Ozona Hi Track Team To Enter Angelo Tourney

15 Local Boys May Compete In Invitation Meet

Coach Dan Patterson of Ozona High School plans to enter 15 boys in the San Angelo High School invitation track tournament Saturday. Four of the group will be in the junior age division, and are L. B. Cox, Roy Coates, Leslie Nance, Jr. and Tom Ed Montgomery. They will be entered in the 50 and 100 yard dash, 440 yard relay and broad jump.

Ozona's two entries in shot put, tip the scales at 470 pounds, with Wayne West accounting for 220 pounds and Carl Thurman the other 250. Floyd Hokit and Ed Leatherwood are scheduled to enter the 220 yard dash.

Hokit and Leatherwood will also be entered in the 100 yard dash, 440 yard relay and broad jump along with Bill Carson, Mervin McLaughlin, Billie Hannah and Byron Williams. Four of these six will make up the relay team. Other senior boys likely to participate in various events at the meet are Stanley Lemmons, Loraine Wyatt and Bochie Coates.

Track practice, delayed because of bad weather, got off to a good start Thursday, March 20. "These boys are all green and have practiced very little in track," says Coach Patterson, "but they have a competitive spirit, are working hard, and expect to get good practice out of the San Angelo meet."

Wishful thinking . . . that as a boy, or if a girl, I could live and go to school in Ozona . . . splendid school and capable teachers . . . so easy and pleasant to attend . . . such a short distance away . . . and mother or father to take me there in the morning and call for me at noon lunch hour . . . never thought I would be chauffeured to work so early in life . . . gives me more time in the morning to fool around the house . . . saves a lot of hard walking . . . I really don't need the exercise . . . does away with the "useless" chatter and "friendly" company of playmates also on their way to school . . . me for modern, indulging parents and streamlined transportation . . . Boy, oh Boy!

Looks as if Hitler will be confronted with war on two fronts after all. That's what cooked the Kaiser's goose in the last conflict. Now the Balkans are seething. And when their pot seethes, you may be sure it will soon boil over. Even old man Stalin is now evincing some interest in what's going on. Could it be that the Big Bear of Russia is beginning to realize the potential strength of Britain's mighty lion and that the tide of battle is swinging away from the Axis powers . . . Pity poor Benito!

Had to ask Publisher White the meaning of the "red rooster" imprinted on the front page of the San Angelo Standard Times on certain days. Seems that the practice was started by former owner Pat Murphy as a means of informing the reading public that rain was falling in San Angelo on the day of going to press . . . And down in St. Petersburg, Florida, in the summer time the hotels give their guests free room rent on days when the thermometer shows above ninety . . . smart publicity, eh!

3 More Crockett Draftees To Get Call By April 2

Three more Crockett county men must report for a year's training in Uncle Sam's Army under the Selective Service Act within the next week.

Two of the men go Sunday and Monday, both being replacements for other draftees and volunteers sent to fill previous quotas but who were turned back for physical or mental defects. The first colored draftee from this county will be Willie B. Fielder, who is scheduled to leave March 30. Blake Brown is in line to leave March 31 to start his year of training, according to reports from the local Selective Service office.

The first April call is for one man, to report on April 2. Next in line for induction in the local registration list and likely to be called up for induction in the April 2 quota is James Smith, Jr.

Organization of a local unit of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer was launched at a conference of the local advisory committee of the Army meeting this morning in the home of Mrs. Carl Colwick, county captain of the organization.

Membership in the council, which laid plans for a drive for members of the organization in this county, is composed of presidents of organized women's groups of the city.

Composing the council are Mrs. J. S. Whitley of the Baptist Missionary Union; Mrs. Hubert Baker of the Church of Christ Auxiliary; Mrs. Alvin Harrell of the Methodist Society for Christian Service; Mrs. Joe Oberkamp of the Ozona's Woman's Club; Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., of the Ozona Junior Woman's Club; Mrs. Hillery Phillips of the Ozona Music Club; and Mrs. Stephen Perner of the Parent-Teacher Association. Dr. H. B. Tandy and Dr. G. L. Neersta will be honorary members, and Mrs. Evert White is publicity director.

In 1940 the national enrollment was approximately 175,000. The parent organization was formed in 1913, its purpose clearly explained in the title. The slogan of the Women's Field Army is "Early Cancer is Curable. Fight it with Knowledge," and its purpose to broadcast life-saving information about cancer. All educational activities are supervised by physicians. These activities culminate in the month of April, designated by special act of Congress and each year proclaimed by the President as "Cancer Control Month."

New Attendance Record Set For Cooking School

Splendid Interest Is Shown In 7th Annual Stockman School

Attendance records again were shattered at The Stockman's seventh annual free cooking school held Monday and Tuesday afternoons of this week in the basement of the Methodist church. Total attendance during the two-day demonstrations reached almost to the 200 mark.

The school was conducted by Mrs. Cora Wilson, gifted and enthusiastic home economist, whose home is in Clarksville, Texas. Mrs. Wilson is one of the Souths outstanding experts on home management and the culinary arts, having spent four years doing foods work in radio and several years giving personal demonstrations. She has a file of more than 88,000 recipes.

The local Parent-Teacher Association realized a net profit of $11.55 from an auction sale of five cakes entered in the cake baking contest sponsored by the makers of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening and K. C. Baking Powder. The cakes were auctioned to the cooking school class on the final day by Boyd Lovelace, salesman for the West Texas Utilities Co.

Mrs. Richard Flower won a five-piece set of chrome steel cooking utensils and first prize in the cake making contest and Mrs. Bill Hoover and Mrs. Armand Hoover, jointly, won a three-piece set of the same wear as second prize. Mrs. Bryan McDonald was awarded a 50 ounce can of K. C. Baking Powder as third prize. Mrs. Flowers contributed a second cake to the sale and Mrs. Stephen Perner one.

Approximately 80 attendance gifts were presented each day, consisting of products of the cooperating food concerns represented in the school and of local merchants. Local business firms contributing attendance prizes were the West Texas Utilities Co., Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., C. G. Morrison Co., Piggly-Wiggly and Ozona Drug Co.

Food distributors, manufacturers and appliance companies cooperating with The Stockman in bringing the school to Ozona included the West Texas Utilities Co., Jaques Manufacturing Co., makers of K. C. Baking Powder; Duncan Coffee Co., makers of Admiration Coffee; Mrs. Tucker's Shortening; Crescent Valley Creamery, makers of Valley Gold Butter; Gandy's Creamery of San Angelo; San Angelo Telephone Co., Wilson Motor Co., San Angelo Coca Cola Bottling Co., C. G. Morrison Co., Universal Mills of Fort Worth for Gold Chain Flour, Piggly Wiggly and J. H. Williams and Sons grocery.

Generous Rains Continue Soaking West Texas Lands

3.3 Inches Recorded In Falls Here This Week And Last

March rains, more generous than in many previous years, have made for bright prospects for ranchmen in Crockett county and over most sections of West Texas. Ice, snow and sleet of last week tapered off this week into more bountiful rains over a wide section of country to add further to the already generous supply of bottom moisture and to insure fast growing feed, weeds, grass and brush, for West Texas livestock.

Last week's moisture, including the ice and sleet, and rainfall the first two days of this week have brought a total of 3.3 inches here. So far during the first three months of 1941, approximately 7 inches of moisture has been recorded here, within one inch of the total fall during the drouth year of 1933.

Nearly 300 Cars Unregistered As Deadline Nears

New Tags Must Be On Vehicles By Next Tuesday, Apr. 1

With only three more days in which to register the family bus before the law's deadline for displaying the new 1941 license plates, nearly 300 Crockett county car owners still have not purchased the new numbers, according to reports yesterday from Claude Russell, deputy in charge of the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Registrations to date number around the 250 mark and estimates place the new registrations at the outset of the year at close to 600. Many of the new numbers, black letters on an orange background in the case of passenger cars, are making their appearance on cars here, but there is still a liberal sprinkling of old numbers.

Under the state law, all cars, passenger and commercial, must display the new 1941 plates beginning April 1. Driving with old licenses past that date will subject the car owner to possible fine.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Tandy had as their guests Dr. Tandy's sister, Mrs. Margaret Ellis, and Miss Ann Pace, both of Abilene.

A Wise Needed Measure For Security

We have fallen in the habit of talking idly of federal billions in recent years, and it even seems on occasion that the nation is fast approaching the stage where "How much does it cost?" will no longer be a question that passes the lips of any American.

A recent careful study of federal non-defense spending over the past decade helps to light up the dark and curious labyrinths of federal spending today. It points out 114 separate categories which show a growth of $3,665,197,000 of such expenditures between 1932 and the planned budget of the coming fiscal year.

"This analysis is not in any way to be interpreted as a listing of items to be reduced or eliminated. But it is certainly a fact that the cost of the program of national defense, the end of which is not in sight, must soon make imperative a realistic and impartial examination of those fields of non-defense spending in which 'sacrifices' could conceivably be made.

of unlimited special government services at the same time."

Here is sound doctrine. Of course we must spend all that is needed to make this country secure. Of course we must pay for needed government functions. But in the more than three and a half billion dollars of extra federal non-defense spending during the past decade, impartial examination can surely disclose places where real savings can be made.

And wise economies in non-defense items are a measure of national security that can rank right up close to military preparations in the work of preserving the America in which we now live!

Stranger: "Does Alkali Ike still live here?"

Native: "No, Alkali played one joke too many. One night he stuck his head into the room where the boys was playin' poker and yelled 'Fire,' and they did."

"Deep-Rooted and Secure"

"Inventive Security"

Suddenly one day during the World War, the German troops on the Western Front were faced with an awe-inspiring sight. Big ungainly objects armored like oversized armadillos were trundling toward their trenches.

Those strange armored beings were, of course, the first British tanks—the first tanks, indeed, used in modern warfare. They were a "surprise weapon," effecting a decisive change in the course and temper of military events.

In this light, it is certainly cheering to know that the United States is making due allowance for this factor at a time when the other phases of national defense are coming in for detailed consideration. The government some time ago established a National Inventors Council, headed by Charles F. Kettering, world-famous inventor in his own right, the man who conceived the self-starter for the automobile, and today President of General Motors Research Corporation.

and large research laboratories which might be of value to the defense program. Undoubtedly, most of the ideas won't be particularly useful. But buried among them will be a few of the "surprise weapons" that can prove so decisively important.

We can be sure that many of these inventions will be valuable because the United States, more than any other country, has proved itself an "inventor's land." Here the men who create new ideas are protected by a patent system that is a model for the rest of the world. Here they have the industrial backing to develop the new thoughts they conceive. Men like Dr. Kettering are exemplars of that truth; others are continuing to prove it at the present time.

"I can't quite diagnose your case. I think it must be drink." "All right, doctor. I'll come back when you're sober."

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs.

5 Several months ago work was started, on our own initiative, on an entirely new 1500 horsepower airplane engine especially designed for mass production. This engine is now in the test stage and plans are being developed for producing it in large quantities when and if needed.

6 A Ford aircraft apprentice school has been established, to train 2000 students at a time.

That is a report of progress to date.

The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

- 1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.
2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.
3 Army reconnaissance cars — military vehicles of an entirely new type — are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.
4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

EVERY SCHOOL AND EVERY BUSINESS HAS ONE OR TWO

In a school full of bright, self-respecting students, there are very likely to be one or two completely lacking in good common sense. And that goes for business, too... particularly the beer retailing business.

Out of thousands of beer retailers who conduct respectable, law-abiding businesses, there may be a few "dunce" retailers who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

These few unwanted retailers are a menace to the future of the beer industry...and also of the benefits beer has made possible. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

It is the brewers' responsibility to make good beer—the retailers' responsibility to sell beer in wholesome surroundings—and the legally constituted authorities' responsibility to enforce the laws. All of these, working together with the public, are needed to protect the future of beer.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only reputable places where beer is sold; (2) and reporting any violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

AN ENGLISHMAN RIDES A TEXAS RAILROAD

"The old order changeth," and it is lucky for railway travelers that it does."

Such was the observance of an Englishman, R. H. Williams, after his first and last experience with a Texas railroad, in 1866. Read the story of that experience in his book of American adventures called "With the Border Ruffians"—a copy of which is in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection—and you'll have to agree.

One Wednesday in February, '66, Williams landed in Port Lavaca en route from New Orleans to San Antonio. Thursday at 2 o'clock, he learned, a train was to leave for Victoria—at 2 on the dot. So, as the Texas railway system was thought to be pretty well developed by the mid-1860's in due time he appeared at the station—or, rather, at "the shed that did duty for a station."

There was no train. He waited. An hour passed, and still there was no train. What was even more annoying, there was no station-master—that is, not at the station. Williams "at last unearthed him in a saloon, taking his ease, and his drinks, in a rocking-chair," only to be rebuked soundly for presuming to enquire about the schedule. So he returned to his hotel.

DELAY FOR A CELEBRATION

Late Friday night the train pulled into town. Williams was then slightly encouraged to hear that it would leave the next morning, Saturday, at 9—at 9 on the dot. However, he soon learned that such promptness was possible only if the engineer could be kept sober, and in the morning the engineer, the conductor and the station-proclaiming to the populace "Hoo-ray! The Railroad's drunk!" Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the train finally rolled out of town, with the engineer still wobbling a bit. Victoria was thirty miles away.

So at last, though "an ox-wagon could have beaten us in a race," as Williams wrote later, it was something that they were on their way. For a while, at least. Two miles out of town the train stopped. There was a pause. Then suddenly it started backing up and struggled laboriously back to Port Lavaca. No water, the conductor explained. The engineer hadn't thought to fill the boiler.

About noon they made a fresh start. Twelve miles this time, then another halt. The passengers sat and waited for another backing-up, but nothing happened. At last they noticed the engine rocking along in the distance without them.

A WAIT IN THE WILDERNESS

Water trouble again, the conductor said. The engineer was going on ahead to a water hole. If he had no luck there, he'd have to go all the way into Victoria.

This was too much, and after two hours the passengers, with terrifying threats, dispatched the conductor to "fetch that engine back, and quickly too." After all, it was mid-afternoon, and they'd had no lunch. And they had nothing to eat and little to drink; on top of that, it was blistering hot—so hot that they had to lay under the cars to keep even slightly cool. And thus the afternoon went by out in the wilderness. Still no engine appeared; and no conductor.

At last, Williams wrote, sometime after dusk "those who had energy enough left to keep a look-out saw the cause of all our woes come puffing and rocking along the wretched line." Afraid of another breakdown, the engineer hooked up only one car, and everyone crowded into it. Once more they started and this time managed to reach Victoria at 10 o'clock.

Williams' remark about an ox-cart is an obvious exaggeration, but a covered wagon could travel thirty miles a day—and might well have beaten his train into Victoria!

But go up against some heavy exercise—and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two thrift-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?

But Slim Craven Is Enjoying Army Life

"I didn't realize how much I did like that place until I had to leave it," writes Carl (Slim) Craven, now doing his bit in the U. S. Army under the Selective Service training act. Craven is stationed at Camp Bowie near Brownwood. Slim wrote to express his appreciation for The Stockman which goes to him each week. "I don't know anything I would have enjoyed more than I did the Ozona Stockman," he wrote.

Slim Craven was one of 150 men transferred from El Paso to Camp Bowie. The biggest men in the contingent of draftees were selected to form the transferred group. "When Major Frost came down the line and picked me out first, I think I drew up six inches. He wanted all big men in the outfit and, believe me, he got a bunch of them."

The Ozonan says he is going to school 8 hours a day and is not only enjoying it but finding it agrees with him. He has gained six pounds. Letters are most welcome, says Slim, and his address is Co. A-111-Med. 4, Camp Bowie, Texas.

Present plans call for a visit through the caverns on the 18th, after an overnight stay in Carlsbad, N. M. Part of the group will return home Friday night while others may stay over another night.

Miss Zelma Scott, teacher in the Junior High grades here, will spend the week-end at her home in Gatesville where her father is seriously ill.

An essay on the wool and mohair industry written by Billy Laxson won first place among high school girls and has been submitted to compete in a regional contest sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Miss Laxson won a fleece of wool on her essay in a local contest sponsored by Mrs. Victor Pierce, Crockett county chairman for the auxiliary contest.

Mrs. Pierce also awarded fleeces of wool to the winning girl and boy in a similar contest in the seventh grade, the winner among the boys of high school. The auxiliary contest was limited to 4H club boys and Future Homemaking girls clubs. There being no 4H organization of boys, the winning paper of the boys was not submitted in the regional contest.

In the seventh grade, Nan Tandy and Jimmy Read were the winners and Burl Sparks was the winner among high school boys.

THE ADVENTURES OF REDDY KILOWATT

Foiled by a Light Globe

Dear Friends:
I didn't know what to do, the day those toughies laid their plans to steal Mr. Brown's car. But the idea came to me..

I went to the tool box and got wires and insulators and a hammer and some screws. It doesn't take much to run a line to the garage..

Then I got one of the outdoor flood lamps and hooked it up. I smiled as I finished the job because..

That night those thugs were foiled!
I thought, "Why doesn't everyone depend on good light to protect their home and property?" It's the cheapest insurance you can buy.
Yours for better light—safer living.
REDDY KILOWATT.

PROTECTED at Play — How About Your Home?

WHAT'S THAT NOISE?

You awaken with a startled sense of some disturbance outside. Then is when you want the protection afforded by light... light that floods the premises... light that offers safety from prowlers.

Outdoor flood lighting gives the protection you want—and need. Lights on the porch gives protection against surprise and alarm when the door is opened and also protects against possible injury in stumbling on the steps. Light in hallways and closets prevents fumbling and bodily injuries.

Let our lighting advisers help with your lighting problems. Their service is FREE. Good light is CHEAP. So don't take chances with the safety of your family.

Jake Houston of San Angelo, musician and music dealer, will furnish a special musical program at the assembly hour at the local high school beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Houston is an accomplished violinist and will present a series of numbers, both classical and popular, as well as specialty numbers. The public is invited to the assembly programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Massie West and Joyce have returned from Dallas where they went to bring back Mrs. West's brother, Ele Bright Baggett, who has been under treatment for several weeks in a Dallas hospital for a gunshot injury of his knee.

TO THE FRESHMEN

By ArmentROUT

To the freshmen of O. H. S., and all others concerned, I wish to say that now is the time to start preparing for your graduation. Some will say, "Gosh!" we have three years, yet. Let's have some fun the first three years, and then we will get down to "brass tacks" during our Senior year.

Let me give you a little advice (I know I can try giving you advice once). When I was a freshman, I felt the same way as the above person feels about playing around in high school for the first three years. Well, I played around for the first three years, plus the first half of the fourth year. I could not keep from "playing around", I have got nowhere from playing around. But, when I started concentrating on my studies, I began really to have fun. I could then realize that I had been making a mistake.

I didn't exaggerate my statement a bit when I said that the freshmen of O. H. S. should start preparing for their graduation right now—not tomorrow, for tomorrow may be too late.

Such preparation will insure not only graduation but self-respect, a clear conscience, and a real foundation for the years to come.

National Defense Program

Since everyone is interested in helping in the national defense program, I should like to suggest that we, as high school students, do our bit. With the country's entire resources directed toward preparedness, and good nourishment universally recognized as a vital necessity in maintaining the strength of the nation, the value of the homemaking program in our high school can hardly be over-emphasized. There are many ways in which homemakers can make their homes, communities, and themselves increasingly sufficient.

Although defense means planes and guns, it means building the health, physical fitness, and social well-being of all our people, and doing it in a democratic way. Hungry people, undernourished people, ill people, do not make a strong defense. All government and non-government agencies will be marshalled to building this "behind the line" defense, that is, to improve the physical status and morale of the general population to a level which will support our armed forces.

Many of us may, due to the defense program, learn to make adjustments in the home. Some times the father or husband is doing the most toward making the living for the family might be taking into training. In this case, earning a living might be left almost upon the young boys and girls. We need to be prepared to make these adjustments.

There are many people who become hysterical at times like this. We should learn to control ourselves better. It doesn't help matters at all for us to go to pieces. We should keep up with the current events, but not in a pessimistic way. The world today needs more optimistic people.

I think that if we will remember these things in our lives now, our country will be stronger someday, because of our "behind the line defense."

First class murders are soon to begin. The victims will include some of the meanest boys in school such as L. W., B. D., L. N., J. H. S., B. L., B. C., and practically all the rest, so beware!

Margaret, what did you mean when you told Boochie to explain to some friends how he broke his arm. Was there any question?

Oh, yes, Sug, Joy, Boochie and Joy, just how could you be unseen spectators of the dance at the hotel? The fire escape wouldn't have anything to do with it, would it?

Tennis tournaments, tennis tournaments, and more tennis tournaments. Boy! the O. H. S. tennis fools (I mean fans) are really stepping out with their racquets lately.

First, there was a tennis play-off to determine the representing players of Ozona—who, in turn, played Sonora. Second, another tournament is scheduled to decide the tennis players—both boys and girls—to play at the San Angelo tourney. This tournament will start Tuesday and end, probably, Thursday.

New lines were painted on the tennis courts this week by the school janitors. Also, an addition of reinforced tennis nets on the courts has been noticed by the public.

The basketball boys of O. H. S. wish to thank Mr. C. S. Denham, Coach Dan Patterson, and all others who helped in the securing of the beautiful silver award jackets. We appreciate it ever so much.

Satin football pants were bought for the future "champs" — or "chumps" of Ozona this year. These pants are gold satin with a broad, purple stripe trimming each leg.

B. Lemmons has finally started swinging his trusty racquet again. With an absence from the courts of over a month because of a broken leg, Bob is expected to put up stiff competition to the best of em.

Echoes From The Library

If you are interested in newspaper work, read "Peggy Covers the News."

This is a lively, up-to-the-minute career novel by one of the foremost newspaper women in the country. As a member of the staff of the New York Herald Tribune Emma Bugbee has for many years covered the general news and special features.

Peggy was the best college correspondent the New York Star ever had, but when she asked for a permanent position as a staff reporter, the city editor told her there was no vacancy in this overcrowded profession.

She discovered a friend, however, in Kate Morrison, a veteran newspaper woman, who introduced her to other writers, including a dashing young aviator-reporter, Peter MacPherson. Through them Peggy learned much of the trials and joys of newspaper life, the hard work and the fun of doing it. She had her share of exciting adventure, climbing a skyscraper, covering an important political speech, and helping victims of a shipwreck.

Scouts Make Charts Showing Rank; Work Toward Merit Badges

On Tuesday night, March 17, the Boy Scouts held their regular scout meeting in the Manual Training room of the high school. The Boy Scouts filled out a chart showing the rank they are now in, the rank they are coming up for, and the number of merit badges they need to obtain that rank.

Leroy Barto brought a magneto or shocking machine to the Scout meeting. The Scouts formed a circle by catching each others hands, while one boy touched the wires connected to the magneto; this sent a shock throughout the circle. The machine caused much merriment. They then played nudere, which is a very exciting game.

Band Presents Assembly Program

The Ozona School Band, sponsored by Mr. Pingelton, presented the assembly program Thursday, March 20, in the high school auditorium.

The first number was "Blow the Bugle," by Yadler. Other numbers were an overture, entitled "King Author" by Thomas, and the march, "Hillsboro," by Richards.

A novelty number followed entitled "Rag Time Wedding." This was acted out by the following: Mary Elizabeth Gray, who read the story, Lottie Jo Owens, who played the bride, Bill Carson, the groom, Mervin McLaughlin, the father, and Jim Ad Harvick, the preacher.

Billy Hannah and Mervin McLaughlin played a cornet duet entitled "Nina Mia, a Spanish erenade." The band played the "Hill Billy Medley" with the addition of a few more hill billy songs and concluded their program with Bagley's march, "The National Emblem."

A panther which weighed 110 pounds and was seven feet, two inches long, went to its doom recently in Blanco County rather ingloriously. It was treed by a little rat terrier dog which weighed no more than fourteen pounds. Mr. Emil George of Twin Sisters killed the panther after it had been treed. The big cat was one of the largest ever killed in Blanco County.

excuses are sometimes needed! or are they?

There are more ways than just writing letters to tell someone something. I refuse to write, so Jamie, you'd better answer my letter!

When a person says he's never done anything in his life, that's a sure sign that he has. At least one certain person of whom I'm speaking.

No sooner does one get to Rankin than he hears, "Do you know Mustard? He was here last night." You fairly get around, pal.

Ethel, do you have an S. P.? Jim Ad, you're doing O. K., too. It's not the younger Miss Hayes, but the older Miss Hayes.

Sug, you crippled child. Don't tell me that Del Rio mountain climbing did that.

Maria, were you disappointed Saturday? Say, if it is C. M. you want, instead of L. W., you shouldn't be.

Adele, Faye and Norma were having quite a time Sunday. It seems as if Faye and Norma were billing Adele how to drive—much to her disgust.

2 of 4 Winners in Essay Contest Are Freshmen

The winners of the "Wool and Mohair" essay contest, held for the students of the High School and seventh grade of Ozona were recently announced. They were Billy Laxson and Burl Sparks from the high school, and Nan Tandy and Jimmy Reed from the Seventh grade. A wool fleece will be awarded by Mrs. Victor Pierce, sponsor of the contest to each winner. The purpose of the contest was to create an interest among the students of the Ozona schools in wool and mohair.

If you have been wondering why the Freshmen are going around with their chests stuck out lately, the reason is easy to decide. After all, it is quite an honor to have two members of their class defeat other students in high school in an essay contest. Good work, Freshmen, keep it up.

ATTENDS TEXAS UNIVERSITY

Jeff Fussell, ex-editor of the Lion's Roar, is a freshman at the University of Texas.

At the beginning of school Jeff took a test to see what he was best suited for. He rated highest in social science, law and author editor. As a result of this test he is taking a basic course for these fields, which consists of geology, history, English, math., Spanish, and phy. ed.

Mr. Fussell has joined the "Wesley Players," a dramatic club. This club puts on a program every two weeks. A recent program was a Christmas play, in which Jeff took a leading part. When in high school, Jeff went to district in the one act play.

As hobbies, Jeff is taking up stamp collecting and foreign correspondence. He has been doing this for about 10 years.

We think that if Jeff keeps up the start he had taken he will excel in any field. This start includes being on the Honor Roll at the University of Texas. We wish him the best of luck.

our appeal for draft postponement comes to light in a news dispatch from Los Angeles. A young American of Chinese extraction writes his draft board from South China for more time to remain with his ailing mother. In part he said, "Mostly she needs me for blood confusion... she wish I marry to have family. Now we married. Still she in danger condition... I beg you gentlemen with my knees down to give me limit time to go back to U. S. A. I pray God through day and night to help my dear mother. Suddenly she was lost a lot of weight look like only skull-ton tight by wires... I am so sorry to write to spend your gentlemen valuable time. I am sorry again. God bless you all." Vellee Goodee appeale!

For a long time I have firmly believed that men are better cooks than women. But, you can't get the female of the species to admit it. She usually counters with the argument that most men know how to broil steaks and chops, and fry eggs and bacon, but beyond that, pshaw. With the Stockman's cooking school in session, I decided to get an expert's opinion, so I cornered Mrs. Wilson at the close of her afternoon's demonstrations and broached the delicate subject in question. But, Mrs. Wilson remained true to her sex. However, she did say, that generally speaking, men made the better chefs for hotels, clubs and restaurants. Then, she quickly assumed a defensive role, and declared that the male would never condescend to take up the drudgery and burden of the housewife in preparing three square meals a day, seven days a week. Well, well, she may have something there, you know. Honey, these biscuits are delicious!

I chanced upon a group discussion the other day on the cost and value of advertising. One person attacked the huge advertising budget of certain nationally distributed products saying that consumer costs were increased unnecessarily by such tremendous expenditures. Looking through some facts and figures I keep in a file, I uncovered the following reference on this very subject made recently by an advertising agency executive: "One of the companies that is frequently referred to as an extravagant advertiser is the Coca Cola Company. The Coca Cola Company spends millions in advertising, but I wonder how many people know the average cost of advertising a bottle of Coca Cola is 1/54 of a cent. There are 2,880 drops of Coca Cola in a five-cent bottle. That means 576 drops for one penny, or 10 drops for 1/58 of a cent. In other words, the Coca Cola Company spends less for advertising the bottle of Coca Cola than the cost, represented to you as a retailer-consumer, is represented in 10 drops." ... I pause for refreshment!
