Grass Fires Continue Threat to Ranch Lands In Ozona Vicinity

Three more grass fires in the vicinity of Ozona during the week further emphasizes the necessity for extreme care in preventing outbreaks and for constant watchfulness on the part of ranchers to avoid serious losses.

A blaze along the highway right-of-way six miles east of Ozona on the Chas. E. Davidson, Jr., ranch was held in check by the fire guard plowed inside the pasture fence. The local fire department made a run to the scene with one of its tank trucks and knocked out the blaze in short order. The fire was presumed to have been started when a passing motorist pitched out a lighted match or a burning cigarette.

The fire department answered two calls to extinguish grass fires last Friday afternoon. The first was north of Mrs. Charles Williams home where camp equipment was destroyed and a grass and brush fire in the area started. The fire was brought under control by the department tank truck. An hour later the department made a run to the Joe Friend ranch where burning brush had started a grass fire. The blaze had been controlled before the truck arrived.

Last week a series of fires on the Early Baggett and Fred Hagelstein ranch adjoining Highway 163 south of Ozona were extinguished by use of ranch sprayer equipment. The fires started along the highway. Another blaze was extinguished on the W. E. Friend, Jr., ranch east of Ozona.

Green Lion Grid Squad Faces Stiff District Schedule

Coaches Plan Training Slate to Ready Team For Sept. 15 Opener

In an effort to minimize the disadvantage of a green as well as light squad, Coaches Jack Harris and Doug McDonald have mapped an intensive training program beginning tomorrow for the 24-man squad which will represent the Ozona High School in the 1950 football campaign.

Under Interscholastic League rules, Class B high school football practice can not start until September 1. The Lions are ticketed for their first game of the 1950 season on Lions Field here September 15 against the San Angelo Kittens, the high school B squad.

Coach Harris announced yesterday that twice daily workouts are planned for the squad beginning at 6 o'clock Friday morning, September 1, and including at least one night session, between now and school opening, and that daily afternoon practices and some sessions will be in store for the grid warriors after school opening.

A meeting of all football hopefuls has been called by the coaches for 4 o'clock this afternoon, Thursday, Aug. 31, at the high school for the purpose of acquainting prospects with the training schedule and getting equipment in readiness for the opening of training the following morning.

Six lettermen will form the nucleus for this year's Lions squad and a lot of football savvy has to be crammed into the balance of the squad in the brief training period available. Coach Harris said. Except for about four heavies, the squad is on the whole considerably lighter than that of last year. The squad average from last weights available to the

Ken Regan Is Re-Elected To Congress Seat

Midland Representative Defeats Paul Moss Of Odessa

Rep. Ken Regan of Midland won re-election to his 16th Congressional District post in Saturday's run-off primary. Congressman Regan, seeking his second elective term in Congress, decisively defeated Judge Paul Moss of Odessa, now serving as judge of the 70th district court at Odessa under appointment by the late Governor Beauford Jester.

Regan carried 16 of the 19 counties composing the vast 16th district. Only Crane, Ector and Jeff Davis counties favored Moss and the vote was extremely close in those counties. Moss' home county, Ector gave him 3,509 to Regan's 2,695. Regan's home county, Midland, on the other hand gave him a three-to-one margin over Moss, 2,161 to 720. In the July primary, Regan carried 15 counties out of the 19.

In El Paso county, where a bitter newspaper campaign against Regan emanated, the Midland representative defeated his opponent at the polls. With only a few votes yet to be counted, the last tally announced from that county gave Regan 8,995 votes to 8,056 for Moss.

Voters in Crockett county favored Regan two to one, 333 for Regan to 165 for Moss. Both Regan and Moss expressed thanks to their supporters through out the district. Rep. Regan planned to return to Washington this week.

The vote by counties, with only Brewster, Culberson, El Paso and Presidio lacking a few votes of being complete, was as follows:

	Moss	Regan

James Childress Noses Kinser For Commissioner Post

Vote 25 to 21 to Unseat Incumbent; All New Court in '51

Voters in Precinct 4 of Crockett county made it unanimous for a complete new Commissioners Court last Saturday when they elected James Childress as Commissioner from that precinct over the incumbent, E. R. Kinser, by a margin of four votes.

Out of a total of 46 votes cast in the precinct, Childress received 25 and Kinser 21. Childress received all of his 25 votes in the Howard Well box where 3 votes were cast for Kinser. At the Kinser ranch box, all 18 votes cast went for Kinser.

The run-off produced one more vote than was cast in the first primary in July, when Childress led with 20 votes to 18 for Kinser and 7 for Sid Millsbaugh. The Millsbaugh votes and the one extra voter divided five for Childress and three for Kinser.

The new Commissioners Court which takes office January 1, will be composed of Ira Carson from Precinct 1, Charlie Black from Precinct 2, B. B. Ingham, Jr., from Precinct 3 and James Childress from Precinct 4.

Carson defeated incumbent Commissioner Rob Miller for the No. 1 post and Ingham was unopposed for the Precinct 3 commissioner post, incumbent J. W. Owens declining to offer for re-election after many years of service in that position. Charlie Black, Jr., also unopposed in Precinct 2, is now serving as a member of the court under appointment to fill out the unexpired term of his late father, Chas. S. Black, and will begin his first elective term in January.

County Judge Houston Smith is the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court.

4-H Clubbers Start Year With 54 Lambs On Feed

Thirteen Others Feeding Lambs, Others to Be Added Later

Crockett County 4-H Club members have launched the season's new livestock feeding programs, according to announcement this week by Wm. A. Bergfeld, Jr., county agent in charge of 4-H Club work in the county.

Thirteen club members have placed a total of 54 lambs on feed during the past two weeks. Most of these lambs will be brought in to the local 4-H Club barns within the next week as well as other lambs which will be selected, Mr. Bergfeld said.

Club members already feeding lambs include the following: George Bunger, Jr., 5 Rambouillet lambs from the George Bunger ranch; Graham Childress, 2 Rambouillet lambs from the Hugh Childress, Jr., ranch; Irby Chandler and Charles Garlitz, 1 crossbred lamb each from the Edgar Glascock ranch; Bill Schneemann and Tom Robison, 4 crossbred lambs each from the Abe Carruthers ranch; Ronnie and Joe McMullan, 7 and 3 crossbred lambs respectively from the Ashby McMullan ranch; Gail Garlitz, 5 Rambouillet lambs from the Jack Henderson ranch; Tom Kincaid, 5 Rambouillet lambs from the T. A. Kincaid, Jr., ranch; Jodie Jones, 3 crossbred lambs from the H. P. McClanahan ranch; and Jimmie McMullan, 5 Rambouillet lambs from the Frank McMullan ranch and 4 crossbred lambs from the Ashby McMullan ranch.

Lambs for all of the 4-H Club members who plan to feed have not been selected but it is expected that most of the lambs will be on feed by the middle of September, Mr. Bergfeld said.

Jim Dudley Is Voters' Choice For County Treasurer

Beats 7 Other Candidates for Democratic Nomination

Jim Dudley will be certified by the Crockett County Democratic executive committee as the party nominee for the office of County Treasurer in the November general election as the result of a quasi-official election for the nomination held in connection with the regular Democratic run-off primary last Saturday.

Dudley led a field of eight candidates for the nomination with a total of 138 votes out of a total of 479 registered in the race.

The three women in the race, Mrs. Willie M. Adams, Mrs. Maggie Deland and Mrs. Coralie Meinecke, finished second, third, and fourth in the vote contest in that order. Mrs. Adams emerged with a total of 82 votes, Mrs. Deland 79 and Mrs. Meinecke, 58.

Other candidates were Lowell Littleton, 48; A. O. Fields, 30; J. T. Keeton, 25 and Sam Houston, 19.

The special election was ordered by the committee to select a nominee after the death of Tom Casbeer, long time county treasurer who was renominated without opposition in the July 22 primary. The law leaves the committee with the duty of certifying the nominee and the special vote plan was decided upon by the committee to guide it in selection of the nominee.

In the state run-off contests, Crockett county voters chose the winner in all but two of the offices. Voters in this county, who have consistently voted for J. E. McDonald, veteran Commissioner of Agriculture, did so again in Saturday's run-off over winning candidate John C. White of Wichita Falls. McDonald received 235 votes to 185 for White.

The other race in which local voters backed a loser was for the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1. Loser Fagan Dickson was favored in this county over winner Will Wilson by 235 to 181 votes.

Ben Ramsey, nominated over Pierce Brooks for lieutenant governor, received 308 votes in this county to 144 for Brooks. Meade F. Griffin, nominee for Place 3 on the Supreme Court, received 271 to 122 for Geo. W. Harwood, and W. A. Morrison of Milam county, who presided over the 112th district court here last Spring, received 273 votes to 143 for R. L. Lattimore of Dallas.

Congressman Ken Regan of Midland, who won a sweeping victory over Judge Paul Moss of Odessa for re-election to the 16th Congressional post, was a 2 to 1 favorite in this county, receiving 333 votes to 165 for Moss.

THE DALE is a story and a half house that has two bedrooms on each floor. The stairway is closed so the second floor can be finished later. An open stair can be substituted if the second floor is finished now. All rooms can be reached from the rear entry which has a lavatory and coat closet and leads to the basement.

Kitchen cabinets occupy one end of the combination kitchen-dinette, with sink on exterior wall and stove and refrigerator on the inside.

On the second floor a lavatory is located in the rear dormer and attic storage, as well as closet storage, is well provided. Exterior finish is of asphalt shingles and wide siding except for the front living room wall which is faced with stone. Other features include a covered entrance, plywood dormers and front gable, and wrought iron rail.

The dimensions of the Dale are 40 feet by 26 feet. Total area equals 1,042 square feet, while plans call for a cubage of 24,400 cubic feet.

AND WHY IS A RIGHT OR WRONG

It is more important to know what is right than to know what is wrong. An earnest and persistent effort to find and do all the right things is the surest way to success. A garden full of weeds is likely to go to weeds. Cobwebs in empty houses.

The first knowledge of right comes through our parents and early home life. Later we are aware of patterns of conduct approved by the community. We go to Sunday School and church somewhere, other standards appear. All these are good. They are only starters. An adult who tries to live solely on the training will quote his parents and cite their example. He will not make much of a man or set a good example himself. A lot of parents are trying to do their families on what is their religious inheritance, but adding anything of their own. The influence of one godly parent will last three generations; the weakest in the third generation; and it will be gone by the fourth. It is impossible to draw on the bank of character unless new deposits are made.

Every man must have his own way of living. The right from the wrong way must be broad enough to cover all circumstances, simple enough to be used by a child, modern enough to meet today's problems and yet it must be grounded in the best wisdom of the ages. It is invalidated by the accumulated influence of much living by man's will. Is there such a principle that does not injure the integrity of the self is likely to be right. Within each of us is a court and a judge. The judge is always in session and the court sees all the evidence. Oth-ers may not know what we are able to do, or have done, but the judge knows. And the court passes on every act, every desire, every thought. It is ruthless and unescapable. It too many out-comes against the consciences are set by the court, the person faces with himself. He becomes uncertain, apologetic, half-hearted. He wonders if others know he becomes furtive, evasive. The loss of confidence goes from the eyes, the spring is lost from the step. His personality undergoes a change for the worse. If he is a sensitive person, as most of us are, and if he persists in a way of life that injures his self esteem, the day will come when feelings of guilt will build up to pressure. Then, to ease the pressure, he will develop symptoms of illness, or a neurosis, or his subconscious self will actually try to make him fail while his conscious self strives apparently, to succeed. Thus do we get ourselves tied up in knots. And therefore did Jesus say to a young man who was brought to him on a stretcher, ill with "the palsy," "Son, thy sins are forgiven thee." Not until the young man received this forgiveness and release was he able to "pick up his bed and walk home."

A second part of the inner test which divides good from bad is anything that does not harm another person may be right. A church member who was regular in attendance, generous in support, and who was a close personal friend of his pastor, said "I like occasionally to drink a social glass of beer with my friends. I cannot see that it hurts me or anyone else." His pastor has to admit that it had not seemed to hurt this man, for he was a person of good reputation and character, an effective business man, a good citizen, a kind father and husband, a loyal and generous friend. But his pastor replied, "True, an occasional social glass of beer does not seem to be hurting you, and the chances are that you will never drink more than you do now. But, by this slight indulgence, you, and thousands of others like you, are giving considerable patronage, aid and comfort to the liquor business. When good people like you drink, the line between right and wrong is blurred a little for less fortunate people. It is confusing to your children. You help cast the mantle of respectability over one of the most damnable of all traffics. And because of that traffic, many a heart is broken. If a person intends to be a witness for Christ and His way of life, let him stand clear of all fuzzy situations." As Paul put it, "Avoid the very appearance of evil."

If a thing does not injure our personal integrity, and if it does not harm another of God's children, it may be right for us, unless it separates us from God. God used to walk in the garden in the cool of the evening and talk to the first man and woman. After they disobeyed Him, they hid themselves. When King David at the height of his glory indulged an unlawful desire and took a man's life needlessly, he pleaded with the Lord not to take the Holy Spirit from him. Anything that dims the prayer life, interrupts church attendance, makes God seem farther away, diminishes the sense of the reality of His presence, that thing whatever it is and whatever others may say or do about it, is wrong for the one so affected. The Holy Spirit of God, Who is really God living and working in the human heart, is the great Divider between right and wrong. The human spirit which has yielded obedience to the Spirit of God will instantly and constantly feel the difference between truth and falsehood, right and wrong, good and bad, life and death. And he who willeth to do God's will shall know the teaching, whether it be of man, or whether it be of God. Obedience is the organ of spiritual knowledge.

As a car is made to go down a road, and is not much good for anything else, so you and I were made for God and we do not work well any other way. As evidence, notice that conscience, the welfare of our brother men, and the Holy Spirit within our hearts all run on parallel tracks into the same station. When the individual conscience goes a little awry, it is corrected by the needs of God's other children, and by the promptings of the Holy Spirit. Each one is tested by the other two, and yet all speak the same word of witness. Anyone can know the difference between right and wrong — provided he really wants to.

Official Hoarding

The extent to which surplus inventories of stock are built up by some federal agencies was recently pointed out to the House Appropriations Committee by Jess Larson, General Services Administrator. He said one agency had a supply of tracing cloth which would last them 9 years, enough fluorescent light tubes to last 93 years, sufficient ruled filler paper to last 168 years and a stock of loose leaf binders which would last them 247 years.
