McLean Hospital causes problems for the families of patients that not many hospitals can be accused of. My husband was a patient there last week (his first stay in a hospital since he was five years old), and has done nothing but rave since he came home about the food. He said that every meal was delicious. Normally hospital food has a bad reputation, but apparently the McLean cooks know exactly how to appeal to the appetite.

Now, he's suggesting that I go take lessons from the ladies at the hospital on how to prepare delicious meals, but I told him that if he got hungry enough, he would just have to get sick and go back.

One of my favorite writers is Erma Bombeck, who writes so hilariously and so knowingly of the trials of being a woman in this day and age. Most of Bombeck's writing is comical, but one of her stories which struck me was a poignant piece about wishing the "kids would grow up!"

She said that we spend years yelling at our kids "Why don't you grow up?" never realizing that someday they will. One day we turn around and the house that was cleaned last night is still clean this morning, the phone is not ringing every ten minutes, there are no little voices urgently entreating "Mom, I need..." and then we realize that the kids really have grown up...and somehow we wish we could turn back the clock and go back to those frantic, hectic years when we are so needed, when we are the center of our children's universe, when their whole lives revolve around us.

As time passes we tend, mercifully, to forget the problems, the tears, the anger, the fears, and just remember the good things...like the smell of a freshly bathed baby, the sight of a little boy in his first too-big football uniform, the delicious warmth of a small baby snuggled in our arms.

Perhaps the transition years are the most difficult...those years when the children have left home, but are not married yet. Because when they do get married, and bring home their own babies, you get to relive all the good times of having your own children at home... and your children get all the problems!

Several people in McLean were surprised Thursday when the granddaughter of Alfred Rowe, the founder of McLean, visited our town. Mrs. Back had received a letter saying that Miss Rowe was coming to visit, and for some reason most of us expected a rather elderly woman. But Miss Rowe is far from our pre-conceived idea of an elderly English lady!

She is instead a lovely, young dark-haired beauty who is a goldsmith and jewelry designer in London. She had decided to visit McLean because this fall

One Bid Received On Gas

Wes-Tex Construction Company of Borger submitted the only bid for replacement of the McLean city gas system. The bids were opened Oct. 9 during the regular session of the McLean City Council. The Borger company submitted a bid for $858,811.91 with a note that the bid was based on being able to purchase all materials by Dec. 31, 1979. Frank King of Wes-Tex Co., said the city would have to give approval close to Nov. 15 to prevent a raise.

The engineering consultant firm of McMorries and Burns, Inc. of Dumas had projected costs for the work at $900,121. Residents of the city approved bonds in the amount of $1,028,000 in an election in May for the project.

Councilmen voted to table the approval of the bid, pending further study. In other business, the council decided to require city employees to keep trip ticket work sheets in each city vehicle to record the amount of time used for each job.

The move was made in an attempt to conserve time and gasoline in city vehicles.

Questions concerning possible health problems due to animal odor near the Harlan Pool residence were dropped after a report by councilman George Terry, who had investigated the complaint. Terry said that he had visited the home and found that the Pools had their animals penned and had adequate space for them. He suggested that the problem be dropped unless a formal complaint comes from the County Health office.

The group also discussed methods of using the city's revenue sharing funds, including the purchase of monkey bars at the city park and the installation of a book return at the library. Both were tabled for further discussion.

Other items tabled concerned streetlights, the city dump, the sale of a city lot, and a warehouse purchase order.

Dr. Harold Fabian was appointed as the city's health officer.

Presiding at the meeting was mayor pro tem Boyd Meador, who took over the meeting in the absence of Mayor Sam Haynes who was hospitalized. Also attending were councilmen Miro Pagan, Dale Glass, and George Terry; city sec-

FmHA Loan For Gas System Approved

The office of Senator Lloyd Benson and U.S. Representative Jack Hightower were notified Monday that the Farmers Home Administration has approved the $1,028,000 loan to the City of McLean.

The funds will be available for 40 years at five percent interest and will be used to place and expand the natural gas distribution system for McLean.

The loan approval is the final step in obtaining financing for the replacement of the gas system in McLean, a process which began several years ago.

City officials began trying to replace the city's gas system after several major leaks were discovered in the pipes.

One bid for the replacement was received by the council during its regular session Oct. 9. Wes-Tex Construction Company of Borger submitted a bid for $858,811.91, but the matter was tabled by the council, pending further consultation.

Following acceptance of a bid, construction will begin immediately, with present lines removed and new ones put in.

Cubs Blank Skellytown

The McLean Junior High Cubs added another scalp to their collection Thursday night when they beat Skellytown 28-0 at Skellytown.

Kevin McDowell began the scoring for the Cubs with a 21 yard run in the first quarter for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed.

Later in the quarter Ricky Vasquez intercepted a pass and returned it 30 yards for McLean's second score. The conversion attempt again failed. In the second quarter, Randall Wynn ran 25 yards on a quarterback keeper for a TD, and Kevin McDowell punched the ball over for the two point conversion.

In the third quarter, eighth grader Scott Stubbs clocked a Skellytown punt, and Eddy Brooks went seven yards for the Cubs. McDowell again scored the two-point extra points.

The Cubs will face the Groom Cubs Thursday night at Groom at 6:30 p.m.

The annual Halloween Carnival has been set for Saturday night in the McLean school gymnasium. The carnival, sponsored this year by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, will feature bingo, a fish pond, basketball and football throws, and other entertainment booths.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used for various activities of the sorority and by the school classes and organizations. There is no admission at the door.

Seven members were elected to serve on the board of directors for the newly formed McLean Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Oct. 9 in the McLean school cafeteria.

Elected were Laverne Back, Jim Allison, Jim Barker, Jim McDonald, Britt Hathaway, Jane Simpson, and Sharon Haynes.

The constitution and by-laws for the group were also approved at the meeting.

The board of directors will meet in the next few days to elect officers from their number to lead the club.

PeeWees Down Redskins 12-6

The McLean Pee Wee football team defeated the Pampa Redskins by a score of 12 to 6 Saturday afternoon in McLean. It was the first game for the McLean team, following a scrimmage against a Pampa team the week before.

In the first quarter, Donnie Smith broke through the line on a dive play and ran several yards for McLean's first touchdown. Pampa scored on a long run and the teams went into the dressing room at halftime with the score tied at 6-6.

In the third quarter, Russell Littlefield took the ball on a pitch from quarterback Kirk Anderson and ran 40 yards for another TD. The conversion attempt failed.

According to Coach Cecil Reynolds, McLean's defense forced several fumbles by the Redskins. Pampa was driving toward the goal line late in the game when Littlefield intercepted a pass and ran about 20 yards, ending Pampa's drive. Reynolds cited Huey Carr,

Tigers Fall To Groom

By Mike Haynes

Two plays from last Friday's football game at Groom that McLean fans probably are talking about most were not scores but might-have-beens, and they were representative of Groom's 40-10 win over the local Tigers.

Many observers agreed that the two District I-B teams seemed to be evenly matched, and the total offense figures of 299 yards for Groom and 210 for McLean do nothing to dispute that evaluation. But throughout the cold, windy night, McLean's momentum was stopped by penalties or mistakes, and a game which could have been close turned into a rout on the scoreboard.

Senior Wade Smith accounted for all 10 of McLean's points, including a record 48-yard field goal, but his heroics were over-shadowed by two TD's that got away.

Groom scored two touchdowns in the last 3:23 of the first half to vault from a 6-3 to a 20-3 lead with 10 seconds left. McLean's Terry Todd, a junior, took the ensuing kickoff deep in his own territory, ran around the first wave of Groom tacklers, and sped all the way past the goal line after time had expired.

The score which could have narrowed McLean's deficit to 20-10 at halftime was nullified, however, by a yellow flag which fluttered to the ground as Todd entered the end zone. Junior Tim Smith was charged with clipping around Groom's 5 yard line, and the half ended on that frustrating note for the McLean players and supporters.

Todd said he knew he would score "as soon as I HOPED! But I saw number 84 (Gary Don Babcock) out of the corner of my eye, and he gave me a scare."

Another McLean touchdown was called back with only 41 seconds left in the game as Wade Smith missed the chance to add to his point total. Operating from the Groom 27, Randy Suggs sprinted left on a bootleg only to find no running room; the senior quarterback reversed his field, scrambling almost to the right sideline, where he still had no place to go. But Smith was all alone near the goal, and Suggs lofted a pass which the receiver easily took into the end zone. With all the confusion of the play, however, some of the McLean linemen crossed the line of scrimmage, and the Black-and-Gold was cited for illegal receiver downfield.

Smith's kick, also possibly to be a district record and possibly the longest field goal kicked in the Panhandle this year, was his second in four attempts of the season in four points. Head coach Jack Dorsett said he had no doubts about Smith's ability to make such a long kick. "If we had thought he couldn't make it, we wouldn't have kicked it," said the first-year mentor. "He's made 48-yarders in practice, and with the wind, we didn't have any doubt." See TIGERS Page 2

OPINIONS

VIEWS ARE WRITTEN BY LINDA HAYNES, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED - IF YOU HAVE AN OPINION ON ANY CURRENT SUBJECT WE WELCOME YOUR SIGNED LETTERS.

STOP ASSASSINATION TALKI

Ted Kennedy is not my ideal as the next President of the United States. I do not agree with his philosophy, I do not like his political liberalism, and if he is nominated, I do not intend to vote for him.

But I am appalled at some of the snide remarks in the press, implying that if he is elected, he will be assassinated. What a horrible state our country has come to when we try to scare off a candidate by implied threats of violent death!

When John Kennedy was assassinated, like most of the people in the country, I was horrified and very sad. I did not vote for John Kennedy, and I did not like his political liberalism, but an assassination is not the way the people of a free country handle political differences.

Whatever happened to the American tradition of "I do not agree with what you say but I fight to the death to defend your right to say it?"

If the political commentators on television and the editorial writers in newspapers keep talking about assassination, some nut will take the hint and try to earn a dubious place in history by fulfilling the prediction.

If you don't like Ted Kennedy, then do your best to see that he is defeated, but let's sheave the talk about political murder.

After Weller almost intercepted a Suggs pass on the first play, Suggs connected with Todd for a first at Groom's 41. Then with a 4th down at the 34, sophomore Billy Joe Skipper dashed 11 yards on a quick-opening play for a first down.

With 3rd and 15 at the 27, Suggs found Wade Smith open on the right side for a TD pass with 8:08 remaining in the third period. Smith added a conversion kick to make it 20-10.

McLean's hopes to challenge Groom on the scoreboard were shortlived as a penalty and fumble quickly resulted in another score for the hosts. With a first and 25 at his own 13, Groom signalcaller McKnight was sacked at the 5. McLean pushed Groom back to the 1 a couple of plays later, and the Red-and-Black punted to the Groom 34, which would have been excellent field position for McLean, trailing only by 10. But the visitors were called for roughing the kicker, giving Groom a first down at the 16.

McLean's defense held once again, but this time Groom's punt sailed deep into McLean territory, and on the first play, Groom recovered a McLean fumble at the McLean 25. Koetting scored from the 4 with 10 seconds to go in the third period, and his run for two widened the margin to 28-10.

After Suggs barely got off a punt to his own 43, a 27-yard run put Groom at the McLean 13, and a personal foul moved it to the 6. Koetting scored again from the 1 to make it 34-10. The Black-and-Gold stopped Britten on his up-the-middle attempt for two extra points.

With 7:50 left, Suggs scrambled for 16 yards from McLean's 42 to Groom's 42, but the drive bogged, and Suggs' punt was blocked by David Britten. Babcock recovered for Groom at the Groom 49.

Koetting caught a pass to the McLean 25, and on the next play, Vince Britten swept the left end for an apparent touchdown. The play was nullified by a holding penalty, however.

Groom was not to be denied, and with 4:00 remaining, Koetting went over from the 2 for his fourth TD of the night. A PAT kick which sailed off to the left kept the score at the final 40-10.

With 2:18 left, Rex Morris, a senior running back for McLean, broke several tackles in a run from the Groom 43 to the 27 to set up McLean's final "almost" touchdown. Morris totaled about 60 rushing yards in the contest.

Dorsett said his Tigers exhibited great effort despite the loss of three starters early in the game. "The second-temers came in and did a good job," he said. Dorsett said the Tigers' problem, as it has been most of the year, was simply too many mistakes.

"The score was no indication of the two teams. If we lined up again today, I think we could beat them," said Dorsett.

Theron Stubbs led the Tigers in tackles, and Dorsett said the sophomore turned in his best defensive performance of the season. The coach said sophomore Dudley Reynolds and senior Mike Reynolds also played well.

He said Suggs threw well, not losing confidence after suffering three interceptions. "The whole offense, the passing, were good; we moved the ball, but just had too many mistakes," repeated Dorsett.

McLean dropped to 1-4 for the year and 0-1 in District 1-B play. Groom rose to 2-3 and 1-0.

McLean will host the Booker Kiowas Friday at 7 p.m. at Duncan Field. Booker, 3-2 for the year, is 1-0 in district competition and, with Groom, is right behind Wheeler's 2-0 mark. Groom lost to Miami 32-

TIGERS

The kick broke a McLean distance record set by Eddie Estes in 1974.

After Vince Britten returned Smith's kickoff to the Groom 43, Groom quickly moved to the McLean 18, aided by a personal foul. The hosts gained a first and goal at the 8, but McLean's defense held and the visitors took over at the 3 with 6:32 left in the half.

Junior Billy Kincannon ran to the 13 for an apparent first down, but an offside penalty moved the Tigers back to the 1 1/2 yard stripe. The infractions continued as Groom was whistled on a facemask violation, giving McLean breathing room at the 23, and McLean was penalized back to the 18.

On first and 15 from that point, Pat Koetting picked off a Suggs throw and returned it to the McLean 28. With 4:14 to go, Timmy Killham went down with a leg injury and did not return to the game. Killham later was found to have suffered a stress injury to a leg bone. The bone was not broken, however, and he was expected to return to action this week.

McLean's defenders once again stiffened, throwing Groom for a 1-yard loss to result in a 4th-and-3 situation at the 21. But Britten sprinted to the 11 for a first down, and on the next play he covered the remaining distance for a touchdown with 3:23 left in the half. Weller penetrated the Tiger line for 2 points, and Groom led 14-3.

Weller made himself evident on defense seconds later as Suggs, from the 28, threw an errant pass which Weller intercepted at the McLean 43. Soon after, a 15-yard walk-off for unsportsmanlike conduct put Groom in business at the 11, and quarterback B.J. McKnight hit Koetting for a score that put Groom up 20-3 with 10 seconds left. Britten crossed the goal for two, but a holding penalty nullified the extra points, and McKnight was sacked on the second try.

Todd's electrifying kickoff return was nullified on the last play of the half.

McLean's James Matheny and Billy Frank Hambright, both juniors, were ejected from the game during the first half.

The controversy of the half's last play seemed to fire up the McLean players rather than discourage them, and they drove for their first touchdown of the game soon after the second half began.

After Weller almost intercepted a Suggs pass on the first play, Suggs connected with Todd for a first at Groom's 41. Then with a 4th down at the 34, sophomore Billy Joe Skipper dashed 11 yards on a quick-opening play for a first down.

With 3rd and 15 at the 27, Suggs found Wade Smith open on the right side for a TD pass with 8:08 remaining in the third period. Smith added a conversion kick to make it 20-10.

McLean dropped to 1-4 for the year and 0-1 in District 1-B play. Groom rose to 2-3 and 1-0.

McLean will host the Booker Kiowas Friday at 7 p.m. at Duncan Field. Booker, 3-2 for the year, is 1-0 in district competition and, with Groom, is right behind Wheeler's 2-0 mark. Groom lost to Miami 32-two weeks ago, but that was a nondistrict contest. Groom and Miami will meet again Nov. 16 in a district matchup.

Dorsett said Booker is the best team McLean will have faced all season with the exception of Class A Shamrock. The Kiowas are led by sophomore quarterback Brett Maxfield, whom Dorsett said is a good passer. "They have a lot of defensive schemes that will cause us to have to work harder," said the coach. "They run a 7-man and 8-man front sometimes and have some big kids."

What will it take for the Tigers to beat Booker?

"Better defense and fewer mistakes."

Will it be hard to motivate the McLean players after they were fired up for Groom and were deflated?

"No. They were already fired up today (Monday). They know about their mistakes, and what they have to do. They're not thinking about Groom now. They're ready to get after Booker."

BLUE IS THE color that protects against "the evil eye," according to a belief held by many people of the Islamic religion from Africa to India. So they paint their front doors blue and make blue beads and hang them not only on their children, but on camels, donkeys, and even water buffaloes as well.

AG Opinions
In legal opinions issued last week, Attorney General Mark White ruled the Texas Constitution does not authorize the Legislature to abolish the constitutional office of county treasurer. The opinion was requested by State Treasurer Warren G. Harding.

White also answered a request from Education Commissioner Bowen; the City of San Antonio has the same obligation to provide police protection to an area within the city acquired by a state agency from the federal government that it has to furnish such protection and services to other areas of the city.

Concerning the use of McLennan County funds to operate a zoo, White ruled a county is authorized to contribute funds for operation of a zoo located on property owned entirely by a city. 500,000 who voted in the 1976 Republican primary.

Kennedy Leads Texas
Later, Hobby told a United Press International conference in Houston that Massachusetts Senator Edward Kennedy would defeat President Carter if Texas held a Democratic presidential primary next year.

But former Texas Gov. John Connally, a Republican, told the same group it doesn't matter who prevails between Carter and Kennedy: Connally is going to be the next president.

Connally blasted Kennedy as being too liberal for Democrats anywhere and said he won't let voters forget Kennedy's leftist leanings.

Meanwhile, a Texas campaign management firm concluded last week that a Republican presidential primary including Connally, George Bush, Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan would attract at least 825,000 Texas voters, more than the alition to redistrict the state.

New Education Commissioner Alton Bowen drew both praise and fire last week with a new state policy: halt expansion of bilingual education until educators can tell if it's working.

Bowen asserts that the mainstream language English should be stressed in school and that the responsibility for teaching bilingual culture remains in the home.

DID BEER PLAY an important part in deciding American history?

Well, it had something to do with the decision of the Pilgrim Fathers in the Mayflower to land at Plymouth Rock rather than continue to Virginia, where they had intended to make their home. In their Journal is the following: "We could not now take time for further search or considerations, our victuals being very spent, especially our beer." By the way, they called it beer, but it was really ale that they drank.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

By Angie Glass

This six weeks has been pretty good for the fifth grade class. We are going along real good in art. We have made vases, pots, trees, scissor art, and igloos and more.

We have chosen a best citizen for each week. They are Colleen Orrick, Donny Allen, Andrew Harris, Francine Matheny, Darren Johnson, and Diane Davis.

We have finished our Indian Unit in Social Studies and I think we really enjoyed it. Now we are learning about the colonists who learned about our land.

FIFTH GRADE POEMS

GOBLINS

Goblins may live in caves
Or in a deep grave
Goblins may be scary
Or awfully hairy
Goblins may be red
And sneak in your bed
They may be green
And come in your screen

Goblins may eat kids
Or trash can lids
Goblins may eat shoes
And holler a real loud "Boo!"

Goblins may bite at night
So carry a light
Goblins may have pink hands
And go to Disneyland
Diane Davis

WITCHES

I don't like witches
They carry poisoned switches
They ride on brooms
They lock people in rooms

They may live in caves

Or come from graves
They make a drink
That makes you shrink

They come at night
When there's no light
They wear black hats
They have black cats

They wear black
They put poison in a sack
They know every star in the universe
Their broom even goes in reverse

They wear black capes
No one ever escapes.

Talk is cheaper than you think.

How to save up to 60% on Long Distance.

If you're one of those who thinks a Long Distance call is a luxury, read on. The trick to saving money while keeping in touch with family or friends is knowing when to call, and calling One-Plus.

Call between 11pm and 8am.

Before you groan about how you can't stay up late or see straight in the morning, think about it. You'll be saving up to 60%! If you're a night person, you probably don't start counting sheep until after 11 pm anyway. And if you've got friends and family to call out west, it'll be a perfectly civilized 9 or 10 pm when their phone rings. If you like to see the sun rise, and you know folks back east, it'll be an hour later on their end.

Call out of state anytime before 8 am and you can talk all day if you want and still save 60%. In-state calls are also greatly reduced. Just remember to dial One-Plus.

Reach out on the weekend and save up to 60%.

Now this is a stroke of good luck: a really cheap Long Distance phone call just when you may want it most. Call any time between 11 pm Friday and 5 pm Sunday and really save. For instance, dial One-Plus and you can Even on weeknights, save up to 35%.

Sometimes you can't wait for the weekend. Or you don't want to. But you can still save plenty Sunday through Friday from 5 pm to 11 pm. Think about what a bargain it is to call someone 1900 miles away, talk it up for ten minutes, and only run a tab of about $2.00. There's just no other way to get close to a faraway friend or relative so quickly, so cheaply.

On weekdays it's still a bargain.

Here's a surprise. From 8 am to 5 pm, a Long Distance call still doesn't cost very much. A five minute call out of state, to anywhere in the continental U.S. is only about $2.50 when you dial One-Plus. Think of how good the sound of your voice would be to a friend (not to mention your mother!) right in the middle of the day.

Reach out and touch someone.

Sorry, there is no excuse for not reading the medicine label. The label tells you what it's for, how much to take and how often to take it. It's important information. Before you take any medicine, read the label. Medicines can't help you if you don't take them right.

AREA NEWS

MR. AND MRS. ED TERBUSH AND MARY

Hattie Felner Terbush is 95 years old. She lives in Groom. She married Edwin Henry Terbush in Oklahoma in 1902. In 1911, with 4 children they came to Alanreed in two covered wagons. Edwin drove one wagon and she drove the other. They camped out along the way. At one point in the trip, Hattie lost her purse and Edwin had to back-track over the trail to find it.

From 1911 to 1950 Hattie was an Alanreeder. Her daughter Mary (Mrs. Hartley Davis) still lives here.

Mary was 7 years old and began her second year of school in Alanreed. She didn't pay a lot of attention to her future husband, Hartley Davis who was 11 years old but he did take care of her horse when she rode it to school. His father was the owner of the local livery stable.

Mrs. Terbush cooked at the school for several years. There were more than 100 students at that time. Mary remembers one day when the pupils locked the teacher out of the classroom.

Refreshments of pineapple upside down cake, ice cream, punch, and coffee were served to Messdames Anita Bruce, Lena Carter, Sue Crisp, Mary Davis, Polly Harrison, Nell Keese, Ruth McLain, Hazel Walker, Sophia Hutchinson, and Sandra DeWebber and Nicky, Shawn Bruce, and Elaine Houston.

On another morning one of the boys came to school drunk and accosted Professor Lofton with "If you make one move I'll cut you open." Professor Lofton was able to handle the incident without getting cut open and as far as anyone remembers the young man grew up and the world is still spinning.

In 1922 George Oakley drove Mary and Hartley along with Lou Evelyn and Paul Boyd to Pampa to be married. The car top was folded back and Paul's coat blew away and it was a while before the group noticed and returned to retrieve the wedding garment.

Mr. Terbush died in 1940. Hattie has continued her life of hard work. After her recent birthday she went for a visit with relatives in Colorado. She enjoys her garden. In 1950 at the age of 78 she moved in with her son and helped him to raise four small children. This kept her busy for several years.

Hattie had many happy years of hard work in Alanreed. She said she remembers going to stay with many neighbors when their children were born. She had eight children, Mary Davis, Alanreed, Ellen Stapp, Groom, Frank Terbush, Groom, Leroy Terbush, Amarillo, Lorene Tipton, Fort Worth, Jennie Smith, Pampa, Agnes Wetsel, Stinnett, Thomas Terbush, deceased, and Frances Corbin, Groom.

Thomas Terbush died of a heart attack several years ago. Her other children are all living. There are 26 grandchildren, 69 great-grandchildren and 18 great-great-grand-

by Jeanette Fish

You can go home again. Lester Carter of Rotan, Texas decided to do just that this week. He had a cookout at the old family homeplace at the Carter Apple Orchard south of Alanreed. He spent the afternoon cooking chicken, fried potatoes, biscuits and gravy in big black pots on a fire outside the house where he grew up.

Forest Carter who is 88 years old was unable to attend because of illness. Anyone who ever ate with the Carters will remember that when Forest passed the biscuits, if you refused, he'd say "By golly take some" and rake them off in your plate. Lester carried on the tradition and everyone ate biscuits and gravy as he walked around the group with the big pot and a ladle handing out bread.

Lester was wishing for a couple of cow hounds as he recalled bringing his Sunday school class out for an all night hunt 30 years ago. Warren Carter was here from Arkansas and Virginia Carter Dalton helped with the cookout. Mrs. Amanda Carter and son Cecil died several years ago.

After eating and visiting the group of friends and relatives sat in the yard and sang by lantern light. Somehow it was easy to look at the stars through the trees and pretend it was long ago.

I traveled back in time tonight. And had a chance to see,

My world of 50 years ago. The boy I used to be.

Remember mama at the door, When school was out each day, Down that creek, how fast we ran, To hurry home to play.

There ought to be a sign nailed up, And final credit give, That special people once were here, Who taught us how to live.

REMEMBER MOM
REMEMBER DAD
REMEMBER US
THE FUN WE HAD"

As we sang, I looked again, At friends I love, so near, And in my heart, I sadly bid, Goodbye to something dear.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carter, Rotan, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Carter, Bentonville, Arkansas, Virginia Dalton, McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leathers, Pampa, Mrs. Bill Shaffer and sons, Mr. and Mrs. W.W. The best recipes are always those exchanged between family members or friends over a good cup of coffee.

These two recipes were given to Lisa Patman, one by her mother-in-law, Marian Patman of Berger and the other by a cousin, Libby Word of Amarillo.

Bites Deemed Dangerous

Although most spiders are harmless and are even beneficial to man because they eat beetles, mosquitoes and flies, there are two types to avoid in Texas—the black widow and the brown recluse.

The black widow's venom-15 times more powerful than that of a rattlesnake-affects the nervous system. Fortunately, the black widow's venom supply is small. She is called a widow because she often eats her husband after mating.

"The female black widow will spin a somewhat well constructed permanent web in which she will remain while waiting to trap her prey," said Paul V. Fournier, of the Texas Department of Health's General Parasitology Branch. "most cases of black widow spider bites occur when the victim inadvertently backs into or penetrates the web."

Fournier said exposure to this spider is generally outdoors in natural habitats such as tree holes or stumps, or abandoned rodent burrow openings. He said the black widow also lives in peripheral domestic locations such as garages, sheds, outdoor privies and water heater closets.

"In Texas black widows are frequently found under the eaves of residences, and under or inside mailboxes," Fournier commented.

Symptoms following the bite from a black widow spider are usually quite distinct and immediate. Some pain at the site of the bite may be evident, followed by acute stomach cramping, heavy perspiration, and difficulty in breathing.

Treatment usually involves administration of the specific antivenin. According to the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare Public Health Service, only five percent of those untreated die and there is no record of anyone having had antivenin treatment dying.

The black widow is easily recognized by its black, brown or gray globe-shaped abdomen and the red, orange, or yellow hourglass markings on the underside. Young females and males may have other reddish or orange markings on the upper side of the abdomen in addition to the hourglass and unbanded legs as well.

The brown recluse spider is different from the black widow in many ways. Although its natural habitat is outdoors, it can readily establish an infestation inside homes. Unlike the black widow, the brown recluse will leave its loosely constructed web to search for food and this is when most of the bites occur.

"Very heavy infestations have been investigated in a number of Travis County homes," said Fournier. "In one case, an infestation of adults, spiderlings, and eggs was found thriving in springs of a living room sofa. Other infestations have been found in garages, yard buildings, cabins, and bedroom closets. Perhaps the heaviest infestation investigated so far was found in the attic of a house just outside of Austin. It was estimated that several hundred spiders were present."

Reports from central Texas physicians indicate that bites from brown recluse spiders may be more common than previously supposed. During 1979, a total of 100 cases were reported in Travis County alone. An additional 40 cases were reported from other central Texas counties.

The bite of a brown recluse spider, unlike that of the black widow, may result more often in a localized rather than a systemic reaction.

There is no immediate pain from a bite, but in four to eight hours the victim has intense pain and itching around the bite area. A thick weal develops. This may later turn reddish or purplish and the skin may later die and slough off, leaving a deep, granular scar.

"One case brought to the attention of the Texas Department of Health involved a bite inflicted on the victim's hand," Fournier recalled. "The lesion slowly continued to expand over a period of five months, eventually requiring a skin graft."

There is no antivenin for the brown recluse bite and cases are treated by treating the symptoms. Surgical excision of the center of the area that is sloughing off and the use of steroids is frequently prescribed by physicians.

The brown recluse looks much like many other spiders except for a distinguishing fiddle-shaped marking on the head. This marking explains its other common name, the "fiddle-back spider." The brown recluse is usually light to dark brown in color and has short brown hair. It has six eyes while most spiders, including the black widow, have eight eyes.

The Texas Department of Health has prepared an informational leaflet on the habits and control of the brown recluse. It is free upon request. In addition, specimens suspected of being a brown recluse may be submitted for complete determination. The specimen should be in alcohol and information as to the type of location should accompany it. Specimens and inquiries for the leaflet should be directed to the General Parasitology Branch, Bureau of Laboratories, Texas Department of Health, Austin, Texas 78756.

Loose Marbles
by Lisa Patman

Ever since they lowered that blasted speed limit, motorists everywhere have struggled with accelerators which had become accustomed to seventy-mile-an-hour feet. And, in turn, law enforcement officers all over the country have been hit with a serious epidemic of writer's cramp contracted when speeding ticket give-aways became rampant.

For the most part, highway patrolmen are friendly, courteous people who try their best to keep us regular motorists from killing ourselves on America's highways and biways. In fact, there are probably more nice patrolmen than there are nice drivers, since I have never been run off the road by an irate patrolman, but I have many times driven in a ditch just to get out of the way of a mad motorist.

However, in case you are stopped for speeding, there are some things you should know about these officers. For one thing, they can see right through almost any excuse you can devise. They will not, for example, take kindly your explanation that you are on your way to the hospital for an emergency when you have your golf clubs crammed in the back seat (unless you are a doctor, in which case that explanation is perfectly plausible).

There are a few things, however, that might sway the sympathy in your favor. You might casually mention that you are on your way to a law enforcement seminar to give a speech on "Sympathetic Officers I Have Known And Loved," or you might casually note that you will mention his great understanding to the District Attorney you are supposed to be meeting at this very minute.

Another cute little ditty you should avoid when asked by the officer "Where is the fire?" is the reply "In your eyes, officer, in your eyes." While this may sound terribly

If nothing else works, you might try the line "My husband Brutus (or Sluggo, or The Masked Bomber) will certainly be angry. And he goes out of his mind when he's angry. The other day he chewed off a fellow's ear just for being the teeniest bit rude to me." The only drawback to this is that the officer will not believe a word of it, and will give you a ticket anyway, and when you get home, your real husband (The Armchair Quarterback) will chew your ear off.

New Commemorative Stamps To Be Issued

The U.S. Postal Service today provided additional details about the Will Rogers and Vietnam Veterans stamps, both scheduled for November issuance. The designs of both 15-cent stamps were unveiled last spring.

The Will Rogers commemorative will be issued at Claremore, Okla., on Nov. 4, the 100th anniversary date of Rogers' birth. The first day of issue ceremony will take place at 12:30 p.m. at the Will Rogers Memorial in Claremore.

The first day of issue ceremony for the Vietnam Veterans stamp will be conducted in conjunction with the National Veterans Day Ceremony at Arlington National Cemetery at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11.

Computer to aid research, teaching

AUSTIN, Texas (Sp.) — The University of Texas, already first in the nation for its use of computers in instruction, has taken another giant step forward. A new $5-million computer system for exclusive use in research and teaching has been installed in UT's Computation Center. It has three times the capacity of the system it replaced and is the first step in a five-phase, $15-million program to upgrade academic computing facilities at UT Austin over the next 10 years. UT's computing facilities are used in about 1,000 courses and in more than 100 UT departments and research units.

McLean Pioneer Life Recalled

(Editor's Note: Portions of the following story are taken from the Bailey County Journal, May 13, 1979)

Lona Jones, a resident of Thomas Nursing Home in McLean, recently attended a birthday party for her mother, Mrs. Annie Nicholson who was 102 years old.

Mrs. Nicholson was a pioneer in the McLean area. Her story was compiled by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Glen Nicholson of Bella Vista, Ark.

Mrs. Nicholson writes: "In the year 1877, in a little community in Cobden County, Ill. was the beginning of this true story."

"There were no newspapers there, but if there had been, we might have read this notice: Born yesterday, September 20th, 1877 to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Littlepage, a baby girl, Annie Jane, with blonde hair and blue eyes, and weighing about eight pounds."

"Through the years, other children were born to the Littlepage family, but today they are all gone except for one sister, Senna. Annie lost her father when she was 12 or 14 years old. There is not much known about her in these early years. She had to make her own way in life and it was very hard for a farm girl."

"She tells of picking strawberries for just a penny or two a quart. She would stay in homes and care for children just for food. She also would care for the sick and learned at an early age the home remedies of the older generation and all her life she has depended on them."

"About 1898 or 1899, Annie met a young man who also had to make his own living at an early age. Like fairy stories and true stories, they fell in love and on October 19, 1898, Annie changed her name from Miss Annie Littlepage to Mrs. Charles Nicholson."

"Shortly after the beginning of the twentieth century, a son was born to them. Two and one half years later, another son was born."

"About this time, the man they worked for in Illinois purchased a cattle ranch in the Texas Panhandle and wanted Charlie to go west and manage it. Like all young people, they were looking for adventure, and Texas seemed like a good place to go."

"In the latter part of 1902, they packed their few belongings, and put it all on the train, said farewell to relatives, and loved ones and friends and left the only place they had ever known to start to a place they had never seen. It was the place they would call home for most of the rest of their life."

"No one knows what went through the mind of this young mother as the train slowly made its way to Texas, but regardless of what it was, she would face it, and care for her family and husband. They knew nothing of this place to which they were going, or what the living conditions were like. But at no time did she ask "Will I like it there?"

"She knew whatever hardships came, they would face them together."

Finally they reached their destination, a little town called McLean, about 19 miles from the place they were to live.

"They arrived at their new home late in the day and spent the night with the family that was leaving soon. Charlie and Annie would live in the same house."

"The next morning, they and their few belongings were placed in a one room shanty where they would stay for awhile. It had a hardpacked dirt floor, one door and one window, with the water supply from a cistern at the other house. This water was for drinking, cooking and washing; and when the cistern went dry, water had to be hauled from a pond in the cow pasture."

"In the years to follow, they moved several different places, but never more than 25 miles from this first home on the Sitter's Ranch, which was always home. They had brought with them from Illinois, two beds, a few chairs and a table, a sewing machine, a few odds and ends and a large trunk that was used not only for their clothing, but doubled as a seat when they had company. The stove was for heating as well as cooking and was known as a "bachelors" stove by some and others called it a "Topsy." Many meals were prepared for hungry cowboys on this stove."

"On the back of the Nicholson's three room house was a porch, and on this porch was a cistern and here was also the laundry room. It consisted of an iron pot, two washtubs, a washboard and a large supply of lye soap."

"After the excitement of the journey was over, life began in a new and different way. Charlie performed his tasks of caring for the livestock and running the ranch and Annie's job was doing the tasks that a woman on a ranch must do in cooking for the men, working a garden, raising chickens and caring for orphan calves, but of course her greatest and happiest job was caring for her children.

"Not all of Annie's life was hardship and hard work, for she was a jolly person who believed in enjoying life, and she played jokes on her children, and neighbors. And she tells you she had more pleasures than sorrows."

"After a few more people moved into the community (Enterprise), she was not as lonely. They visited each other, not just an afternoon or evening visit, but visits would go on all day and all night."

"The people in the Enterprise community were far from a doctor, and when there was need for a doctor someone would ride horseback to get him and he would come in his horse and buggy. If someone was very ill, which was not often, it would seem to be ages before he would arrive."

"The men in the community made plans to get a telephone line to the small settlement, and at last they did not feel so isolated, and they could talk to each other when they felt the need."

"When Annie first saw the crude looking telephone, she was asked by the operator to ring one of her friends in town and she replied, "Nothing doing! I'm afraid of this thing."

4-H CORNER

Gray County 4-H members who plan to have a Swine Project this year should be reminded of a project meeting at the Courthouse Annex on Monday, October 15th at 7:30 p.m.

This will be an educational meeting for experienced and beginning swine feeders. A film presentation on selection and judging will be given and questions about care and feeding will be answered.

For more information, come by the County Extension Office of call 669-7429.

4-H AIMED AT EDUCATION: The purpose of 4-H, as a youth development program, is to educate young people.

4-H is a program for youth between the ages of 9 and 19 and is administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University system.

4-H can help youth develop intelligent behavior by providing them information or knowledge-getting process. When a 4-H'er identifies what 4-H project he wants to do and how he wants to do it, he is learning how to learn.

Along with information and a knowledge-getting process, a young person must feel that he or she is capable of solving a problem. When he does feel able or capable, he has developed a positive self-concept. In contrast, when a youth has a negative self-concept, or feels inadequate, he will not act even if he has the necessary knowledge to solve the problem confronting him.

In any youth program, the interaction of a young person with an adult leader and other youth allows opportunities for praise, encouragement and rewards. This kind of feedback can strongly influence the way a youth thinks of himself.

Living in a social setting also lends to the development of intelligent behavior. A youth's behavior is motivated by his needs. For a newborn, physical needs such as food and comfort are a main concern. But the older the youth, the more his behavior will be motivated by acceptance from his peers.

As a youth learns through trial and error the kind of behavior that is expected of him, he also learns the acceptable values, beliefs and goals of society.

Through individual projects, group activities and adult volunteer leadership, the 4-H program attempts to help boys and girls acquire skills that will lead to self-directed and lifelong learning.

But, not for long was she afraid and she often called friends just to pass the time.

"When Annie's children were in their teens, they moved to another place for two years. There were lots of young people and plenty of enjoyment for these young people and Annie's home was always open to them. There were many parties, ice cream socials, and Sunday evening singings and just general get-togethers."

"After they moved back to the ranch, she had her last child."

They finally moved back to Enterprise and the older children were marrying and leaving home, one by one. Charlie retired and moved to McLean where he lived until his death in 1960. Annie lived a few more years with a daughter, then moved to Muleshoe.

"Many years have passed since Annie, as a young mother viewed the place she would call home for many sad and happy years."

"It is true the Lord has been good to her for he has given her something that few others have received, 100 years of life on this earth. He also gave her eight children:

Lawrence of Dallas; Glen of Bella Vista, Ark.; Lona Jones of McLean; Bessie Stevenson of Muleshoe; James "Buster", now deceased; Charlie of Seattle Wash.; Annie Mae Stotts of Winslow, Ark.; and A.V., now deceased.

NEWS For Senior Citizens

America is growing older: nearly 11 percent of the population is over 65, compared with eight percent in 1950, and the U.S. Bureau of the Census predicts more than 15 percent will be over 65 by the year 2000.

Our long-lived citizens are a diverse group with many strengths and abilities, and some special problems and needs.

Probably the most universal problem is loneliness, and for some there are additional difficulties because of limited financial means, physical ailments and other circumstances.

Census collections

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — One of the best international census collections in the world is at The University of Texas.

The collection in UT's Population Research Center includes more than 80 per cent of all the censuses ever recorded anywhere in the world. The material is used in a variety of research about populations.

Contained in the collection are all or part of the information gathered in U.S. censuses since 1790, and complete censuses since 1950. European census information also is extensive. Among the oldest data are a 1703 census taken in Iceland and a 1859 survey of names for an Irish poll tax.

CLAY COOKWARE:

Clay cookware revives in popularity on the homefront. With the renewed interest in clay cookware, more people are interested in its advantages and disadvantages.

Enthusiasts claim that the self-basting action allows use of less-tender cuts of meat with excellent results. The heat of cooking releases steam from the damp clay and the cover holds in the steam as well as the food juices. In addition, little or no oil or gravy is needed—a plus for weight watchers.

One disadvantage is the pots may stain. Most manufacturers recommend against the use of soap to clean since soap may clog the pores of the clay. A soapy taste may linger in the cookware. Also, sudden temperature changes may cause cracks. Cold pots put into hot ovens or hot pots placed in a refrigerator could cause problems.

Homemakers who use Mexican or imported pottery for similar cooking should consider that such cookware is somewhat different. The glazes often used will affect the water retention and absorbency—thus the steam effect during cooking. Also, test the glaze to determine the absence or presence of lead. A simple home test is to fill the cookware half full of vinegar and allow it to stand overnight. If there is any difference in the glaze below the vinegar line, use the dish for non-acid foods only.

Adapting this ancient cooking craft to microwaves requires few changes. As with many adapted recipes, decrease the liquid by one-fourth. Mixtures cook more evenly if stirred during cooking. Place large food pieces around the outside edges with smaller pieces to the center. Cooking time will be approximate and require some experimentation. Usually, about one-half the conventional cooking time is required for microwave cooking in clay cookware.

PEARS—AN AUTUMN FAVORITE:

Autumn sees fresh pears reach their peak with some late varieties ripening in late fall and winter. When buying pears, select those that are clean, bright and the right color for the variety. The Bartlett pear becomes yellow with a red blush, d'Anjou turns greenish and the Bosc turns a yellowish-brown. Avoid damaged, soft or wrinkled fruit. Don't buy the cooking variety (Kieffer) for eat fresh—it will have a gritty texture.

Pears are usually picked when slightly immature and allowed to mature at room temperature. Ripening pears on the tree can cause a coarse or rough appearance to the fruit. Ripeness is indicated by softness at the stem base.

Calorie-wise, pears are relatively low, varying from 60 to 100 calories. They are also a good source of vitamins A, B, and C along with some of the minerals—calcium, phosphorus and iron. Fresh pears are low in sodium which makes them an excellent addition to a low-sodium diet. They also serve as an ingredient for fruit salads, preserves or jellied fruits, cakes and pies.

Here is recipe for including this autumn favorite in your menu:

PEAR PIE
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 to 1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Great bad books flawed favorites

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — They're teaching a course on "Great Bad Books" at The University of Texas.

The American Studies course has assigned books not usually studied in universities but which have become long-time favorites—"Gone With the Wind," "Dracula," "Tarzan of the Apes," "How To Win Friends and Influence People," among others.

Dr. William Stott, who teaches the course, says some of the books are "works of remarkable feats of imagination" even though most are flawed by sentimentality in some way. In trying to make students more aware as readers, he wants them to analyze how even "Great Bad Books" can satisfy readers' emotional and imaginative needs.

Financial failures

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A University of Texas finance professor is convinced that "mismanagement of financial affairs" is the chief cause of failure among small firms.

Dr. Ernest Walker, a national authority on the financing of small businesses, says lack of knowledge about managing cash flow is one of the major shortcomings, but others include getting the wrong kind of debt mix, having too much money tied up in accounts receivable and not expanding the management staff once the firm begins to grow.

He teaches a graduate course on Financing the Dynamic Small Firm, wherein students use small business firms in the Austin area as their "laboratories."

When buying a new item, buy one that fits. Don't buy "too small" as an incentive. Consider that some designs will fit for a longer time than others. Garments that wrap, hang from the shoulder and without a defined waistline are usually more adaptable. Alterations are easier on garments with simple seams, soft garters, and without lining and topstitching.

HAVE YOU EVER tasted "mama liga"? It's a national dish in Rumania and the farm people love it. Mama liga is a boiled cornmeal served as a bread substitute, or with stuffed cabbage or vine leaves, or with poached eggs. Hot or cold, mama liga is quite delicious in melted butter of yogurt. And it can be garnished with salted herring and cottage cheese.

A mnemonic is a device for remembering—the ancient Greeks where Mnemonic was supposed to be the mother of the Muses. The letter "H" is a handy mnemonic for those concerned about quality eye care, who must distinguish between such as optometrist, optician and ophthalmologist.

The hot, dry Fall weather has got most people just wondering when moisture will come. The dryness and heat go together and seem to be self-perpetuating at this point in the weather cycle. Cotton farmers are about the only ones who are benefitting from all of this dry weather.

A good freeze would cause most all crop harvest operations to get in high gear. Quite a bit of sorghum has some late sucker heads that are still green and need the frost to kill them. We were finally able to get Mr. Paul Redmon, Monsanto Sales Representative, to come over last week to put out some demonstration plots using Roundup to control Bindweed and Johnsongrass. However, the dry weather had caused these plants to practically dry-up and stop growing. Therefore, it would have been useless to attempt to show a good control method under these conditions. These demonstrations will be put out next year when the conditions are right for good control.

Roundup, although it is expensive and cost over $60 per gallon, has the potential to control a lot of troublesome weeds and grasses. Homeowners will find a lot of uses like killing out unwanted bermuda grass in gardens and flower beds. In fact, I have a little that I can use on some green, growing bermuda grass or bindweed anytime before frost. If you have some problem spots and want some way of killing the unwanted perennial weeds or grass without killing the soil, let me know at 669-7429.

PEACH TREE BORER TREATMENT: The peach tree borer is the most destructive pest of peach trees in Gray County. The borers feed near the soil line between the bark and wood often fridling the cambium layer of the tree. When this occurs, the tree soon dies because all water and nutrients are transferred from the roots to the leaves through the cambium layer. The best way to determine if a peach tree is infested by these borers is to inspect the trunk of the tree at the soil line. When large masses of gum which contains a brown sawdust like material is found at the base of the tree, peach tree borers are present. Peach trees should be inspected several times each year to determine if control measures are needed for this pest. These borers can be controlled by an application of paradichloro-benzene crystals applied around the base of the tree during the period of October 20th to November 15th. The use of these crystals in the proper manner will, in most cases, eliminate the infestations. The crystals should be applied when the soil is dry and

by Joe Van Zandt

these mixtures must be used with care. Areas that need fertilization, such as flower beds and gardens, could be damaged by the herbicide, depending on what is growing there or what will be planted there later. Proper application rates are more important when applying a herbicide than when fertilizer only is applied.

Two other effective pre-emergence herbicides are atrazine and simazine, but these are labelled for use only in fertilizer mixtures. Never apply fertilizers containing atrazine or simazine near young trees or ornamentals or injury may occur. Unless there is rain soon after herbicide application, the lawn should be watered thoroughly to carry the herbicide down into the soil to contact weed seeds.

Before buying and using a herbicide, check the label for the exact rate and specific weeds and grasses to be controlled as well as precautions for use.

THE HUGE CHRIST of the Andes that stands on the mountain frontier between Chile and Argentina, is a symbol of peace between the two countries. And to dramatize that point, it was cast in bronze that was obtained from cannon that had been used by the soldiers of Chile and Argentina.

Set a little dough aside regularly by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.
Before you know it, you'll have a nice batch of U.S. Savings Bonds.
Now give the Bonds a little time to rise. (Don't worry about the Bonds burning. Or being lost. Or stolen. They're guaranteed.)
Remove when needed.
Serve with retirement. Or for a college education. A new car. Or almost anything.
So if you need a little extra bread for your future, join the Payroll Savings Plan.
It's a safe and easy way to save. No matter how you slice it.
