JOE McCARTHY

This is written in the papers a sketchy report from the committee of senators before the McCarthy-Army controversy was held. As expected, the report said very little and was in two parts along strictly party lines.

The first session of the new session appointed to hear the accusations by Senator Flanders and others against McCarthy opened yesterday. Following an apparent attempt by McCarthy and his lawyers to scuttle the hearing before the hearing started, Chairman Watkins indignantly recessed that session. It seems that as the noose was more tightly around Joe's neck, he displays less and less respect. No sensible defendant wins his trial by making the judge angry at him.

Joe McCarthy is one of the greatest characters to show on the American scene in many a day. A complex nature almost defies analysis. About the time one thinks he has figured out, up pops something new and contradictory.

A man who can fool his state into electing him to the senate, stand under fire, get another term, and yet still have something on the mind. On the other hand, a man who stirs up as much trouble as McCarthy has is not good for the country in a time when we need heads more than anything.

If a popular vote could be taken today, those who have heard of Joe would probably line up about 40 percent for him and about 60 percent against him. The last Gallup poll, for whatever it is worth, indicated that he is losing ground in the public esteem.

Those who say they like him frequently point to the work he is doing against Communism. His policies are not always sure why they dislike him, they just know they do.

It seems to me that the most reasonable explanation of why people dislike Joe McCarthy is that he has become a symbol of something Americans loathe — a bully in a time of peace. The roots of that emotional reaction go way back. Some of our forefathers in Europe knew what a despotic government was like. They had tasted the universal military service system in old Prussia, the star chamber trials and debtors courts in England, and the assorted list of restrictions that are set up for the benefit of the few in countries that have grown old. They wanted more of it.

The strength of their yen to be free may be seen from the fact that they were willing to risk life and limb in a land of known and unknown dangers, if only they could be equal and free. Others came here, for various reasons including religious and economic, as well as for trivial and personal. But for the most part this country was settled by a group whose one principle of selection was the mutual hatred of despotism in all its petty and major forms.

This determination to make despotism forever impossible was a principle enshrined in the Constitution and basic laws of the land. It is a significant fact that every item of the Bill of Rights is fashioned to protect the individual from the possibility of a despotic government.

Despotism of one kind or another has reared its head here a number of times, but always it has produced the reaction needed to destroy it. Perhaps that is why the clansmen in the south met such a rebuke. Perhaps that is why an officer of the law who goes to unnecessary lengths of violence to carry out his duties brings down public opinion on his head, and a defendant in a criminal trial will sometimes have a gallery for him.

Isn't that what aren't a law-abiding people. We are. But we are afraid that the administration of the law may be worse than the law itself. The law was passed to correct. (Continued on Last Page)

Young Wins By Vote Margin In Run-Off Primary

Narrow Victory Margin Features Spirited Election

A one-vote margin of victory gained by Jake Young over R. W. (Fats) Parker in a spirited race for County Commissioner from Precinct 4 featured the run-off primary election in this county last Saturday.

The hot race waged by Governor Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough for the gubernatorial nomination plus three local races for posts on the Commissioners Court attracted a record vote in a run-off primary in this county, a total of 1,022 voting in the governor's race, against 1132 in the first primary July 24.

The photo finish race between Young and Parker in Precinct 4, which Young won by 111 to 110, overshadowed the more comfortable wins by U. S. (Rusty) Smith over Viv Montgomery in Precinct 3 and by W. T. (Bill) Miller over Paul Gibbs in Precinct 4.

The vote in the South Elementary box and the absentee ballots counted, left Parker with a five-vote lead, 106 to 101 for Young, in the first completed count. In the Millsbaugh Ranch box, the necessary six-vote margin to win came through for Young, the Millsbaugh box count being 10 for Young and 4 for Parker.

Rusty Smith ran away with the voting in Precinct 3, amassing a total of 164 to 90 for Montgomery. In the precinct 2 race, incumbent Commissioner Bill Miller swamped Paul Gibbs 169 to 116.

Crockett county voters backed winners in both the governor's race and in that for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Governor Allan Shivers, who beat Candidate Ralph Yarborough by a margin in excess of 92,000 votes, polled 624 votes in the run-off in this county to 398 for Yarborough. That most of the voters who stayed away from the polls were Shivers supporters is evidenced by a comparison of local voting in the first primary and the second. Shivers trounced Yarborough by more than two to one in the first primary, 768 votes for Shivers to 364 for Yarborough. Shivers came up 144 short while Yarborough picked up 34 votes between the two elections.

In the voting for the Supreme Court poet, winner Few Brewster was favored by Crockett county voters 642 to 273 for his opponent, Alfred M. Scott. Judge Lloyd W. Davidson, candidate for the Court of Criminal Appeals, unopposed after his opponent withdrew from the run-off, received 915 votes here.

Two Houston Men Injured In Crash Landing of Plane

Engine Trouble Forces Private Plane Down East of Ozona

Some skillful piloting and a whole lot of luck saved the lives of three men, occupants of a private plane which crashed landed about two miles east of Ozona on the dumpground road when its engine failed a few minutes after a take-off from the Dick Henderson airport early Tuesday morning.

H. B. Young, Jr., Houston contractor, suffered a "pinched" vertebra, as doctors described it, and is still under treatment in the Crockett County hospital following the plane crash. Mr. Young, owner and pilot of the plane, was the most seriously injured of the trio which occupied the four-place Beachcraft plane.

Suffering only minor injuries in the crash-up was Fred Flanders of Houston, head of Flanders Concrete Coating Corp., of Houston and Venezuela. Mr. Flanders was given first aid treatment at a physician's office and released. The third passenger in the plane, Bob Parker, Houston attorney, escaped without injury.

The plane developed motor trouble soon after taking off from the Henderson field where it was grounded while the men spent the night here. Failure of an oil pump or a fouled oil line was blamed for the mishap. Mr. Young said the motor conked out at low altitude. Three trucks on Highway 290 in exactly the wrong spot prevented his landing on the paved highway, which might have been accomplished without damage to the plane or injury to the occupants.

The next best bet was the dumpground road, but the plane had lost altitude so rapidly that the pilot could not clear the highlines north of the highway and had to nose under them for a sharper landing. The front landing gear crumpled and a right landing wheel tire blew out in the rough terrain, causing the plane to plough a furrow with its nose and come to rest with its right wing draped across a wire fence. The plane occupants were brought to Ozona by a passing motorist.

Enrollment Hits New High Here Despite Flood

Housing Shortage Believed To Have Reduced Numbers

Although the expected 900-plus enrollment in Ozona Public Schools failed to materialize because of the June flood and the resulting housing shortage, the total enrollment nevertheless hit a new high this week as the 1954-55 term opened Wednesday morning.

The enrollment total for the opening day reached 819 in the high school, junior high and two elementary schools, an increase of 23 over last year's record enrollment of 796. The opening-day 1952 enrollment was 756. To this figure an enrollment of 17 at the Lockett Elementary school for colored children is added to bring the entire system to 836.

Enrollment jumped sharply in both the high school and junior high but dropped in the elementary schools. However, the drop in the South Elementary was occasioned by transfer this year of the seventh and eighth grades to the Junior High School. In spite of this move of two grades, enrollment in the South Elementary was down only 18 pupils from last year's opening day. The South Elementary School enrolled 240 this year against 258 last year and 240 in 1952.

High school first day enrollment was five above the peak enrollment during last year and 29 over the opening-day enrollment of a year ago. A total of 167 students were enrollment by Wednesday morning in the high school, against 138 a year ago and 129 in 1952.

Junior High School was close behind with a total enrollment this year of 165, an increase of 39 over last year's enrollment of 126 and up from 112 two years ago. Probably the result of several families having to move to nearby towns when housing was reduced by the terrific destruction of the June 28 flood, the North Elementary enrollment dropped to 247 this year from 1953's 274 on opening day. The 1952 North Elementary total was 275.

Opening exercises were held in the high school auditorium for high school and junior high pupils and in the elementary schools at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Supt. L. B. T. Sikes opened the high school auditorium exercises with a brief talk on school plans and objectives of our educational system.

P. O. Hatley, high school principal, and Johnny Clark, junior high principal, then introduced teachers of the two schools and made their announcements of school schedules and home room assignments. Similar brief exercises were held in each of the elementary schools.

NO! NO! NOT THE BOARD!

P.T.A. Membership To Decide On Carnival at Meeting Next Monday

A newspaper has several thousand chances for errors per page each issue and a few will creep in, some detected and some not.

But it takes a bit of doing to make one as complete as that in last week's issue of the Stockman which reported plans of the Ozona P. T. A. to dispose of the question of whether or not the annual P. T. A. carnival will be held this year.

Mrs. James Baggett, P. T. A. president, issued a call for a meeting of the P. T. A. membership, set for Thursday, to decide this issue, explaining that determination this year would be left up to the membership as a whole and not, as in past years, decided by the Executive Board.

Sure enough, the announcement, in headline and text, announced that the Executive Board would meet in called session to decide the carnival issue.

With admirable self restraint and much appreciated calm, considering the many telephone calls from unhappy members, Mrs. Baggett called for a correction, cancelled the meeting this morning and reset the membership meeting for next Monday morning at 9 at the North Elementary school.

There was NO meeting of the Executive Board, there was NO decision made, and there WILL be a meeting of the P. T. A. membership, called meeting, that is, next Monday morning at 9 in the North Elementary school, and the membership will decide at that meeting whether or not to hold the 1954 P. T. A. carnival. And we hope it comes out that way in the paper.

New M&M Cafe Opened Monday Night

After an enforced shut-down of two months when the business was destroyed by fire at the height of the June 28 flood, the M&M Cafe, next to the Ozona Oil Co. Couden station in west Ozona, was reopened Monday night in its new and enlarged quarters.

The cafe is considerably larger than the old one and is handsomely finished, air conditioned and modern in appearance. With a seating capacity of 60 customers simultaneously in its booths and around tables in the center, the cafe is capable of serving more than twice the number in the previous quarters. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Goodson manage the business, which is owned by Joe T. Davidson.

Begin Preliminary Survey For Flood Control Dam Here

First Step Taken Under Authorization Of Congress

A preliminary survey, the first step toward realization of a flood control dam which would harness the flood waters of Junction Draw and eliminate the possibility of a repeat of the disastrous flood which took 16 lives and did millions in property damage here in the early morning hours of June 28, was under way here this week under direction of the Army Corps of Engineers.

A surveying crew, under contract by the Corps of Engineers and directed by C. E. Tyree, engineer in the division of reports and economics of the Southwest headquarters, Army Corps of Engineers at Fort Worth, arrived here early this week to begin the gathering of necessary data which is expected to lead to a report of need for flood control measures on the Johnson wash and ultimate of the necessary funds for matel to an appropriation by Congress.

The preliminary survey was authorized by Congress in the recently passed Rivers and Harbors and flood control bill, which included an item for preliminary surveys and reports on flood control measures on Devil's River and its tributaries, which includes Johnson Draw.

Mr. Tyree, who has been here since Monday morning, expected to leave today or tomorrow to return to Fort Worth but said that the crew of five surveyors would probably be here nearly two weeks more before the preliminary surveying job is completed. Mr. Tyree and other engineers from the Corps headquarters in Fort Worth were expected to return during or after the preliminary survey completion to examine and check findings.

The present surveys will plot a cross-section of the drainage basin, through the town of Ozona and several miles upstream and downstream. From this survey, engineers will be able to determine the volume of flood waters, rate of flow and destructive force and plot the potential threat of the draw which drains an estimated 130 square miles of ranchland north of this city, Mr. Tyree said. This cross-section, too, will reveal to engineers the most feasible site for a flood control dam and from this and subsequent surveys, sufficient data will be amassed to permit a detailed report on the probable cost of the project.

First to arrive from the Fort Worth office of the Corps of Engineers was Lt. Col. Carl G. Sory and engineers George M. Parker and L. D. Sykes. With the damaged area still largely untouched, these officers recorded by photography, the actual damage scenes and high water marks.

Their estimates of total damage to Ozona and ranchlands and improvements downstream reached 12 million dollars, according to reports available here. The Ozona damage was placed at 4½ millions.

Historical Society May Be Revived At Meeting Sept. 16th

The meeting was called by Mrs. R. A. Harrell, president of the Society. Revival of the Society, with meetings once a year, and a program for preserving the county's history and making it available for consultation will be the aim of the meeting, Mrs. Harrell said. The time has been set at 7:30 p. m. in the courthouse. All persons interested in participating in the Society's program are cordially invited to attend.

BEEF SHORTAGE IN ARGENTINA

The dietary habits of the Argentina people are undergoing an enforced change. And it doesn't seem likely that Argentines will enjoy it.

They have long been the greatest meat-eaters on earth. Per capita consumption ran around 230 pounds, and that included tiny children. Each adult actually consumed an average of a whole steer a year.

Now, the news dispatches report, the Peron government is carrying on a high-powered "eat more fish" campaign. Beef has been fast disappearing from the shops.

There's nothing wrong with fish. It's splendid food. But taste is primarily an acquired habit, and people who have eaten gargantuan quantities of beef for generations aren't liable to find any substitute food very palatable.

Various official reasons are given for the beef shortage — excessive other reasons that may be more important. In Argentina, the government controls everything. The newspaper La Nacion cited the breaking up of large ranches, either by government action or by decision of the ranchers themselves owing to heavy taxation and unrealistic prices fixed by government.

In sum, the Argentina beef situation seems to be a beautiful example of what happens when the dead hand of government — with price fixing, ceilings and regulations of all kinds — dominates a business engaged in producing a perishable commodity. And it's certainly a perfect object for us here in the United States.

New Motor Vehicle Inspection Period Sept. 15 To April 15

AUSTIN — Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that the Public Safety Commission has officially set the dates for the new inspection period for autos under the provision of the State's Motor Vehicle Inspection Act.

Texas motorists must secure the annual inspection of their cars between September 15th, 1954, and April 15th, 1955, according to the Commission Order.

At the same time George Busby, Chief of the DPS Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, said that the inspectors from his office have filed 106 cases against car owners who failed to have their cars checked during the current inspection period. These, he said, are in addition to those cases filed by members of the Texas Highway Patrol and by various local police departments throughout the State.

Unable to give an estimation of the actual number of violations for which arrests have been made during the 1953-54 period, Busby said that he "believed the figure to be comparatively low" due to the fact that frequent spot checks indicate that TEXANS have conformed with the law "almost 100 percent."

Worth — Movement of calves to market at Fort Worth and all around the market this week was again seasonally. The drought continued larger and larger portions of the Southwest and this brought "shipping day" and more farms and ranches.

On the most part the packers are getting the blues over the drop in the dressed meat and the fact that currently slaughter is running far behind year ago at Fort Worth and Southwestern packing.

A gloomy mental attitude was expressed by the buyers of stocker and feeder cattle and calves. Buyers and dealers at Fort Worth said they could use many high quality stockers and yearlings than they are getting in the market and it appeared that the price of cattle in the 1954-55 season would be at a heavy rate. Belt and Western States had a good year last year estimated profits by the US-

DA running between $30 to $40 per head. While this was above average, the spread between feeder costs and fat cattle prices has narrowed somewhat this year, the feeders were apparently able to see a favorable margin still.

This served to take thousands of calves and yearlings out of packer channels and into stocker and feeder channels. At Fort Worth Monday, the good and choice quality stocker calves and yearlings drew $15 to $19, a few calves higher, older steers and long aged yearlings drew $18 downward.

Slaughter calves were bid lower and in many cases sold well last week's high time. Cows were steady to 50 cents lower, most of the more desirable kinds selling pretty near steady and the junkier and excessively grossy kinds taking the dip. Bulls were weak to 50 cents lower and sold fully $1 below two weeks ago. Fat steers and yearlings drew steady prices, with choice fat kinds topped in the $20 to $23 bracket.

Despite lowered dressed meat reports from Midwest and from Eastern centers, in the past several days the lambs and sheep held steady at Fort Worth. Some steady support from the stocker and feeder buyers was a prop under the market as was the fact that receipts were rather light. There was steady demand for breeding types of ewes when they had quality and were of suitable ages to go back to the country.

Good and choice fat lambs topped at $18 to $19, and were considered by the trade as quotable to $20 and $21 when they were suitably fat and conditioned. Stocker and feeder lambs were quotable around $12 to $16. Slaughter ewes sold from $3.50 to $6 and stocker ewes ranged from $6 to $10, a sizeable string of good ewes at $10 going back to the country from Fort Worth Monday that averaged 15 pounds.

Approximately 60 ranchmen, mostly from Crockett County, were on hand last Friday at the T. A. Kincaid ranch south of Ozona for the first of a possible series of field days devoted to a demonstration of wool grading and classification whose object is to improve the quality of the ranch country's principal products, wool and mohair, sheep and goats.

James A. Gray, sheep specialist with the A&M Extension service, assisted by Fred Earwood of Sonora, chairman of the sheep, goat, wool and mohair improvement committee of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn., conducted the grading demonstrations. Sheep in the Kincaid flock were sorted in three grades according to wool fineness and staple, with consideration for body conformation. Ranchmen were invited to ask questions about the grading methods and were instructed in the objective of the program — to improve the staple and quality of fleeces and retain as far as possible the big frame for meat production of offspring.

Among other leaders in the ranch industry attending the field day were Walter Pfluger of Eden, president of the Sheep & Goat Raisers Association; and Jack Taylor, executive secretary of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association.

Kincaid served a barbecue dinner to the visitors at the noon hour.

Doves Said Plentiful As Shooting Opened In North Zone Sept. 1

AUSTIN — Opening of the north zone mourning dove season at noon September 1 marked what could be one of the best shoots in recent years, according to the Executive Secretary Game and Fish Commission.

He said the showers that preceded the opener restored water tanks in many parts of the state at a time when the early migration of the fleet birds was underway.

"Reports from scattered areas," said the Executive Secretary, "indicate there are plenty of native birds and that thousands of others have moved into the state enroute to their wintering grounds in Mexico and Central America."

The Executive Secretary pointed out that roughly three-fourths of Texas was open to mourning dove hunting at noon Wednesday. The North Zone season runs through October 10. The South Zone season prevails from noon October 1 through November 9.

The North Zone comprises Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, and Shelby Counties and all counties north and west thereof.

The daily limit is ten doves. Possession limit is the same. Daily shooting ends at sunset. Shotguns must be plugged to three shots. Rifles are prohibited.

FIRE SIREN REJECTED

A siren powered by a 10-horse motor was demonstrated by a dealer here Monday and was rejected by the Fire Department as unsuitable for local needs. The big siren's tone was not loud enough for local needs, in fact could not be heard above the 3-horsepowered siren presently in use. The demonstrator said that the siren was actually designed as an air-raid warning signal and promised to have a fire alarm siren shipped from the factory for demonstration in the near future.

FIRST BIRTHDAY PARTY

New Trademark For General Telephone Co.

A search for a simpler, easier to understand and remember trademark for General Telephone System has successfully ended with the adoption of a new, trapezoid shaped trademark.

The new trademark, which bears a schematic drawing of a telephone handset centered between the words, "General System," will appear in this month's General Telephone advertisement in this newspaper.

The old General trademark was circular in shape with a telephone pole and crossarm inscribed on the circle and the lettering "General Telephone System" around the circle.

rect. In other words, we know nature well enough to believe that some medicines are worse than the diseases they are intended to cure.

That fact of our basic American nature, I believe, explains the wave of hostility against Joe McCarthy. He likes to say that Communists and their friends are his real enemies. But they are not. His real enemies are among the local American people, who are against bullies in government everywhere, anytime.

Joe's case is made the more complicated by the fact that he seems to have a messianic complex. He sees himself a Horatius at the bridge. He alone will save his nation and maybe the world from the menace of Communism. This is where his tremendous and tenacious energy comes from. He is a dedicated man. Such men are more dangerous than the everyday kind. For they hold that the end justifies the means, and they will stop at nothing to gain that end.

A curious fact about Joe's crusade against Communism in the American government is that his motivation and methods — indeed, his personality — are very like those of the Communists themselves. He has the same ruthless revolutionary flavor, the same disregard for the rights of another human being.

To be strictly accurate, I suppose one would have to classify Joe as a Fascist. He is more the Mussolini type. However one may dread the very idea of a Communist-dominated world, he can but wonder whether a Fascist world would be any better. Joe is trying to save us out of the frying pan into the fire. Many people sense this. And in this instinctive and typically American reaction Joe and all like him will inevitably meet their political ends.

The McCarthy-Atmy controversy served no purpose except to convince many people who followed it on the radio that neither side could be trusted and that the level of integrity in government is very low. It posed an embarrassing issue for all the senators, so it has now been swept under the rug, at least until after the next election. The new hearing will probably be no better. It will discover nothing and settle nothing. In due time, after a sufficient face-saving gesture has been made, it too will be drowned in erasive maneuvers.

But the moral realities grind away, even when we take no notice of them. And they are grinding on the case of Joe McCarthy. It may be a long time yet, but one day and somehow he will come to political grief, because the sound and basic instinct of the majority of the American people always have been and — God grant it! — always will be against his kind and what it stands for.
