Labels On Return Speeds Up Return

Taxpayers can receive their refunds faster by using the preaddressed peel-off label on their returns, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The label, which appears on the cover of the tax package mailed to taxpayers, lists name, address and social security number.

The IRS emphasized that if any information on the label is incorrect, the taxpayer should make corrections right on the label.

Married taxpayers filing a joint return should check to see that two social security numbers appear on the label. If only one social security number is shown, the other spouse's number should be entered on the appropriate line.

According to the IRS, taxpayers can also ensure a faster refund by mailing their return in the coded envelope also included with the tax package.

If two drinking glasses are stuck, one inside the other, fill the inner glass with cold water and the outer with hot. They will come apart easily and unbroken.

Gimmicks Can Trick Consumers

Consumers can be better buyers by learning to identify examples of "puffery" in advertising.

Some ads play on an emotional appeal or make confusing claims that may not be useful when trying to make a rational purchase. It may be hard to distinguish "puffery" from hard facts necessary for informed purchase decisions.

Watch for words like "comparable value" or "compare-at." Products may be compared with similar but not identical items sold in other stores. Before buying, check the real price and quality of a comparable item.

Beware of "buy three-get one free" or "two for the price of one." The honest dealer offers a legitimate deal, but the unfair seller may raise the regular price of the item, eliminating or reducing any savings on the free item.

Special offers are another way consumers can be misled by advertising. One technique is the bait and switch game. The dishonest seller will offer a popular item at a very low price to get shoppers into the store. Once the consumer has taken the bait and is inside the store, the seller informs him that the advertised item is all sold or not really what the consumer wants.

The switch comes in trying to persuade the consumer to buy a higher-priced item--the one the store really wanted to sell in the first place.

Merchants can legally call attention to a more expensive item as long as they give the choice of buying the advertised

The concert will be held at 8:30 p.m. with a classical guitar workshop being held at 11 a.m. Both will be conducted in the Concert Hall/Theater of the Fine Arts Complex, said Ann Graves, director of AC student development.

Eddy, who has attained international recognition, has performed in Spain, Mexico, Italy, England, United States, Cyprus and the Soviet Union, where he gave 50 concerts in two months.

After eight years in Apsin, he returned to the United States where he gave the first U. S. performance of the Dodgson Concerto, with the Shreveport Symphony

Eddy earned a performer's degree from the Madrid Conservator of Music in three years, although that degree normally requires eight years to complete.

"The artist's facility is enhanced by both natural and developed physical gifts. The right thumb is virtually as long as a finger, and the web from thumb to forefinger is sheer muscle," said Robert Douglass of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"Eddy is a master of the guitar and an exceptional musician by any standards, with a delicacy of tone and a sensitivity of phrasing which convince his audience that the guitar is a major concert instrument," said Maurice de Vica of the Tulsa Daily World.

Eddy's appearance is the third in the fourth annual Amarillo College Fine Arts Series.

Cotton Market Show Improvement

Cotton market activity showed a little improvement over last week. Inquiries continued to be light, but demand was reported good, and bid prices increased about 200 points over the levels of a week ago.

Average prices on better quality lots ranged from 58.00 to 59.00 cents per pound. Lots ranging mostly in Spotted grades and lower White grades brought 54.00 to 55.00 cents per pound. Tinged grades were around 51.00 to 51.50 cents per pound.

About 1600 samples were classed by the Altus Classing office from the Memphis Classing Territory counties for the week ending Jan. 24. This brought the season total for the area to 211,500 samples, compared with 188,000 samples classed by the same date last year. It is believed that classings from the Memphis Territory counties are now at least 99 per cent complete.

Grades of cotton classed during the past week from Memphis Territory counties were eight per cent White, 56 per cent Light Spotted, 25 per cent Spotted, and nine per cent Tinged. The season summary indicated 17 per cent in the White grades, 50 per cent Light Spotted, and 33 per cent Spotted. The predominant grades for the season were 32 with 23 per cent, and 42 with 27 per cent. Season average staple length was 31.1, with the breakdown showing Staple 30 with 21 per cent, Staple 31 with 51 per cent, and staple 32 with 22 per cent. Two per cent was 29 and shorter, and four per cent 33 and longer. Percentage distribution of Mike readings for the season showed 79 per cent in the 3.5 to 4.9 range. Ten per cent was in the low mike ranges, and eleven per cent in the high mike ranges. Pressley strength averaged 84,000 per square inch for the season. Predominant ranges were 75 to 79 thousand psi with 33 per cent.

McLean News

When you invite a visitor into your home, it's usually someone whom you know and like to be around.

But there's one visitor you seldom see and don't want even though you provide him with the run of your home and all the comforts which you enjoy. That visitor, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, is the rat.

Just as surely as if by invitation, you welcome the rat into your home by providing harborage and food--the two necessary ingredients for infestation of any premises. This may come as a surprise to most persons, since Texas and the United States have long prided themselves on being highly sanitized.

But, let's take a look at the problem to determine whether you may be guilty of encouraging rats.

A rat must have food to exist. If you have a cat, dog or other pet and overfeeding it--leaving scraps around--the rat can survive quite well. Grain is another standard diet of rats and mice. What about that bird feeder? It is constructed so that grain spills out the ground or placed that a rat can climb onto it? And how about your garbage can? Is the lid tight, or does it fit loosely? Do you always keep the lid on the can?

The answers to these questions may give you a clue as to why there are rats around.

Now, for the harborage requirement.

Rats take up residence in sewers, in piles of junk and lumber, in heaps of boxes and leaves, in storage sheds, in the attic or under your house. Have you heard strange noises in your walls or attic? It could be rats scampering around.

With winter upon us, rats are more prone to seek shelter in the warmth of someone's home. You'd be surprised just how little space they need to squirm through a hole--around a water or gas pipe or ventilator duct--and get into your home. If the hole isn't big enough, they'll enlarge it with their sharp teeth. Then they'll head for your kitchen pantry.

In addition to health hazards from rats, which transmit many diseases, rats love to chew on things, including electric wires which produce short circuits and fires.

Texas participates in rat reduction programs, and many cities have rodent control activities through Modell Cities Programs. Local health department direct programs in other cities. The Public Health Education Division and General Sanitation Division of the Texas Department of Health Resources cooperate in offering help in insect and rodent control.

A rodent control school was just completed in Amarillo and may be the forerunner of others in the state. And, the City of Brownsville, through its Health Department, has conducted an extensive rodent control program. These are but examples of the activities being conducted throughout Texas.

And you as an individual can take a big step in rat control by taking

Photography Exhibit Scheduled At Amarillo College

The Amarillo College Photography Department will sponsor a traveling exhibition of photographs by Rosamond Wolff Purcell Jan. 31 through Feb. 23.

The exhibition will be on display in the lobby on the second floor of the Technology building on the Washington Street campus.

The exhibit is composed of 40 enlargements from Polaroid Land Film negatives," said Robert Hirsch, photography instructor at AC.

Mrs. Purcell has worked exclusively with Polaroid materials since her involvement with photography in 1969.

Portfolios of her work appeared in "Ms. Magazine," "Petersen's Photographic" and "Modern Photography." A book with 70 images by Mrs. Purcell has been published entitled, "A Matter of Time."

away harborage and food.

Rats now share the dwelling places of 12 million Americans and bite 14,000 of them every year.

Rats have made sections of every major city their own, and now they've headed toward the suburbs.

One of the invaders is the Norway rat, also called the brown rat, house rat, barn rat, sewer rat and wharf rat. This species is highly destructive and prolific and accepts human beings as part of his environment. He also is aggressive. The Norway rat likes nothing better than to use the works of man for food, shelter and warmth.

Technology is partly to blame for the increase of this rat. Sewers are the rodent's haven and his highway. New products like the home garbage disposal are the nicest things that ever happened to him, pouring out a bountiful and well-balanced food supply. The high-protein content characterized by more affluent neighborhoods is particularly enticing.

At least 300 U. S. cities have critical rat problems today and almost as many communities need help. In many large cities, rat-infested buildings have increased sharply.

A Department of Health Resources rodent expert sums it all up: "We know we can go in and kill rats," he says. "But for an all-out effort, homeowners must take away the food and harborage."

Mary Martha Class Has Meeting

By Lucille Cullison

The Mary Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Joe Bidwell for their meeting and class social.

Mrs. Newt Barker, president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Buell Wells offered the opening prayer.

Mrs. Bonnie Bidwell, hostess, called Mrs. Margaret Chapman on the phone, one of the class members who is ill and each member present talked with Mrs. Chapman and wished her their best wishes and to soon be well.

An inspiring devotion was brought by Mrs. Verna Hudgins. Her topic was "Love for one Another" from Proverbs 10:17.

Mrs. Bonnie Bidwell was in charge of the interesting fun and guessing games, which were enjoyed by everyone.

Class members having birthdays were Mrs. Mildred Mantooth and Mrs. Nora Moore. The class sang Happy Birthday to them and presented them with their birthday cakes from their secret pals.

Refreshments of birthday cakes, crisp sandwiches, date cookies, mints, hot punch, and coffee were served to Mesdames Loree Barker, Bea Lester, Margaret Wells, Verna Hudgins, Pearl Larner, Mildred Mantooth, Nora Moore, Clara Maude Hupp, Lucille Cullison, Lillie Mae Williams, Mary Lou Thockmorton, Levie Smith, visitor, Vera Young and the hostess, Bonnie Bidwell.

Highway Littered With Bunnies

A Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game warden recently made an unusual litter case on two Rockwall County youths.

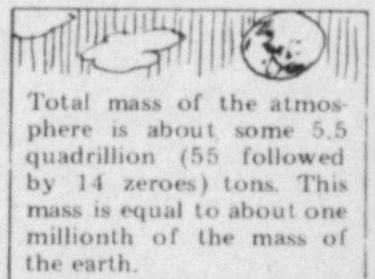

Warden Gary Tarpley cited the 18 year-olds for throwing some 30 dead cotton-tailed rabbits from the window of a car over a 3/4 mile span of highway.

The incident was reported to Tarpley and upon confronting the boys they confessed to the deed. Judgement by a local justice of the peace is pending for littering the state highways.

Under the state law, the cotton-tailed rabbit is not considered a game animal and there is no bag or possession limit, although a hunting license is required to hunt the animals out of the county of hunter's residences.

RECORD YEAR FOR BEEF INDUSTRY ---

Many records relating to the beef industry were set during 1976, says a beef cattle marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For instance, commercial cattle slaughter was at a new high of 43 million head, commercial beef production was at a new high of 25 billion pounds, beef consumption set a new record of 128 pounds per person, calf slaughter at about 5 million head was the second highest since 1968, average retail prices for Choice beef were the second highest in history, and the farm-to-retail

The only sure enough sinner is the man that congratulates himself that he doesn't sin.

A lazy man is of no more use than a dead one and for sure. He just takes up more room. Fences are for those who cannot fly.

The man who isn't anybody and has no enemies has never done anything.

Easy rests the head that wears a crown of honest thought.

Do your work with your whole heart and you may succeed. At least you will have little competition.

I believe that every person needs a good compliment now and then. It does take a pretty steady head to be able to hear a compliment -- take it with a grain of salt... "THE DEVIL LAUGHS..."

To hear a man say he doesn't have money to give to the Lord, while he breaks open another pack of cigarettes... To hear a family making plans to be out of town on Sunday and in a place where no church meets... To hear a family planning a week-end without planning to attend worship services... To witness a family getting out of bed too late to attend Bible School on Sunday morning... To hear a Christian say, "I can't" when he or she has never tried... To hear a Christian criticize the work program outlined by the elders of the church... To hear a sinner say, I'm not ready to become a Christian...

First Year Is Learning Experience

When Claudia Mae Brown graduated from College last May, she didn't realize that her education had just started but now, after going to Dumas and handling her first assignments as coach of both volleyball and girls basketball, she openly admits to her learning experience.

Enjoyment for the first year coach comes on a busy schedule which saw her--at the beginning of the school year as head coach of the girls volleyball team at Dumas high school and now finds her as junior varsity coach at Dumas High school, head freshman girls coach and assistant in the seventh and eighth grade girls basketball programs.

And she even manages to work in one class of physical education every day.

The Dumas coaching Miss is a 1970 graduate of McLean High school and attended Clarendon Junior College for a year and a half before going back to McLean to work for a year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Smith.

Following that she transferred her credits to Texas Tech where she changed from a business major to her physical education major.

While at college, Miss Brown led an active life as well.

At Dumas high school this year she carries over a small bit of her college days by helping take on sponsorship of the Dumas High school rodeo club.

After the basketball season wraps up, Miss Brown plans to take on the head coaching duties of the girls track program as well.

Consumers Tips For Celery Buying

One way to choose the freshest celery in the market is to listen for the "best talker."

Pick up a crisp-looking stalk of celery, squeeze it gently and listen to it talk back. The louder the noise is, the better quality the celery will be.

This vegetable is a crisp, low-calorie nibbling treat. One large outer stalk (eight inches long) contains only about seven calories, while one cup diced uncooked celery has only 18 calories.

When shopping for celery look for bunches that are medium in length, with well-formed hearts, solid and brittle to give a crunchy snap, smooth inside, fresh appearance with green leaves.

Celery is perishable. It needs a cold, moist storage place in a film bag or in a crisper and refrigerator. Use within a week for best flavor and quality.

When preparing celery do not discard any through the garbage disposal. This is one of the few vegetables that can clog a disposal. Save the leaves for soup or stew.

EDITORIAL

by Judith Bentley

People all over America this week have been arguing over the subject of President Jimmy Carter's pardoning of draft evaders. I think if a person wants to be a citizen of this country, he should be ready to fight for it in time of warfare. Will there be anyone left to fight in time of war if draft dodgers are excused?

Although I have strong feelings against this pardon, I have the foresight to see that there are some cases that might be excusable.

We need to stop and examine the things we are saying. Do our words and feelings reflect the portrait of the American citizen?

Eighteenth marks the end of the second quarter, 21st is a teachers' workday, and the 22nd is the beginning of the third and final quarter of the school year.

AG CREDIT TIGHTEN-ING IN TEXAS---Agricultural credit condi-tions are tightening up a bit in Texas, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Ex-tension Service. Ac-cording to a survey of agricultural lenders, more potential farm loan customers could not be served, loan re-payments were lower, and more collateral was being required during the past six months.

During the past year, ag-ricultural loans have been larger, the number of farmers and ranchers served was up, and the demand was up for oper-ating loans, machinery loans and crop loans but down for feeder cattle loans. Interest rates were down two-tenths to three-tenths per cent.
