Use Direct Dialing On Mother's Day

Every Mother's Day, Southwestern Bell scratches its head and wonders about that so-called generation gap.

This year, the telephone company says, the nation's mothers will generate an average of 25 long distance telephone calls per second across the U.S. on May 13.

That figure includes calls from McLean on Mother's Day.

All possible long distance circuits will be available for One-Plus (direct dialed) calls on Mother's Day, plus operators will be on duty to handle any calls which require operator assistance, said Gary Stevens, manager for Southwestern Bell.

"Mother's Day is neck-and-neck with Christmas in the race for the nation's biggest calling day of the year," the manager said. Last year Christmas won with 9.1 million calls. A lead of only 56,000 over 1972 Mother's Day.

Direct Dialing rates are cheaper, the manager said. Direct dialed calls by-pass the operator.

To get the best service, call before 11 a.m. Sunday or in the afternoon, Stevens said. To really avoid the calling rush, long distance customers may call Saturday and get the same low weekend rates. "There really aren't any non-busy times to call on Mother's Day anymore," the manager added.

Wiginton Twins Go To State

Nan and Ann Wiginton lost their initial match to Mason in the Class A High School Girls State Tennis Tournament. The McLean duo lost 6-2, 6-1, in the semi-finals played on the University of Texas Intramurals Court in Austin.

The girls were sponsored by their physical education teacher Shirley Fields and Tennis Coach Edgar Bailey.

McLean To Have A Walkathon

The F.H.A. Chapter of McLean High School co-sponsor a Walkathon with the Mother's Club, Saturday, May 19th.

Sixty per cent of the proceeds will be given to the Mother's Club to support their project of air-conditioning of the school system. Each participant will indicate on the entry blank, which club or organization he would like the remaining forty percent of his pledge to benefit.

The "Walkers" will leave McLean High School parking lot at 9 a.m. to begin the nine mile hike to Alanreed. Participants, which will be high school age or older, will be escorted by official vehicles on the trek down the grass median between the east and west bound lanes of 1-40.

Those who wish to participate will be supplied with an entry blank on which to enroll pledges to pay mileage in amount specified by the pledge. After the destination is reached and each pledge sheet signed by an adult supervisor at check-point the amount per mile earned will be collected from pledges by the sponsor clubs.

Any individual can sponsor or pledge and an individual can make as many pledges as possible.

Entry blanks will be available at the first of next week and can be obtained at the high school or through members of FHA and the Mother's Club, Inc.

Refreshments will be served at the end of the walk.

"Not every trash basket catches all the stuff that should be thrown into it." —N. DeVane Williams. Holmes County (Fla.) Advertiser.

Business investment in new plant and equipment totaled $90 billion in 1972.

Approximately 300 sections of cow calf ranch land in the southeast part of the Gray County where approximately 50-75 baby calves were killed by predators at a $15,000 to $22,000 loss to ranchers of Gray County.

The helicopter flew 32 1/2 hours and killed 274 coyotes. The cost was $2,437.50. Half of the cost is shared by the Texas Co-op Trapping Fund and half by Gray County. This system is cheaper for the government agencies as the old system cost the county an state approximately $6,000 per year for the trapper whose kill ratio was 320 coyotes for one full year with poisons and traps.

I fully recommend this system to the Commissioners Court in February or March of next year if there is a need as it is an effective, economical system for predator control. Don Hinton Gray County Pct. #2

"Ha, foiled again!"

TO THE CITIZENS OF McLEAN AND THE COMMUNITY

We were asked to appear at the council meeting as a interested group of citizens to show the council what the people of McLean wanted, and they would know how to vote for what the people wanted as a majority. Well, a good group of interested citizens showed and we were asked to leave as there was too much on the agenda and a town hall meeting would be called for next Tuesday night (May 15) at the school cafeteria at 7:30 - as the opposing side was not represented. The mayor also informed us that he had received a letter (May 8) from Chili Smith stating that Pampa was opposed to doing away with the circle and would be represented next Tuesday night.

The citizens petition has over 400 names signed and anyone wishing to sign can do so by coming by the Dixie Restaurant and reading the letter and looking at the map of the highway. We are only asking for the survival of our little town, and would like for the town as a whole to prosper and grow, instead of just a small group of investors killing a town where over 62 small investments are already helping the town and community. We want more industry bit to build our town not to stop its growth and our land worthless. Also if the circle stays, there will have to be a big bond voted (around $200,000) to run sewer, gas, and water, to the new business that go in around the circle-if the tourist can't get back to our original town site other than the circle, then our Ladies dress shops, grocery stores, boot shops, men's wear, variety stores, beauty shops, barber shops lose business-if these business's begin to lose, then employment goes down-our homes, business sites become worthless property-next our school closes with not enough students to attend, then we bus our children to Pampa while in the meantime we may also have a new school taxation to pay off on an empty building, Also if this happens then our hospital is next to close.

This is a very serious matter for the citizens and the community please give thought and come to the meeting next Tuesday night to fight for your survival.

Vega won a point-come and hear Vega discussed-and let us "The citizens and the community win our point."

CITY OF McLEAN

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Gulf Coast and South Texas newspaper publishers kicked off an investigation into the "newsprint crisis" last week that could become a nationwide issue.

Last week in San Antonio a probe was launched into the causes of the current newsprint shortage in the United States.

A resolution requesting a "Congressional investigation" of the current newsprint crisis was adopted at the joint board meeting of the Texas Gulf Coast Press Association and the South Texas Press Association.

Publishers speaking for the resolution asked the Texas Press Association and National Newspaper Association to "investigate the problem at all levels" including "price fixing" and the "reported nationwide newsprint shortage."

The resolution asked the press associations to report their findings to their memberships so that "publishers can make necessary plans and adjustments for the future months and years."

Several weekly newspapers recently have converted to daily publication because of the growth of their cities, and are having problems getting more newsprint for their publications.

The regional press associations also asked that the Texas Congressional delegation be alerted to the problem and requested "assistance in working toward solutions for an adequate supply of this resource which is so vital to our industry."

Other state press associations in the southwest and midwest have received copies of the resolution, and have received requests for action by their officers at future board of directors meetings.

The newsprint manufacturers in the United States have told publishers that shortages have been caused by paper mill closings in some states because of "environmental problems." Wet weather has kept timber in the forest and away from the mills, newsprint officials have said.

Canadian mills—another big source of newsprint in this country—have not been contacted by the publishers, but will be asked to report the reasons for current shortages, the press association officials said.

Some publishers have inquired about newsprint supplies in other countries, and "pool purchases" of newsprint from overseas markets.

Recent price increases by the newsprint companies have sparked part of the controversy also.

"We cannot understand why the price of newsprint is the same in the states with newsprint mills—close to the source of supply and in areas hundreds of miles from the manufacturing plants," one publisher pointed out.

GOVERNOR SUPPORTS SCHOOL FINANCE AID

Gov. Dolph Briscoe threw his support behind a stopgap school finance aid measure to provide $39.7 million in enrichment grants to the state's 113 poorest districts.

He spelled out his recommendations at a rally arranged here by San Antonio and Crystal City residents to dramatize the case for overhaul of inequities in educational funding.

Briscoe pledged additional legislation will "set into action a process of altering our entire funding system so that state funds will be allocated to all school districts... based on the financial resources of each."

While the governor didn't say exactly what he meant by the latter, aides said a "complete review" of the tax capabilities of the districts across the state will be ordered.

Briscoe, committed to avoiding a tax bill this year, found it difficult to accept far-reaching overhauls of the school finance system which will cost $500 million to $800 million for implementation.

The legislation he backs, with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby's and House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s support, would require each district to report its taxable assets to the state comptroller on specified forms by January 1, 1975.

Data will aid in fixing true market value of the property for school tax purposes, aides said.

The governor's office would also be made responsible for coordinating work of legislative committees and other official agencies in working out a plan for overhauling the school finance system by 1975.

Briscoe told the demonstrators a court case from San Antonio's Edgewood district pointed up inequities and "we must move to correct them."

MAJOR BILLS ADVANCE

Texas' first state-supported adult basic education program received final legislative approval and was sent to the Governor.

Meanwhile, a bilingual education plan for the first six grades of public schools also cleared both houses.

House and Senate adopted a conference committee report on legislation (HB 185) to extend collective bargaining rights to the Texas policemen and firemen.

Rival House and Senate versions of the 1974-75 appropriations act wound up in the hands of a conference committee for adjustment after the House finally completed action on its bill in seven days of debate.

The House launched into another long debate over drug law reform, including lowering of the penalty for first offense possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor. SPEAKER CANDIDATES EMERGE

Candidates for House Speaker have begun to emerge, meeting deadlines fixed by state law for reporting their campaign expenses. (few have any expenses to report.)

Reps. Carl Parker of Fort Arthur, James Nugent of Kerrville and Fred Head of Troup joined Reps. Bibb Clayton of Springlake and DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi as officially-declared candidates. Head issued the most optimistic announcement, claiming he has 67 supporters.

Other possibilities included Reps. George Preston of Paris, Dave Finney of Fort Worth and Chris Miller of Fort Worth.

AUTO INSURANCE HEARING SET

The State Board of Insurance will hold public hearings on auto insurance rates on July 10.

Hearings, starting at 9 a.m. on that date, will cover rating plans, manual rules and endorsement forms for both voluntary and assigned risk policies. Written statements were requested by June 11 from witnesses. New rates would be effective September 1.

AG OPINIONS

Gov. Briscoe has to withdraw appointment of Houston City Councilman Judson Robinson to the State Board of Corrections after Atty. Gen. John Hill said one man can't hold both jobs.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A public school teacher can serve as a county commissioner (if he isn't paid for county duty); a legislative aide can serve as committee consultant; and a state university professor can be paid for consulting services to a property tax committee but a county judge can't serve on a school board.

Hemphill County Commissioners cannot be elected countywide at large to avoid redistricting.

Private college students in partime work-study programs are covered under workmen's compensation.

A beer-wine sale for on and off premise consumption election should be submitted as a single question rather than as two separate issues.

Bowie county commissioners can determine compensation and expenses paid justices of the peace and their assistants, but they have no powers of removal over the J.P.'s.

A bill allowing county commissioners to employ private counsels to represent public officials or employees in suits brought by a non-political entity is constitutional (as long as duties and acts in questions are official)

COURTS SPEAK

A man who was partially negligent cannot collect damages due to a collision with an Abilene Christian College school bus which ran a red light, the State Supreme Court held.

The High Court upheld a lower court opinion invalidating an Howard County resident's attack on constitutionality of county hospital district laws.

Seizure of an obscene film from a Dallas theater was approved by the Supreme Court. APPOINTMENTS

Retired Air Force Brigadier General James U. Cross is new executive director of the Texas Offshore Terminal Commission.

Governor Briscoe named Dr. Robert J. Bacon of Houston to the state Board of Corrections.

GAS RATE HEARING BEGINS

A significant Railroad Commission Examiner's hearing into whether or not Lo-Vaca a Gathering Company should be allowed to raise rates charged cities under contracts began here last weeks. Opponents will state their case at a future date.

Mayors claim the case holds the key to higher gas and electrical rates for consumers.

Austin City Attorney Don Butler asked a commission investigation of the company's gas reserves. Lo-Vaca is a subsidiary of Coastal States Gas Corp., which holds contracts with many Texas cities.

Legislation to permit gas companies to renegotiate their contracts on showing they aren't making enough money is stalled in House subcommittee.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Food is your most urgent daily need. Man's hunger drive is basic to his existence, his survival. Yet the food you are eating, and the food you are not eating, may be a contributing factor to serious health problems now and in the future. By continuing your present eating habits you may actually be contributing to your own disease problems, says the Texas State Department of Health.

The nation's diet is so "terrible" it costs us $30 billion a year in doctor bills and other health care costs, according to a report from a United States Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Robbed At Work

Hired as floor manager in a department store, Phyllis asked where she should leave her new fur coat during working hours. Since there were no more lockers available, she was told to leave the coat in a corridor closet.

A few days later, the coat was stolen from the closet. The store denied any responsibility for the loss, but Phyllis—unconvinced—took the matter to court.

At the hearing, the company said it had never guaranteed its employees against theft. But it seems the closet had neither lock nor guard. Finding a lack of reasonable care, the court said the company would have to make good the loss.

It is common for employees to deposit clothing and other personal belongings in company facilities while at work.

As a rule, the company must provide reasonable safekeeping if—as in Phyllis' case—the employee has been instructed to put the article in a particular place. This creates a "bailment" relationship, with a legal duty imposed on the company as the "bailee."

But the duty is not unlimited. In another case, also involving a stolen coat, the clothes closet was within a locked enclosure to which only employees had access. A court ruled that the company had made a reasonable effort to prevent theft, hence could not be held liable.

Of course, some responsibility rests upon the employee as well. A toolmaker who owned his own tools often left them overnight on his work bench. Right above the bench was a broken skylight. One night a thief climbed in through the skylight and decamped with the tools.

Could the company be blamed for the loss because of the broken skylight? A court said no, because the toolmaker himself was aware of the danger. By leaving his tools in such an accessible place, said the judge, he had "assumed the risk" of their being stolen.

Human needs.

The costs of society of undernourished mothers and their sickly infants, physically and mentally inferior children, absenteeism in the working force and school children, the great loss of life from cardiovascular disease and hypertension, the costs of dental decay, alcoholism and disease of diabetes, obesity, digestive disturbances...all can be attributed in part to poor nutrition.

There are three major dietary problems in the country: undernutrition (not enough food), malnutrition (not enough of the right kinds of food), and overnutrition (too many calories).

Some of us know that some foods are better than others for helping children grow and keeping adults vigorous and well. Yet most of us usually eat only what we like, what we are accustomed to eat, or what we can afford—which isn't always what we should be eating. Some of us fall for the most brightly packaged and most highly advertised foods. We choose foods that can be purchased easily, prepared quickly, or eaten on the run, rather than a sensible choice of foods that will make the total daily diet more nourishing and interesting.

However, state health authorities are quick to join these researchers in warning the public there is not enough information at present from these animal studies to warrant humans going on a low-protein diet in order to avoid cancer.

The role of the diet and its cholesterol and fat content has been well publicized as a major contributory to development of heart disease, the nation's number one killer. Now some animal study research indicates much cholesterol and saturated fats may relate to a variety of cancers, from the metabolic breakdown products of bile and cholesterol. Little thing is known about condition in humans.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
 "Honor your father and mother (remember, this is a commandment of the Lord your God); if you do so, you shall have a long, prosperous life in the land he is giving you. You must not murder. You must not commit adultery. You must not steal. You must not tell lies. You must not burn with desire for another man's wife, nor envy him for his home, land, servants, oxen, donkeys, nor anything else he owns. The Lord has given these laws to each one of you from the heart of the fire, surrounded by the clouds and thick darkness that engulfed Mount Sinai. Those were the only commandments he gave you at that time, but he wrote them out on two stone tablets and gave them to me."

MAMMOTH HIPPOPOTAMUS

Circus To Feature 2 Ton Hippopotomus

I will be looking forward to seeing you at the Fisher Bros. Circus when we come to McLean on the 20th day of May for one performance at 2:30 p.m. at the ball park for the benefit of the McLean Volunteer Fire Dept

All my animal friends such as the monkeys, apes, llamas, elephant, fove-legged cow, Tiny Mite, the little horse who is only 18 inches tall and 12 years old, and his buddies, Trigger, the five-footed horse, and Weasie, the Sicilian donkey, who is not any taller than Tiny Mite, as well as many other animals pals, will be waiting to greet you. There is also a giant snake over 24 feet long, and weighs better than 200 pounds.

As for myself, I weigh over 2 tons (I haven't been on a scale for some time now. You know how we girls are about our figures). I have my own private swimming pool, and enjoy a snack of a bale of good hay ever so often. (I shall have to cut down on my eating.)

We have lots of other things for you to see and enjoy, such as the Loyal Family European bareback riders; Dixie the performing and wire-walking elephant, Miss Luci, that daring young lady on the high trapeze; Kathie's fantastic trained goats, dogs, and ponies and Fisher Bros. Congress of funny clowns; that high-stepping dancing horse, Royal Rouge; Fisher Bros. Riding School; the Canine Cavaliers, an outstanding performing group of dogs; Mexico's ambassador of comedy, Senior Mike Gasca; Randal's military ponies, and many other acts.

Take my advice and get your tickets, those cut-price, discount tickets from the sponsors. At $1.00 to everyone, they admit you to any seat in the big top. Every seat is at ring-side, as there are not any reserved seats. Those sold at the circus ticket office on circus day cost you more. Also the sponsor gets a much larger share of money from tickets sold in advance, to be used on their many local projects.

One and all, old and young, are invited to come out to the circus grounds in the morning of the show, to see the setting up of the unloading and feeding of the many animals, and all the other interesting things that going on to make the Circus a Magic City of Fun and Laughter for Mom and Dad, Brother and Sister, Grandma and Grandpa, and the whole family, even the Neighbors.

Market Report

Chicken and turkey, tough higher-priced than a year ago, remained economical mealtime choices, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

The consumer marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, listed current beef values as liver, ground beef, round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks.

"Pork prices continue at the higher price level of the past month with best values on picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, and end-cut loin roasts and chops. Some markets will feature canned hams."

The specialist reported fresh fruit and vegetables in best supply include grapefruit, oranges, apples and bananas.

Also cabbage, carrots, potatoes, mustard, collards, turnip-greens, radishes and green onions.

Citing eggs as a "nutritious, economical and convenient" food to serve, the specialist advised purchasing them from refrigerated cases and storing them with the large end up to help maintain quality.

"Eggs may absorb odors from other foods, so they should be stored covered. A few days' supply stores better in a plastic refrigerator dish or plastic bag.

"Temperature changes during storage cause egg whites to become thin and less desirable for frying or poaching," she added.

Warm Weather Is Here-- It's Time For Skiing

Texas lakes are warming up, and this brings out the water skiers.

Skiers mean an extra responsibility for boat owners. The first skier sighted in the water should be a signal for boat operators to be extra cautious.

A skier down in the water is hard to see, and your propeller could make a mess of him.

Of course, a skier is responsible to a large degree for his own safety. The first step in this direction is making sure that his boat driver is competent and reliable.

The driver should know how to keep the rope taut and avoid jerks which will injure the skier's shoulders. He should know that horse-play in a boat can have serious consequences. And he should be alert for a fallen skier so that he can circle immediately for the pickup.

Many experienced drivers insist on having a second person in the boat as a spotter. This is not a legal requirement, but the law does require a four-inch-square mirror mounted in the boat if the skier is being towed.

For his part, the skier must make himself as visible as possible when he falls in heavy boat traffic. He can do this by holding one ski in the air as a signal to other boaters.

The skier should also wear some sort of life-saving device. Although many skiers prefer the ski-belts, they should keep in mind that the belts are not designed to keep them upright if unconscious. And to fill the legal requirements, if the skier is being towed by a boat 26 feet long or less, there must be a Coast Guard approved life saving device on board the boat for him, if he is not wearing one.

Children 12 years old and under must wear a Coast Guard-approved life jacket when a passenger inside the boat, as well as when they are skiing.

A skier should have communication with hand signals. These signals should be worked out before the skier takes to the water since misunderstandings could lead to an accident.

Boat operators are the "eyes" of the skier, and it is up to them to avoid obstacles such as submerged stumps and rocks. And they should avoid the temptation to speed along parallel to dams. Several skiers have lost quite a bit of hide when they fell along concrete structures.

As a matter of courtesy, fishermen should be avoided. There is a quiet sport. A smart aleck is going to cause some hard feelings and remember, you are legally responsible for any damage caused by your wake.
