ABOUT COLLEGE

Young people all over the country are graduating from high school this spring and pointing toward college next Fall. Many parents who have had to wring a living from a competitive and sometimes reluctant world want better things for their children, and are willing to make whatever sacrifices are needed to send their sons and daughters to college. So it has come to pass that the usefulness of a college education is more or less taken for granted.

Some boys and girls go to college without a clear idea of why they are there. A few consider it four years of fun, others look upon it as an ordeal to be endured. Many go because it happened to be the next thing on the program.

Whatever the motive of the student, a college education is generally more gain than loss. There's no place on earth where more bad habits can be formed in so short a time and more false values absorbed. On the other hand, college is a place where a boy or girl can grow taller, inside and out.

Survival in the modern world seems to demand a more informed mind, a more effective skill in one's calling, and a sterner moral fiber. A college education can help provide these things; but the spending of four years there does not guarantee them.

It is often assumed that every lad who gets his high school diploma is automatically ready to choose a life's work and begin the next day to be a productive member of society. This assumption is a little broad. Scores of young people finishing high school have not the slightest interest in doing anything specially. The vocational part of their lives just hasn't been born. They know they want to live, broadly, happily, and zestfully,—and that's about all. Most of them in time will develop an interest in some calling, a few never will.

What is one to do when he finishes high school and doesn't know what he wants to do next? If he is fortunate enough to have parental support for a college education, a good decision is to enter college and take what is called "an academic,"—or a liberal arts course.

A liberal arts course is a vague description of a pretty useful thing. It means to learn how to express your ideas effectively by word or pen, to know what has happened in the past, to understand better the relationship between people and the things with which they must always live, such as numbers and various forms of matter. It means learning something about your government, knowing how other people live and get on, learning to share in and contribute to those universal values of mind and spirit which are the common treasure of us all.

That doesn't sound exciting? Well, ask someone who had a chance to get it and didn't. Pick out a middle-aged friend who could have gone to college but passed it by. Ask him to tell you truthfully and confidentially how he feels now. Ten to one, he'll say, "Man, if you have a chance to go to college, by all means do it!"

Whatever you decide to do later for a living, a liberal arts course will help you to do it better. It will help you to enjoy things you otherwise wouldn't understand. It will help you find more meaning in life. It will push out the walls of your mind and heart, making your word bigger.

How is one to find the right college to attend? The question of "which College?" is not as important as whether to go. But if you're going, why not pick the best you can afford?

Which is the best? It's safe to say that the best is likely to be one with a long and respected tradition behind it, one that has prestige and recognition from the national accrediting agencies.

Junction Eagles Cop Second Annual Ozona Track Meet

Many Records Fall In Competition Here Saturday

Junction Coach Bob Short's well-manned track team copped the second annual Ozona Invitational track meet reeled off at Lions Field here last Saturday. The winning Eagles amassed a total of 26½ points to top all the other 11 contending teams.

The McCamey Badgers emerged in second place with 21½ points with Iraan a close third with 21 points and Llano in fourth place with 19. Sonora finished fifth with 16 points and Ozona and Eden tied for sixth with 9½ each. Others in order were Melvin, 9; Rankin, 8; Menard, 6; Big Lake, 6; and Eldorado 2½.

The fine meet, run off with precision by director and Ozona track Coach Charles (Chick) Womack, drew nearly 200 athletes and coaches and many visitors from the competing towns, and served as a powerful "shot in the arm" to interest in track in this area.

Evidence of an upward surge in interest in track was pointed up by the fact that ten records set in last year's inaugural running of the meet were smashed by this year's athletes, and an eleventh was tied.

Bobby Locker of Iraan won individual high point honors with a total of 11½. Watkins of Llano was second with 10½, Larry Lewis of Ozona and Abilez of Junction tied for third with 6½ each and (Continued on Last Page)

Cage Egg Producers Turn Down National TV Broadcast Plan

In prosperity or in adversity, Ozona still unaccountably attracts the agencies of national publicity, all without benefit of chamber of commerce seeking.

The town which was written up by Harold Martin in the Saturday Evening Post under the title, "Millionaire's Town," now would appear in a National Broadcasting Co. Television broadcast in the role of rugged westerners battling adversity by creating a new industry to overcome the ravages of four years of searing drought.

An NBC-TV photographer asked permission to film a story on the cage egg production projects in Crockett county, the industry to which ranchmen have turned in an effort to beat the drought. Perhaps the TV man envisioned the prospect of photographing the bleached bones of drought starved cattle sprawled on the edges of dried up water holes, dune covered fences and empty corrals, in contrast with mammoth, thriving egg factories springing up amidst the desolation.

But the egg producers didn't appreciate the drama of the situation and turned thumbs down on the proposal.

James Baggett To Seek Election As Commissioner

Precinct 1 Resident Is Candidate For Commission Posts

James Baggett, native Ozonan, ranchman and one of three big scale caged layer egg producers in Crockett county, this week authorized announcement of his candidacy for county Commissioner from Precinct 1, subject to action of the Democratic primary.

Mr. Baggett's announcement as a candidate for Precinct 1 commissioner raises to four the number of announced candidates in that precinct and he becomes the 18th candidate for a place on the four-man Commissioners Court of Crockett county, to be nominated by the electorate in this summer's primaries.

Mr. Baggett is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, serving his second term in that uncompensated public service position.

"I have no reform program to offer as a candidate for Commissioner," Mr. Baggett said, "but I have lived a lifetime in Crockett county and I believe I am familiar with its needs and qualified to serve on the Commissioners Court. If I am elected, I promise to give the most careful consideration to all matters coming before the court and to let the best interest of Crockett county and all its people be my guide in every decision."

"I plan to see in person as many voters in the precinct as possible between now and the election. But in the meantime, I will appreciate your careful consideration of my candidacy and let me assure you I will be grateful for all the support and help I can get."

7 Candidates In Running For School Trustees

Four To Be Elected In Balloting Next Saturday

With the filing by petition of three more candidates for district school trustees, the field was widened last Saturday to a total of seven in the running for four places on the Crockett Consolidated Common School District board of trustees to be filled by voters in the annual trustee election here next Saturday.

Three new candidates were assured places on the ballot when voters petitions were filed with County Judge Houston Smith last Saturday, the final day for petitioning a name on the ballot.

A petition was filed for a fourth new candidate, Boyd Clayton, but Mr. Clayton withdrew when the question was raised as to his eligibility to serve under the attorney general's ruling that a director or stockholder of a bank serving as school depository may not serve as a member of the district school board, Clayton is a director of the Ozona National Bank which serves as depository of school funds.

Still another petition was presented by a group of signers in Todd Field seeking to place the name of Quebe Alford of Todd Filed on the ballot, but the petition, presented late Monday afternoon, was one day late and could not be accepted. The law requires the petitioning of names on school trustee ballots to be filed five full days before an election, excluding the day of the election.

The three new additions to the ballot were Dempster Jones, Clay Adams, and Jess Marley.

Previously announced candidates are Nip D. Blackstone and R. L. Flowers, both present members of the board whose terms expire this year. Two other candidates were filed by petition of friends last week. These were Hartley Johnigan and Ezra Trotter.

School trustee elections in the past have been held at only one voting place in the county, at the courthouse in Ozona, but this year, at the request of residents of the Powell and Todd Fields and Power Plant, voting places will be set up in these areas as a convenience to residents, Judge Smith said. The other voting place will be at the courthouse in Ozona.

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1954

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Graham spent the week-end visiting in Austin and Gilmer.

Work is nearing completion on a face-lifting for the front of the Smith Drug and Roy Parker buildings.

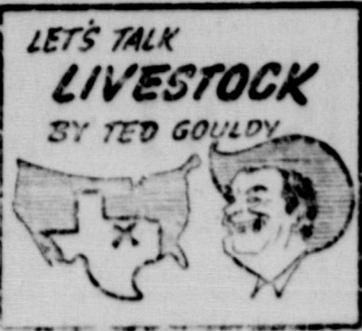

Lonnie Smith of Ozona was hospitalized in Crane Sunday for treatment of injuries suffered in a one-car accident on the highway near Crane. Mr. Smith was to have been released from the hospital today to return home.

Mrs. Batts Friend is in San Angelo at the bedside of her father, Sheriff B. W. Hutcherson of Sonora, who is seriously ill there.

Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Sr., is visiting this week in Houston.

Mrs. Robert Meybin of Roanoke, Va., the former Dixie Davidson of Ozona, who has been seriously ill, is reported still improving. Mrs. Meybin is in a hospital in Roanoke.

Mrs. John B. Hemphill of San Angelo, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. A. W. Clayton here, sailed Sunday for a Spring tour of Europe.

On the basis of current prices at Fort Worth, sheep and lambs are selling from $1 to $1.50 per hundred above a year ago, and best fat lambs are $2 to $3 ahead of the closing days of March, 1953.

Hogs are $5 to $6.50 above the same time a year ago, and top hogs at the long end of the advance, with sows $5 above a year ago at this time.

Slaughter steers and yearlings average about 50 cents below a year ago, but most cows sell today $1 to $2 under the last week in March, 1953. Calves and stocker classes are as much as $3 below last year at this time, some stocker cows $3 to $5 under 1953 prices at this time. Bulls are $3 under a year ago.

The cattle and calf trade at Fort Worth Monday was again hit or miss affair with the stocker outlets limited to the better quality steer calves and steer yearlings, and little activity on stocker cows. Plainer stockers generally sold at their butcher values.

Fed steers and yearlings were steady, and cows and bulls were little changed. The narrow stocker outlet was a depressing note in the trade.

Shorn old crop fat lambs hit a new top of $23 at Fort Worth Monday and the run of 15,000 head on the yards was also the largest of the season so far. Spring lambs again topped at $27, equaling the years best.

Good and choice milk fat lambs $24 to $27, and cull, common and medium ilk lambs (including some milk-less ones) sold from $15 to $23. Shorn fat lambs of good and choice grades sold from $20 to $23, while cull, common and medium shorn lambs sold from $12 to $19.

Stocker and feeder shorn lambs sold from $16 to $20.50.

Typin, Shorthand Students To Compete In Meet At Sonora

The typing and shorthand students are ready to go to Sonora April 3 to compete in the Literary events on that date. The pre-tests have all been given and the results determined the team of two who go to represent Ozona in the Typing Contest and the team of two who go for the Shorthand Contest.

The typing contest consists of a 12-minute speed test and the score is determined by adding the net words per minute speed with the accuracy. Darlyne Alford and Sammy Martinez will be the two typists going and Sarah Hicks and Kent Chapman will be the alternates in case these two cannot go.

The shorthand contest consists of a 5-minute dictation at 80 words per minute being given, written down in shorthand, and later transcribed on the typewriter. Wanda Carden and Vivian Trotter will be the two shorthand students going to Sonora with Alena Powers and Barbara Bonn the alternates.

Our school has shown up exceptionally well in the last three years. In 1950-51 Barbara Fields went to District and Regional and State Meet in typing. In 1952-53 Tommy Smallwood went to District and Regional Meet in typing.

We are hoping this year for good luck in both typing and in shorthand and we seem to have as good or better chances this year than ever before.

Dear Mae:

Just think, gal! SEVEN more weeks till school is out! Hurray, Hurray! It seems that nearly everyone got kinda sun burnt at the track meet Saturday, but Mr. Brentz to his sun burn at the tennis courts playing tennis! Brother, you should have seen him Sunday morning at church. He and Mrs. Leath were really red! Oh, yes, Mae, Beverly Day has cut her hair and its really short, and cute, too. Liz and Joyce H. also got their hair cut real short and got it curled! I like all three of the hair do's! They'll be real cool for the hot summer time. Oh, dear! I'm thinking of summer again. I guess I'll have to get back to the fact of realization, that next week is SIX WEEKS TESTS time. Panic! Yea! Six weeks test.

Now for gossip about kids. Sonny and Wanda are going together pretty regularly now. Viv and Ronnie are still going together, as are Jody and Rosie. You remember Rosie, don't ya? She's that "Blonde Lifeless Vitamin Pill." Liz went with Roy M. Friday. I thought that maybe a new romance was building, but she was with Busk H. Sunday so I don't know. Wanda and Mike broke up. I don't know all the scuttlebutt, but it happened! There's a cute new Freshman boy in school. His name is Ken Babb. Music Is Theme For Annual Banquet For Seniors By Baptists

Notes hanging from the ceiling and candles and flowers arranged as lyrics were decorations at the annual banquet honoring the seniors given by the WMU at the Baptist Church.

Mr. L. B. T. Sikes gave the invocation. Rev. Blake Woolbright, master of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. H. R. Mock, WMU President, who made the welcoming address. Kenneth Phillips, Senior Class President, made a speech followed by duets sung by Jeannene Thompson and Wanda Carden. Larry Lewis, as a professor and classical music complete with European accent and rhythm band instruments, was the biggest laugh of the evening. Mr. Earl J. Mead was guest speaker and he told the Seniors to fall in love with life, with your work, with every day.

Junction Cops Ozona Invitational Track Meet, McCamey Second

By Larry Lewis

The Junction Eagles won the Ozona Invitational Meet here Saturday but were followed closely by the McCamey Badgers, Third was the Iraan Braves with Sonora following them. Lona was fifth and Ozona and Eden tied for sixth with 9 1/2 points. Sorry I didn't get the points on the other teams. Melvin was seventh with 9 points.

Locker of Iraan was the high individual of the meet with 11 1/4 points. The boys placing in the finals from Ozona were Sam Martinez who won fourth place in the high jump, Albino Sanchez, who won fourth place in the 440 yard dash, Charles Garlitz, who won fourth in the high hurdles, and Larry Lewis, who won first in the high jump and tied for third in the pole vault.

I don't know too many times that were made but here are a few Locker won the 100 yd. dash with 10.0 flat. Huffman of McCamey won the shot put with 49 feet 7 inches. Lewis of Ozona won high jump with 5'10". Rhodes of McCamey and Moore of Melvin won the pole vault with a 10'6" vault. Bodes of McCamey won the discus with 137'. And that's all I seem to muster up in my little brain.

Fads and Fashions

By Joyce Henderson

Well, spring is here and nearly all the girls are out in their cottons. "Liz" Pearson's new purple skirt and green dotted swiss blouse is very pretty. Darlyne Alford has a aqua squaw skirt and blouse and it is real cute. Beverly Killingsworth's navy blue skirt with white and red designs is seen often here and there. "Loonie" Beall's pink and white blouse, and solid pink twistlene skirt is very pretty, especially on "Loonie". Wanda Carden's new purple and white striped dress. Mrs. Schumann's solid purple blouse and green and purple skirt is very attractive. In fact Mrs. Schumann wears pretty clothes all the time. Jan Jones has a dress which has orange, green, and yellow cotton dress. It is very bright and sure is cute.

Jane Adam's orange boat neck skirt with barefoot prints on it is different. We like the way it looks with a black skirt and wide straw belt. As Shoes go, we like Shirley's natural colored ones with polka dots, and Ann Ratliff's aqua ones with pointed toes and little white bows.

mised him I'd try real hard to learn. . . so, after going to work at 3:45 I made my first mistake at approximately 3:48 1/2! I figured that was pretty good time. It takes our yetts fighter three or four minutes to get in trouble, I can do it in half the time!!

Anyway, we were supposed to print these posters for Ye Old Lariat Tossin' Club, they need a couple hundred. So I run into the back room for a stack of blank sheets. . . I thought they were a hundred of them there, so when we cut them in half there would be an even two hundred, but, ah but, there was only fifty in the stack, the counter on the machine wasn't working (maybe cause I forgot to cut it on) so when it was all over I assured everybody we had all the posters we needed, and them some.

So we clean up the press, throw away the frame, and go melt the lead. Then the next morning some guy calls up on the phone, and wants to know where the rest of the posters were, he'd paid good confederate money for the job, and he wanted action. All of a sudden there are a bunch of hate filled eyes on little me. . . My first goof, but not my last!

So next time you get your copy of The Stockman, and a few of the items in it are in chinese, or Egyptian hyro, hyro—sandscript, don't run down here at the office looking for me cause I won't be here!

On to more exciting news, the Ozona High School baseball team, better known as Hobbaughs Hairly Hustlin' Hornets matched muscles against Montgomerys Massive Maulers last Sunday afternoon. . . the hornets got swatted! Ray Piner was there. . . I've got something about him later.

Anyhow Ber Garlitz swaggered up to the plate, as he planted his muscular toes in the sod (he was n't wearing any shoes, country hither) there were cries of, "You can hit this guy Charlie" and "Good eye Gert"! He went down swinging, bless his little heart. Next came our power hitter, old Harold himself. I wished for a while he would break his bat, over Friday's (Tom Power's head), but we need the bats. He turned, and walked slowly away too.

I finally figured out what was wrong. . . our little second baseman, "yardstick McMullan", was not there to heckle the opposing team! Then, in a whirl of dust, out of the box came the one, the only. . . thing left, Ray Piner. Immediately Greenie, and Shirley slapped the cuffs on Larvin so she wouldn't tear down the back-stop getting down to wipe off the plate for Ray! Poor girl, I'm beginning to think she's got a crush on him. I was over at her house the other day, and her room was filled completely with Old Couden pumps that Ray had once had his hands on. And you know those signs you see on the highway that the Couden stations put out that have a little man on them holding a can of oil? She's got one of them next to her bed with the name "Cuddles" written along the bottom of it.

Back to the game. Ray settled down, waited for the pitch, and just before he swung. Beecher was next up to bat, and I fainted. Next in the line of heavy hitters comes Longoria. There were lots of spectators there, Hack was sitting in his car umpiring first base, and Mr. Hatley was holding up one of the light poles.

Speaking of Mr. Hatley I hear he was swinging his Mace and chain a few days ago, and it came to rest on Silent West. West is no longer Silent. He has sworn revenge on the people in the front office. Speaking of revenge, Larry Lewis is kinda on edge lately. He was out stalking the streets after Mr. Curfew was out. He escaped and a guilty conscience complex has come over him lately—I think he's afraid that he's gonna be eating on the county!

And while the thought of him is still fresh in your mind I would like to tell you a little about the impersonation he did Friday night at the Banquet. No, I won't. He loves to see his name in print so I'll make him suffer, better still I'll make you suffer cause he's bound to come up to you sooner or later with all the details!

But I will tell you a few things about the banquet up at the Baptist church for the SENIORS. It was real nice till Garlitz got hog-gish, and tripped one of the little girls with the hot rolls! Everybody said the speaker was wonderful—I rather enjoyed my speech myself! Wanda, and Jeannene got up and ran through a couple of songs. . . then ran outside to waiting car! But all kidding aside it was a wonderful time, and I will remember it always. I reckon.

After the feed Hugh Dow, Queenie Jeanene, and I all went out to the drive in, and saw Riot in Cell Block II—it was a take off from Panic in shop three!

Well, fans, it looks like mother has dinner ready, we're having a new French Dish, BOWDINI salad, so till next week, eat a french sa'ad.

Grazing Habits Be Used As Guide Range Management

By Bob Scott, SCS

A recent study made by the Conservation Service on grazing habits of cattle, the importance of proper range management was shown in a chemical laboratory. Five samples of grasses grazed by cattle were taken, analyzed for forage value. Along with these, thirty-five other samples, in the same vicinity, but which were untouched by the grazing animals, were analyzed for the same qualities. The cattle grazed beyond a doubt that they were eating. After the results were obtained, all five samples that were analyzed, showed to be higher in nitrogen, phosphorous and calcium, than the ungrazed plants.

This brings to light the value of range management program created by the Crockett Soil Conservation District. Such practices as range deferral and range rotation should be carried out with a purpose of improving the vigor, increasing the number of better grasses which are so highly chosen by grazing sheep and cattle and which have diminished so, as a result of overuse and drought. Real improvement of range is a lot more than getting a cover growing as a result of rain. It means increasing and saving the vigor of valuable grasses and plants. The known formula for accomplishing this improvement, is a thorough knowledge and understanding of range vegetation, plus proper care.

One of the important phases of the Soil Conservation District program in this vast ranching area is to create a better understanding of range vegetation, so that the way to wiser and more level range management.

Mother Goose, Texas Style, Series to Appear Weekly In Stockman

"Mother Goose in Texas," a series of articles on Texas childlore by Ray Wood, whose column, "That Ain't the Way I Heard It," appears regularly in Houston Chronicle, will appear weekly in the Ozona Stockman starting next week.

Ray Wood, who calls Raywood, Texas, home, is an ex-Marine, author, artist, and folk singer, as well as a newspaper columnist. He has been called one of America's most distinguished folklorists. Among his previously published books are "Peckerwood Rhymes," "Mother Goose in the Ozarks," "What Happened to Mother Goose," "American Mother Goose," and "Fun in American Folk Rhymes". In addition to serious studies in law and languages.

According to Mr. Wood, American child rhymes are a continuation of the Mother Goose tradition, which, coming from the old world, has served for the amusement and entertainment of children for hundreds of years.

But, says Mr. Wood, until children's books were available generally in this country — actually a little more than 75 years, only a few of the Mother Goose rhymes of the old world were known, particularly in the West and the South. Those that were known, were often changed to conform to American conditions, and literally hundreds of rhymes had been invented about peckerwoods, jaybirds, possums, houn' dogs, skunks, and even rattle-snakes and dog ticks. And many of these, he asserts, are superior in wit, fantasy, and sheer good humor to the rhymes in the classic Mother Goose, some of which were not originally child rhymes at all, but political satire. They became child rhymes only after the events which inspired them had been obscured by time.

for every individual. If your problem is financial and you must find an economical school, a state school is usually your best choice. State schools do not depend upon revenue from tuition and private gifts entirely, for they are supported by grants from state legislatures. They can give a lot of education for a relatively small amount of money.

In a state school you will contact every sort of person under the sun. It's cosmopolitan, including some of the worst and some of the best. It is open to everyone alike.

Church schools, particularly the large ones, are more likely to feature a student-body recruited predominantly from the upper middle classes. Having no revenue except that provided by tuition, private gifts, and the limited support of the constituent churches it will require you to pay higher fees. You will get less education for your money, but some of the education you get will be of a high quality. You are likely here to form friendships which you will treasure forever.

Whatever your choice, let it be a real choice. Don't attend a college simply because your older brother went there. It might be right for him and wrong for you. Don't pick a college just because others in your town have gone there. Don't pick one only because it is sponsored by the church you belong to.

If you think you know what your calling will be, pick the finest college you can afford that offers the best in that field. If it takes you clear out of the state, then go out of the state.

One college will have a strong set-up in certain forms of engineering. Another will major in journalism. A third will feature teacher-education. Whatever your line, aim at the best.

If you intend to go into some of public services, such as teaching or school administration, politics, law, medicine, etc., pass up obscure little schools that no one has heard of. Aim at a college with a national reputation.

After you have picked the right college, the rest is up to you. A degree from a respected institution is very important in making your first professional contacts and winning the attention of desirable employers. But from the moment you make a record in your first job, that record, not your degree, from then on will be your yardstick.

In some ways life is like a mile run. The start is pretty easy. Each lap seem to get harder. The way you finish the last one seems to matter more than the start. In the first lap of life, what you can do and how well you can do it, seems to be the main thing. But as time goes on and you get nearer the finish-line, what you are inside becomes more and more important. And the ones who cross the finish-line are likely to be the best persons, not necessarily the most capable performers.
