Game Law Change Puts Open Season On Fur Bearers

Crockett Agreement To Leave Deer, Turkey Season As Formerly

Hereafter it will be open season the year round on fur bearing mammals in Crockett county, while the deer and turkey hunting season dates will remain the same.

This was the provisions of a resolution passed by a group of landowners and sportsmen meeting with representatives of the State Game and Fish Commission at the courthouse here Friday night.

Quail season in this county will be closed for one year, the group decided.

These local option provisions governing game laws, reached by agreement of landowners and the State Game and Fish Commission, as provided by a special law passed by the last legislature, are effective in thirteen Texas counties. Under this law, local people can decide on the changes in game laws from year to year which will best suit local conditions, work to the best interests of the sportsmen and landowners and result in preservation of game. All agreements must be approved by the Commission.

Under the provision for year-round open season on fur bearing animals, trappers and hunters may skin and sell pelts from these animals anytime in the year rather than just in the winter months under former laws. This provision was adopted as a means of thinning the varmint population, which has become a threat to livestock on ranches and to people as well from recent outbreaks of rabies among such animals.

Area FHA Loans Total $649,120 For Ten Months

Heavy Credit Demand By Ranchers Result Of Long Drouth

More than $640,120.00 has been loaned to ranchers and farmers in Crockett, Reagan and Sutton Counties during the ten months ended April 30, 1957, by Farmers Home Administration, the agency's county supervisor, George H. James, Jr., announced this week.

The heaviest demand has been for credit to finance livestock expenses to enable the ranchers to maintain their normal operations during the drought.

During this same ten months period, Farmers Home Administration extended credit in operating, emergency and real estate loans to some 18,500 Texas farmers and ranchers for a total of $54,773,000, the agency's State Director, Walter T. McKay reported. This is an increase over the same period last year of about $6,500,000. "This increase is due primarily to the demand from family-type farmers for credit needed to place their farming operations on an efficient basis," McKay explained. "In fact," he added, "agency records reveal that there has been a slight decline in the demand for emergency credit so far this year. Long-term credit, to develop balanced systems and make full use of resources available, has been extended to a number of operators of family-type farms who previously obtained emergency loan assistance."

McKay and members of his staff are meeting this week with National Administrator Kermit Hansen to go over agency operations for next year. This meeting is preliminary to training meetings to be held for county office staffs throughout the State. The objective of these meetings will be to insure that maximum service is rendered to Texas farmers and ranchers promptly and efficiently.

THE ABOVE brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflow,* a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Duster is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas — Fifth-fifth Legislators will have a shorter-than-usual "vacation." Gov. Price Daniel says he will call them back, probably about October, for a special session.

Final score showed 47 out of 51, or better than 90 per cent, of the governor's recommended bills passed in the regular session. But the missing 10 per cent are vital, says Daniel. He still wants:

1. His law enforcement commission, a sort of statewide grand jury to investigate official misconduct.

2. A lobbyist registration act, registration of persons who represent others before state agencies, and, other "better government" bills previously advocated.

3. A state plan for buying water storage space in federal reservoirs. A constitutional amendment to do this died in the past session. Since amendments cannot be considered in a special session, the governor said he is working on a statutory plan — possibly the creation of a statewide water district with authority to issue bonds and levy taxes.

4. Action on "other matters that may arise" after the Travis County grand jury reports. Jury is looking into any irregularities that might have caused the ICT Insurance Co. Collapse and alleged payoffs to legislators by the Texas Naturopathic Association.

So, instead of the usual post-session lull, the Capitol faces a summer of suspense followed by a frenzied fall.

New Jury At Work — Texas has generated more troubles than one grand jury could see to in two months. Hence, a brand new Travis County grand jury begins this week where the old one left off after digging away all during April and May.

Its study of ICT's past and naturopathic legislation will probably last all summer.

A Dallas grand jury already has indicated Ben Jack Cage, one-time ICT manager, on charges of theft and embezzlement. Authorities are trying to get him returned from South American so he can be tried.

Who, What, Where and When? — Texas' off-again, on-again Insurance Commission is still a prime source of speculation.

Fast legislature passed laws abolishing the old board and enabling the governor to appoint new members. It also directed the commission to move within three years from its leased office quarters in to a building to be erected with insurance tax revenue. And it passed dozens of new restrictive insurance laws for the new commission to administer.

Old board members Mark Wents and John Osorio promptly resigned. But Gov. Daniel refused to accept their resignations. He said they'd have to stay on until their successors were named.

Then Atty. Gen. WHI Wilson ruled the insurance tax revenue couldn't be used for a new building. It goes into the general revenue fund and is already earmarked for other things, he pointed out.

And, until the new commission gets going, insurance men over the state are uncertain as to how to comply in detail with some of the new laws.

Ethics Quandary — Just who should do what to comply with the new code of ethics is still being discussed in the Capitol.

Some 163 legislators and state officials have given the secretary of state statements about their connections with businesses under state regulation. Assets ranged from Cuban oil companies to small town dry goods stores.

Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley said failure to file such a statement could be grounds for removal from office, but that he didn't have authority to enforce it.

New Building Slated — From four to six new buildings are to go up soon, moving toward the eventual creation of a "state government center" clustered around the Capitol. In the offering are:

1. A State Courts Building, now under construction, to cost about

$3,750,000.
2. A State Office Building, for which contracts have been let and site-clearing begun, to cost about $4,000,000.

3. A Central Power Building to furnish heat and air conditioning for the Capitol and other buildings. Authorized by Legislature with directive that it be ready by October, 1936.

4. A State Archives and Library Building for which Legislature appropriated $2,500,000.

5. A Texas Employment Commission Buildings and an Insurance Commission Building. Lawmakers plan each to move from rented quarters, but money for new buildings is not immediately available.

Future Looks Bright For Goat Producer, Says A&M Analyst

College Station — The future looks pretty good for Texas goat producers. Many farmers and ranchers are now combining sheep, cattle and goats on the same range and getting better weight gains with higher monetary returns.

Selection of heavier-fleeced bucks for breeding herds has increased the average mohair clip three-fourths of a pound in 12 years, says Agricultural Economist John McNeely. Value of 1956 mohair, estimated at 13.6 million dollars, compared very well with the 19.9 million dollars for Texas wool.

Texas' goat supply is seasonal and most producers market culls and undesirables regardless of price at the time. There seems to be no short term production or marketing response to high or low prices. Farmers buy or sell goats because of range conditions and mohair price. Packers vary purchase with the spread between goat prices and canner and cutter cows.

About 47 percent of Texas producers sell some goats to neighbors or individual buyers, but over half the total annual volume passes through stockyards and auctions. About 27 percent market goats through livestock auctions and approximately 30 percent use the Union Stockyards San Antonio. Marketing season starts in March and April and is relatively steady through July, but a larger volume is marketed in August, September and October.

Spanish goats produced for meat, brush control or slaughter and stocker sales. Angora goats are raised primarily for the production and sale of mohair, but are also useful for brush control and eventually are sold for slaughter.

Details of the Texas goat situation, compiled largely from a mailed questionnaire sent to farmers and ranchmen in the Texas goat raising areas, are available from the Agricultural Information Office at College Station. Ask for Bulletin 844.

IS EVERYBODY HAPPY?

A Tribute . . .

To Our Hospitals!

Someone once said that all well people should visit a hospital occasionally to see how fortunate they are! When a friend or loved one is being tenderly cared for in one of our hospitals, then we understand the great importance of these institutions. Staffed with doctors, nurses, internes and all manner of life saving equipment, the hospital is mercy headquarters for all who are suffering. We never cease to wonder at the modern miracles performed in our hospitals. Their works go largely unheralded. But their eagerness to bind up wounds and make men whole again goes on forever. What would we do without these havens of healing?

CHARACTER is the basic quality that the credit grantor looks for in deciding if you are a person to whom credit can be safely extended. Your prompt paying habits reflect the fact that you are the kind of a person who respects his word; one to whom a contract is a

It is just as easy to spot an irresponsible person by his poor paying habits.

Mrs. Jack W. Grant

Lois Erwin, Former Teacher Here, Jack W. Grant In Ladonia Ceremony

Ladonia News:

Lois Jean Erwin, daughter of Mrs. Albert A. Erwin, Ladonia, became the bride of Jack W. Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Grant, also of Ladonia, Ladonia, Tuesday evening, June 4, 1957 in the First Baptist Church, Ladonia.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Sandra Kelley, pianist, and Miss Beverly Killingsworth of Ozona, who sang, "Because". The impressive double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend G. B. Bailey before an altar of white standards containing white stock, madonna lillies and Queen Anne's lace. These were flanked by graceful candelabra bearing cathedral tapers, lighted by Miss Sonya Erwin, sister of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white cotton lace street-length gown, cut on princess lines with a party neckline. She wore a matching half-hat and carried a colonial bouquet centered with a white cymbidium orchid surrounded with valley lilies.

The bride was attended by Miss Peggy Moore of Ozona, wearing a bouffant street-length printed silk dress in beige and brown and styled with an off-shoulder neckline. She wore a matching hat and carried a nosegay of white glamelies and stephanotis.

Billy John Grant of Greenville, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Joe Whitley of Honey Grove was usher.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor.

Following a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Grant will be at home on Caddo Street, Greenville.

Mrs. Grant is a graduate of Ladonia High School and East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce. For the past two years she has been an English instructor in the Ozona Public Schools.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Ladonia High School, is now attending East Texas State Teachers College in Commerce and is presently employed with a Greenville aircraft manufacturing company plant.

Mrs. J. T. Keeton has returned from a vacation trip to Herndon, Va., where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Leland Wyatt and family, and in Fort Worth and Dalals with her sons, Joe and Harold Keeton and their families.

Donny and Richard Dwyer of San Antonio are here for a visit with their grandmother, Mrs. S. M. Harwick.

Any Doubts That operations of the Department of Defense should be classified as "big business" must have gone by the wayside during the last few days, as the House considered the department's appropriation request.

About $36 billion, or more than one-half the President's total budget request, is being asked by the Department.

Approximately one-third of the $36 billion requested is slated for Military pay and allowances. One third will go for weapons and equipment such as planes, tanks, guns, missiles, etc. The other third is tabbed to maintain our Military bases and includes expenditures for civilian pay, utilities and the like.

All In All, The United States maintains 1,068 Military bases ranging from small radar outposts to large bases and depots. Of these, 733 are in the United States.

We operate about 48,000 airplanes, nearly 3,000 ships and about 780,000 trucks, cars and jeeps. These machines use some 220,000 barrels of fuel annually, and the fuel bill alone costs $1 billion per year.

The Military services have constructed, and maintain, more than 60,000 miles of roads and streets, and almost 5,000 miles of paved runways from 150 to 250 feet wide. And we operate over 12,000 miles of railway.

Water consumption at our Military bases amounts to about one billion gallons daily. The Military grocery bill is $650 million per year. Our servicemen use 386 million pounds of flour, 300 million pounds of beef, 107 million pounds of chicken, 68 million pounds of frozen vegetables and 60 million pounds of coffee during a 12-month period.

There is no doubt, then, that Defense is big business. The problem facing the House as this is written: how to eliminate the "fats, frills and laces" from the Defense Department's budget, and at the same time not endanger National security.

It can readily be seen that adoption of further "good housekeeping" methods within the Defense Department, and the cooperation of the Services to avoid duplication and waste, is of prime importance to the United States and its people.

In An Effort To avoid useless spending, I have urged the Defense Department on many occasions to utilize Military bases constructed during World War II rather than build new ones, when it is at all possible.

While looking into this possibility, I learned that 380 temporary bases were established in the U. S. as "Army Air Bases" during World War III. Of this number, the Military forces now utilize 186 of them, and 194 have been abandoned.

I realize, of course, that all such bases cannot be used in peace time, as all-out mobilization for war led to their original construction. But I do hope to prevail upon the Defense authorities to use those bases available before investing billions of dollars in new construction.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson has submitted a report to Congress and the President relating to the farm situation. Says Benson, "The outlook is bright for 1957 and agriculture seems to have turned the corner." He also reports that surplus foodstuffs and products are declining, that the storage problem has passed its peak and that total and per capita consumption of food is increasing.

Benson points out that 30 years ago, an hour's take-home pay for workers would buy five loaves of bread compared to 10 at present; that the same pay bought three quarts of milk then and buys seven quarts now, and that the pay purchases two pounds of steak at present compared to one and one-half pounds.

Unmentioned in the report, but known to every housewife and worker: cost of living spiraled upward 4% more during the past year.

Postmaster General Summerfield is at it again. Says he must have more money or "sharply reduce" postal service as of July 1st.

Summerfield's original request this year, to be used in fiscal 1958, was trimmed $58 million by the Congress. Comes the PMG now asking that he be given $140 million more — some $82 million above the original request — to avoid further disrupting normal postal operations.

This is getting to be a habit with Summerfield. Last year Congress reduced his request by $15 million. Suddenly, the Postmaster General announced that he must have $47 million, or $32 million above his previous high estimate, to continue normal services. His demands came only a handful of days before he did curtail the service for one "lost weekend," before Congress voted the funds.

Hardly had Summerfield tucked the $47 million into his waistcoat than he was back asking for more funds, once again threatening curtailment of postal service to the public.

Summerfield, by the way, said he saved $1 million by stopping service during the weekend earlier this year. But reports are that it cost $5 million to dig out of the stacks of mail accumulated, and to get back to normal operations.

Adjournment Date of the 85th Congress is rumored at anywhere from July 15 to August 15. Majority of the membership looks for an adjournment about August 1st.

Most of this session has been taken up by consideration of the budget, and little major legislation in other fields has been acted upon. This means the major, more controversial items probably will be up for action during the second session of the 85th Congress (1958) and should insure plenty of fireworks in that election year.

SCOTTS HAVE SON

Free Booklet Offered On Market Regulations

The Packers & Stockyards Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture has prepared a booklet of questions and answers regarding the application of the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 as Amended, and how it serves the livestock producer.

This is the regulatory act that governs all livestock markets under USDA control. A free copy of this booklet will be sent to the readers of the Ozona Stockman upon written request addressed to: "Livestock Market Institute, 122 East Exchange Avenue, Ft. Worth 6, Texas. This booklet is free on request, postage paid.

It is full of information to livestock producers. A typical question is: "Who benefits from the Act?" Answer: "Farmers and ranchers, for it protects their interests when selling livestock at a market subject to the Act by preventing stockyards, market agencies, dealers and packers from carrying on practices that would injure livestock producers. General Public, for it protects the community with a financially sound and stable outlet for livestock and a good source of meat supplies. Market operators, for it protects their interests from those operators who may be lax in handling their responsibilities.
