Funeral Services Held Here Sunday For Leona Brooks

Daughter of T. A. Kincaid Died Following Operation

Funeral services were held here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Leona Estelle Brooks, 49, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kincaid of Ozona, who died in a San Angelo hospital at 8:20 o'clock Saturday night.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist church, from the Kincaid residence here, burial following in Cedar Hill cemetery. Pallbearers were Lee Childress, S. M. Harvick, Victor Pierce, W. E. Friend, Jr., and Marbury Morrison, all brothers-in-law, and Phillip Lee Childress, Martin Harvick, James Childress and Miles Pierce, nephews.

Mrs. Brooks had been a resident of Houston for several years. She went to San Angelo about a month ago to be with her mother, who has been under the care of physicians in San Angelo for several months. She underwent an operation last Monday and pneumonia developed two days later, resulting in her death.

Mrs. Brooks was born August 4, 1890, in San Angelo, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid. The family resided at Serwood a few years before moving to Ozona to make their home. Here Mrs. Brooks was graduated from high school and later attended business college in Austin. She was married to Ward Brooks Dec. 15, 1909.

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

By FRED GIPSON

CORPUS CHRISTI—There is a very peculiar relationship existing between dogs and their owners. For this reason, it is essential that a man get along with dogs, if he wants the dog owners to like him. For this reason, I present the following rules of dog etiquette:

When you visit the home of a dog owner and the dog gives you an enthusiastic welcome by climbing up your shirt front with muddy feet and clawing off shirt buttons by the handfuls in the process, smile sweetly, if bitterly, and assure the owner that the dog is doing no harm.

Should the dog decide that you're the scourge of the earth and a wolf in sheep's clothing and a menace to the wife and children of the family and start growling and gnawing your ankles, take it, stoically. Accept the owner's explanation that the dear little pup was just playing and let go as soon as he realized he was hurting you.

Show no hesitancy in occupying a chair previously occupied by the dog. In a couple of hours time, you can pick the hairs off your clothes when you get back home and for six-bits or a dollar a cleaner can take out the smell.

If at mealtime, the dog curls up under the table right where your feet normally belong, shove your feet back under the table, hold them in mid-air, or stick them into your pockets.

Remember, a dog is man's best friend and deserves every consideration.

When the dog owner catches you scratching your ankles, assure him that it's not fleas. Tell him about wading through damp grass where you're certain to have picked up chiggers.

If at the table the dog starts demonstrating how cunning he is by begging at your chair, slip him a dainty titbit that you'd picked out for yourself. Don't force him to have to snatch it from you.

Let the dog lick your fingers all he likes. Of course, it's unhygienic. (Continued on Page Four)

Hitler 'Honored' by British Tommies

As visual proof that England's humor isn't dead, these members of the London balloon barrage, trying to select a suitable name for their canteen, decided that "Berchtesgaden" would be just the thing. Berchtesgaden, Germany, is the Bavarian retreat of Adolf Hitler.

Junction Takes Decision Over Lions On Downs

7-7 Tie Score, Penetrations Even; Rankin Here Saturday

Ozona Lions encountered the Junction Eagles in Junction last Saturday came away with a 7-7 tie in the tallies but Junction was awarded the decision on first downs. Junction was a bit stronger and more determined than the Lions had anticipated. A little fellow by the name of Bissett upset the well laid plans of the Crockett corps and in the fourth quarter, ran off tackle, reversed his field and ran for the only marker of the game for the Eagles.

The Lions played some fine football but fumbling and penalties kept them in hot water all afternoon. In the fading moments of the game Lemmons flipped three passes for 60 yards and the tying score.

Next Saturday, the powerful Rankin Red Devils are coming here with a well-balanced team that fought McCamey on even terms last Friday night. They are inclining toward the "razzle-dazzle," have the boys to do it with. Last week they ran six different formations and about 20 plays with a reverse or a pass coming up nearly every down. They have a fine plunging back who keeps the defense pulled in tight.

But if the Lions can solve the Devils' deceptive tricks they will probably be able to battle them on even terms. H. Lemmons has a leg injury that may handicap him greatly in his efforts to defeat this off-spring of the Fort Davis coaching school. The Devils will be sure to demonstrate every touchdown play that was revealed last summer by the famous John "Ox" Da Grosio.

Meet World's "Biggest Sheep Man"— Ted Atkins, Official Weigher At World's Largest Livestock Shipping Center, Has Handled More Sheep Than Any Man

If you were looking for the person with the largest acquaintance among ranchmen in this part of West Texas and the one who has seen more livestock change hands than any other one man, you would hardly pass up Ted Atkins, official weigher for the Barnhart Scales company in Barnhart, Texas.

Ted, a West Texas cow-puncher and bronc-peeler until 12 years ago, took the position as overseer of the O. B. Trap company and official weigher at Barnhart, largest shipping point for livestock in the world.

He has weighed and loaded as many as 400,000 sheep and cattle in one year; and 22,000 is the largest number he has weighed out in one day. The bulk of this livestock shipping is done between August 15 and October 30, as most of the livestock, especially lambs and calves, are ready for market during that time.

Ted keeps a bunch of trained loading goats, the oldest one being 12 years old, which are trained to go up the chutes in front of the sheep and lead them into the cars. The goat goes to the back side of the car and when it is full, Ted has only to call "Bill" and the goat climbs over the sheep, out of the car, and is ready

Japan's New Premier

Nobuyuki Abe, Japan's new premier, succeeded Kiichiro Hiranuma to that post when the Japanese cabinet resigned in a body following announcement of the German-Russian pact. ## Ozona Juniors Trample Sonora By 19 to 0 Count

Gene Hollon's Crew Shows Stuff In Sutton Invasion

Ozona's junior high football team journeyed to Sonora Wednesday afternoon and defeated the Sonora juniors 19 to 0.

The locals took over soon after the kickoff and without losing the ball marched down for the first touchdown early in the first quarter. G. W. McDonough, following perfect interference, circled right for 35-yards and the tally. Tom Ed Montgomery passed to Byrd Phillips for the point. The Ozonans held the 7-0 lead to the half.

The locals were still strong after the half, opening up for the second and third touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters. Sonora was unable to make a first down and all Ozona players got to see action. The Junior high pep squad stole the show and deserved as much credit for the victory as the players themselves.

Ozona's juniors will play the Iran juniors Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock on Powell field here. The lineup in Wednesday's game consisted of Jimmie Read and Byrd Phillips, ends; Earl Tillery and Dick McDonald, tackles; Billy Sparkman and Jack Manning, guards; Chappo Morrison, center; James Chapman and J. H. Stevens, halfbacks; Tom Ed Montgomery, quarter, and G. W. McDonough, fullback.

Trucks Displace Rails In Movement Of Texas Livestock

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—Ranchers of Texas sharply curtailed shipments of livestock to Fort Worth markets and to interstate points during August, University of Texas statisticians have disclosed.

Only a minute portion of the livestock movement to Fort Worth now goes by rail, Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas bureau of business research, explained. Trucks have been displacing rails until the latter traffic has almost ceased within the state, he said.

Movement of all classes of livestock totaled 5,096 cars during August, down 22.5 per cent from the August, 1938, shipments.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Miller and Miss Totsy Robison are to return Saturday from a visit to the Golden Gate Exposition in California. They are also touring the northwestern states before returning home.

Bank's Deposits Climb Well Over Million Dollars

Sound Financial Condition Reflected In Statement

Rising markets for livestock and products of the ranching industry has resulted in continued strengthening of the financial structure of this community as reflected in the statement of condition of the Ozona National bank made this week in response to a call from the Comptroller of Currency at the close of business October 2.

A gain of $179,095.49 in total deposits in the bank was made in the three-months period since the last statement, to put deposits well over a million dollars. Deposits as shown in this week's statement total $1,180,130.03, up from $1,001,035.54 on June 30.

Likewise a substantial gain has been made in the past three months in the bank's cash item, cash on hand and due from banks. This figure has climbed in the three months from $460,599.21 in June to $724,133 on Oct. 2. Also, despite payment of dividends totaling $10,000 in July, the bank's undivided profits item is up an approximate $2,000 from the June statement, now totalling $56,237.50.

A recent survey of loan activities of the local bank in the first six months of 1939 produced some surprising figures on the amount of loans handled in the period. The survey was made in response to a request from the American Bankers' Association which assembled the data from banks over the nation in an effort to get the facts to refute charges that banks were refusing to make sound loans. In the first six months of 1939, the survey showed, the Ozona National Bank made 743 new loans, totalling $404,210.98. In the same period, 269 renewals of existing loans were made, involving a total of $547,504.17.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1939

He Is an American

He is an American. He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector. His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budgets, but not by decree. He comes home from an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue. He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth. He has never had a gas mask on. He has never been in a bomb-proof shelter. His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory. He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes. He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be the choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the county is wrong and should be scrapped. He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution. He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear. He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped. He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police. He has not registered with the police. He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident. He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a State line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war. He worships GOD in the fashion of his choice, without let. His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the state with sacrifice of limb or life. He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death. He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges. He is a fortunate man. He is an American.

Times Have Changed

When Vice President Garner slammed down the gavel and called the Senate to order at the beginning of this session he might have done well to have told the members of that body that what this country needs most is statesmanship. What an improvement such a statement would have been over the casual remark of Woodrow Wilson's vice president who uttered the memorable words, "What this county needs most is a good 5-cent cigar." Rickshaw men of Kobe, Japan, have been boosting rates, and the city officials have decreed that they must stick to the original schedule or face a fine.

Tightening the Strings

Neutrality is always hard to arrange because it lays upon nations the responsibilities to frame new lines of international relations that will make it possible to stay out of other nations' wars. Hence, the Pan-American conference at Panama will proceed to strengthen the programs and tighten the strings that hold the American republics together in a solidarity of purposes. Despite official declarations to "take no part" it is admitted that nearly all these republics are antagonistic to the Nazis. Generally speaking, the Latin-American nations want the sea lanes kept open for trade with all the combatants. Tightening Western Hemisphere solidarity will be attempted for the second time in less than a year. There will be a test of the honored old theory that nations will serve their own interests by sitting together around the peace table before, instead of after the war is over. Already the war is affecting drastic changes in economic relations.

The first Latin-American mishaps include unrighteous Mexico which has been badly stung in its barter trades and international flirtations with Germany. Mexico appears to be getting what was coming to her when she went into the disgraceful game of confiscating foreign-owned properties. Now Mexico is seeking to shift the sales of seized oils to the democratic nations at war—"which deserve our sympathy," they explain. One momentous change is found in the reports a week after the war began that there has been a 50 per cent increase in orders from Latin-America to the United States. This business had been routed to Europe. The switch of commerce is general, and even Argentina is now buying heavily in the United States.

One of the WPA men spoke: "I dug this hole where I was told to dig it, and began to put the dirt back like I was told to. But all the dirt won't go back in. What'll I do?"

Millions of Potential Punctures Removed by Highway Nail Pickers

AUSTIN.—For the past ten years the highway department has operated two magnetic nail picking machines. A magnetized bar charged by an auxiliary motor is suspended from the rear of a truck a few inches above the ground, and the bar is approximately the same width as the truck. As the truck moves slowly over unpaved surface or shoulders, nails, pieces of steel and other metal are pulled from the dirt or gravel by the magnetized bar. When the bar is covered, the truck operator drives to one side, spreads a canvas under the bar, and by cutting off the current, drops the accumulation of metal on the canvas. This metal is then placed in the truck, to be weighed later and finally disposed of where it can do no damage.

During the 12 months ending Aug. 21, 1939, the magnetic nail pickers worked 6,891 miles of state highways, and picked up a total of 82,355 pounds of metal, making an average of about 12 pounds of metal per mile. The cost of operating the machines was about $1.25 per mile of highway worked, and an average of 30 miles of highway was worked each day, and approximately 349 pounds of metal picked up daily. The nail pickers operated over a total of 17,060 miles of highways, showing that it requires an average of three trips over the highway to work the travel surface properly. On unpaved highways it usually requires four trips to cover the travel surface, whereas on paved highways only two trips are required, one on each of the shoulders. There are on the state system over 5,000 miles of unpaved highways and 5,780 miles of paved highways which must be worked. It is interesting to note that the 82,355 pounds of metal picked up would be the equivalent of 25,024,180 "four penny" nails. Since even a tack is sufficient to puncture a tire, it can be readily seen just how many punctures must have been prevented by the operation of the nail pickers.

Dr. Webb Declares Democracy Has Its Back To the Wall

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—With frontiers all but vanished, democracy stands with its back to the wall, Dr. Walter P. Webb, University of Texas historian and author, believes. "For five hundred years here in America democracy has been a desirable form of government for expanding our frontiers," Dr. Webb said. "Now that we have permanent boundaries, democracy must either adapt itself to changing conditions or be discarded. The European dictatorships are a means of handling nations with no new lands to exploit. It one or two unknown continents could be discovered, the war in Europe would stop instantly." Say: "I saw it in the Stockman"

DISCOUNT YOUR TAX BILL! Under an act passed by the last legislature, discounts from 1 to 3 per cent on property taxes for the current year were authorized. These discounts are to be earned by prompt payment of taxes. The Crockett County Commissioners Court has joined the state in offering this saving for prompt payment of taxes and has authorized the tax collector to grant discounts on county and school taxes in the same amount as that given by the state. Greatest saving on 1939 tax bill can be effected by payment during the month of October. Thereafter the discount rate scales down through December, payments on and after January 1, 1940, earning no discount. The discounts offered on total taxes, except poll taxes, are as follows: 3% DISCOUNT... On Taxes Paid During Month of October. 2% DISCOUNT... On Taxes Paid During Month of November. 1% DISCOUNT... On Taxes Paid During Month of December. Where taxes are paid in two installments, NO DISCOUNT is allowed on first half payments, but IS given on second half payments in the same order, 3 per cent if paid 90 days before due date, 2 per cent 60 days before due and 1 per cent 30 days before due. This provision of the new tax law is called to your attention in order that you might take advantage of the saving offered. W. S. Willis Sheriff, Assessor and Collector of Taxes of Crockett County

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—BUSINESS—Even the most optimistic forecasts for business appear to have been surpassed in September. The Federal Reserve board's index of industrial production for the month, it is understood, was the highest for any September since 1929, which will be recalled as the final month of the Coolidge prosperity era. Moreover, according to keen observers of the business trend, the outlook is very promising for this index to average 120 in the final three months of the year, as many key industries are known to be booked to capacity for the remainder of 1939. The index at this level would bring America to the point where production had passed every fourth quarter since 1928.

WASHINGTON.—While the senate is struggling in the special session of Congress to iron out differences on neutrality legislation, house members are coasting along, waiting for something to do. The House meets every three days and then immediately recesses. Briefly, the revised neutrality bill, if passed, probably will look something like this: No American ship could carry any passenger or material of any kind to a nation at war, with exceptions made for Canada and certain Lat-

As Germany Recoups World War Losses

Maps show how Germany's expansion the past five years has created a nation far larger than the kaiser's pre-war empire. Principal World War losses were Alsace Lorraine, to France; the Polish corridor, Posen and Upper Silesia to Poland; Danzig, which became a free city, and the Rhineland, demilitarized. All but Alsace Lorraine have now been recaptured, although Polish seizures are not recognized and therefore not shown on the 1939 map. Germany has also seized Austria and most of the former Czechoslovakia. Germany is still below her pre-war size, however, because all foreign colonies were confiscated at Versailles.

in-American colonies of warring nations. When the president finds that safety demands it, he may bar Americans and American ships from "combat areas" stipulated by him, regardless of whether shipments are headed for neutrals or belligerents. No article of any kind could be sold to a belligerent except for cash so that all "right, title and interest" to goods shall have been transferred to someone other than an American, thus relieving Uncle Sam of all responsibility.

"Well, then," scowled Saint Peter, "I'll have to sue you for breaking our agreement."

TATTLING

By C. MAYE DUNLAP

Postage stamp business has picked up considerably in the last two weeks since all the college crowd have gotten located and have finally found time to drop mother and dad a letter.

Phillip Schneemann wrote home a little earlier than the others (the second day after he got there), telling his parents that he wasn't a bit home sick—yet.

Till Montgomery was nominated for the president of the freshman class in T. C. U.

Lurrine Townsend is singing in the choir again this year at TSCW.

We've all had a secret desire to eat raw Irish potatoes at some time during our life, and a few of the bolder have even dared to swipe them from the pantry when they could catch mother away. But the very height of raw Irish potato eating was reached last Thursday when a bunch at the high school building decided that a lunch was in order. Max Schneemann furnished the victuals (a prize winning Idaho spud), and even borrowed the knife from Mr. Caruthers to peel it. The champion potato eater of the morning was C. S. Denham, superintendent of the Ozona Public schools, with Miss Mildred North, head of the commercial department, running a close second—very close, in fact.

A good time was being had by all until Supt. Denham discovered that the art teacher's main sketching subject (a big Idaho potato), for the day was missing. No one knows yet just where it went.

Seen at the football game in San Angelo Friday night were Mr.

Riding around together Sunday night were J. K. Colquitt and Betty Lou Coates, Howard Lemmons and Jean Drake.

Due For a Shock
He was at the fountain pen counter making a purchase. "You see," he said, "I'm buying this for my wife."
"A surprise, eh?"
"I'll say so. She's expecting a sedan."

A lobster 28 inches long, weighing nine pounds, and believed to be 44 years old, was caught recently near Amsterdam, Netherlands.

"I can't often leave Tommy to go to market or go shopping—so I go to the stores by telephone. His schedule doesn't allow me much time for visiting—so I keep up with my friends by telephone. And if we should need the doctor in a hurry—or have to meet other emergencies—I know we can depend on the telephone to bring the help we need."

It certainly pays to have a telephone: telephone errands take less time, telephone visits are pleasant, the people and things you need are always closer.

SUCCESS Story!

Of course you remember when we introduced Thriftane—our leaded gasoline in the lower price range—early this year. Well, there's been time enough now for us to see how people take to it, and we're delighted to tell you that it's very, very popular indeed: our sales of Thriftane have gone steadily up. . . . This proves to us that there was a definite need for Thriftane, and that we rendered a real service to buyers of lower priced gasoline when we put Thriftane on the market. We made it possible for them, first, to secure leaded quality at a price within their reach; second, to buy a gasoline at thrifty price made to specified quality characteristics backed by our guarantee; third, to charge Thriftane on Humble credit cards; fourth, to get the last word in service—Humble service—with every purchase. . . . Now, it may be that you're a possible Thriftane user but not a Humble customer—we meet one occasionally! If you are, you'll find it much to your advantage to try Thriftane—to stop at the nearest Humble sign and fill up with this leaded gasoline in the lower price range. Why not today?

In every 1940 Buick you get the skilled engineering and sturdy quality traditional to Buick—enriched by all the extra value which General Motors science and Buick workmanship can provide

No, you couldn't do what we wanted to do, and do it cheap. You couldn't set out to top the field, focusing on how much you could put in rather than take out—and with accustomed equipment keep costs down.

You couldn't micro-balance engines, heavy-up frames and running gear, strengthen bodies, enrich upholstery and fittings, improve performance, better the value per inch, per pound and per dollar—and do it with last year's methods.

So we faced it, re-tooled and renewed our vast modern plant all over again—put eight million new dollars on the line; the Buick line for 1940.

What did we get for it? Rather ask, what do you get? Listen.

You get a big beautiful brawny car styled to knock your eye out—the fashion pattern for them all next year, just look around and see.

You get a car that positively glitters in its brilliance of action, modern as television in the wondrous way it does things.

•AROUND
•the WATERINGS . .

By C. MAYE DUNLAP

Crockett county ranchmen have been very busy lately with the fall shearing not yet completed, lambs and calves to be delivered, and other phases of ranch work demanding urgent attention. Around 70,000 lambs have been shipped from Barnhart in the last ten days with Finley and Kitchens, Jess Elrod and Jim Phillips being the principal buyers. The bulk of these lambs have sold from 7 to 7½ cents with an average weight of 66 pounds. Among the heavier lambs weighed was a bunch of 789 head, sold by Jack Henderson to Finley and Kitchens with an average weight of 76 pounds.

A good many calves have been contracted and will be delivered in a few days at prices of 8½c a pound for heifer calves and 9½c to 10c for the steer calves.

The fall wool market is rather quiet, awaiting the outcome of the neutrality act now before congress. However, there is a good demand for 12-months' wool, most of this selling at 40c per pound.

"When in doubt, wait for developments" is the slogan of one Crockett county ranchman after a hunting experience recently. Paul Hallcomb, ranching south of Ozona, climbed on his horse and took his cat dogs out for a little exercise the other day. He had only ridden a short distance when the dogs spied a squirrel (so Mr. Hallcomb thought), under a rock and having a helpful nature, Mr. Hallcomb decided to assist them. He dismounted and lifted the rock so the dogs could have more room for the battle, and the only mistake he made (so Mr. Hallcomb said), was in not taking a second look before entering the fight. Anyway, while he was holding the rock up he realized his mistake when a familiar order permeated the atmosphere. Mr. Hallcomb, being loyal to his dogs would not drop the rock on them and run so he stood pat. So did his wife when she handed his clothes out the door and told him to use the water trough for a bath tub.

Jeff Owens recently sold 75 calves to Tom Roberts at an unannounced price. He will deliver them Friday and Saturday.

The first case of sleeping sickness in horses was reported here this week when Vic Montgomery had a horse to die from the disease. He has vaccinated other horses on his place and no other cases have been reported.

George Bean has sold 876 lambs that averaged 71 pounds to Finley and Kitchens. They also bought 629 lambs averaging 64 7/10 from Vic Montgomery.

There have been 9,759 lambs shipped out of Crockett county through the Barnhart stock pens, bought by Jess Elrod so far this season. Some of these were Tom Owens, who is shipping in bunches of 1200 to 1300. His last shipment consisted of 1385 lambs that averaged 71 pounds.

Joe Clayton sold 543 mutton lambs that averaged 64 6/10 and term. Dissents shown for Justice Douglas and Frankfurter cannot be compared with the record of other justices, since they served during only a small portion of the term.

625 ewe lambs that averaged 60 7/10 pounds, and Roger Dudley sold 525 lambs averaging 67.2 pounds.

Albert Kay was in Ozona Tuesday from his ranch in Fort Stockton. Mr. Kay has just completed shearing.

Batts Friend recently sold his mohair in San Angelo at the Wool Growers' Central Storage Co., receiving 80 cents for his grown hair and 80 cents for his kid hair, the peak price so far reported for grown hair.

Max Schneemann delivered 1641 mutton lambs to Barnhart last week that averaged 74 pounds. These lambs were sold to Jess Elrod.

L. D. Brooks sold 1366 lambs to Conley and Humphrey that weighed an average of 73 pounds.

glenic, but there are some germs that are not fatal. You've got to trust to luck in some things.

When your pet story is interrupted by a violent hammering of the floor by the dog's hind leg, as he howls and whines and whimpers, trying to dislocate a persistent flea clinging to his ear, it won't hurt you to shout for a little while. Or you could go scratch the flea yourself.

And don't be startled, on the second trial at telling your story, if the dog suddenly leaps to the front door, barking at the top of his voice and clawing at the screen to get out. He may be trying to stop a thief from taking the tires off your automobile.

Or, if you happen to get up out of your chair and tangle your feet in the dog and grab at the mantle piece for support and jerk two expensive Chinese vases off on the hearth, overturn a floor lamp, break a table and two chairs on your way down and land flat on your face in the wreckage, make every effort to get to your feet again and apologize for being so clumsy. Tell the dog owners you developed the habit of falling as a child and never managed to outgrow it. Pay generously for the wrecked furniture and offer to take the dog to a hospital for examination. He may be injured.

Or—Lose your temper and kick the dog out of the house, where he belongs, ask the owner why in the hell he keeps such a pest around, go off, and be pointed out as a brute and a heel the rest of your natural born days.

By MILES PIERCE

Sometimes, when we think we've reached what seems to be the thing we're after, when we've spent countless hours striving to get ahead, when we have worked until our heads are bursting with aches and pains, we are only too sad to learn that there is more to be done! Yes, more work to be done—a never-ending stream of it must be completed. We can't stop! We can't take time out! We must go ahead!

Well, maybe by this time we have just about everything we imagine we need. But in our concentration and our business, we have overlooked our friends; we have neglected them. They become unfriendly toward us. In fact, we ourselves, from the strain of work, have become grouchy.

I wonder, then, if we have what we really want, what we really were striving for. Are our friends still friendly? No! Are we really happy? No! Have we the thing we started out to get? Yes! But the question that is the most important is—Is what we set out to get more important than our happiness? No!

Our happiness means more to us than all the privileges that hard labor can bring. For if we are not happy, our work soon becomes drudgery. Each hour turns into years; each year into centuries.

The world is full of things from which to choose. Let's do the things that make us happy, because we can live only once.

- H. E. LUNCHEONS
- MAKE-UP OF LION'S ROAR

"First you must summarize the vital facts in your story, the facts that belong in the headline; then you must weave these facts into the most telling combination of words that you can think of." The above quotation gives a significant bit of information from a report given by Billie Jo West on the subject "Headlines" in the English IV class on journalism.

Eloise Carson, in a report on "How to Get an Interview," stated that interviews are divided into three types, fact, opinion and feature.

Friday, the detention hall resembled a regular classroom, since there were over 20 pupils detained. Most of the pupils were there because of poor or no lesson preparation. Not ignorance, but laziness is the chief cause of so many pupils being detained after school. There would be no reason to give detentions if the time that is spent in the detention hall had been used before the class in preparing the lesson.

The Home Economic girls, judging from the various odors of things cooking last Wednesday, must eat in style. All the girls were talking about lemon chiffon pie and other delectables. Sounds good, doesn't it? The class has two luncheons every other week, hence, these preparations.

Does it not betray itself by its odor? Sometimes we can't distinguish the difference in the odor of lemon and pineapple pie, but the odor of the lowly onion is always distinguishable. Friday, the breezes were heavily laden with the perfume of said vegetable. Ask anybody who entered OHS from 8 to 12 a. m., Sept. 19.

Have you noticed the improvement in the appearance of The Lion's Roar? This is a result of the school's appropriating money to finance the making of cuts and the staff's striving to print two pictures in each edition. Mr. Caruthers and Miss North are taking pictures at football games and other activities to be used to make

Eagles Nose Lions Out By First Downs

Two Touchdowns Are Scored In Fourth Quarter

Last Saturday afternoon at Junction the Ozona High school Lions lost their first conference game to the Junction Eagles. Although the score was tied 7-7, and the number of penetrations were equal, the Eagles held a 7-1 advantage in first downs. This advantage gave them the game.

For three whole quarters the Lions and Eagles battled each other with neither getting within threatening distance. Both teams were backed up to their own goal once or twice, but on all occasions the team with its back to the wall kicked out of danger.

Midway in the fourth quarter the Eagles started a drive from mid-field and drove to the 30-yard stripe. From that point a little back named Bissett ran the remaining distance for the Eagle tally. He then made the extra point on the same scoring play.

At that point of the game there were only about three minutes left to play. The Lions, receiving the kickoff, scored in three plays on passes from H. Lemmons to Smith, Williams and Hokit. The latter ran about 25 yards for the touchdown, sidestepping two men on the way. He was ably assisted on this touchdown jaunt by a timely block by Williams. H. Lemmons conversion barely went inside the goal post. The Lions would have been in scoring positions more than once before this had it not been for penalties and fumbles.

In the Ozona line Coates, Thurman and Keeton stood out for the Lions on the defense.

This weekend at Powell Field the Lions engage a non-conference foe, Ronkin, who was nosed out by McCamey, a favorite in their district, last Friday night. Rankin has the strongest team in the history of their school. The Lions are hoping to battle them on even terms. Scant reports show Rankin with good material and a bag full of spinners, reverses, passes, and other razzle-dazzle stuff. The spectators will really have a treat this week.

H. E. Club Gives First Luncheons

As a part of the course of study in Home Economics III, which deals with nutrition and dietetics luncheons were served in the H. E. department on Sept. 21 and 29. The class has been divided into two separate parts, each part representing a medium sized family. The purpose of this division was that one-half of the class could have a luncheon at a time, as a regular family. Luncheons were served instead of breakfasts or suppers because they proved to be the most convenient.

At the first luncheon, held Sept. 21, were served vegetable stew, pickled peaches, bran flake muffins, milk, and lemon chiffon pie. Those who attended were Jean Drake, George Ann Kirby, Ula Mae Stevens, Naomi Collard and Peggy Dobbs.

Meat loaf and gravy, stuffed celery, fruit salad, creamed onions, whole-wheat muffins, milk, and caramel pie were served at the second, held on Sept. 29. Those attending were Dorothy Hannah Tommye Kirby, Eloise Carson, Johnnie Boyd, Gladys Jean Wills and Noma V. Miller.

In the future, the H. E. girls plan to invite guests.

BAND PRESENTS ASSEMBLY

Thursday the Ozona High school band presented a program for the first time this year. The band, directed by Mr. Norman Heath, played "At Sight," a march by Bennett, and "Pilgrim Chorus" from "Taunhauser" by Wagner. After playing "Honor Band" by Weber, they played a medley of pep songs. After "Straussiana," a selection of Strauss waltzes, arranged by Stradess-Seredy was played, the drum corp, consisting of eight girls, played the roll-off for the school song. The audience stood and sang it.

The staff would like to have any good pictures of school activities that anyone may have.

Escapes Eating Paper

MISS BESS TERRY

While arranging the staff, the editor noticed the absence of the sponsor's name. He was quite sure that her name had appeared with the staff previously. She, Miss Terry, was so sure that her name had never appeared in the Lion's Roar staff that she promised to devour every paper containing it.

Seeing that this would be a real story, the editor brought forth the dusty papers of the Lion's Roar (papers that had accumulated for two years), and examined each issue. But he alone could find not even a trace of her name. He called in his assistants and a case of Dr. Pepper (because if Dr. Pepper makes any pause—it's the pause that refreshes). The staff, who by that time had lost all patience, gave up!

Maybe her name had not appeared in the paper! It could have —It might have, who knows?

And with that, believing that is enough, we mark "30" and remind you always to say, "Read it in the Lion's Roar."

Yours truly,
WEST & PIERCE.

ATTENDANCE RECORD

The Seniors of the class of '39 have set a precedent for the under-classes this first month of the '39 and '40 term with a minimum of tardies, having two tardies out of a possible 880. In regularity of attendance the Seniors still set the example with 3 1/2 days' absence out of a possible 440.

The Juniors took the opposite course, having three tardies out of a possible 920 and 23 absences out of a possible 460.

The Sophomore class followed the Seniors example by having one tardy out of a possible 920. Their absentee record was more like the Juniors, for their score was 12 days absent out of a possible 460.

The Freshmen don't know whose example to follow, so they three tardies out of a possible become neutral. There were 1160. Their 21 1/2 days out of a possible 920 absences was caused by one of the members of the class being sick for 15 school days.

Fans Enjoy Picnic On Llano River

September 30, everybody that attended the game enjoyed a picnic about eleven miles from Junction. With Mrs. Charles Williams in charge, a very nice supper was served.

The chief fare was hot dogs, which proved to be quite popular. After supper was over, some boys decided to entertain themselves by seeing some dancing, so they kindly asked the girls to dance for them. If the girls refused, naturally they would have to be forced. The best forcing law that could be thought of was to throw rocks at their feet, and that seemed to be a good plan, because it worked a hundred per cent. After several rocks, large ones too, were on the road, Mr. Denham had to put a stop to it. But with all that, everybody had a nice time.

NIGHT RAIDER THROWS FOWLS INTO FRENZY

Mammoth Coon Breaks Chain and Causes Havoc Among Chickens on Johnson Draw

Squawk! Squawk! "Raiders! Raiders!" screamed excited chickens that were raided by a mammoth coon on the night of Sept. 6.

The coon, a native of West Texas, broke loose from his chain that was holding him captive and decided he wanted some fresh chicken meat. Well, you can imagine why the chickens were squawking when they noticed a large hairy shape lumbering into the "apartment house" close to the Johnson Draw.

After entering the chicken house, the coon sank his large, sharp teeth into the head of an unlucky chicken. The chicken was dead in less than a minute.

Eating the chicken, the coon decided that he would like to have another one, just for luck. The chickens, still not having found a way out of the chicken house, were raided once more!

This time a large, fat hen was singled out and caught by the coon, but just as he was going to enjoy an "after dinner" he heard a door slam! Oh, oh! It was time for plenty of action; so, bounding out of the coop, he eluded his would be slayer just in time to save his life.

Mr. Evans, the owner of the chickens, didn't look to see how many chickens were killed. He bounded out of the back yard gate and took after the coon. Mr. Evans was armed with a 12-gauge shot gun.

Luckily, though, the coon escaped both man and shots.

The next day the coon hid under a pile of cedar posts, enjoying the comfortable "bed" that he had found. He was sleepy after having eaten a whole chicken! So, lying down, he slept all day long.

Then again about 6:40, the instinct to kill aroused him. Crawling cautiously out of the pile of posts, he peered all around and tested the air by smelling it.

He finally decided that everything was OK, for he walked

Band Puts Ball Over Goal Line To Amuse Crowd

Joins Football Boys On Banks Of Llano For Big Picnic

By ELOISE CARSON

Between 11 and 12 o'clock on Saturday, Sept. 30, the band, drum corps, and pep squad started on their long journey to Junction, where the Ozona Lions met the Junction Eagles in a terrific battle.

After arriving at Junction, the band met at the football field, where it played for the game. The most outstanding appearance that the band has made during the half, marching with the drum corps and pep squad.

The band marched on the field from the north end, came to a halt in front of the stands, and played "At Sight." After this, the band went into the formation of a football. While in this formation, they played the school song, gave a yell for Junction, a yell for Ozona, and marched over the goal line.

After this colorful scene, the band took its place in the stands, where it played for the remainder of the game.

When the game was over, the band, drum corps, pep squad, and football boys met at the river, where a picnic was given by the patrons.

The Ozona Music Club, with the cooperation of a few more clubs in town, is buying a bass horn for the band. It will be played by one of the following boys: Wayne E. West, Byron Williams or George B. Armentrout.

The band has been working very hard, having a band rehearsal every morning at eight and having a drill with the pep squad and drum corps at 8:30 each morning.

Mr. Heath, the band director, has a beginners class for cornet players in the afternoons at 4 o'clock. Three members of this class have got new horns.

The band is also proud that it has another new member, Doris Busby, who plays a cornet.

Homemakers Club Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the Ozona Homemakers of Texas was held on October 3 at the home of Noma V. Miller at 7 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by George Ann Kirby, the president, who, after a brief business session, turned the meeting over to the program chairman, a trio by Jean Drake, Mary Louise Perner and Dorothy Hannah was the first number on the program. Following the trio was the reading of the club's constitution by Billie Jo West. The club officers, consisting of George Ann Kirby, president; Rozelle Pharr, vice president; Eloise Carson, secretary, and Jean Drake, parliamentarian, gave reports on their duties as officers of the club. Reports on the meetings of their committees were given by the chairmen of the program, hospitality and the year book committees. A reading given by Eloise Carson closed the program. After a brief social hour the meeting was adjourned.

The Prowler

By Lemmons and Drake

Now that a certain car has gone from town, I guess Bess will do most of her traveling on foot.

J. K. has been going pretty steady with an "ex" lately. J. K. don't get in a pickle like you did during the Rodeo.

The freshmen whooped out and had a party Friday night. What's wrong with the other classes? Why don't you follow suit?

Dorothy Hannah had quite a few escorts Sunday afternoon. Let's see there was B. L., J. D., and R. H. Jr. What's wrong with you other girls?

Johnnie, you had better watch your step. The next time you hit a member of the school board you will be expelled from school.

I heard from one that knew— that Joe B. and Roy Coates enjoyed themselves very much on the way and on the return trip from Junction.

Jesse Hancock figured that he could see more girls from the stands than from the bench, so he played in the band Saturday instead of suiting out.

Peggy, you went on a very round-about trip getting home Saturday night, and Roy and Shorty weren't just fooling when they said they gave out of gas-line either, were they?

Bill Carson showed a few older and more experienced boys that he could beat them at their own game Friday night. Boy!, and I mean he did!

Mr. Esquire, otherwise known as Jim Dudley, was really struttin' his stuff Sunday afternoon. Even Shorty went home and redressed after seeing Jim.

"Soda Skeet Jakee" was really slinging the soda pop Sunday. Did you enjoy your work, "Jakee"?

The Senses

By Kirby-West

Noma V., Johnnie and Gladys dancing on the bridge to the music of Kay Kaiser.

Gem Ella doing all right on a sandwich date Saturday night with Roy, Jr. and Shorty.

Two "exs" and two teachers having a raw potato feast.

Dorothy Hannah, Gem Ella and Faye strutting like queens Saturday.

Floyd Hokit making the touchdown against Junction Saturday.

The nickels flying around like a London fog.

OVERHEARD: Sniffles — when Howard was hurt in Junction, when Ozona made their touchdown. Don't take it so hard, pep squad.

Mr. Heath telling how he ran over all of his ants on the way to the picnic. He failed us!

Byron and Bobby giggling at Press club. Act your age, kiddies!

Bess putting "oomph" into the sing-song during the Press club meeting.

FELT: Cold water and mossy rocks. All waders were either crazy or just dumb. Some-things people will do for fun!

Rocks. Some of yuse guys should be on a baseball team.

Cockleburrs! The Llano river's contribution to humanity.

Embarrassed. Someone hit Mr. Perner with a weiner—I wonder who?

Excited and very happy. ANY Ozonan two minutes before the game ended.

SMELLED: Onions, onions, onions! Girls, must you do this to us?

TASTED: The swell, elegant food the mothers furnished after the game. Thanks a million, it hit the spot!

FRESHMEN START SCHOOL YEAR WITH PARTY

Mrs. George Russell, room-mother of the freshman class, assisted by Mrs. Paul Perner, Mrs. Tom Owens and Mrs. Fleet Coates, honored the freshmen with a tacky party. The party began at 7:30 and "broke" about 9:30.

The tackiest boy and girl were Roy Coates and Florence Luther. The prize between them was a box of Pangburn's candy.

The class danced and played games, such as "knick-in and knock-out, clap-in and clap-out," and bingo.

Refreshments included chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, cookies and limeade.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Noma Miller
Mrs. H. J. David, the former Miss Grace McMillan, paid a visit to some friends in Ozona on Sept. 29. Mrs. David taught English in the Junior High school building in 1933.

On visiting high school, Mrs. David saw many of the pupils whom she had taught. The seniors and other classes gave her a warm welcome.

Before returning to her home in Houston, she will visit on a ranch near Sonora and with some relatives in Mason.

On the east side of the Grade school building, on September 7, a Junior High pep squad was organized for the purpose of supporting the cub football team. The leaders elected were Jo Nell Coose, Nan Tandy, and Susie Hokit. New songs and yells were practiced for the game with Sonora, on Oct. 4.

66 Week Per Family Texas Tax Bill, Says New Tax Publication

DALLAS, Oct. 4. — Tax bill paid by the people of Texas during the 1938 fiscal year amounted to $6 a week per family, according to a new statewide publication, The Taxpayers Digest, a preliminary number of which was issued this week.

The new semi-monthly publication, described as "a Texas journal of accurate news and pertinent comment relating to the public revenue—local, state, and national," is published by The Taxpayers Research Bureau, Dallas, with Peter Molyneaux, widely known Texas editor, author and economist as editor. Booth Mooney of Dallas, is associate editor of The Taxpayers Digest.

Mission of the new tax newspaper, according to Mr. Molyneaux, is to help the average man to study and understand the fact that the Texas tax bill has been growing steadily during the last 15 years, and is still growing.

"The revenue of the state government of Texas raised by taxation during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, amounted to $111,650,527," Mr. Molyneaux said, "and that of all the local governments of the state amounted to $120,683,286. The Taxpayers Research Bureau estimates the federal taxes paid by the people of Texas during that year as not less than $221,000,000. This is given as an extremely conservative estimate, but assuming it to be approximately correct, and adding it to the totals of state and local taxes, it appears that the total tax bill of the people of Texas for

Fine! Says Germany; Hooey! Says England

This incident of the war in Poland was passed by both German and English censors. Under the picture, the German caption said of Hitler: "The leader and supreme commander of the armored forces appeared unexpectedly among his soldiers whilst they crossed the Vistula river. He was in the front line and was greeted with great enthusiasm." The English censor added a note: "This picture, dated from Germany, shows hardly anybody in full war kit."

the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, was not less than $454,000,000.

"On that basis the people of Texas during that year paid the equivalent of approximately $6 a week per family in Texas. And a large percentage of the people of the state paid that amount or much more," he concluded.

For a long time the supervisor pondered the problem. Then: "I have it. That's only one thing to do. You'll have to dig the hole deeper."

The seventh grade has been very busy correcting three week's test papers.

The glee club girls met at the home of Mrs. Read.

The fifth grade got a book out of the library, and each one read a story that he wanted to. After we had read the story, we drew pictures of the story and colored them.

The Junior high pep squad have their material for their uniforms. It is gold corduroy.—Mertastine Hokit.

The Junior High Glee club girls met at Mrs. Read's home Tuesday afternoon to organize and elect officers. The officers were Aylene Hokit, president; Barbara White, recording secretary; Louise Bean, treasurer; Judith Williams, corresponding secretary; Melba Cullins, reporter. Forty of the fifth, sixth and seventh grade girls were present. Sponsors present were Mrs. Madden Read, Mrs. Hillery Phillips and Miss Rebecca Anderson.

ECONOMIZING

A tramp paused outside the Hannah home, and as he did so another of his kind came shuffling out of the gate.

"Any luck, mate?" asked the first tramp.

"It ain't no use tryin' there," was the reply. "It's a poverty-stricken 'ole. There was a couple o' women tryin' to play on one blinkin' planner!"

quietly to the chicken house, which was about 25 yards from where he had been sleeping.

Reaching the chicken house without being seen, he rounded the corner to be met with a most unpleasant surprise.

Snap! A buried steel trap, which he had happened to step on, was sprung. Fearing gripping his heart in strangling hands, he bounded to one side and then the other.

It was no use. Both of his front feet were caught firmly and were being crushed horribly by the steel jaws of the strong trap.

In a very short time Mr. Evans came out of the house, carrying a large gun. Taking careful aim, he tightened up his trigger finger; he was glad to get revenge for his unfortunate chickens.

"Wait! Don't shoot," someone cried.

Turning around Mr. Evans saw Leonard Armentrout running toward him. Leonard was the owner of the coon.

Releasing the coon, whose feet were in bad condition, Leonard turned toward home, carrying his whimpering pet.

Once home the coon knew that he had learned his lesson, "crime doesn't pay."

Children Present Meineckes With New Car On Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Pioneer Couple Enjoy Family Reunion On Occasion Friday

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Meinecke had open house for all their children, grandchildren, and friends in their home here Friday.

A big family dinner was enjoyed by members of the family, followed by an afternoon of "visiting" from several old settlers of this county and many other friends. A three tiered pink and white cake, made and given to the pioneers by Hartley Johnigan, was served throughout the afternoon to callers while Mrs. Bryan McDonald played the piano.

The big surprise of the day came when the children of Mr. and Mrs. Meinecke drove up in a new 1939 Chevrolet car as a gift to their parents. Mrs. Laura Hoover furnished the flowers for the decoration of the car. Many other gifts, cards and telegrams were received during the day.

The children, in-laws, and grandchildren, all of whom were present for the golden wedding anniversary celebration were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dinsmore of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Mr. and Bill Adams and daughters, Helen and Florene, and Lieutenant Carr of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kirby and daughter, Kay of Ozona; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery and daughter, La Verne of Sanderson; Mr. and Mrs. Buster Augustine and daughter, Sandra Jean of Ozona; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Davis and children Chris and Buddy Claire of Hobbs, N. M.; Hurst Meinecke of Ozona; Ralph Meinecke of Odessa, Mrs. Cora Lee Meinecke and children, Daphne June, Ralph, Jr., Guida Sue, and William Gerald of Ozona; and Bus Monteith, a son by adoption whose care the Meineckes undertook when he was but two months old.

Others present were Mrs. R. K. James, sister of Mr. Meinecke, Mrs. C. O. Hetherington from Tom Ball, Texas, a sister of Mrs. Meinecke, and Bud Hurst of Rankin, who witnessed the wedding of the couple when they were married in Sonora on that September morning back in 1889 was here. He is a brother of Mrs. Meinecke.

Two Sixes, Two Eights Offered In New Pontiac

Expanded Line Include Low-Priced Six and "Torpedo Eight"

Expanding its lines to cover the widest market in its history Pontiac enters the 1940 season with 17 body models on four separate chassis.

Its bid for the volume market is being made with a larger low-priced Special Six. Restyled DeLuxe sixes and DeLuxe eights take care of that large volume market just above the special six. Newest departure from previous years, however, is Pontiac's definite swing toward a still more exacting and discriminating field of buyers with a stunning new luxury eight, called the Torpedo Eight.

The Silver Streak, which six years ago earned for Pontiac the encomium of the most beautiful thing on wheels, remains the identifying mark. Added lustre has been given radiators, grilles, hoods, bumpers, fenders, running boards and headlamps. Much thought also was given to enhancing the attractiveness of the dash and instrument panels. Detailed specifications and engineering tests reveal the improvements in performance and car handling throughout as well as pointing out the increased room, added comforts and many new safety features.

The low-priced special six comes in five body models, two and four touring sedans, business and sport coupe and station wagon. A new chassis frame of the Pontiac straight X-type increases the wheelbase 2 inches to 117 inches. Overall length has been increased 8 3/4 inches.

Bodies are completely new with more room in every direction. Floors are four inches lower thus making the cars easier to step into. Windshields are 1 1/2 inches wider and one inch deeper, thus giving 11 per cent increase in glass area which adds to the vis-

Cinema Industry Marks 50th Year

Fifty years ago, on October 6, 1889, Thomas A. Edison announced completion of a photographic device which showed objects in motion. Today's highly perfected motion picture industry will celebrate this event tomorrow. Contrasted with modern movies are above early scenes, top to bottom: Bill Hart, early cowboy hero; a scene from "The Great American Train Robbery," first movie telling a complete story, and Charlie Chaplin with Jackie Coogan in an early comedy film.

Dr. and Mrs. Will Holmsley are here this week from Comanche. They are visiting their son Perry Holmsley, and Mrs. Holmsley's mother, Mrs. Laura Hoover.

Mrs. B. B. Ingham and Mrs. Alvin Harrell are visiting in San Angelo today.
