Jennyslippers Plan Annual Bar-B-Que

The Jennyslippers will have their annual Holiday Barbecue Buffet on Friday, December 2. The big Jennyslipper fund raiser event will be at the Bailey County Coliseum, beginning at 11 a.m. On the menu are smoked barbecue brisket, potato salad, beans, coleslaw and all kinds of fruit cobbler. Cost of the meal is $6 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 12. Make your plans now to eat with the Jennyslippers next Friday. According to the Jennyslippers, the money makes up the budget for all the projects they do in the community. This annual event is held with the Extension Arts and Crafts Bazaar. Gifts will be available during the two days from local artists and craftsmen as well as many from out of town. The Jennyslippers will have the concession stand on Friday evening and all day on Saturday, December 3, serving barbecue sandwiches, chili dogs, frito pies and drinks. The annual Christmas parade will be held downtown at 2 p.m. on Saturday, December 3, and following the parade, Santa will be at the Civic Center to visit with children and have their pictures made with him. All these activities are scheduled to get the holiday season in full force in Muleshoe, "The Mule-Plex City."

What happens when you mix the Number One football team in the state and the Number Eight football team in the state? Somebody loses!! and, that's just what happened at Lamesa's Tornado Football Stadium Friday night when #1 Christoval and #8 Lazbuddie tangled. Lazbuddie's Longhorns came out on the short end of the stick, losing by 42-26. On their first play from scrimmage, Shorty Montalvo rambled 39 yards for the Cougar's first TD, and after a failed PAT, had a 6-0 lead over the Longhorns, a lead they never relinquished for the rest of the game. Montalvo's TD for Christoval came shortly after Lazbuddie turned the ball over on downs after failing to get in from the Cougar's three yard line. The game was tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter after Scott Miller put the Longhorns on the scoreboard with a 'mistake' that saw Michael Williams lose control of the football on the 34 yard line. It bounced toward the goal line before Scott Miller picked it up at the 15 and raced into the end zone. The PAT attempt failed. Three plays into the second quarter, the Cougars got on the scoreboard again, this time from two yards out, and put the ball through the uprights for an additional two points. Montalvo, who was the workhorse for the Christoval Cougars, then added another TD in the second, and after a blocked PAT attempt, the Cougars maintained a 20-6 lead at halftime, while holding the Longhorns out of the end zone. Penalties and mental mistakes plagued the Longhorns, and the team that trailed Wilson at halftime last week for the Regional title, went into the lockers looking at a dismal 20-6. Christoval, who believed in hitting early and hard, again scored on their first play of the second half as the team from south of San Angelo capitalized on Lazbuddie turnovers. At 7:14 of the third, Michael Williams made it in for a TD from the three yard line, but the TD was called back on a clipping penalty against the Longhorns. Then Christoval intercepted a Williams pass on their own three yard line, and also had a TD called back on a holding penalty. However, they scored with 3:08 left in the third on a three yarder, but the PAT was blocked. Lazbuddie came back at 2:21 of the third and Wes Jarman made it 26-12 when he made it in from the 10. A Cougar returned a Lazbuddie interception 45 yards to paydirt at 4:15 of the fourth and scored again with 2:26 left for their final points of the game. Lazbuddie had two TDs in the fourth, at 2:43 when Eddie Zamora scored from one yard out and Michael Williams added six more with just :26 left in the game, for the final score of 42-26. Regardless of the final outcome of the game, the game Friday night was a credit to Coach C. W. Williams and the Lazbuddie Longhorns. This was believed to be the closest the Longhorns have ever come to a state championship. In the game, despite penalties that hurt the Longhorns, and some mental mistakes, they really 'held their own' against the powerhouse Christoval Cougars. Their record this year was 11-2, making it 21-2 for the Longhorns in the last two years. Before Friday night, their only Cont. Page 6, Col. 6.

Cancer Society Provides Many Local Services

The American Cancer Society in Bailey County announced that it has a variety of services available to cancer patients without charge. "A lot of people don't know about what we can do for cancer patients right here in Muleshoe," said Jim Cope. "And, all we need in most cases is permission from the patient's doctor." Loan equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, walkers, and commode chairs are available, as well as gift items including egg crate mattresses, sheepskins, bed pans, pillows, and other comfort items. "We also try to help patients and their families with literature and information on other agencies," added Cope. "Sometimes they want to know more about cancer or they need to know what assistance might be available here." Cope said that when most people think of the American Cancer Society, they think of cancer research. "It's true that the American Cancer Society puts millions of dollars into cancer research, but we also feel it's important to work with local people and help cancer patients." Anyone needing more information on the services available for cancer patients can call Cope at 965-2356.

Toombs, Wheeler Honored At Banquet

Thirty-nine outstanding members of 4-H clubs across the South Plains were honored in Lubbock on Monday, November

It isn't too late to enter the annual Christmas Parade scheduled for 2 p.m. on Saturday, December 3, according to the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. Entries are still being accepted at the Chamber office.

Danny Noble said the ASCS office will be closed to the public every Tuesday and Thursday morning through December. The office will be open to the public in the afternoon on those days, he added.

Noble said the action is being taken due to the heavy workload for the local ASCS office.

If you know of someone who deserves a "pat on the back" call the Muleshoe CofC and nominate them for Employee of the Month, Member of the Month or Business of the Month. It only takes a moment to call 272-4248, and would mean a lot to a deserving person.

The United Methodist Women will be selling home-baked pies, cakes, breads, candies, casseroles and a variety of other items at their booth in the Christmas Bazaar at the Civic Center on December 2 and 3. Proceeds will be donated to the needs of the local church and mission pledges, which support projects throughout the world.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture still has buckles available just in time to help finish out those Christmas lists. The buckles are $25 and the Chamber can package and mail those for you if you wish.

21. In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, the highest honor presented at the county level by the youth organization, the youths were challenged by Texas 4-H Council President, Wes Allison, of Stratford, to strive to achieve high personal goals throughout life. Honored from Bailey County were Melissa L. Toombs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Toombs of Muleshoe and Wade K. Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeler of southwest Bailey County. Joining the youths at the awards banquet at the Koko Palace were parents, government officials, leaders of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, fellow 4-H club members, educators and other community leaders.

Master of ceremonies was Rudy Ritz of Meadow, 4-H Council first vice president. Guests were welcomed by Lyle Robinson, general manager of Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc., representing the 12 electric cooperatives which have sponsored the banquet for the past three decades. In addition to Swisher, they are Bailey County, Caprock, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb, Lea, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf, Lyntegar, Midwest and South Plains cooperatives. Donna Ralston, Castro County 4-H member, responded on behalf of the youths. The awards presentations were narrated by 4-H members Kathy Huffman of Lubbock County and Melode Chance of Crosby County. The awards were presented Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

GTE Will Increase Subscriber Charges

In accordance with recent Federal Communication Commission action, all single line business and residential telephone customers across the nation, including those served by GTE Southwest, will be subject to an increase in their interstate Subscriber Line Charge from the current $2.60 per month to a $3.20 per month. This 60 percent increase in the interstate subscriber line charge is effective December 1 and is the third phase of a federally mandated process that is intended to gradually eliminate the practice of charging customers more for long-distance service in order to keep local rates artificially low. Business customers with more than one line have been paying $6 interstate subscriber line charge since May 1984. This interstate subscriber line charge for business customers will not change. Under the Federal Communications Commission plan for implementation of the interstate subscriber line charges, the total revenues of the local telephone companies will not increase since the FCC, in turn, will reduce by an equivalent amount charges to long-distance carriers for use of local facilities and equipment. It is the intent of the FCC that this decrease in long-distance carriers' expense will be passed through to consumers in the form of reduced interstate long-distance rates. GTE officials said the interstate subscriber line charges are designed to shift from long-distance users to local customers, a larger portion of the actual costs of providing the line from their residence or business to the telephone switching equipment. Depending on the amount of interstate long-distance calling, the reductions for interstate rates could offset the $3.20 interstate fee for many customers, especially high volume users. The $3.20 interstate subscriber line charge applies to all residential and single line business customers of all exchange telephone companies providing local exchange service.

First Baptist Will Sponsor Guest Singers

The First Baptist Church of Muleshoe has issued an invitation to a 'special happening.' First Baptist Church will be hosting the "Singing Men of West Texas" for a concert on Thursday, December 1. The concert will begin at 7 p.m. and will last about an hour and a quarter. "Singing Men of West Texas" is a performing group comprised of Ministers of Music, serving in Baptist churches from the top of Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

The letter above, written by Lacy Tillman, was the first letter received for 1988. Again this year, as in years past, The Journals will be printing letters to Santa from local area elementary schools. Be sure your youngster's letter gets in to The Journal.

Several items of business were on the agenda when the Muleshoe Jennyslippers met at noon Tuesday. Donna Kirk called the meeting to order, followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Ellen Ladd.

Speaking for Bob McClellan, Kay Mardis and Pat Prater talked to the group about mural paintings McClellan would like to do around Muleshoe. He would like to paint the history of America on the buildings, giving Muleshoe the only "Outdoor Museum of History" and bringing tourist to Muleshoe. Also included would be a "Wall of Knowledge" painted on the side of the Farmers Co-op Elevator, at the end of Main Street. Deriving from an "Old West Theme", this project would take approximately two to four years for completion.

Other items on the agenda included having Santa Clause at the Bailey County Civic Center, following the parade on Dec. 3. If you would like a picture of your child and Santa, Lonnie Adrian will be on hand to take their pictures.

It was announced that serving time for the annual barbecue dinner, which is held in conjunction with the Arts and Crafts Bazaar on Dec. 2 and 3, will begin at 11 a.m. and continue throughout Friday, Dec. 2. The Jennyslippers will also have a concession stand where you can purchase sandwiches, hot dogs, frito pies or cold drinks. They will also have the official Mule Shoes for sale.

The Jennyslippers will also have a float in the parade.

The group also agreed to help with the MAC Giveaway on Saturday, Dec. 17.

Robert Montgomery, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, was also a guest speaker. He stated that he was looking forward to working with the Jennyslippers. "You are a very vital part of the Chamber of Commerce", we want you and need you" said Montgomery. "We appreciate you, speaking of the Jennyslippers, and support you 100 percent.

Miss Kinnison, Martin United In Marriage

MRS. JOE NEAL MARLIN
[nee Shawnda Lynn Kennison]

Miss Shawnda Lynn Kinnison became the bride of Joe Neal Martin in a candlelight ceremony in the Doss Community Chapel in Seminole. Shane Kinnison of Roanoke, TX, brother of the bride, read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kinnison of Seminole and Shirley Martin of Sudan and the late Malcom Martin.

The bridal aisle was decorated with large black and white bows. The altar was decorated with a center candelabra arch with tree candelabras on either side, and the unity candle sitting in the background, each covered with greenery and black and white bows. Ficus trees in brass pots, accented by large black and white bows, were placed at different points at the altar.

Jean Moffatt of Seminole, pianist, accompanied Bill Baker of Lubbock as he sang the "Wedding Song" as the grandparents and mothers were seated. The grandparents were seated by the father of the bride and the mothers were seated by the groom.

Michele Berry of Lubbock sang "Little Things Mean A Lot" as the groom's party entered the altar. Bill Baker and his daughter, Stephanie, sang "You're The Only Little Girl" as the bride and her father stood at the altar. Michele Berry and Rick Zamora of Lubbock sang "Flesh of My Flesh" as the unity candle was lit.

Given in marriage by her brother, mother and father, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin featuring a bodice accented with re-embroidered lace, pearls and sequins, fashioned with a scalloped neckline and fitting basque waistline, Elizabethan sleeves trimmed with lace, pearls and sequins. The full skirt was point d'esprit lace at the hemline forming into a chapel length train.

Completing her attire, the bride wore a floral and pearl spray headpiece accented with pearl leaves and three tiered walking length veil with blusher. She carried a flowing cascade of sweetheart roses, stephanotis accented with black and white bows and ribbons tied in love knots.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore her grandmother Doris Hobbs Cook's of Seagraves, wedding ring given to her by the bride's late PaPa Hobbs, something new was her bridal attire, something borrowed was her mother's diamond pendant, and something blue was her garter. For good luck, the bride wore pennies in her shoe with the birthdates of herself and the groom.

Stephanie Baker of Georgetown served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Angie Parish of Lubbock and Stacy Swododa of Georgetown.

The attendants wore dresses of black matte taffeta, with a strapless bodice and large black and white bows in the back at the waistline. They each carried a white long stemmed rose with black ribbons.

Joni Hobbs of Seminole, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She carried a basket of white satin with black and white bows. Sara and Mandy Hobbs of Seminole, cousins, carried white rattan baskets trimmed with lace and black and white bows, filled with birdseed bags, down the aisle. They each wore black matte taffeta dresses with black and white plaid taffeta long lined skirts and sleeves accented with large black and white plaid bows. They wore wristlets of baby white rosebuds trimmed in black illusion and bows.

Gordon Martin of Lubbock served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Martin of Lubbock and Larry Martin of Midkiff, uncles of the groom.

Ushers were Wade Donnell, Doug Love, Mark Logan and Brad Byerly, all of Lubbock. Donnell and Byerly also lit the candles.

Registering the guests was Mitzi Brewer of Lubbock.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the chapel hall. The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth with a lace overlay, draped with black bows. It contained a black silk floral arrangement and white large pearls and black tapered candles in a silver candelabra.

The cake was white with a Precious Moments bride and groom on the top. It was separated by 5-inch columns with wedding bells between the layers. Mock champagne was served from a crystal bowl.

Serving at the groom's table was Cindy Martin of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the groom, and Julie Brotherton of Sudan. Also assisting with refreshments were Marilyn Hobbs of Seagraves and Cindy Hobbs of Seminole, aunts of the bride.

The couple left the chapel in a 1923 Ford Model-A Panama Hack built by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wynn and driven by Mr. Wynn of Seminole to the residence of the bride's parents, where they then departed on a wedding trip to Durango, Colo.

Shirley Martin, mother of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Doss Community Chapel. Attending were the bride and groom, attendants, ushers, friends and family members.

On Sales

A modern horror is automated dialing. Some sales organizations utilize this innovation with recorded telephone messages.

People are interrupted at home or office by a telephone which offers them only a recorded sales message!

Some states have moved to put an end to this madness. In Florida, for example, a law prohibits automated dialing solicitations unless goods or services had been ordered or inquired about.

Another currently widely abused sales ploy is fooling mail recipients about free gifts (which they must come for, at a resort or real estate development).

Rivals in Language

Old Lady (in New York): "Isn't it wonderful how a single policeman can dam the flow of traffic?"

Boy: "Yes, grannie, but you should hear the bus drivers."

Rebekah Lodge News

Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114 met Tuesday night, Nov. 22 at 308 W. 2nd St. Louise Allen, Noble Grand, opened the lodge and 14 members answered roll call. The opening prayer was given by Pat Langfitt and the flags were presented by Sandi Robinson and Terie Snell.

"We are happy to hear that Opal and Alvin Talley are now at home and that Alvin is improving" said Adele Tompkins.

Nomination of officers was begun and will continue next week with the election to be held on Dec. 6. Mrs. Tompkins stated that everyone is urged to attend and take part in these important meetings.

"The Evening Prayer" was sung, accompanied by Clara Lou Jones at the piano and lodge was dismissed by Pat Langfitt.

Refreshments and visiting were enjoyed with Ruby Green and Audrey Langfitt as hostess.

Okay

Suitor—Yes, sir, I've a plan where you can save money.

Father—All right, son; take her and be good to her.

Young Homemakers

The Lazbuddie Young Homemakers held their regular month-monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 1 with Donna Glover and Betty Wagon from Something Special presenting the program.

Mrs. Glover and Mrs. Wagon took things from the store. Christmas decorating was the theme and arrangements and wreaths were just a few of the things shown.

Business discussed centered around the successful Halloween Carnival.

The Homemakers made plans for their book fair on Nov. 9 and 10. Plans were also made to honor the Senior Citizens for Thanksgiving. The Christmas party has been set for December 9.

Texas Delight was served for refreshments and Debbie Roberts won the door prize.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

Use Right Words

There is a great difference between the right word and the word that is almost right. For instance, you can call a woman a kitten, but not a cat; a mouse, but not a rat; a chicken, but not a hen; a duck, not a goose; a vision, but not a sight.

Pointers For Parents

Plan A Family Achievements Awards Night

Like stay-at-home moms, sit-down family meals are not as common as they used to be. Where families used to celebrate special occasions with the honoree's favorite meal, the mere fact that families are sitting down together is almost an event in itself.

Still, food remains at the heart of any celebration. Sharing a meal in a spirit of good fellowship is a time-honored tradition made even more important now that individual schedules often preclude the reality of a sit-down dinner.

Why not update the practice and create a family "awards night?" Honor special achievements by family members: learning to ride a bike, getting good grades in school or winning an athletic competition, for example.

Invite honorees to submit their own awards night menu, focusing on foods that are easy to prepare. Microwave products are ideal because they cook quickly and are easy to make, allowing everyone to "get in the act."

Even the all-American favorite dessert, brownies, can be baked fresh in minutes when the batter is specially formulated for the microwave oven. Pillsbury Ready to Microwave Refrigerated Fudge Brownies come ready to bake with no mixing necessary—a snap for even children to make. The skills learned in meal planning and preparation enhance children's sense of self-esteem and heighten awareness of the important contribution they make to family life.

Ask family members for their ideas on what constitutes "the royal treatment." Possibilities include sitting at the head of the table, being served first and, of course, exclusion from kitchen clean up duty. Encouraging children to nominate each other for special attention will promote respect and camaraderie among siblings.

Most people wait a lifetime for a testimonial dinner. Yours can be a regular event—and a cherished family tradition.

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

"Come home for the holidays" ---what a wonderful place to be. Home with family and friends; a crackling fire in the fireplace bedecked with stockings hanging from the mantel and Christmas music playing in the background. We all picture such a festive event and with just a little effort, a lot of imagination and pre-planning, this year's Christmas can be the one to remember.

On Saturday, December 3 beginning at 1 p.m. (1 hour earlier than usual), Sheryl Borden, Producer and Host of "Creative Living" will present information and topics sure to be at the top of everyone's "to do" list for the holidays. The 90-minute Christmas special is being held in conjunction with the December Pledge Drive for KENW-TV.

Along the line of festive foods, we all know that gifts from the kitchen are the most welcomed gifts of all. Jane Hunton, proprietor of Mamma Bear's Kitchen in Portales is going to inspire us with a variety of foods and an even more exciting display of ways to package these delicacies for gift giving.

Looking for a gift that's different, sought after and made with a touch of love? Collage is a unique holiday business in Lovington that works all year long to create those special gifts for you to give to those you care about. Kim Harris and Nancy Boyd will take us on a visit to their store to see what Santa might put under your tree this year.

"The children were nestled all snug in their beds..." ---this line from Clement Moore's poem will come to life as we see boys and girls decked out in their finest in holiday fashions from Jack and Jill Children's Shop in Hobbs. Owner, Gertrude King, will show fashions for toddlers to teens in a variety of holiday activities.

Tracy Moxon, a home economics student at Eastern New Mexico University, will present ideas for you and the kids to enjoy making for Christmas decorations, crafts or gifts. These are all quick and easy to do and provide an activity for those nights when the family wants to do something together to get into the real spirit of Christmas.

Tee-shirts and sweatshirts make some of the delightful gifts when you add that special touch. Kay White of Vernon, Texas and Kandy McWhorter of Muleshoe, Texas will show how easy it is to make gifts for every member of your family—and not wreck the budget.

And, last but not least, you'll learn to make a fairytale house from gingerbread. Stephanie West, a creative homemaker and mother of three will share her talent for building houses—from gingerbread, icing, candies and other confections. Though they're definitely good enough to eat, everyone will enjoy viewing your gingerbread creation throughout the holidays. So, if you're not quite in the Christmas spirit, join us for the "Creative Living" Christmas Special on Saturday, December 3 and we'll get you in the mood. A special premium of two "Creative Living" booklets—"Celebrate" and "Something Unique"—will be given to those who pledge $40 or more during the Christmas special.

Information on interesting and tasty products from Pepper Patch, texture of baby foods and a demonstration on cake decorating will be the topics featured on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 29 at 12 noon on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain.) The show will not be repeated on Saturday, December 3 due to the Christmas Special.

Dot Smith, president and founder of Pepper Patch in Franklin, TN, will share some of her favorite recipes from the company. Pepper Patch is known for using only the best produce, the best grains and dairy products and baked with home made goodness.

Amy Riley, an associate with Gerber Products in Fremont, MI, will discuss the different textures of baby foods and explain why different products are introduced at different stages in a baby's development.

The flashback segment will feature Zella Junkin, Manager of Consumer Affairs with Wilton Enterprises. Cake decorating can be a pleasure and a challenge. Zella will demonstrate the basic techniques of cake decorating, which includes making stars, zigzags, writing and outlining. Zella lives in Woodridge, IL.

Potato recipes for all kinds of food occasions and recipes for invigorating showers and baths will be featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 29 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, December 1 at 12 noon.

Marie Rama, representing the Idaho Potato Commission in Boise, ID, will present some fun ways to entertain and surprise your guests. When time is a factor, smart cooks rely on the good flavor and convenience of a variety of processed potato products. Marie will demonstrate how to make use of potatoes in a variety of forms to prepare quick and wholesome meals.

The flashback segment will feature Catherine Kanner, representing Zest, from Santa Monica, CA. Catherine is probably the only writer in the world who can make one particular claim: she fills her readers with a strange urge to take a shower or bath! The book, entitled Book of the Bath, contains pages of recipes for invigorating showers and baths. Catherine has not only created these recipes, but has also illustrated her book.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO

Kiwanis Club Hosts Nurse As Speaker

By: R. A. Bradley

We do not know if the turkey ate the Kiwanians, or the Kiwanians ate too much turkey. Five Kiwanians and two guests met Friday morning at the Old Corral.

Guests were Lacy Morris, daughter of Glenn Morris and Linda Bullock, nurse practitioner from the South Plains Health Provider Services.

President Keith Turner called the meeting to order. Glenn Morris led the pledge to the Flag and R. A. Bradley gave the invocation.

The Kiwanis Friendship Coin must be looking for turkey, getting over too much turkey, or fast asleep. It was not present this morning.

Linda Bullock showed a video about the organization of the South Plains Health Provider and about their nine clinics. Linda gave a quick history and the things they do and provide for the people of this community.

Linda explained that this was not a free service, but was on a sliding scale pay program as to the income of the whole family.

Linda has been in charge of this service for the seven years it has been in Muleshoe.

They see from 25-40 patients per day and provide services from removing toe nails to "Lord Knows What."

Linda, Thanks for a wonderful and informative program and thanks to you and your staff for the wonderful things you do for people of this community.

the Panhandle to the Rio Grande River. It is one of five groups in Texas sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

This concert is one of eight concerts they will perform this year, and it is the only one they will be performing in this part of the state.

The concert will feature music from Beethoven to that of contemporary Christian artists. The program is varied enough that everyone will find several songs they especially enjoy.

This is a free concert, but a love offering will be taken. The Church said they are looking forward to seeing you on Thursday, December 1, as everyone attending will enjoy an evening of music with the 'Singing Men of West Texas.'

Your own opinions are not as interesting to other people as they are to you.

United Blood Service Plans Local Drive

First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe will sponsor its annual blood drive on Thursday, December 1, in the fellowship hall of the church. The drive will be conducted from 10 a.m.-8 p.m.

United Blood Services of Lubbock, with the assistance of the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council, will conduct the drive.

They will be contacting donors by phone and scheduling donation times. Walk-ins will be more than welcome.

Members of the Church will also be on hand to serve refreshments and provide other assistance throughout the drive.

As the holiday season approaches, the need for blood becomes very critical. The goal of this drive is 125 units, according to the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council. The spokesman said, "The people of Muleshoe and the surrounding area have always been very helpful and generous at these blood drives. It is hoped that this year will be no exception.

"So remember, when contacted about donating blood, remember, it is the holiday season and give the gift of life -- give blood on December 1 at the First United Methodist Church.

Lazbuddie again relied heavily on the pass, having 165 yards on the ground and 178 aerial yards for a total offense of 343. Christoval only had 10 yards through the air, but had 341 on the ground, for 351 yards, proving they were fairly equal in total yardage.

Coach Williams and his Lazbuddie Longhorns have earned the respect of the entire area for their football actions this year. Be sure to let them know you are proud of all of them.

Little Pesticides Found In Area Water Supplies

Laboratory analyses of groundwater samples from 90 irrigation wells within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 show no significant pesticide residues in the groundwater.

We would like to congratulate our groundwater users on their apparent safe use of chemicals. Given the large quantities of chemicals used during the past 20 to 30 years in the Water District service area, there was a potential for contaminating our groundwater supplies. The results indicate that chemical users are being protective of the groundwater of our area," says Don McReynolds, High Plains Water District Technical Division Director.

There has been a fear of non-point source pollution from the use of ag chemicals. Many people believe that ag chemicals are leaching through the soil into the groundwater. This belief has caused concerned people to wonder if a tightening of control of these chemicals should be considered.

The sampling and analysis of groundwater just completed by the Water District is believed to be the most concentrated testing over the largest area to be done to date.

During August, 90 irrigation wells throughout the 15-county Water District service area were sampled. In an effort to reduce costs, composite water samples from groups of two to three wells were created resulting in the need to analyze only 31 water samples.

Each water sample was tested for the presence of the 19 pesticides used most and for the longest period of time in the area. These chemicals and their trade names are Alachlor (Lasso) Metolachlor (Dual); Chlorpyrifos (Lorsban); Diazinon (Diazon); Phorate (Thimet); Diuron (Kar mex); Bromacil (Direx); Atrazine (Aatrex) Propazine (Milgard or Milo-Pro); DDT (DDT OR DDE); Aldicarb Sulfone (Timek); 2,4-D (2,4-D); Dicamba (Banvel); Sil vax); Picloram (Tordon or Grazon PC); Arsenic Acid (Arsenic Acid); Trifluralin (Treflan); Gly phosate (Roundup) and Paraquat (Paraquat).

Out of 589 analyses, only 14 showed trace amounts of six chemicals. All fell below the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) proposed health advisory limits for the chemical.

McReynolds says most of the analyses were reported in parts per billion. A part per billion can be compared to one common aspirin tablet dissolved and equally dispersed in 100,000 gallons of water. "This demonstrates the extremely small units associated with pesticide analyses," he said.

Water District field staff will resample the wells from which samples showed the presence of any chemical in an attempt to determine the source of the chemicals. Landowners will be contacted to see if they can provide specific information about the use of the chemical in question on the farm and around the well.

If a trace amount of a specific chemical were found and if the chemical has been recently used, then the Water District would note this as a probable source of the contamination. The well site would also be examined to determine if there is any opening where the chemical could have entered the well. If so, District field staff would suspect the well as the source of the contaminant. The well would then be pumped and additional samples would be collected at timed intervals.

If the quantity of chemical decreases through time, then it would be almost certain that the contaminant had in some way gotten into the well. If the quantity of the chemical remains about the same or increases through time, it would be fairly certain that the aquifer has been contaminated in the well's vicinity.

Ag chemical users are reminded to exercise extreme care in handling these dangerous chemicals—both for the protection of the groundwater and for the user's own safety.

For tips on safe handling of agricultural chemicals, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas or call (806) 762-0181.

Why Do Teens Commit Suicide?

Suicide is the second most common cause of death for teenagers 12 to 18 years of age. Experts agree that many deaths are ruled accidental when in fact the reason is suicide. The rate of suicide attempts has almost tripled in the last twenty years - over 500,000 teenagers attempt suicide each year. The question arises as to why teenagers are choosing to end their lives as an option for dealing with the stresses and pain of life instead of asking how their problems can be corrected.

Teenagers indicate a complexity of issues and factors which contribute to their sense of hopelessness. One factor may be attributed to pressure to succeed in school, in sports, and at home with little room to make mistakes. Often young people see themselves as failures, worthless, and unlovable. Another factor centers around family problems such as divorce, alcohol abuse, or financial difficulties which affect a teenager's emotions, sense of security, and self-esteem. Sometimes teens feel guilty and responsible for these conflicts and feel torn and caught in a conflict of loyalties. The teen may become the scapegoat for the family's unresolved problems.

Today, drugs and alcohol are readily available to teens in junior high school and the pressure from peers to conform is intense. There is confusion over changing attitudes and conflicting mores (customs of behavior) regarding their roles as males and females. Having to confront these issues and make choices that their parents did not have to make until adulthood compounds the pressure today's teens already feel.

Revenge is another motive which may prompt a suicide attempt - generally after a fight with parents or a boyfriend/girlfriend. Teens often feel so overwhelmed by their hurt that their wish to hurt back overrides their wish to live. Many teenagers attempt suicide to "cry out for help" or "scream for a change." The severity of this cry suggests the intensity of the pain the teen feels and the need for understanding and alternatives to his/her problems. Any suicide attempt needs to be taken seriously and confronted directly, honestly, and compassionately.

Teens at risk for suicide often give signs and signals that indicate their risk. The following are warning signs of suicidal behavior:

- * a previous suicide attempt is the strongest predictor that a teen might attempt suicide again when under stress;
- * intentional talk of or threat to commit suicide, or a suicidal note;
- * a viable suicide plan which they can or have begun to implement;
- * presence of depression as evidenced by neglect of appearance, withdrawal from people, insomnia or oversleeping, weight loss or gain, putting oneself down, or any marked change in personality or behavior;

- * making final arrangements such as giving away personal or favorite possessions;
- * use of alcohol or drugs as an escape from pain;
- * self-destructive or risk-taking behavior such as driving recklessly;
- * unusual change in school work or attendance; and
- * intense feelings of being trapped and helpless with little hope of changing the situation.

If a teen demonstrates any of these signs or is suspected of being suicidal, it is important to talk openly with the teen. Asking about suicide will not cause more trouble or give the teen ideas but will allow them to share what they are already thinking and feeling. This will help to release pain as well as to validate what the teen is experiencing. Listening in a supportive, non-judgmental way and getting help from a professional counselor or therapist will show that you care.

November Designated Nat'l Diabetes Month

In 1987, some 2,127 of the more than 400,000 Texans known to have diabetes died from the disease or its complications. Another 400,000 Texans may have diabetes and not yet know it. To help prevent death and illness from diabetes this year, the Texas Department of Health has urged the public to become more aware of the importance of proper health care for diabetics.

The President has proclaimed November National Diabetes Month. Nationally there are nearly 6 million persons diagnosed as having diabetes and an estimated 5 million more may unknowingly have the disease, according to TDH.

Diabetes is a group of disorders characterized by unusually high levels of sugar in the blood, caused by the body's inability to make or use the hormone insulin. Some people with Type I, or insulin dependent, diabetes require daily insulin injections to control their blood sugar levels. Most people with diabetes however, have non-insulin dependent, or Type II, diabetes which often can be controlled by a combination of dietary therapy and regular exercise. Type II patients may also take oral medications to stimulate their insulin production.

In either type of diabetes, dietary management is crucial to controlling blood sugar levels. Diabetes therapy is intended to strike a balance between the effects (on blood sugar levels) of food intake, physical activity, and medication. Each person with diabetes should have a prescribed nutrition plan, designed to meet that individual's specific needs.

In most cases, by following the doctor's treatment plan the patient can lead an otherwise active, "normal" life. Failure to do so can lead to kidney failure, blindness, heart disease, amputations -- even death.

People with a family history of diabetes who also are 40 or older, and who may be overweight, are especially at risk of having diabetes. Also, for reasons not fully understood, American Indians and Mexican-Americans are more likely than others in the U.S. to develop diabetes.

Studies in Starr County, Laredo, and San Antonio indicate the occurrence of diabetes among Mexican-Americans 35 and older may be more than five times as likely as among the general population. Blacks also have higher rates of diabetes than whites and the general population.

Mortality rates from diabetes in all ethnic groups increase dramatically among those 45 and older. But diabetes is by no means a disease restricted to adults. Diabetes is second only to cancer among leading chronic illnesses of children under 16.

Board Members Decide Against Calling Election

At a special November 17th meeting, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 Board of Directors decided against the annexation of Swisher County, Terry County, Yoakum County, the portion of Briscoe County above the escarpment, and the portion of Hale County not already a part of the Water District.

The Board received petitions from each of these areas requesting annexation into the District earlier in the year. Hearings were then held in each county. Testimony from these hearings was considered in the deliberations to determine if the annexation would be of benefit to both the territory requesting annexation and to the existing Water District. The Board also considered whether the existing Water District facilities could support the proposed territorial additions with out jeopardizing the quality of service being provided to landowners currently within the District.

Board members cited low attendance and lack of strong support at four of the five public hearings in their decision not to continue with the annexation process.

They noted that the areas seeking annexation would require considerable expense to start Water District programs and bring them to the operating level of the existing Water District. Cost projections indicated that a 25 to 40 percent increase in the Water District's operating budget would be needed to offer full service to the annexed territories without a lessening in the quality of service in the District as a whole. Under the tax code, no tax revenue could be received from the annexed territories until October 1990, which would have put the Water District into a debt position.

"We appreciate the support given to us by the residents of the Water District during the past 35 years," said Board President James P. Mitchell of Wolforth. "We did not feel that increasing their Water District taxes in order to take on an additional 2.5 million acres in territory would be fair to them."

Producers Cautioned On Chemical Handling

Agricultural chemicals can enter groundwater supplies in many ways. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 reminds producers to use special care when applying or handling pesticides, herbicides or insecticides.

Laboratory analyses of composite groundwater samples from 90 irrigation wells within the 15-county Water District service area show almost no pesticide residues in the groundwater.

Out of 589 analyses, only 14 showed trace amounts of one of six different chemicals. The small amount of chemical found indicates that no serious problem has developed as a result of the use of large quantities of agricultural chemicals over a long period of time in the Water District's service area. Agricultural chemical users are urged to use even more care when handling chemicals in the future.

To reduce the risk of groundwater contamination, the Water District offers the following safety tips for handling agricultural chemicals:

- * Avoid chemical spills when filling nurse tanks or spray tanks near wells. Check valves should be used in hoses to prevent back-siphoning from the tanks into the well. If check valves are not used, the fill hose should be secured above and out of the tank.
- * Never leave fill tanks unattended since they could overflow and cause chemicals to enter the well. Tanks should be filled at a safe distance from the well and then moved to the field where they will be used before adding any pesticides.
- * Join two or more hoses together to extend the distance from the well when filling the nurse tank.
- * Agricultural chemicals must be stored away from the well site. An inventory of pesticides may invite spills or leakage. Producers should buy as needed to avoid these situations.
- * Follow label directions exactly when applying chemicals, and use the recommended lowest effective rate.
- * Exercise extra care when applying chemicals near ponds, playa basins or streams.

- * Pay close attention to the proper cleaning of sprayers and pesticide containers after use. When cleaning spray equipment, use a minimum amount of water and spray it back on the field.
- * Pressure rinse or triple rinse pesticide containers. Afterward, add the rinse water to the solution that will be used on the field. Pesticide containers must never be used for any purpose other than a refill of the same chemical.
- * Pesticide containers and spray equipment need to be checked often for possible leaks.

* Pesticide containers must be securely tied down during transport.

* Pesticide containers should be disposed of only at approved landfill sites.

For additional information on pesticides and groundwater, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas or call (806) 762-0181.

NOURISHMENT!

Three times a day we care for our body's needs. From this food we receive new strength and vigor with which we may face each day. Without proper nourishment we would become weak and our bodies would wither away. The soul needs nourishment too... "Man shall not live by bread alone..." Without proper nourishment our soul becomes weak and withers. Attend church each week and feed your soul, and know the joy of a full and happy life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Texas PTA Convention Set At Arlington

Austin--Texas PTA, the state's largest child advocacy organization, will hold its 79th annual state convention November 18-20 in Arlington.

Theme of the three-day event is "Baseball, hot dogs, apple pie and PTA, as delegates head for the city that is home base for the Texas Rangers Baseball Club.

State President Kathryn Whitfill, of Pasadena, will open the annual business meeting at the first general session at 1 p.m., Friday, November 18, at the Arlington Convention center. Some 3,000 PTA delegates, representing 2,500 local units across the state.

Today Texas PTA has 780,000 Olivas, 2-12; Mike Hardwick, microbiological agents such as Seventy-nine years ago 100 persons gathered at the First Methodist Church in Dallas in answer to Ella Caruthers Porter's call to establish a state congress of mothers. In 1908, the National PTA Congress appointed Mrs. Porter to organize a state congress, and on Oct. 19, 1909, the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association was formed.

"The Congress will seek to promote the welfare of the child in every way its sees fit, such as the betterment of school systems and the placing of such additions to these institutions as will promote moral and physical and spiritual as well as the intellectual betterment of the children," Mrs. Porter said at that initial meeting in 1909.

In the first 10 years, the congress worked for the establishment of kindergartens, abolition of the public drinking cup, equal property rights for married women, birth registration, and free textbooks for public schools.

In 1914 the congress had 2,152 members in 320 local units. By 1924 membership had grown to 30,608 in 1,128 units.

In 1931 the organization changed its name to Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers (Texas PTA).

Through the years, the organization has inaugurated and promoted measures to protect the general health, welfare and safety of school children and improve education. Among the measures PTA has supported are the Children's Trust Fund (dealing with child abuse prevention), better juvenile probation laws, adequate child labor laws, laws concerning the sale and consumption of liquor, a fund for a state juvenile parole system within the Texas Youth Council, and aid to dependent and needy blind children.

In educational matters, Texas PTA has supported compulsory school attendance, sex education in the schools, classes for the gifted and talented, vocational education, school lunches, the Hale-Aiken proposals in the late 1940's and educational reforms (HB 72) in the 1980's.

Texas PTA has been instrumental in revision of speed limits, better DWI laws, jury service for women, setting of school speed zones, raising the drinking age to 21, and the

Texas A&M futurist says by 2006 education will change radically

COLLEGE STATION — By the year 2006, high schools, colleges, and universities will be combined into a continuous educational process, according to futurist Dr. John Hoyle of Texas A&M University.

"It will no longer be feasible to maintain two separate institutions for public and higher education," Hoyle said.

The 21st-century administrator will deal with a changed student population of fewer students and higher numbers of minorities, Hoyle said. One in every three students will be a minority by 2006, he added.

Costs to attend a college or university will escalate, Hoyle also said.

"The older part-time student is a permanent fixture," he predicted. The 21st-century administrator must have a vision for his or her institution, Hoyle said. The educational leader in 2006 should possess three types of skills — human, technical and conceptual — to free the potential of the faculty and students, he said.

creation of a Women's Division in the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Recent concerns have been the fight against pornography via a ban on the 976 telephone access number and support for prohibiting children under age 17 from renting R or X-rated videos, AIDS education in the schools, PROJECT 2000 programs and activities, adequate funding for school districts and statewide educational programs, a call for an elected State Board of Education, liability insurance for nonprofit organizations, strengthening of laws governing day-care centers and increasing their availability, and supporting laws dealing with the use or abuse of alcohol, drugs and tobacco.

Delegates to the 79th convention will adopt a Legislative Position that supports comprehensive actions regarding school finance, education and the health, welfare and safety of children and youth.

The headquarters for Texas PTA was moved from Dallas to Austin in the early 1920's when the State Superintendent of Public Instruction Annie Webb Blanton offered the mothers' congress office space in the state Capitol. In 1937, Texas PTA built its state office (the first state in the National PTA to have its own building), just a few blocks from the Capitol. Additions to the building were made in 1950, and again in 1957, when a second story was added. Renovations of the inside and outside were accomplished in 19-88, under the direction of Executive Director James L. Crouch.

The current Texas PTA Board of Directors has established a building-landscaping fund to assist in necessary repairs and maintenance of the state headquarters in the years to come.

As Texas PTA moves toward its 80th year, its philosophy of promoting the welfare of every child is still in harmony with the tenets set forth in 1909 by its founder Ella Caruthers Porter.
