Civic Center Board Asks Cooperation In Planning of Parties

The Crockett County Auditorium-Coliseum Board issued a plea this week to patrons of the Civic Center to work with them in the matter of decorating prior to their parties.

The Board this week asked the public to cooperate in trying to do decorating and advance cooking during regular open hours when at all possible.

Regular open hours are Tuesday and Thursday, 2:00 to 6:00 p.m.; Wednesday 2:00 to 6:00 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 to 12:00 midnight.

However, in situations when it is physically impossible to prepare during regular hours and on days when the building is booked for all day, the Center will be opened and the director will work a twelve-hour day.

Playhouse Name For Youth Center

It was announced this week that "The Playhouse" is the name by which the Youth Center will be known.

The name was chosen by a plurality of suggestions placed in a suggestion box for naming the center at the Youth Center.

A no-pay pinball machine has been received and installed at the center in addition to the ping-pong table and pool tables.

The "Border Beats" will be featured for a dance July 18 at the center.

More and more youngsters are taking advantage of the facility each day, according to Richard Armistead, director.

Chamber Compiles Hunting Information

Ozona Chamber of Commerce is compiling information preparatory to offering service to deer hunters and land owners in the coming hunting season, Hubert Baker, chamber manager, said this week.

The chamber hopes to have all lists and other information complete by July 15.

A mailing list of some 650 prospective hunters is on file in the Chamber office and these will be contacted before the season opens with available information they may need for planning a hunting trip to Crockett county.

"If you haven't already contacted the Chamber office, we would appreciate your doing so as soon as possible," Baker said of land owners and operators in the county. "The sooner all information is in our hands the better job we can do for both the rancher and the hunter."

CHEERLEADERS BACK FROM SCHOOL

Ozona High School cheerleaders returned home last weekend from a week of cheerleading school at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Dr. and Mrs. Everett have three children, 2 boys, ages 10 years and 4 months, and a daughter, 8. They are living in the recently completed Eddie Crutchfield home just across the street from the doctor's office.

Five Confederate Veterans Graves To Be Marked

Plans are in the making for the Annual Ozona Junior Rodeo to be held August 7-8.

Bill Watson, general chairman is in the process of securing an arena director and locating stock for the rodeo this week.

As soon as these details can be attended to, entry blanks will be printed and ready for mailing or picking up by contestants.

Again this year the rodeo will be strictly a local junior rodeo, sponsored by the Ozona Lions Club and will have no affiliation with the AJRA or any other national group.

Trophies will be given in all categories and best all-around cowboy or cowgirl will be given. Participation in the junior rodeo will in no way interfere with UIL events in school.

With so many youngsters participating locally in 4-H work, a large number of Ozona youth are expected to be on hand for the rodeo this year, plus large numbers of out of town contestants.

Highlight of the event is the selection of the rodeo queen from local girls. She will be crowned on the opening night of the rodeo by Miss Shelley Jones, last year's rodeo queen.

Other information will be announced as it becomes available.

PERNER RANCH GAINS DEVONIAN GAS DISCOVERY

Texas Oil & Gas Corp., Midland, potentiated its No. 1-A Perner Ranch as a Devonian gas discovery 1/4-mile south of the opener and lone producer in the Perner Ranch (Simpson) field of Crockett County, 16 miles southeast of Sheffield.

It was finalized to flow 2,650 million cubic feet of dry gas daily through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,697-8,807 feet which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 30,000 gallons.

Operator requested allowable as a Devonian discovery to use the gas produced in drilling a better well.

On a total depth of 9,800 feet, 4 1/2-inch casing was set at 9,760 feet and plugged back to 9,726 feet.

On a Kelly busting elevation of 2,578 feet operator picked the following tops: Strawn 8,606 feet; detrial 8,656 feet; Devonian 8,696 feet and Ellenburger 9,682 feet.

o'clock Monday morning completely wrecked a late model Cadillac, but the driver, Mark Grooves of California, miraculously escaped injury.

The accident occurred on Bachelor Hill when the driver lost control rounding the curve. The car plunged off the hill and overturned several times before reaching the bottom of the ravine. Investigating officer was patrolman Jack Derrington, DPS.

Property Damage High In Holiday Accidents

In spite of two auto accidents over the weekend and one early Monday morning, the Fourth of July holiday was fairly quiet for local highway patrolmen.

There were no serious personal injuries, but property damage was heavy in two of the accidents.

A minor wreck Friday afternoon around 3:30 involved two cars at the intersection of Hwy 290 and Ave. E. Walter Tindley was traveling west on Hwy 290 and making a right turn onto Ave E from the left-hand lane when his old model station wagon was struck by a late model Buick driven by Paula Ramirez, who was also traveling west and was in the right-hand lane.

No injuries were reported and damage to both vehicles was negligible.

Around 8 o'clock Friday night on a ranch road 18 miles south of Ozona Rios Trevino was traveling south in a pickup, pulling a loaded trailer, when he lost control and the pickup overturned, coming to rest on its top on a fence.

Mrs. Trevino, a passenger in the pickup was treated for broken ribs and released from Crockett County Hospital. Trevino and his young son were not injured. The pickup was totally demolished. Highway patrolman John Harris, DPS, investigated both accidents.

THE STAMP OF GREATNESS

Among the signs of Washington's response to grass-roots patriotism is the announcement by the Postoffice Department that General Douglas MacArthur will be honored with a commemorative six-cent postage stamp in the near future. Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said that "there has been an intense demand that a MacArthur stamp be issued. I am both honored and gratified to be in the position of complying with these requests." The design and date of issuance of the MacArthur stamp will be announced later, the Postoffice department said.

We join with millions of Americans who will applaud the decision by Postmaster Blount. General MacArthur will go down in world history as one of the truly exceptional great Americans. One unusual feature of his brilliant military record was that he was the hero of not one, but of two generations of Americans. In World War I, as chief of staff and later commander of the Rainbow Division in Europe, he was described by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker as the greatest frontline general of World War I.

At West Point he was cadet captain and graduated No. 1 man in his class of 1903. By 1917 he was a colonel and the following year was promoted to brigadier general. When he was named Army Chief of Staff in 1930, he was the youngest man ever to hold that post. General MacArthur retired in 1937. But he "kept his hand" in military affairs by reorganizing the Philippine army, as a field marshal.

For most men, one honored lifetime as a national hero would suffice. But a new generation was born in America—and a new war. When he was recalled to service in 1941, General MacArthur was 61 years of age and had already put in 37 vigorous years of work. But, less than three years after he escaped from Corregidor, he was back in the Philippines; and on Sept. 2, 1945, he accepted the Japanese surrender at Tokyo Bay. World War II Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson described MacArthur as the principal architect of victory in the Pacific. Then followed five years of occupation of Japan, during which time he enjoyed a respect from the Japanese people which is all but unprecedented in the history of occupying armies.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of General MacArthur, however, above and beyond his military genius and leadership, was his example of a sterling character as a man; his adherence to the highest principles of integrity, of loyalty, of dedication, and of his acknowledgement of the providence and benevolence of God. While the butt of many jokes about what has been described as his haughty manner, there was never at any time the slightest doubt in MacArthur's mind but that he walked with God. And that was perhaps his most outstanding stamp of greatness.

THE OPPRESSED STUDENT

Dean Clarence Manion took some time off between his broadcasts No. 818 and No. 819 from South Bend, Indiana to ruffle a few pages of a new Houghton Mifflin book, "Push Comes to Shove." Noting that the book was written by Steven Kelman, 21, a Harvard Student, Dean Manion wasn't quite sure what he would find. But what he did find produced a few surprises for him, and maybe for you too. Among many other things, Harvard student Kelman reported:

"The university sanctuary is a protective womb that shelters us from the natural shocks outside, in what we call on campus 'the real world.' The laws against liquor and drugs do not apply to us. Only visionaries could conceive of the leisurist future society where the general population could enjoy the 'work week' we have.

"Students sleep most mornings till 10 a.m. Sixty-five per cent of those in our age group have begun... a dulling job in the non-professional sectors of the economy or are off in Viet Nam. (But) we students are, at a cost of approximately $15,000 of our parents' money, enjoying the longest period of prolonged irresponsibility the world has ever known.

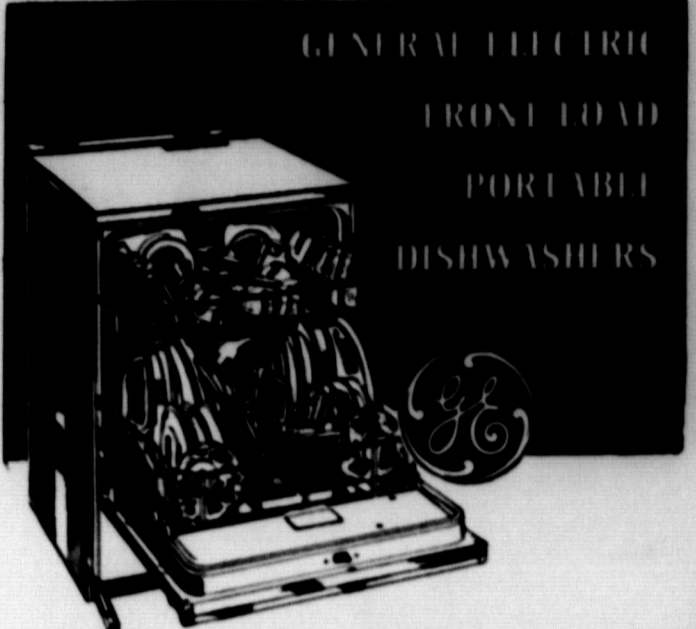

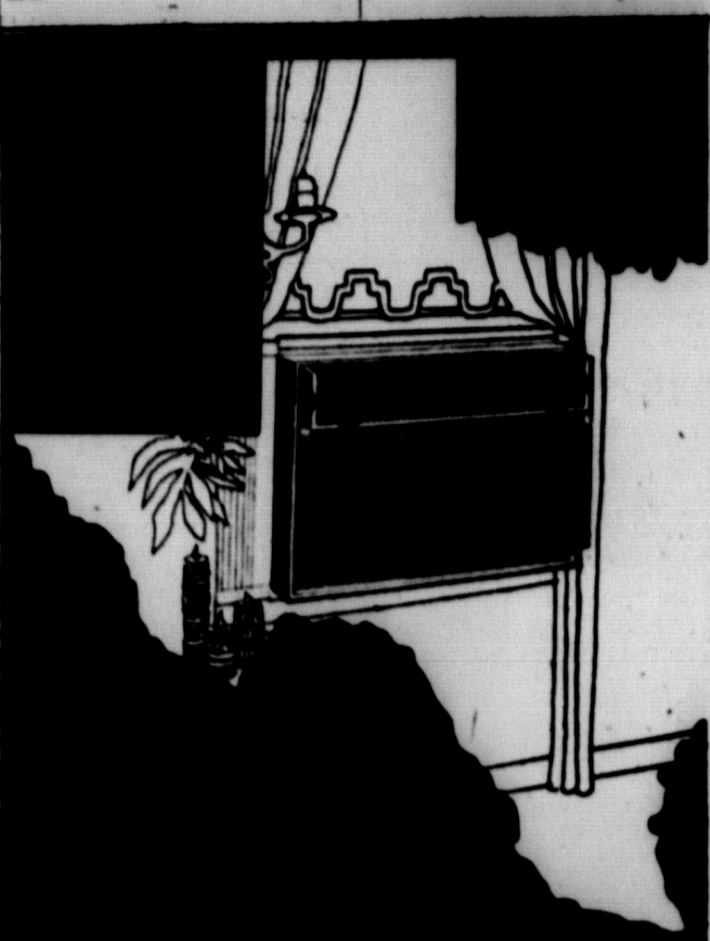

"Students are today's idle rich. Being idle, well fed, and generally satisfied gives us a chance to do a great deal of solitary thinking and 'soul-searching'—a term which has literal significance for us. And many of us, like Hamlet, end up thinking too precisely on the event.

"The oppressed student class can't look to anyone over 30 because older people are no longer idle, have no more time to brood.

"When the member of the oppressed student class gets swept along on the New Left's red flag, it is on the basis of a misunderstanding. For the alienated would be the most desperately unhappy of all people in the regimented society which the New Left would institute..."

Tips for Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

July and August are perhaps the two most difficult months for successful gardening in our area. Especially, where there is a lack of water. We, in Ozona are fortunate to have good water available to keep our yards green and growing well.

An ideal summer bloomer is the common geranium, for the heat and dry weather do not effect its growth and blooms. They require very little care, a light, not too rich soil and not as much water as some other plants, but plenty of sunshine.

Someone once said "Everything is handsome about the geranium, even its name." Geraniums are used for both border and mass plantings, potted plants and window boxes.

Cannas are one of the most versatile and popular plants used in our gardens for blooms and beautiful foliage. The leaves are attractive before they unfurl and they give a tropical feeling to any planting or arrangement. Because of their ease in growing and their exotic blooms, gardeners are becoming more interested in them. New varieties are being developed, which are superior in color and size of bloom. The color range had been shades of yellow, orange and red. Now, they may be had in all of pink tone cream, shites and two-toned varieties. The Humbert varieties produce bronzy foliage which gives an effective accent. Their range in height is from dwarf to tall for backgrounds and screening. The height is easily governed by the amount of food and water they receive. The dwarfs make nice clumps of color in the perennial border in hot weather. Cannas will get along with what they have but they reward you with greater beauty for the care you give them. If they have a ragged appearance in the summer after flowers have faded, cut the stalk off even with the ground. Soon a new stalk will replace the old one. This will keep your plants neat and fresh looking.

Earlier in the season many were worried about the condition of their St. Augustine grass. A late warming up of the soil and freeze damage was partly the cause. It is now becoming well-established with a good color and thick turf. Should plants have a yellow color, a spray application of iron sulphate or a chelated iron will correct the problem.

Plant zenias in a sunny location now for fall blooming.

For gaps in the flower border, you can fill in with foliage or flowering plants from a nursery. Gazanias that I am experimenting with are good for a sunny location. Begonias and sultanas are colorful in the shade. Foliage plants that grow fast and attractive include caladiums, copper plant and coleus.

Huge gears turn ponderously—meshing with others which turn still others, and power is born, energy released.

Today more and more gears and gadgets make living more and more luxurious. There are machines to do almost everything. Appliances entertain us, teach us, train us.

Gears and GADGETS

One thing remains individual. There's no "dial-a-matic" gadget for God, no pushbutton gimmick. Man's search for meaning in his life is still his own responsibility.

When man only dreamed of flying and the fastest way to travel was by horseback, God's Church was the source of all goodness and joy. It's no different today. In a world where man races for the stars, the Church remains the well-spring of truth.

Attend your church. Find faith and the good life.

“Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must undergo the fatigue of supporting it.”

Thomas Paine Sept. 12, 1777

A DREAM

This family is about to realize a life long dream — a home of their own. They are examining plans and watching their home start up from nothing. They have worked hard, saved and are now able to see their dream come true. In many other countries most families feel fortunate to just have a roof over their heads, much less having the resources available to design each room to their own specifications. Is it possible that we have become spoiled by all of the riches that are ours? Where else in the world, but America, could this dream become a reality so often? Let us treasure our freedom and be grateful forever that we are Americans.

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal — that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

The annual ball will be Monday night following a reception sponsored by West Chemical Products, Inc. Another reception hosted by Merck & Company will precede the membership banquet Tuesday evening.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

The New Politics, a youth movement also known as the "New Congress Movement", grabbed headlines recently. Headquartered at Princeton, it established a sort of computerized clearinghouse to supply information to student workers and their chosen candidates across the country.

Joining in the movement, some college heads announced plans to suspend classes for two weeks before the next General Election to enable their crusaders to saturate chosen districts where Congressmen are not acceptable to them.

Already, accompanied by fanfare and ballyhoo, thousands of these students have tested their strength with the electorate. They picked recent primaries in two districts for initial battlegrounds — the 14th in New York and the 15th in New Jersey, represented by veteran Congressman John Rooney of Brooklyn and 4-term Ed Patten across the bay in New Jersey.

The press reported that, with the accent on youth, well over 1,000 students fanned out over Patten's district, ringing doorbells, button-holing prospects and buzzing telephones. Their candidate's well-to-do father put up $150,000 for a down-payment on campaign expenses, and hundreds of workers received up to $20 per day for their services.

The primary results: Patten was handed the most overwhelming victory of his long political career!

In the case of John Rooney, it was about the same story. Again, with the accent on youth, the well-financed opponent was off and running with an endorsement at a meeting of students from 61 campuses. Press headlines acclaimed the thrust of the New Movement. The campaign was described as a model of organized effort. And literally hundreds of student volunteers moved in.

When the votes were counted the Brooklyn Congressman won by a landslide!

But the New Congress Movement is not dead, according to reports from Princeton. The movement is said to have already stored more than 10,000 student names who are available for voluntary campaign help, eager to swing into action.

Apparently what the New Congress Movement overlooks is that most Americans are much smarter than these people give them credit for being. If elected incumbents at all levels need to be replaced, the people have a way of taking care of that without any assist from the outsiders, who really have so little to offer.

Permer, Ozona Native Receives Commendation For Work In Space Program

Permer, Ozona native, presently employed as an electrical engineer, recently received Superior Performance Award for excellence in performance of his who lives in Ozona with his wife and two children, Mike and Stephen. He is a graduate of the University of assigned with the Flight Crew Director's Sub-Office for the Command. He is expected to respond to the changing situations that evol-ner included: stowage, controls and displays, bracketry for special camera attachments, suit requirements and special equipment. These items changed from mission to mission to accommodate different scientific and operational objectives for each flight.

"Indicative of Mr. Permer's motivation and superior performance is the fact that prior to the flight of Apollo 13, he set up a crew station team for the command module and lunar module to support the mission in real time. Because of the subsequent events, Mr. Permer and his counterpart were able to respond instantly to the changing situations that evolved. He was able to provide solutions to pressing crew-spacecraft problems in near real-time. The successful conclusion of the mission was substantially assisted by his efforts in the above area.

"All of the above evidence substantiates the reason why Mr. Permer is highly recommended for the Sustained Superior Performance Award."

Word was received here this week by Permer's mother that he had received the award, plus a check, which is the monetary compensation awarded automatically with the award.

H&R Block Seeks Ozona Franchise

Mrs. Betty H. Sayles, Area Manager for H&R Block in San Angelo indicated that there are plans to open an office in Ozona for the 1971 tax season, through an exclusive "Satellite Franchise Program." Mrs. Sayles explained that the Satellite Franchise program was developed to make available to every community a qualified tax preparation service. "Every citizen today needs competent help in the preparation of his tax return," stated Mrs. Sayles. "A person just cannot afford to be a once-a-year expert in this field."

H & R Block was founded in Kansas City in 1955 and is projecting to grow to over 5,000 offices for the 1971 filing season. This will include over 2,000 franchised offices.
