Ozona, Refugio Horses Win In Roping, Reining

Master Cole Shows Top Stud, Jess Koy Champion Mare

Ozona roping horse, Sissy, owned by Vic Montgomery, sure footed mare named Little Hill and owned by John Refugio, took top honors in the performance classes in the final showing of the fifth annual Ozona Registered Quarter Show and Performance Contest Saturday night at the fair grounds here. The show was sponsored by the Crockett County Sheriff's Office.

Bay Powers was judged champion roping horse and Little Nettie Hill won championship honors in reining horse contest. Bay Muggins, roping and reining mare owned by Bud Cox of Ozona won second place honors in both performance events, reserve champion roping horse and reserve champion reining horse. Bay Muggins didn't show off for the roping championship since her owner and she suffered a badly sprained hock in dismounting after a quick race and was unable to complete the run.

With the grand champion and reserve champion stallions came the aged group. Babe Mac C. owned by Buster Cole of Goldsmith first in the aged division and grand champion honors over Bear Joe, second place winner in the aged group, and reserve champion of the show.

With crowded age, however, in the mare showing, Prissy Turner, bred in 1953, and owned by Perry Turner of Water Valley, was judged by Red Lady, an aged owned by Jess Koy of Eldorado for grand champion honors. Prissy Turner was named reserve champion.

Record number of entries, 63, what appeared to be the best of Quarter Horse stock in the Southwest, made the judge's job tough one in all classes. The show was judged by Bob Collins of Wood.

Highlight of the show, from the spectator standpoint, was the open rein contest for children. The West class was divided into junior and senior divisions, the first ages 7 and the senior division 8 through 11, with boy and girl winners in each group selected by the judges.

In the junior division, Hugh Hico, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hico of Ozona, and Sherrie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Rock Springs, were first place winners. In the senior division, winners were brother and sister, Paul and Pam Perchard of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Perchard of Ozona. Pam also won first place in the open reining contest where she competed against boys as well as girls. Paul Hico did no better than fifth in the event, where the girls took first three places, Sherrie Mitchell, second, and Frances Childers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Childers of Roswell, N. M. third.

Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chandler of Ozona was first winner in the western order of places were: Judith Childers, Carmen Childers, Diane Coates, Kay Snyder of Lynn Cox and Vicki Lynn Montgomery, and boys, Sunny Bill Hico, Bob Caruthers, George Bryan Montgomery and Mo. Senior girls, Betty Baggett of Stockton, Juda Beth Collins of Woodwood, Judy Black, Brenda Melvin, Nina Lucille Linderoth, Hico, and boys, Fletcher Childers, Bobby Childers, Abe Caruthers, Jr., Frank Childers of Roswell, N. Tractor Operator Injured In Accident

Both feet wedged by the heavy steel of a dirt moving bulldozer, J. K. Chisum, tractor operator for Ivy Mayfield, endured nearly 14 hours of torture before being finally released by a cutting torch in a freak accident near here recently.

Mr. Chisum became entangled in the moving machinery in some manner, but was able to shut off the machine before being crushed. It was necessary for Mr. Mayfield to go get a cutting torch before the injured man could be released.

Mr. Chisum is in the Crockett county hospital recovering from injuries suffered in the harrowing experience.

Plans Shape For Biggest Colored Rodeo In History

Bronc, Steer Riding Roping Features of June 18-19 Show

Plans are shaping up for the biggest and best all-colored rodeo in the six years history of the Ozona event, set for June 18 and 19 this year. Tom Powers, president of the Ozona Roping Club, sponsors of the annual Juneteenth celebration, said this week.

Colored cowboys, and they come from over the Southwest, will pocket more money than ever before. There will be more entertaining events for the spectators and the largest number of participants and the biggest spectator attendance is in the making for this year's Juneteenth rodeo. Roping Club officials believe.

A feature of the show will be the bronc riding contest, in which the sponsors have upped the ante in added money, $100 added to entry fees for the purse. Still unriden, and fat and ready on a winter of corn and now spring grass is "Juneteenth" the salty black horse who cut his teeth on Pecos country rocks and has defied the efforts of all comers so far to sit aboard while he goes through his fantastic gyrations.

Other bucking stock is needed by the roping club to be ready for the expected big entry list in this event. Powers said. The club has a number of other horses in its string but needs a half dozen or so more. Any area rancher who has an outlaw horse is asked to contact some member of the roping club.

Steer riding, calf roping, double mugging, hair pulling and goat roping are other events on the menu for the two-night show for and by the colored folk. A professional colored rodeo announcer has been employed to announce the show and a top orchestra has been selected to play for the Juneteenth dance Saturday night which will top off the 1954 show. The show will be reeled off each night, beginning at 8 p. m., at the fairgrounds arena in Ozona.

The project will be drilled with rotary to 8,700 feet, beginning June 1. Estimated elevation is 2,885 feet.

Location, on a 640-acre lease, is 660 feet from the north and east lines of 17-Q-EL&RR.

The discovery was finalized in March, 1954, for a daily flowing potential of 1,092.36 barrels of oil plus two-tenths of 1 per cent water. Production from between 8,190-231 feet.

Eight hundred students were awarded degrees at the convocation. To accommodate the large class, the commencement ceremonies were held, for the first time, in Ownby Stadium.

Hickman Returned For Fifth Year As Pastor Here

Methodists Complete Annual Conference In San Antonio

Mrs. Charles Williams, Sr., Mrs. Floyd Henderson and Rev. and Mrs. J. Troy Hickman of the Ozona Methodist Church attended the Southwest Texas Methodist Annual Conference in San Antonio last week. The Rev. Mr. Hickman was appointed to the pastorate of the Ozona Methodist Church for the fifth year.

Very few changes were made in the pastorates of churches in this part of the conference. The Rev. Fred Brucks, who for six years has been the superintendent of the San Angelo District, was appointed the pastor at Kerrville, Texas. The Rev. Eugene Harris, former pastor at Kerrville, is now the superintendent of the San Angelo District. The Rev. A. C. Peterson was assigned to the Methodist pastorate at Junction, in the place of the Rev. William Birkner, who was moved to a church in Austin.

The conference preacher was Bishop Gerald Kennedy. The Houston Area bishop, A. Frank Smith, presided over the conference for the 17th consecutive year.

Among actions of general interest taken by the conference was a resolution recommending the discontinuance of racial segregation in Methodist schools, hospitals, and other institutions, and the change of the date of future annual conferences so that the sessions will begin on Tuesdays and close on Fridays, thus eliminating the time-honored custom of closing on Sundays.

The superannuate relation was granted to a number of pastors who had reached the permissible age of retirement and a class of new ministers was ordained.

A Methodist Youth Rally was addressed by the Rev. Harold Ewing, Executive Secretary of the Youth Department of the General Board of Education.

The Rev. Horace M. King, a former pastor here, was reassigned to his post as Asst. Executive Secretary of the Interboard Council. The Kings will continue to make their home in San Antonio.

Sheffield Hit By Hail As Tornado Skips Over Area

Homes Damaged, Ranch Country Hit By Hail and Wind

Homes and automobiles were damaged in a terrific hail storm which struck Sheffield, 45 miles west of Ozona, early Tuesday evening, but the Pecos county community missed a tornado which skipped over a wide swath of ranch country to the west between Sheffield and Bakersfield.

Heavy rains accompanied the hail in the area and ranches which shared in the moisture without the ice were benefited by the violent thunderstorm activity.

Hadstones the size of golf balls pelted Sheffield, according to Dudley Ingham, whose home there was damaged several hundred dollars by the hail, he said. The hail came from three different directions at three different times in the space of a few minutes, Ingham said.

The hail was reported much heavier to the west and northwest of Sheffield, with possible widespread loss of livestock. Only available report was from the Charley Cannon ranch where the hail is reported to have badly damaged the ranch house and is believed to have caused considerable livestock losses.

The award program was held at Kokernot lodge, and included awards for the outstanding farmer of the region, Roy Jacoby of Fredericksburg, the best comeback farmer, most unselfish service by a non-farmer, outstanding homemaker and other awards.

Essay winners from Ozona were Jane Adams, who ranked in fourth place in the region, Carol Blackstone, in 8th place, Genelle Childress in 12th place and Joe Clayton in 14th place. The local essay contest was sponsored by the Crockett Soil Conservation District.

Bob Scott, local soil conservationist, Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress and Genelle and Gwynel Walker all attended the program and went with a group on a tour of the Big Bend National Park Saturday.

Two More Deep Tests Slated In Crockett Co.

Ellenburger Test On Clayton Ranch East Of Ozona Set

Applications were filed during the past week for two more deep wildcat tests in Crockett County, one on the Clayton ranch east of Ozona and the other on Shannon land in northwest Crockett county.

Dalton H. Cobb of Midland has filed application to drill an Ellenburger wildcat in southeastern Crockett County, 12 1/2 miles east of Ozona and two miles northeast of the Clayton gas field. It will be the No. 1 Clayton Ranch.

The project will be drilled with rotary to 9,500 feet, with operations beginning at once.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of 31-EF-GC&SF.

The prospector is 1 1/2 miles north east of Magnolia 2 Clayton, dry hole abandoned Sept. 5, 1950 at 9,008 feet. The following tops were reported on elevation of 2,488 feet: Pennsylvania, 8,518 feet; Fusselman, 8,628 feet; Montoya, 8,718 feet; and Ellenburger, 8,835 feet.

The project is on a 8,500-acre block of leases, which Cobb secured from Magnolia Petroleum Co. Magnolia retained an override on the block for the drilling of the well. Tri-Service Drilling Co. of Midland has the drilling contract.

Fullerton Oil Co. of Hobbs, N. M., has filed application to drill a deep wildcat in the shallow Shannon field of Crockett County, 28 miles east of Ozona. It will be the No. 1 Shannon.

The project will be drilled to 8,500 feet with rotary, with operations beginning June 5.

"We appreciate the loyalty of our customers who have purchased eggs under our brand", said Baggett and Miller in a joint statement, "and we hope that they will continue to use the locally produced cage eggs, now under the Flying W brand carton."

5-Year Sentence In Forgery Case; Five Are Indicted

Another Gets Suspended Sentence In Oil Field Theft Case

Five persons were indicted, two were sentenced on pleas of guilty, one getting a five-year penitentiary sentence and the other a five-year suspended sentence, in a fast-moving one-day session of district court here Monday with Judge Jim C. Langdon on the bench.

Robert J. Sullivan, from Virginia, was sentenced to five year in the state penitentiary by Judge Langdon following his plea of guilty to an indictment charging forgery. Sullivan pleaded guilty to forging the name of Steve Welch to a check for $156.80. Sullivan is wanted by federal agents as a parole violator and has a long record of criminal arrests, according to Sheriff V. O. Earnest.

Billy O. Williams of Big Lake received a five-year suspended sentence at the hands of Judge Langdon when he pleaded guilty to felony theft and burglary indictments brought by the grand jury. Williams and Melvin C. West, also of Big Lake, were arrested by Sheriff Earnest and his deputies recently in possession of a number of storage batteries. The men were later connected with the alleged theft of a number of oil well drilling bits and big oil field casing thread protectors. Most of the loot, allegedly taken from the Makin Drilling Co. and Continental Oil Co. on a lease in north Crockett county, was recovered, the Sheriff said.

West is being held in lieu of $3,500 bond set by the court. He is said to be under felony indictment also in Reagan county.

Two other indictments, both for swindling by bogus check, were returned by the grand jury. Named in these cases were Winston Carter and Harry May, both of Fort Worth. Carter and May were charged with passing bogus checks while engaged in construction of the Triangle Drive-In theatre here.

1,660 Bbls. Daily Flow For Second World, West Oiler

Cities Service Gets Second Big Producer In Field

The World, West (Strawn) field of Crockett County has gained its second producer and a 3/4-mile northwest extension with completion of Cities Service Oil Co. 1-D Shannon for a calculated daily flowing potential of 1,660 barrels of 44.8 gravity oil plus 10.24 barrels of basic sediment and water, with gas-oil ratio of 2,215-1.

The potential was based on an actual three-hour flow of 207.52 barrels of oil plus 1.25 barrels of basic sediment and water through a 3/4-inch choke and perforations between 8,139-63 feet 8,159-75 feet, and 8,181-87 feet in 5 1/2-inch casing set at 8,204 feet.

Tubing pressure was 250 pounds. Location is in 20-Q-EL&RR, 15 miles southwest of Big Lake.

The discovery well, Cities Service 1-C J. M. Shannon Estate, was finalized March 29 for a daily flowing potential of 1,092.36 barrels of 46.6 gravity oil. Production was from between 8,190-231 feet.

Miss Edna Dudley, aunt of Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Sr., accompanied Mrs. Ingham home from Houston last week for a few days visit. Mrs. Ingham spent two weeks in Houston where she attended Miss Jane Tipton's Master's recital at the University of Houston. Miss Tipton, who will be remembered by many Ozonians who heard her sing at an informal musicale in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell here last year, is leaving Houston soon for New York for an audition with the Metropolitan Opera Co.

Mother Goose In Texas

By Ray Wood

I had a little dog his name was Buff,
I sent him to the shop for a hap'orth of snuff.
He broke the bag and spilt the snuff,
So take one cuff, and that's enough.

The "Little dog" was a common subject for rhyme in the old World Mother Goose lore, being represented by numerous rhymes, only a few of which ever became known in this country. To say that the rhyme quoted above or similar rhymes in the classic inspired pioneer kids in America to make rhymes about their "little dogs", as well as the "houn' dog", would be just guessing. It would have been strange if they had not done so.

Best known of all "little dog" rhymes in American childlore is: I had a little dog, his name was Rover;
When he died he died all over;
All but his tail and it turned over;
Over and over and ten times over.

The little dog, like the houn' dog, was generally a subject for ridicule, being always affectionate, loyal and somewhat stupid, as well as being often more than a little of a nuisance. This rhyme seems of recent origin.

I had a little dog, his name was Tim; I put him in the tub to see could he swim.
He drank all the water and all the soap.
And he blame near died with a bubble in his throat.
Next Week: "I had a little Pony".
Variants of these or similar rhymes will be recorded in the permanent collection of Mother Goose in Texas if sent to Ray Wood at Raywood, Texas.

Trip In Detail - Some Facts And Fancy - Through The Eyes Of 'Phil'

By Kenneth Phillips

I was sleeping on the in my usual corner when er my mommie comes over and nuzzles me gently with her feet in the back of the and the small of my back. nuzzles to arouse me because I deep slumber, in fact you say I was passed out! the big moment comes, we all aboard, and get set- down in our seats for the next thousand miles. Hack hollers at, and then... the bus won't. In the excitement, brother forgot to turn on the keys, all is ready and we hit away at the rubber burn- of 35 miles an hour!

the amazingly short time and a half hours we finally . . . Look's. Here Garlitz, ary want to stop for a break, how to stretch your legs? is voted down by our be- sponsors. Our sponsors on up were Claudius Hackus, and his charming wife. Then fol- lowing with the blank checks was Stocky Stockard, and his wife. Our bus driver was a cute little old man by the name of Racing Brentz, whom we fondly called Loppe. And that about louses their reps up!

Then about six that afternoon we pull up in front of the Sham- rock Hotel. Because Glenn Mac- Carthy isn't there to greet us Dow gets mad, and threatens to catch a bus home. But we let him dangle from one of the flag poles for a- while and he came around to our side. Then some wise guy says, "let's all go swimming!" Oh I could murder the guy that said that. Why you ask? Well I am so much better looking than this life guard they've got, he tried to make a fool out of me. That character must of been on a bird-seed diet, cause all he could do was blow his whistle at me. First off, no more than five on the high board. So I can't jump off the high board. I didn't wanna jump off his old board anyway. So next I trip down to the low one. Here I figure I can do the two and a half I had planned easy. I start out to the end, prepare to get away and tweet tweet! "Lookie buddy, he says, doncha know dat youse ain't sup- posed to jump offa da high bord wit dem swim fins on? Now youse torn around, and get offa dis ting unless you get ridda them fins. . . understand?" Now I ask you, is there no justice in the world for the underdog? Just cause he had a tan, and I didn't, is that any rea- son for him to pick on me? Next I slip silently into the water hop- ing to get away from eagle eyes. I am swimming along, minding my own business when, tweet. Over he comes. "Now lookie fran. I ain't gonna tell youse no more. Elder you stop swimmin around under dat divin board or I am gonna re- move your grotesk physique from dis here premises! Get me, Mac?" Here I can take no more so I climb out of the pool, slip off my fins, remove my under water gog- gles, and lay down my aqua-lung. But it's five o'clock and the pool is closed so I let him go. After all, there's no use carrying a grudge after closing time is there? ? So I went up to my room where

I ordered me a cool, tall, pale re- freshing bottle of . . . Dr. Pepper. Had you fooled didn't I? I had the bell boy fooled too, for awhile. I know I shouldn't of shaved!

Like I said we all went to our rooms. Ducks, Larry and I were all sleeping in the same, er quarters. After playing "Stack the furniture in the bathtub" for awhile we all settled down for a nice night's sleep. Then we arose the next morning full of nothing, and got ready to board our own little gray- hound for the next leg of our trip.

On our first night in New Or- leans we all went out for a spot of fun down in the French Quar- ter. After stopping off at a place called "Pat O'Briens" Duck, Lar- ry and myself dashed over to a place that was rolling called the "500 Club" Here, in pers on dressed in . . . well, anyway, she was in person. We found Lilly Christene! Any friends, if you haven't seen or heard of Lilly out in this part of the country yet, you haven't lived. That poor dumb Larry, we were there four nights, he went to her show five times! Figure that one out. After getting kicked out five times he gave up trying to see her backstage.

And then Wednesday night. . . Ah yes, I'll never forget that night. That was the evening that we went over to Antonies to gobble a $100.00 supper. It was very ex- citing, sitting there in one of the most famous restur . . . restaur . . . cafe's in the world. But really the dinner was really lovely. First we started off with something French. In fact, every thing was foreign. The only thing I recog- nized was a sign they had on the wall, it made me homesick for the M&M. "We always did serve mar- garine, and still do" After finish- ing with the preliminaries we started with the soup. . . ? ? It went under the title of Crawfish Spesull. They brought me this steaming bowl of soup . . . with a bug of some kind swimming a- round inside! I didn't eat mine, I was having too much trouble try- (Continued on Page Four) ing to keep the little monster inside of the bowl.

The following day, which was Thursday, was our last day in our new found paradise. We all went down to the Mississippi River and got on one of those river boats that you go sight-seeing on, you know, the kind that's army surplus? Due to the fact that our Captain was celebrating his twenty-fifth voyage without running aground or into another ship. He broke his record by doing both on our trip! But I can't blame him though, after all, it was raining heavily, his radar was out, and he nearly was! I have written him a nasty letter requesting that he turn in his motor boat operator license. While we were on the boat I noticed the river. Never no never have I seen such a sloppy batch of water. And in the middle of that thing it was nearly two hundred feet deep. That's a long way down for a river.

Then that night was our last night in the French Quarter. Larry went back to his old ringle seat at the 300 Club for one last eye-fall of Lilly. I myself went to bed early that night, you know, being the home loving type of guy anyway.

We had to go to bed early. We all knew the ordeal that was looking us in the face at five the next morning. Somebody had stolen the air conditioner out of the bus, and we were faced with a long hot trip home. But I didn't mind. Garlitz was full of air anyway.

So at five the next morning we all got up, with the exception of Charlie and Gibbs who had stayed up all night reading funny books, and were tired. Finally, at seven o'clock we were all ready to roll so we did. Finally we got to the state capitol Louisiana, here we found that we would have to dip into the Kitty for fifteen extra geetas. Some guy had loused up our 3 1/2' ole water pump. After a few other odds, and ends, we finally pulled into Galveston about six o'clock that afternoon.

Oh it was a beautiful sight with the Buccaneers Hotel full of sea weed up to the second floor. Seems that we had gotten in just as the high tide went out. We were very fortunate in getting a lovely room with a bed. All four of us were very comfortable. You see, I thought there were six senior boys on the trip. They were originally, but Larry went up to Houston to run in the AAU meet, and Duck had to go along with him. He wanted somebody to hold his hand while he jumped. Dow and Charlie went down on the beach, and tried to drown some of the dames on the trip so we would have more room on the bus the next morning. You know what, Shirley floats!

Again we jase, bright and early, and started out on the last leg of our trip. This time we ran to no trouble and got into Ozona about six-thirty. So ended our little trip. We were all tired and worn out, but all agreed that we had had a wonderful time.

And now, I would like to say, and I know that I'm not only speaking for myself, but for the entire class of 34 by thanking Mr. and Mrs. Leath, Mr. and Mrs. Stockard, and Mr. Brentz, our sponsors, and our driver for taking such good care of us and treating us like people. If we had searched the world over we couldn't have picked out five better people. Thanks again. So now friends, till I get back from taking my physical I reckon this is goodbye. I reckon.

Beef Industry To Promote Consumption In Texas

Ft. Worth, Texas — Representatives of the beef cattle industry met here today and created the Texas Beef Council, an organization designed to promote the consumption of beef in the Lone Star State.

The beef promotion sub-committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association was authorized to make preliminary studies to determine the specific needs of a beef promotion program and to make recommendations for organization and future activities of the newly created council.

Representatives of breed associations, commercial cattlemen, and a number of commerce executives and others attending the meeting approved the new organization and pledged support of its future activities.

Promotional materials have already been prepared by the American National Cattlemen's Association and are available to local, state and regional organizations for beef promotional purposes.

Edward Neal of Beeville, explained that a program sponsored by the South Texas Hereford Association raised retail meat sales in that city by 40 percent in one week.

Alpine, Texas — "A Handbook For Teaching Eighth Grade Mathematics With Meaning", is the title of the thesis written by Johnny T. Clark, Jr., principal of Ozona Junior High School. Clark recently received his Master of Arts degree at commencement at Sul Ross College.

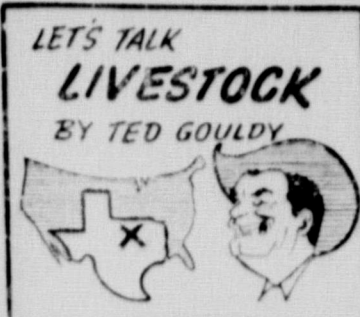

In Clark's thesis, the origin, development and reasoning behind the terms, symbols, and processes involved in eighth grade mathematics are explained and illustrated. An effort was made to supply the interested teacher with adequate information for making eighth grade mathematics meaningful.

Continental Stakes Deep Wildcat Venture In Northern Crockett

Continental Oil Co. has filed application to drill a 9,000-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 16 miles southwest of Big Lake. It will be the I-F Harris Ranch.

Operations will begin when permit is approved. Location, on a 8,421-acre tract, is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of 10-A-BS&P.

The prospect is 1/2-mile southwest of Magnolia J. M. Shannon, wildcat failure plugged in April, 1954, at 8,623 feet.

Forth Worth, May 31. — Major population centers in the Midwest and on the Eastern Seaboard reported movement of most kinds of meat at wholesale and retail levels last week were spotty and disappointing and in the main prices worked lower.

This condition was reflected in prices of most kinds of livestock in lowered prices. The beef trade was burdened with an influx of medium and low grade calf meat from the farms and plantations of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

At virtually all points, packers and wholesalers complained that cattle and calves were making unsatisfactory kills because of the evidence of "grass" finish and fat.

Lamb buyers complained that old crop short lambs were showing more yearling than lamb characteristics and the "horsey" sizes and failures to "break joint" created additional hurdles. Spring lambs were reportedly in rather liberal supply, and off grades were reportedly numerous.

The Southeastern lambs were reported in heavier volume. All of this set the stage for the "June Break" in cattle prices, which on Monday averaged around 50 cents to $1 per hundred, some and some less. On top of the break of a week earlier, this moved prices to levels of a year ago.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $18 to $22, common and medium kinds $12 to $18. Fat cows $10 to $13, a few heiferish kinds to $13.50 and above. Canners and cutters largely $7 to $10. Bulls $9 to $14.50, few higher. Good and choice slaughter calves $18 to $22, all common and medium kinds from $10 to $17.

Spring lambs topped at $24 to $25 locally at Fort Worth Monday and were fully steady at those prices. The fair to good kinds of slaughter Spring lambs sold around $18 to $24, and stocker and feeder kinds, and the lower grade killers sold from $12 to $17.

Old crop short fat lambs of good and choice kind sold from $16 to $17.50, and cull, common and medium killers sold from $10 to $15. Feeder yearling wethers sold around $13 to $14 down and some stocker yearlings and ewes of the white-faced kinds drew $15 to $16 and some black-faced kinds ranged up to $17 to $18.

Slaughter ewes sold at $4.50 to $6, and breeder ewes drew $8 to $12, a few to $15. Old bucks drew $4 to $5, some higher to go back to the country. Two-year-olds sold around $12 down and old wethers cashed at $8 to $11.

"Thanks for your wonderful gift—a Savings Bond!"

Do you know a young couple about to be married? Give them the most appreciated gift of all—a U. S. Savings Bond. So simple for you; no worry about duplications, because duplications of this gift are always welcome! So wonderful for them; because an interest-earning Savings Bond increases in value with time.

Millions have discovered this safe, sure way to save "rainy day" money . . .

Have you a little extra money you're saving for emergencies? Then do as 43 million Americans are doing—put it where it's safe, and where it will work for you—in U. S. Savings Bonds! Bonds pay good interest—an average of 3% compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity. They can go on earning interest for as long as 19 years 8 months if you wish, giving you back 80% more than you put in!

You'll find, too, that you aren't so tempted to spend the money when it's invested in Bonds. Yet, should an emergency arise, your money is readily available.

Best of all, your money is safe. Cash destroyed is gone forever. But if your Savings Bonds are lost or destroyed, your Government will replace them free of charge.

Get into the habit of putting that "rainy day" money into Bonds. And—if you have a particular savings goal, find out about the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.
