"For Pete's Sake" To Be Shown In McLean August 14

The full-length comedy-drama, filmed in brilliant Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 8:30 p. m., and is open to the public.

Filmed entirely on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies, For Pete's Sake, is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again, to face life anew.

"For Pete's Sake," has been seen nationwide by over three million persons in theatre premieres, and has been cited by one film critic as "the perfect mixture--it's drama at its boldest, comedy at its lightest, and action at its liveliest." "For Pete's Sake," is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties.

"For Pete's Sake" stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in World Wide's The Restless Ones. Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well-known for her Broadway appearances and numerous television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

Other featured players include Johnny Jensen as Pete's son, Irene Tedrow as Grandma Harper, and Nicolas Surovy as Skip, the leader of a motorcycle gang. The film is being shown as a community project.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by the churches, who have made arrangements for this special showing of For Pete's Sake.

Boy's Ranch Rodeo Set For Labor Day

Approximately 10,000 people are expected to celebrate the Labor Day weekend by attending the 29th Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

Two performances of the rodeo are scheduled at 2:30 p. m. at the ranch's Rodeo Area where more than 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, bulls and bucking broncs. An added attraction will be the big bar-be-que sandwiches that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.

Screwworms On Increase In Texas

Texas had recorded well over 600 cases of screwworms for 1973 as July drew to a close, and indications are that the year's total will climb rapidly in the next few months.

The hot summer weather and recent rains have spurred the spread of screwworms in South and Southwest Texas, said Dr. M. E. Meadows, veterinarian-in-charge of screwworm eradication operations at Mission.

From now until November 1 is considered the crucial time in the screwworm program. Thus he urged livestock producers and pet owners to be especially alert for screwworm infestations.

About 80 per cent of the screwworm cases have been occurring in the southern most 11 counties of Texas. However, El Paso and Hudspeth Counties in Far West Texas have also recorded cases. In fact, El Paso county has already recorded six cases, more by this time of the year than any other year since the Screwworm Eradication Program began in 1962.

According to Meadows, current eradication efforts involve a two-pronged attack on the vicious flies-eating

HAP ROGERS

Former Resident Is Leader of The Year

J. W. Hap Rogers, former teacher and head football coach at McLean, has been cited by Southwestern Life Insurance Company as Leader of the Year in the firm's Amarillo territory. It was his eighth time in 11 years to receive the honor.

Rogers taught and coached here from 1953 through '57 when he moved to Tulia in a similar capacity. After two years in the public school system there, he joined Southwestern Life as a career agent and has been among the company's leading salesmen each year since. In 1972 he ranked fourth among some 700 full-time agents.

The Amarillo territory which Rogers led encompasses 39 counties in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Besides being the territorial leader, he was named a charter member of the new President's Honor Club and again qualified for current membership in the Southwestern Life Top Club. He was already a life member of the latter organization, which seeks to promote the insurance industry's highest standards of education, skill and ethics among its members.

A native of Vernon, Rogers graduated from Cameron Junior College of Lawton, Okla., and earned Bachelor of Science and Master of Education degrees from West Texas State University.

Last year he served as president of the Tulia Chamber of Commerce, and he's also a former president of the Plainview Life Underwriters Association. He has qualified for the Texas Leaders Round Table and the Million Dollar Round Table each year since entering the life insurance business and has been a director of the former organization.

In addition, he's one of seven Southwestern Life agents who have qualified for the company's Century Club each year since it was organized in 1966. The club is composed of agents who sell at least 100 policies during the year.

Rogers and his wife, Earline, live at 67 Fannin Dr. in Tulia. They're the parents of three grown children and also have six grandchildren.

Representative Phil Cates Presents Citation At Open House

Mike Haynes
The Representative Phil Cates visited McLean Sunday July 29, bringing an official citation to the local area and praise for the people of the McLean area. Cates, a native of Lefors, Texas, presented the citation at an open house at the Alanreed-McLean Area Museum. He verbally presented the citation from the Governor of the State of Texas. The actual certificate was not ready in time for the ceremony. It will be signed by Speaker of the House Price Daniel, Jr., and Deputy Hallman, Chief of the House of Representatives. The citation honors the people of McLean and Alanreed for their work in preserving the heritage of the area and in providing a tourist attraction for the town.

Mrs. Vera Back, museum curator, accepted the citation and spoke briefly. Recognized at the ceremony was Mrs. Alice Short Smith, a longtime supporter of the museum.

Cates praised the people of the McLean-Alanreed area for their work and said the local museum was the "best small museum I have ever seen." He emphasized the need for good people such as those in the Panhandle to participate in all levels of government in order to avoid such scandals as have plagued local, state, and national government.

Cates said he purposely introduced the bill honoring the museum during the summer because that time is the height of the tourist season. He said one purpose of the citation to publicize the museum throughout the state.

Refreshments were served at the American National Bank by Mrs. Linda Haynes and the wives of the city councilmen.

Representatives from the Amarillo Daily News and KFDD-TV of Amarillo were present.

A large crowd attended the open house and observed several new exhibits, proof that the museum is continually growing. Perhaps the most interesting object was a combination barber and dental chair which was used in Fort Stockton and in Missouri. It is thought that Clyde Barrow (of Bonnie and Clyde fame) received many shaves and haircuts in the chair.

Other new items, which in themselves are worth a visit to the museum include: an 1878 Singer sewing machine used by Mrs. Ed. D. Smith; a 1910 saddle used by Kid McCoy; a casing pole used to lighten and loosen early day oil well casings; wall paper used to re-decorate the home of J.S. Morse in the 1920's; and for rock hounds, an 80-million year old oyster fossil (Class: Pelecypoda, Species: Exogyra) found on the Boyd Meador farm.

The Museum workers encourage local residents to join the almost 30,000 persons who have signed the museum registry at 115 N. Main, to see these and other new exhibits.

O.E.S. Holds Meeting Aug. 2

A Creative Excellence Show of Arts and Crafts was presented by Myrt McCoy.

A festive atmosphere was attained in decorations and refreshments served by Frankie Smith and Eula Morrow.

Does It Matter What You Believe

The general feeling of religious people is that it really matters little what one believes so long as he is sincere in it. The ecumenical spirit goes so far as to preclude taking issue with anyone on any religious question. Instead, we are supposed to pretend no difference exists. We are told that "dry theological questions" and "irrelevant doctrinal issues" leave people cold - that the important thing is to get involved in the social problems of the day. "Love" becomes the only test of fellowship.

While it is important for Christians to be concerned actively in the alleviation of human misery, and surely love is indispensable, theological and doctrinal issues cannot be dismissed with a mere wave of the hand.

There has never been a time when churches have shown so much surface concern for social problems, with programs for activating them. Yet the very denominations that are leading the movement are showing the least growth, and some an actual numerical decline. Obviously the church must do more than dispense "loaves and fishes" if it is to have a real impact upon people.

The topic is misunderstood more than that of "love". John 1:14: "And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him" (1 John 2:3-4). No distinction is made between Christ's moral and doctrinal commands. Therefore, any religion which preaches doctrine as irrelevant is not Christianity.

It does matter what you believe religiously. No amount of sincerity can rationalize false concepts. No amount of social concern will justify theological untruths. No amount of benevolence will sanctify doctrinal error. Jesus said the "truth" will make one free, and God's word is that Truth (John 8:31-32; 17:17).

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Rewriting the near-century-old Texas constitution is turning out to be stickier job than many figured.

The Constitutional Revision Commission went into overtime at a recent three day meeting near here, but still failed to complete its agenda and slated another August 10-11 cleanup meeting.

Meanwhile, legislative planners for the 1974 Constitutional Convention, at which lawmakers will actually propose a revised constitution, disagreed on routine stage-setting.

House members suggested a new voting machine (which was later ordered) and new desks for delegates. Senate planning committee spokesman indicated they would be satisfied to bring their own desks over from across the capitol rotunda and set them up in the House middle aisle.

The revision panel agreed: To keep the provision for real property taxation in the constitution for state purposes, but leave it to the legislature to write separate laws governing personal property taxation.

To retain the state highway users gasoline tax, with three-fourths of the revenue earmarked for highway building and one-fourth for public schools. A provision was made for abolishing the highway fund levy on statewide referendum with support of two-thirds of the legislature.

To keep the Permanent University Fund and Permanent School funds in the constitution. The University fund would be altered somewhat to include present and future branches of the University of Texas and Texas A&M University.

To add to the constitution a guarantee of "equitable" financial support for all schools and districts rich and poor.

To retain as constitutional elected members of the executive branch only the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general, with the legislature empowered to decide if the comptroller, treasurer, secretary of state, land commissioner and railroad commission should be elected or appointed by the governor.

"HOUSES" CLOSED

Two landmark bawdy houses--in LaGrange and Sealy--were closed by local officials on request of state officials.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir sought action after reports aired by a Houston television station.

Briscoe acknowledged he had received calls from LaGrange area citizens both supporting and opposing the action. He said he had been told he would be petitioned by a group who want the famed "chicken ranch" reopened.

Hill and Speir said they found no link with organized crime in operation of the houses, but Attorney General Hill added: "It is an illegal operation. The local officials were requested to take action. They took it." RATE RAISE EXPECTED

An increase in some workmen's compensation insurance rates is due under a new law increasing benefits for those injured or killed in job accidents.

An average 19.5 per cent hike in the rates employers must pay for the coverage is anticipated under a State Insurance Board staff proposal, which would become effective if approved between September 1 and September 15.

Rates would have gone up 22.8 per cent in the absence of the federal anti-inflation program, a Board actuary indicated.

Under new law effective September, an injured worker can get up to a maximum of $63 a week in benefits, an increase from the present $49 top.

AG OPINIONS

A national bank does not come under definition of governmental bodies of institutions which are required to comply with the new open records act, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A Laredo fireman injured in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, while on duty is entitled to benefits under the state Fireman's Relief and Retirement Law.

State government branches and their services (excepting political subdivisions but including hospitals and colleges) are covered under the Texas Unemployment Act.

Subordinated capital notes of the Harlingen National Bank are part of its indebtedness and are not to be considered capital in determining value of shares for taxation.

School trustees are authorized to purchase insurance to cover cost of litigation and award of damages growing out of official acts.

The Amusement Machine Commission has power to promulgate regulations to cover the number of machines owned by the holder of a permit to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption.

Qualifications for Texas Air Control Board membership are set by Article 4477-5, Vernon's Civil Statutes. Conduct in office will be governed in part after January 1 by provisions of the 1973 ethics law, and members could be removed from office for violations.

The State Commission for the Blind is not authorized to require employees to deposit with it salary warrants issued to them or to charge a fee to employees for making the advances.

A district attorney can be removed only under special statutes and not by an ex parte order of district courts. A county attorney (in some counties) will serve during temporary disqualification or absence.

A court reporter who prepares the narration of the facts from a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus is entitled to be compensated for preparation by the state or county.

Budget Easin' Season

Quick meals don't always mean high-priced "convenience" foods.

According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's seafood marketing section, the homemaker-on-the-go can prepare tasty yet economical meals if she plans them around versatile and economical seafood.

Fresh fillets of Texas redfish and speckled trout are waste-free forms of seafood which are packed with protein and are ready to cook.

Combine them with canned goods from the pantry, vegetables from the freezer and a bag of corn chips, and you're ready for a "Fish Vegetable Casserole." Try it, your family and budget will love it.

VISITING in McLean last weekend were 17 foreign exchange students. They arrived here late Saturday afternoon and tried to visit and see as much of the Panhandle as they could before they left again on Monday. While here they stayed in the homes of George Terry, Carl Lee Henley, Mary Dwyer, Clyde Magee, Bill Heasley, Ted Davis Simmons Jr., John Haynes and J. L. Parr. The students were guests of the Area Museum and the Top O' Texas Rodeo in Pampa. Several of them spent the afternoon riding horses at Carl Lee Henleys. J. L. Parr took some of them on a tour of El Paso Gas Plant and explained how Natural Gas is made. They are seen here as they are loading and preparing to continue on their trip.

SOME of the foreign exchange students are seen here with their sponsor Billie Parr visiting some of the businesses before leaving on Monday.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

When the month of August rolls around, thousands of Texas mothers suddenly realize that only a few more weeks remain until school begins.

Parents with youngsters beginning school for the first time this September, look forward to school with a little more excitement, and many mothers whose first-born are going off to school may be a bit bewildered by it all.

In addition to the million-and-one chores that must be performed in getting the youngster ready for school--new shoes, clothes, health examinations--most school districts require proof of age for beginning students. A certified copy of a birth certificate is usually requested, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

This fall there will be 221,100 new first graders in the schools throughout Texas, with the total public school enrollment expected to reach 2,805,300. Continued growth of the school population is expected for the next two to three years, according to the Texas Education Agency. In addition, there will be 78,700 children enrolled in public school kindergartens.

Anticipating the rush of birth certificate requests, the Records and Statistics Section of the Texas State Department of Health has been prepared for it. Requests already are pouring in.

It takes a sizeable staff just to open the thousands of letters received daily, let alone search out a requested certificate, remove it from the thick volume, make a certified copy, mail it out and then return the original certificate to its proper place.

Years of experience have eliminated nearly every bottleneck. The operation is smooth and fast. Usually the copy is mailed within 3 or 4 days after the request is received.

One bottleneck still remaining, however, is the individual who makes the last minute request. Parents are requested to stop now and write for a certified copy of the birth certificate, or contact either the city registrar where the child was born or the County clerk in the county of birth.

In most cases it is an easy matter to make a trip to your county courthouse or registrar and personally request a certified copy of a birth certificate. The county clerk's office has birth records on file, as well as countless other documents.

If you write the Texas State Department of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, the address is 410 East Fifth Street, Austin, TX, 78701. Be sure to include the child's name, his place of birth, the date of birth, and names of the parents--including the mother's maiden name. The State Health Department fee for a certified copy is $2.

Filing of birth certificates is just one function of the Records and Statistics Section of the State Health Department. Records also are kept of deaths, diseases and other public health information.

There are more than 13 million birth certificates on file in the state office, and the tabulation of birth certificates is a never-ending process. Last year, for example, there were just under 222,000 live births recorded in Texas.

Largest number of live births for Texas in one year was recorded in 1957. That year 249,567 babies were born alive in Texas, and their births are recorded in the Records and Statistics Section.

Just maintaining records of current births and deaths is a mammoth task. In order to do this, the state wide system includes 1,000 local registration officials who collect these records. All of these must be carefully indexed to expedite the hundreds of thousands of searches that must be made each year to process applications for birth certification and verifications.

This sounds complicated, and it is. But to a person who needs a birth certificate for a passport or to prove the age of a child entering school it is a vital service.

Not only are these records helpful to you and necessary for legal proof in many instances, but they furnish as a group information of great value to the state. To best use this wealth of statistics, data is transferred from records to magnetic tapes and a computer converts these into tabulations. From these charts and reports come information enabling staff statisticians to read and interpret the very pulse of the state's health.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fraud By Mail

To Eddie, the idea seemed like a sure thing. He mailed out phony invoices to a number of businessmen, billing them for ads they had never ordered, and waited for the money to roll in.

Some money did. But so did two federal investigators, who haled Eddie into court on a charge of "using the mails to defraud." In short order he landed in jail, following the path of countless get-rich-quick artists who have run afoul of the United States Post Office.

Under our legal system, most crimes are local. Robbery and riot, murder and mayhem ordinarily come under the jurisdiction of local governments.

But mail fraud is federal business, because the Constitution gives exclusive control of the postal system to the federal government.

Of course, to constitute the crime, the fraudulent scheme must include some significant use of the mails. However, that need not be the central feature. Consider, for example, the case of a man who used chicanery to sell lots in a cemetery. All of his sales were made in person, not by mail.

But he followed up with letters to his customers, partly to allay their suspicions and partly to discourage them from taking him into court. Such use of the mails, a court ruled afterward, was enough to support a federal charge against him for fraud.

Still, there must really be fraud, not just deft salesmanship. In another case a woman was accused of mail fraud because she had been selling "lucky stones" through the mail.

But at the trial, she pointed out that she had made no claim of magical virtues for her product--beyond the name itself. Dismissing the charge, the court said:

"There is nothing immoral in the belief that amulets affect the wearer's fortune. If (the defendant) wishes to sell lucky stones for what they are, without lying about them, she is not acting fraudulently in so doing."

THE CROSSROADS

Who am I? What is life? Where am I going? Why am I here??? When will I know???

Almost everyone who's ever lived has at one time or another asked himself one or all of these questions. Or others—What shall I do? Where shall I turn? Why did this have to happen to me? Who will help? When???

Sooner or later every man seeks understanding. The seeking can be exhilarating, depending upon where one searches.

Those who turn to God and His Church find unlimited opportunities opening for them, as their concept of life is enriched and enlarged.

If you stand at the crossroads and the world seems a turmoil of conflicting ideas, turn to your church. Its truth never wavers. Its strength and purpose can make your life fuller and happier.

Sterile file drops are also continuing at the rate of 1,000 to 2,000 flies per square mile each week in areas where cases are confirmed.

But the spraying and fly drops are only part of the eradication program. We need the cooperation of all livestock producers and pet owners in inspecting and treating infected animals to make the program really effective.

WARDEN FILE CASES

to have the proper number of PFDs on board during the month of June.

Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement personnel remind Texas boaters that they have until Oct. 1 to comply with new federal regulations concerning life saving devices.

The new rules won't affect owners with boats under 16 feet in length, canoes and kayaks, but those with larger craft may have to resupply their stock of U.S. Coast Guard-approved Personal Flotation Devices.

PFD's are classified into four groups:
--Type I must be designed to turn an unconscious wearer from face downward in the water to vertical or slightly backward. It must have more than 20 pounds of bouyancy and be designed to be worn.

-- Type II must meet the same requirements as Type I, but it must only have at least 15.5 pounds of bouyancy

-- Type III is any approved device designed to keep a conscious person in a vertical or slightly backward position and to have at least 15.5 pounds of bouyancy.

Type IV devices are designed to be thrown to a person in the water and must have 16.5 pounds of bouyancy. Not designed to be worn, the most common Type IV PFD is the bouyant cushion.

The law as of Oct. 1 reads: Boats 16 feet or longer must have a Type I, II or III wearable device for each person on board and one throwable Type IV.

Boats 16 feet and under-- to include canoes and kayaks -- must have one Type I, II, III or IV for each person on board.

A.C. To Have

Ten orientation sessions for all first-year Amarillo College students will be conducted Aug. 13-24, according to Fred Dodson, director of Amarillo College counseling center.

Approximately 80 students will be in each daily session beginning at 9 a.m. in the concert Hall/Theater of the Fine Arts Complex.

Students will view a slide show presentation prepared by the counseling center. A thorough view of Amarillo College, including facilities, student activities, academic and vocational programs, will give the freshmen a closer look at AC.

Following the presentation, smaller groups of students will form for a general discussion session with AC coun-

Market Report

The overall food situation is currently in a state of uncertainty, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

Under Phase IV controls, a more normal marketing pattern of fresh fruits and vegetables is expected, according to the consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

However, demand exceeds supply is showing up on many commodity market reports. This will undoubtedly result in continued higher prices.

It's most difficult to forecast fruit and vegetable supply price situations at this time, but consumers still can buy wisely if they watch for locally grown and nearby produce, make their own selections and take the best possible care of the items when they get home with them.

Seasonal items include cantaloupes, peaches, nectarines, seedless white grapes, cherries, plums and pineapples.

Also cucumbers, corn-on-the-cob, blackeye and purple hull peas, carrots and okra.

There is little promotional interest in the fryer market this week. However, turkey is a good protein choice to look for. Turkey parts and turkey rolls may be good values, too.

Consumers may find a few featured items at the meat counter, but supplies are guesstimated to be less than usual, because demands continue strong.

Shoppers can help ease the situation by using more meat alternates, such as dry beans, dry peas and peanut butter.

elors and sophomore students After this discussion, sophomore students will conduct their groups on a tour of the Washington Street campus.

Concluding the tour, students will meet in Badger Den, located in the College Union Building, for refreshments.

"The afternoon will be open for individual follow-up counseling sessions," said Dodson.

Those from the AC counseling office participating include Mrs. Nancy Knapp, Dick Ross, Richard Carter, Miss Ann Graves, and Jerry Webb.

Sophomore students assisting include Janey Greenhouse of 4907 Andrews, Judy Stephens of 2416 Walnut, Jane Franklin of 3003 Hayden, Doug Wooten of 3402 Rusk and David Nevarez of 2208 S. Washington.

PETE, MARGE and RONNIE HARPER, played by Robert Sampson, Pat Scott, and Johnny Jensen, in a scene from the full-length motion picture "For Pete's Sake!" Produced in Eastmancolor on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies by World Wide Pictures, this comedy-drama is scheduled to be shown on Tuesday, August 14, at First Baptist Church, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN
by Vern Sanford

Touching Up the Lures
Any angler who fishes around rocks, boulders, bluffs or gravel beds subjects his artificial lures (especially the top-water plugs and floating "sticks") to real punishment. As a consequence the lures become scarred, the paint cracks and the hooks get broken or dulled.

But, that's where the fish are, so don't avoid these areas. Keep after 'em, even if you have to buy many new lures.

Of course you can replace the hooks on the old lures. Also you can repaint some of the lures, especially the ones with the wood bodies... and wood is now being used again after being replaced with plastic for a long, long time.

While you have the hooks off just dip the lure in a paint bucket and hang the bait up to dry. A bit of old fishing line tied to the eye of the bait, and with a loop on the other end, makes both painting and hanging easy.

After the paint dries, you can give it additional protection and waterproof it at the same time by dipping it in a can of varnish or epoxy. Kinda fun to do.

If you have decorative ability or artistic talent—and a few different colored cans of spray paint—you can come up with some very colorful combinations.

Who knows—the fish may even like 'em better.
