.

Farmers can be of service by leaving the edges of their fields, fence rows and brush belts weed-covered during the year.

Weeds actually spell the difference between life and death for the High Plains upland game birds.

Comment from the Capital — THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER: CASUALTY IN THE WAR ON POVERTY

by Vant Neff

The War on Poverty is a noble idea. For almost two years the program has used vast amounts of the taxpayer's money. Has this money been used nobly? Let's examine the available record and see for ourselves.

New York City's War on Poverty is a good subject for review. A recent investigation of War on Poverty expenditures in Harlem has brought much material to light. Maybe New York will show how Federal money is handled in the War on Poverty across the nation.

New York's version of the War on Poverty, Haryou-Act, has a large staff. It is just as true of War on Poverty facilities throughout the country. For instance, one Job Corps training center in Kentucky has 500 staff members and only 308 students. In addition, a recent study showed that the wives of 51 of the camp's employees were on the payroll. Another Job Corps camp, in Indiana, has more employees than students. But, to get back to Harlem, the Haryou-Act staff is well paid. In fact, the monthly payroll comes to $500,000. That's $6 million a year!

So much for salaries. Let's examine other expenses. During its first eighteen months of operation, $800,000 "evaporated" from Haryou-Act's coffers. That is, no one can tell where it went. There are no vouchers, no receipts, no nothing. (This fact came out only after the Government seized the books of Haryou-Act. Previously, Haryou-Act's director had frequently refused to let government investigators see his records. Now that the cat is out of the bag, the director barefacedly claims that there was no "mismanagement" of funds . . . even though he can't say how the money was spent.)

There's a strange inconsistency here. The Federal Government requires you and me to account for our income and expenses in detail on our income tax reports. Businessmen must explain such small items as taxi rides, lunches, and tips in reporting on their expense accounts to the Internal Revenue Service. Yet, here's a Federal official who plays fast and loose with close to a million dollars of your money and mine, and so far has got by with a simple "I don't know where it went!"

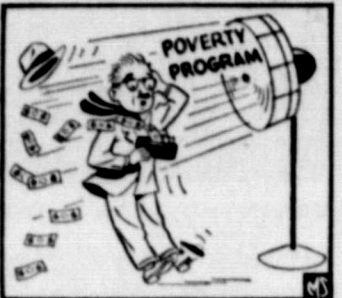

Now that we've looked at salaries and other "expenses," let's take note of one example of how the poor get money from Haryou-Act.

Here's how one "crash program" got started. According to Haryou-Act's director, several hundred Harlem youths threatened him with a riot. They'd turn New York City into a bloodbath . . . "make Watts look like a tea party." (Thirty-three people were killed, and over 1000 injured, in the Watts "tea party.") What would a competent, balanced individual do in a similar situation? He'd pick up the phone and call the police. Hoodlums are a police matter. However, instead of doing the normal thing, Haryou-Act's director borrowed $400,000 from a bank. This money he used to set up "blind alley jobs" to appease the young extortionists, by "blind alley jobs" he meant jobs that didn't improve the youngsters' skills, but merely put money in their pockets!

That's the ignoble way money is being used in the noble War on Poverty. The "stiffs" are well paid. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are disappearing . . . nobody wants to say where, or cares. And taxpayers' money is being used to buy civil obedience from juvenile delinquents at the rate of about $1000 per kid!

Two questions loom up: Who is responsible for this Harlem mess . . . and how did he get his job?

Livingston Wingate, the director of Haryou-Act, is responsible. How did he get his job? Very simple . . . he "knew somebody." And that "somebody" is the powerful political boss of Harlem, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell. (He's the lawmaker who put his wife on the Federal payroll to the tune of $18,900 although she spends most of her time in Puerto Rico. He's the minister who has had so much fun spending Federal money on foreign junkets that Congress had to confine his trips to the U.S. Recently a New York State Supreme Court judge described him as a man "not to be believed or trusted" because he "used every trick and device in the book to flout the law.") His honor refers to Powell's efforts to avoid paying a fine imposed on him in 1963 for slandering a woman. The fine still isn't paid in full.

Few favored Wingate for the job. Even the ultra-liberal writers on the New York Times were against his appointment. But Wingate got the job because Powell "influenced" the House Committee that controls War on Poverty funds.

Apparently War on Poverty appointments are based more on "who you know" than high qualifications and sterling character. Even Black Muslims, members of the sect that has sworn to destroy the white man, are on the staff of Haryou-Act!

The point is, the bright promise of the War on Poverty is being tarnished by the dirty, or inept, hands to which it has been entrusted. Money—staggering amounts of it—is being lost, mishandled, or put to questionable use. The reason is simple: The War on Poverty is becoming the expensive plaything of politicians, professional "bleeding hearts," and unqualified administrators. (The "bleeding hearts" are just as dangerous as the unscrupulous. Recent reports have shown that one Job Corps camp was completely undisciplined . . . gangs of thugs terrorized the serious students. A staff member reported that the mess grew out of the director's "bleeding heart" philosophy: "Spoil these boys . . . they've never been spoiled before" . . . was his diatribe.)

The cure is equally simple: 1. Get the political parasites, the dreamers, and the hacks out of the program. 2. Put down in black and white what specific purposes Federal money is to be used for, exactly how much, and require precise accounting. Unless the cure is applied, the War on Poverty may end up wasting vast sums of the taxpayers' money without accomplishing any useful social purpose. After all, if it cost us $400,000 to quell a few hundred kids in Harlem, how much will it cost to appease similar threats across the country next year . . . ten years hence?

Up to now the Government has taken only stop-gap measures. For example, Wingate was finally asked to take a leave of absence without pay. But are stop-gap measures enough? Or should the program be stringently revised? Or, scrapped entirely? The Federal Government is already spending billions of dollars more than is taken in. How long can waste and profligacy be tolerated?

Fortunately, the People still have a voice in the United States Government . . . and a stream of mail to Washington could bring action. Tell your Congressman your opinion. After all, the War on Poverty is wasting your money!

Jim Morris Chosen Pampa Man of Year

Jim Morris, former McLean resident, was recognized last week as the Outstanding Young Man in Pampa for 1965.

Morris presently is chief clerk for Southwestern Public Service Co. in Pampa, a position he assumed after resigning as manager of the McLean office of the company.

Morris, a native of McLean, was described as a "self-made man" by E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, who was a member of the committee who made the selection.

Wedgworth, in introducing Morris, said, "When Jim was 11 years old, his father, a Southwestern Public Service employee in McLean, died. At the age of 12, Jim went to work in an ice plant to help meet family expenses."

He was quite active in McLean High School, where he was president of his senior class and voted "Most Popular Boy." He starred on the football team, where he earned the nickname, "Moose."

After graduating from high school, Morris went to work for Southwestern Public Service in Amarillo. He advanced quickly, becoming the youngest employee of the company to gain a full journeyman's rating.

Transferred to McLean as service man in 1951, he was named manager of the McLean office, a position he held for five years.

During his service with Southwestern in McLean, Morris developed his interest in public and civic affairs. He was president of three McLean organizations—the Lions Club, Jaycees and Ex-Student Association. One year he was named Lion of the Year.

Morris continued his civic activities after moving to Pampa. He is a director of the Board of Realtors and the Lions Club. He has been active in Chamber of Commerce, United Fund and Boy Scout work. He is also active in the First Baptist Church. He served as Sunday School superintendent while in McLean.

WHO OWNS A LETTER?

Interesting letters may give birth to interesting notions. Such as: "I'd better not throw away this letter from Fred. He might become famous some day, and then the letter could be worth a lot of money as a collector's item."

Suppose Fred really does become famous and his letter valuable. Would it belong to you, because it was sent to you? Or would it belong to Fred, because he created it?

The law's best solution is to divide the ownership of a letter into two separate rights—the right of possession and the right of publication. The recipient has the right of possession of the paper and ink. He may keep the letter as a memento, sell it to a collector, or even toss it onto a bonfire if he pleases.

But the right of publication—to make copies and exploit it as a literary work—still belongs to the original writer.

This division of rights was illustrated in a famous lawsuit involving some personal letters written by Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science. After Mrs. Eddy's death, her executor tried to prevent the auctioning of these letters.

The court ruled that the sale itself could not be prevented, because Mrs. Eddy had given away the right of possession when she first mailed the letters. But the court did forbid reprinting of the letters in advertisements of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstances alter cases. For example, if you write a letter to the editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of possession but the right of publication as well.

Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

But as a rule, the separate rights of possession and publication will be kept intact. For the law is simply lending form to the instinctive promptings of fair play.

As one court put it in denying a man's demand for the return of love letters he had once sent to a woman:

"According to befitting decorum, such letters, written to her to keep and read and cherish, are hers."

A pond was staked for Alvin Reeves on his farm south of Pampa.

John Haynes has completed two ponds on his ranch north of McLean.

Bill Crisp has completed about 1,200 feet of underground irrigation pipeline. He installed asbestos cement because high pressure pipeline is required to operate a sprinkler system.

Ray Welch, who farms northwest of Pampa, has completed about 1600 feet of underground irrigation pipeline.

T. D. Anderwald, who farms south of Kingsmill, is in the process of bordering about 20 acres of irrigated land. Tom plans to establish this land to bermuda grass. Crops such as bermuda grass and alfalfa water much better where the land is bordered.

A topography map was made by Paul Appleton and Bill Stockstill on Bill's irrigated farm northeast of Pampa. Bill plans to put down another irrigation well and do some land leveling.

W. B. Jackson has completed an irrigation well on his place northeast of Pampa.

The McClellan Creek Watershed Project is now underway. The survey crew and planning party have started the survey work. They will be headquartered at the City Hall in McLean.

Soil erosion has created a need for terracing on many Gray County farms and ranches. There has been an increase in the spacing of terraces since the early 50's when a considerable amount of terracing work was done. The terraces are now spaced farther apart. In many cases the terrace system may be put in parallel. Parallel terraces are much easier to farm because you do not have any point rows.

Mrs. Lucile Kincaid and son, Gary, of Oklahoma City visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Railsback during the weekend. Mrs. Kincaid and Mrs. Railsback are sisters.

DIET FOR ARTHRITIS

What is the best diet for people with arthritis?

This is a question which comes to practicing physicians, and to all the organizations which offer informational services by mail. What shall I eat to prevent arthritis? What shall I eat when I have arthritis? What should I avoid eating, to help my arthritis?

There are really two answers. One, given far too often, is hopeless and needlessly discouraging. There is no diet which will prevent or cure arthritis. Is this a true answer? Well, it is and it isn't. It is true that there is no dietary formula for well persons that will insure them against developing arthritis. Neither is there any dietary formula for persons with arthritis that will assure them of a cure.

A Positive Answer
But there is another answer, and it is a more encouraging one. This is a positive answer, one that sweeps away some of the misconceptions of the past. It is: proper diet is an important factor in the successful treatment of arthritis. True, it is not a cure in and of itself, but it is hopeful and helpful.

In the past, arthritis patients were deprived of protein, on the false assumption that too much protein was partly responsible for arthritis changes. They were also deprived of calcium, on the ground that changes in the bones and joints were necessarily due to over-supply rather than to faulty body utilization of this nutrient. Now, specialists dealing with arthritis emphasize that a fundamental principle in dealing with this disease is good nutrition, including adequate supplies of calcium, protein, minerals, vitamins and, indeed all good nutrients—the four basic food groups we keep emphasizing in this column.

Overweight is to be avoided to minimize stress on the weight-bearing joints, but good nutrition is to be maintained by balanced diet.

Don't Eliminate Good Food
This puts an end to the elimination of meats, fish, eggs and cheese from the diets of arthritic patients. It ends the banning of milk and its products, for fear of too much calcium.

It recognizes the protein contributions of dairy products as well as their calcium content. It recognizes that the cause of arthritis, as yet undetermined, has certainly not been demonstrated to be dietary. It recognizes the clinical experience that well-nourished arthritics who are not overweight do better than poorly nourished ones suffering from dietary insufficiencies on top of their arthritis.

Your Doctor Knows Best
The diet for any and all arthritics is that prescribed by their attending physicians in the light of their weight, their dietary requirements in relation to general health, and such special needs as may be determined by allergies, racial and religious customs, and other factors known only to the attending physician.

TOP OF TEXAS JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW

The dates of the Junior Livestock Show and Top of Texas Hereford Breeders show and sale are March 5-9.

Many improvements have been made at the show barn at Recreation Park, Pampa (just north of the rodeo grounds) this year. A 40 foot extension running 240 feet in length was added along the east side of the present structure. This new addition features a kitchen, large dining area and meeting room. Seating capacity is about 300 people.

This is a very modern facility with tile floors, colored walls and insulated. There is ample storage, nice heating and evaporative air conditioning. An office and other storage with scale beam inside office are provided.

A large part of the added facility is capable of housing over 200 pigs. Steel pens with fancy gates and latches make this facility second to none in the Panhandle of Texas. The hog pens were moved out of the older part of the building and rebuilt. This gives ample space to house all the calves. For several years the calves had to be packed into a space about 40 per cent too small. We now will have plenty of space after the interior has been rearranged.

A large part of the added facility is capable of housing over 200 pigs. Steel pens with fancy gates and latches make this facility second to none in the Panhandle of Texas. The hog pens were moved out of the older part of the building and rebuilt. This gives ample space to house all the calves. For several years the calves had to be packed into a space about 40 per cent too small. We now will have plenty of space after the interior has been rearranged.

Jerry Harland and I recently got a very nice letter from two very appreciative 4-H Club members which I think is worth repeating. It follows:

Mr. Whaley and Mr. Harland: Carolyn and I would like to thank you for all you have done for us. You did a splendid job on our calves and we appreciated you taming the Angus. We both hope you like them after all you have done. Thank you.

Carolyn and Toni
The letter of course was from Carolyn and Toni Willoughby.

We think these two 4-H members are mighty swell kids. It isn't often that teenagers have the time to sit down and dash off a short thank you note. Let me say this, a thank you note, orally or in writing or other wise will take both of you a long way in this world. The highest executive in business from General Motors on down to a county agent loves to get a thank you note. We advise others, both young and old, to send a genuine thank you note.

WEATHER

We have heard of several cow-calf operators that have lost new born baby calves. The moisture will be nice in helping get our native grass off to an early start next year. However, I am always pessimistic about the snows.

Recently I made the statement that a two-weeks cover up of snow on the grass and wheat pasture would cost Gray County cattlemen well over a quarter of a million dollars. The present spell is taking on the same aspects of the 1929-30 winter for those of you old enough to remember this far back.

(WRITTEN FOR LAST WEEK)

COTTON GINNING

Henry Lowrance says he has ginned 1251 bales to date (Tuesday). He expects to get 30 to 35 more.

Bryan McPherson says there are 40 to 50 yet to come. Henry owns a steak which I'm going to bet Bryan there aren't 50 unginned bales in the McLean area.

SOIL BANK

If you are interested in signing up in the long range soil bank, you should make a trip to Pampa today or Friday and get full information how the program will fit your place. They can give you the maximum amount your place can bring in the soil bank program.

On Monday, Jan. 24, the sign-up will begin on a first come-first serve basis. The reason I would go to Pampa this week is so I would have a full understanding of the program before the first date for sign-up. If you are sure you want to execute a contract, I would appear early Monday at the ASCS office.

I would check very carefully on my potentials in the annual program. In some cases that I have checked, more total dollars can be realized in the annual program. In addition, you have use of all of your land during certain months in the year and part of 12 months in the year. In general, you have to go a full 50 per cent on wheat and milo plus maximum on the cotton program.

INCOME TAX

I have left a few copies of 12 income tax tips that might be worth something to you in the coming year in savings on your tax bill. These are mimeographed and are on single sheet for fast reading. If you would like to have a copy, drop by the McLean News. They are free for the asking, along with a 1966 Farmers Tax Guide that tells you how to prepare your 1965 tax returns.

Shamrock Crow Hunt To Be in February

One of the favorite off-season sporting events in the Texas Panhandle—a crow hunt—will be held again this year in February on dates to be announced soon, according to Game Warden George Farr.

The annual Wheeler County event, held during three weekends, attracts gunners from as distant as 500 miles.

And it never runs short of targets because wooded areas house an estimated 1,000,000 of the "black bandits."

Warden Farr said no one has ever determined the total number of crows actually killed, but estimated the overall bag runs into the "tens of thousands." Last year the senior champion killed 117 crows in one day and his wife was runnerup with 113.

He added that since Shamrock residents "are widely known for their good sportsmanship," that nobody ever bothers about estimating the number of shotgun shells used.

"It's a pretty good way to get rid of shells left over from the waterfowl and upland game season," said Farr. He hinted, however, that local merchants managed to keep a good stock of hulls handy just in case. Also by the case.

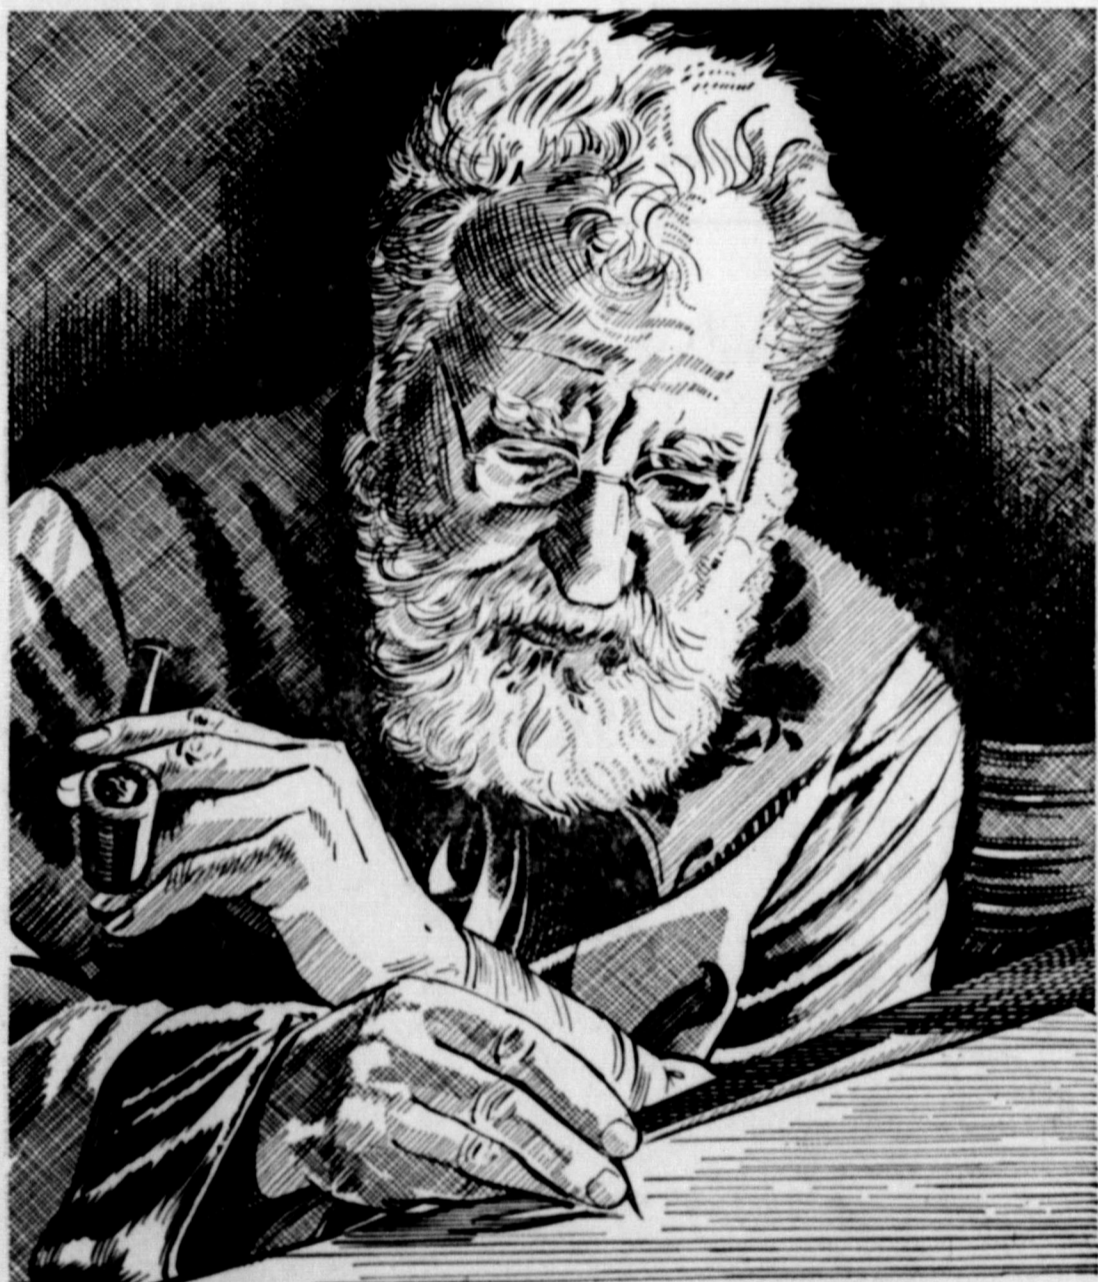

The warden said the target area comprises a natural roost and that the weekend shoots help control the huge predator population.

The community-wide shoot is managed by the Shamrock fire department where competitors for valuable trophies register for $1 to cover expenses. Inquiries should be addressed to the fire department.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too...

Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Jan. 19, 1966

To the Editor
 The McLean News
 McLean, Texas
 Dear Sir:

I read "From Under the Derby" on the front page of last week's McLean News with intense interest. This was especially so, since it was written by none other than that favorite, but unintentional, jester of mine, Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

The author of that little missive was, as I suspected, the same old "Smiling One" who not too many months ago entertained me with his weekly offering. But, you know, his reports from Washington back then never made it past that tall green can which sat by my desk.

It was interesting to me then, as it is now, that what the senior senator boasted the loudest about were big spending bills he helped pass through Congress. Likewise, the bills which cut ever more deeply into the rights of states and individuals . . . and bills which are teaching the American people to become ever more dependent upon the all-powerful centralized government in Washington, rather than doing things for themselves.

Go back, if you will, and read down through that long list of reasons the senator gives for expecting the New Year to be "filled with hope and prosperity for the United States and the American people."

Indeed, the "millions of Americans . . . will be changed by the new federal legislation," as this booster of the Great Society says. People from every walk of life will be affected—from school children to retired persons, from unskilled workers to doctors and dentists. But do these people really want the way of life that is being planned for them, or wouldn't the most of them prefer to do things in their own initiative, without government control?

This gentleman who now desires to be the governor of Texas can brag about what he is helping to do to America if he wants. I would prefer that he take a little time to study the United States Constitution and even more time to bone up on American history to learn what made this country great.

I shudder to think what Sen. Yarborough is planning for the State of Texas, if he is elected governor. Perhaps he and LBJ have worked out a special Great Society for their home state, since they find Gov. John Connally a bit too conservative, and even more independent, to suit them.

Confident that you will permit me "equal space" to answer some of Sen. Yarborough's newsletter, I am,

Very truly yours,
 Jack B. Shelton

Jay Channels Moving To Grand Prairie

We, the Jay Channels, wish to take this public means of expressing our eternal gratitude for having been privileged to be a part of this fine community for the past three years and two months. They have been pleasant months in so many ways.

We have striven to guide the young, teach the truth, visit the sick, encourage the depressed, comfort the bereaved, assist the weak, marry the lovers, strengthen the home, support our public schools and show a genuine interest in the growth and betterment of our community. Whatever achievements we may have accomplished have been due to your noble response and the help of God. We feel humble for the honor of serving you in these fields of endeavor.

Now we go with heavy hearts from your midst but we carry with us treasured memories. We depart with this prayer in your behalf—May God continue to bless and strengthen you; may He deepen your righteousness and enlarge your love for truth, and may He be gracious unto you!

We will begin our new work this weekend at the Tarrant Rd. Church of Christ in Grand Prairie, Texas, and will move our household furniture Monday, Jan. 31.

UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

25 YEARS OF

Star-Spangled Security

FOR AMERICANS

- ★ Twenty-five years ago on May 1, 1941, the U. S. Treasury issued the first Series E Savings Bond to Franklin D. Roosevelt.
- ★ That purchase, in the words of Lyndon B. Johnson, "set into motion the greatest thrift program the world has ever known."
- ★ Since that day in 1941, Americans have bought more than $150,000,000,000 worth of Series E and H Savings Bonds.
- ★ From these savings have come new homes, college educations, down payments, paid-up hospital bills, more satisfying retirements.

- ★ Americans still own almost $50 billion in Savings Bonds... $50 billion worth of personal security... security from want... from fear... from loss of independence.
- ★ $50 billion worth of security from loss of freedom in today's troubled world.
- ★ Join the greatest thrift program in the world. For your future and your family's future. And your country's future.

The NBC stars who will accompany Severinsen to Pampa are Urbie Green, trombonist; Derek Smith, pianist; Bobby Rosengarden, percussonist; Bobby Haggart, bass fiddler; and Tommy Newsom, tenor saxophonist.

Severinsen and the NBC All-Stars will serve as judges and clinicians for the day-long contest.

The stage band competition is scheduled to start at 8 a.m. Saturday. The hour-long free clinic sessions for all participating band members are set from 5 to 6 p.m., and the evening concert starts at 8 p.m.

The Pampa High School Stage Band will host the national contest, which is slated to become an annual event and one of the outstanding musical attractions of the year in Pampa.

In announcing the conference, Extension Director John E. Hutchison said the program would feature speakers and panels on subjects of primary importance to the conferees. Considerable time will be devoted to discussions of legislation passed by the 59th Legislature that affects county officials.

County judges attending will hear discussions on the new code of criminal procedure while commissioners will delve into precinct operations.

Other program items include discussions on organizing for emergencies and programs available to the counties from state and federal sources.

The director added that other program features would be released as they are confirmed.

He added that county agricultural agents have been supplied with information dealing with the conference and it is available from their offices.

Plans are also being made for special events for the wives of participants and other special guests, the director said.
