Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

After Senator Tower's visit and his sharp, direct answers to our questions, I just had to come to the conclusion that we are very fortunate to have a man of his stature representing us in the U. S. Senate.

I was especially impressed with the fact that during the question and answer period he never even paused before giving his opinion on the subjects covered. I have seldom, if ever, heard a politician so well informed and so willing to give a clear-cut answer to questions put to him. He left with nobody wondering where he stood on any issue brought forth. He is living proof that a man doesn't have to straddle the fence and crawl to hold a public office.

When Ralph Yarborough makes his announcement to run for the Senate the next few days, Texans will most certainly have a choice between the left and the right in November, you may be sure.

The Senator hasn't announced for re-election, but I feel sure he will, and with labor backing Yarborough, he is pretty sure to get his party's nomination.

I, for one, will put my money on Senator Tower. I like the way he thinks and I think he is good for Texas. I do not think Texas ever benefited from Yarborough's liberal politics when he was the U. S. Senator from Texas, and the situation hasn't changed one iota.

Well, I thought I would try to say something about the art exhibit at the bank. I've been trying for two weeks to think of something to say, and I haven't come up with anything yet. I'll try to go back and look it over again. It certainly has been fun trying to tie the titles to the works and a body can spend a lot of time in front of some of the paintings trying to figure out what the artist meant. Sometimes I get the feeling that most of them meant to make fools of the viewers, but then I never learned to appreciate the works of modern artists.

My son Jim is a great deal more appreciative of modern art and modern anything than I am, and he tells me I'm just not on the scene if I don't like "The Dried Weed" and "Two Forces." These are two of the paintings on exhibit, and out of the whole bunch I would never have picked them to admire. Of course, that's where the generation gap comes in too. He would no doubt turn up his nose at a Rembrandt or a van Gogh.

I am really a square where modern art is concerned. If it's a tree, I want it to look like a tree, and if it's a portrait, I want to see the face, and so on.

However, I do not have a closed mind, and I intend to visit the exhibit as often as I am able. Perhaps it will grow on me.

Oh, by the way, we are always happy to print letters to the editor, and print all we get as long as they are signed and not libelous. We think this is a good way for our readers to get things out of their systems, and we really wish we got enough letters to have a weekly "Letters to the Editor" column.

The opinions expressed in the letters we print are not necessarily ours. In fact sometimes I violently disagree, especially when I get bad-mouthed. So if you disagree or agree, for that matter, with our letter writers, don't call, just sit down and pen a letter to the Editor of your very own. O. K.?

SENATOR VISITS BANKER -- When Senator John Tower visited Ozona last week he tried to squeeze in as much visiting as possible to meet as many constituents as possible in the brief time he had to visit. One of the final stops before going to the luncheon arranged for him at the civic center was at the Ozona National Bank to visit with Executive Vice President Lowell Littleton and other members of the bank's staff. The Senator made a hasty inspection trip to the Shell gasoline plant north of Ozona and had planned to visit a ranching operation in the county but lack of time, due to bad-weather delays, made it necessary to cancel that visit.

The Lionettes fell to Coahoma 58-31 in their first district encounter here last week. Mary Jo Hyde was the only Lionette in double figures and her 13 points was about half her usual scoring average per game.

The B team also lost, by a count of 59-27.

The girls hosted Stanton Monday night and gave up a 50-45 decision. Miss Hyde took high point honors with 24. Jan North was the only other Lionette in double figures with 17. Coach Webb was pleased with the defensive work of guards Dana Collett, Rita Welty, Mary Jo Hayes and Stacy Dockery.

The B team lost by a count of 61-32. Jan Peltó was the only team member in double figures with 19.

The Lionettes had an 8-6 pre-district record.

Mrs. Susan Webb, high school girls basketball coach, announced this week that beginning Saturday, she will hold a weekly basketball clinic in the girls' gym.

Cross Country Rider And Horse Stop Over

A cowboy and his horse is not an unusual sight in this neck of the woods, but Ozona was host to a rather unusual cowboy and his horse over the weekend.

The horse was unusual because he had trotted some 1950 miles since September 25, 1971, when he left his stable in Goodland, Fla., and the cowboy was unusual because he had ridden the horse every step of the way.

Jim Steadman, foreman of the Remuda Ranch & Resort, a 130-section spread near Miami, was "just taking his vacation," he said. He and his horse, Charlie, were on their way to Tucson, Arizona and were well over two-thirds of the way there when they visited Ozona last weekend.

They left Florida and followed various highways for the most part. However, a well-meaning fellow suggested a short cut between Fredricksburg and Junction, and following his advice Jim found himself lost for a couple of days in open country. When asked if he carried a compass, he replied "I do now."

Lions Win Third Place Trophy In Big Lake Tourney

In high school basketball last week, the Ozona Lions won the third place trophy at the Big Lake Tournament after having their Tuesday night games with Rankin cancelled due to weather.

District play started Tuesday night with the Lions hosting McCamey for three games. The Lions will be in Crane tomorrow night for another district clash.

The Lions downed Sonora 71-46 in first round play Thursday at Big Lake. The Sonora five was never a threat as the Lions led throughout the game. Four Lions were in double figures with Gerald Huff leading with 15. David Sewell and Mike Jenkins hit for 14 points each and Bill Edgerton had 10.

The Lions were downed by Crane in the second round of play Saturday 64-51. The Lions outscored the Cranes in the second half but could not overcome the lead piled up by the Golden Cranes in the first half of the game. Monty Peltó led the scoring for the Lions with 12, followed by Huff with 11.

Ozona Turns Out to Greet Him --

Senator Tower Shows Grasp Of Issues In Brief Visit Here

A crowd of approximately 150 Ozonans turned out to visit with U. S. Senator John Tower at a luncheon at the Civic Center last Wednesday. County officials and friends of the Senator were on hand at the airport when his plane landed on the tarmac on Wednesday morning. Due to the weather, the Senator's plane was thirty minutes late and his tour of the county was cut short. He visited the Shell Gasoline Processing Plant north of the city where Jim Peck, production superintendent, gave him a tour of the plant. The Senator inspected some West Texas cattle with Friends of Tower chairman Joe Couch, and the group made a tour of Ozona National Bank before arriving at the Civic Center.

The luncheon was a joint meeting of the Ozona Lions Club and Rotary Club, assisted by members of the Garden Club, Beta Sigma Phi Chapter, Woman's League, Woman's Forum and Home Demonstration Club.

Following the traditional barbecue dinner, Senator Tower was introduced by Joe Couch. After giving a brief run-down on the economy, the wage-price freeze and Phase II, the Senator held a question and answer period, giving clear-cut and detailed answers to all questions.

In answer to questions about the economy and government control, the Senator expressed a distaste for any kind of government control over private enterprise. However, he said as a last resort it had to be done and he did not oppose the program.

He said Phase II was actually a period of decontrol and guidelines were set by the wage and price boards rather than hard and fast rules.

Tower expressed his belief that the program will work and said he expects the program to end in April, 1973, as planned. He expressed a great deal of confidence in John Connally and said he is doing a splendid job in his efforts to end discrimination of the dollar in foreign markets. In Senator Tower's words, "We have been paties on the international scene too long."

When asked if the Soviets have outstriped the United States in naval power, the Senator answered "No, the U. S. still has the world's greatest navy, but given time and their present momentum, they will."

Senator Tower stated his opposition when asked about the federal plan to turn a vast portion of Big Bend National

Ozona Merchants Report Record Christmas Business

In spite of recession, inflation, the price freeze and government controls, Ozona merchants did a record Christmas business.

All business men interviewed were extremely pleased with the Christmas buying period, and most were somewhat surprised, since there were no large company crews in town during the pre-Christmas period.

Funeral Service Here Tuesday For Cecil B. Laxson

Funeral services for Cecil B. Laxson, 56, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. from James Funeral Home Chapel with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Laxson died Sunday night in Schleicher County Medical Center in Eldorado, where he had been a patient about a year.

He was born July 27, 1915 in Sonora but had lived most of his life in Crockett County. He had operated a domino hall in Ozona for many years.

Survivors include two nieces, Mrs. Violet Cato of Barnhart and Mrs. Cal Thompson of Missouri, and four nephews, Fred Kessler of Mertzon, Will Kessler of Christoval, Tommy Laxson of Midland and Sellars Laxson of McKinney.

Although some stores reported business a little under 1968, when the town was heavily populated with oilfield and pipeline workers, they all reported the best Christmas Eve business ever.

Ray Henderson at White's Auto said that only last Tuesday was a better day for his store than Christmas Eve, when he sold around 25 sets of mud chains. He had had the chains in stock for several years.

All in all, Ozona merchants feel the outlook for the new year is bright.

4 Ozona Students Make Dean's List

A total of 361 students in the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University qualified for the dean's honor list for the fall semester, according to Dean Anson R. Bertrand.

Ozonans qualifying for the honor list were Fredrick H. Chandler, Ag. Ed.; Roy F. Coates, Animal Science; Dennis L. Douglas, Animal Science; William W. West, Animal Production.

To qualify for the honor list, a student must be enrolled in 12 semester hours of courses, excluding pass-fail courses, and have at least a 3.0 grade point average.

SENATOR TOWER IN OIL FIELDS. Senator John Tower expressed deep interest in the oil industry and its problems and while on a visit to Ozona Wednesday of last week asked to visit a nearby oil installation. He is pictured above at the Shell Oil Co. gasoline plant north of Ozona. Showing him around the intricate complex was Jim Peck, production superintendent at the plant. Asked if he thought another assault would be made on the depletion allowance in the next session of Congress, he said "No. They got their pound of flesh and I don't anticipate any new move for further reduction."

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club By Mrs. Bailey Post

January is the midway month for winter planting and transplanting of trees and shrubs. Garden work this month must be limited to mild days between cold snaps like we had last week.

On warm days prune summer-flowering shrubs as needed in winter or early spring in order to keep them in bounds. Rid your garden of plant litter and check plantings to be certain they get sufficient water.

Although autumn planting of Camellias is preferred by many, you can have good results by buying and planting when these shrubs are in bloom. Camellias are now the flower of the hour. This assures that you will get the desired colors and varieties in bloom that you may choose from. Also, there will be camellia shows staged throughout the month this month and next that you can visit.

When planting camellias, set the top of the ball 1 to 1 1/2 inches above soil level to allow for settling. Plenty of humus is essential in both heavy and light soil. Die-back usually follows too-deep planting. Heavy mulching keeps root balls moist while plants settle to their normal depths. Camellias are very popular plants to use in pots and may be moved where needed when wanted.

Regardless of the kind of soil in your yard, peat moss is one of the best investments you can make at the time of purchasing shrubs. Peat humus, leaf mold from the woods, compost, decomposed leaves and old well rotted manure are other good sources of organic matter. Work these soil additions into planting beds or individual planting holes for trees and shrubs. At any season of the year, test a handful of soil to be certain that it is the proper texture for planting. Squeeze into a ball. When hand is opened, soil should be a crumbly ball. If soil remains compact and drips water, you should delay planting date.

SENSING the NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

COMPROMISING THE SYSTEM

If free enterprise is to survive in the United States, it will have to battle for its existence against Big Unionism, Big Government and those who want to radically restructure American society.

Unfortunately, the need to struggle for survival often isn't fully understood. Some influential members of the business community apparently believe that the business system must appease the critics of free enterprise and make an accommodation with those who want a different type of society.

A case in point is David Rockefeller, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and member of one of America's financial and political dynasties. Mr. Rockefeller's views were voiced with great clarity in a speech before the Advertising Council in New York City. The speech should be closely studied by the business community.

Mr. Rockefeller accurately analyzed the scope of the current attacks on American business and forecast new pressures in the near future. He warned that "government may decree that a businessman must be concerned not only to find the quantity of money he requires but also to obtain specific authorization to use the funds in the manner he proposes. Investment projects not sufficiently high on the 'social agenda' may have to pay a premium or wait in line for approval."

Mr. Rockefeller added that he "can foresee the day when, in addition to the annual financial statement, certified by independent accountants, corporations may be required to publish a 'social audit' similarly certified."

The substance of Mr. Rockefeller's position is that "the social contract" is up for revision and that business must make concessions in order to continue to function. Mr. Rockefeller judges that "businessmen have no choice but to respond by becoming reformers themselves, making a conscious effort to adapt the operation of the market system to our changing social, political and technological environment." In his speech, he recommended specific projects that require more Big Government activities and deeper business involvement in government directed projects.

The Rockefeller position can't be ignored. He wields immense influence and his views will have a major impact in certain business circles, chiefly in the Northeast.

The Rockefeller thesis should be carefully considered. Reading his speech, however, one finds that it is fundamentally defeatist insofar as the free enterprise system is concerned. He views the current crop of critics of business as representing the wave of the future. Evidently, he believes that the public won't rally behind an economic system geared to individual enterprise free of government restriction and harassment.

Mr. Rockefeller apparently would have business give up without a fight, bow to the Ralph Naders and the various groups that libel business and fight against technology. But there's no reason to believe that advocates of radical restructuring would be satisfied with a partial modification of the free enterprise system or a limited number of new social controls on business. It is far more likely that the radical critics of business, the proponents of a new social contract, will be satisfied with nothing less than the total transformation of a free enterprise economy into a thoroughgoing state-controlled economic system. If business accepts David Rockefeller's advice, business is likely to end up as the smile on the face of a tiger.

Furthermore, the so-called reformers Mr. Rockefeller would have business make common cause with aren't reformers at all. For example, if the Nader groups have their way, entire industries will be crippled. The American standard of living will fall.

Business, not Big Government or the new crop of social critics, is the constructive force in our society. The nation must have more energy sources, not less. It must develop additional advanced technology, not seek a return to the wilderness state.

A strong, vital America also requires an end to union monopoly powers -- and Mr. Rockefeller doesn't even mention the harmful effects of such powers.

Therefore, the Rockefeller advice is bad advice for business and the country as a whole. America has a great economic system. It is imperative that the free enterprise system be protected and strengthened, not compromised as Mr. Rockefeller recommends. It is unfortunate that Mr. Rockefeller isn't more interested in fighting hard for the system which has benefited him so greatly.

Health Careers Program To Be Presented Here

The Texas Health Careers Program will present a Health Careers Assembly for Ozona High School on Wednesday, January 19, 1972, at 1:30 p.m. The unique presentation by John Haddad, director of field services, THCP, is designed to introduce exciting career opportunities in health care to all students.

With over 300 different careers available, the health-care field is projected to employ more than any other industry in the United States by 1975. Texas alone has needs for over 20,000 trained personnel today.

A project of the Texas Hospital Education and Research Foundation, the Texas Health Careers Program was begun in 1964 by the Texas Hospital Association to overcome health manpower shortages. During the past four years the Texas Health Careers Program has presented Health Careers Assemblies to 500,000 students in Texas Secondary schools.

COW COUNTRY GANDER--Senator John Tower, who visited briefly in Ozona last week, attending a luncheon in his honor at the civic center at the noon hour, after a whirlwind tour of oil, ranch and business areas, takes a gander at a segment of the ranching industry. Above he chats with rancher Joe Couch, chairman of the Friends for Tower committee of Crockett county, while looking over pastures and cattle on the Thompson TT ranch north of Ozona.

One stormy night our lights went out. The blackness was total. Little Mary screamed and grabbed me. The boys, trying to be brave, banged across the room. I comforted them, trying to hold all against the terrors of the dark. Then the back door banged, and there was Bob standing in the door holding a lighted candle. "Daddy, Daddy," cried the children, their fears forgotten, as the room resumed its safe proportions in the light. Gaily they helped to light the candles and build a roaring fire. How like that candle is my church. The spiritual resources it offers light my life with a sense of proportion and confidence, no matter how dark things seem. Your church can brighten your life, if you give it a chance.

Chris Rebelez Receives Baptist Scholarship

Dallas -- Chris Rebelez, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose L. Rebelez, of Ozona received a scholarship from the Baptist General Convention of Texas during recent interviews at the Baptist Building here. Rebelez, a graduate of Ozona High School and now a student of Dallas Baptist College, is one of 550 deserving Latin American students to receive the $500 a year scholarships in the last 15 years. The scholarship criteria include at least a "B" average in High School, recommendations from pastor, teachers and friends, membership in a Baptist church or mission and personal Christian testimony.

Senator Tower—

(Continued from page one) Park into a wilderness area. He said he prefers the master plan rather than the wilderness plan. The master plan would limit commercial use of the park and add certain facilities but would not prevent future development for motorized visitors. Tower said he felt that the nation's natural assets should be enjoyed by as many of its citizens as possible and turning the majority of the park into a wilderness area would eliminate the majority of visitors. In response to another question concerning the economy and inflation, the Senator cited organized labor as a big power in the economy. The extraordinary power labor unions have over business is a big factor in the spiral of wages and prices and continuing inflation. The Senator said the existing labor laws are outdated, but that he saw no chance of a National Right to Work Law in the near future.

The Senator came out flatly against a guaranteed annual income when asked about it. He said welfare reform was needed and that he felt more should be done for the needy and benefits should be cut out entirely for those who exploit the system. He drew a round of applause when he said he chopped cotton for a dollar a day in earlier years and although he didn't want to go back to it, he would if he had to in order to feed his family. In response to other questions the Senator's quick and direct answers were: "Yes, the American role in the family of nations has declined, as well as American influence throughout the world. "No, there will be no broad national health insurance in the near future. At least nothing like the Kennedy plan. "Its inability as a peacemaker in the world has made the United Nations ineffective. "The South Vietnamese are better armed and better trained than ever, and American ground troops should be out of Vietnam by spring. "The Paris peace talks are little more than a propaganda instrument for Hanoi. The U. S. has taken all the peace initiative. "The stronger we are, the better negotiating position we have in the SALT talks. "The minimum wage will be hiked to $2 an hour. It will be a bad thing in this inflationary period. Raising the minimum wage is pricing people out of jobs. "The Medicare program has been less than satisfactory. Senator Tower predicted chaos in our public school system if the federal court ruling declaring the Texas plan of financing schools unconstitutional is allowed to stand. He said it is essential to our democracy that we maintain local control over our schools. Senator Tower shook many hands and spoke briefly to the many who came by, before departing for the airport and San Angelo, where he spoke later in the day before returning to Dallas.

Basketball—

(Continued from page 1) The Lions beat the Reagan County Owls Saturday night 53-46 for the third place trophy. Huff led the Lion attack with 15 points. Randy Crawford was the only other Lion in double figures with 10. Sewell made the all-tournament team for the Lions. The Lions go into District play with an 11-6 record for pre-district play.

680 Hunters Registered Here During Season

Hubert Baker, manager of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce, reported a total of 680 out-of-town hunters registered at the various stores during the hunting season for the drawing which will be held at the annual chamber of commerce banquet Feb. 17. Among the 680 out-of-town hunters were 29 from out-of-state. Also registered were 106 local hunters. The names will be placed in a large container and the winner will receive a combination ice-chest and water cooler. Baker reported that the figure registered this year was much higher than in previous years and over 100 over last year's record number.

your income tax that you might never have known existed.

And, when you figure your own, you may be entitled to deductions you're not taking and taking deductions you're not entitled to. For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging"? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year. Which is somewhat less than what you paid.
