OZONA LIONS, ROCKSPRINGS BULLDOGS, DIST. LEADERS, IN CRUCIAL STRUGGLE SATURDAY

Flush From 18-0 Victory At Sonora, Lions Prime For Fray

Still riding the top wave in district 17 competition by virtue of their third straight district victory at Sonora Friday afternoon, and further polishing under way on the beautiful passing attack that clicked for three touchdowns against the Broncos in the Sutton capital Friday, Coach Ted White's Ozona High School Lions invade the kennels of the strong Rocksprings Bulldogs in a crucial district contest next Saturday afternoon.

With that same sparkling aerial attack, somewhat embellished, and a sack full of new running plays on tap, the fighting Lions plan to give the championship hopes of the Edwards lads somewhat of a jolt when the tussle begins Saturday.

Ozona and Rocksprings are tied for first place in the district standing, each having won three straights in district scraps and each bent on a district championship. The Bulldogs have a decided edge in the dope and have already hurdled the Eldorado menace, defeating the strong Eagles there last Saturday by a count of 7 to 0. After Rocksprings, the Lions must also plaster the Eagles for a title, the Eldorado crew invading local soil in the final game of the season on November 24. The Bulldogs, on the other hand, have to face the Lions and the Junction Eagles the following week and must surmount each obstacle to have undisputed possession of the flag.

Lions Flash Aerial

The Lions showed a new spirit and a new brand of football when they took down the Sonora Broncos there last Saturday. If the team can click as well in the Rocksprings fracas next Saturday, a tragic afternoon is predicted for the championship ambitions of the Bulldogs.

With Cox and Boyd doing the flinging and Parker and Brown on the spectacular receiving end, the Lions flashed a scintillating aerial demonstration that left the Broncos dizzy from its spectacular accomplishments. The Lions were in full possession of the situation from the start, that is, after a few of the tricky plays uncorked by the Broncos had been solved to the satisfaction of all save the Sonora fans.

The first few minutes of play caused several sharp intakes of breath among the Ozona rooters when Brantley, fleet back for the Broncos, took the ball around end for a 17 yard gain to place the ball on Ozona's 42 yard line. However,

Red Cross Roll Call Under Way

Workers Report Liberal Response To Member Drive

The annual Red Cross Roll Call drive for memberships in the mercy organization for the year 1935 got under way here Tuesday morning. Workers assigned to the various classifications into which the town was divided reported a liberal response to the Roll Call the middle of the week.

J. H. McClure has been appointed Roll Call chairman by the Crockett County chapter. A goal of 100 memberships has been set for this county and no difficulty is anticipated in going over the top on this quota. The splendid record of the Red Cross in disaster relief work throughout the nation should commend this organization to every individual and it should command a 100 per cent enrollment in every community.

ON TO ROCKSPRINGS

With only two more games for the season in prospect, and with a district championship hanging in the balance, Ozona fans are expected to form a reserve army, backing up the fighting Lions in their invasion of Rocksprings to meet the Bulldogs in a title tilt there Saturday.

Ozona fans were about as numerous as Sonorans on the battle ground in the Sutton county capital last Friday and maybe not quite so many, but several at that, will no doubt accompany the team to Rocksprings Saturday.

The entire pep squad will go in uniform to lead the cheering and as many of the students as can find transportation will also be on hand. That as many students and pep squad members as possible may be given transportation, all who have room for extra passengers on the trip are asked to communicate with Miss Mildred North or Miss Esther Kate Pierce.

Engagement Of Miss Elizabeth Perner And W. A. Wilson, Jr., Of Alpine Told At Tea Here Monday; Wedding Nov. 24

The approaching marriage of Miss Elizabeth Perner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perner of this city, and W. A. Wilson, Jr., of Alpine, to be solemnized on Saturday, November 24, was announced at a beautifully appointed tea Monday afternoon given by Mrs. Massie West and Mrs. Boyd Clayton at the beautiful new West home. More than a hundred guests called during the afternoon.

A color scheme of white and yellow was emphasized throughout the appointments with chrysanthemums in the chosen colors predominating in the floral decorations.

Centering the dining table was a reflector on which was arranged a striking statuary. Tall silver candelabra, each holding four white tapers, were placed at each end of the table. Miniature chrysanthemums in white and yellow were entwined with fern to make streamers and garlands for the table.

Ice cream molded in wedding bells and cake with yellow icing was served. On the tea plates were the doves holding the scrolls which announced the coming event with the words, "Elizabeth"

Ranch Deal Is Completed Here

Stephen Perner Pays $10 Acre Cash For M. Friend Ranch

A ranch deal whereby Stephen Perner became the owner of the Mike Friend ranch in Crockett County, south of Ozona, was completed here yesterday.

The deal involved a ten-section ranch about twenty miles south of Ozona, located between the Davidson and Arthur Phillips ranches. The purchase price is understood to have been $10 an acre, Mr. Perner paying cash for the land.

Mr. Perner, who ranches on leased acreage this side of Big Lake, leased the ten sections back to Mr. Friend immediately after the deal was closed. Mr. Friend to continue running his stock on it until next July.

Heavy Rains Fall In San Angelo And Area To Northwest

Rains of cloudburst proportions deluged San Angelo and the area to the north and northwest Tuesday night, but the moisture-laden clouds failed to reach as far as the Crockett County area.

However, a new promise of drouth relief came yesterday when the skies hung heavy throughout the day with promising clouds, but a light drizzle at intervals was the extent of the precipitation here.

Cattle Buying Awaiting Vet.

Program To Get Under Way Upon Arrival Of Officials

Start of the new drouth relief cattle purchase program was being held up this week pending the arrival of a government veterinarian and appraiser, it was announced from the office of J. S. Barlow in charge of the local drouth relief office.

Official authorization for the purchase of 2,000 additional head of cattle from the most distressed herds of this county was received at the local offices last week. A veterinarian and appraiser, now at work in Pecos County, will be transferred to this county as soon as the purchases are completed in that county.

A new authorization for listing of additional goats for drouth relief purchase has also been received here, the limit being placed at 10,000 head. So far, however, only about 2,000 additional goats have been signed and these will be purchased this week. Sheep buying is at an end for the present, the forces having exhausted the flocks signed up.

County Prisoners To Sweep Streets

Sheriff Orders Brooms And Will Put 'Boarders' To Work

Sheriff W. S. Willis has placed an order for a number of large brooms to be used by prisoners, "laying out" fines in the county jail, in helping to earn their keep by sweeping Ozona streets.

As soon as the brooms arrive, all prisoners in the county jail who are able to work will be placed at the handle of one of these brooms in a general cleanup campaign in the downtown section, the sheriff said. By this means, Sheriff Willis hopes to be able to keep the paved streets in the business sections and around the park in good order, free from the accumulations of papers and trash that now litter the streets in some quarters.

W. TOM BROWN IS KILLED BY HIS PET BEAR

Animal Attacked Keeper As He Tried To Chain It

BODY IS MANGLED

Funeral Service Held Here Monday Afternoon at 4

Funeral services were conducted here at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon for W. Tom Brown, 66, truck farmer and filling station operator on Live Oak Creek at the western edge of Crockett County, who was clawed and bitten to death by his pet bear near his home Sunday afternoon. His chest crushed, arms and legs badly mangled and his body a mass of deep claw and tooth marks, Mr. Brown died within a few minutes after being rescued from the enraged animal.

The bear, given to Mr. Brown several years ago by Royce Brownriggs of Ozona, who captured him as a cub and kept him here for a time, had slipped his chain and Mr. Brown and an employee, J. F. Bracheen, were attempting to coax the animal from beneath the bridge over Live Oak creek, near the Brown filling station, with sugar and corn bread.

The bear suddenly attacked Mr. Brown, clawing and biting him. Bracheen attempted to beat off the animal with rocks and then ran to the station for a gun. Truck drivers at the station returned with him to the scene and found that the bear had abandoned his prey and had taken refuge in a nearby thicket. Mr. Brown was rushed to an Iraan hospital but died within a few minutes after being picked

The program will consist of light opera, sextette numbers, vocal and instrumental solos and duets, a dramatic reading and an elaborate chorus number by the club. Rehearsals have been under way for several days and a worthwhile fine arts program is promised.

The entertainment will open with a skit from Humperdinck's light opera, "Hansel and Gretel" to be presented by a group from the Juvenile Music Club. A vocal sextette by girls of the Beethoven Music Club will be the next number, to be followed by a piano solo by Miss Esther Kate Pierce, Mrs. H. B. Tandy will give a vocal solo number and Miss Elitabel Tillory and Joe Haddon will be heard in a violin duet.

Joe Haddon, band director, has offered free lessons to some deserving pupil who is unable to buy his own instrument if the instrument is furnished. An admission charge of 10 and 20 cents is to be made for Friday night's entertainment in the hope of raising sufficient funds to buy the instrument.

PRESENT CENTENNIAL STATUS

Ft. Worth Star-Telegram—Circumstances of the final failure in the Forty-third Legislature of the effort to commit the State to heavy financial backing of the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936 leave no doubt as to the Legislature's inclination toward the "private" plan of financing. This, indeed, was evident in the bill which provided for getting the Centennial project under way.

There was some disappointment when the preliminary statute placed the selection of a site upon a purely commercial basis, decreeing that historical claims of contending cities should be disregarded and the honor and responsibility of holding the exposition be, in effect, auctioned off to the highest bidder. It was pointed out at that time that the Legislature probably had in mind a determination not to make any appropriation of state funds beyond a nominal sum necessary to get the thing started and, possibly, to provide a suitable official exhibit at the exposition itself. The Legislature, in its final special session, repeated that determination.

The view that the Centennial was the business largely of the city which bid highest for it was implied in the resolution which in the closing hours of the session was adopted by the Senate. The resolution commended the Centennial Commission's earnest preliminary work, gave praise to Dallas as the potential host city of the celebration, and expressed the hope that "ample provision may be given by the State for the Centennial celebration." It is fairly obvious here that the term "State" is used in a sense other than significant of legislative appropriations which would require tax funds.

The hope that it may be otherwise, entertained by those who are ruled by a "world fair" complex, lies in the possibility that the Forty-fourth Legislature, to convene in January, will be other minded. This hope would seem to be somewhat less than sanguine. The thing that stood in the way while the Forty-third Legislature was wrestling with the problem will in all likelihood be still standing next year. It is an obstacle composed of the State's inability to collect taxes now levied, and of the need for funds for the more necessary project of feeding, housing and clothing large numbers of unemployed.

If some economic miracle happened within the next few months to fill the State's treasury by restoring business activity to pre-1928 levels and returning our thousands of jobless to productive employment, there would be no doubt of Texas' eagerness to celebrate the great anniversary in a fitting fashion, nor of the Legislature's responsiveness to that public desire. As it is, and is likely to be, Texans probably are reconciled to a modest observance of the State's one hundredth birthday, each community for itself as the spirit moves it and its purse permits. When all is considered, that program may not be so ill-advised.

TAX PENALTY REMISSION

Ft. Worth Star-Telegram—Texas counties may or may not receive the benefit from the Pope bill remitting penalties on delinquent taxes predicted by its proponents. Thus far, at any rate, the bill, or the prospect of it, has resulted in a decided loss.

Many counties report a falling off of tax income in the past month, while the Legislature was in special session and considering the bill. Unless tax collectors take a chance and accept payments on delinquent amounts minus penalties, this state of affairs will continue until February 8, when the Pope bill becomes effective. And if tax collectors are amenable to "reason," property owners may yet hesitate because of the possibility that payments unaccompanied by penalties during the interregnum might leave a cloud that would have to be cleared up later.

The Legislature seems to have erred in failing, once it was plain that the Pope bill was going thru to give it the majority required to put it immediately into effect. It attempted at the last moment to achieve this result by adoption of a resolution, but there is much doubt whether such action is competent.

The State has not profited from previous dallying with the device of penalty remission. Instead of increasing collections of delinquent taxes, the practice has increased the number of delinquents. One remission calls for another and as this formula has generally prevailed, there is small inducement to a taxpayer to make extraordinary efforts to dig up payments on time. The Pope bill likely will have a similar effect. It will relieve a certain number of property owners, and facilitate a certain number of title transfers, but there is every probability that when its term expires the number of delinquents and the amount of delinquencies will be greater than ever.

Penalty remission is poor tax practice. A far better idea is a discount for prompt payment.

THEY DON'T MIX

Whether you are a "wet" or a "dry," this fact will interest you: Repeal of prohibition has resulted in a tremendous increase in drunken driving, according to reports of police bureaus, safety departments and similar organizations. No one knows whether this is due to people drinking more now than during the prohibition era—but it is a fact that more people are taking drinks and then getting behind the wheels of their cars.

A driver does not even have to be noticeably drunk to be dangerous. Investigations show that very moderate doses of alcohol produce the following effects on the average driver: Slower reactions, less uniformity in response, a narrowing of the field of attention, a rise in self-assurance which breeds recklessness, and a general decline in mechanical efficiency. The change occurring may be relatively slight—but when the driver is in sole charge of a hurtling mass of metal, it becomes important indeed. A man who shows few signs of his drinking, and is a pleasant and rational companion, may become a menace to the public in his car.

The "wets" of the country should take the lead in discouraging the drunken driver. He is one of the worst dangers to the cause they espouse—"alcohol on the highway" is certain to be used as a potent argument for prohibition. Today, with liquor legally on sale in the bulk of states, legislation to curb drunken driving should be made even stiffer than in the past—and should be enforced to the letter. Alcohol and gasoline don't mix.

WHAT PRICE GLORY?

Nicholas Murray Butler: The World War, all told, cost—apart from 30 million lives—400 billion dollars. With that money we could have built a $2500 house furnished it with $1000 worth of furniture, placed it on five acres of land worth $100 an acre and given this home to each and every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia. We could have given to each city of 20,000 in habitants and over, in each country named, a five million dollar library and a ten million dollar university. Out of what was left we could have set aside a sum at five per cent that would provide a $1000 yearly salary for an army of 125,000 teachers and a

WE MIGHT LEARN FROM MEXICO

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: "The Mexican, as you might put it has more windows to his soul. He feels more, he lives more, he loves more."

That is how Adolfo G. Dominguez, vice consul from Mexico to the Northern District of Texas, describes the difference in temperament between his people and their Anglo-Saxon friends on the north. He was speaking before the Fort Worth Rotary Club the other day. His remark should stimulate American thought.

In our worship of the material of machine creations, of physical well being and comfort, we sometimes trample under foot the finer things of life. The American who drifts below the Rio Grande, if he bothers about such matters, finds that bath tubs and other modern household conveniences are not as numerous as on this side of the river. But if he will for the moment forget the United States and let Mexico be a real host in her own way—he will discover a country that he did not know existed.

Our Latin neighbor on the south gets a lot of joy out of just living—he loves the thrill of the bull fight—the splendor of the fiesta—the flash of the graceful form of a dancer at the opera—the smile of some dark-eyed beauty—or a quiet game with a friend.

We have come to do a lot of thinking in terms of dollars—he does not so often fix values in pesos—in fact money worth does not mean so much to him. He spends a lifetime acquiring a little home for his wife and babies. He builds a stone wall around it and plants a pomegranate tree nearby—a goat plays upon the wall. Ask him if he wants to sell it—make a big profit—he will answer, "No, I want to live in it."

And there you have it. Maybe the Mexicans have more nearly found the joy of really living.

GROVER CLEVELAND WAS RIGHT

Detroit Free Press: With the exception of Washington and Lincoln, Grover Cleveland embodied in his public life to a greater degree than probably any other Chief Magistrate of the United States, a selfish devotion to the public interest that amply justifies the honor of having his acts and principles kept fresh in the minds of his countrymen.

At a time when many people are trying to get something for nothing it is useful to recall his vigorous assertion:

"A truly American sentiment recognizes the dignity of labor and the fact that honor lies in honest toil."

When millions are being encouraged to lean on the Government it is well to remember Cleveland's famous dictum:

"Though the people support the Government, the Government should not support the people."

The Presbyterian Manse at Caldwell, N. J., where Grover Cleveland was born, should become a shrine, where Americans may repair and renew their faith in America by communing with the spirit of one of the greatest of all Americans, who never feared for the future of his country so long as his countrymen should display the rugged virtues which he preached and exemplified.

BARNHART NOTES

By BUSTER KILPATRICK, Correspondent

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. McWhorter spent Sunday in Barnhart with the J. F. Miles family. Rev. McWhorter is newly appointed to the Methodist pastorate here.

Barnhart Men Find Fishing Good, People Backward In Mexico

Clint Shaw, Bart Westfall, Gne Linthicum, Tom Harris and Tom Murphy have recently returned from a fishing trip to Lake Don Martin, one hundred and thirty-six miles down into old Mexico across from Eagle Pass, where they spent a week. Mr. Shaw says the number of fish in the lake is astonishing and had they only had ample means of conveyance they could have brought back enough for every one in town. As it was, they brought back about fifteen large cat and something like one hundred large bass. All of the men expressed wonder that a place so close to us had absorbed so little of our civilization—or any civilization for that matter. Along the road the fishermen noticed peons doing things pretty much as they had been done since the world was young. The small farms (really a garden in our opinion) were plowed by a very crude plow drawn by oxen, and afforded the only means of sustaining life to each family. There are a number of mines along the road which are either not worked at all or are worked with pick, shovel and wheel barrow. The new highway from Eagle Pass to Sabinas is being constructed entirely by hand, with picks, shovels, and wheel barrows (and crude and often home made ones at that) as the only tools used.

In the interior, even one hundred miles, the peons neither speak nor understand any English or Spanish as Americans speak it. They don't know the value of money—and won't accept any of ours in payment for anything. They have nothing to eat but beans and tortillas and don't want anything else. They all go bare foot and practically nude—the men generally wear a pair of ragged trousers or shorts and a hat and the women wear a skirt or a piece of cloth wrapped about them and a shawl over their heads and upper part of their body. In moving from one place to another they pack all their worldly goods on the family donkey and all walk along behind him—the woman carrying two or three of the smallest children. Of course if they have no donkey, the woman has to carry the household goods, usually a pot or two to cook in and a few rags, sacks or quilts to sleep on.

Borrowers Must Keep Credit Good For More Emergency Food Loans

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 13.—Stockmen in drouth areas who cannot obtain credit from other sources will continue to be eligible for emergency food loans for their foundation herds this winter provided they keep their credit in good standing and show their intention of repaying the loans. W. I. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration said here Monday.

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Offices," Governor Myers said, "have made loans in the primary drouth areas without requiring chattel mortgages in order to make funds available quickly to save hundreds of thousands of cattle and other stock; but they have done so with every expectation that the money will be repaid."

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration has dealt leniently with such borrowers; but each loan case has been carefully inspected. Farmers have shown their good faith by cooperating and not attempting to get loans where they were not needed, but of course we cannot expect credit will continue to be available unless borrowers keep the loans in good standing and show their intention of paying the debts."

"The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Offices are the only source of these unsecured emergency feed loans. They are disbursed from a part of the drouth appropriation approved June 19, 1934, and are not made through any of the permanent credit institutions under the Farm Credit Administration."

"Up to November 1," Governor Myers continued, "over 191,000 farmers and stockmen obtained these initial emergency loans to feed their stock and about 134,000 supplemental advances have been made, for a total of $21,500,000, out of the allocation of $96,785,000 for such purposes. On an average about $1,250,000 a week is being loaned to feed cattle and other stock; and during the winter additional credit will be available as needed if the borrowers keep their credit good and show their intention of paying their debts."

All of the emergency feed loans are being advanced in monthly allowances based on the amount required for each head of stock to be fed. The allowances may not exceed $3.00 per head for farm

Boa Constrictor Is Found In Banana Stalk

This story is about a boa and it is not one of those fluffy feathery things that women sometimes wear about their necks! It is a real live boa constrictor—a Central American snake to you that sometimes, so the News office dictionary says, grows to be ten or eleven feet long.

The reptile made its appearance in Mason at the Cash and Carry Store via a banana stalk last week-end. The stalk upon arrival from San Antonio was taken out of its shipping basket and hung in the back of the store. Later John Reichnau was cutting off bananas and caught the end of the snake's tail which brought his small pointed head darting out a few inches above. Needless to

BAPTIST CHURCH

Leon M. Gambrell, pastor. Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 o'clock. The pastor's theme next Sunday morning is "The Christian's Marching Orders." Training Services, BYPU and B.A.U. at 6:30 p. m. Evening preaching service at 7:30.

The message, Sunday evening will be "The Three Great Steps" based on Acts 2:38. Choir rehearsal every Tuesday 7 till 8 p. m.

Midweek prayer meeting at 7:45 Wednesday evenings. These are some of the best services of the week. Every one is invited. At the close of prayer meeting, next week the pastor will baptize several who have been received for baptism.

The Women's Missionary Society meets every Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Announcements of other meetings are made from week to week. Why should the MEN of Ozona attend and take vital interest in the churches? There are many more reasons than could possibly be given here. They are needed. All recognize the importance of churches in a community. When they occupy their proper places, they are worth much more to the community life. If the churches are ever to take their proper places, the men must become interested and lead. It is absolutely impossible without this leadership. The men themselves need the blessings which will come to them selves. Young men, young people may be reached more effectively when the men show real interest. Our prayer is that the men of our little city will find the Savior precious to their own hearts and all who do will give themselves, whole-heartedly, to this the most important institution in the world.

You Need Refrigeration Every Day of the Year

There are only a few days each year that the temperature is low enough for the proper refrigeration of foods. Although foods may not spoil during cold Fall weather, the temperature is not low enough to prevent the growth of bacteria, the real danger of poor refrigeration.

The electrical refrigerator's economy and dependability of operation has been proven. The saving on foods alone makes the investment of your money amply repay you.

To protect your family's health, proper refrigeration is a necessity every day of the year. The cost is no greater than obsolete methods of refrigeration.

Low incentive rates make it possible for you to secure the maximum of benefit at the minimum of expense. Buy safe—buy dependable electrical refrigeration.

OZONA LIONS—

Boyd intercepted a Bronc pass a few seconds later and in a short while the Lions were in possession of the ball on Sonora's 19 yard line, that threat failing for the time when the Broncs held.

That aerial game was unloosed in dead earnest in the second quarter, shortly after its start. Parker, who played a whale of a game both on offense and defense, snagged a Sonora lateral in mid-field and galloped to the 30-yard line. A pass, Boyd to Parker was good for a first down on the Bronc 12 yard line. Williams, another Lion who was in the pink for the day, so to speak, crashed for two yards through the line and Cox picked up one the same route. Then Cox faded back and shot a pass to Parker on the goal line and the big fellow fell over for the first touchdown. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

Brown Dazzles 'Em

The second marker came in the third quarter, shortly after the half period. Boyd took Sonora's kick off and brought the ball out to his own 29 yard line. Cox crashed through the line for 7 yards. And then Boyd shot a long pass down the field and Parker was under it, coming high out of a group of Sonora tacklers to snag the ball for a 21-yard gain. The next play was one of the prettiest passes of the season, a long fling from Boyd to Brown, who took the ball on his finger tips high in the air while running at full tilt and raced the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown. Brown, throughout the game, was one of the most outstanding players on the field, making impossible catches of passes, smearing end runs for the enemy and smelling out the most tricky plays to throw the Bronc backs for heavy losses. His spectacular catch and 20-yard gallop for a touchdown in the third was one of the prettiest exhibitions of the season.

The Lions added another touchdown in the last period for good measure, again a pass from Boyd to Parker doing the work. Taking the ball on their own 33, Boyd picked up 8 yards around the end. A long pass, Boyd to Brown was good for 20 yards. Williams charged over tackle to make it a first down on the Bronc 22 yard line. Another pass, Boyd to Brown, placed the ball on the Sonora 10. Williams picked up six yards in two line plays and then a short pass, Boyd to Parker, was good for the last touchdown. The third try for the extra point again failed and the game ended Ozona 18, Sonora 9.

Killer Is Shot

A passing motorist, living at Iraan, stopped at the scene a short time later and with a rifle he had in his car went with others to hunt the bear. The animal was still in a vicious mood as he was stalked in a thicket, his coat bloody from the recent kill. His hair bristling, the enraged beast made for the hunting party but was brought down with a well-placed bullet between the eyes from the rifle in the hands of the Iraan man.

Mr. Brown was born in Little Rock, Ark., November 18, 1869. He had lived in Crockett county many years and was known as the only farmer in Crockett county. He raised vegetables, cantaloupes, watermelons, etc., on his truck farm, selling the produce in Ozona and the oil towns to the west.

He is survived by his widow, five sons, Ewell Brown of Big Lake, Cecil Brown of Big Lake, and Ollie, Earl and Willie Brown of Sheffield, two daughters, Mrs. Vivian Zedell of Iraan, and Miss Ruby Fay Brown, two brothers, George Brown of Big Spring, and Joe Brown of Fort Worth, two half brothers, Willie Brown of Orient and Carl Brown of Dallas, and two half sisters, Mrs. M. G. Johnson of Dallas and Mrs. Homer Davis of Ferris.

Members of the Odd Fellows lodge at Iraan had charge of the funeral services here, with members of the Ozona lodge assisting. Joe Oberkamp was in charge of arrangements.
