THINGS WORK TOGETHER FOR GOOD

The pastor of a church in Central Texas, who was stricken with heart attack, recently wrote this to his congregation:

I am now in my third week of convalescence as ordered by my doctor to give my heart a chance to rebuild what was damaged or broken. It seems that the heart is making the best of it, and is becoming stronger and better with each day, so that at this writing I am without pain or the shortness of breath, and feel much stronger, and am greatly encouraged over my improvement.

A confinement like this has its hardships, also. In many years I have had the chance to quietly meditate about life and its meaning, and to God and His revelations through Jesus Christ. I think that God and Christ mean more to me now than they did before.

I have been living too fast for my soul to hear what God has been wanting to tell me. Of late I have heard the voice of God, but I could not hear it in the rush and noise of the world. The Psalmist knew where he was speaking when he said, "Be still, and know that I am God." It is in the still, quiet moments that we hear his voice speak clearly to us.

I have in these days come to appreciate the words Paul wrote in prison, "I want you to know, brethren, that what has happened to me has really served to advance the gospel." I am doing fine and hope to be with you after a little rest.

He runs the testimony of my soul, delivered from his bed, saying that men have always found in times of loss, that how things have a way of working out for the good, if only we love God and trust His will.

Soon or late, some illness and trouble comes to each of us. If we can see the hand of God in working for our ultimate and best good, then no matter how difficult it may be, it isn't all loss.

When we are well, the events of life seem to shove us along from day to day, and somehow we get a touch with God. Then one day a blow lays one of us low, and from a bed of helplessness a night of despair, we find our lives changed; we find little things becoming causes for thanking and some big things suddenly unimportant. We feel strangely thankful for small blessings. Our loved ones seem closer now, and more precious. Our friends stand out, clear and dear.

But best of all, such a one hears still, small Voice speaking to him in his heart. And because he is helpless or in despair, he can listen. And what he hears those hours may change him for the rest of his life.

In the rugged teachings of the Bible are these true words: "My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor lose courage when you are punished by him. For the Lord disciplines him whom he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives."

Perhaps God, if He could, would rather speak to us in more pleasant ways. But sometimes He cannot get our ear. Sometimes we are not still and know that it is God, until something happens to us and we are still.

If we can love God and seek to will above our own, all things will indeed work together for good.

Former Stamford Hospital Manager Takes Ozona Post

J. E. Post To Become Business Manager On July 1

Effective July 1, J. E. Post, who has been business manager of the hospital at Post, Texas, will become business manager of the Crockett County Hospital, succeeding C. A. Woody, who resigned last month.

Mr. Post was employed following interviews here with members of the hospital board and the Commissioners Court. He and Mrs. Post will move to Ozona within the next two weeks and will assume his duties on July 1. Employment of a laboratory technician is being considered by the board but no decision has been made.

Preliminary plans are now being prepared for the new hospital, soon to be built on a site donated by Dick Henderson at the northwest edge of Ozona. John Linn Scott, Austin architect, is being considered by the Commissioners Court and board for employment as architect on the project, and is drawing preliminary plans for final consideration by the court. While investigations are under way of buildings designed by Mr. Scott, the county has a tentative agreement with the architect which is to be made final only after the court is satisfied with his qualifications. The Scott firm has designed and supervised construction of hospitals in the class of that to be constructed here at San Saba, Sterling City, Hempstead, Karnes City, Carthage and other places.

Voters of Crockett county recently approved a $200,000 bond issue for the purpose of building a new county hospital. The bonds have been sold and as soon as the court and board can reach an agreement on employment of an architect, plans will be prepared and the way paved for letting the contract for construction of the building.

When the new hospital is complete, the present hospital will be converted to use as a court-house annex. Usable equipment in the hospital will be moved into the new structure.

Delays Hinted In Flood Application In Washington Mill

Questionnaire To Be Completed By Local Agency Next Step

Washington, D. C. (Special)—Flood control relief for Crockett County was the topic under discussion here Tuesday as Congressman J. T. Rutherford of the 16th Congressional District and officials of the Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service met for a lengthy conference.

At the termination of the conference between Rutherford and H. N. Smith of Temple, State Soil Conservationist, the Congressman said he was "pleased with the cooperative attitude of Mr. Smith." But, Rutherford added: "There is much work to be done before any actual construction may be done on the Crockett County project."

Smith told Rutherford that he felt some of the people in Ozona "feel that action will be taken somewhat earlier than is possible."

"The state has approved the Crockett County application," Rutherford said, "but actually this was done merely to save a priority spot for the project."

Rutherford explained that if the project had not been officially approved within 45 days after application. (Continued on Last Page)

Colored Cowboys Gather For Annual Rodeo Sat. & Sun.

Saturday Night, Sunday Performances Are Scheduled

Colored cowboys in the immediate Ozona area are giving the livestock a workout this week as they polish up on their roping and riding in preparation for the seventh annual All Colored Rodeo, sponsored by the Ozona Roping Club and to be staged at the Ozona Fair grounds arena next Saturday and Sunday, June 18 and 19.

And word has reached local promoters that the colored punchers from all over, from east and central and south Texas, from all over West Texas, from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona, all will converge on Ozona this week-end to try for the mountain of gold the Roping Club has piled up for the winning contestants.

The colored folk, cowboys on horseback and visitors and local folk in cars will stage a downtown parade Saturday afternoon to herald the opening session of the big rodeo Saturday night. To avoid an over long program Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, the jackpot goat and calf ropings will be run off ahead of the scheduled show opening times.

Events in which both the mounted punchers and wives and girl friends can participate include bareback bronc riding, Brahma bull riding, goat hair pulling, double mugging and calf roping. There will be a free barbecue dinner at noon Sunday at the fair grounds platform for visiting and local colored folk.

The first of the two-day spectacle will open at 8 p. m. Saturday night and the second session will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday.

As always, a feature of the show will be "Juneteenth" a little black bronc who in two seasons with the show has never yet met a rider, white or colored, who could sit longer than a few jumps on his back. Juneteenth has gained some weight and size and is in tip top shape to maintain his un-sullied record out of the bucking chute in the coming week-end rodeo.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Cool Weather Helps Prices

Fort Worth — The rains and cooler weather that are helping parched and blasted Texas ranges recover have put a firm prop under cattle prices in this part of the country. Abnormally cool weather in the Eastern United States has kept consumption of meat at high levels in that area.

So the cool, cool opening weeks of June have been doubly delightful for livestock folks.

Cattle Prices Strong

Usually on a mid-June Monday the market reporter is about as cheerful as a professional pallbearer. It is the normal thing for us to use words "weak", "dull demand", "prices sharply lower", and movement "sluggish".

However, Monday at Fort Worth cattle started moving to the scales early and prices were fully steady. In fact, some cows were 25 to 50 cents higher. Stocker calves and yearlings of high quality were stronger, and very scarce. Slaughter calves were steady. Bulls drew fully steady prices.

Prices included: good or choice fed steers and yearlings $19.00 to $22.50; medium and lower grade yearlings and heifers $12.00 to $18.00. Fat cows $11.00 to $14.00, a few higher; canners and cutters $7.00 to $11.50. Bulls $10.00 to $14.25. Good and choice slaughter calves $16.50 to $20.50; cull, common and medium slaughter calves $9.00 to $16.00. Stocker steer calves $16.00 to $23.00; steer yearlings $14.00 to $21.00; stocker cows $8.00 to $13.00. Heifer calves and yearlings in stocker flesh usually sold $2 to $3 under comparable steers.

Spring Lambs Weaken

Spring lambs opened steady to 50 cents lower Monday at Fort Worth. Top was again $22 on the best milk fat lambs, but the price was paid sparingly. Old crop yearlings lambs were steady at $16 down. Stocker, shorn wethers lambs sold from $12.50 down, but straight bunches of yearlings ewes again reached $15 to $16. Feeder type Spring lambs sold from $15 down.

A FAMILY MIXUP

Sometimes the grimlins pull down the blinds on a well-meaning editor's mind and cause no end of mix-ups. And so, just in case you may have been somewhat confused by our confusion of members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perner, Mrs. Perner visited in Dallas and attended graduation duated with honors and was made a member of the National Honor Society. Mrs. Wilson and Joan accompanied Mrs. Perner to Ozona for a visit. While away, Mrs. Perner also visited another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Allen in Sherman.

Mrs. O. D. West suffered a broken leg in a fall at her home early this week. Mrs. West slipped and fell from a chair on which she was standing while hanging window drapes. She is under treatment at the Crockett county hospital.

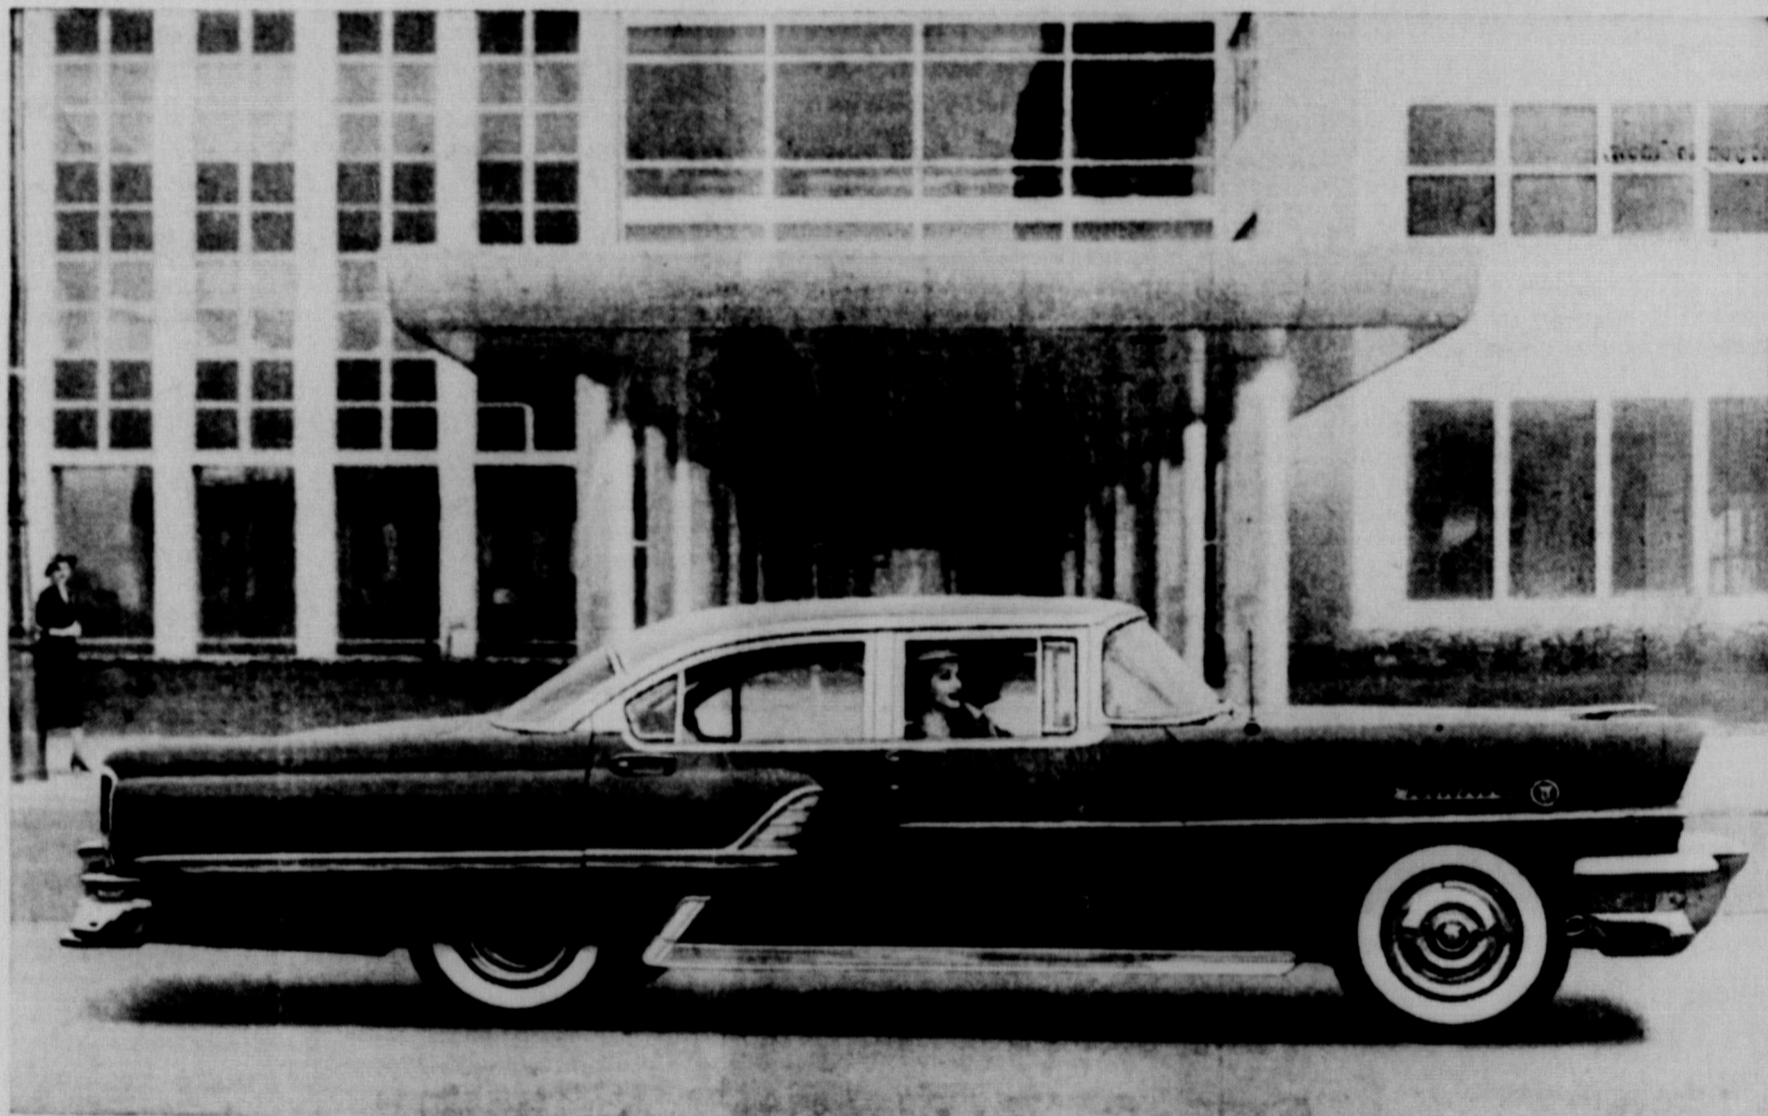

Mr. and Mrs. Gib Armentrout and son, Jim, have moved back to Ozona from Pecos to make their home. Mr. Armentrout is employed with the McCollum Exploration Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strauss of Austin are the parents of a daughter born in an Austin hospital Wednesday morning. The baby, named Janzy, is a great granddaughter of Mrs. N. W. Graham of Ozona.

WATER ROYALTY — Lovely LuAnn Duche, home from college, is ready to reign as Queen of the 1955 Fort Stockton Water Carnival on June 16, 17 and 18. Here she displays the trophy which will be awarded the winner of the "Miss Southwest Beauty Revue" on the final night of Fort Stockton's big annual stage and water spectacle — "The Sky's the Limit". A successor to LuAnn will be chosen on Thursday night from among Fort Stockton beauties. Friday night, June 17, out-of-town girls only will compete for the Miss Southwest crown and trophy, and Saturday night Miss Southwest will be crowned.

Fort Stockton Water Carnival To Feature Best Texas Beauties

Fort Stockton, June — Final rehearsals are underway for the annual Fort Stockton Water Carnival, a famous show staged each June and about the waters of beautiful Comanche Springs Swimming Pool, one of the southwest's best and most beautiful recreation spots.

"The Sky's The Limit" is the name of the colorful and fanciful show which takes the spectators and the world in an evening—to an entertainment typical of the dozens of so lands en route. Shows are June 16, 17 and 18, and a stage show will be given each night.

In connection with the first show, on June 16, a homecoming Beauty Revue will be held with young ladies from 2 to 20 or so in different age groups. Winner of the Senior division will replace Miss LuAnn Duche as Queen, and reign through the rest of the show.

June 17, a colorful parade will traverse Fort Stockton streets at 4:30 o'clock and for the evening show, the All-Southwest Revue is the feature, with entries limited to senior age beauties (16 or older) from area towns. Fort Stockton girls will not compete for the Miss Southwest title.

Saturday night the winner of the Miss Southwest title and trophy will be announced, along with her court, and the final performance of "The Sky's The Limit" will be staged. Special lighting effects are being arranged to add to the beauty of the water and stage spectacles. Ample seats are being installed to accommodate crowds expected from a wide area.

The Fort Stockton Lions Club sponsors the annual show with assistance of various other organizations and the general public. H. F. Giley, retiring Lions Club president, is general chairman, and Mrs. Fleeter Eason is the show director. Mrs. L. A. Willard is chairman of the Bathing Revue Committee.

The First Water Carnival was held in 1936 — Texas Centennial Year — to celebrate construction of a new stone pavilion and bath house. It was continued through the years to publicize Comanche Springs and the attractive new pool which has been built in the spring basin.

Mrs. Bill Conklin and daughter, Nonie Jane, spent the week-end in Sweetwater visiting Mrs. Conklin's sister, Mrs. Nelson Boothe and family. They were accompanied home by Nancy Price, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. Price of Sweetwater, who will spend the rest of the week here visiting the Conklins.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cunnigham had as week-end visitors Mrs. Cunnigham's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Kelley and children, Judy and Jerry, of Tahoka. The Kelleys were on their way home after a two-weeks vacation through the western states. Also guests of the Cunnighams were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kelley and son, Lynn, from Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Story and family from San Angelo. Mrs. Story is a daughter of the Cunnighams.

Handle With Care

Tractors are like horses—or mules—in more ways than one. They can be pretty tricky if you don't handle them right.

Too many tractor accidents happen because of carelessness. The day grows hot and drowsy, the job grows monotonous—and bing! Someone forgets to throttle down when making a turn, or something, and there's a bad spill.

Credit Slim Hartman's misadventure for the fact that there's never been tractor trouble on their place. Midway through every morning and afternoon she brings him snacks. "He'll stay as the alert," she says, "if I get him off the tractor for ten minutes."

From where I sit, carelessness can cause plenty of harm in our off-the-job personal lives, too. For instance, suppose a neighbor prefers a glass of beer with supper. You might not share this particular preference with him—but if you're careless about protecting his right to choose, your own freedom of choice is in danger of being "plowed under."

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin Texas — Now that the legislature has adjourned — all eyes are turned to the next political campaign. It is anyone's guess who will be in the 1956 races, but many are guessing.

Hardly had the gavels of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and House Speaker Jim Lindsey sounded the end of the 54th legislative session, when one widely known political figure took the adjournment as the starting signal for the 1956 races. He is former Speaker of the House Reuben Senterfitt, of San Saba.

Senterfitt was the first announced candidate for Governor in 1954. But he withdrew when his father passed away, and Governor Allan Shivers announced for re-election. He took no sides in the bitterly contested campaign last year, nor in the presidential campaign of 1952.

Senterfitt's announced intention to run in 1956 set tongues wagging about other possible contenders for the Governorship. Mentioned were Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey of San Augustine; Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard of Gladewater; U. S. Senator Price Daniel of Liberty; Associate Justice of the Texas Supreme Court will Wilson of Dallas; Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White of Wichita Falls; and State Senators Otis Lock of Lufkin, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, and Jerry Sadler of Pecos.

Labor publications have said that Ralph Yarborough of Austin will make a third attempt to land the job. He campaigned against Shivers in 1952 and 1954. Capitol talk continues on the subject that Governor Shivers may step out of office before the end of his present term to accept a high federal appointment. This rumor cropped up again after Shivers' first assistant, Maurice Acers, was appointed by the Governor to serve on the Texas Employment Commission.

Should Shivers resign, Ramsey would become governor automatically. He then would have the inside track in the 1956 campaign.

Session adjournment meant that the new tax law and hundreds of other statutes will go into effect on Sept. 6 or 90 days after adjournment.

Completed as one of the session's final acts was a law bringing 30,000 state employees under Federal Social Security as well as the state retirement system.

Another bill permitted college faculty members to enter Federal Social Security coverage.

Laws correcting and tightening up state regulation of insurance, increasing capital and surplus requirements on insurance companies, and subjecting insurance securities to state regulations, were termed probably the session's top achievements.

And the legislature left behind issues which promise to figure in state politics.

It projected investigations into the future on the scandal-ridden veterans' land program.

It failed to pass the key measure of the administration's water program — the $100,000,000 state aid to local projects.

It left untouched the issue of school desegregation.

Glenn Goodson, a brother of W. T. Goodson of Ozona, is here this week visiting his brother and family. Mr. Goodson lives in Drumweight, Okla.

ation it would have been automatically disapproved under the current regulations. So technically, he said, the approval was "merely a way to keep the application on file until such time as action may be taken."

Smith told Rutherford that with-

In the next 30 days the contracting agency — in this case the Crockett County Soil Conservation District — will be sent a four-factor questionnaire to complete. This questionnaire will largely determine the basis of priority, Smith said. (This questionnaire had not been received this week).

After this is completed, then the local agency must accept the cost-sharing basis set forth by the state and prove ability to meet the financial obligation.

"Then and only then," Rutherford said, "may the application be submitted to Washington."

The Congressman said once in Washington the application will be reviewed by the Soil Conservation Service and the Secretary of Agriculture will send it to the Bureau of the Budget. From here it will go to the Congress for action.

Rutherford explained that the bill will be unique in that it will not have to receive an official vote-of-approval from the Congress. He said that unless Congress specifically disapproves within 45 days after the measure is submitted it will go into effect. Congress must be in session when the bill is submitted, under the law.

Smith told Rutherford that he is familiar with the need for Flood Control work in Crockett County and he feels that aid is forthcoming eventually.

"But I do hope the people understand it will take time," he said. He pointed out that 84 applications similar to the Crockett County project have been filed in Texas. Of these, 26 have been approved, six disapproved and the rest are pending.

Smith said that the three projects he brought to Washington this week for action have been 15 months in the process, and that this work cannot be done "without many time-consuming steps."

"Actually," he told Rutherford, "I fear that the impression has been given that much more work has been done on the Crockett County project than has actually transpired."

Rutherford said he is fearful of another flood in Crockett County such as the one which took 17 lives and caused thousands of dollars worth of damage last summer, and he wants to see the project ready for actual construction as quickly as possible. He would keep a "very close eye on the project" to see that application is going through the necessary steps required by law.

Rutherford met with Crockett County officials at the Courthouse in Ozona prior to coming to Washington last December to discuss the flood control situation and corresponded with the officials several times since taking office. He is the 16th District's Representative.
