All Teachers Are Re-Elected For Next Year

Board Retains Faculty At Salary Increase; McCook Coach

All present members of the faculty of Ozona Public Schools were re-elected for the coming year at general increases in salary when members of the school board met here Wednesday afternoon.

To fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Coach Dan Patterson, who left Monday to begin training for commission as an Ensign in the United States Naval Air Force in the field of physical education, the board named Elmo McCook, assistant coach under Coach Patterson last year, as coach of athletics in the high school. One vacancy exists at present in the high school faculty, that of teacher of Spanish and history, created by Coach Patterson's resignation. The place is being filled at present by Dr. John A. Sherburne on a substitute basis.

Faculty members in the primary department who were offered their positions for next year's term with salary raises are Miss Frances Sprawls, kindergarten; Miss Georgia Williams, first grade; Miss Marzee Hammons, second and third grade; Miss Eleanor Neal, fourth grade; and Mrs. C. S. Denham, fifth grade. In the Junior high are Miss Elisabeth Eiser, Miss Rebecca Anderson, Miss Zelma Scott and Principal R. H. Garner.

High school faculty members re-employed included Mr. McCook, Mrs. Allena Westerman, Mrs. A. Nimmo, Cyril Pingelton, Miss Hazel Kirbie and L. B. T. Sikes. In the Mexican school faculty are Joe Ripple, principal, Misses Margaret Meyers, Margaret Hill, Catherine Chapman, Margaret Butler, and Estelle Carruth, and Mrs. R. H. Garner.

Cooking School Sessions To Be At Hotel Ozona

Two-Day Nutrition For Defense Course On March 30-31

Hotel Ozona ballroom has been selected for a class room for the 1942 Spring cooking school sponsored this year by the West Texas Utilities Co. in cooperation with the Ozona Stockman. The school sessions are to be held Monday and Tuesday afternoons, March 30 and 31.

Miss Eudora Hawkins, head of the home service department of the Utilities Company, will be this year's lecturer and demonstrator. "Nutrition for defense" will be the theme of the school, with many new ideas appropriate to war times, rationing and higher living costs from which housewives may benefit in feeding their families more economically and at the same time cooperate in the national move for better health and nutrition.

The all-electric school will feature many of the same food products that have been used in previous schools. Sessions are to open each afternoon at 2:30 and continue about two hours. Attractive attendance prizes will be awarded.

Music Club Joins PTA For Art Exhibit

Members of the Ozona Music Club will join the Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting Monday afternoon and to attend the art exhibit to be presented in the gymnasium following the P. T. A. meeting.

The P. T. A. session was postponed from last Monday in order to cooperate in the art exhibit. Following the regular program in the auditorium, the group will adjourn to the gymnasium for the exhibit.

A. W. Jones, Former Ozonan, Dies In Uvalde

Funeral In Angelo Today For Former Saddle Maker Here

Allen W. Jones, 54, who operated a boot and saddle and leather goods firm in Ozona for 13 years before leaving here about two years ago to enter a similar business in Uvalde, died at his home in that city shortly after midnight Tuesday night, according to word received here yesterday morning by friends.

Mr. Jones had suffered a heart attack several days ago. He had been in failing health since before leaving Ozona.

Funeral services were scheduled for 11 o'clock this morning in San Angelo from the Robt. Massie Funeral Home. Burial is to be in Fairmont Cemetery.

Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the Baptist Church at Uvalde, and former pastor here, will have charge of funeral services, with the Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ozona, assisting. Pallbearers will be Thomas Head, Gus Jones and Henry Ragsdale of San Angelo and J. T. Keeton, Ira Carson and A. C. Hoover of Ozona.

Mr. Jones was born April 18, 1887, at Alvarado, Texas. He came to Ozona in 1927 from Del Rio after buying the leather business from the estate of the late L. A. McLemore. Mr. Jones operated the business here until 1940 when he sold out to Oscar Kost to go into business in Uvalde. He entered the leather trade as a boy in San Angelo, following it the rest of his life.

Mr. Jones married Miss Helen Evelyn Lumpkin at Frisco, Texas, on September 15, 1909. The widow and one daughter, Mrs. Gilbert F. Noakes of San Antonio survive. Three sisters, Miss Effie Jones and Mrs. A. C. Ragsdale of San Angelo, and Mrs. Wren Jackson of Best, also survive.

Mrs. Welton Bunger is recovering from an operation in a San Antonio hospital.

Registrant Who Entered "Marriage Of Expediency" Seeks Deferment From Draft

Just what a "marriage of expediency" might be is being pondered by the Crockett County draft board following receipt of a letter from a registrant who now lives in Sparrows Point, Maryland, and who offered the fact that he had become a "party to a marriage of expediency" in support of a claim for draft deferment.

"I am taking this method of informing you of a situation which I believe merits a change in my draft status," the registrant wrote.

"On Sunday, March 8, 1942, I was a party to a marriage of expediency, and I find that my wife is soon to be confined. Her father, who has eight dependents, will not be able to support her. I am asking, therefore, since I am employed in defense industry, that I be deferred for a reasonable length of time.

"Thanking you in advance for

Oscar Davis Draws Order No. 1 On Local List

Lottery Determines Order of Call for Feb. 16 Registrants

William Oscar Davis, ranch worker, drew Order No. 1 among Crockett county registrants in the 20 to 44-year-old age bracket, who signed up February 16, in the third national lottery held in Washington Tuesday night to determine the order in which some nine million men who signed up in the third registration will be liable for military service. Davis' serial number, 176, was the fourth drawn from the goldfish bowl in Washington, the first three numbers being larger than the highest serial number in the local registration.

L. A. (Red) Greer, Ozona barber, held the second number to be drawn to affect registrants in this county. His serial number was 129 and his Order number will be 2.

These first order numbers are not official but based on press reports of the drawing. The complete and official list with accurate order numbers will not be available until the local board has received the national master list. Below are order numbers as worked out from press reports from the early hours of the drawing:

Few Tardies In Schools Resulting From Time Change

Change to the new war time, effected by the Ozona school system last Monday morning, caused scarcely a ripple in the routine of the school day, C. S. Denham, superintendent, reported yesterday.

Classes in band, which met at 8 o'clock, reported no tardies the opening day of the new time schedule and the high school likewise recorded no tardies. In Junior High School, there was only one pupil unable to adjust to the earlier hour and was tardy and one pupil in the primary grades failed to make it on time.

whatever consideration you are able to give me in this matter, I am, etc."

The dictionary defines "expediency" as "practical efficiency" which might be as good as any to describe the developments as outlined in the letter, and satisfactory from that angle as an explanation to the board. But under "expedient" the dictionary gives "apt and suitable to the end in view," and "characterized by mere utility rather than principle; conducive to special advantage rather than what is universally right." And that definition might be just what the registrant had in mind but hardly meant to say.

Anyway, the board may just consider it a fancy word for "shotgun" and let it go at that, since national draft officials have made it pretty plain that marriages after December 7, 1941, have little bearing on one's draft status anyway.

Air Wardens Are Named For Duties In Ozona

Lovelace Heads Group; Training Program Is Planned

Complying with a government request that all communities in the nation organize for civilian defense, organization of an air raid warden service for Ozona is under way after appointment by the local defense coordinating committee of Boyd W. Lovelace as chief air raid warden for this community.

For the purpose of selecting wardens properly placed in each section of the town, a map was divided into residential and business areas and residents centrally located in each area were named as wardens. These wardens, all selected because of the location of their homes in a particular area and their availability for service at all times, are to be responsible for their own sections in case of air raids, with a communication system to be worked out in advance.

Before the local organization can be qualified and recognized by army authorities, the group must complete a total of 26 hours of training in various phases of work which might come under their supervision in case of raids.

The first meeting of the group will be held beginning at 7:30 tonight (Thursday) in the ballroom of the Hotel Ozona, preceding the weekly session of the Red Cross First Aid class beginning at 8. All wardens named by the chief are asked to be present for this meeting.

The local defense coordinating committee, heading the complete local defense set-up, is composed of Will Baggett, Scott Peters and Deputy Sheriff R. E. McWilliams. The sheriff's office will be the central office of the local air raid warden service, with Boyd Lovelace as chief warden, Ben Williams as assistant chief, and Frank James as precinct air raid warden.

Five senior air raid wardens will be O. W. Smith, Melvin Brown, Tom Harris, Andres Tijerina, George Russell and R. E. Caswell. Wardens will be Joe Patrick, Oscar Kost, Heyward White, J. V. Blaylock, C. S. Denham, Arthur Kyle, Andy Trull, C. C. Luther and Sam Martinez.

The duties of the air raid wardens will be to care for the populace in case of air raids, to enforce blackouts, direct people to shelter, prevent looting, watch for fires and generally to be in charge in time of raids or test blackouts.

Motorists Lag In Purchase Of New License Tags

Only Ten Days Remain In which to Register The Bus

With just ten days left for registration of motor vehicles for the coming year, business was beginning to pick up in the office of the sheriff and tax collector this week, although office deputy, Claude Russell, declares motorists are lagging considerably in the purchase of new numbers this year.

New numbers must be on all motor vehicles on or before April 1, it was pointed out, and unless motorists begin to rush up the registration, there is destined to be an unprecedented last minute rush at the registration counter.

Car owners were reminded that in order to register their cars this year, it is essential that they have certificates of title to the vehicles. The certificate of title law makes it mandatory that the motorist have such certificate before he is eligible to register the vehicle.

If certificates have been lost or misplaced, application should be made at once for a new one. Such applications can be prepared in the sheriff's office and forwarded to the Department of Public Safety which issues the certificates.

Dan Patterson

Dan Patterson Leaves Coaching For Naval Post

Ozona Mentor To Become Ensign; Physical Director

After hanging up a record never before attained in Ozona High School athletic history, a district and bi-district football championship, Coach Dan Patterson has shifted his talents to the service of Uncle Sam in the present war effort.

Coach Patterson is on his way into the U. S. Navy, in the naval aviation branch. He left Ozona Monday for Dallas where he was to report Tuesday morning to receive his orders. He was to report at Annapolis, Md., Monday of next week to begin a four to six-weeks training course which will lead to a commission as an Ensign in the U. S. Naval air force. His duties will be as physical education instructor for recruits of the naval air force and he will be stationed at some naval air corps training center in the United States.

Methodists Hope For Priority In Building Program

Invite Architects To Submit Plans For Committee Study

Strong hope that priority rating for purchase of materials with which to rebuild the Ozona Methodist Church, destroyed by fire March 8, was voiced at a called meeting of the board of Stewards and Trustees of the Methodist Church held at the parsonage Wednesday night.

An application for priority rating, to be filled out by local church officials, is being sent to the building committee and two architects have voiced the opinion that in the emergency faced by the local congregation, priority rating may be granted, it was reported to the board members.

The group decided to ask a number of competent architects to come to Ozona as soon as possible, to inspect the building site and ruins and to make suggestions of plans for a building program for guidance of church officers.

As soon as such suggestions and plans are in the hands of the Stewards and Trustees, they will be submitted to the entire church conference, it was announced, in which a full discussion will be invited.

An effort to secure funds for the building program will not be made until a reasonably definite plan has been decided upon, the boards decided.

Hi School Junior Student Dies Of Heart Attack

Funeral Today At 5 For Mervin McLaughlin

Death, ascribed by the attending physician as resulting from a heart attack, came suddenly at about 1:45 o'clock this morning to a 17-year-old Ozona High School boy, Eddie Mervin McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. McLaughlin. The lad died in his sleep, apparently never becoming conscious after the attack.

Funeral services are slated for 5 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) from the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Methodist Church, to direct the services. Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mervin, one of the most popular students on the campus of Ozona High School, was apparently in the best of health yesterday, according to his parents. He had played tennis with companions for a time after school hours Wednesday afternoon and ate a hearty supper.

He had retired around ten o'clock but his father came home about 10:30 and the lad got up to help the elder McLaughlin to unload a truck load of feed. This task was completed and the pair returned home at midnight.

Hearing an unusual noise in the night, Mrs. McLaughlin was awakened. She ran to her son's bedside to find him dying. He lived but a few minutes after his mother reached him.

Young McLaughlin was a junior in Ozona High School. He was a member of the champion Lion football team at the beginning of the season, but early in the season suffered a broken leg in a practice session, which put him out of athletics throughout the football season. He had recovered enough, however, to play basketball this season, and was an accomplished tennis player.

He was born October 19, 1924. Surviving are the parents and one sister, Louise McLaughlin, freshman student in Ozona High School.

Stanley Lemmons Honor Graduate Of 1942 Class

Gemella Dudley Second, Adele Keeton, Mary F. Lucas Follow

A 3½-year scholastic average of 93.57, based on work through high school and through the first semester of the present term, won for Stanley Lemmons, son of Mrs. Ben Lemmons, highest honors among this year's graduating class from Ozona High School.

Gemella Dudley took second honors with an average of 92.5, Adele Keeton was third with a 92.14 average and Mary Faye Lucas was fourth with 89.64.

Honor students were determined at a meeting of the High School faculty held Monday afternoon. The averages cover work of the student throughout the first three years in high school and through the first half of the senior year.

Graduation exercises for members of this year's Ozona High School class are scheduled for May 21. There are eighteen members of the class who are candidates for graduation, ten boys and eight girls.

The 1942 graduating class is composed of the following: Mary Lee Brown, Dorothy Capps, Bill Carson, Lloyd Coates, Gemella Dudley, Claude Everett, Dan Gerdes, Mary V. Graham, Billy Hannah, Floyd Hokit, Adele Keeton, Stanley Lemmons, Norma Lovelace, Mary Faye Lucas, Garrett McWilliams, Carl Thurman, Wayne West and Byron Williams.

High school classes were suspended this afternoon honoring the memory of Mervin McLaughlin.

THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1942

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE . . .

It may seem a remote possibility, that of an air raid on so isolated a community as Ozona, and you may think organization of air raid warden service, and aircraft warning service just a bit of absurdity created by an over-enthusiastic civilian population anxious to serve at something in war time.

But the army and air corps, the service branches heading these two civilian activities, are deadly earnest about the organizations. Air attack by Japan upon the Hawaiian Islands, 3400 miles away, may have seemed unlikely before Dec. 7. No one would have believed a Jap submarine would be so bold as to shell the American west coast—but one did.

WEATHER REPORT . . .

The weather editor of the New York Post was in a quandary the first day that censorship was imposed upon weather forecasts. He had the official report, but he didn't dare print it. On the other hand, it was necessary that the first page of the Post say something about the weather. The editor picked up a pencil and solved his problems with one sentence. "Weather," he wrote, "will continue."—Boston Globe.

START FIGHTING FIRE NOW . . .

There are many big civilian defense jobs to be done. And one of the biggest is the creation of an adequate fire defense in this country. That is a job which must be done by all the people.

The two coasts of America are definitely combat areas. Both are susceptible to air and naval attack. In addition, many important inland points could be reached by a determined enemy. These are facts, unpleasant as they may seem. And if attack comes, the thermit-magnesium incendiary bomb is almost certain to be the principal weapon used.

Luckily, these and other incendiaries can be controlled. Their danger can be tremendously minimized if trained men and women are available to fight them. England was saved by its fire-fighting forces. Perhaps, some day, that will be said of American cities and towns. And these forces will consist very largely of volunteers—people who give their time and services to civil defense after working hours.

Even if we are not attacked from without, this work will produce fine fruit. As C. Lester Walker writes in Harper's, "We are a profligate race where fire is concerned . . . The flames have taken $3,000,000,000 of our property since 1929 and each year 10,000 lives. So if the war-born alarms and precautions cut our normal fire losses even ten per cent, all the effort, time, and money—and even the hysteria—will have been worth it."

Every civilian can help in this war against fire. Do your share—and start doing it right now.

BROKEN PROMISE . . .

In spite of the promises made in December that strikes would be outlawed for the duration of the war, America's vitally needed war production is being hampered by walk outs. At a time when every hour of work counts more than it ever has before, men are dropping their tools and leaving their jobs. At a time when the fighting forces of freedom are making gallant stands in every part of the world, men here are giving up.

A recent survey revealed that there had been 76 strikes in war work plants during February—an increase of 77 per cent over January. These strikes involved 70,905 workers and caused a loss of 2,028,824 man-hours of labor in those plants alone. Production of such vital military stores as airplane parts, machine tools, anti-aircraft guns, ships and ship parts was held up. Other factories that depended on the struck plants were also affected and work was slowed down all along the line.

Today, when uninterrupted war production is the single hope of freedom, why must industrial disputes bring production to a standstill? Why can't the disputes be settled while the war work continues? Why are the promises that were made only a few months ago being broken now?

A BOOMING BUSINESS

BLOOD MONEY . . .

Despite all the talk to the effect that the labor problem has been generally settled for the duration, the fact remains that no man can get a job in most industries unless he belongs to a union, pays dues to a union, and accepts dictation from a union.

The closed shop amounts to a labor monopoly of the worst kind—a monopoly exercised by labor leaders who are responsible to no one, not even the government.

If the 100 per cent closed shop goal is reached, labor dictators will be more powerful than government itself. They will have an absolute stranglehold over all instruments of production and distribution. Witness use of such power in slowing up war production to enforce demands. Refusal of thousands to work in defense industries on Washington's birthday except at overtime pay, is an example of unpatriotic or disloyal action hard to equal.

NOT BAD, AT THAT . . .

Down at Camp Lee, Va., the soldiers tell this story: One night a sentry at a motor cavalry camp heard hoofbeats. He called out, "Halt. Who's there?" A horse whinnied, and the soldier, a stickler for rules, called out: "Advance and be mechanized."—The Pathfinder.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, March 18—WAR'S COST MONEY—Probably nothing has done so much to engrave that fact on the consciousness of everyone as the staggering magnitude of the Treasury Department's proposal for the First Revenue Act of World War II. Almost surely you've checked the table to see what your own income tax would be—and you know the general outline: roughly doubled income taxes; higher levies on corporations; plugging of loopholes such as tax-exempt securities; higher excise taxes on gasoline, liquor, tobacco, candy and other things; stiffer estate and gift taxes, all rolling up into an expected $7,600,000,000 additional revenue.

And you noticed that the new income tax will be of the "deduct from pay check" variety . . . But here's a whip-cracker to it all: Even the $25 billion that all federal taxes would yield on the proposed new basis would pay for only about one-third the war's cost! No chance for "pay-as-you-go." . . . The proposals aren't the law yet, and there may be many changes, but there will be an Act, and it will come pretty close to making all the indicated demands.

It's Our War, Too

It's our war now and has been for three months. But the fabulous islands of the Pacific, where the boys from the U.S.A. are getting in a few licks, are so far away it still seems like something to read about or see in the news reels.

It may soon be our turn to be bombed and any night this spring the sirens may sound in the cities along our coasts. But being an air raid warden is still like a new kind of game and we find it almost impossible to believe we're really in danger. Of course there was Pearl Harbor. But that seems to have happened a long time ago. It's already like something in history. Even General MacArthur and his men have a legendary quality.

Of course, there's our trouble about tires and sugar and silk stockings. But these inconveniences haven't affected us seriously yet and we can't realize that there may be a really unpleasant shortage of various necessities before next winter. Meanwhile we continue to live and eat and dress much as we always have.

Only in the great army camps of the nation and in our factories, now working night and day, is here unmistakable evidence that we're in the greatest war we've ever had to fight—in it until "victory or death."

Our military leaders know that we're in this war to the finish—so do the men responsible for making the machines needed to win. They are not blinded by our distance from what is now the front are branching out in diverse directions, opening skating rinks, bowling alleys, groceries. One phase of General Motors' program for minimizing mortality in its selling set-up is an offer to buy back new cars from dealers, and it's understood other auto companies have similar plans in mind . . . American Chiclé expects its chewing gum sales volume in 1942 to fall 10 to 15 per cent on account of the sugar restrictions . . . But Corn Products Refining Company is looking for a 10 per cent gain over 1941, though that year set an all-time high for it. Corn for sweetening is having a heyday, as it did in World War I, as syrup for pancakes and for industrial uses, ice cream sweetening, for example . . . Petroleum Industry War Council has now extended its proposal for night closings of filling stations to the whole country, not just eastern seaboard.

OLD-TIMERS RALLY—Back to factories now buzzing with arms work are flocking scores of veteran shop workers, retired foremen and grizzled inspectors, eager to lend their "know-how" and ingenuity to boost Axis-beating arms production—and showing notable results. An instance of the value of their talents is related by a shop superintendent of Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing, himself a third-generation member of the company family: "The other day when a bad bottleneck threatened because we couldn't lay hands on a certain type of lathe, one of these returned old-timers tinkered together the exact machine we needed, using a collection of old machine sections and parts." While hundreds of oldsters are rallying to the war's call to "re-enlist" in the production army, scores of younger foremen and technical experts are working overtime as teachers in nearby vocational schools. More than 1,500—including boys and women—are enrolled in these special classes, and as a result the company is able to expand its payroll weekly.

GOOD-BYE FRILLS—Clothes and cosmetics are socked by scarcities growing out of the war. WPB's decree says, after March 30, no more two-pants suits, no cuffs on trousers, no more vests to double-breasted suits, no patch pockets, no full-dress coats, no cutaways, shorter overcoats minus fancy backs . . . Industrial alcohol rations will affect almost all lines of perfumes, lotions, deodorants, hair and scalp preparations, it being an absolutely essential ingredient. Lack of glycerine, and stuff that makes lather moist and heavy, may affect shaving creams, too—so will stoppage of imports of natural menthol. Besides, all these lines of personal glamorizing products will be severely de-frilled as to their packages, traditionally important as a selling point.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—More women elevator operators, girl messengers for the telegraph companies . . . Higher prices for magazines . . . Saturday Evening Post and Liberty abandon the old "nickel standard" and go to a dime in April . . . Plastic tubes (not tin) for toothpastes . . . Heavier shoes for women, to meet needs of OCD workers . . . A new version of cellulose-impregnated semi-stiff shirt collars, said to have definitely "permanent" whiteness . . . "Carry your parcels" campaigns by department stores—Macy's puts a special red-white-and-blue sticker on all "take-with" packages.

University of Texas faculty members at their general meeting pledged themselves to "an all-out sacrifice and effort to help save our American way of life," and called upon both capital and labor and all other production agencies to join in this pledge.

Army Hospital Units Approved For Texas Medical School

AUSTIN, March 18 — Formation of two U. S. Army hospital units—the 127th general hospital and the 30th surgical hospital—at the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston has been approved by the War Department.

The War Department authorized the Medical School to bring in 49 doctors from outside the faculty to pull the two units up to their full complement of medical men, on condition that these non-faculty men were placed on the faculty nominally.

At the last meeting of the Board of Regents here, the 49 Texas doctors were appointed, on recommendation of the Medical School faculty committee and Dean Spies, to the Medical School faculty as assistants in their respective fields, without vote or salary.

The two hospital units will be on call for military service as units at any time and place the War Department may order.

Care Of Electrical Appliances Urged

Factories that once hummed busy as a bee turning out electric appliances today are roaring like a lion following conversion to the manufacture of war materials. Hence, the West Texas Utilities foresees a time when rationing will be applied to all appliances, in addition to refrigerators—a day when floor sweepers, irons and similar items will become as hard to get as a new tire or a hundred pounds of sugar.

So the company is advising that you "be good to your electric appliances and they'll be good to you."

Refrigerators, it was pointed out, are vital to the conservation and protection of food and, therefore, steps should be taken to keep them in good repair and to prevent unnecessary deterioration. Most all appliances, it was said, are important in maintaining civilian morale, performing many household tasks and allowing more time for war efforts.

Special care was urged for all appliance parts and cords for lamps in which rubber or copper is used.

Side Glances on Texas History

MILITARY "UNIFORMS"

While the Texas defense Guard of today is a snappy, well-clad and well-drilled military organization, early forerunners of this army—in the days of the Republic—could scarcely boast as much.

When a battalion was mustered out at Houston in the fall of 1838 to "chastize" a band of predatory Indians, there was no "government issue" of clothing—each soldier, even the commander-in-chief, wore whatever garb he had that he thought suitable for rough wear, according to F. R. Lubbock, member of the battalion and later Governor of Texas.

Lubbock describes the habiliments of the battalion, himself included, in his Memoirs, "Six Decades in Texas," a copy of which is found in the University of Texas Library's extensive Texas Collection.

"Major Bonnell... was of medium height, with red hair and

Paraski Troops Ready for Action

After a hard training grind, ski troopers of the 503rd parachute battalion are now seasoned paraski soldiers. A group of the jumping snowbirds are pictured inside their transport plane en route to their jump-off place near Alta, Utah. Their skis and other equipment will be dropped to them by large parachutes after they have leaped.

freckled face under a slouched hat," Lubbock wrote, "and he came into camp in a very long coat reaching nearly to his ankles, making quite a priestly appearance, and but for a belt around his waist and a long old sword dangling thereby, he looked less like a frontier soldier than any of us. Though there was no uniformity of dress in the battalion, each one wearing what he could get as most appropriate for a hard winter campaign."

BUCKSKIN PANTS

Lubbock himself wore a pair of fine new buckskin pants "such as worn by frontiersmen," especially made for him for the expedition. But he soon lost his affection for his new possession.

"Once, while out scouting for several days with a small party, we were overtaken by a heavy rain storm when in our camp asleep," he recounted, "I was lying in a low place, so that the water ran against me in a flood, saturating my buckskins. Not thinking of the consequences, and being very wet and cold, I backed myself up to a hot mesquite fire made up to dry and warm us.

"Before discovering it, my pants had crawled up to my knees, and I had to ride in that plight a day or two. They got tighter and tighter all the time until we reached the main camps. Then I had in a manner to cut them off my limbs.

"I have never owned a pair of buckskin pants since," he added. "They are more entertaining in a picture or a romance than they are on one's own shanks."

HOMECOMING

But Lubbock's apparel suffered still further turns for the worse before the battalion finally returned home.

"I remember well how I appeared and how astonished my wife and friends were when they beheld me marching through town," he concluded. "The legs of my pants had disappeared, and I had made leggings of an old green baize crumb cloth that I had taken with me for a horse cover. This I cut up and divided with the boys, for many of them were fully as bad off as myself."

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"News from the West — The Western mail arrived early yesterday morning but brought no papers from Austin. From private letters we learn that Col. Burleson was at Austin on the 11th inst., with 350 men protecting the Archives. A rumor had reached that city that Goliad had been retaken by about 50 of our troops. The enemy retired without firing a gun. The two spies, Messrs. McCulloch and Miller, who were supposed to be captured by the enemy, arrived at Seguin, and stated that they followed in the rear of the enemy some distances and found no Mexican reinforcements, and believed that none were on their side of the Rio Grande. The families in the Colorado are not alarmed, and remain contented at their homes, except at Austin, where scarcely a family remains.

BEHIND Your SWITCH

When you flip the switch that turns on an ample supply of bright, cheerful light—you aren't likely to think of the great generators in the power plant, the thousands of miles of transmission and distribution lines, or the crews of workmen who labor day and night to make this convenience possible.

We have made Electric Service so dependable and efficient that you have come to take it for granted.

This faith and confidence in our ability to serve your every need has been built up over a long period of years.

And today, as all of us are being called upon to shoulder added burdens and assume new responsibilities, we pledge anew our allegiance to our country—and the people of West Texas.

Just as many of our fellow citizens are being called upon to produce more livestock, more poultry and dairy products, more wool and mohair, more cotton, more oil and gasoline—more of everything that has made West Texas an important part of America—we are striving for further economies and efficient methods to get more kilowatt-hours through the power supply.

All of these things are vital to our nation's tremendous wartime program.

At the same time, while paying an ever-increasing tax burden, we hope to maintain the standard of our service to you. We hope you will continue to "take it for granted," and that life may continue to be more comfortable, more convenient, safer because your electric switch is still there, at the tip of your finger, ready to serve you whenever you might need it.

A Three-Point Program for Wartime Electric Usage

- 1 USE PROPER LIGHTING
More intense reading by both adults and children make it essential that eyesight be protected. Longer working hours are apt to result in eyestrain unless proper light is provided.
- 2 TAKE GOOD CARE OF ELECTRIC APPLIANCES
Factories are being turned to production of war materials and it may become impossible to replace certain appliances. Most of these are essential to civilian morale. Your refrigerator, for example, helps save on food costs, prevents food spoilage. So be good to your electric appliances and they'll be good to you!
- 3 ASK OUR LIGHTING ADVISORS AND SERVICEMEN TO HELP YOU
Although our staffs have been reduced by entry into the armed forces, a skeleton crew is being maintained to help you. These are experienced men who will gladly advise you as to proper light for individual tasks and in the use and care of appliances so that they may last longer and give better service.

Our services of last Sunday were well attended, and the evidences of devotion to the church and all that the church means were deeply revealed. Let us go forward in our loyalty to Christ and to the church! The pastor urges that every member of the church attend at least one of the services each Sunday.

The pastor and Board of Deacons of the Baptist Church have invited us to hold "Methodist Night" in their building every other Sunday night. We are accepting this gracious invitation, and we begin this fellowship this Sunday night, March 22. On the alternate Sunday nights our people are urged to worship at either the Baptist Church or the Church of Christ. Now is a good time to build the habit of going to church twice each Sunday. More than that—this is a good time to enter into a more brotherly fellowship with our friends in the Baptist Church and the Church of Christ. Through this experience the tie that binds our lives to each other and to Christ will be strengthened.

Baptist Men Are Hosts At Barbecue Supper And Program

Men of the Baptist Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church were hosts to men of their own church and the other two churches of the city as well as a group from the Sonora Baptist Brotherhood at a barbecue supper and program in the church Tuesday evening.

The beautiful supper, consisting of barbecue and trimmings plus home-made cake and coffee, was served in the upstairs auditorium, after which the group adjourned to the church auditorium for the evening's program.

Rev. Fred DeLashaw of the Sonora Baptist Church was the speaker of the evening, stressing the importance of the consecrated manpower of a church in the successful pursuit of its program. Two male quartets, one of men and the other the High School boys' quartet, entertained with several numbers each. The men's quartet was composed of Neal Hannah, Ross Hufstetter, J. D. Moss and M. E. Corbell. In the group of high school singers were Billy Hannah, Bill Carson, Garrett McWilliams and L. B. Cox, III.

Group singing was led by Mr. Corbell and the pastor, Rev. Clyde Childers introduced the Sonora visitors who provided the evening's program. There were nine in the Sonora delegation.

The Stockman Pulpit

By Eugene Slater
Minister of the Methodist Church

"But how can I know what God's will is; what is the right thing to do in this particular circumstance?" So one young man questioned his pastor as they talked of a very definite problem that the young man faced, a problem that demanded an immediate decision.

Here is one of the questions that confronts every one of us. We know that public opinion, custom, the laws of the state and the teaching of the church all have a measure of God's will in them. Yet we know that the will of God is something beyond all these, and, as we try in our own way to follow the Galilean, we keep on searching for something higher, something better, something more beneficial to all.

Here are three guides, taken seriously and followed earnestly, will surely help us to know what our Father wants us to do.

The first is prayer. Take your problem into the presence of God. Try to eliminate your own desires and wishes for the time. Try to push aside the immediate rewards of one decision and the cost of another decision. Try earnestly to let God speak to you and tell you what is the right thing to do. Some light will surely break through upon us as we wait before Him.

The moral teachings of Jesus offer us a second guide in our effort to determine God's will. Running through the Gospels like a thread of gold is a teaching that counsels men to regard one another in love and esteem; to refrain from any action that is harmful to a fellow human being; and to do all that can be done to help another. Here are great principles. Let a man take them seriously! Let these principles become the rule and guide of our lives! And in our halls of state, in the school-room, in the marts of trade—or wherever such a man stands he will be trying to create laws and shape his business so that it will serve the highest welfare of all. The moral teachings of Jesus offer the world a set of principles upon which the world will one day create a society of friends and brothers.

A third guide for determining God's will is human experience. "You cannot live our lives for us," says the youngster to the older. And the older is wise if he does not try it. They have learned that some actions bring happiness while others bring defeat and sorrow. Fidelity to marriage vows, loyalty to church and devotion to some worthy cause bring a harvest of joy and a certainty that life is good while their opposites bring remorse, regret and cynicism. Look well to human experience as you try to learn God's will for you. For He has been speaking through men's successes and failures through the long centuries.

After we have followed these guides we may not know all that we want to know. But as a wise

Motorists Urged To Renew Driver Licenses At Once

A warning to Crockett County motorists to check up on their driver license numbers and to renew the license at once to avoid possible inconvenience was sounded here this week by State Highway Patrolman J. C. Golden, in charge of driver license renewals in this county.

Almost all licenses issued to Crockett County drivers will expire the end of this month, Patrolman Golden said. All licenses under Number 900,000 expire March 31, it was pointed out, and most Crockett County licenses are in this number bracket. Renewals have been accepted in this bracket since January 1.

Licenses from 900,000 to 1,350,000 expire June 30, 1942 and those numbered upward from 1,350,000 expire November 1, 1942. Drivers who let their licenses expire will be required to pass a driving test before being issued new licenses, the patrolman explained.

Patrolman Golden is in Ozona every Thursday, but applications for new driver licenses can be made at the office of Justice of the Peace W. M. Johnigan any day.

Prayer: Give us the grace, our Father, to say with our Lord, "Thy will, not mine, be done." Help us to know Thy will, and then through sunshine and shadow be Thou with us as to try to carry it out. In Christ's Name. Amen.

Miss Madye Jo Bailey Becomes Bride Of John Forrest Green, Jr., Of Hamlin In Church Ceremony Here Sunday

In an impressive double ring ceremony performed Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Methodist Church, Miss Madye Jo Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Albert Bailey of Rocksprings and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kersey of Ozona, became the bride of John Forrest Green, Jr., of Hamlin, Texas.

The church was decorated with a profusion of greenery and potted palms. On each side of the altar were baskets of white stock and four candelabra holding white candles.

Pre-nuptial music played by Mrs. Alvin Harrell included Schubert's "Serenade" and "Poem" by Dvorak. Miss Dorothy Hannah of Ozona, who is a student at A.C.C., sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," to Mrs. Harrell's accompaniment. As the procession, Mrs. Harrell played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" and during the ceremony played "Ave Maria" softly. Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore an exquisite gown of silk marquisette and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice had a deep square yoke outlined with a double frill of the lace, and an added frill over the shoulders gave a quaint effect. The long sheer sleeves were fitted and came to a point at the wrist. The very bouffant skirt featured an apron effect with a full ruffle of the shadowy chantilly. The full skirt was cut in one width with the aisle wide train of marquisette. Her veil of imported bridal illusion was cast over a halo of chantilly lace which was delicately embroidered in tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bride's bouquet of white carnations tied with white maline bridal ribbon with long streamers. Her only ornament was a tiny gold diamond cross, her wedding gift from the groom. For something old she carried an embroidered handkerchief made in Belgium during the first World War for her godmother, Mrs. J. O. Willoughby of Eldorado.

Mrs. R. E. Austin of Fort Worth, the bride's aunt, was matron of honor, and Miss Ora Louise Cox of Ozona, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. They were gowned alike in marquisette and lace frocks of delicate leaf-bud green, with square yokes outlined in chantilly lace, shirred bracelet length sleeves. Wide bands of lace formed the midriff and low gathered band of the very full graceful skirts. On their heads they wore a halo cluster of crisp silk taffeta bows in canary yellow with face veils, and carried arm bouquets of yellow and pale lavender-blue iris, tied with white maline bows with long streamers.

Attending the groom as best man was a fraternity brother, Dick Feagan of Hamlin, a graduate of S.M.U. and now doing graduate work at the University of Texas. Ushers were Bob Lewis of Amarillo and Fred Moore of Hamlin.

The bride's mother wore a black Eisenberg dress and white ice turban with black accessories and white gloves. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother's gown was navy blue sheer with lovely white embroidery trim, navy accessories and white gloves. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bascomb Cox. The house was decorated with Spring flowers and baskets of white gladiolas and stocks. The table was covered with an exquisite white embroidered cloth. The center piece was a silver bowl of carnations flanked by silver candelabra holding white candles. At one end of the table the four bell-shaped wedding cakes were placed on a round mirror surrounded by fern, white stocks and other blossoms. A crystal punch bowl was at the other end of the table.

Mrs. Roy Henderson and Mrs. Massie West served the wedding cake and Mrs. Clay Adams and Mrs. Boyd Clayton were at the punch bowl. Mrs. Worth Odom and Miss Dorothy Ann Odom assisted in the dining room and Mrs. J. O. Willoughby in the gift room. Mrs. Evert White was at the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. Green left during the ceremony for a wedding trip into New Mexico. For travel Mrs. Green wore a beige Forstman wool three-piece suit with Spring tan accessories. Her hat was of beige garbardine with pheasant feather trim.

The young couple will be at home in Hamlin, Texas after March 22. Mr. Green is associated with his father in business there. Mrs. Green was graduated from Iraan High School and attended Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., two years, majoring in drama. She was a member of Orchesis, an honorary dance group, of a national honorary radio sorority and secretary-treasurer of Lela Raney Wood Independents. The past year she attended the University of Texas, majoring in drama and radio work, being a member of the University Radio Workshop. She was also a member of the Curtain Club, dramatic society at the University, and of Chi Omega social sorority. The groom attended Abilene Christian College, Washington University in St. Louis, and three and one-half years of work majoring in government at the University of Texas. He was president of his fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, chosen one of the campus "Goodfellows" and a member of the West Texas Club.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Worth Odom, Dorothy, Helen and Jean Odom, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blackburn, Jennie Martha Black-

Christian Democracy Study Topic At Meet Of Methodist Women

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Eugene Slater. The Zone meeting of the society is to be in Big Lake Friday, March 27, at 10:30 a. m., it was announced. Those desiring to attend are asked to call Mrs. B. B. Ingham. Mrs. John Bailey announced that a reading lamp, chair, table, new magazines or books are needed in the Community Center for a reading room that is over-run with occupants. Anyone having used clothing is urged to call Mrs. Bailey, who will collect them for the Center.

Mrs. Slater began the spring study, "Christian Roots of Democracy in America" by Arthur C. Holt. The meaning of Democracy was discussed by the group. Rev. Eugene Slater was guest speaker for the day, his subject being "Seven Documents of Americanism." These the speaker declared were "The Mayflower Compact" which is really the Genesis of American Democracy. It was drafted in the name of God as a positive and original social and religious freedom compact. Second, our Exodus was the "Declaration of Independence" which gave our land liberty and self-government. Third, our book of Law is the Constitution of the United States—the Bill of Rights is the "thou shalt nots" to our government, which gives our people the assurance of personal liberty.

The fourth document was described as George Washington's Farewell address, which was a prophecy both foretelling and fortelling. The fifth was "The Star Spangled Banner," our national Psalm. Sixth was the gospel of true Americanism as spoken by the savior of Democracy in America—Abraham Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address. Seventh was our great Epistles, one of the greatest being one of Woodrow Wilson's last articles, "Road Away from Revolution." Rev. Slater concluded that "civilization will never be lost as long as the ideals of the founders of Democracy in America are dominant."

The next meeting of the society will be in the Slater home and will continue the study of Christian Democracy. Present were Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Mrs. W. R. Baggett, Mrs. Alvin Harrell, Mrs. H. B. Tandy, Mrs. Madden Read, Mrs. Early Baggett, Mrs. Stephen Perner, Mrs. Fleet Coates, Mrs. Charley Coates, Mrs. Carl Colwick, Mrs. Tom Harris, Mrs. W. E. ### Cogitations

By MARY PERNER

Ethel is worried about good molasses being used for explosives. She didn't know molasses would explode. Well, does it? Margaret got mad at her hair, she spilled a pan of dishwater on it. It really helped a lot. Tandy doesn't like the way bochie looks at her through his half closed eyes because "she knows what he is thinking!" El timbre-hasta la vista! Rozelle said goodbye to Dr. Sherburn after Spanish class in this manner. What does it mean? Dollar hills will disappear, won't they? Seems queer, though. Very queer. Claudie has the prettiest dress! Bill seems in the depths of despair lately. As to why, it's a mystery, but it isn't likely that gloominess will do any good. Sug surely was tickled in geometry class. In fact, she made Roy and Bland that way, too. Miss Kinney (Mrs. Westerman) has a very suspicious mind. We don't write notes any more, but she won't believe us. Can we blame her? Potatoes are a nuisance to McCook, sometimes. At other times, they are convenient. Or should this be written? At any rate, save your pennies (and any other coins if they are to be had) to buy Defense Stamps and Bonds. See "The Saturday Evening Ghost," Thursday, March 26.

Wrap the bacon around the cheese, run through it a sharp pointed stick, and toast over a hot fire. When this is ready to dismount, wrap it in a split roll.

Sheep And Goat Population Hike Noted In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, March 18—(A&M)—Sheep and goats continued to increase in number on Texas farms and ranches during 1941, says W. R. Nisbet, animal husbandman of the A. & M. College Extension Service. Several million lambs are produced yearly in the state.

The expansion in sheep is being made at the expense of the cattle population in new areas, Nisbet observes, adding that "some of the heavily stocked ranges could carry fewer sheep and more cattle."

Sheep are pushing most rapidly west and north from the Edwards plateau. Answers to parasite problems would permit more rapid expansion to the south and east where ranges seem superior for sheep.

While many lambs are kept for replacement in the current expansion, most of the wether lambs leave the state as feeders. Nisbet suggests an expansion of lamb feeding.

County agricultural agents have promoted a substantial number of lamb feeding demonstrations, largely through 4-H Club program. Mohair production is next in importance to wool and lambs. The 16 to 17 million pounds of mohair sheared at six month intervals represents 85 per cent of the nation's production.

"It is generally accepted that selling mohair on an ungraded basis penalizes the growers because weight often is obtained at the expense of quality," Nisbet says.

Accordingly, a grading program was inaugurated in the fall of 1939 through cooperation of the Extension Service with the Agricultural Marketing Service and the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association. In 1941 the Extension Service employed Walter Garth, Jr., of Sanford, Maine, during August and September to expand the program. Numerous grading demonstrations were given on ranches and some purebred flocks were culled on a quality basis. As a consequence, general support for marketing mohair on its merits was more nearly obtained.

About 500,000 pounds of hair was graded during the spring and fall seasons of 1941, compared with a volume of 335,000 and 500,000 respectively, in 1940. The 1941 graded hair sold from a low of 38 cents for No. 4 grown to 85 cents for No. 1 kid.

Price Levels On Canned Fruits Frozen By OPM

WASHINGTON, March 18—Twenty-six canned fruits and vegetables, staples of the American dinner-table, have moved under the protective influence of the Office of Price Administration, with the setting of a maximum price regulation for canners and wholesalers, effective March 2.

Canned fruits covered by the order are apples, apple sauce, apricots, cherries, fruit cocktail, fruit salad, peaches, pears, pineapples and plums. Canned vegetables covered by the order are asparagus, beans (all dry varieties), lima beans, green and wax snap beans, beets, carrots, corn, peas, pumpkins, sauerkraut, spinach, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, tomato catsup and tomato juice.

Although the new price regulation applies only to canners and wholesalers, U. S. Price Administrator Leon Henderson pointed out that with prices stabilized at the wholesale level, the only justification for price advances at retail is to reflect some slight increases in replacement costs.

"In the absence of direct price control at the retail level, the responsibility for keeping retail prices at a reasonable level rests squarely on the shoulders of the retailer," Mr. Henderson declared. "Should this responsibility prove too much, OPA will take steps to control prices at the retail source."

Ceiling prices are set at the levels which prevailed from Feb. 23 to 27, 1942.

GUNS "FROZEN"

New pistols, rifles and shotguns have been added to the list of consumers' durable goods "frozen" by the war necessities. Dealers are prohibited by a WPB order from selling or delivering such firearms except to agencies or officers of federal, state and local governments.

Early Morning Exercises Hike Aggie Grocery Bill

COLLEGE STATION—If your appetite for breakfast isn't so hot these days—and if you don't mind an increase in the family grocery bill—here's a remedy:

Just set the old alarm clock to rise an hour earlier, take 25 minutes of strenuous calisthenics out-of-doors, bathe, shave and clean up your bedroom and sit down at the table.

At the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas this routine was installed as a wartime speed-up program to increase physical fitness and health of the student body.

The new order became effective in January, and February's mess hall accounts immediately reflected the appetites of Aggies. Subsistence Supervisor J. Cliff Hotard is authority for the fact that each student is eating nine and one-quarter cents worth of food that he did not consume before reveille and calisthenics became the order of the day. That is 24.42 per cent increase.

blocking back on the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, has held the head coaching job at Ozona High School the past two years. Last fall he led his Ozona Lions through an undefeated season to win undisputed possession of the District 7-B championship, and his charges then swamped the S-B winners for the bi-district crown, the pinnacle of Class B gridiron glory. As a reward for this feat, citizens of Ozona made up a handsome purse for an all-expense trip for Coach Patterson, Assistant Coach Elmo McCook and 22 boys of the squad to attend the Sugar Bowl football game in New Orleans.

"I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the splendid support given me and my boys by the people of Ozona," Coach Patterson said just before leaving for his new duties with Uncle Sam's armed forces. "I have enjoyed my work to the fullest; I have had a fine bunch of youngsters to work with, and the support which the people of Ozona have given to the athletic program has been magnificent. I am deeply grateful for the friendly interest shown by the people in my work and for the support they have given the entire program. Of course, Mrs. Patterson and I are proud of the friends we have made here and we have enjoyed living among such fine people. We hope that when better days are come it will be our privilege to return to take up where we left off."

W. E. McCook, who has acted as assistant coach to Coach Patterson, will take up the remaining chores of the athletic program the balance of the present school year. Coach McCook will direct the for new officers at next week's meeting of the club. Club members were also urged to form a delegation to San Antonio Friday of this week when International Rotary President Tom Davis will be a guest of the San Antonio Club.

Lowell Littleton, former cashier in the Ozona National Bank, who has been operating a gin at Morton since last fall, returned to Ozona this week. Mrs. Littleton is substituting as a teacher in the Morton schools and did not accompany her husband.

Approximately 40 band members and their instruments must be transported to Abilene, requiring about ten cars. So far not enough cars have been volunteered for the trip and school authorities are making a canvass to find out whether or not the trip can be attempted under the circumstances.

In order that the band director, Cyril Pingelton, might have time in which to prepare properly for his group's participation in the band contests, a deadline has been set for March 27 to determine whether or not the trip will be undertaken. Persons who will volunteer to take cars for the trip are asked to get in touch with C. S. Denham, superintendent, between now and March 27 and if enough volunteers are lined up by that time, band students will plunge into work in preparation for entry in the contests.

Art Exhibit To Be Shown Monday Afternoon In Gym

An art exhibit containing 92 reproductions of famous paintings, brought here from the Practical Drawing Co. of Dallas, will be presented in the High School gymnasium Monday afternoon and again Tuesday afternoon.

The purpose of the exhibit is to create interest in art and art appreciation. Members of the Parent-Teacher Association, to meet in the high school auditorium at 3:30 Monday afternoon, will adjourn after the association meeting to the gymnasium to view the art exhibit.

The P. T. A. program will consist of five living pictures presented by a group of grade school pupils under the direction of Miss Elisabeth Biser.

Mrs. R. K. James remains in a critical condition at the home of her son, Frank James, this week following a heart attack last week. Mother James suffered a broken wrist in a fall last week in Rankin and the attack is believed to be a complication following the injury.
