$1 Million Flood Control Project Nears Completion

Channel Improvement Job Gets Semi-Final Inspection Soon

One of the first to be completed under Public Law 566, the Johnson Draw watershed flood control project, which is destined to protect the town of Ozona and downstream ranches from periodic devastation at the hands of this normally dry wash is near final completion this week.

A semi-final inspection of the channel improvement project through the town of Ozona is scheduled this week and after any minor finishing touches found necessary are made, the final acceptance of this work, done by Ford Allen, contractor, will mark the completion of the entire system of seven flood control dams and the channel improvement project.

Only remaining bit of further improvement will be the planting of the sloping banks of the newly carved channel through town to native grasses to prevent erosion.

The completion of the flood control system is the culmination of nearly five years of community effort and the expenditure of nearly a million dollars in government funds made available under the Small Watershed Control Act, known as Public Law 566. The effort toward protection from flood ravages from the stream began after the disastrous flood of June 28, 1954, when 16 lives were lost in Ozona and property damage estimated at 12 million dollars here and downstream resulted.

To speed the protection, Crockett county, after approval by the voters, issued $200,000 in bonds to pay the community's share in the expected cost. Later amendments to the law, made this sum (Continued on Last Page)

Shallow Wildcat Slated In Western Crockett Co.

Hoffman Bros. of San Angelo filed application to drill the No. 1-A H. B. Cox estate, as a 2,500-foot wildcat in Crockett county 10 miles northeast of Sheffield and one location east of the opener and lone producer of the B&H (Queen) field.

Location is 2,310 feet from the north and east lines of 38-G-G-HE&WT.

The discovery, Buchanan No. 1 Cox, was finalized Nov. 8, 1958, for a daily flowing potential of 88 barrels of 34 gravity oil, no water, through a 1/4-inch choke and perforations between 1,750-768 feet.

2-Year-Old Shot Through Stomach In Gun Accident

Lindsey Paul Hicks Battles For Life In S. A. Hospital

Lindsey Paul Hicks, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lin Hicks, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hicks of Ozona, was apparently winning his battle for life in a San Angelo hospital at mid-week after suffering a 22 calibre bullet wound through his stomach in an accidental shooting at the Hicks ranch in Terrell county between Sheffield and Dryden.

The boy was shot early Sunday night when he somehow caused a .22 calibre pistol to discharge while alone in his father's pickup truck at the ranch headquarters. The father, with Cy Banner, a neighbor, was unloading some barrels from the pickup while the baby remained inside the vehicle.

Neither man heard the shot and discovered the child's injury when he fell from the pickup and started toward his father holding his stomach and crying. Powder burns on his clothing revealed the shocking truth.

The child was rushed by car to the Crockett County Hospital where he was given emergency treatment before being taken to San Angelo for surgery.

Reports from the baby's bedside yesterday indicated he is making satisfactory progress toward recovery and attending physicians indicated that barring unexpected complications the child would recover.

Bill Ivy, Former Ozonan Dies Of Heart Attack In Los Angeles

Mr. Ivy had been visiting a son in Los Angeles for about ten days when he was stricken. He made his home with a sister in Alice, Texas. Funeral services were held in Los Angeles.

Surviving are three sons, one daughter and three sisters.

21 Hopefuls Out For High School Baseball Squad

Lion Nine To Open '59 Season With Rankin On June 4th

By Ernie Boyd

Twenty-one candidates for the Ozona High School baseball team reported to Coach Brooks Dozier last Friday as they began work toward their opening game June 4th with Rankin.

A small number of the reporting group have some Pony league experience in addition to their little league time and from these boys the core of the team is expected to come.

Dizzy Reeves and Bobby Sutton appear to be the most experienced members of the pitching staff with Van Miller and Carl Montgomery both rating as hard throwers shy of experience.

Scotty Moore, David Sikes, Muggins Good, and the pitcher not in use will make the infield at the start with several other candidates seeking to dislodge them.

The outfield is more unsettled with only Jim Freeman seeming to have a place nailed down.

Coach Dozier pointed out that these positions were tentative and that hitting and desire are two things that he will be seeking.

Wet grounds, rain, and school activities have hampered work so far with drills not expected to get on an every day basis until late this week or next Monday.

Ranges On Recovery Road Thanks To Fine Rains Of Recent Days

Crockett county pasture lands are booming back on the recovery road thanks to fine and recurring rains which the month of May has brought to the area.

A general fall averaging about an inch, the slow falling, soaking kind, visited the past week-end as follow-up to rains a week before ranging from an inch to three and four inches, the latter falls to the south of Ozona.

A thunderstorm and showers brought additional moisture to scattered areas Wednesday of this week. The rainfall was fairly light in Ozona but heavier falls were indicated in all directions as heavy clouds rolled up to cause intermittent interruptions of electric service in Ozona throughout the morning.

A special price of $2 per animal will be charged for the vaccinations, hours will be from 8 to 5 Friday.

Dr. Redden's home and office is at 1001 Eleventh street, across the street from the Church of Christ and just back of the Dairy King. He will have hospital facilities for both large and small animals.

Two Ozona Volleyball Girls Named To State All-Tournament Team

By Ernie Boyd

Two members of the Ozona girls volleyball team were named to the state all-tourney team in class A last week, according to information forwarded to Ozona coach Barbara Tuggle.

Edna Garza and Alleane Young received gold volleyballs from the tourney directors in recognition of having been chosen to the all-tourney team. Miss Young is the only senior on the Ozona squad and played set-up while Miss Garza, a junior, played spiker for the Ozona team.

The Ozona team won the western half of the district by downing Big Lake and then won their way into regional play by whipping Junction decisively.

The Ozona team won the regional title, downing Ralls in the finals and then moved to Abilene where they won two and lost one to win runner up spot in the state meet.

Bobby Sutton Signs Letter Of Intent To Baylor

All-State Halfback To Study Law At Baptist University

By Ernie Boyd

Bobby Sutton, Ozona's all-state halfback and a regular for the Lions for the past four years, signed a letter of intent to attend Baylor University this week.

The Ozona athlete has been contacted by all of the Southwest Conference schools in addition to a number of smaller colleges in this area.

Coach Hayden Fry of Baylor and former Ozona all-state quarterback signed Sutton in Ozona this week after the Ozona senior visited on the Baylor campus last weekend.

During the visit to the Waco campus Sutton met the new Baylor coach, Frank Bridger, and other members of the new Baylor staff and said after returning from Waco that he was very much impressed with the Baylor staff and the school.

Sutton signed the regular Southwest Conference form letter of intent with a four year scholarship at Baylor being the main point of interest on Sutton's side. Sutton plans to pursue a course of study leading to a law degree from Baylor.

Southwest Conference schools furnish room, board, books, and tuition, plus a small sum for laundry, on athletic scholarships under conference regulations. Sutton, while small as far as college backs go, runs with a great deal of power, and is an able kicker and passer having shown best in high school when used in spread and wing formations.

"SOAPY" STILL DAZZLED

Walter Reuther, we hear, has lost faith in Michigan's Governor "Soapy" Williams — now that this bizarre executive has managed, with the active aid of Economist Reuther, to bankrupt the motor state. Nor does he consider the nominal author of the Kennedy labor bills as America's gift-heaven. While, in his latest reported preview, the Boston rich boy will be fine for the number two spot, either Minnesota's Hubert Humphrey or Illinois' Paul H. Douglas might draw more flies as the Front Man.

This shifting of Mr. Reuther's admiration does not seem to disturb Governor Williams any more than the fiscal collapse of Michigan. In fact, it might appear that Soapy aspires to even more impressive misadventures. For instance, he journeyed into Toronto recently to urge upon a Canadian audience that the US kick in three billion dollars a year above the $3.9 billion President Eisenhower has asked for foreign aid next year. This added amount would be the US share in a $5 billion UN boondoggle among "underdeveloped" countries.

Not having heard the speech, we can't help wondering if he mentioned what Michigan's share of this golden shower would be, also whether he's still planning on being President.

A Personal Message To All With A Hearing Problem . . .

TIRED OF CUPPING YOUR EARS?

... of wearing a hearing aid with uncomfortable wires, unsightly hair bands or loops in or behind your ears? Then see me. All I'll take from you is 10 to 15 minutes of your time, during which I'll prove that you need not suffer the misery, anguish and social discomforts of the partially deaf. Without any charge to you . . . without any future obligation on your part . . . I'll show you how you can enter a new world of sound virtually free from the irritating "background" noise usually associated with ordinary hearing aids. And I'll do this without putting any "antennas" in your hair, microphones in your clothes or wires on your neck. A tiny, almost invisible tube leads to the ear. Your key to this new world of sound is the Oticon Listener — a revolutionary electronic development which features exclusive "Target Hearing" — the latest discovery to natural hearing. Through Target Hearing you get wanted sounds with amazing clarity, while the unwanted clutter of background sounds which usually disturb the wearer of an ordinary hearing aid are greatly reduced. The Oticon Listener's "Target Hearing" principle is so revolutionary that it has been granted the first U.S. Patent on an invisible hearing aid with hearing completely at ear level. Oticon Listener "Target Hearing" is used and endorsed by such famous personalities as Sir Winston Churchill and Perry Belmont's mother, Mrs. Stacey Belmont.

We are now offering you our new model of Oticon Listener — the most revolutionary hearing aid yet developed. It is the only hearing aid that is completely invisible and does not require any wires or connections to the ear.

HELP!!

STILL A GOOD IDEA

President Eisenhower reiterated to his press conference that "this country is hurting itself by too much spending." A balanced budget was, he said, "the minimum target." He thought that "we ought to be paying off something on our debt. If we could have these surpluses," he said, and begin gradually, even a little at a time, reducing this debt, we would . . . be cutting down our expenditures for interest." He expressed the hope that the interest item could be kept to $8,100,000,000.

This sounds like the 1952 Eisenhower. It also brings to mind the possibility that Congress was hasty in passing that no-third-term law. Just possibly, he might be better able to swing the axe the third time around — if it were not for his enthusiasm over foreign aid, school aid, plenty of Government workers to ovate for visiting foreign dignitaries, extra-fancy knick-knacks like the Air Forces Academy and atomic reactors.

QUESTIONS

Bob's out (nearly)!

School's out!

What the teachers are running about!

Yup! Here it is time for school to close again! Needless to say everyone is happy.

The teachers are running for one of two reasons. They are: to keep from being run over by the students and to get out quick before Mr. Sikes or Mr. Pelto calls a meeting.

Friday night Becky Davidson gave a supper for the seniors. From all accounts it was real fun!

Speaking of seniors, as if anyone talked about anything else, they all returned safe and sleepy from their trip. I hear the water was rather expensive out there. How about it, kids?

The sponsors all came back in one piece and with some wild tales about how nicely everyone behaved. The seniors came back saying for the perfect sponsors, get ours. Congratulations goes to Mr. Moody, Miss Tuggle, Mr. Barber.

Well, enough of the seniors. Let's see what the underclassmen are up to.

Frances Childress and Susie Chandler (I thought we were through with seniors) went to San Angelo to the rodeo Friday. They must like rodeos, sun glasses and some crazy little habits they seem to have acquired.

Ann D., June B., and Camille A. were all slightly sunburned Monday morning. It seems they stayed out in the sun too long or something like it.

Say Jim, count ten and always remember — if you don't succeed the third time, take it to a garage! Poor Jim D. had car trouble Saturday night. Isn't that right Bob?

Jim isn't the only one who has car trouble. Mr. Leath has some, too. Except he sat and watched 'em.

Saturday, we had a group of picknickers roaming the county. No one knows exactly who they were.

FAREWELL

With this issue of The Lions Roar, your newspaper staff signs off to another year of hard but satisfactory work. Throughout the school year we have tried to publish the latest and most newsworthy events involving our school and its students. Now that we have reached the end of our year's work we ask only that you forgive us those errors we know we have made. And we hope that you have enjoyed our efforts in the field of journalism as much as we have enjoyed making them. Until next September, adios to each and all of you.

THE TEENAGER'S CHALLENGE

It seems we're ever striving day by day;

New goals are set as old ones fade away.

And that as we descend the highest hill,

Before us rises one that's steeper still.

Ambition must not die as one's job's done,

But has to venture forth to a new one.

More eager each new problem to attack.

that will sustain them in today's world." And I said, "What children? And what faith?" Then I seemed to see all the children of the world marching single file across the sky.

White children and black children, well-dressed children and ragged children whose language I could not understand, happy children and frightened children, children in homes and children without homes, safe children and wandering children, playing children and watching children, children with wide open spaces and children crowded like rats in a warren, children in trailer parks and migrant camps, children in mushroom communities, children in dying communities, refugee children, unwanted children, children born and children spawned, handicapped children and sick children, the mentally retarded, the children and hard-eyed children, the children I know and the children I have passed by.

All these children passed single file across my vision, and the children of my own community were among them — everyone.

And I said, "O Lord, all these children? Think not in a mass, but one by one of all the children of your community and of all the world until your mind grows tired, counting them and your heart grows sore thinking about them. Think!

And a voice said, "For all children there is the right to a faith that will sustain them in today's world."

And I said, "What faith?" And the heavens seemed to open and the voice replied, "Faith in goodness, faith in beauty, faith in honor, faith in love, faith in the eternal rightness of the universe, faith in Me, their God."

I listened, but the words did not satisfy me; I stirred indignantly. I cried, "How can they believe in beauty? Many have never seen beauty. Or in love, when some have never known love? How can they believe in honor, when today's world provides them with so many lessons in dishonor? Or in the eternal rightness of the universe, whose universe has betrayed them before they were born? Or in You, when they do not know you?"

The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman, May 22, 1930

A tax rate of 56 cents on the $100 valuation has been levied by the Commissioners Court of Crockett county to pay the interest and create a sinking fund sufficient to retire the $375,000 road bond issue approved recently.
 —news reel—
 Crockett county's drive on prairie dogs, which has been on for the past several months, has been brought to a successful conclusion. Landowners have spent nearly $5,000 in the project under direction of agents of the U. S. Biological survey, rodent control division, and as a result the county has been practically freed of the pest.

—news reel—
 Lois Alvin Deland, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Deland died Wednesday morning in a San Angelo hospital as a result of complications following a recent attack of measles.

—news reel—
 A deal was closed here Wednesday whereby John R. Johnson of Big Lake became the owner of the Wilson Motor Co., local Buick agency.

—news reel—
 Enlargement of the grandstand and addition of a big goat barn are among improvements that have been completed at the fair grounds here in preparation for the 1930 race meet, stock show and rodeo. Joe Pierce, Jr., president of the Association, announced this week.

—news reel—
 Thirteen graduates were awarded diplomas in graduation exercises here Friday night. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. W. T. Mather, head of the department of physics at the University of Texas.

ONE of the first major appropriations bills in connection with the new budget received House approval this week — and it made bad prophets of those who have contended that Congress intends to appropriate much more money than the Administration requests. Actually the House trimmed $125.5 million from the measure, the Independent Offices Appropriation Bill, which is for the purpose of funding operations of some 20 Federal agencies.

Of course, one robin does not make a summer; and depending on world developments, domestic conditions, politics and other factors, it is far too early to pass judgment on how the Congress will eventually treat the President's $77.8 billion budget. But from the actions of the Members in the last few days, and the fact that employment conditions in the nation have greatly brightened during the last month, the Congress certainly gives no indication of going absolutely spend-crazy.

History shows in fact, that in most cases Congress appropriates less money than the occupant of the White House requests, no matter who the President is nor his political persuasion. The most recent and striking example came two years ago when Congress lopped Mr. Eisenhower's requests by $5.3 billions.

Often the requests and money actually voted differ but little, and the money battles between the Legislative and Executive branches are fought not so much on total spending as on the allocation of funds or specific programs and projects.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has in an "asking" mood within recent days. He has asked Congress for:

- (1) An increase of one and one-half cents per gallon in the Federal gasoline tax; (2) a raise in first class postage rates from four to five cents; (3) prompt approval of U. S. participation in the $1 billion Inter-American Bank and Loan Fund (with U. S. share set at $450 million); (4) extension of the Federal Housing Administration's authority to insure some $6 billion in FHA home mortgages and (5) a balanced budget, reduced spending and a fight on inflation!

This week on Capitol Hill, people were talking about:

SMALL BUSINESS — SBA Administrator Barnes told a House Small Business Sub-Committee the 1958 Small Business Investment Company Act should be given a fair trial before any attempts are made to provide additional Government help.

MILITARY Construction — Senate Armed Services Committee approved a bill for $1.2 billion in military construction during fiscal 1960. It was $25 million less than approved by the House, $130 million less than President Eisenhower wanted.

TRANSPORTATION TAX — Senate Commerce Committee recommended repeal of the 10% Federal excise tax on passenger fares, but the action must start within the Senate Finance Committee, which has jurisdiction in the field.

TAX SUITS — Senate Judiciary Committee approved a bill intended to make it clear that a taxpayer who wins a suit against the Internal Revenue Director can charge court costs against the U. S. Government.

RENEGOTIATION — House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved a four-year extension, through June 30, 1963, of the Defense Contracts Renegotiation Act, to allow the Government to recover excess profits in connection with contracts over $1 million.

New Texas Highway Maps Now Available

Austin, Texas, May 10 — The new 1959 Official Highway Travel Map is now available for distribution by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the "travel encyclopedia" of Texas, as it has been called, may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or at the highway district offices and travel information bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The new map is the answer to today's demand for more and more travel information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over seven million just ten years ago to its present estimated population of more than nine million is reflected by the information appearing on the 1959 map.

Nine more cities and towns are shown than on last year's map, making a total of 1,821. The increased mileage in U. S. state, and farm-to-market roads is much in evidence. The map reflects some 1,600 miles of multilane divided highway now completed in Texas, including the completed sections of the National System of Interstate and Defense highways located in the state.

LT. and Mrs. Russell Cecala and daughters, Valerie and Barbara, who have been here several days visiting Mrs. Cecala's aunt, Mrs. Paul Gibbs, and other relatives, will leave this week for California where they will board a military transport for Japan where Lt. Cecala is to be stationed at Tachikawa Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Post are in Houston visiting their daughter, Mrs. Bob Bryant and family.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vera Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Between now and the middle of June the Legislature has only one goal to shoot at — getting the state "fiscally fit."

Gov. Price Daniel limited topics for the 30-day special session to (1) paying off the $65,000,000 deficit from the 1958-59 biennium, (2) passing an appropriation bill for 1960-61 and (3) passing a tax program to cover appropriations.

When these things are taken care of, the governor indicated he might submit such items as the Hale-Aikin school program and medical payments for the aged. He favors both these programs, said Governor Daniel, but believes in taking "first things first."

To cover these "first" needs, the governor is pushing a tax program very similar to what he proposed last January. This includes the "bookkeeping bill" (to cut down the deficit by crediting more money to this year), a 3 per cent severance tax on natural gas, a higher corporation franchise tax and the abandoned property bill, under which the state would take over unclaimed bank accounts and property.

HOPE springs eternal — Legislators are again asking the people for a pay raise — this time a more modest amount.

A proposed constitutional amendment, approved on the last day of the regular session, would give lawmakers an annual salary of $4,800. In addition, they would get $12 a day expense money for a 120-day session every other year.

Last November a proposal for annual salaries of $7,500 and annual sessions was decisively swatted down at the polls.

At present, both senators and representatives get $25 a day for a 120-day session plus $25 a day for each called session. It's a minimum total of $3,000 for two years when there are no special sessions. Under the new proposal, the minimum for two years would be $11,040. People will vote on this plan at the general election in November, 1960.

NEW LAWS — These changes in Texas' way of doing things result from bills passed in the final days of the regular session:

DRIVING an auto without the owner's permission becomes a felony offense. Under old law, to get a prison sentence, state prosecutors had to prove the person who took another's car intended to keep it. Maximum punishment under new law is three years in prison.

BOAT OWNERS will have to register their craft and pay a license fee after April, 1960. Bill also requires warning lights and other safety devices on boats and prohibits reckless boating and water skiing.

NON-English speaking children can receive three months preschool instruction in basic English at the expense of the public school system.

STATE INSPECTION of livestock at auctions was provided. An amendment to assess livestock owners for cost of the program, estimated at nearly a half-million a year, failed.

INTERIM STUDIES have been authorized for the investment of the Teachers Retirement Fund, laws governing formation of water districts, financing of the Board of Water Engineers and fees charged by state agencies.

ADVERTISING Prices as wholesale has been outlawed, unless the goods are intended for resale and a bona fide wholesale price is listed.

CALF-ROPING contests will be legal under a new law. Unknown to many people, they apparently were not legal before.

A STATE advertising program, under the joint direction of the State Highway Department and Texas Industrial Commission, was set up. An appropriation to get it going will have to come later.

16 SUCCESSORS to the governor were officially designated in a continuity of government bill passed to assure a living chief executive in event of atomic disaster.

CORN MEAL and grits must be enriched with vitamins and minerals if they are to be sold for human consumption.

ROAMING LIVESTOCK on state highways will be prohibited under a law to take effect in July, 1960.

PENSIONS of $80 a month were voted for some 100 former Texas Rangers and widows.

Foundation Head Raps Failure Of Americans to Get Salk Polio Shots

New York, — The negligence of a great segment of the American people in failing to take advantage of the Salk vaccine was termed a "national disgrace" by Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation (originally "for Infantile Paralysis"), in a statement issued on the eve of the fourth anniversary of licensing of the vaccine.

Medical scientists announced on April 12, 1955, at Ann Arbor, Michigan, that the great field trial of the previous year had clearly shown that the Salk vaccine was "safe, effective and potent" — that it would prevent paralytic polio.

"Despite the fact that for four years there has been a vaccine that protects against paralysis from polio, there still are 88 million Americans who have not used it," Mr. O'Connor said.

"The existence of this appalling number of unvaccinated Americans, including six million children under five years of age — at a time when there is ample polio vaccine and the surplus is spoiling on the shelves — is a poor commentary on our intelligence as a people," the March of Dimes leader declared.

Sorghum alnum, a tall grass that will grow in most of Texas, is discussed in a new leaflet released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, titled, "Sorghum Alnum."

Sorghum alnum, a hybrid between Johnson grass and a sorghum, is a short-lived perennial similar in appearance to Johnson grass. It has wider leaves, larger stems, longer and more spreading heads, and the first-year growth is taller than Johnson grass or Sudan grass.

The primary use of sorghum alnum is as a grazing crop. The larger stems make it more difficult to cure for hay than Johnson grass. Sorghum alnum has one distinct advantage over Sudan grass as a temporary summer pasture crop — it makes better regrowth and produces more grazing in late summer and fall. It appears to be more drought tolerant than Sudan or Johnson grass, particularly on sandy soils.

Although a perennial type plant, survival the second and third growing seasons have been erratic. In view of past experience, it will have to be considered an annual grazing crop, or at least a weak perennial for use as temporary pasture, said E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Iron chlorosis, a condition of lawn grass and ornamentals characterized by yellow or bleached leaves due to iron deficiency, was favorably combatted with powdered iron chelate about 85 per cent of the time in 78 demonstrations conducted in Texas last year.

Demonstrations were conducted in various areas of the state in soils ranging from sands to clays and from acid to alkaline.

"The problem is usually associated with soils high in lime, but sometimes occurs on acid soils," explained W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. "Nitrogen deficiency symptoms are similar to those of iron chlorosis and home owners should make sure nitrogen needs are met before treating for iron deficiency."

Mild cases of the deficiency may be corrected with dry applications of iron sulphate, Bennett said. More severe cases on lawn grasses usually require treatment with iron applied as a spray, since it is generally more effective in this form.

Iron chelates are generally more effective and give longer lasting effects than iron sulphates. Manufacturers directions for use of the chelates should be followed carefully. Suggested rates vary with the plant being treated and the condition of the soil.

Treatment about every four to six weeks may be necessary to maintain the desired color in areas where the problem is common or severe, Bennett said.

Texas is a prolific producer, but a poor consumer, of lamb and mutton. The 5.2 million sheep and lambs on Texas farms and ranches in January 1957 consisted 17 per cent of the 31 million in the U.S. and were almost twice that of California, the next largest producer.

However, only about 16 per cent of the U. S. consumption of lamb and mutton is consumed in Texas, which ranks thirty-second among the states in consumption per person. The average Texan consumes less than one-third as much lamb and mutton as the average consumer in the U. S. The consumption per person in Texas was 1.4 pounds compared with 4.5 for the nation in 1954.

Many people ask, "How do I know which is the right kind of 2,4,-D and 2,4,5-T to use for brush and weed control?" There are too many different chemical trade names to list them, so only the chemical make-up of the 2,4,-D and 2,4,5-T will be discussed. These two growth regulator herbicides are made primarily in liquid forms as either the ester or amine.

The amine form is made with a salt base and does not vaporize readily. Amines are generally safer to use near susceptible crops than the esters. The amine should be used to control weeds where tender grass seedlings are found as it does not seem to burn tender grass seedlings as much as the ester forms.

The esters are made with different types of alcohol as the bases and termed regulator or high volatile or low volatile esters. The high volatile esters volatilize readily even at relatively low temperatures. Many of the past crop damages have resulted because of vapor drifts from high volatile esters after application of the chemical. The vapors will drift from the sprayed areas for several days. The high volatile esters are: methyl, ethyl, isopropyl and butyl. These ester formulations should not be used for brush and weed control where crops are because the damage of vapor drift onto the susceptible crops is usually great.

The low volatile esters are made with heavy molecular alcohols that do not vaporize readily even in high temperatures. When an ester must be used, low volatile esters are much safer. The low volatile esters are butoxy-thoxypropyl, isocetyl, tetra-hydro-furfuryl, butoxy-ethyl and butoxy-propyl.

Brush and weed killers are sold and used on the poundage of 2,4,-D or 2,4,5-T per gallon. The cheapest brush and weed control is obtained when the chemical contains at least 4 pounds of acid equivalent per gallon.

unnecessary and the bonds were cancelled. The community, however, did put up an advance sum of $25,000 for the preliminary survey and engineering work which speeded ultimate completion of the project by at least one year. Yeoman work by Congressman J. T. Rutherford in Washington in getting the necessary last-minute amendments to the law and approval by Congress and the various administrative agencies before adjournment of Congress cleared the way for actual construction and saved at least another year of waiting.

Nearly two years of actual construction work went into the building of the dams, six on the main Johnson watershed north of Ozona and one on Gurley east of Ozona, a tributary which joins the main stream in the town, and the final step, the straightening, widening and levelling of the main channel through the city.
