Crockett Gets Rainfall Over Most Of Area

Fall Ranges From One-Fourth to Over Two Inches Moisture

Rains, general in scope but spotted as to quantity, covered most of Crockett county and considerable surrounding area Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Reports received from Crockett county ranches surrounding Ozona indicated the fall ranged from a quarter inch to more than two inches in some sections. The heaviest falls were reported from the south of Ozona, where some areas were reported to have received approximately 2½ inches. The greater part of that area, however, received a fall of around one inch.

West of Ozona, where the clouds originated, the fall was more spotted, ranging from a half inch in the vicinity of Howard Draw to a quarter inch on the western edge of the county, where the fall was heavier farther south. In the immediate vicinity of Ozona, the moisture averaged about the same as that recorded here, ¾ of an inch Tuesday night. A heavy shower late Wednesday and further falls Wednesday night, however, brought the total here to over an inch and added to the moisture stores in some of the areas where previous falls had been light.

The rain was reported general between here and San Angelo and good rains were reported at Barnhart, Big Lake, Rankin, McCamey, Iraan and Sheffield.

Conoco Stakes Location For New Todd Unit

No. 4-B To Be South Offset To Strawn Lime Discovery

Seeking its third producer from the Strawn lime on the J. S. Todd ranch 15 miles northwest of Ozona, Continental Oil Co. and others this week announced location for No. 4-B Todd unit.

The new test is to be 1320 south of No. 2-B Todd, the discovery well, 660 feet from the south, 2010 feet from the west line of section 29, block WX, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey. No. 3-B Todd, second producer recently completed on the lease, is 1170 feet east of the discovery well. It was completed at 5850 feet for a natural flow of 662 barrels of 41.6 gravity oil in seven hours. Moore Exploration Co. and Olson Drilling Co. No. 1 W. T. Noelke, second oil strike on the Noelke ranch in western Crockett county, had drilled to 2,354 feet in medium hard lime unchanged the middle of the week. The well is estimated good for 200 barrels daily. It is being deepened to determine the water table. Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 10-GG-HE&WT.

Miss Betty Lou Coates and Joe Perry left Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Collins Coates and family at Fort Stockton.

Officials Of Two Counties Are Guests Of Power Company

Ray Williams, manager of the Pecos Valley Power and Light Co. plant in the northwest corner of Crockett county, was the genial host at the annual barbecue supper and outing staged by the company honoring members of the school faculty of the McCamey schools and county and school officials of Crockett and Upton counties Monday evening.

Attending the affair from Ozona were Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Miller and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Owens.

Census Count Near End Here; Final Round-Up

Persons Missed Asked to Communicate With Census-Takers

Taking of the sixteenth decennial census of population has about been completed in Crockett county, it was announced this week by Bryan McDonald, local enumerator.

The census takers, however, have not closed the books here and a final clean-up of persons known to have been missed in the count is being made. Several such persons have already been discovered as missing from the original round of the census count and these are being contacted.

The census enumeration as completed at this time will stand as the population count of Ozona and Crockett county for the next ten years. It is, therefore, essential that every person living in the county at this time be listed on the roll.

In spite of all the care and effort exercised in conducting this task within the limited time allowed by law, it is possible that some persons have been missed. Persons who have reason to believe that they have not been included in the current census are asked to communicate with Mr. McDonald or with Harold M. Fennell, district supervisor, Bureau of the Census, at Midland, Texas.

In the left-hand corner of this page of the Stockman there is a form which may be used to notify the census taker. If you think you have been missed, sign this form and mail it to the local enumerator or, if you prefer, to the district supervisor at Midland.

Negro Hurt As Car Hurtles 60 Feet Thru Air

Ralph White Has Miraculous Escape In Wreck Sunday

Ralph White, negro, miraculously escaped death early Sunday morning when his car left the highway, careened down the bar pit, bounded over a heap of rocks, leaped into the air, hurtled 60 feet across a draw, landed in a nose dive on the opposite bank, and in a final sidewise roll, sheared off a telephone pole and several fence posts and came to rest on its side on the pasture side of the right-of-way fence.

White, who was alone in the car, and who is thought to have fallen asleep at the wheel, suffered several broken ribs, a severe head injury and numerous cuts and bruises. He was given emergency treatment here and was taken to Del Rio to a hospital. Latest reports indicated he will recover.

The accident is thought to have occurred about 5 o'clock Sunday morning, at a point about a mile east of Ozona. The injured negro was not discovered until nearly two hours later. Two Mexicans passing in a car discovered the wreck and notified an attendant at the Wilson Motor Co. filling station, who in turn notified Sheriff W. S. Willis. The injured man was brought to Ozona in the Joe Oberkamp ambulance.

White, who is head of the crew of wool stackers at the Ozona Wool & Mohair Co., was found sitting at the back of the wrecked car. The car, a Ford V8, was almost demolished. It was towed in by the North Motor Co. wrecker and placed alongside the burned wreckage of cars belonging to Sam Beasley and Paul Buckley, which just a week before and at a point less than 500 yards from the scene, figured in a three-way wreck which cost the lives of four persons, Paul and Leonard Buckley and their wives, and the injury of two others.

FIRE DOES NO DAMAGE

The fire department made a run Friday to the Bill Hoover home to extinguish a blaze in the Hoover car. Mrs. Hoover was attending the picture show and the fire was discovered by children playing nearby. No damage was done to the car.

INSTALL NEW AWNING

A new roll-up canvas awning has been installed at the Ozona Drug Store, replacing the old wooden awning which was torn down. The drug store recently completed laying a new floor and making other extensive improvements on the interior. Further improvements are contemplated by the firm, including a complete refinishing of the front of the building.

SCOUT HEAD RESIGNS

C. H. (Harold) Janeway, for the past three years executive of the Concho Valley Boy Scout Council, Tuesday night presented his resignation to the Council board in monthly meeting in San Angelo. Mr. Janeway on June 1 will assume duties as executive of the Cimarron Valley Council, with headquarters on the campus of Oklahoma A. and M. college at Stillwater. Malcolm R. Rogers and Paul Ireland, assistant field executives, will be in charge until Janeway's successor is named, probably in two or three months.

Softball Splits Leave Teams In Same Standing

Utilities Still On Top; Rain Halts Wednesday Games

The Standing:
Utilities	4 1 .800
Water Works	3 2 .600
Laundry	3 2 .600
Williams	2 3 .400
Tex-New Mex	1 3 .250
Humble	1 3 .250

Rain interrupted hostilities on the softball front in the Ozona city league last night, Tuesday night's rain followed by a hard shower late Wednesday afternoon making the field too wet for play.

Games of Friday and Monday nights left no change in standings of the clubs from last week, the Wednesday night games being pointed by the trailing teams as an opportunity to change the picture somewhat.

The West Texas Utilities crew still holds the lead, even picking up a few points by virtue of a win over the Williams team Monday night. McDonald's Water gang held firm to a tie for second place in the face of a split over the weekend, a loss to Williams crew Friday night and a win over the laundry Monday night. Arthur Kyle's Laundry team also split its two games and lost a chance to

He was graduated from A. and M. with the class of 1938 and this summer will complete his second summer's work toward an M. A. degree from that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCook of Abilene have been named to two of the teaching positions. Mr. McCook will become principal of the Mexican school and Mrs. McCook as teacher of language arts in the Junior High grades. Both are (Continued on Last Page)

GATE-CRASHERS ARE A NUISANCE—BUT!

The Southern dance-hall fire, in which about 200 Negroes died the most horrible of deaths, is simply one more of those conflagrations which could have been prevented.

The fire, it is reported, was started deliberately by a drunken merry-maker. None save the criminal can be blamed for that. But, had a minimum of forethought been used, the hazards that make for a serious fire would not have existed.

The dance-hall was decorated with streamers of Spanish moss—a material which is practically explosive when dry. On top of that, all windows and entrances, save for the narrow front door, had been barred, in order to keep out possible gate crashers.

The inevitable result was that when the match touched the moss, Hell broke loose. Flames shot to the ceiling. Vast pillars of black smoke billowed out. In a few seconds the dance-hall was an inferno. Dancers, blinded by smoke and choking from fumes, beat with pitiful futility against the barred windows and doors. A few escaped by the front entrance. The majority perished from suffocation and flame.

In this fire, the simplest, most obvious tenets of fire prevention and control were violated. Under no circumstances should inflammable materials be used for decorations—many a disastrous fire has started from that cause. Even worse is the practice of barring windows and exits. Gate-crashing may be an annoyance—but it's considerably less annoying than being cremated alive.

The country pities the victims of this fire. But let the country learn a lesson from their needless deaths. Think first—then you won't have to be vainly sorry afterwards.

BUSY WORRYING

We are now a land of earnest citizens, each troubled in his mind about the way other people should behave.—Birmingham News.

BADLY WARPED

STEPPING STONE TOWARD TOTALITARIANISM

The steady parade of witnesses before the House Committee which is considering the Patman anti-chain store tax bill continues. Almost every segment of America has been heard from—farmers, manufacturers, publicists, representatives of consumers' groups, etc. And the overwhelming majority of witnesses have expressed 100 per cent opposition to the measure.

Typical testimony was lately given by Mrs. Ernest W. Howard, chairman of the Federation of Women's Clubs department of legislation. She described the Patman bill as a "stepping stone toward totalitarian form of government." And she added: "It indeed seems strange to us that at a time when lands across the sea have been devastated, human beings slaughtered or reduced to serfdom, and when this great country of ours stands alone as the lighthouse of opportunity, with problems of her own, that it should now be proposed to destroy a group of businesses for the cruel and admitted reason that they furnish the necessities of life to the wage earner and his family at low prices."

It is significant that most of the opposition to the Patman bill has been based on the dangerous principle it involves and the destructive precedent it would establish—and has not been based on the narrow interests of the chains themselves. Certainly, if the power to tax can be used deliberately and with malice aforethought to destroy one kind of business—and there can be no question but what the purpose of the Patman measure is destruction, not revenue raising—it can be used to destroy any other business. Under that precedent, no man's source of livelihood would be safe. And no man's investment and savings would be protected. The tremendous forces that have voluntarily marshalled themselves in the fight against this bill cast an encouraging sidelight on the way the American people think and reason. Whether the typical citizen likes chains or not, he is convinced of their right to exist and serve those who patronize them, under a free competitive system. That is the American system—the system that is responsible for our world economic supremacy, and our unequalled standard of living.

THE RIGHTS OF MAN

The Walter-Logan bill, which is now up in Congress, is about as important and necessary a piece of legislation as America's lawmakers have ever considered.

In the words of Mark Sullivan, the bill "goes to the heart of what is troubling the country and the world—the conflict between the rights of man, and the authority of government." And never in our history was that conflict so bitter and intense.

The Walter-Logan bill is aimed specifically at the arbitrary exercise of vaguely defined authority by bureaus and commissions. And many an American citizen has discovered what that exercise of power means. We have established, principally in recent years, a great number of new bureaus for various purposes. The laws authorizing these bureaus have often purposely been made general, to the extent that even the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer can't discover where their powers begin and where they end. And the result has been that government officials have at times made themselves into prosecutor, judge and jury, all in one. Rules and regulations may be changed from day to day. Interpretations of the law may be revolutionized overnight. And the ordinary citizen, who cannot afford the time and money that years of litigation in the federal courts demand, is helpless.

The Walter-Logan bill doesn't propose to limit the authority of government or weaken its functions in any way. It simply provides that when a board or bureau makes a decision which the litigant thinks wrong, he may have an immediate appeal to a judicial body. To quote Mr. Sullivan again: "That is the same as saying, and no more than saying, that every man shall be entitled to his day in court." And the late Senator Logan, when first introducing his bill, described it in these words: "The sole issue here presented to Congress is whether we shall have a government by men or a government by law."

We all know what government by men means—look abroad at Europe. The purpose of the Walter-Logan bill is to prevent that here. And no bill could have a more vital purpose.

Something ought to be done about this!

Forty years ago there were few women who didn't know the back-breaking misery of doing a family washing over a tub and a washboard.

Today, few women have that experience.

What made the change? First of all, someone said, "Something ought to be done about it."

In those words you have the real slogan of America. Great inventions, great industries, great social benefits result from Americans' deep desire for better living. The electrical industry, for example, was founded by Thomas A. Edison, a man who spent his entire life looking for better ways to do certain things; and today the people of your electric company carry on in the Edison tradition. They belong to the great army of workers—engineers, scientists, linemen, managers and many others—who give the United States the finest, cheapest electric service in the world. Yet they continue their tireless efforts to improve the quality of electric service and to reduce its cost.

Within the last fifteen years, these employees have done their work so well that this company has been able to cut the unit price of electricity just about in half. That means you can now use electric light, a radio, electric refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and toaster for a total operating cost very little, if any, higher than you used to pay for light alone.

The aim of your electric company's employees is always to give you better service at less cost. Foremost in their minds is the thought, "Something ought to be done about it."

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, May 22.—BUSINESS—Far overshadowing all other factors in the business situation is the seemingly unanimous decision of the American people to go ahead with an unparalleled re-armament program. Though there may still be differences of opinion about Uncle Sam's proper role in the European war, its lightning spread through the low countries and the revelation of the terrible efficiency of the Nazi machine—especially the demonstration of what aerial might can accomplish—have crossed the U. S. to the need of gigantic preparations for our own defense. Stepping up our war-materials industries to the contemplated levels will bring some sort of boom. But it will be spotty, of course, and there will detracting and counter-balancing losses of some other forms of industry—and further restrictions on exports of peacetime goods, including agricultural commodities. There will be new debt and tax problems, likewise, to detract from the normally happy effects of increased industrial activity. But, come what may, America is going to get ready.

WASHINGTON.—It seems certain there will have to be some relaxation of the maximum hours-per-week restrictions on skilled labor if we are to go into 24-hour-a-day production on Army and Navy contracts, as President Roosevelt has asked. Because of the shortage of skilled labor the shipbuilding, machine tool and aircraft engine industries cannot very well establish additional shifts for round-the-clock production. In a number of processes the "shift" arrangement is not practical because work must be carried through to completion by the same technicians who begin it. These industries, which for some months have been far and away the most active, have had to pay heavy overtime wages because of this shortage of skilled labor. It would not be surprising to find a system of training factory-schools being set up before, long with close government-industry cooperation, in an effort to speed training of skilled and semi-skilled workers in these trades.

CAREER SERVICE.—The two major obstacles to a "career civil service" in American municipalities are the requirements of residence, and unqualified permanent tenure of office, according to the National Consumers Tax Commission. The commission, which has 5,000 local study groups of women, urges removal of these obstacles in the interest of efficiency and economy. NCTC women assert that theory of "home town jobs for home town boys" limits civil service employees to opportunities offered by their home towns and thus eliminates many able persons from entering the service. Permanent tenure may protect employees from the "spoils system," they grant, but say it also protects the jobs of the inefficient. The women are urging their cities to adopt civil service but without this pair of harmful but common provisions.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR.—Men's hats that have a "built-in" angle—that is, the crown is built a half-inch higher on one side than the other, so that even if it is worn squarely on the head, it will have that "oomphish" or would it be? angle . . . a small, portable sandpapering machine for refinishing high-chairs, tilt-top tables and things around the house—runs by electric motor and has an endless belt of sandpaper . . . giant-screen television—really giant, that is, 9x12 feet—predicted to be ready in another three months, by David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation, and likely to be installed in movie houses . . . a miniature, hydraulic self-starter for small airplanes—weighs only 15 pounds and as big as a coconut . . . ash trays that have notches at the side just the right size and shape to extinguish any neglected cigaret when it burns down to that point—available in either glass or pottery.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."

British Troops Hailed as 'Saviours of Belgium'

Although many other pictures have appeared since that day, none tells more clearly than the above the enthusiasm with which the Belgians welcomed the first appearance of British troops to combat the second German invasion of their country in a quarter of a century. This picture was among the very first radioed on that historic day.

PROBE PORPOISE FOOD HABITS

Indications are scientific research will disprove a contention which has long been made up and down the Texas coast—that porpoises should be killed out because they eat millions of desirable fish such as trout, redfish and salt water drum. Investigation of porpoises by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission's marine biologist have been carried on some weeks at Freeport. They will be continued a year.

The biologist has found no evidence of porpoises eating game fish. He has examined the stomach contents of 16 of these mammals which were killed by the owners of Mills Wharf. Examinations to date show that the porpoises eat mostly mullet and gizzard shad. A puffer and needle gar were also discovered, but no trout, reds, drum or other game fish.

Very little is known of the porpoise and the game department will carry on a comprehensive study. The size of baby porpoises may be surprising to many people. One newly-born porpoise was five feet, seven inches in length. This large size for babies is common with members of the whale group. The porpoise is a small toothed whale.

WOMAN OUTFISHES MEN

It took a woman to carry off the first prize in a fishing contest held at Lake Kemp recently. Crappie fishermen have been struggling through ten annual Wichita Valley fishing derbies with a three-pound crappie as their goal. Mrs. Elwood Hackney of Knox City, Texas, shattered the male ego of that section when she came in with a three-pound, twelve-ounce crappie. Many bass weighing, five, six and seven pounds were caught during the contest.

CASTING CLASSES GROWING

Each year sees another school or so adding classes in bait and fly casting to their curriculum. Rice Institute of Houston is the latest. There, Andy Anderson is conducting a class in which more than fifty boys are studying the fine art of casting. Andy mixes in a lot of conservation education along with the demonstrations.

Jack Sparks, several times world all-around casting champion, is again teaching a large class at Baylor University, Waco. This is the third year Sparks has had a class there. Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene also has a casting class. The Baylor and Hardin-Simmons classes are composed of both young men and women.

MINNOW SHORTAGE FORECAST

A shortage of minnows on some of the big lakes in North Central Texas has put a lot of people to thinking about something the executive secretary of the Texas game department has long been advocating—that being the controlling of the taking of minnows from the lakes and streams of Texas.

So acute is the shortage reported to be in North Central Texas that the prediction is being made that minnows will cost two cents each before the middle of the summer.

With seiners being allowed to take minnows from the lakes and streams of Texas and allowed to transport them out of the state, as they are under the present statewide law, there is bound to be a shortage. Not only does that make it expensive for Texans to purchase minnows, but seining of minnows takes from the waters of Texas a badly-needed food supply for those bass and crappie you so heatedly desire to catch, the executive secretary of the game department points out.

Other states have found it necessary to clamp restrictions on the seining of minnows and the answer to the problem in those states has been the operating of minnow hatcheries. Those hatcheries are producing excellent minnows, mostly steelbacks, which are best for most types of fishing, and producing them as cheaply as they can be seined and sold to sportsmen.

WATCH FOR RATTLERS

This is the time of year when rattlesnakes leave their holes and sportsmen are warned by the executive secretary of the state game department to be on the lookout for them, especially on the sunny side of hills.

Rattlers generally hibernate in Texas during the winter months, but Aaron Gold of Fredericksburg learned to his sorrow that not all of them do. He was struck in the leg by a huge rattler late in January while walking through a pasture. He was treated by a Fredericksburg physician and recovered.

Snakebite Warning Issued By State Health Department

AUSTIN.—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of them result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediately vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out:

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about a minute at a time.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

Do not run or get overheated do not take any alcoholic stimulants, because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise serves to distribute the poison much more rapidly through the body.

Do not injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

Do not depend upon home remedies or so-called snake-bite cures, but call a physician immediately.

Remnants of World War Form Interesting University Collection

AUSTIN. — "Knitting needle warfare," carried on by Texas women in 1914-18 is subject to examination today in the University of Texas library.

Hooded coats, sweaters and woolen stockings remain as souvenirs of American sympathy for the over-run Belgians and as samples of the clothing knitted by Texas mothers for sons fighting in France.

Beside the clothes, thousands of books, posters, pamphlets, tags, buttons, war music and other civilian war gear have been added to the collection which has been broadened to include patriotic broadsides from England, France, Italy and Germany.

"The Navy Needs You! Don't Read American History; Make It!" one typical American poster reads.

Eleven thousand photographs of war scenes and equipment are in the collection, which also contains nine hundred pieces of patriotic music of the war, given by American music publishers.

Based on the files of the state council of defense and containing those of many similar county organizations, this official Texas War Record Collection was originated in 1918 by the University library in an effort to preserve the record of every individual and family in Texas "who contributed actively to the winning of the war."

The newly-weds had just got off their train.

"John dear," said the bride, let's try to make people think we've been married a long time."

"All right, honey," was the answer, "you carry the suitcase."

TEXAS PRESENTS JOHN GARNER

John Nance Garner, the farm boy who became the greatest Vice President since Thomas Jefferson, will be officially presented to the nation by his native Texas this month as a candidate for President of the United States.

Patriotic Texans will assemble at precinct conventions next Saturday, May 4, and at county conventions the following Tuesday, where delegates will be chosen for the state convention. It is expected that they will adopt resolutions endorsing the Roosevelt-Garner administration and urging the nomination of their favorite son as the President's most logical successor.

Unlike the favorite-son candidates of most states, John Garner is a leading choice for the nomination. His unexampled public record makes him the most unique statesman of our time. Not only is he the only living man who has presided over both Houses of Congress, but he is the only Southerner who has been elected to a national office by a vote of all the people of the United States since before the Civil War.

Because of his liberal record, rural background, and unquestioned Americanism, political observers in Washington believe he is the best bet to carry the Democratic Party forward to victory this fall.

789 Tex. Schoolboy Grid Teams In Fall

AUSTIN.—By the first kick-off whistle next fall 784 interscholastic League football teams—170 more than three years ago—will be scrambling across Texas gridirons. R. J. Kidd, University of Texas League director, has announced.

In 1937 the state grid picture was: A class, 105 teams; B, 388; C, 121, total 614. Following this year's re-classification of teams according to strength parities, the breakdown reads: AA, 104; A, 290; B, 255, and the small school's 6-man football, 135; total 784.

The 30-year old organization has fostered football competition since 1921 when less than 100 schools had organized schedules, when eligibility rules were unheard of and coaches themselves played, Kidd recalls.

The pastor has begun a series of doctrinal discussions at the Sunday evening services. Last Sunday we discussed the subject of Justification and next Sunday evening will speak on Adoption.

A fine group of 18 men met at the church last Tuesday evening for the Brotherhood meeting. Next Tuesday the meeting will be given entirely to entertainment in charge of Ernest Dunlap. The men are urged to attend and bring a friend.

You have a cordial invitation from the membership and pastor of this church to worship with us in each of our services.

Mr. McCook was a member of the Abilene Christian college football team and was team captain during his senior year. However, he will not be designated as assistant to the high school coach, an arrangement which was in effect during years past when Jake McCulley held the Mexican school principalship, Supt. Denham said. It has been decided to divorce these two positions.

Miss Eleanor Neal, whose home is in Huntsville, Texas, has been named to the position of teacher in the third grade. Miss Neal, who has had five years teaching experience, comes here from Odessa, where she has been teaching the past year. Previously she taught two years in the Huntsville schools and two years in Balmorhea. She is a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers' college at Huntsville.

Miss Martha Hersey of San Angelo, a sister of Lewis Hersey, who ranches in the northwest section of Crockett county, has been designated as teacher of language arts in the Mexican school. Miss Hersey received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Rice Institute at Houston with the class of 1939. She has had no teaching experience.
