A drive is on to extend WIC services to more people. WIC is a nutrition program that provides foods for low income pregnant and breastfeeding women and children less than five years of age.

The free foods may include infant formula, eggs, cheese, milk, juice and cereal.

The Open Clinic day will be November 23 and the clinic is open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 7 p.m. at 122 W. Ave. C. or you may call 272-4521. No appointment is necessary on open clinic day.

McCarthy and Dr. Preston DeShawn, to work in Muleshoe Area Medical Center was reviewed and approved.

Dr. McCarthy is a Gastroenterologist, (Digestive System), and is from Lubbock. He will be in Muleshoe one or two days a month beginning in January.

Dr. DeShawn will not be seeing any patients in Muleshoe, he is a Record Review Specialist and will not have any clinic hours.

Buck Campbell, president, called the meeting to order and minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Richard Murphy, manager gave the hospital financial and statistical report and the Healthcare Center financial and statistical report.

Members of Volunteer Plus met with the board. Speaking for the Volunteers Plus organization, Loma Embry approached the board in reference to the purchasing of new carpet for the day room and east hall of Muleshoe Health Care Center. She stated that they would like to use the money raised from the Christmas Card Project, which is getting underway at this time. The board approved the project.

A representative from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock met with the board to discuss the Methodist Management Contract. He stated that the agreement was basically the same with the exception that they would like to enter into a three year contract instead of the one year contract they had had before. "We now feel comfortable working with this hospital. When we first entered into a one year contract we were a little skeptical, but you people have done a good job re-opening the hospital when you did and getting it going again."

The board accepted the contract, pending a consolation with Johnny Atkinson, attorney.

A discussion was held concerning the lease of some of Muleshoe Area Medical Center's property, the ambulance building, the medical supply building and where Alcoholics Anonymous meets. The board decided to have Atkinson draw up do a study on the amount each lease should be and draw up lease agreements.

For the past several months the hospital has had trouble with their telephone system. Bids were received from GTE, Tele-Point, Telewest of Albuquerque and AT&T. The board approved the purchase of a new system from Tele-Point. The system is to be installed in approximately four weeks.

Stan Barrett, Local Businessman Honored

Stan Barrett was recently inducted into the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Association's Produce Hall of Fame. The annual ceremony was held on November 10 in Mission, TX where both living and posthumous recipients were recognized.

Barrett met the age qualification of seventy years of age and certainly the goal of the Hall of Fame which is to recognize the unselfish contributions of past and present leaders in the Texas produce industry who have been or may still be employers, managers or owners of companies who are Texas Citrus and Vegetable Association members. Barrett also served on the Association's Board of Directors for six terms.

Barrett began growing potatoes in the Texas area along with his father and brothers in the late 30's. He began farming in the Muleshoe area with a shed being built in 1952. His company Barrett Produce Company is still in operation in Muleshoe today.

Barrett has been credited with the development of the "Red Norland" strain of red potatoes and has contributed time and money on the effort to develop better, tougher skinned Norgold Russett varieties for the Texas High Plains and other growing areas.

He has also given of himself to the community with personal and financial involvement in Little League, Little Dribblers, the Bailey County Livestock Show and many civic and school functions.

Longhorns Roll Over Valley 24-14

It takes more than wind, rain and cold weather to stop the Lazbuddie Longhorns. Even with the adverse weather conditions, the Longhorns defeated the Valley Patriots 25 to 14 in six-man football Friday night in Payne Field at Silverton.

Brett Thomas threw three touchdown passes in the first half giving the Lazbuddie Longhorns a 19 to 6 lead at halftime.

The Valley Patriots were the first to score when Jason Smith raced down the field 22 yards into the endzone. The Longhorns blocked the kick and the Patriots led 6 to 0.

Evening up the score Thomas connected with Lealand Brockman on a 32 yard pass and the Patriots blocked the kick. The score stood 6 to 6.

Jon Colby Miller added more scores for the Lazbuddie Longhorns with a four yard pass from Thomas. The extra point failed and the Longhorns led 12 to 6 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Matt Cozby added more scores for Lazbuddie with a 13 yard pass from Thomas. Shannon Bomer added another point to the scoreboard on a pass from Mario Zamora and the half ended Lazbuddie 19, Valley 6.

Neither team were able to score in the third quarter.

In the final quarter of the game, Bradley Price scored on a seven yard pass from Joe Valdez and Price kicked the extra point, bringing the Valley Patriots within five points of the Lazbuddie Longhorns. The game stood, Lazbuddie 19 and Valley 14.

A sequence of turnovers left Valley with a first down at its own 12 yard line with 3:35 remaining on the clock. A spearing penalty against Lazbuddie gave the Patriots a first down at their own 39 yard line, but the Longhorns defensive end Dee Martinez clobbered Valdez from behind and he lost the ball. Lazbuddie recovered on the Valley

Dear Editor:
The failure of a non-custodial parent to provide child support is not only a crime against the child but also against taxpayers who must bear the cost of problems associated with poverty.

Although the number of cases of non-support are growing, we are gaining on the problem. Recent reorganization of our Child Support Enforcement Program has allowed us to continue improvements at a steady pace. We continue to break records in all areas of the program.

Please consider the enclosed article for publication on your oped page. Thank you.

MICROWAVE TIPS

In microwaving meat remember a browning agent is necessary when you're cooking it rare or medium-if you want it brown.

However, if you're cooking it well done, often no browning agent (brown bouquet sauce is a good choice) is necessary. As a general rule, meat microwaved at 120 degrees is red, at 130 rosy and 155 well done.

With roasts, let them stand 15 minutes after microwaving (or after conventional cooking).

To Make Money In The Stock Market, You Need A Little Skill. To Make Money From Lotto Texas, You Need A Little Pencil.

LOTTO Texas is a new game from the Texas Lottery, and you could make millions just by filling out a playslip and paying a dollar.

(We apologize to all those who have made their money through skill and savvy.)

The purpose of this is to instruct you on how to play.

OK. To play, just pick six numbers from one to fifty. If you happen to pick the same six numbers that come up at the drawings, then you could win millions of dollars.

OK. Step number one. Go to any of the LOTTO Texas retailers. You can only play where you see a red and yellow sign that says LOTTO Texas.

Step number two. While you're at the retailer, pick up a LOTTO Texas playslip and a pencil. There's a picture of the playslip on this page. You may find the playslips in a stand called a play station. If not, just ask for one.

Step number three. (My, we're moving right along now, aren't we?) Just choose SIX numbers from one to fifty. You can play up to five times on each playslip. Completely fill in the numbers that you choose on the playslip ONLY WITH A BLACK OR BLUE BALLPOINT PEN OR A PENCIL. The one featured here would work just fine.

Also, don't erase any mistakes you make. Just fill in the VOID box on that particular play and you will not be charged for it.

Step number four. (Past the halfway mark.) Take a dollar (that's how much it costs to play LOTTO Texas) and give it and the playslip to the retailer. It takes just a few seconds. When you're done, you'll be handed a ticket which will verify which numbers you picked. Please remember to take the time to sign your name on the back of your ticket so no one else will be able to cash it in.

Step number five. Tune in the televised drawings on Wednesday and Saturday nights at 9:58 p.m. CST to see how well you did.

If you picked all six of the numbers which are randomly chosen on the ball machine, then you could become a millionaire. If you missed the drawing, the numbers will be posted the next day at all LOTTO Texas retailers and in your local newspaper. The jackpots are paid in 20 annual installments.

You can also win second and third prizes by matching five out of six or four out of six numbers. Match three out of six and you will win $3 automatically.

Win up to $599, and you can collect your prize at any LOTTO Texas retailer.

Winnings of $600 or more can be claimed at any of the 24 Texas Lottery claim centers.

You can also claim prizes through the mail using a claim form that you may pick up at any Texas Lottery retailer. Please be sure to make copies of the front and back of your ticket before you send it in.

The Texas Lottery is not responsible for tickets lost in the mail. All prizes must be claimed within 180 days of the drawing.

Finally, LOTTO Texas can be played up to 10 drawings (that's five weeks) in advance. If you want to play those same numbers for several drawings in a row, fill in the multi-draw box on your playslip with however many drawings you would like to play.

One more thing. You must be 18 years or older to play. And when you watch the televised drawings, there's a chance that your heart may start to pound a little and your palms may begin to sweat. The most important thing for you to remember is to please have fun and enjoy playing the game of LOTTO Texas.

Holiday Cooking Easy

Planning a party or is the whole family coming to your house this holiday season? Why not simplify things by serving a steaming pot of homemade soup and a basket of warm bread.

Since most of us have switched to a more casual style of entertaining, main dish soups and stews have gained new respect on the menu. This holiday season, a trio of festive soups and quick breads are ideal for easier entertaining.

"Homemade soup is a favorite choice for entertaining at our house, because most of the preparation can be done ahead. It's simple to double a recipe to accommodate a large crowd, clean up is easy, and left-overs freeze well," explained Chris Cavanaugh, marketing manager for Tennessee Pride Country Sausage. "By adding your favorite variety of browned sausage to an ordinary soup recipe, it's easy to create a satisfying main course."

Don't scrimp on the bread that goes with your soup, because it can really set the tone for a meal. Instead of generic crackers or limp store bought French bread, compliment your meal with homemade quick breads like cornbread, soda bread, Italian flatbread, savory muffins and biscuits. Many of these interesting bread options may be prepared quickly with a convenient mix.

It's very important to think about the flavors and style of soup when deciding on a bread to pair with it," advised Linda Carmen, director of Consumer's affairs for Martha White Foods. "You may prefer a hearty, chewy bread with a thick flavorful soup, and opt for a softer, milder choice with a delicate creamy bisque."

If you're expecting a big crowd, Carman recommends offering guests a choice of soups and a few interesting quick breads. "I like to serve pots of two or three soups right from the stove with a big basket of different quick breads that I've made ahead and rewarmed. It really looks homey and inviting and the aroma is delightful."

Robust Mediterranean Sausage Vegetable Soup is a great choice for holiday entertaining. The colorful peasant-style soup features tangy bites of spicy Italian sausage, chunks of new potatoes, celery, and fresh spinach in a silky tomatoe broth. Add the spinach at the very end of the cooking to retain its bright green color. Carman recommends crunchy-chewy Onion flat bread made with two packages of pizza crust mix to compliment this peasant-style soup.

Chicken stew with Sausage dumplings is a meal in one that has the "bread" cooked right in it. Cooked pork sausage stirred into the dumpling dough adds a flavorful twist to this American classic.

Gracey-Parker United In Double Ring Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony, Janet Elaine Gracey and Larry Dale Parker were wed September 5, 1992 at 3:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe with the Rev. Richard Edwards officiating the ceremonies.

Given in marriage by her father, George Gracey, Janet wore a full length white dress, adorned with lace, that flowed to a v-neckline in front, and puffed sleeves dressed with lace that tapered to the wrist. The flounced skirt led to a train that fell from a large bow in the back, all edged in lace.

The couple stood before a purple and white bouquet of various flowers adorning the communion table, while white bows dressed the pews.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Perry Whalin of Muleshoe, a friend. She wore a long, elegant, purple silk dress with three strands of pearls draped from the back, and carried a bouquet of assorted purple flowers with long hanging strands of ivy.

Flower girls were Sara McNeer and Kate McNeer, nieces of the bride, both of Amarillo. They also wore long purple dresses of silk with pearl strands, and carried white baskets, decorated with purple ribbon and purple ribbon dropped love knots.

The groom wore a white tux with a white bow-tie and was accented with a white rose boutonniere.

Serving as Best Man was Danny May, a friend of the couple. He wore Ushers were Dennis Parker and Ronnie Parker, both of Lubbock, brothers of the groom.

Various traditional wedding songs were played by Marilyn Parker before the ceremony. As the bride's and groom's mothers were being seated, a solo, "Wind Beneath My Wings" was sung by Marilyn. The bride's mother wore a deep purple silk shirtdress, accented with pearls and a white rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a two-piece purple dress enhanced with filigreed embroidery on the bodice. Both mothers were gifted by Janet with a single lilac rose during the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Robbie Schafer of Amarillo registered the guests while Mrs. Carol McNeer of Amarillo and Mrs. Gregg Dunlap, sisters of the bride, served at the brides table. The table was dressed with a purple tablecloth, overlaid with lace, accented with purple bows, and adorned with white alabaster doves given by Dorothy Hanes. The three tiered cake was topped with doiley hearts and purple flowers. Fruit, punch and cake were served from crystal appointments. Purple and white mints and nuts were served from crystal heart dishes.

Mrs. Don Read of Portales, Mrs. Larry Rasco and Mrs. Mike Caldwell, both of Muleshoe, served at the grooms table, draped with matching purple tablecloth and lace overlay, and accented with white bows. The cake was chocolate with nuts, topped with an astronomer and stars. Coffee was served from a silver coffee server.

The bride's departing outfit was a purple pantsuit, with a purple and white striped blouse with twisted gold buttons and gold earrings to match.

The couple took a wedding trip to Ruidoso and now reside in Muleshoe.

Janet is the daughter of George and Wylma Gracey of Dumas, Tx. She is a graduate of Dumas High School and holds a B.S. degree in Education from University of North Texas. She is currently attending E.N.M.U. University in Portales, working on her Masters degree in Education, and is a teacher at Muleshoe I.S.D.

Larry is the son of Frank and Johnnie Parker of Muleshoe. He is a graduate of Muleshoe High School, served in the U.S. Air Force, graduating in Inventory Management in Denver, Co. and is currently Assistant Manager of A & M.

Out of town guests attending the ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parker of Hawkins, Tx., aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Spears of Levelland, aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Frustrating
Some men have a reputation for truthfulness because they can't think fast enough.
—Press, Grand Rapids.

Have you ever seen the end of the rainbow? Most people would believe they will never see it in a lifetime. I'm here to tell you, it's there. I've seen it. I know, you're thinking, this lady must be crazy...

It was a dreary day; a gray day, when the clouds seemed to just hang around. The mood I was in was depressing enough, much less to have the weather that seemed to draw an even worse impression. I had been through a mortifying week. It was Saturday, and my weekly chore of buying groceries was due. At that moment, I received a phone call, one which was going to force me to make a critical life changing decision.

I piled my little one in the car, and we headed for the store. On the way there, I was thinking of the phone call, and feeling very bewildered. Silently, I asked God to help, give me a sign. Just anything to show me the way, because this was a decision I just couldn't make on my own.

Just then, it started pouring down rain, and as we neared the store parking lot, the sun came out and a huge rainbow appeared. It was a strange sight, one I had never seen before, and not one I'm likely to ever see again. The end of the rainbow gracefully bowed and touched the front of my car. Even my little five year old couldn't believe her eyes. A startling rush of happiness overwhelmed me, and immediately I knew the answer to my decision.

There was no pot of gold, only the happiness it brought forth to me, something a pot of gold could never have bought.

Rotary Hears Program On School Finance

Bob Finney was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday and he asked Bill Moore, superintendent of MISD to speak on school finance, the critical issue "The Fair Share Plan."

"We (schools) are presently 46.4 percent state funded and if the "Fair Share Plan" passes the schools will be 43 percent state funded, shifting the cost of education to the local level.

"Some of the Mandates are underfunded by the state, and some of the Mandates I am in favor of, Duty Free Lunches and Career Ladder.

"Performance is the bottom line. At the present time Texas schools is ranked 35th in the Nation.

"Just before coming, I called Austin and learned that the governor and leaders are about to change their mind about the "Fair Share Plan.

"An alternate plan has been submitted which would require voter approval. The plan is similar to the CED (County Education District). If the county doesn't approve the tax it would mean consolidation.

"The Fair Share Plan is a Finance Distribution Plan with no state tax increase. There would be a local tax increase or cut backs on school programs. I would hate to go to the voters for a tax increase.

"One alternative is a State Income Tax.

"The Muleshoe schools have an enrollment of 1450 students. We spent $4,000 per student last year."

David Tipps called the Rotary meeting to order and introduced the guest.

Before turning the program over to Finney, Tipps called the members attention to a letter he had passed out concerning Rotary. It points out that November is Rotary Foundation Month.

In the letter it explained that Rotary is based on four areas of service: Club Service, Community Service, Vocational Service, and International Service.

The first three are strictly up to the individual clubs to give their own direction, to improve in each area, and help those they can on a more local level. A little bit of time an effort many times is more important than money.

International Service is so well set up, all Rotary needs is a little funding from the clubs to really make an impact in countries where there is no Welfare, Medicaid, or Free Lunches at school. "It is amazing how far your dollar goes in most other countries. This means that Rotary can help so many more people with that donation dollar."

Deadline Nears For SBA Disaster Loan Assistance

Businesses in twenty-one West Texas counties, including Bailey County, have until December 10 to file applications for low-interest disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

The SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans are available for businesses dependent on farms and ranches sustaining crop losses from extreme freezing weather conditions which occurred October 1 through December 31, 1991.

Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for these SBA loans. Applications and further information can be obtained by calling the SBA, toll-free at 1-800-366-6303, or TDD 817-267-4688 for the hearing impaired.

Businesses located in the following counties have until December 10 to file an EIDL application:

Bailey, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Foard, Gaines, Garza, Haskell, Hockley, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lamb, Montley, Parmer, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum.

These loans are intended to assist businesses in offsetting working capital losses which they suffered as a result of the freezing weather reducing the crop income of the area farmers and ranchers. Small businesses claiming to have been physically injured by the adverse weather are not eligible.

Computer Center Offers Courses

December course offerings at the Texas A&M Computer Training and Education Center at Halfway will include courses for those interested in record keeping and those users of computer spreadsheets who want to be able to automate their work. Both courses are for more advance computer users. Introductory courses will be taught at the center in early 1993.

Using your computer to keep records is the best justification for owning a computer," says Dr. Jackie Smith, Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist and management specialist at Lubbock and instructor for the course.

"What-ifying with the use of spreadsheets is another powerful use of the computer," continued Smith. "These two courses will cover both aspects of computer use."

An advanced course in Quicken will be taught December 3 and 4. This two day course will feature the latest version of Quicken, version 6. The course will begin with a review of Quicken basics, highlighting entering, memorizing and splitting transactions, and the use of accounts, categories and classes. Reconciling problems, payroll, year-end procedures and new features in Quicken will also be discussed. In addition, the reporting features of Quicken will be covered in detail. Participants in the course need to be familiar with the Quicken software and be comfortable with transaction entry.

Lotus 1-2-3 Macros will be offered December 10 and 11. This course is for the experienced Lotus user who wants to learn to utilize macros to automate Lotus spreadsheets. Included will be an introduction to macros, a review of range names, and the development of keyboard and command Macros. Participants must have some experience with Lotus to fully utilize the information in this course.

The cost for each course is $100. This fee includes workshop materials and catered lunches each day. Couples are encouraged to attend. Only one fee will be charged if they share a computer. Registration for each course is limited to 14 to allow hands-on experience.

The training center is located in the Moody Building at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station facility, 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 70.

For more information, or to register for a course, contact your local county extension agent or telephone Jackie Smith at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, (806) 746-6101.

Money Talk

By Stanley James

Many worried what effect the victory of a Democratic presidential candidate would have on the stock market.

Past history shows the effect is minimal. The truth is that this year there was not a vast difference in the philosophy of the two major candidates concerning business and industry.

Victor Clinton, in fact, stressed new investment in business to create new jobs as a major part of his program.

The day after Clinton's election the market dipped by about thirty points. The next day it regained about all of it. For election week the market was up eleven points.

Thus a big selloff, widespread fear, didn't materialize. Markets have done about as well, on average, under Democrats as under Republicans. The difference is only two percent, if one traces the market back to the 1930's.

Public Comments To Shape Cancer Plan

"The Texas Cancer Council and the American Cancer Society are co-sponsoring a public hearing in Amarillo on November 23. It will focus on problems women have experienced in getting prevention, screening, or treatment services for breast and cervical cancer," George N. Peters, M.D., President of the American Cancer Society Texas Division, and Emily Untermeyer, Executive Director of the Texas Cancer Council, announced jointly. The hearing will be held at the Harrington Cancer Center at 1500 Wallace Blvd. from 3:30 to 5:30 pm on November 23, in Amarillo.

Women who have survived breast or cervical cancer, family members, cancer advocates and volunteers, health care providers, church leaders, business people, and anyone interested in improving access to quality health care services are invited to attend, share their experiences, and make recommendations. The Amarillo hearing is the third of seven to be held throughout the state. These public hearings are the first time state-level organizations have formally sought local suggestions on how to improve breast and cervical cancer services and information in Texas.

Roseann Wells, Program Coordinator of the Breast Cancer Screening Program at Harrington Cancer Center and member of the Breast and Cervical Cancer Strategic Planning Steering Committee, and Steve Sellars, field representative of the American Cancer Society, are local organizers of the Amarillo Public Hearing.

Each year more than 2,000 Texas women die of breast cancer and over 300 die from cervical cancer. Many of these deaths could have been avoided through prevention measures, early detection, or state-of-the-art treatment.

"The comments from public hearings will be used to craft the first Texas Breast and Cervical Cancer Strategic Plan," said Untermeyer. "The Texas Cancer Council is spearheading this historic statewide planning initiative which is funded by a federal grant through the Texas Department of Health. The strategic plan will build partnerships among public, private, and volunteer organizations to address the breast and cervical cancer needs of all Texas women."

"The Amarillo public hearing is an important event. It is an opportunity for our community to discuss the breast and cervical cancer needs of women in the Texas Panhandle, and how to best meet these needs," said David Wilks, President of the Amarillo Unit of the American Cancer Society. The Amarillo Unit sponsored a breast and cervical cancer screening program in October (National Breast Health Awareness Month) to encourage women in the Amarillo and Panhandle area to be screened regularly. Additionally, the Amarillo Unit sponsors a Reach to Recovery program and support group as well as educational programs.

The American Cancer Society is the nationwide, community based voluntary health organization dedicated to controlling cancer through research, education, and service.

The Texas Cancer Council is the state agency dedicated to planning and promoting the development and maintenance of effective programs and policies to unite public, private, and volunteer sector efforts toward reducing the human and economic impact of cancer on Texans.

The Breast Cancer Screening Program of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and High Plains Baptist Hospital began its operation in February 1989. The program was developed and implemented in response to an unmet need in the area. The program has a large service area including the Texas panhandle, and portions of Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, and Kansas. Many of the counties in our service area have no mammography facilities at all. Only two counties in the Texas panhandle (Potter and Moore) have mammography facilities which are accredited by the American College of Radiology. The program aims to decrease the death rate due to breast cancer through providing low-cost, quality breast cancer screening to women in the area, and educating women to comply with the breast cancer screening guidelines of the American Cancer Society.

Other hearings are scheduled in Abilene, San Antonio, El Paso, Dallas/Fort Worth and Brownsville. The first hearing was held in Longview on October 29.

MONEY TALK

Kay Bailey Hutchison
Texas State Treasurer

Editor's Note: Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison addresses various issues related to personal finance and state government. However, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. Since Hurricane Andrew hit Florida and Louisiana I've been wondering how I could better prepare for a natural disaster. Do you have any advice regarding my home and financial records?

A. Your best defense against any disaster is preparation. If you don't have homeowners insurance buy it as soon as you can. Most policies will cover you and your belongings against wind, fire and other disasters. You should buy additional coverage for natural disasters common to your geographical area. Make sure you read your policy and are aware of exactly what it covers.

You may want to consider purchasing replacement-cost coverage. Although this type of insurance costs approximately 10 percent more than actual or cost-value coverage, it could save you money. For example, if you paid $400 for your washing machine seven years ago and a the same model costs $600 today, you would receive the full cost to replace it - $600 - if your washing machine is destroyed.

Keep an inventory of all your household furniture with receipts and photos. This information, along with all other financial records such as insurance policies, titles, deeds, stock certificates and any other important records should be kept in a bank safe deposit box.

The key is to be prepared so you can get your life back together quickly after any disaster.

Q. I received a postcard from a private company informing me that I was due a $500 refund from the Internal Revenue Service. All I had to do was send $9.00 to this firm and they would send the check to me. I thought unclaimed property was sent to the Texas Treasury. How can I get my refund check from the IRS without paying the $9.00 fee?

A. The Texas Treasury receives property that is left unclaimed in safe deposit boxes or bank accounts in any Texas financial institution.

Property turned over to the Treasury can be in the form of money, stocks, bonds, jewelry or anything else imaginable.

However, the Texas Treasury does not receive IRS refund checks. The IRS retains control of this money. From time to time local newspapers will publish the names of taxpayers who are due a refund check and never claimed it. Publication of these names is not mandatory and left to the discretion of the individual newspapers.

If you think you may be due a refund check contact the IRS directly at 1-800-829-1040. They will ask you for your name and social security number. This service is free. There is no need to utilize the services of a private firm to access this information.

S.S. Increase
About 44 million Americans on Social Security will get a 3 percent cost-of-living increase next year, averaging $19 a month. Members of Congress will see their paychecks go up 3.2 percent, or $345 monthly.

Take a Second Look

On your first look, you may think that this little girl is riding a rocking horse, but look again. It is not a rocking horse but a little donkey.

About animals now, and children. Donkeys were one of the first animals to be tamed by man, and are gentle animals when they are not practicing the quality of being stubborn.

The quality of gentleness somehow reminds us of our Saviour, the Wonderful One.

Parents, teach your children about Jesus, who admonished us to let the little children come unto Him. Our Lord would remind us that the little ones are precious to the Father. We invite you to take the children to church this week.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Satanism...Our Children Are At Stake

by E.M. Sherrard and A.J. Derling-Parkside Medical Services Corp. Communities nationwide have reported incidents which may seem puzzling at first to local residents, but when put into the context we are describing can help us understand the extent of cult activities. In spite of their secretiveness, the signs are there for all to see, if we only know what they are.

Picture this: you are out for a walk in a nearby wooded area, it's evening, and the gray hue of moonlight spills down through the trees like fog. It's quiet. In that stillness, you begin to hear voices off among the thickets. Or, you see a bonfire through the trees. Just a group of friends out sitting around the fire, having a good time, you think. But, these days, in almost any part of the country, you'd better think again. In Chicago, law enforcement officials recently have warned people who have happened upon such sites, or who have discovered strange symbols carved into trees, or dead animals hanging from the branches to get away as soon as possible.

Throughout the United States, reports are coming in to law enforcement agencies about acts that undermine our sense of security, and our feeling that we know what's going on in our neighborhoods. These reports will chill any parent of an adolescent. Some of the things that are going on out there are as old as Christianity, and they are often being practiced or experimented with by young people - our teenagers. We're talking about Satanic Cults.

Simply put, a Satanic Cult is a group of people who come together to practice rituals to worship Satan. Satanism is a well-developed set of ideas and practices which are described in a surprisingly accessible body of literature, including the Satanic Bible. It can be bought in almost any city. You can grasp the concept pretty well if you think of it as Christianity turned upside down. Such values include crime and torture instead of good works and kindness, sadistic and indiscriminate sexual activity, the use of drugs, and sacrificial rites.

Basically, kids are currently becoming involved in Satanic Cults through their friends and music media-records, tapes, and videos of a few rock bands (and we want to emphasize that there are relatively few bands which portray Satanic motifs). The friends who introduce kids to this cult world usually do so through drugs, and the largest category of kids involved are dabblers. This group toys with symbols because they look unusual, make up rituals or apes behaviors they have heard about, listens to rock music in which the lyrics that call up images of the devil or death and cruelty. This means they begin to commit themselves to this cult, become obsessed with cult symbols and loyalties, plan and carry out sadistic rituals which usually involve small animals, use drugs as part of their rituals, and become very secretive about their activities.

A few advance past this stage to adopt not only the rituals of Satanism but also the belief system. That is, they begin to make it their religion.

Some of these teen-agers are recruited by adults into a more serious and dangerous cult. Although such recruiting has not been widely noted yet, the numbers seem to be increasing. Once young people get involved with a group like this, it is very hard for them to get themselves out. Threats of death, involvement in serious crimes and arcane blood rituals are some of the tactics used to keep kids involved and quiet.

Part of the attractions to these cults to kids lies in normal adolescent development. An adolescent may find the secret symbols fit into his newly discovered need for privacy, and fervent curiosity about the world. The mythic nature of the cult offers to remove the individual from reality. An adolescent's reality is often either boring or painfully self-conscious. Rituals provide structure in a confusing time of life. They provide a sense of control, and a comforting structure, paradoxically, for rebellion against structure, which is a natural adolescent need. In this way, a youngster can rebel without giving up all structure.

Adolescence is an age of passage. Children in our culture are at risk, because our culture has few rites of passage. Historically, a rite of passage between children and adulthood usually involved sacrifice, risk, ritual, the passage of secrets, and the welcoming of a child to an elite standing - that of an adult, with All new powers and esteem that goes with it. As you can imagine, Satanic cults offer many of these elements in their rituals.

Satanism also promises power, sex, and drugs, and provides a peer group which offers protection against others instilling fear. Very convincingly, it offers immediate gratification, something a traditional rite of passage would certainly educate against. It seems, then, an easy way for a youth who feels powerless, angry, and bored to escape from the oppression of those who he views of having all the power over his life - parents, teachers, school administrators.

Vandalism is often related to cult activity. Since this is a kind of religion, the good works we are so familiar with in conventional religions take the form of crimes in Satanism. Unusual descriptions of religious symbols and vandalized cemeteries or churches are indications of cult activities.

The spray painting of inscribing of unusual symbols, such as representatives of horned demons or runes, broken crosses, or the words "Satan" or "evil" or the like can be clues.

Parents may want to ask themselves, does my child isolate himself in his room, listening to the headphones? Does he refuse to allow anyone in his room? Is his room covered with satanic or violent posters? Has he drawn strange symbols on his clothing, or on his skin? Has he mutilated himself in any way? Does he keep a secret book? Often cults require members to keep a "Book of Shadows," which is a blank diary used to record activities, fears, secret prayers, and the like.

Set aside structured time with your kids. This is the basic part of good parenting. It gives structure, offers opportunity for communication, and keeps regular contact within the family. It also should include special time just to talk.

While respecting their privacy, it is okay to periodically check a child's room with the child present. If there are things displayed which you don't understand, ask about them.

If you are worried or scared, say so. Being able to admit fear can often diffuse a situation that could otherwise fester into anger and close off communication. Be able to discuss rationally with your child, and be able to listen to his point of view, no matter how much it scares or angers you. Kids who are drawn into cults, are often told their parents are their enemies, and that secrets are to be kept at all cost. If you show love and tolerance, this often opens up the doors for the child to talk about it.

Be sure your child knows it's not acceptable to turn any part of your home into a ritual area, and that all visitors are allowed with parental approval. This is your home, and you have authority over who visits and what goes on there.

Don't be afraid to seek help from ministers, a social service agency, the school, or the police. They can help, and have helped many people in this situation. It is often impossible to do it alone.

Dear John: Equipment Management Answers from John Deere

Conserving & Cultivating

Q: Mechanical cultivation has always been an important part of my weed control program. Can I continue to cultivate and still meet conservation compliance requirements?

A: One of the easier adjustments to make when increasing the level of conservation farming practices in your operation is adapting cultivating to high residue farming.

After the crop is up, cultivating, sidedressing fertilizer, or other tillage in the growing crop does not affect compliance with required residue levels.

Of course, you want to fit cultivating into your operation so that it makes sense in every way: least cost weed control, saving time and labor, and minimizing use of herbicides. In most conservation farming situations, the best combination combines the advantages of chemical weed control and mechanical weed control.

For example, combining over-the-row banding of herbicides with mechanical cultivation to clean out the row middles is working well and reducing costs in many conservation farming plans.

New heavier duty cultivators are easily adapted to a wide range of residue levels. Special cultivators are even available to handle the high residue levels in no-till and ridge tillage.

If you have a "Dear John" question about conservation farming practices, efficient machine operation or equipment management, send your question to: DEAR JOHN, Ag Equipment Answers, Deere & Company, John Deere Road, Moline, Illinois 61265-8098.

Almost anybody can justify whatever is done and believe it.
