Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

The week's rain brought some relief from the relentless summer heat, but I don't think the end is in sight. And we must have much more rain and it must be more general before we are going to be able to pull out of this drought.

As the story goes, there were two ranchers in conversation. Of course, the conversation was about the weather. What else do West Texas ranchers have to talk about?

The optimist said, "Well, it's gonna rain. It's gonna rain sometime. It always has."

The pessimist answered "I dunno, I seen one time when it didn't."

Well, our men in Austin did one whole of a job on the new constitution. After months of legislating and $5-million of the taxpayers' money spent, they came up with nothing.

Some are now trying to justify the waste by saying that a lot of good came out of the convention. That many of the proposals will become amendments to the present constitution. I sincerely doubt that, the trend in Texas the last few years is to vote against amendments.

We can lay the blame on organized labor. Think of the influence it must have in this state to be able to get enough legislators on its side to defeat the proposed constitution just because it gave people the right to decide whether they wanted to pay dues to a union or whether they did not.

This is frightening my fellow Texans, and we should all take a good long look at what the future holds in store for us if we become a "big labor dominated" state.

Apparently, the labor lobby was aware that if the "right to work" proposal was left in, the people would approve the new constitution, otherwise, they would have allowed their men to let the proposal pass and send it to the people to decide. What an atrocity!

A word about errors in the paper -- we had three in last week's edition that we can't claim credit for. This came about because the people who should know gave us the wrong information.

Now, we don't give everybody the third degree when they bring news in. We just assume they are giving us the correct information. So, the next time you hear, "Oh, the Stockman can't get anything right," at least turn the thought over in your mind that perhaps we did not receive the correct information in the first place. We make enough errors on our own to take credit for those we were not responsible for.

Auto Collision Near Here Sun. Fatal To Woman And Small Boy

A grinding two-vehicle collision at the intersection of State Highway 163 and 29 claimed two lives Sunday night. The wreck occurred at what is commonly known in the area as Midway Lane, fifteen miles north of Ozona.

Dead at the scene was Mrs. Clarence Bundick of Crane. Lee McMullan, seven year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Jimmie McMullan died enroute to Crockett County Hospital.

The accident occurred at 8:05 Sunday night when Mrs. McMullan and her two children, Lee and Ashby, were returning to their ranch near here from San Angelo, traveling south on 163 in a Dodge Club Cab pickup. A 1971 Ford, driven by Clarence Bundick, 34, of Crane with his wife and three small children as passengers, traveling west on Hwy. 29, entered the intersection and hit the McMullan vehicle broadside. The pickup skidded 132 feet after impact and came to a stop in a pasture on the southwest side of the highway. The Bundick car was nearby in the barrow ditch.

Mrs. Bundick died instantly of massive head injuries. Mrs. McMullan and her two children were rushed by ambulance to Crockett County Hospital where the younger child was pronounced dead on arrival. Mr. Bundick and his three children were rushed to the hospital in the Fire Department ambulance.

Mrs. McMullan, the most seriously injured, remained in Crockett County Hospital at mid-week. She suffered concussion and broken pelvis. Thirteen year old Ashby McMullan was hospitalized for shock and a badly bruised face.

Funeral services for the little McMullan boy were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. from the Ozona United Methodist Church with burial on the McMullan ranch in southeast Crockett County.

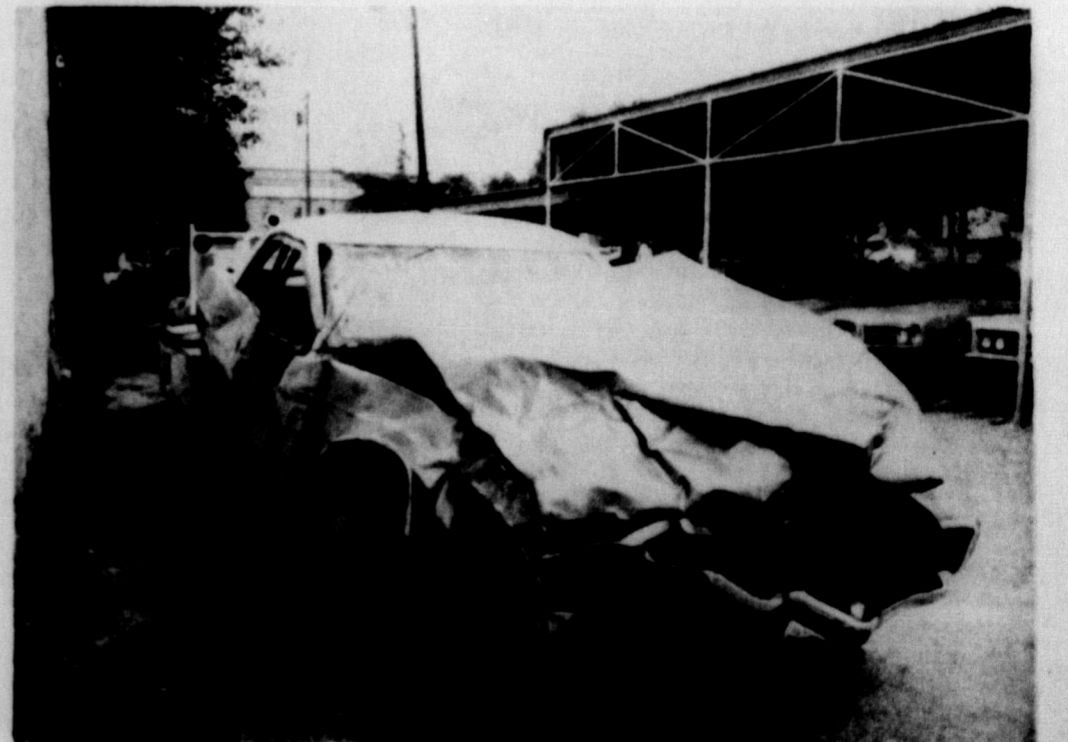

He was born April 28, 1967, in San Antonio. Survivors include his mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. Jimmie McMullan of San Antonio; his brother, Ashby, of San Antonio; his grandparents, Mrs. Dorothy Ratliff of California and Vernon Ratliff of Galveston.

Services for Mrs. Bundick will be held today at 2:00 p. m. at Logan Valley Cemetery near Blanket. She was born July 21, 1946 in Brownwood. Other survivors include her parents, three sisters and two grandmothers.

Survivors include his mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. Jimmie McMullan of San Antonio; his brother, Ashby, of San Antonio; his grandparents, Mrs. Dorothy Ratliff of California and Vernon Ratliff of Galveston.

LOTS OF ACTION AT THE OLD RODEO ARENA over the weekend as cowboys and cowgirls from throughout the area vied for trophies. Here a young calf roper gets out of the chute so fast that everything is a blur save the horse and rider.

DEATH CAR -- Mrs. Clarence Bundick of Crane was killed instantly Sunday night at Midway Lane when this car in which she was a passenger plowed head-on into the side of the pickup on opposite side of page. Her husband, who was driving, and their three young children escaped with cuts and bruises.

DEMOLISHED PICKUP is mute proof of Sunday night's tragic accident which took the life of little Lee McMullan who was asleep in the back of the cab when the collision occurred. His mother and brother miraculously escaped with their lives, possibly due to the fact that they were wearing seat belts at the time of impact.

SPENDING YOUR MONEY

A friend of ours in Washington noticed, in passing, that the Congressional Record of July 22, 1974, reports, among others, the following actions by members of the U.S. Senate:

- They voted to increase from $4 million to $10 million funds for mutual and self-help housing;
• Voted to increase from 10 percent to 15 percent the amount of funds that may be used for the administration of special supplemental food programs for women, infants, and children;
• Voted an additional $8 million for rural development grants;
• Voted to distribute additional funds to foreign countries for humanitarian purposes.

And so it goes, day after day, with Congress appropriating more funds, additional amounts, increased appropriations for a thousand and one "worthy causes," all of them with vigorous and sincere supporters and seldom meeting with organized opposition. The result? The money extracted from your income and your earnings increases more and more; or, the money spent by the government over and above that collected in taxes also increases — which means that you as the taxpayer are not only obligated to pay back the borrowed money but you are, in the meantime, charged with the interest on the loan.

While consumers and wage earners are being urged to spend less and save more, the Members of Congress are, with your money, pursuing an opposite course.

One of the measures under active consideration by the Congress at this moment is the formation of a brand new government bureau to be known as the "Consumer Protection Agency," which will call for the appropriation of additional millions upon millions to "protect" you from shrewd and wily Capitalists who are always sneaking around corners, looking for ways to take your money away from you by selling you goods and products you really don't need. And, unless a howl of indignation and protest is heard from the hinterlands, the bill will quite likely pass.

It seems to us that rather than a "consumer" protection agency, what we really need is a "taxpayer" protection agency to protect us from Members of Congress who don't mind how much they spend (of other people's money) for causes in which they believe.

And, incidentally, if you don't want to be hit with the huge bill you will have to pay to support the Consumer Protection Act, it would be wise to let your Representatives in Congress know — and now!

A PRIMER ON IMPEACHMENT

Now that the House Judiciary Committee has, by a wide margin, recommended President Nixon's impeachment and removal from office, it is a good time to reflect on what impeachment is really all about and what it portends for the country.

James Madison, one of the principal authors of the Constitution, observed that if men were angels, government wouldn't be needed. However, he added, since they obviously aren't, it is necessary to include "auxiliary precautions" in the Constitution to check abuses of power. Impeachment is one of those auxiliary precautions.

The Constitution specifies that officers of the United States, including the President, are to be impeached for "treason, bribery, and other high crimes and misdemeanors." The phrase "high crimes and misdemeanors" was left undefined by the delegates to the Constitutional Convention in 1787, and it is on this vague description of wrongdoing that much of the current debate is focused.

A strict constructionist view of "high crimes and misdemeanors" is advocated by Mr. Nixon's supporters, including those on the Judiciary Committee. They say the President can only be impeached and removed upon proof of an offense for which he could be convicted in a regular court of law.

At the other end of the spectrum is the view adopted by most members of the Committee that such wrongdoing doesn't refer only to indictable crimes, but also to acts which constitute a threat to the freedoms and well-being of the Nation's citizens. Vice President Gerald R. Ford, as House Minority Leader in 1970, made a statement supporting this view of impeachment that has since come back to haunt him time after time. The episode concerned a move to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, and Mr. Ford then said an "impeachable offense" was simply whatever a majority of Congress decided it was.

It is technically correct that President Nixon can be removed from office by a majority vote of the House and a two-thirds vote in the Senate regardless of the weight of the evidence. However, we urge the 535 members of the House and Senate to accord the President his full right as a citizen to a presumption of innocence until clearly proven guilty of offenses which constitute in their clearest judgment "high crimes and misdemeanors." There is no room for partisan politics in such a grave decision.

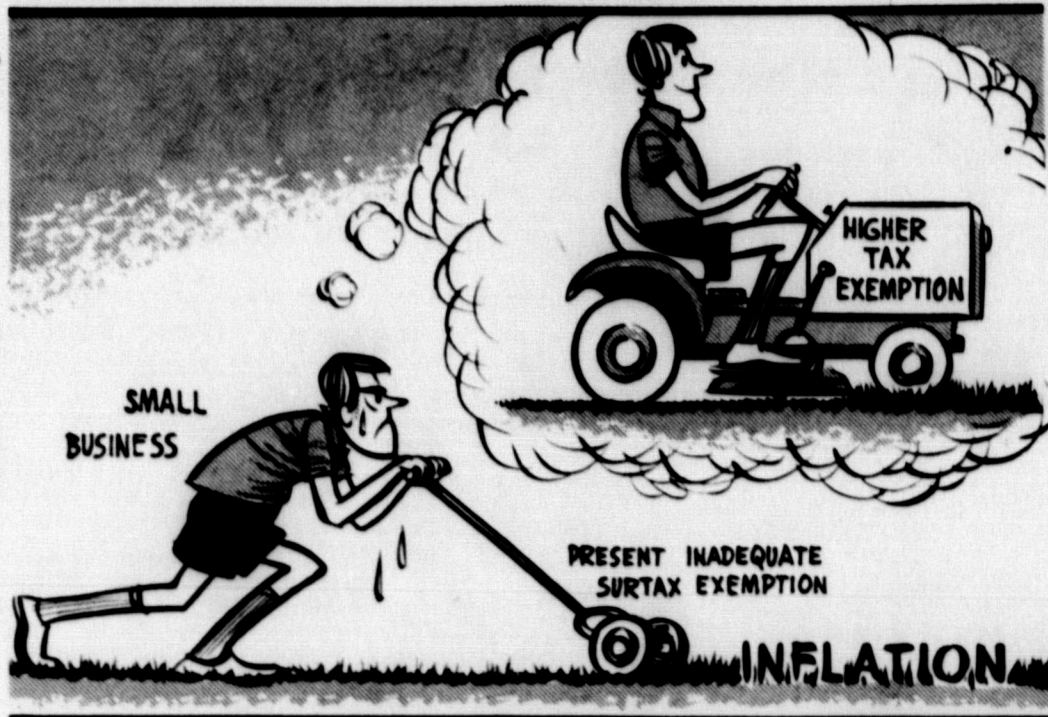

SOVIET DIPLOMATS "INVADE" IRELAND

The Soviets are beefing up their "diplomatic" entourage in Ireland with the opening of their new Embassy in Dublin — and this means more help for the IRA and more trouble for Ireland.

The Russians are sending 47 "diplomats" which with their aides, clerks and assistants will total approximately 100 on the staff.

Philip C. Clarke in a broadcast for the American Security Council recently pointed out that if the Russians follow past practices "a goodly percentage of the so-called 'diplomats' will be KGB agents."

JOB-PROVIDERS NEED HELP

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams

Bill's Scribblings By - Bill Morrison, Minister Ozona Church of Christ

AUSTIN, Tex. — When the Constitutional Convention collapsed in total failure, state legislators immediately began proposing new approaches to the long-thwarted revision effort.

A wide range of alternatives are available, and lawmakers are committed to try all of them. These suggestions already have been offered: — Creation of a brand new Constitutional Convention with plain citizens rather than legislators occupying most of the delegate seats.

— Submission to voters of the basic revision document drafted by the 1974 convention, without the controversial separate submission proposals (like right-to-work) which deadlocked this year's session.

— An article-by-article revision, based largely on work of the convention.

— Submission of the document originally prepared by the 37-member Constitutional Revision Commission as a guide to the convention.

— If all else fails, consideration of a cleaned-up and slimmed-down version of the 1876 constitution stripped of outdated provisions.

While the 1974 convention ran out the clock without accomplishing anything, hope remains lawmakers will have learned some lessons and that more than a year of research and expenditure of $3.2 million will not be a total loss.

NO SPECIAL SESSION — Gov. Dolph Briscoe rejected requests for a special legislative session on state employee pay raises and supplementary school financial aid.

He said a special session at the tag end of an exhausting Constitutional Convention would not be practical, and the most pressing problems can be met by emergency action in the next regular legislative session.

Specifically, Briscoe committed himself to these emergency goals in 1975, which will cost approximately $216 million in general revenue.

— A 10 per cent cost of living pay raise for all state employees effective Feb. 1, 1975 (Legislative Budget Board has recommended $285 million in pay and fringe benefit increases for state employees during the 1976-77 fiscal period).

— An increase of $40 per student in average daily attendance for maintenance and operation of public schools, with distribution arranged to benefit "poor" districts most.

— A 15 per cent increase in benefits of teachers who retired before March 31, 1969, and a 10 per cent increase for those who retired between that time and May 31, 1971.

— A 10 per cent increase in retirement benefits for state employees who retire before August 31, 1974.

AUTO HEARING SET — The annual auto insurance rate hearing has been scheduled for October 1.

The State Board of Insurance will conduct the hearing for new rates to become effective December 1.

While the hearing is usually held in the summer, it was delayed this year to get maximum information on impact of the gasoline shortage and slower speed limits which may bring rate reductions.

AG OPINIONS — Cities cannot purchase land for industrial site development by promissory notes to be paid out of revenues from the project, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: — District clerks are liable for mysterious disappearance of child support money paid into registry of the court prior to deposit.

— When judgement on which an execution sale is based is void, a purchaser obtains no title to property.

— Requirements that counties, hospital districts and certain cities must adopt a uniform system of accounting and make quarterly reports of expenditures made for welfare programs are valid.

— A contract to buy fuel for a county from the brother of a county commissioner is not necessarily void when the commissioner has no interest in fruits of the contract, direct or indirect.

REEF OBSTACLES LIFTED — Obstacles to permits for Liberty Ship fishing reefs have been removed, according to Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

Schwartz, of the Texas Coastal and Marine Council, said U. S. Department of Interior concern over placement of the ship hulls at points selected by the council is now lifted. Interior feared the ship sites might interfere with offshore oil and gas exploration.

Several steps remain, however, before the ships can be obtained, scrapped and sunk. Proposed locations are southeast of Freeport, south-southeast of Port O'Connor, south-southeast of Port Aransas and about midway between Port Isabel and Port Mansfield.

ELECTION SET — A special primary election to name a Democratic nominee for State Board of Education in East Texas District 1 is slated for August 31, following a court ruling. (The date originally was set for September 7.)

The election will be held in Bowie, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Delta, Fannin, Franklin, Harrison, Henderson, Hopkins, Hunt (partially), Lamar, Marion, Morris, Panola, Rains (partially), Red River, Rusk, San Augustine, Shelby, Titus, Upshur and Wood counties. Absentee voting will begin August 12 and last through August 27.

SHORT SNORTS Hot, dry weather has cost the Texas agricultural economy two billion dollars this year, according to Agriculture Commissioner John White.

Midway Services Inc. withdrew its application for a controversial waste disposal site near Groesbeck.

Governor Briscoe asked Briscoe and Fisher counties be added to the list of counties designated disaster areas because of drought.

Another $4.7 million in Criminal Justice grants have been approved for law enforcement and justice improvements.

Texas Society of Professional Engineers has come out in support of private ownership of offshore terminals.

Texas State Securities Board has received nine applications for permits to sell $4.3 million worth of securities in the state during the last two weeks.

Washington News Letter

by Congressman O. C. Fisher

Inflation, that ugly monster which eats away at personal savings, fixed incomes, and the purchasing power of the dollar, is taking its toll. Except for organized labor practically every segment of the economy is feeling the pinch.

President Nixon has labeled inflation as our number one domestic problem. He has called on all agencies of government and the Congress to use every possible means to stem the tide. He has implored both labor and industry to cooperate.

In the case of labor, by generous use of the power to strike, those wage earners manage to keep their earnings equal to or above the inflation level. Under George Meany's prodding last week there were 588 strikes for higher wages in progress, with many more brewing. This is the biggest rash of work stoppages at one time since World War II.

While everyone would like to keep their earnings on a par with the cost of living as it escalates, most people are helpless. Farmers can't strike, though they've had a 30% drop in income during the past year. Livestock raisers can't strike. They have to take what they are offered. Industrial plants and factories, along with small businesses, can't shut down their plants because their income does not keep pace with inflation.

Indeed, excessively high wage rates, as related to productivity, are a major contributor to the galloping hike in the cost of living. Wage levels among many union crafts are rather high—$10 to $15 per hour being not uncommon. To be non-inflationary a wage raise must be accompanied by increased production; yet increased productivity is often ignored these days in union demands.

There is much the Congress can do to help. Above all, federal spending should be whacked and the budget balanced. That would ease inflationary pressures. Broadly speaking, fighting inflation is everybody's business.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Blind Corner

Alex dutifully halted his car at the stop sign. At that point, which was about 30 feet back from the corner, his vision of the intersection was blocked by some high bushes. Nevertheless, he moved briskly into the crossing.

Result: a collision with a car coming along the other street.

Was Alex guilty of negligence? He insisted that he was not, pointing out in a court hearing that he had brought his car to a full stop at the sign.

"That's all the law requires," he said. "I stopped, looked, and listened at the designated place."

But the court found him guilty of negligence anyhow. The court said a "blind" corner imposes an extra duty on motorists—regardless of stop signs or traffic signals—to proceed with caution.

The law does recognize, however, that caution is a matter of degree. For example:

Another man also entered an intersection that he could not see because of shrubbery. But this time, the man edged forward at a snail's pace, glancing in both directions. Even though he still got in the way of an oncoming car and caused a collision, a court ruled afterward that he could not be held legally liable.

"The law does not require the impossible," said the court. "One cannot be held guilty of negligence because he is unable to see through impenetrable objects or to bend his vision around them."

What about the responsibility for making the intersection blind in the first place? Unless a special statute so provides, the local government ordinarily cannot be held liable for this kind of hazard.

However, courts have occasionally placed the blame on a private property owner who has brought such an obstruction into existence. Liability has been based on the theory that the condition of his premises could foreseeably cause some luckless motorist, some day, to get hurt.

Making jams, jellies and preserves is a good way to use fruits with size or shape unsuitable for canning or freezing. Follow a tested recipe and be sure to use the proper amounts of fruit, pectin acid and sugar to make a product of good jelly consistency. Pectin is the substance in fruits that when heated and combined with fruit acid and sugar causes the mixture to "jell."

and plums, contain pectin and combine well with other fruits that do not contain as much natural pectin. Jellies and jams can be made without commercial pectin, but they must be cooked longer than those with added pectin.

Skewered Garlic: Spear garlic cloves with toothpicks to make them easier to remove from the pot when through cooking with them.

Quickie Chocolate Melter: When melting only one or two chocolate squares use a deep soup ladle, which is easier to handle than a hot bowl and smaller to wash than the top of a double boiler.

Stuffing Tip: When stuffing a chicken or other poultry, insert a heel from a loaf of bread to close the pocket. This eliminates sewing the bird's cavity and dressing stays inside.

Egg Clean-Up: To clean up a raw egg that is spilled on the floor, cover it well with salt and let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Then sweep it with a broom or vacuum cleaner.

Roll Reheater: Place roll to be heated in a paper bag sprinkled with water; heat at 400 degrees for about 10 minutes.

Ready Soup Vegetables: Keep a large airtight container in the freezer, and when small amounts of vegetables are left from a meal, add these to the container. When making homemade vegetable soup, add the contents and you have a wider variety of vegetables in your soup.

Handy Sprinklers: Save the empty bottles from parsley flakes, onion flakes, garlic salt, etc. Their inner "sprinkler" tops make them handy for shaking flour into gravy or confectioner's sugar onto baked goods, waffles, etc.

Casserole Toppers: Set aside a special covered container in the refrigerator for depositing

"bottom of the box" crumbs from crackers, cereal, etc. (You may wish to use a separate container for potato chips, which could turn rancid and/or flavor other crumbs.) The combination will give you instant casserole toppings.

Garlic Peeling Aid: To more easily remove garlic skins, rinse in hot water first.

Instant Cold Drinks: For instant cold drinks when camping or for school lunches, mix sugar and dry drink mix together in small plastic bags. You only have to add cold water for a quick drink.

Make Your Own Buttermilk: When you need buttermilk to complete a recipe, add a tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice to one cup of sweet milk.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

The refreshing showers of last week, even though light in measure, left us with a renewed urge to keep our yards and gardens growing.

Many have been grateful for a bountiful harvest in July and August, of the many vegetables, peaches, plums and apples. Now the pecan trees are overladen with a pecan crop. They need to be kept well watered for maturing, if no good rains come our way soon.

It seems that gardening in the southwest is a continuous overlapping of seasons, with harvesting and planting being done simultaneously. Gardens seldom finish one crop before they start another.

Clean up vegetables as they finish producing, and prepare the ground for fall vegetables.

Now is the time to order or to set shallots, start cabbage seedlings for September planting along with turnips, beets, carrots, collards, broccoli, cauliflower, spinach, beans, lettuce and other greens.

Begin seedlings of pansies, English daisies, Shasta daisies, hardy snapdragons, clove pinks, carnations and many others to be ready for transplanting well ahead of the first frosts.

If you are having black spot and mildew on roses and crepe myrtle spray with Phaltan. Control aphids, thrips and blister beetles with diazinon. Sevin controls Japanese beetles and most insects on vegetables.

Treat for borers in peach and plum trees in August with 20% lindane as a drench spray to the trunk and lower limbs. Blights on tomatoes may be controlled with zineb or manette.

Work some 5-10-10 or 5-10-5 fertilizer into soil and water well to keep flowers and vegetables growing and blooming.

Pinch out tops and branches of mums for the last time now, fertilize about every ten days until color begins to show, and keep plants from drying out during this hot month.

If you have no gardening space try planting chives, parsley, shallots, mint and other herbs in pots. Also potted plants may be bought now to give color to your patio or fill in places that have finished blooming.

PUPPIES DON'T SIT ON FENCES

But people sit on fences. And faithful puppies never question. Our children, trusting the love and wisdom of their parents, respect even our indecision.

But the moral and religious growth of every child is deeply influenced by his parents' commitment of their own lives to God.

We have outlined the day when fathers and mothers sent their children to Sunday School without accepting their own rightful responsibilities and opportunities in the religious community.

Juvenile delinquency is the aftermath of fence-sitting!

The Church is for the family. Religious instruction and inspiration are foundations of the home. Lives—growing or mature—gain direction only with commitment.

Join the FAMILIES who worship and grow together in church.

4-Hers To Have New Event At WT Fair Rodeo

Abilene--Representatives of area 4-H clubs and FFA chapters will be participating in a new event of this year's West Texas Fair Rodeo, the FunFair '74 Calf Scramble. Contestants will range in age from 12 through 16.

The Scramble is a true competition event. Twice as many contestants as calves will be turned loose in the Rodeo arena. The participants who catch calves and bring them across the finish line will receive a certificate worth $200 to be applied toward the purchase of a calf. Each winner will feed, raise, and care for the calf which he purchases.

Winners are required to return to the 1975 West Texas Fair and show the calf in a special Calf Scramble Heifer Class. Calves will be judged, and awards will be presented.

The West Texas Fair Calf Scramble is patterned directly after the Calf Scramble held annually at the Houston Fat Stock Show. Participants will compete at each of the four Rodeo performances.

Chairman for the West Texas Fair Rodeo Calf Scramble is J. W. Vinson. He is assisted by Sid Saverance, Murrell Eaton, Bill Scott, Wendell Decker, Jack Hancock, H. C. Stanley, J. B. Criner and Oran Egger.

The West Texas Fair Rodeo will present four performances September 12-14, and will feature the Donna Fargo Show. Tickets are $3, $4, and $5, and may be obtained at Luskey's and the Coliseum or by contacting the West Texas Fair Ticket Office, Box 5527, Abilene, 79605.

COUNTRY CLUB BRIDGE Mrs. L. T. Sewell was bridge and luncheon hostess for the weekly session at the Country Club Thursday.

Bridge winners were Mrs. Clay Adams, high; Mrs. Bruce Mayfield, second high; Mrs. Kirby Moore, low; and Mrs. Jake Short and Mrs. Byron Williams, bingo.

Other players included Mrs. J. B. Parker, Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. W. E. White, Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Dick Kirby, Mrs. T. J. Bailey, Mrs. John Lee Henderson, Mrs. H. M. Phillips, Sr., Mrs. H. M. Phillips, Jr. and Mrs. P. L. Childress, Jr. was a luncheon guest.

Don't let the color of the egg shell fool you--the breed of the hen determines the color of the shell, according to Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. She added that nutritional value, quality or cooking performance of the egg is not influenced by the color of the shell.

MIGHTY BIG MELON -- Clint Lenamon shows off the 15-pound cantaloupe grown by his great grandfather Sam Willis on his Crockett County ranch near the Pecos River. The melon patch yielded over a dozen this size, but a melon thief made off with the rest the night before this one was picked.

Anthrax Outbreak Controlled

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has credited fast response by ranchers and government agencies for bringing the Falls County anthrax outbreak under control.

After a recent air and ground survey of the affected area, White commented, "Anthrax is not now as big a problem in Texas as drought and low cattle prices."

However, White added that despite the inroads of modern medicine, no one can afford complacency about potential animal health hazards. He stressed the importance of vaccination in combating anthrax.

"It is a blow to cattlemen to lose 200-300 head of cattle in these days of high production costs. But the situation could have been worse without this kind of quick mobilization by all concerned."

Gov. Dolph Briscoe mobilized units of the Texas National Guard to enforce the state quarantine at roadblocks and to search for dead cattle by helicopter as soon as the disease was confirmed July 12.

Mass vaccination of livestock in Falls County and seven surrounding buffer counties were conducted by local veterinarians and representatives of the Texas Animal Health Commission. Texas Department of Agriculture personnel worked with the guard to restrict livestock shipments from the quarantine area.

Mohair Council To Meet At Junction

A proposal for funding future promotion programs for mohair is expected to be presented to growers and directors of the Mohair Council of America when they meet August 15 at the Texas Tech University Center at Junction.

The meeting, set for 10 a. m., is expected to draw a large turnout of producers, warehousemen and other mohair industry representatives. The meeting is the first to be held at Junction since the Mohair Council was first organized there in 1966.

Funding of future Council promotion programs has been a concern of grower members for more than a year. The Council, which has been funded in the past through a deduction of 14 cents per pound from mohair support payments, has not received any funds since 1972. The Council recently began its second consecutive year of operation using funds from its reserve.

The Council's need for supplementary funding directly relates to higher mohair prices received by growers during the last two years. The funding problem began over two years ago when the price of mohair, influenced by expanding worldwide demand, went over the 80.2 cents per pound price support level. As a result of the higher prices paid growers during the 1972-73 marketing years, no incentive payments were made and consequently no new promotion fund deductions have been available. On June 30, the average price of mohair sold during the first 6 months of 1974 was $1.55 per pound, thus no incentive is expected to be paid on mohair sold during the current marketing year.

James T. Hunt of Sonora, Council president, said the Council's officers, executive committee and staff have worked for more than a year studying various proposals and ideas for future supplemental financing of the Council.

"We must decide this year how we plan to finance our advertising, promotion and market development programs in the future," Hunt said. He urges all mohair growers, as well as directors, to attend the meeting.

Other matters to be discussed will include the domestic and foreign mohair market situation, prospective new markets and new uses for mohair fiber, and proposed advertising, promotion and market development projects. Assisting Hunt in conducting the meeting will be L. D. Whitehead of Del Rio, vice president, and Sid Harkins of Sanderson, secretary-treasurer.

Foodway To Begin Remodeling

Extensive remodeling will begin Monday at the Foodway Store, according to Jim Marks, manager.

All refrigeration units and frozen food cases will be replaced with new equipment. A new floor will be installed along with other improvements.

Marks said the store would not be closed during the remodeling period of approximately two weeks, unless it became absolutely necessary. He apologized for any inconvenience the project might cause to customers, but said he felt patrons would benefit in the long run.

Ft. Stockton Plans Pony Express Week

An event which generated extensive national publicity in 1973, the First Annual Fort Stockton Pony Express Ride and Western Week, is being repeated this year in "bigger and better" fashion--on August 10. The first ride, held in August, 1973, included the dedication of the brand-new Pecos County Indoor Arena, a rodeo coliseum without equal. Riders carried the mail in an authentic reenactment of the Pony Express system, from Alpine to Fort Stockton, a distance of 66 miles, in four hours. Thanks to Zip Code and other changes made by the U. S. Postal Service, the Pony Express mail delivery turned out to be 21 hours faster than regular mail.

The 1974 Pony Express mail carry will originate at the post office in Pecos, Texas (the county seat of Reeves County) and will see riders transporting the mail 54 miles to Fort Stockton, again with the Pecos County Coliseum as the destination point. All mail carried on the ride will bear an official Pony Express stamp. Adding to the fun will be a three-day Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Pecos County Sheriff's posse. Rodeo performances will be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with the final night's performance climaxing a packed day that earlier will include the Pony Express ride.

Last year's old fiddler's contest has been changed to a banjo pickin' competition for 1974 Pony Express Day in Fort Stockton. Banjo players from all over Texas and some from other states will be on hand to play.

A wedding on horseback will conclude the Pony Express Day events which begin during the Pony Express ride and run throughout the day.

Pony Express Day events will include such widely varied contests as tobacco juice spitting, Indian dancing, silver dollar toss, fast draw, cow chip throw, a liar's contest, beard judging, a trained sheep dog act, a hog calling contest and much more.

The special Pony Express stamps are on sale now, are available by mail to anyone who is interested in one. The oversize stamps sell for $5 each, and can be obtained by writing to the Fort Stockton Chamber of Commerce, Drawer C, Fort Stockton, Texas 79735.

These special collector's stamps are used to actually mail letters Pony Express style from Pecos to Fort Stockton. The letters are then forwarded to the addressee by regular mail.

Since there will be well over a hundred riders involved, all mail will be transported, no matter how much is sent. Some 250 members of the West Texas Trail Riders will make their annual trail ride this year from Marfa to Fort Stockton.

The trail riders plan to arrive in Fort Stockton on the night before the Pony Express Ride (Friday, August 9) and many of them plan to participate in the mail run from Pecos to Fort Stockton the next morning.

There's something for everyone to see and enjoy--at Pony Express 1974 in Fort Stockton. The more the merrier, says Pony Express Chairman Tom Polson.

A mammoth barbecue Saturday noon will be served to the huge crowd expected here for the festivities. Two dances will be held following the rodeo performances, on Friday and Saturday nights, in the nearby Pecos County Exhibit Building.

Carnival rides will be available to the young and young-at-heart on the grounds next to the coliseum.

Fair 'General Store' Will Exhibit Antiques

AUSTIN--An old shoe-shine chair, cream separator, sausage grinder and numerous farming implements are among the antiques collected from East and Central Texas farms for display in the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) general store at the State Fair in October.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said almost all the antiques necessary to outfit a complete general store have already been assembled and will be installed in the display which will cover a fifth of the Food and Fiber Pavilion.

Responsibility for creating the store is in the hands of TDA's marketing division. "The Texas Department of Agriculture is grateful to all the people who have loaned us articles from the past," White said. "Their generosity will help us make the Food and Fiber Pavilion one of the most interesting and educational exhibits at the fair."

A complete store will be built inside the pavilion. It will have paneled walls, a beamed ceiling effect, windows and a front porch visitors will cross to enter the building.

In addition to antiques, some 40 Texas products will be displayed. Old-time recipes will be given away and a daily drawing for a basket of Texas products will be held. A dairy and cola product will be served all day and a complete meal made from Texas products will be on display.

When the fair ends the store's paneling will be returned to the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin where it will be used to create a country store museum in the Stephen F. Austin Building.

The museum will be similar to the fair display and will include a slide show on the progress of agriculture since the turn of the century

Cattlemen To Get Brucellosis Indemnity Pay

Texas cattlemen with brucellosis reactors in their breeding herds now are eligible to receive federal indemnity payments provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), when infected animals are marketed for slaughter.

The indemnity will be paid only on reactors found in complete official herd tests--not in tests at sales yards--points out Dr. E. S. Cox, area director of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), Austin.

"The decision to make the payments was made at the request of the Texas Animal Health Commission, to strengthen efforts to eradicate brucellosis," Dr. Cox said.

All states now participate in USDA's brucellosis indemnity program. At present, about 99 percent of the nation's cattle are free of brucellosis. But the remaining 1 percent continue to threaten our livestock industry, Dr. Cox points out. A large percentage of the infected herds are in southern and southeastern states.

The indemnity will be paid on reactors bled on or after July 1. The amount will be $50 on grade cows and $100 on registered cows and bulls. No indemnity is allowed for grade bulls, steers or spayed heifers.

Reactors will be branded with the letter "B", not less than 2 inches nor more than 3 inches high, on the left jaw. They also must be identified by a metal tag with "reactor number" in the left ear, and must go to slaughter directly after the test. Indemnity claims will be initiated by state or federal regulatory officials or accredited veterinarians, subject to approval for payment by APHIS Veterinary Services. Instructions for preparing claim forms will be sent to these offices soon.

Dr. Cox suggested that first payments under the indemnity program may be delayed as much as 90 days after claims are received. The time lag should be cut in half, however, as the program becomes established.

Guide To Choice In Art Forms Is Suggested

Artists produce many forms of art and the viewer may need some guides to the differences among those forms, one authority noted.

She's Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Drawings are often exciting forms of art that can be purchased inexpensively," she said.

Different kinds of media--pencil, crayon, charcoal, pastel and ink--can be applied with pen or brush, usually on paper, she explained.

They can be found with rich value contrasts of black and white, carefully shaded shapes and forms, and the exciting use of color.

"Paintings commonly use watercolor or oil for their medium. Watercolor--water soluble pigment--is usually done on a heavy paper and is characterized by transparent wash effects and splashy, fresh look," the specialist said.

Oil paintings are usually done on canvas and styles range from a thick, textured paint surface to thin layers of color.

The specialist noted that a new type of pigment, acrylic, has characteristics of both watercolor and oil paints.

"It can be prepared and is water soluble in its original form but can also be thick and textured and is insoluble to water when dry," she explained.

Graphic prints include wood cuts and linoleum cuts, etching, lithographs and silk screen prints.

"Each of these have the common characteristic of being produced in quantity from an original plate. The number of prints from one plate varies, but the artist's title, signature and print numbers should be visible inside the mat or frame because they are considered a part of the work of art," Miss Gottschalk pointed out.

Textile art includes weaving, hooked rugs, knotted rugs, appliques, stitchery, macrame and textile printing.

These forms of art are usually designed for wall hangings, draperies, rugs, upholstery fabric, screens, or other furnishings.

"Sculpture differs from drawings, paintings, prints and hangings in that it is considered three-dimensional and should be viewed from all sides.

"Some materials used in sculpture are wood, metal, and plaster. Each should be used in a way that enhances that material," she said.
