Plan To Observe Birth Of County Evokes Interest

Novel Features Have Been Suggested For Occasion

Gathering momentum and increased interest as the days roll by is the proposal that Crockett County celebrate its fiftieth anniversary in July with a modest old-timers reunion for all the home folks, featuring a few festivities in which all citizens could join and enjoy.

The idea, broached a few weeks ago, has echoed back and forth favorably among a gradually increasing group of local leaders and there is expressed support for just such an occasion fashioned along lines not too elaborate.

One ranchman has suggested that there be roping contests for the old-timers comprising one class and the "youngsters" of today in another class. Of course, a few steers would have to be found for the old-timers to show the skill that "used to be."

Another "man about town" declared that the time would be ripe then for a domino tournament to determine the champion of Crockett County. Entries would be filed by would-be contestants so that the tournament could be run off in smooth style patterned after golf and tennis contests.

Practically everyone is in favor of holding a good old-fashioned barbecue in the park and one prominent ranchman has already opened the pot, so to speak, with a voluntary donation of $25.00.

Saddle horse races at the Fair Grounds in the afternoon has been suggested by a devotee of the "Sport of Kings" and this idea has gained much support. They would be held in conjunction with the roping contests.

One novel feature advanced by an Ozonan who is heartily in favor of having Crockett County citizen observed their county's founding, is that of staging an old-timer's parade with pioneers participating. This would be so scheduled as to open the day's festivities and no doubt the High School Band and Pep Squad would be asked to lead the parade.

It has been stated that the Crockett County Historical Society plans a simple and appropriate ceremony for the day in placing a marker on the Live Oak tree under which Judge Davidson and his official

Miss Norine Allison And Guinn Caruthers Wed In Dallas Tues.

Miss Norine Allison, former third grade teacher in the Ozona system, and Guinn Caruthers, manual training and science teacher in high school here, were to have been married Tuesday morning in Dallas, friends here were advised.

The couple went from Miss Allison's home in Melvin to Dallas, where they had made arrangements with the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, to perform the wedding rites. Rev. Slater is in Dallas attending a pastors' school at Southern Methodist University.

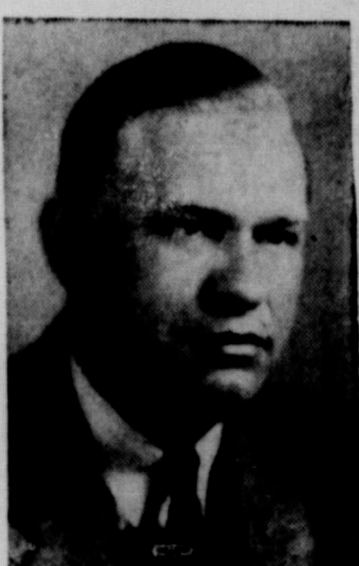

Mrs. Caruthers taught in the Ozona schools for ten years, coming here in 1930 and continuing as third grade teacher until the end of the 1939-40 term. She taught English in the Melvin High School last year. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Allison of Melvin and holds a B. A. degree from the University of Texas.

Mr. Caruthers, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Caruthers of Paradise, Texas, he has been a member of the faculty of Ozona High School since 1931. He is a graduate of North Texas State Teachers College at Denton, holding a B. A. degree from that institution, and receiving his M. A. degree from the University of Texas.

Kincaids Celebrate 53rd Anniversary Of Their Wedding Fri.

Tomorrow, Friday, June 27, will be another important day in the lives of the heads of one of Ozona's pioneer families.

The day will be the 53rd anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kincaid. Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with an open house at their home here in 1938 and friends from Ozona and all over West Texas came or sent warm messages of congratulations and good wishes.

The Kincaids were married in San Angelo June 27, 1888, by the Rev. A. E. Rector. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Drennan and was the first white child born on the Conchos. Hers was the first marriage of a native born San Angeloan. Mr. Kincaid was living in Bastrop at the time and the couple made their home there a few years before coming to Crockett county to make their home.

Ozonans Attending Paisano Girls Camp

Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Childers accompanied four Ozona girls the first of the week to the annual Paisano Girls Camp, being held on the site of the famous Paisano Baptist Encampment. Rev. Childers, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, is camp pastor.

Cooke's Clouters Hold Undisputed Lead In Softball

First Half Schedule Is Extended Into July By Delay

Cooke's Barbecuers, appearing regularly for combat duty, are making it rough on other contenders in the city softball league. The Cookies are far in the lead with six wins and but a single loss, for a percentage of .857.

In second place are the West Texas Utilities Kilowatts, with three wins and four losses for a percentage of .429. Williams and Humble teams are knotted for third position, with two wins and four losses and a percentage of .333 each.

Two weeks delay in the first half season schedule, occasioned by the spreading of new dirt on the playing field, will necessitate extending the schedule into July. The first half was originally slated to end July 4.

The new schedule for the balance of games in the first half will be as follows:

- June 26—Cooke vs. Utilities.
- June 27—Williams vs. Humble.
- June 30—Williams vs. Cooke.
- July 1—Utilities vs. Humble.
- July 3—Cooke vs. Utilities.
- July 4—Williams vs. Humble.
- July 7—Williams vs. Utilities.
- July 8—Humble vs. Cooke.
- July 10—Williams vs. Cooke.
- July 11—Utilities vs. Humble.

Truck Damaged By Fire After Crash

Fire seriously damaged a truck belonging to Arch Cooke, Ozona trucking contractor, following a collision between the truck and another vehicle on the highway near Dublin yesterday, according to advices received here. No details of the accident were available, but it was understood Mr. Cooke was not injured. He had gone to Fort Worth with a load of lambs and was returning to Ozona.

Delay Results In Drilling Of City Water Well

Failure of Equipment Causes Shut-Down Several Days

A broken drilling cable caused several days delay in drilling the new 13-inch water well on the water works property here and completion of the well to the depth at which water is expected to be encountered is anticipated by the end of this week, barring further delays, it was announced this week.

The well, by which administrators of the Water Control and Improvement District, created for the purpose of purchasing and operating the local water works system, hope to reach a water supply of sufficient strength to supply the town's needs through the use of a new centrifugal pump, was scheduled to have reached completion depth last week. Drillers of the well were forced to shut down to await delivery of the cable.

Drilling was resumed Tuesday afternoon from 320 feet, with an estimated 100 feet of hole yet to make. Wells on the water works hill from which Ozona's supply is now pumped, are approximately 420 feet deep.

If water is encountered, the new well will be tested for maximum strength by the drillers and if it is found sufficiently strong, the it will be equipped with modern motor driven pumping equipment of sufficient capacity to supply the town's needs from one well. However, the district board of directors plan to sink a second well nearby for emergency supply.

State Expects To Go Over Top In U.S.O. Drive

More Than Half Crockett Quota Has Been Subscribed

DALLAS, June 24 — More than 200 of the 254 Texas counties have entered the financial drive to raise the state's United Service Organizations quota of $400,000. E. B. Germany, regional chairman, announced here today. Many of the counties have oversubscribed their quotas and all congressional districts, with the possible exception of one, have accepted their quota and launched a militant campaign.

Frederick in Brazoria County, given a quota of $500 has oversubscribed this amount by $1,300, reporting a total of $1,800. Brazoria County was given a quota of $1,680 and the county chairman, Ben D. Cannan, reports that $2,500 or more will be the total to be subscribed by Brazoria. E. O. Taulbee, Bay City, is chairman for the 9th congressional district of which Brazoria County is a unit.

Edwin Locke, chairman, reports Anderson County as having gone over the top with its quota. Graham, in Young County, with a quota of $500, reports raising a total of $819.03, and Willbarger County has shovels its quota of $500 well past the goal. Silsbee and Kountze down in the big poll patch in Hardin County oversubscribed their quotas.

Germany said that he is bending every effort possible to bring about an oversubscription of the state quota by the night of July 4 at which time he hopes to report to Thomas E. Dewey, national campaign chairman in New York, that Texas places the USO 100 per cent back of the U. S. A.

More than half of Crockett County's quota of $414 has been subscribed, Scott Peters, local chairman, reports. Voluntary subscriptions are still coming in and the county's quota is expected to be oversubscribed before the deadline.

Mrs. Peter McNutt, Comstock Pioneer, Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Peter McNutt, 85, pioneer resident of the Comstock area and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Laura Hoover of Ozona, died at her home in Comstock Monday as the result of a heart attack, according to word received here by Mrs. Hoover.

Mr. McNutt, who had ranched in the Comstock area more than 25 years, died in Comstock last October. He was Mrs. Hoover's brother.

Mrs. McNutt had been in good health for the most part up to the attack Monday which resulted in her sudden death. Funeral services were held from the home in Comstock Tuesday, the body being buried beside that of her husband. Nine children, all living in the Del Rio and Comstock area, survive.

Mrs. Hoover was unable to attend the funeral services because of a slight illness the first of the week.

Lee Graves Is Victim Sleeping Sickness Attack

Seized On Pecos Ranch, Ozonan Recovering In San Angelo

Lee Graves of Ozona is in a San Angelo hospital recovering from an attack of what physicians diagnosed as sleeping sickness with which he was seized while at work on the A. C. Hoover Pecos County ranch this week.

Graves had been ill for several days and had been visiting a doctor in Fort Stockton for treatment. He lapsed into unconsciousness Tuesday morning and was rushed to the Stockton hospital where physicians diagnosed the attack as sleeping sickness. He was later removed to the San Angelo hospital where the diagnosis was confirmed and treatments begun immediately.

Heavy doses of the serum perfected to combat the disease were administered and the patient regained consciousness the following day. A violent skin rash and other disturbances resulted from administration of the serum, but the disease was believed definitely under control and physicians declared that no permanent ill effects would result. His condition yesterday was declared to be satisfactory.

Graves is believed to have contracted the disease through the bite of mosquitoes. Mode of transmission of the disease has not been definitely established, but it is thought to be transmitted through the bite of blood-sucking insects.

Mother Dunlap To Celebrate Her 83rd Birthday Tomorrow

Mrs. D. B. Dunlap, pioneer Crockett County resident, will celebrate her 83rd birthday tomorrow, Friday, June 27.

"Mother" Dunlap, as she is known to her children, grandchildren and friends alike, is celebrating a 50th anniversary this year along with Crockett County. She, with her husband, the late Davis Bell Dunlap, came to Crockett County in 1891 shortly before the county's organization and made their home here continuously since that time.

Mrs. Dunlap is a native of Alabama, the family moving to Texas and settling in Comanche County when she was a child. Her birthday tomorrow will be celebrated quietly with her children, all living here or in this area, to visit her. The children are three sons, Walter of Sheffield, Ray and Ernest of Ozona, and four daughters, Mrs. A. C. Hoover, Mrs. O. W. Smith, Mrs. Will Miller and Mrs. A. E. Deland.

Mrs. Taylor Word is visiting her mother and other relatives in San Marcos for a few weeks.

Heavy Vote Here Expected Sat. In Senatorial Race

Mounting Interest In Heated Campaign Is Predicted

Texas elects a United States Senator to represent this state in the upper house of the national legislature next Saturday.

A long list of candidates, representing Democratic, Republican, Independent and Communist parties, will appear on the official ballot for the special election, called to elect a Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Morris Sheppard.

Only four of the candidates out of the list, numbering 24 at the last available count, are conceded to have any chance of election. These candidates are Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Congressman Martin Dies of Orange and Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City. Of this quarter, the state's most astute political observers, hesitate to predict the winning candidate.

Although poll tax payments were off nearly one-third in Crockett county by reason of the fact that 1941 is an off-year politically, a surprisingly heavy vote is predicted by local observers in next Saturday's election. This prediction is based in part on the fact that eleven absentee ballots had been cast here when the deadline for absentee voting had passed Wednesday. A last-minute barrage of campaign thunder by the principal candidates, too, is expected to whip mounting interest in the race to white hot heat before the voting Saturday. Polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. All voters otherwise qualified and who paid poll taxes before the February 1 deadline are eligible to vote.

The Ozona voting place will be in the district courtroom as usual, with E. B. Baggett, Jr., as presiding judge. Election supplies have been sent to all voting precincts in the county, according to County Clerk George Russell, and election officials are reportedly in readiness in these precincts to open the polls to voters of their respective areas. Voting will be at the usual polling places of Howard Well ranch, Kinser ranch, Owens ranch, George Thompson ranch, Powell field and the Pecos Valley Power and Light Co. plant.

Machinery For Registration Set For July 1

All Men Reaching 21 Since Oct. 16 Must Be Registered

Next Tuesday, July 1, has been designated by proclamation of President Roosevelt as America's second "R Day".

Every man in the nation who has attained the 21st anniversary of the day of his birth subsequent to October 16, 1940, and before midnight July 1, 1941—with a few specific exceptions made by Congress—must register with his local Selective Service board on July 1.

Aliens as well as American citizens, who are 21 years old on July 1, must be registered. Selective Service officials have pointed out. Aliens between the ages of 21 and 36 years, who have come to the United States since the first registration on October 16, 1940, and have not been registered, must appear before local boards on July 1 to register.

Exceptions to the registration order apply to men in the armed forces, officers reserve corps, cadets and midshipmen in the military and naval academies, etc. Provisions have been made for

ANONYMOUS LETTER . . .

Writers of anonymous letters do not deserve the dignity of a reply. In the first place, one is inclined to suspect irresponsible statements from one who has not the courage of his convictions to come out in the open and state them; and in the second place, a person who is cowardly enough to hide behind the cloak of anonymity would scarcely be expected to have a great deal of respect for the noble quality of truthfulness.

But when an unjustified attack is made, even by one who sneaks about in the nameless darkness, upon persons who are making a personal sacrifice to serve their country in these perilous times and doing it to the best of their abilities, then, in justice to the people of the community being served and to those attacked as well, some kind of retort is justified.

Inspiration for these comments comes from an anonymous letter mailed from Ozona recently to the state Selective Service headquarters in Austin, a copy of which has been mailed to the local board. Charges ranging from favoritism to bribery in administration of the Selective Service law in this county are made in the letter. A lot of misinformation is apparent in the letter as well as lack of information, and gossip is liberally quoted with "It is the boast here" and "I have repeatedly heard it stated."

A defense of the local draft board against these charges, we believe, is unnecessary. Most Ozonans know the men who form the board, and most of them know, too, that not a man on the board sought the position and not one but would be more than glad to turn the job to somebody else. It is an unpleasant task at best to administer a law which requires certain young men to leave their families, friends and their jobs to go into military training which the nation's leaders feel is necessary for the country's defense. But these men were called on to serve their country in this capacity and accepted the duty in the face of a full knowledge of its gravity, its unpleasantness and its heavy responsibility—at least, with more courage than the writer of an anonymous critical letter exhibited.

The men who compose the local boards scattered all over the nation did not write the law which requires young men to accept military training. They are merely charged with its administration in each community. Definite rules are laid down in the law by which the board is governed. These rules almost every board is attempting to follow to the letter. Their work is open to inspection by state and national draft officials and irregularities, were they attempted, would scarcely escape detection. But such supervision is not the principal factor which determines conduct of most board members. It is rather a sense of patriotic duty and fairness under which the boards operate to administer the law with equal justice to all within the limits of the law as written.

Most questions in the minds of the people at large concerning requirements of the Selective Service law and its local administration could and would be answered fully and frankly by a member of the board or other draft officials were they presented by responsible persons to the board. It is not surprising that a lot of misinformation is going about when persons who undertake to disseminate the same do not take the trouble to find out the facts. A case in point is the conclusion that many draw when a registrant is deferred that he is permanently exempted from application of the law. The facts are that the law provides that in certain circumstances a registrant, otherwise qualified, may be deferred for a stated length of time from military service in order that he might have the necessary time in which to arrange personal or business affairs so that he can serve his country with a minimum of personal sacrifice. Each registrant's case is decided on the basis of his answers to questions on the questionnaire, under oath, and specific provisions of the law, plus instructions from state and national headquarters, govern the board in deciding each individual case.

These and other facts are available to any interested person. Naturally, men who are performing a distasteful duty simply because it is a duty resent an unjustified criticism, but more especially when it is done anonymously. Any criticism, presented in good faith, will be received sympathetically and studied diligently by the board, but anonymous ones fail to be convincing.

"WE CHOOSE HUMAN FREEDOM" . . .

To many Americans, the most important sentence in the President's recent Proclamation of an Unlimited National Emergency, was this: "I call upon all the loyal citizens engaged in production for defense to give precedence to the needs of the nation to the end that a system of government that makes private enterprise possible may survive."

That, coming from the Chief Executive who has been given powers as great as any ever held by his predecessors in office, is heartening. For it is the private enterprise system that maintains and strengthens and vitalizes democracy. It is the private enterprise system which is the basis of social, economic and political liberty. And it is the private enterprise system which the dictators, wherever they hold power, have destroyed.

Today the private enterprise system is being called upon to give us and the embattled democracies overseas the tools of war and defense. We are determined to build for ourselves a military and naval establishment which will make it impossible for any power or any conceivable combination of powers to invade and conquer us. But, unfortunately, all of our possible enemies do not lie without our borders. Some of the most effective enemies of the private enterprise system—the democratic system—are operating within. And some of them hold important positions in government itself.

In the speech to the nation which the President made on the same day he signed the Proclamation, he said this: "We choose human freedom—which is the Christian ideal." Freedom involves many things—and one thing it involves is the right of men to engage as private, free citizens, in legitimate business, without persecution from their government. It involves, in short, the preservation of the private enterprise system. Socialism—whether it goes under the name of Nazism, Fascism, Communism or anything else—means slavery and degradation for the people. Look abroad if you doubt this. And then fight every attack on freedom at home.

MEMORY

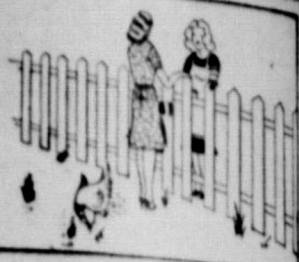

The story is told of the Kentucky colonel who had an argument with the devil. The devil said that no one had a perfect memory. But the colonel maintained that there was an Indian on his plantation who never forgot anything. The colonel agreed to forfeit his soul to the devil if the Indian ever forgot anything.

The devil went up to the Indian and said: "Do you like eggs?" The Indian replied, "Yes." The devil went away.

Twenty years later the colonel died. The devil thought, "Aha, here's my chance." He came back to earth and presented himself before the Indian. Raising his hand, he gave the tribal salutation, "How?"

Quick as a wink the Indian replied, "Fried."

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

We're All Needed

Looks like a busy summer for us all. No long idling on shady porches even for "home bodies" who used to have hours to spend as they pleased. Not so many fishing trips for father. Perhaps less time off for John or Mary.

The times are badly "out of joint," all over the world. The president has declared a national emergency. Our army is gathering in camps all over the country and industry is working as it never had to work before.

First there were orders for a few billions of dollars worth of defense materials to be produced as quickly as possible. But it soon became evident that this would not be enough to make this great, broad peace-loving land safe. And still more planes and guns and ships and tanks were ordered. First we were told by government that our comfortable way of living wouldn't have to be upset; that we could produce all we needed for defense in addition to normal peace-time production. Then we began to realize nothing could stand in the way of the manufacture of needed defense materials. New shifts were added to enable factories to function 24 hours a day and a priority ruling concerning basic materials for defense production was passed.

Today all over America people are working as they have never worked before. More than a million young men must follow the stringent rules of military training. Millions more are at work in the industrial plants of the country—men who had been retired, who have just recently been trained, women who have special skill or aptitude as well as our vast "regular" army of skilled labor and management.

But even machines and armies, essential as they are, aren't all. There's the question of morale and thousands more of us must work to keep alive a burning belief in the American way of life. . . . Other must see to it that the boys in camp have places to go, and things to do in their time off. Still others are occupied organizing the women of the country for home defense activity should that be needed.

It's a tense, busy, anxious time. But for anyone who can contribute (Continued on Page Seven)

"Should I borrow or shouldn't I?"

WHILE we welcome applications for sound loans, we definitely discourage needless borrowing. In the long run, an unnecessary loan hurts the lender, the borrower and the community. Nobody benefits. That's why we urge individuals to be sure in their own minds that they should borrow before applying. If the loan is sound, we'll make it.

A WARNING to Ranchmen!!

It has come to my attention that certain persons are going about the ranches of Crockett County representing themselves as agents for Mike Couch, seeking to buy dead wool, sacks, cattle and other things.

I am hereby notifying all persons that I have no representatives in the field, and unless you have previously been notified by me in person; you may be certain that anyone thus representing themselves are imposters, probably planning to steal something from your ranch, and should be escorted from the pasture. If you have something to sell and will notify me or bring it here, I will be glad to make an offer, but I have no buyers in the field.

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

THE SAGE OF ELLIS BEAN: OF THE ART OF ADVENTURE

It will probably not come soon, but eventually, when Texas is old and rich and settled, there will come a great awakening of the literary spirit in the Southwest. Then the colorful heritage that will have been kept alive through the years primarily by such institutions as the University of Texas Library and the Texas State Historical Association will at last come into its own in the literature of the world.

When that cultural awakening comes, someone browsing among the records of old Texas—near forgotten records by then, perhaps—will come upon the outline of a story, and of it he will make a great novel. For imbedded in the Texas-Mexican heritage is a great true tale of wonderful adventure, almost complete in outline, which equals "Anthony Adverse" or anything that Alexander Dumas ever wrote. It is the life story of Ellis P. Bean, in his own words.

Recently in this column was told the history of Philip Nolan's filibustering expedition into Texas, to the command of which 17-year-old Ellis P. Bean succeeded at Nolan's death March 21, 1801. That story of the expedition proper ended sometime before 1807; Bean's story—the beginning of which will be sketched here—is its sequel.

A DICE GAME FOR KEEPS

After Bean and his followers were clapped in irons at Nacogdoches by the Spanish in 1801, they were taken to San Antonio, to San Luis Potosi, and finally to Chihuahua, in the Mexican interior. Years passed, and Bean's life alternated between comparative freedom and close confinement, punishment for his repeated attempts to escape. Then at last came a royal decree that one of every five of the surviving Nolan prisoners be hanged.

By then—November, 1807—only only nine of the company remained alive. It was decided that only one must die, that one to be determined by the throwing of dice. Bean threw a five; the low man had a four. After the execution three of the men were released, but Bean and the other four were carried off to Mexico City in chains, hardly guessing what lay in store for them.

At every little village along the way people flocked to see them, probably never having seen an American so deep in the interior before. And among the curious at the town of Salamanca was one Senora Maria Baldonada—who was very young, married to a very rich but very old man, and therefore very unhappy.

THE SAD SENORA

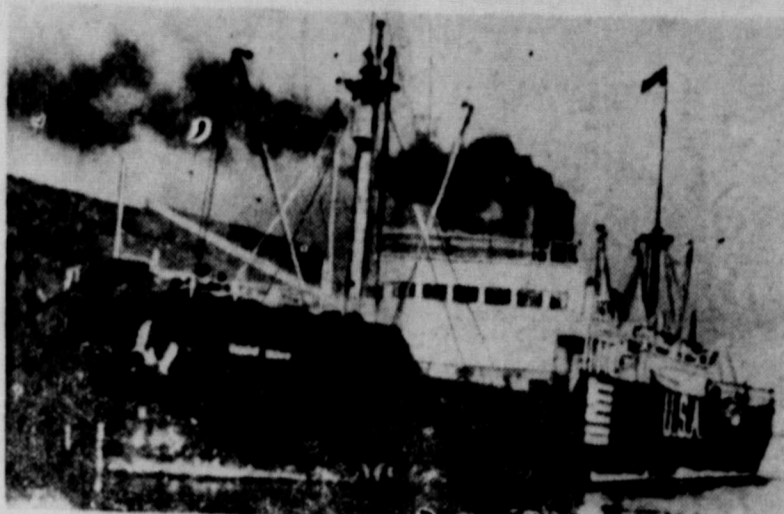

The Senora came to Bean, talked with him, liked him, and offered to help him escape—promised, indeed, to flee with him to America and be his wife. Everything was prepared for the getaway; but at the last moment Bean declined her offer. He would not desert his men, he said; and, moreover, he fully expected to be set free at the capital. So he went on with his guard.

Bean remarks in his memoirs that he cursed himself for years for this blunder; for, instead of being released at Mexico City, he and his men were sent on to Acapulco, a fortified castle on the Pacific coast, and there he was locked up in solitary confinement in a windowless cell of three by seven feet, with stone walls twelve feet thick. Double irons were on his arms. Once a day he got a pot of water, some beef and a little bread. He was not allowed to talk with anyone. And so he lived—all alone with a tame lizard named Bill—for a total of two years and four months.

Once, after three weeks of torture in the town hospital, he made an escape and was free for a short time; and during the remaining 17 months of his confinement, he wrote later, "I consoled myself with the thought that I had enjoyed a few hours liberty, and had heard the birds sing, and perhaps might hear them again."

160 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"We present to our readers a plan of a national bank, submitted by 'A Citizen of Austin,' which has at least the merit of originality, and does not smell quite so much of cotton, as the plan lately received from below. The author does not ask to convert the government of Texas into a great commission merchant; or the collectors of Texas, into factors for receiving, forwarding and selling the great staple of our country. We recommend our correspondent's plan to the attention of our patrons. If there is any good in it, we hope it will be preserved; if not, let it pass among the crowd of fugitives that necessarily encumber the columns of a newspaper."

"The San Augustine paper having changed its title to that of the 'Red Lander,' in the first number it denounced the representatives of that county, in the last Congress, in unmeasured terms. But like all things earthly, one short week brings the editor warmly into the support of one of these political delinquents for the Presidency. We do not envy our young brother's consistence."

Pecos Expecting Big Crowds For Rodeo July 3-4

PECOS, Texas, June 25 — Final plans were whipped into shape this week for what promises to be the greatest rodeo ever presented in Pecos, home of the world's first rodeo 58 years ago.

This year's show, the twelfth under the sponsorship of the American Legion, will be presented July 3 and 4, with afternoon and night performances daily. With more than $2,000 offered in prizes and with the contests open to the world, a record number of top contestants are expected to compete. Indications and the fact that fewer competing attractions are scheduled on the Fourth of July holiday in this section probably will swell the attendance.

RAILWAY
LABOR UNION DEMANDS
WOULD COST
900 Million Dollars
A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

The Stockman Pulpit

By JAMES D. MOSS
Minister the Church of Christ

Some people cannot attend church services. Others can but do not. Many attend but are not moved by the preaching. Some are convicted and believe the preaching but are never changed. Others accept the truth and make an honest effort to live the Christian life. To which class do you belong?

Whether you go to church or not, you likely believe in it. You wouldn't live where there were no churches. A church building is the symbol of civilization. The story is told of a boat that was wrecked near an island. The passengers were unloaded on the shore where they thought there were cannibals. One of the men climbed a peak to view the country. He waved back to his comrades and shouted, "We're all right, I see a church spiral."

What are you doing to support the church in this community? You may make a number of excuses, and condemn the church and the people, but you must know that will not help you nor the church. The church is not perfect because it is made up of men and women who are not perfect. God's part is right but man fails so often in his part that we find many in the church we think should not be there. Our Lord fellowshiped Judas while He was on earth and I am sure the apostles knew the congregations were not always as they should be. Just read I Corinthians and see what Paul had to contend with in the church at Corinth. Say you do not attend services because some one there you believe to be a hypocrite? That's no reason. Better examine your own heart.

14-16-Year-Olds May Get Drivers License By Exam

AUSTIN, June 25 — Young Texans between 14 and 16 years old are taking full advantage of the new drivers' license law provision which permits them to secure drivers' licenses under authorization of the county judge.

All such applicants are being given a driver examination, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director, said today. Approximately 15 per cent of them have been refused licenses because they were not properly qualified as safe drivers, he said. From June 2 to June 25, 138 licenses were issued to such minors.

Miss Roselyn Jones of Eldorado and Misses Marnel and Mabel Wright of Houston are guests of Miss Billie Gene Linthicum.

Ozonans Invited To Hear Horace W. Busby In Stockton Meeting

Horace W. Busby of Fort Worth, outstanding figure in the Church of Christ, which he has served as an evangelist for 22 years, is holding a 10-day gospel meeting in Fort Stockton at the Church of Christ there, continuing until July 1.

Knowing of his popularity in Ozona from his 17 consecutive annual meetings here, Fort Stockton people have extended an invitation to Ozona and Crockett County citizens, both members of the church, and others, to attend any or all of the Fort Stockton services, which begin at 10:45 each morning lasting only 45 minutes, and at 8:30 each evening.

Residence Listed To Determine Board Of New Registrants

A selective Service registrant, who, on the registration day of July 1, has more than one place of residence may choose the one which he wants recorded on his registration card as his place of residence to determine the local board that will always have jurisdiction over him, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said today.

On the first registration day, October 16, 1940, such registrants were often confused as to which place to list, General Page pointed out. This was especially true in instances where men had legal residences in one community but had a temporary dwelling place in another. As the residence listed on the registration card determines what local board has permanent jurisdiction over the registrant, some of the men later wished to change the address they had given, but were denied the privilege because Selective Service Regulations prohibit such changes.

In the second registration on July 1, General Page said, the registration cards will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he had more than one place, he may list his choice as his residence without interference or dictation from a registrar, General Page added.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording of a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant would receive his mail more readily.

A boy like this

Some day will be running Your Electrical Servant

WHO knows whose boy? ... Maybe yours. Or your neighbor's. But he's somewhere in the woods ... on some West Texas farm or in town ... burning with the grand old American urge to "get ahead" ... try his wings at running a business.

One day he will join this organization. As a clerical worker. Or a lineman. Or a helper in the power plant. Or perhaps a meter reader.

It doesn't matter what the job ... he'll do it well. And he will climb. A boy like this ... intelligent, clean-cut, strong, unafraid ... asks only for the opportunity. There are plenty of opportunities with Your Electric Servant ... opportunities to serve the people. This boy will win out without having to depend upon a temporary political or government job.

It's the American way ... the healthy, solid pattern that has built free enterprise in this country.

And (this is important) because this boy is of the people, he will know best how to serve the people.

That is why we're always looking for likely youngsters. Let them grow up in the business like all of those now connected with the organization.

The result is that Your Electric Servant is made up of trained and experienced men and women who are devoting their lives to serving you. Because they know their jobs, and know your needs, they have succeeded in providing you greatly improved service at constantly lowering cost.

Electric Service is modernized and improved all the time. The cost is only about half what it was 10 to 15 years ago. Today you get twice as much service as you did a few years ago for the same money.

Years of training and experience enable the people who work for Your Electric Servant to keep on giving you better service and more for your money. That's their business. And they know that only training and experience can continue to improve service, bringing more benefits of electricity to more and more people at less and less cost.

"OLD BILL" CONTEST
Winners in the "old bill" contest, which closed June 15, will be announced next week. The hundreds of entries are being checked carefully to make sure the $100 in cash prizes are rightfully awarded. If you sent in an old bill, we appreciate your patience.

Miss Algerene Feeler Becomes Bride Of Conley Cox In Midland Church Ceremony

Miss Algerene Feeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Feeler of Midland, became the bride of Conley Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox of Ozona, in a ceremony read by the Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Midland, in that city Saturday morning. The single ring service was performed at 9 o'clock.

They twined the chancel rail and white gladioli and blue delphinium decorated the altar which was lighted by tall white cathedral tapers in multiple-branched candleholders.

Mrs. De Lo Douglas and Mrs. Holt Jowell presented the nuptial music. Mrs. Douglas sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Jowell who also played the "Bridal March" from "Lohengrin" for entrance of the bridal party. "To a Wild Rose" during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional.

Bride in White
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a hip length jacket. Her small white hat was edged in gardenias, her shoes were white, and her accessories were white, and her flowers were a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Mahdeen Reising, her maid of honor and only attendant of the bride, wore a two-piece navy alpaca with trim of Iris lace. Her accessories were white and navy and her corsage was of white carnations.

Cy Jones was best man and the bride's brothers, A. E. Feeler of Ozona and L. U. Feeler of Marfa were ushers. Men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

After the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on the East Highway. Summer flowers were employed in the receiving rooms.

In the dining room the double-tiered white wedding cake, trimmed in white-and-blue and topped with miniature figures of a bride and groom, centered the lace-laid table. After Mrs. Cox had cut the cake, it was served by her sister, Mrs. H. T. Sharp of Donna, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. U. Feeler of Marfa.

Mrs. A. E. Feeler of Ozona, another sister-in-law, poured punch. Miss Mahdeen Reising presided at the bride's book.

On Trip West
Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Cox left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, and other points west, after which they will live in Ozona.

The bride chose for traveling a black Vogue mesh frock, polka-dotted, with white accessories.

This Co-Starring Team Made Hollywood History In "Men Of Boys Town" Film

When Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney Appeared Together In 1936 In "Riffruff" They Little Dreamed Of Triumphs To Come

With Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, it's one for all and all for one. It is interesting in this respect that Rooney literally has grown up with Tracy, and their careers have shared many mutual highlights. Tracy is the first to give Rooney credit for contributing to his outstanding successes. Rooney points to Tracy as his guide and inspiration.

Their first picture together was "Riffruff," filmed in 1936. At that time Tracy had yet to play Father Tim in "San Francisco" and to go on from there to become one of the greatest stars of the screen. Rooney was just another boy actor, with his future ahead of him.

"We got along from the first," says Tracy, "because both of us are essentially character actors. Even then Mickey impressed me as being the most natural actor, young or old, I ever worked with. I think he was almost as good then as he is now, but his talents hadn't been fully appreciated."

Tracy and Rooney began to hit their stride in "Captains Courageous," which brought Tracy his first Academy Award for his memorable characterization of Manuel, the humble Portuguese fisherman.

"I really began to grow up during that picture," says Mickey. "That was when I began to watch Spencer work and decided that I wanted to become the kind of actor he is."

"Boys Town," made three years ago, firmly cemented the Tracy-

Rooney combination. Mickey, who enjoys clowning like any other kid, settled down to business. He made Tracy his model and underplayed scenes. For his performance of Whitey Marsh, Mayor of Boys Town, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made him a star. Tracy won his second Academy Award as Father Edward J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, while Mickey received a special award for "Boys Town" and "Love Finds Andy Hardy."

Tracy and Rooney have since continued their parallel careers, the former making "Edison, The Man," and the latter "Young Tom Edison." Last year Mickey topped the list of the ten money-making stars as the box-office champion, with Tracy third. Mickey also won a newspaper contest as "King of the Movies," with Bette Davis his "Queen."

Now Tracy and Rooney are together again, as co-stars of "Men of Boys Town," sequel to "Boys Town," with Tracy again playing Father Flanagan and Rooney "Whitey." The picture will be shown Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Ozona Theatre.

Norman Taurog, who directed them in both films, says of the two stars: "It is always a treat to work with Spence and Mickey. Most of their scenes are made in a single take. Tracy never tries to take a scene from Mickey or Mickey to take one from Spence. I have seen them more often than not try to throw a scene to the other. That's the only time when I had to step in and call a halt."

New Chief Justice and New Associates

The President has elevated Harlan Fiske Stone (center) to chief justice of the United States Supreme court, succeeding Charles Evans Hughes, retiring. At the same time the President nominated Attorney General Robert H. Jackson (left) and Sen. James F. Byrnes (right) of South Carolina, to fill the two vacancies on the high court.

Sell him, and you sold the saddle, too.

Some horses and mules are as finicky as people.

Jess Maker's youngest kid, Little Jess, attempted to do a little rodeoing on one of his pap's work mules the other day, but he wasn't very successful.

Little Jess had seen his first rodeo the week before, and immediately consecrated his life to the art of bulldogging steers. He figured a little home practice might be best before he stepped out as a world-renowned steer-wrestler, so he caught up one of the work mules on the place that was broken to ride and took out after one of the milk calves.

The calf was fast and the mule was slow and the race was somewhat extended before Little Jess finally put his mule up alongside the calf in the proper bulldogging position.

Little Jess leaned over to quit his mule for a flying leap at the calf's head at the same time the calf dodged in front of the lumbering mule. The mule stood on his head. Little Jess landed in a tangle of bamboo briars, with the bridle in his hands.

The calf and the mule got to their feet and both ran off together. Little Jess finally showed up at the house, looking like he'd just tried to shake hands with a wildcat. He put the bridle in the barn, and Big Jess claims he's heard no more about the fame and fortune a young fellow can make in the rodeo arena.

Johnson Leads All In Latest Survey

Having less than 10 per cent of the votes six weeks ago, the "unknown" Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City now is the leading man in the race for the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard, the scientific Belden pool revealed Saturday. Other candidates have pointed to this same poll as proof of their lead.

The Saturday pool was the fourth taken on a scientific, impartial basis in every portion of Texas. In each, Johnson has shown a steady, continued gain while other candidates have been losing ground. The other three leading candidates all have shown drops in popularity since the first poll was taken May 4.

The latest poll was as follows:
Johnson 26.5 per cent
O'Daniel 25.2 per cent
Mann 24.5 per cent
Dies 22.6 per cent
All others 1.2 per cent

190 Texans Lose Driving License

AUSTIN, June 25 — The privilege of driving was taken away from 190 persons from April 2 to June 5, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., state police director. Driving while intoxicated was the offense responsible for suspension, revocation or cancellation of 115 drivers' licenses, Garrison said.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, June 2 — NO SUMMER LULL—The three main trends current in the business picture are: (1) Department store volume of goods moved is well on the way to setting an all-time high for the first half of the year, while profits are holding up well and dollar volume will be highest since 1929, and with prospects bright for maintaining the pace in latter half of year; (2) Increasing sentiment in various quarters for putting some curbs on extension of credit in consumer lines—which means a tightening up on installment buying; and (3) Voluntary, as well as "negotiated" wage increases are being made in many lines, not all of them defense-goods industries, either.

Other items indicating there'll be no mid-summer lull this year include the Federal Reserve Board's findings that general industrial activity increased sharply during May, sending its seasonally-adjusted index to 149 (per cent of the 1935-39 average), compared with 140 in April and 143 in March; the continuing terrific pace of construction awards, which last week hit the third highest total ever reported; and reports of big gains for railroads in both passenger and freight revenues.

VEGETABLE EXCURSION — "Excursion rates" for vegetables as well as people would help bring Americans more vitamin-rich food by encouraging farmers to market more truck crops, says A. R. Sabin, U. S. Department of Agriculture statistician. Sabin reports that, in 1940 alone, enough truck crops went unmarketed because of low farm prices to supply 13,000,000 people for a month. And on this same subject, it is pointed out by William Fellowes Morgan, Jr., New York City Commissioner of Markets, that people will eat more vegetables when they are made available. He referred to Department of Agriculture estimates that men, women and children generally should double their consumption of many vegetables to maintain health.

SPENCER TRACY

For the first time in the history of motion pictures an Academy Award winner has replayed the role that won him the award. This is the honor that came to Spencer Tracy when he again created his famous characterization of Father Edward J. Flanagan in "Men of Boy Town," which opens Tuesday at the Ozona Theatre for an engagement of three days. The film is the sequel to the memorable "Boys Town," which was made three years ago, and again stars Tracy and Mickey Rooney.

When Tracy was born in Milwaukee on April 15, the son of John Tracy, general manager of the Sterling Motor Truck Company and Carrie Brown Tracy, no one ever expected him to become one of the screen's greatest actors.

Although he was a member of the Boy Scouts and an altar boy, he was always being cautioned by the truant officer for his habit of dodging school and running away from home. Until he finally left Ripon College, he was in and out of some eighteen different schools.

In his third years of high school, when he was only seventeen, he joined the Navy with Pat O'Brien and his brother, Carol, but they got no further than the Great Lakes Training Station and Norfolk, Va.

When he was mustered out, he entered Ripon College in Wisconsin. There he became interested in acting and went to New York as a student of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

His first professional role was one in which he did not speak a line or even show his face. He played a robot in the Guild production of "R.U.R." He played in stock companies throughout the East, then won his first Broadway break in "Yellow," which was a hit. The role that shot him to stardom, however, was that of Killer Mearns in the unforgettable "The Last Mile." Hollywood wasted no time in offering him an opportunity in the films. His outstanding successes have been in such pictures as "Fury," "The Show Off," "The Murder Man," "Riffruff," "Whipsaw," "San Francisco," "Libeled Lady," "They Gave Him a Gun," "Captains Courageous," which won him his first Academy Award, "Mannequin," "Test Pilot," "Boys Town," "Stanley and Livingstone," "Edison, The Man" and "Boom Town."

Tracy was so fascinated by the work that Father Flanagan is doing in Boys Town that he earnestly sought to play the role which brought him his section Academy Award. Again in "Men of Boys Town" he is seen as the dynamic priest.

THERE IS STILL ROOM IN AMERICA FOR MEN TO GO AHEAD . . .

By R. L. THORNTON

A tragic day like this in world affairs discourages men and women, in part perhaps because the happenings are really tragic. Some fear is based largely on the fact that none of us knows very much about the future of it all. I hear men say "no use to try, the government will take all of the profits of business and take none of the losses of business," and on the surface there seems justification for all, or part of it. But, is that the American way to look at it? Is that the way we have always looked at it? Our history and record have always been, from the very early days, "take your chances and fight for them, taking the hardships and the breaks for better or worse." Some loose, some win, but it's all the penalty or reward of a forward march, not retreat. The pioneers, who drove into the West and Southwest, never stopped on account of either hardship or privation, but drove on and fought on. Some never lived to get there, others did. The going was rough all the way and everything essential to life was scarce, but they had courage and on they went, fording rivers and fighting to get to their destinations. The result of this courage, hardship and privation of all our early pioneers throughout this land is our United States of America today—the greatest nation on the face of the earth, wrought the hard way and great because of it.

Opportunity Ahead

So, in this tragic world today, here in this country, and under existing circumstances, there is still room for men who are cautious but unafraid to do things—to do things better—and to do things and make things that have never been done nor made here before. War kills, war destroys physical property, but war demands new men, bigger men, new things, bigger things, and lots of things we haven't done before and probably wouldn't do in normal times, and makes many things that must be done when peace comes again—a world in part to be rebuilt—things to be discontinued, new things science has or will develop. It has long ago been said "necessity is the mother of invention" and so it has always been. There is a big opportunity ahead of us today and tomorrow, a place for men to get along, to do bigger and better things, and different things.

What if it costs all we make for the preparedness programs? The man who makes the most dollars contributes the most dollars, therefore does the most in dollars for his country; the man who makes all he can, but makes less, is doing his full part too. The soldier who goes to war for $30.00 per month is doing more than either of the dollar contributors, yet all are necessary. If our preparedness program can be paid for in the greater part from profits, we will have accomplished something no other nation has and the result will be that the capital structure of business will be left largely intact for these new and necessary responsibilities—war or peace—that will maintain our country as the greatest nation of progress in the world.

New Things To Do

Pray tell me where there is a place to stop in this country of ours, either in war or peace. There are new things to be done, new things to be made. We must learn to make and do things in America that Europe used to do. All the rich used to want to tour Europe for education and entertainment. Where are they going and what are they going to do when they get there? This makes new opportunities, demands for new things that people use and buy. Paris used to create the styles for America—not so much so now, we will probably do it better. We are learning to create them and cause we do things well in America; we learn to do things quickly.

We used to buy most of our textile dyes, children's dolls and other toys from Europe. The last war taught us to make them. We now make most of our textile dyes in this country and make the prettiest dolls in the world. We had to, and well we did, for we don't

Business of Living—

to the common cause of the country there is something satisfying about it. We're all needed once more to revive the old spirit of America. That spirit, to quote Walter D. Fuller of the National Association of Manufacturers "which turned a wilderness into the greatest, richest and happiest nation on earth . . . the spirit that guides the plowshares—that moves along the assembly line—that brings fuel from the ground—that sends ships to sea, and fills the sky with planes. This is the American industrial system, today keyed to a tempo never before known."

have to depend on Europe for either during this war. This made new business and gave people more work.

America, as I see it, is just a beehive of opportunities. True, they don't come jump in your lap, but if a man tries hard and is unafraid, he can jump up a few of them. They are not Santa Claus gifts at all, yet they are here just the same for those who will try hard and work hard.

Why Be Afraid?

Why fill our eyes with tears and our hearts with grief? If we ever have to fight, we will do a good job of it and are not afraid to do it, so why be afraid of business, or to make money, or to pay taxes, or to send our children to school? Just do the best job we can at all of them. The pioneer carried his rifle to the field. He worked until it became necessary to fight, then he laid down his hoe and picked up his rifle and took a "dead center" aim. So, wouldn't it be well for us Americans to do just that in this world crisis?

America has its biggest job ahead, a job of peace we hope, but war if necessary to defend the country we have built the hard way, yet built well. And, as we have the biggest job ahead of us, we have the greatest opportunity likewise ahead of us.

It takes neither energy, intellect, nor bravery to quit. Just about anybody can do that, for which no rewards nor medals are offered.

As I see it, from an humble place in life, let's have at it! Let's undertake the things that prudence and careful analysis qualify as conservative, sensible undertakings. Whether they be large or small, my job or yours, let's go do it, and if we are stopped, let it be by others; don't stop ourselves.

family inaugurated the affairs of the county on July 21, 1891. This ceremony would no doubt be attended by a throng of the old-timers and pioneers.

Popular support also has been accorded the suggestion that a huge pioneer ball be held in the court house or on the fair grounds platform to close the day's activities. The dance is calculated to bring together for a grand reunion all the old-timers and their families, together with the younger generation.

One spokesman for the proposed day's celebration stated to the Stockman reporter that the only thing needed to start the ball a-rolling is the appointment of someone to head the organizing forces for the day and to act as chairman of committees.

Soldier Deaths In Traffic Accidents Mounting In Texas

AUSTIN, June 25—Soldiers in Texas are meeting death now in a preview of man against mechanized monster.

Forty-seven persons were killed and 58 injured in Texas traffic collisions involving military personnel during the first four months of this year.

In 445 accidents involving soldiers either as drivers, passengers or pedestrians, damage to vehicles alone amounted to $65,271. But the total economic loss—including lost life and expense to the injured—amounted to $2,115,000.

These facts were announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., state police director, who revealed completion of a state-wide survey designed to provide information upon which preventive measures may be based.

"The defense traffic problem in Texas falls into three separate phases," Garrison said. "Cities are coping with the urban accidents. The Highway Patrol has worked out a method of controlling accidents in areas immediately adjacent to military establishments, and the results have been highly satisfactory. This survey reveals the third phase—rural accidents occurring on Saturdays and Sundays, an average distance of 60 miles from any army camps, and caused by the 'rush to get home' on week-end leaves.

"Principal violations figuring in these collisions are driving too fast for conditions, driving on the wrong side of the road or passing without sufficient clearance, and driving while drinking.

Guarding 'The Rock' From Sea and Air

A view from an accompanying British war plane high above Great Britain's Rock of Gibraltar, showing another plane on patrol duty, winging high over the harbor, wherein are several men o' war. All are on the alert against attack by German planes from the air and German troops that might be given a "corridor" down to southern Spain by the Fascist government. The Rock, which is one of the most formidable fortresses in the world, is Great Britain's effective western door to the Mediterranean, through which British commerce and warships flow from day to day.

Texas Will Reap Most Of Benefits Of USO Campaign

DALLAS, June 25—Texas will rank first in benefactions to be bestowed by the United Service Organizations for national defense. This is due to the fact that Texas will train more men in the service than will be trained in any other state. In addition to the training camps Texas ranks high in the distribution of war defense contracts which are adding thousands upon thousands of workers to industrial payrolls, according to E. R. Germany, Dallas, U.S.O. regional chairman for four south-western states.

Actual construction on service club buildings has already begun in the North and it is expected many of them will be built in Texas within the next few months, Germany said. These club buildings will be erected in towns and cities near troop concentration camps and in the districts where large numbers of defense workers are employed.

The first of the USO Service Clubs to be started is at Wrightstown, N. J., which is in the heart of an area of defense and military concentration. All clubs are to be staffed by civilian workers under the direction of service organizations sponsored by the USO.

NEGRO FINED $50

Leonard Cooksey, local Negro, arrested Tuesday night by R. E. McWilliams, deputy under Sheriff W. S. Willis, was fined $50 and costs in justice court when he was found to be carrying a pistol. The gun, belonging to the Negro's employer, was found on the Negro after his arrest on a disturbance charge.

Memento Of First UT Oil Well Goes Into Cornerstone

AUSTIN, June 25 — An oil-soaked plinter from the fderick of the first well drilled on University of Texas lands will be among the documents preserved when the University lays the cornerstone of its newest structure, the Petroleum Engineering Building here, soon.

The three-story, factory-style building is one of three now under construction on the campus. Equipment in the building will place the University's petroleum engineering department second to none in the nation, it is generally believed.

A piece of core from one of the deepest wells ever drilled—taken from the shaft two miles down—a sample of Texas crude petroleum and messages from various University and petroleum industry officials will also be included.

The Texas Memorial Museum, sponsored by the American Legion of Texas and located on the campus of the University of Texas, is officially known as the state museum.

Phillips wrote, "and carpeted with alternating sections of fern and ivy. In almost every place where the ferns didn't completely cover the ground, large clumps of daffodils were in bloom."

After the exciting day, the Ozonan described his return to camp. "Returned to the barracks and found a paper on the bulletin board notifying me to report for K. P. duty at 5 a. m. (What a life!)"

What is advertising, anyway?

A lot has been written about advertising. A lot of speeches have been made about it. But the whole fact in a nutshell is—advertising is simply a time-saver. It saves time for the man or woman who wants to buy something—and for the store or factory with something to sell. And like most time-savers, it's a money-saver too.
