Bond Committee Prepares For 2nd War Loan Drive

County Quota Not Yet Announced But May Be Near $150,000

Under the leadership of Scott Peters, county War Bond sales chairman, this county was making preparations for pushing the Second War Loan drive which is to be launched by the treasury on April 22 with its objective the sale of 13 billion dollars worth of the securities during the balance of April and the first week in May.

"The Second War Loan Drive is the largest war financing campaign in the world's history," Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, declared in a letter urging press support of the mammoth drive. "It will start April 22 and will run for approximately three weeks. The goal is 13 billion dollars. During the drive a complete assortment of seven Government securities will be sold.

"To be successful our effort must reach into every home in the land, because money must come primarily from individual Americans."

The exact quota which will be assigned this county has not yet been announced to local leaders, Mr. Peters said, but on the basis of quotas set for neighboring counties, it is expected that the goal will be set in the neighborhood of $150,000. Both financial institutions and individuals will be solicited in this drive, with emphasis placed on individual purchases as a means of controlling the threat of inflation and to provide for financing the nation's rapidly expanding all-out war effort.

During the year 1942, Crockett county citizens invested a total of $349,900, maturity value, in United States War Bonds, of which $336,350 was sold through the Ozona National Bank and $4,550 at the postoffice. This total was nearly $43,000 over the county's assigned quota for the year, which was set at $298,000.

Sales for the first three months of this year are running at about the same average as last year, with $95,700 worth sold to date through the bank and nearly $1,000 through the post office.

Grand Jury Meets Briefly; Two Divorces Are Heard

After a brief session beginning Monday morning, Judge W. C. Jackson recessed the April term of the 112th district court Wednesday to Friday, April 16, when a divorce case is scheduled for hearing.

The grand jury for the April term was impaneled Monday morning at 10 o'clock and after a session lasting but a few minutes was dismissed, there being no law violations to come before the body for investigation.

Two divorce petitions were heard and decrees granted by the court and several dismissals recorded by the court in its brief session. Divorces were granted plaintiffs in the cases styled Mary Hernandez vs. Trinidad Hernandez and Israel Ramos vs. Consuelo Ramos, custody of a year-old child being granted the defendant in the latter case.

Marked as settled and dismissed were cases styled Rebecca M. Whitham vs. A. B. Phillips, T. A. Kincaid, Jr., vs. E. R. Kinser, and E. L. Mayo vs. Ed Bean. The case of David Lee vs. D. F. Parker, on note was set for the second day of the next term of court.

The case of E. L. Chapman vs. Mrs. Ann Stanford Chapman for divorce, was set for hearing of a plea of privilege and for trial on April 16.

Ozonans Invited To Salvage Clinic In El Paso April 12-13

Crockett County members of the Texas State Salvage Committee have been invited to participate actively in the first Southwestern War Salvage Clinic which is scheduled to be held Monday and Tuesday, April 12 and 13, at Hotel Hilton, El Paso, Texas. Judge Charles E. Davidson, county judge, and Carl Colwick, county salvage chairman, are Ozona's delegates, and it is hoped that others may attend.

The War Salvage Clinic will be a joint effort of the Army, the War Production Board, Texas and New Mexico State Salvage Committees and Civilian Defense units, to work out practical plans for the collection and shipment of scrap in all counties of New Mexico and in 33 counties of West and South Texas. Officially authorized by the government, its results will be watched nationally and the plans developed may set a pattern for scrap collecting over the U.S.

Army authorities are giving full cooperation by way of motive power and man power. They feel that scrap conservation is one of the most important operations in the war effort, second only to troop training.

Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ozona, is in Dallas this week where he is attending the Baptist Training Union convention and a meeting of the executive board of the Texas Baptist Convention.

W. E. Lucas, U.S.N., Home On Leave While Broken Leg Healing

W. E. Lucas, Bosun's Mate, U.S.N., a veteran of the first World War and now serving his second war-time hitch in the Navy, is home on 30-day leave while he is recuperating from a broken leg suffered nearly four months ago in service. Lucas suffered his injuries in an accident aboard ship.

Lucas has seen service in the Pacific war theater aboard a U.S. transport and supply ship. His ship was attacked one time by Jap bombers, he said, but in all his cruises he has not encountered an enemy submarine.

"I've seen some of the results of both bombing and submarine attacks on our ships, however," he said. The Ozonan will probably be kept on the sick list for several more months while the break in his left leg below the knee is healing.

Ozona Boy Passes Mental Tests For Air Corps Cadet

San Angelo, Texas, April 7.—Floyd Lorain Wyatt of Ozona has passed the aviation cadet mental qualification at San Angelo Army Air Field Bombardier school and will be permitted to take the air crew physical examination at the school, Lt. Palmer Robinson, chairman of the field's aviation cadet selection board, announced yesterday. Wyatt is a senior student in Ozona High School.

Boys who have passed their seventeenth birthdays but who are not yet 18 and who meet the mental and physical specifications will be allowed to volunteer at the bombardier school in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve, designating the time within six months after their eighteenth birthdays that they will be called for active duty. Boys 18 through 26 will be allowed to volunteer through their selective service boards. Upon reaching the induction center, such boys will be assigned to the enlisted reserve and will be allowed to return home until called for duty.

The bombardier school has made its information and examination facilities available so that young West Texans may learn quickly whether they are qualified for aviation cadet training. Interested young men will be admitted to the field to visit Lt. Robinson at his office or they may telephone him at 7141, Extension 261.

Knitters Asked To Bring In Garments Or Thread By Week-End

Mrs. Roy Henderson this week issued a request to all women who are doing knitting for the Red Cross production program to return all completed or partly completed garments and all unused thread by the end of this week.

The deadline for shipment of this material to national headquarters is about here, Mrs. Henderson explained, and she is anxious that all of the material be returned without delay so that final shipment can be made.

W. C. Brock Found Unconscious From Blow On Head

Mystery Surrounds Injury Of Ozonan, Still In Angelo Hospital

W. C. Brock, Crockett county ranch worker employed on the George Montgomery ranch, remained in a semi-conscious condition yesterday in a San Angelo hospital where he was taken after suffering a blow on the head at the Monegomery ranch sometime Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Brock was found unconscious on his bed at the bunkhouse Sunday afternoon by Mrs. Montgomery when he and Mrs. Montgomery returned to the ranch after spending the afternoon in town. Pools of blood were found in the bathroom and in other rooms of the house, indicating that the injured man had walked about the house before finally making his way to the bed.

Mystery surrounding the injury was investigated by Sheriff Frank James and Immigration Inspector A. D. Brandon but no evidence of foul play could be discovered by the officers. Mr. Brock has been subject to dizzy and fainting spells and it was thought possible that he had suffered such an attack and fell in the bathroom, striking his head on something sharp.

He was rushed to the hospital immediately and reports from his bedside yesterday indicated that consciousness is slowly returning, but the injured man has not yet recovered sufficiently to shed any light on the manner in which he was injured.

One-Act Plays To Be Presented For Red Cross

Local Chapter Given Proceeds Of Performance April 15

Two one-act plays, produced by a home-talent cast under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Jones, will be presented in the High School auditorium on Thursday evening, April 15, as a benefit for the local fund of the Crockett County Red Cross chapter, it was announced this week.

Rehearsals are now under way by members of the two casts and Mrs. Jones has promised a finished performance by an unusually talented cast. Variety is offered in the two radically different plays, one a strict comedy and the other a highly dramatic situation.

The drama, entitled "The Last Mile," has a cast of four—Louise Bean, Barbara White, Virgil Oden and Byrd Phillips. The comedy, "The Widow's Mites," will be enacted by a cast composed of Joyce West, Daphne Meinecke and Tom Ed Montgomery.

In addition to the two one-act plays, there will be a monologue to be presented between the two plays and musical numbers to round-out a varied evening's program, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Proceeds from the evening's program will go into the local treasury of the Crockett County Red Cross Chapter. Admission charges have not been announced, but chapter officials indicated that a nominal charge would be made in order that everybody in the community might have an opportunity to enjoy the entertainment and at the same time make a small contribution to further the war-time work of the local Red Cross chapter.

BOY TO FIELDS

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Fields are the parents of a son born early Tuesday morning in a San Angelo hospital. The baby, named Thomas Alvin Fields, weighed 8 pounds and 10 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson spent last week-end in San Antonio.

Crockett Red Cross Chapter $600 Over War Fund Drive Goal

Final reports of all solicitation committees and tabulation of totals showed the Crockett county Red Cross chapter had received a total of $2,191.28 on its War Fund drive, Rev. Clyde Childers, chairman of the War Fund drive, reported this week.

The figure represents nearly $600 in excess of the chapter goal, which was set by national headquarters at $1,600. The goal was reached the second day of the drive, the chairman reported.

Of the grand total of the drive, the local chapter will retain approximately $1,073, representing 49 percent of the contributions. This fund will be used in the expanded program of the local chapter incident to war work, aid to service men and their families, various training programs, in addition to regular relief work among civilians.

Miss Mildred North Tells Rotarians Of Life In Washington

Some intimate glimpses of the life of a government employe in over-crowded war-time Washington were given by Miss Mildred North, who is home on a vacation after 15 months as an employe of the Civil Service Commission in Washington, in a talk before the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Miss North, who was head of the commercial department of Ozona High School when she received the appointment to Washington, declared that newspaper and magazine descriptions of life in Washington presented a pretty good picture of the true situation. However, she said that the housing shortage was not as acute as some persons might believe, that there were numbers of "for rent" ads in every edition of the papers. Transportation, however, is something of a problem, especially since most of the workers must live long distances from their work.

Former Ozona School Man Gets Education Post In Washington

Dr. Eugene Hollon, former grade school principal in the Ozona public school system, who received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Texas after leaving Ozona, has received an appointment to the United States Department of Education for special work in Washington, friends here have learned.

Dr. Hollon is now on instructor at Schreiner Institute in Kerrville, where he is in charge of instructing a group of Naval Air Cadets in training there. His acceptance of the Washington appointment is conditioned on his release from the assignment at Schreiner, of which he was doubtful, he wrote friends here.

Livestock Dealer, Slaughterer Rules Of OPA Reviewed

As a part of a nation-wide meat management program, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Office of Price Administration have issued regulations covering the buying, selling and slaughtering of livestock and the distribution of meat.

For livestock dealers and slaughterers, the United States Department of Agriculture requires:

1. Anyone who buys livestock and sells it in less than 30 days is to get a dealer's permit from his County USDA War Board or the local livestock office of the Food Distribution Administration by April 1, 1943.

2. Anyone who slaughters any amount of livestock for sale must get a slaughterer's permit.

Here's how farmers can comply with the new regulation.

1. Do not transfer (sell or give away) meat, butter, lard, cheese or any other rationed item without receiving points.

3 New Members Are Elected To Board Of Trustees

Friend, Schneemann, Harrell Successful Write-In Slate

Three new members were elected to the board of trustees of the Crockett Consolidated Common School District No. 1 as a result of a write-in campaign staged at the annual trustee election held here Saturday.

Only 113 voters participated in the election. Of the votes cast, a slate of three write-in candidates, Max Schneemann, W. E. Friend, Jr., and Alvin Harrell, received a plurality and will become members of the board in July.

Retired from the board as a result of the ballot count Saturday were three veteran members, President Paul Perner, Secretary Ira Carson and Bascomb Cox.

The vote result as announced by E. B. Baggett, Jr., election judge, gave the following distribution of the voting:

Max Schneemann	71
Alvin Harrell	65
W. E. Friend, Jr.	62
Paul Perner	43
Ira Carson	41
Bascomb Cox	34

In addition to these leading candidates, there were scattering votes for several individuals.

Naming of these three new members of the board will leave only three veterans on the new board, with four of its membership serving first terms. C. E. Davidson, Jr., was appointed to membership on the board last week to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of T. A. Kincaid, Jr., to become an officer in the Army of the United States. Hold-over members of the board are Scott Peters, Madden Read and George Bean.

Moore Bros., Olson Sell 5,000-Acre Block In County

Plymouth Pays $330,000 Cash In Transfer Of Producing Area

A deal involving transfer of oil and gas leases on a 5,000-acre block of Crockett county land, with two producing wells and one drilling test, for a cash consideration of $330,000 and a perpetual override of an unannounced percentage of oil production from the block was consummated late last week.

The sale was made by John I. Moore and P. D. Moore, brothers living at Midland, who own extensive oil interests in this county, and the Olson Oil Co. of Tulsa, to Plymouth Oil Co. of Pittsburgh.

The property transferred was what is known as the Olson block in northwest Crockett county, comprising lands of the Noelke ranch, and Shannon estate. It is only one of a number of producing blocks in this county owned jointly by the Moores and Olson, discovered in 1939 and 1940.

Retained are the Live Oak block on the A. C. Hoover ranch, the Noelke block adjoining the Noelke field on the south and west, and the Shannon estate block on which a small discovery well is in process of completion and the J. S. Todd estate block with a Strawn lime strike, being deepened to explore the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician.

The Moores and Olson opened the Olson pool early in the summer of 1940 with No. 1 W. T. Noelke, C. NW SE 10-GG-HE&WT, five miles Southeast of the Noelke field.

Treated with 500 gallons of acid, the well pumped 129.6 barrels of 28 gravity oil on June 6, 1940, for completion. Moore and Olson drilled in a second producer on the block, No. 1-A Shannon estate, in Nov., 1942. It is 1 1/2 miles north of Moore-Olson No. 1 Noelke and a quarter-mile south offset to Sun No. 1 Shannon, which in May had become the second producer in the

THERIGHT APPROACH

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown deserves the wholehearted cooperation of all citizens. He speaks a language which our people understand and appreciate, instead of the "$10,000 fine and 10 years in jail" lingo.

When enlarging the rationing program, Mr. Brown said: "The necessities of war have once again compelled the government to ask the American people to bear the burden of another rationing program. I should like to ask the forbearance of the public—while the trade is adjusting itself to new demand and supply conditions."

That's the American way. Freedom-loving Americans should cooperate 100 per cent.

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building

... We've got to match, as best we can the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peace-time jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

THE EDITORS' THOUGHTS

Rozell Pharr-Florence Luther

Having a good time seems to be a part that is not readily mastered by all people. Some people, to the amazement of everyone else seem to enjoy everything they do, no matter what it is. And others just don't seem to have this "gift"—at least that is what they look up to it as being.

Let's see if we can find the cause for this difference. Have you noticed that usually the people who always have "a period of miserable time" are those who wait around for someone else to make the good time. They are people who, at a party, stand around and say, "I wish they would start something to do." They never consider that they might try to entertain themselves. So the next time you find that a party is turning out to be a "dud" examine the facts and see if you are not the one that is a "dud".

REMELINS

The O.H.S. Dremilins (cousins of the R.A.F. pranksters) find good "spicing grounds" in the students of Ozona High. The work of these little creatures has been blamed on lack of Luck, Carelessness, Clumsiness, Inattention and various other things.

There are several different types of Dremilins who deal with a variety of things. For instance, there is the slop-eared Dremilin whose specialty is pens and ink. Now, he's the one who pushes the fountain pen too far in the inkwell when someone is trying to fill it. He is to blame when a fountain pen is dropped and jars the ink into the cap, and at every chance he gets he pulls the lever on a pen and joyfully watches the ink get things blue. His sideline is pencils and pencil sharpeners. He just breaks pencil points while passing by, and he's the little boogier who turns the handle of the sharpener too long so that the lead breaks again.

Then there is the little fuzzy Dremilin who likes to shove things. He pushes the books out of a locker onto the floor. He slides notes into a teacher's view, but he has the most fun in the typing room by mashing the wrong keys while some poor soul is struggling through a fifteen minute test. Another type is a big-mouthed ventriloquist. He opens his mouth carefully at the wrong moment and dances for joy each time a teacher sends someone to detention for "talking out."

There is the skinny little Dremilin who occupies his time diverting would be students from their lessons. He whispers exciting thoughts into their ears and won't let them concentrate.

Some Dremilins are completely different from any of these—they don't specialize in a certain field of mischief but on a certain person to be mischievous to. Take Dremilin Dan, my special tormentor. He follows me around not only during school but constantly. He pulls my hair into my eyes just as someone hits a tennis ball my way. He rides my racket and jumps on it so the ball will go above it or turns it sideways when it's too late to change. He waits till I'm out of the house then turns on the light so I'll have to go back. In fact where ever I am Danny is there too—making trouble.

Then there are the Dryfinellas and Gidgets—but there isn't room. I'll discuss them later.

H. E. NEWS

The freshman girls are going to surprise some people. They can really sew a straight seam now. Of course they haven't been sewing all semester—but that is beside the point. But seriously the material is taking shape and may turn out to be garments yet.

The sophomores are getting high hat now. They won't even go home for dinner. What's the attraction? Food, and they cooked it themselves. Not any of them have dropped dead yet—but who knows?

The room decorations being of Mexican pottery, baskets, sombreros, rugs and other types of Mexican craft, fitted well with the luncheon of enchiladas, hot tamales, frijole beans, coffee, and a salad followed by frozen peaches for dessert.

By MARY PERNER

Today is a spring feverish sort of day so let's drift along and think of the past. Remember those good old days when Charles McDonald used to walk arm in arm with Doris Bean? Jimmy Farr used to get starry-eyed over Louise Arledge, too. Dick Henderson and Ethel Mayes not only used to be a steady twosome, but they still are. Joy Coates and Tom Ed Montgomery used to feel mutually impressed by each other and Larry Arledge and Nan Tandy were hitting it off harmoniously.—Say! Speaking of Larry and Nan, they were at the show Sunday night together! Can this old romance have started to flame again? Well, we'll see! Larry was still playing the field, though, another night. He held the hands of Barbara White, Doris Bean and Margaret Russell all during the same show. If you figure it out, let me know the answer!

WHAT IF?

Bud Cox was ten years older? Would he have more technique?

Mary Perner wasn't in school? There wouldn't be any gossip if this were true.

Miss Kirbie joined the WAACs? Who would take care of the poor "fish"?

Mr. Sikes didn't keep Liz in detention for one day? We might get a holiday.

Virgil didn't have Miss Kirbie to fuss with?

Ruth couldn't use the telephone? Mr. McCook had some smart freshmen for once?

Muggins and Bobby told on Ruth?

Byrd, Charles and "Little Bill" hadn't gone tadpole fishing one sunny day?

Miss Kirbie didn't think all men were heels?

Ethel and Dick stopped going together?

Nan and Bland lived on a mountain instead of just a hill?

Miss Blanton turned over a new leaf and gave the history and Spanish classes one-half point on a test?

Rossie didn't get a certain letter every week?

Nan and Larry started going together again?

Jim Ad wasn't a firebug?

Ruth wasn't always being blackmailed?

Ozona would suddenly come alive?

I closed all this boring nonsense???

SPORTS

by Bud Cox

Spring, spring, beautiful spring. It's the reason that a young Lion's mind turns toward love, or what he has been thinking of all winter. Spring is also the time that boy's minds turn toward thoughts of the coming football season. Coach McCook got to thinking of this also, and that's why he ordered the spring training program to begin. It began last Monday when he issued suits to all the boys that were under the draft age, sound on foot, able to walk, talk or look the part of a football player.

Coach has a good looking bunch of boys out. Tom Ed Montgomery reported: he's the boy who kicks the extra points, passes accurately at all ranges with either hand, and does some mean running on the side. Calvin Williams, all-district tackle and stand out lineman for the Lions in the past season, said he was ready also. Jimmy Read, a good end for pass catching and all kinds of blocking reported that he was ready for anything. A new boy, A. J. Turner, is due to receive lots of action for the Lions in the coming season. There are a number of other boys who are out and they will have a good time too.

Get in there and pitch, Lions, and win the Bi-District to make it three in a row; then we can keep that football trophy in our school as our very own.

SPRING FEVER

The symptoms of Spring Fever are simple. The first thing you notice is that your mind wanders—that dance will be wonderful—Oh, excuse me, we were talking about Spring Fever. The next thing you notice is that you are very lazy and you are just content to sit and gaze at nothing. Spots appear before your eyes when engaged in manual labor. The last and most important thing you notice is that you are in love with somebody, identity unknown. These my friends are the symptoms of Spring Fever—EEK, I've got it!

Moore-Olson, now Plymouth, No. 1 Noelke and No. 1-A Shannon have currently daily allowables of 20 barrels each. The wells in 1942 produced 6,175 barrels of oil, bringing total recovery to 10,812 barrels. The oil is trucked from the wells, the pool having no pipeline outlet.

John L. Moore and P. D. Moore are both geologists as well as oil producers. John L. Moore came to West Texas in Feb., 1926 becoming district geologist at San Angelo for Roxanna, now Shell. Having entered the oil business for himself, he was joined here in Jan., 1932, by P. D. Moore, coming from Calgary, Alberta, Canada. They moved to Midland in Jan. 1937.

Rescue Of Ozonan And Companions From North Atlantic After Ship Torpedoed Is Described In Clipping From London Paper

A clipping from an English newspaper, dated December 20, 1942, giving an account of the experiences of 73 American service men and ship's crew members cast adrift in life boats in the North Atlantic in mid-winter by torpedoing, one of them a former Ozona boy, has been received here by John Coates from Sid Petty, former Ozonan, now a flight officer with American air forces operating in North Africa, who was one of a group of seven American pilots saved from the torpedoed vessel after being adrift nearly two weeks.

The story, datelined from "A Port in Britain," was written by Brice Burke, a staff writer for "Stars and Stripes," American service newspaper being published in England. Young Petty had previously written friends here of his experience but he did not go into any detail.

Survivors of the vessel were rescued by the KAF after a 55,000 mile search from the air, the last boat being located after 13 days, the English account said.

"Among the 73 survivors of the vessel, torpedoed in the Atlantic, Nov. 12, were seven sergeant pilots on their way to operations with the Eighth Air Force, and other American soldiers," the account said. "The stories of the torpedoing and subsequent search described one of the most dramatic and efficiently conducted rescues of the entire war."

"The rescued told how, as they sailed along in life boats after the torpedoing, RAF planes flew within sight several times but for days failed to spot them. Once a searching aircraft flew directly over their boat, but missed them in a heavy rain," the account said. "Four lifeboats containing survivors were found by the RAF, and these were watched and aided by the planes until, 13 days later, the last boat was picked up by a Royal Navy Destroyer."

"The airmen had suffered few ill effects. They had plenty of food, sufficient water, and RAF planes even dropped cigarettes from the air. The search and rescue was so effectively conducted that every survivor of the torpedoed vessel was saved."

The account listed the following group of American fliers picked up in the two-weeks search: Sid E. Petty, Ozona, Tex., Martin D. Fain, Chicago, Ill., James Patterson, Philadelphia, Pa., Horace Holik, San Antonio, Tex., George Meyer, New York City, Fred C. Ogier, Jacksonville, Fla., and Robert E. Levine, Los Angeles, Cal. Sixty-one of the 73 rescued men were crew members of the vessel, the other American airmen and other soldiers.

With Lt. Melvin G. Lindsay of Phoenix, Ariz., commanding officer of the group of fliers as the spokesman, the following account of the experiences of the group was given in the English newspaper account:

"The first tin fish hit astern where our cargo of high-octane gasoline was stored. Almost immediately another crashed into us near the bow. The explosion and fire that followed lit up the scene as bright as day, although it was pitch dark at the time. The lights were turned on and all 73 of the people on board climbed into the lifeboats. There was no disorder, but there was no time to collect our personal belongings, so we left with only the clothes we were wearing."

For the next 24 hours the four life boats remained in the general area where we were torpedoed. The radio operator had sent out an SOS eight times before leaving the ship and an answering OK had been heard. However, we were certain that the answer had come from the sub. After a day's wait the red sails were raised and we left the spot.

We sighted several planes before we were seen and prayed that they would spot us. Once, during a rain storm, a plane passed directly over us, but the downpour was too thick. He didn't see us. Our happiest moment was when we were sighted by the Catalinas and B-17s, flown by Canadian fliers of the RAF. We had been praying for several days.

"Now we are ready to go again. All we want to do is see one of those subs from the air. Then, we'll even the score."

Mrs. J. W. Henderson visited her son, A.C. John W. Henderson, III, U. S. Army Air Corps, in Sherman last week. Young Henderson is taking a special training course at Austin College preparatory to beginning flight training.

Margaret Holland, Richard Miller Wed In Alpine Ceremony

Miss Margaret Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holland of Christoval, became the bride of Sgt. Richard Miller, Jr., in a ceremony in the Catholic Church at Alpine at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Ozona, parents of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

The bride, with her twin sister, Ruth, now Mrs. W. P. Seahorn, Jr., has been a resident of Ozona for the past year and a half, both girls having been employed at the Smith Drug Co. here until their marriages. They are graduates of Christoval High School, coming here shortly after their graduation.

Sgt. Miller is crew chief of the Link trainer section in charge of a group of instructors at the Marfa advanced flying school of the Army Air Corps. He has been on active duty in the Air Corps since last August after enlisting in February of last year. He is a graduate of Ozona High School and spent four years in Texas Tech at Lubbock, lacking but a few months of completing work for a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering and music when he volunteered for military service.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are visiting in Ozona while he is on 15-day furlough, after which the couple will make their home in Marfa.

Mrs. Rice Lynn and son, Bascomb, who were here from San Angelo over the week-end, were honored with a family dinner Saturday evening at the S. M. Harvick home by Mrs. Lynn's sisters, the occasion being in celebration of her birthday.

T. A. Kincaid left for Fort Worth Tuesday to be at the bedside of his son, Pvt. J. Bert Kincaid, Tarrant Field, who underwent an operation this week.

WAAC Recruiting Helpers Praised

Lubbock, Tex.—Mrs. B. B. Ingham, county chairman for WAAC recruiting, and the Ozona Stockman were praised today by Lieut. Col. Marvin B. Durette, commanding officer of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District, for work done during the past three months in recruiting for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

Without the splendid help of our county chairmen, newspapers, and other civilian workers, the WAAC recruiting drive for the quarter just concluded, would have been a dismal failure," Col. Durette stated.

New quotas are soon to be announced for the months of April, May and June, Col. Durette said, and it has already been indicated that hundreds more capable women are needed from this district for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Women interested in joining the WAAC were asked to contact either their county chairman, nearest U.S. Army Sub-Station, or visit the Headquarters Office of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District in Lubbock.

Ozona Girl Cited As Outstanding Student

Ora Louise Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Cox, Jr., and senior student at Southern Methodist University, has received an "M" award for the performance of outstanding service on the SMU campus.

Miss Cox's citation read: "for her continued fine leadership in the Music School; for her part in campus-wide service in Mortar Board (women's service organization) and in student government."

L. B. Townsend, mortician at Joe Oberkamp's suffered a heart attack at his home here Tuesday night. His condition was reported still serious yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hannah are in Lubbock this week to visit their son, Billy Hannah, who is a student in Texas Tech.

MEN OVER 38 WILL NOT BE DISCHARGED

The War Department on March 31 stopped the discharging of men over 38 years old. Hereafter, such individuals will be transferred to an inactive status in the enlisted reserve corps, subject to the following conditions:

The man must request transfer to an inactive status to enter an essential industry, including agriculture, and accompany his request by a statement from the War Manpower Commission to the effect that his release is desired.

The man will be recalled to active duty upon request of the War Manpower Commission.

Reports of lamb markings on Crockett county ranches this spring indicate a good lamb crop over the county despite the dry winter. Percentages are being reported from 85 to 95 percent generally, with some reports running even higher.

Miss Elizabeth Fussell spent the week-end in San Angelo, attending the book review by Mrs. Avery and meeting Sgt. Joe Williams, who came in Monday from Garden City, Kans., to spend two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Chas.
