Agricultural Needs Differ Within County

★★ Young Cotton Damage Evaluation Advised

Evaluating losses of young cotton plants which have been damaged by disease, hail, wind or other injury can be difficult. But scientific studies of several factors involved in such evaluations offer farmers some help in their decisions, says a cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Over the years, a number of researchers have looked at this problem of evaluating plant damage," said Dr. James R. Supak, the agronomist. Planting patterns, the size of "skips" created by the damage and the date of injury are among factors the scientists have considered, he said.

When deciding extent of damage and whether to re-plant, it's frequently recommended that if two or more plants per foot of row survive, and if there aren't too many long skips, the stand is still adequate for optimum production, Supak said.

"This brings up the problem of how to define a skip and determine what constitutes too many long skips," the Extension agronomist said. "On the High Plains, for example, potential yield losses are related to the date of injury as well as length of skips." Under proper growing conditions, the plants on either side of a two- to three-foot skip can compensate for the missing plants with little or no yield loss. Fiber properties, especially micronaire, are likely to be affected as the two outside plants have to set and mature a much larger number of bolls, the specialist explained.

In 1975, Dr. Marvin Heilman and Dr. Neal Namkin, researchers with the U. S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research at Weslaco (Rio Grande Valley) studied the effects of skips on cotton yields in single and double-row planting patterns. In their study, the length of the skips varied from zero to nine feet and the skips were selected and positioned in the drill of test rows at random.

"This was intended to approximate the situation typically encountered under field conditions, with skips of varying length distributed throughout the field," Supak said.

The number of skips was controlled to provide essentially three types of stand: normal stand (4.5 plants per foot with no skips longer than six inches); 25 percent stand loss (average of 3.5 plants per foot with random skips ranging from

Some Need Rain, Some Dry Weather

"Farmers will take their losses, pull their belts a little tighter, and make another stab at raising their crops, as they have in the past," said Spencer Tanksley, Bailey Co. Extension Agent.

A recent cold snap dropped soil temperatures some in Bailey County, according to the Agent. Tanksley indicated that the cooler temperatures cause the plant growth to come to a standstill; in that, they are not progressing in a normal fashion. Recent environmental reports have shown that Bailey County is approximately 15 units below normal in solar heat increments for the month of May. The variations in these units fluctuates with the weather, wind speeds, temperatures and other weather factors. The agent explained that what all this means on the bottom line is this: "That Bailey County is from 1 to 2 inches below normal in irrigated cropland moisture and from 2 to 4 inches below normal in dryland." "A long, ideal fall will be necessary to put the county back in good condition, and that is the only way we can play the catch-up game at this point," Tanksley said.

lyt dry land farmers have some supplemental irrigation, good cotton stands can be found now. These stands are somewhat scattered. He expects all cotton planting to have been done by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Some producers who lots their cotton and corn to hail two weeks ago, have replanted with soybeans or maize, and then some have gone back in with cotton. Tanksley said that some land in the southern part of the county that would normally be planted in cotton, had not yet been planted due to the dry conditions. It is his contention that farmers in that area are going to plant grain sorghum on that previous cotton land.

Farmers who lost their corn crops in the northern part of the County have either gone back in and replanted with earlier maturing hybrid varieties or with soybeans and sorghum. About 1/2 of the corn in the county has been left, since it has responded and come back out after the hail damage.

The Agent indicated that from 65 to 70 acres of farm land has been or is in the process of being replanted in Bailey County. About 5 to 8 thousand acres of wheat was totally destroyed by hail, but some of the other left standing in irrigated sections will have good yields. Dryland wheat has been cut back yield-wise because of the dry spring and winter.

July 4 Celebration Gains Momentum

With the Independence Day Celebration here in Muleshoe less than a month away, plans are being firmed up for the annual festivities, slated this year for Saturday, July 3. The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is planning for most of the same events as last year. On June 1, registration began at the Chamber office in City Hall for the booths at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum. The fee for a booth is ten dollars, which must be paid at the time of the sign-up. Booths are being reserved on a first-come, first-served basis. All area clubs and organizations are being urged to participate this year, as a way of earning some money for their group, as well as contributing to the fun and excitement of what has become Muleshoe's largest town-wide celebration.

The Civic Center will also be the site for several other events, including games and contests for the young people of the area. One of the best attended events each year is the demonstration by Hawkins and Purdy's School of Dance and Gymnastics and

Annual Muleshoe Junior Rodeo Scheduled July 2

The Muleshoe Roping Club will sponsor their annual Muleshoe Junior Rodeo on Friday and Saturday July 2 and 3 beginning at 8 p.m. each night. The event will be headlined the opening night with the crowning of Miss Rodeo Muleshoe, 1982 by the reigning Miss Rodeo Muleshoe, Kim Farmer.

Entry blanks are now available for the rodeo and may be obtained at John's Mill and the Journal office.

Sixty percent of all entry fees will be paid back to contestants this year and three places in each event will receive the paybacks. Trophy buckles will be awarded to all-around cowgirls or cowboys in each junior and senior age group. Contestants may enter higher age brackets, but only one age group counts toward all-around points. Entrants must be prepared to show proof of age and age as of the date of the rodeo applies. The books close June 26. For the little fry's, the Roping Club will offer calf riding, barrel racing and pole bending, as well as flag race and goat race at

Area Cotton Workshop Planned Here Tuesday

Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley has announced a special "cotton educational meeting" for all Bailey County and area cotton producers. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 8, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Muleshoe State Bank community room and will last for about two hours.

will be joined by Dr. James Supak, TAES area cotton specialist. Supak will speak to producers regarding weed control in cotton and Leper will deal with boll weevil and bollworm problems.

Tanksley said that this meeting is free and open to the public and he encourages all producers to attend. Tanksley said "Producers will be able to glean information regarding the control of weeds and insects in their cotton."

Around Muleshoe

The Bailey County Farm Bureau will be holding their Board of Directors' meeting on Tuesday evening at 8:30 p.m., June 8, in the Bailey County Farm Bureau office.

The Jennyslippers will meet Tuesday at 12 noon, June 8, in the back of the Muleshoe Library Building. All members are urged to attend.

CALLING ALL HANDS-The miniature golf course is in dire need of helping hands to complete the remaining work needed to open by July 4. Please bring rakes, hoes, etc. and join friends and neighbors in this worthwhile project. Regular work nights will be Tuesdays and Thursdays, but individuals and clubs are encouraged to work at any time possible. Donations are being taken now to complete the equipment for the golf course.

Voters may vote from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday June 5 in the Democratic election runoffs in Bailey County. Voting boxes will

TEC Office Has Many Applicants

With over 100 students graduating from Muleshoe High School a few days ago, Texas Employment Commission manager, Lonnie Merriott says that he would "urge those graduates who do not plan to attend college to register now at the TEC office for jobs available." Merriott also said that graduates who plan to enter college this fall are also encouraged to register for summer employment.

The manager explained that although he is out of the office making employer contacts upon occasion, persons who call are urged to call again. A telephone recorder will soon be available and will enable Merriott to return calls.

The TEC office in Muleshoe is located at 121 East Avenue C and has been there since the re-opening. Many applicants are now available for work, including from secretaries to auto mechanics, according to Merriott.

Area Students Named To Honor Lists

WTSU--More than 700 students at West Texas State University have been listed on the president's and dean's honor rolls for the 1982 spring semester.

The Dean's List includes 621 students who have earned grade point averages of 3.25 to 3.84 based on a 4.0 scale.

On the President's List are 124 students whose grade point averages range from 3.85 to the perfect 4.0.

Honor roll students represent schools and colleges including School of Agriculture, College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business, College of Educa-

Freaky Texas weather detailed in new book

COLLEGE STATION — A century of Texas weather-watching proves that if you wait long enough, you'll see everything — a 15-inch snowfall in Beaumont, a 35-inch drenching of Thrall, and a day in the Panhandle when the high temperature was two degrees below zero.

Such freaks of weather have been brought together for the first time by researchers with the State Climatologist's Office at Texas A&M University who distilled 100 years of state meteorology records into a new publication now available to the public.

John Griffiths, Texas' official State Climatologist and professor of meteorology, and former graduate student Greg Ainsworth assembled information for the $7.95 booklet — "One Hundred Years of Texas Weather" — last year. Many people are probably not aware of all the weather extremes since the 1850s now compiled in one document with tables and maps, Griffiths says.

"Small Enough To Know You... Yet Large Enough To Serve You"

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Withrow, Lance

MRS. GREG DAVIS LANCE
(nee Ruth Ann Withrow)

Miss Ruth Ann Withrow became the bride of Greg Davis Lance during a candlelight ceremony Saturday, May 22 at the Sudan Church of Christ. Rex Byles, youth minister of the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock, read the double ring vows.

The church was centered with a large brass candle tree decorated with huckleberry foliage, white lace mums intermingled with lavender silks with lavender candles and baby's breath. Highlighting the rostrum was the couple's memory candle decorated with silk, flanked by two brass candle trees with matching decorations.

Wedding music was provided by a choral group from Littlefield, led by Kerry Drake, brother in law of the bride. Delen Spradley sang "If" and "The Theme From Ice Castles".

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza and trimmed in Chantilly lace, embroidered with seed pearls. Lace appliques circled the waistline. The back of the bodice featured a soft circled yoke, and was outlined with lace. The full sleeves were of Chantilly Lace, ending in fitted cuffs and narrow ruffles of organza. The cuffs were embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt featured two rows of Chantilly Lace and six rows of ruffled organza which formed a cascade from the center of the skirt to the floor in front. The back of the skirt featured twelve rows of Chantilly Lace and ruffled organza which swept into a full chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was gathered to a cap of Chantilly lace, embroidered in seed pearls. The veil was edged in Chantilly lace.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of lavender silk day lilies, stephanotis, silk baby's breath atop a white Bible which her mother carried in her wedding, this was something borrowed. The bride carried two rings her grandmothers wore for something old, and for something new she chose her dress, and her garter served as something blue. She wore pennies in her shoe minted in the years of their birth.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Martha Duke of Littlefield. Bridesmaids were Marie Withrow, sister of the bride, Mechele Edwards, and Becky Byerley, all of Sudan.

The bride's attendants wore formal length gowns of lilac promise featuring a sheer lilac floral cape. The bridesmaids carried silk nosegay bouquets of lavender enchantment lilies, daisies and baby's breath.

Serving as best man was Joe Wood of Sudan. Groomsmen were Kevin Robertson of Lubbock, Mart Davison and Pete Edwards, both of Sudan. The groomsmen were attired in silver tuxedos with ascot ties. The groom wore a white tuxedo.

Ushers were Greg Nicholas and Michael Jones both of Lubbock. Jennifer Farrar, niece of the groom was flower girl. She was dressed in a formal length white silk organza dress and carried a white basket with lavender flowers. Stacey Farrar, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer and wore a white tuxedo.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length beige gown with a lavender floral design. The groom's mother was attired in a formal length navy blue gown. Both mothers wore corsages of phalaenopsis orchids. Each mother, when being ushered in lit the candles for the couple's lighting of the unity candle.

Tanya Ray of Sudan registered the guests and Paula Wood of Sudan served as coordinator.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth with silver and crystal appointments. Adorning the table was a candelabra. Serving at the bride's table were Jody Palmer, Melisa Tatum both of Post, Teresa Taylor of Lubbock and Delen Spradley of Dallas.

The groom's table was covered by a beige cloth. The centerpiece was a good candle arrangement. Gold and crystal appointments were used. Serving at the groom's table were his sisters, Carol Keese of Milton, Florida and Elayne Farrar of Brownfield.

Suzanne and Jill Reid, cousins of the bride, handed out rice bags.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Pudd Wiseman, Mrs. Calvin Wiseman, Mrs. Jerry Ray, Mrs. Connie Franks, Mrs. Wayne Swart and Mrs. Tommy Moss.

The bride is a graduate of Sudan High School and attends Lubbock Christian College. The groom graduated from Sudan High School and attends Texas Tech University.

After a wedding trip to Brownwood, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. M. M. (Bill) Lance on Friday, May 21 at K-Bobs in Littlefield.

WOTS Weekly Meeting

Pat Cummins of Earth and Lydia Wright were the hostesses for the June 3 luncheon of WOTS, at Summit Savings and Loan Community Room. Plans for a family picnic were discussed and a tentative date and time has been set for July 24. The picnic will be held at Clovis City Park. The group agreed to meet on the last Thursday of each month, instead of weekly for the summer months. On Thursday June 24 the meeting will be held at Summit with Betty Barker and Ramona Engram as hostesses.

It was agreed that WOTS would re-group at Summit on September 2. Mildred Williams and Lois Martinec will be the hostesses at that time.

 $7.00 per entry per class. Pee-wees are age eight and under. Buckles will be awarded to each first place pee-wee in each of these events. Ribbons will be distributed through 6th place and an all-around buckle will be awarded to the high point pee-wee.

For aspiring young cowboys, age 9-14, the lineup will include steer riding, ribbon roping, breakaway roping, flag and goat race and steer dabbing, all at a cost of $20 bucks a throw. Young ladies in the 9 to 14 age group will choose their events from the following list: Barrel race, pole bending, goat tying, flag and goat race and steer dabbing. A charge of $20 per event is also on tap for these events.

A special attraction this year will be the Muleshoe Roping Club and Businessman's Wild Cow Milking contest. This should prove to be interesting and old-timers say that it is a sight to behold. All in all, it promises to be exciting.

Bull riding will headline the events for boys, age 15 to 19, along with tie down roping, ribbon roping, breakaway roping, chute dogging and team roping. These events are $25 per entry.

Girls in the 15 to 19 age group will be participating in breakaway roping, barrel racing, pole bending, goat tying, flag race and steer dabbing.

Contestants should remember that assistants in ribbon roping and team roping must be in the same age group or younger, as that of the rider.

This year's event is being held in connection with the annual July 4 celebration in Muleshoe and spokesmen for the Club have indicated that they expect a good turnout for this year's rodeo.

Entries should be mailed to Jim Henderson, Route 4, Box 4, Muleshoe or for inquiries call Rex Black, Roping Club president at 272-3431.

 one-half to nine feet in length) and 40 percent loss (average 2.5 plants per foot with skips ranging from one-half to nine feet in length).

The results of this study are summarized in Table 1. "It is of interest to note the difference in yield reduction between the single and double-row planting patterns. Both the 25 and 40-percent stand reductions caused significant yield decreases in the single-row cotton but only the 40-percent stand loss caused a significant decrease in the double-row cotton" he noted.

In 1981, a similar study was conducted at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock in cooperation with Dr. Don Wanjura, agricultural engineer, USDA-AR. The test was planted in single-drilled, 40-inch rows in mid-May. In early June, skips ranging from zero to eight feet in length were randomly assigned to the plots to provide zero, 25 percent and 50 percent stand losses. The entire test plot was heavily damaged by hail on July 4. Although the hail storm fouled up the test, it was of interest to note, Supak said, that only the 50 percent stand reduction resulted in a significant yield loss (Table 2).

"Based on the results of these and other studies, it appears that cotton plants on either side of a three-foot skip can compensate for the missing plants with little or no yield loss even when the stand is reduced to as few as two plants per foot of drill." When longer skips occur in a random fashion across the field, the probability of significant yield losses increases, the Extension cotton agronomist said.

 had already indicated that the seed was drying out and was in dry dirt.

Alfalfa cutting is running from 10 to 21 days behind scheduled, since usual first cutting is done in mid-May. With the approximate 7 to 8 thousand acres of hay in the County, many producers have gone back with the baling of hay rather than cubing, due to the fact that the price is better and the market moves a little faster. Cash flow is foremost in many situations for the farmers.

With other crops such as vegetables, the agent said that the picture seemed to be stable at this time. Some crops were damaged, but generally the outlook is one of the better ones in the agriculture picture, Tanksley said.

Tanksley cautioned area producers to be on the look out for plant disease and insect infestations in damaged or set-back crops.

Groups, clubs and organizations in the area are also encouraged to join in the other events to take place on the third, including the Freedom Parade. Entries are being accepted at the current time. Cash prizes will be awarded for the best floats in the parade.

In order to finance the finale of the day, the fireworks display, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is holding a giant garage sale on Saturday, June 26, in conjunction with the Annual Sidewalk Sale. All area residents are being asked to contribute merchandise to the garage sale, and to come by the Crossroads Conoco Station on the 26th to shop for bargains. Drop-off points for donated items will be announced shortly.

4-H Club's Annual Cook-Out

by Evelyn Ritchie

Sudan 4-H had its annual cookout for the 1981-82 year at the park across from the school on May 10 with 25 present.

At this time, new officers were elected as follows:

President, Debbie Hill; Vice President—Judy Wiseman; Secretary—Treasurer—Sandra Hill; Reporter—Linda Wiseman. Senior queen representing the club this year is Debbie Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hill and the junior princess is Danette Provence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Provence. Council delegates representing Sudan are Debbie Hill and Judy Wiseman.

Business taken care of at that time was the club voted to present the Pioneer Independence Celebration Committee a donation of $25. The club will also have tickets going on sale June 14 for a pair of Western boots to be given away at the celebration.

A 4th of July booth committee was selected to try to decide on a type of activity to represent the 4-H club at the days' activities. They also elected a committee to get ideas together for a Community Improvement Project. More details on these projects will be published following the called meeting on June 14.

A going away gift was presented to the assistant county agent, Marvin Ensor who is going to Plains as their county agent. The Sudan 4-H Club wishes him the best of luck in his new job and thank him for his time and help with the Sudan club.

The 4-H members also wish good luck to the following during 4-H Round-Up: Gary Fields in Horse Judging; Debbie Hill and Dora Black in Method Demonstration to be held at College Station on June 8 and 9.

Pure Honey Needs No Preservatives

Is your honey raw or processed? How can you tell?

Raw honey is that which has never been heated above 100 degrees F. or strained, says Dr. Cass

TEEX teaches nuclear firefighters special techniques

COLLEGE STATION — Because fires in nuclear power plants can range from simple trashbasket blazes to electrical infernos that threaten vital radiation safety systems, fire brigades at such facilities need special training.

The Texas Engineering Extension Service, part of the Texas A&M University System, offers the kind of classroom and hands-on experience needed in one of the few programs nationwide, says the instruction coordinator.

A week of classes focuses on basic control and prevention skills, said David Cox of the TEEX Fire Protection Training Division.

In addition, nuclear plant emergency teams receive special emphasis on radiation detection, fighting fires in the presence of radioactive contamination and setting up control areas for firemen leaving the scene, said Cox.

The class is open to any employee of a nuclear plant. In addition, the training division will arrange special courses for individual firms that ask for them.

Ryan-Crowe, a food and nutrition specialist.

Processed honey has been heated or filtered to remove any foreign particles, she adds.

Ryan-Crowe is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

The color of honey varies depending on where the bees collect the nectar, the specialist says.

In addition, heating honey can cause it to darken slightly.

To store honey, keep it in a tightly covered container in a dark, cool place, she advises.

Freezing or refrigeration will not harm the product, but may cause it to form granules.

If granules do form, place the honey in a bowl of warm water until the crystals melt.

For pure-honey users; remember that the pure product won't ever spoil and needs no preservatives.

MR. AND MRS. ALTON EPTING

BY SHERYL BORDEN

Topics to be covered on "The Creative Woman" show for June 8 and 12 include part two of the color analysis segment, information regarding planting and caring for peonies, as well as ideas for making confections suitable for showers or parties.

The first guest is Denise Nichols, a make up and color consultant from Portales, and she will continue the discussion on color, based on the book "Color Me Beautiful," by Carole Jackson. Four models will also be on the show to represent the different color seasons, which Ms. Jackson bases the color analysis on. Viewers will see actual samples of which colors look best on different color types.

The peony is one of the most popular fall bulbs which blooms in early spring. Charles Guthals, owner of Guthals Nursery in Clovis, will demonstrate how to care for the peony plant, the characteristics particular to the peony and how to encourage early Spring blooming.

Martha Schuler is from Friona, Texas, and she has been on the show before and always has lots of exciting ideas for using processed chocolates. Her topic for the show this week will deal with some fun and creative ideas for using the processed chocolates for confections for showers or parties.

"The Creative Woman" is seen on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. (MST) and on Saturdays at 2:00 p.m. (MST).

On June 10, the topics will include microwave tips, sewing with velour and other plush knits, and oatmeal facials.

One guest on the show will be Connie Moyers, Consumer Service Representative for Southwestern Public Service Company in Clovis, and she will discuss microwave cooking, different types of plastic cookware than can be used in a microwave oven and prepare a nutritious and delicious caramel popcorn dish in the microwave oven.

If you would like to sew with a fabric that doesn't ravel and requires no seam finishes, one that requires no pressing while sewing, and one that comes in a wide range of colors and widths, you'll enjoy the demonstration by Susan Wright, Extension Clothing Specialist with New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Since there are so many products on the market today in the category of beauty aids, we as consumers need to know which ones are worth our money. Nina Swan, Director of Consumer Relations for the National Oats Company in Cedar Rapids, Iowa will compare a homemade oatmeal facial to the commercial counterpart.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden for KENW-TV. The show is made possible in part by a grant from Security State Bank, Farwell, Texas. Robert W. Anderson is president.

Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the shows by calling KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. The numbers are: New Mexico: 1-800-432-2361 and Texas: 1-800-545-2359. Portales and Roosevelt County residents can call 562-2112. All viewers are asked to call between 8:00 and 5:00 Monday through Friday.

Sudan News

By Evelyn Ritchie

Mrs. Wiley Mudgett has returned home from Pueblo Colorado, where she has been with her daughter, Candace Quigg who was seriously ill.

In last week's edition of this paper, it was erroneously reported that Mr. and Mrs. Shawn Potter were of Roswell, N.M. It should have read Roswell, GA.

Sudan and area received from .6 to an inch of rain Sunday, May 23. Much more is needed to provide the farmers with the needed moisture to finish planting dryland.

Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Smith have returned home from Kansas where they attended class reunions and football team reunions.

Zerlina Schafer graduated May 15 with a Bachelor of Science degree from Lamar University in Beaumont. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marving Tollett.

Dr. C. Robert Kemble, president, gave informal remarks about each graduate as he conferred the degrees and mentioned that Zerlina was the mother of Rehnea Schafer who received her degree last May and also was the grandmother of his grandchild.

Following the graduation exercises, the Jeff, Kembles hosted a brunch for the Schafers including Zerlina, Ray & Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tollett and their great grand daughter, Ashlee.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tollett have returned home from visiting in Beaumont with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schafer and family and also visited in Austin with cousins, Mrs. Myrtle Whittle and Mrs. Roy Jones and in Brady with another cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Teague and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sallee and Mrs. Emma Lee Russell. They all were at Camp San Saba cemetery where her great grandparents are buried.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tollett of Rogers New Mexico visited Tuesday with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tollett. Also visiting were their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burke Tollett of Spade.

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tollett were at the Inez Cemetery near Rogers New Mexico for "Cemetery Clean-up Day."

As of Wednesday over $1,000.00 had been donated to this year's Pioneer-Independence Celebration fund. Some $1400 is needed for the planned events.

If you haven't made your contribution and plan to do so, please mail or give to Hoyt Robertson or Cletis Holloman, members of this committee.

This money will be used for float prizes, plaques, decorations and other related expenses. Your donation is needed at this time so that plans can be made for various events. Mail in on no matter how small or large.

The Sudan Fire Department will be sponsoring the Beard Growing Contest in connection with the Pioneer-Independence Celebration Festivities on July 3rd. This will be their seventh year.

Plaques will be awarded for the ugliest, best groomed, and the longest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ethridge, KayLynn and Joe Dimmitt visited during the weekend with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Churchman and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Churchman and Little Scott.

New Alphabet-Soup Mortgages Available

COLLEGE STATION-----
When buying or selling a home, keep in mind the importance of understanding the new 'alphabet-soup' mortgages available, suggests Dr. Peggy Owens, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Owens is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University system.

Individual home buyers should "shop around" for a mortgage that best fits their financial situation, the specialist says.

Some of the new mortgage plans to consider when thinking of purchasing a home in the near future, are:

1) ADJUSTABLE RATE MORTGAGE (ARM) OR ADJUSTABLE MORTGAGE LOAN (AML)

The rate is tied to an index and changes as the index varies. The rate is just below the conventional loan rate and may or may not have a cap on how high or low the rate can go.

2) GRADUATED PAYMENT MORTGAGE (GPM) The home owner's payment starts low and increase on a preset schedule. As the owner's income increases so do his house payments. These mortgages usually require less down payment than a conventional loan.

3) ROLL-OVER MORTGAGE (ROM)

A loan is paid off over a period of 25 or 30 years but is refinanced after three to five years or paid off. The lender has the option of refinancing.

4) RENEGOTIABLE RATE MORTGAGE (RRM) The homeowner pays on a loan over a period of 25 or 30 years but the lender agrees to renew the loan after a preset time (three to five years) at a new interest rate. The loan is tied to a predetermined index, and the rate cannot change before the time set by lender and buyer.

To better understand the new "mortgage language" and to customize a mortgage to fit individual financial situations, consult a lending agent, lawyer or real estate agent, the specialist suggests.

Help Your Heart

American Heart Association

Understanding 'Endotoxic' Shock

Each year millions of Americans are hospitalized for medical and surgical treatments. A small percentage die before they leave the hospital of bacterial infections that cause failure of their hearts and blood vessels. Their patients' weakened immune defense systems are overwhelmed -- often by a normally harmless bacterium such as E. coli, which lives in almost everybody's intestines. Overpowering the defense system that usually keeps them in check, E. coli or other gram negative bacteria spread into the bloodstream where they manufacture potent poisons called endotoxins that cause "endotoxic shock."

Because endotoxic shock is a secondary infection, it often is not mentioned as the cause of death. But, says Michael L. Hess, M.D., professor of medicine at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, "This hospital-acquired disease has a terribly high death rate. About 40 percent of those who suffer endotoxic shock die, and they die very quickly -- often within 48 hours."

Since the endotoxic shock syndrome was first recognized in 1909, the death rate has not improved despite the development of antibacterial drugs, Dr. Hess continues. In fact, "this ominous picture has continued to enlarge" as increased numbers of people receive treatments that weaken their immune systems, such as the immunosuppression and chemotherapy used to treat cancer. Patients with severe burns or infected wounds, and women who have had abortions are also among those who seem to be most susceptible to endotoxic shock.

With grants from the American Heart Association and other sources, Dr. Hess and his colleagues have made important discoveries about the basic mechanisms involved in endotoxic shock, discoveries that someday may help save thousands of lives. This research may help your heart.

Most people have heard about the type of shock that follows an automobile accident when the patient's blood is spilled all over the highway. Dr. Hess has demonstrated that endotoxic shock has important similarities. In both syndromes, great quantities of blood escape from the circulatory system, lowering blood pressure and leaving the heart without enough blood to nourish it. In endotoxic shock, the blood seeps out through the vessel walls (which malfunction because of the endotoxin) and pools in the tissues.

"It's primarily the collapse of the cardiovascular system that kills endotoxic shock patients," Dr. Hess explains. By investigating the mechanisms that cause the cells of the heart and blood vessels to fail, he hopes to find ways to protect them from the adverse effects of the bacterial poisons.

Firefighters In Action

May showed signs of slowing up in the number of fires, time spent and mileage on vehicles. Fourteen fire calls came in during the month, 328 miles were registered and 95 hours spent on duty.

Donald Harrison, Clarence Copeland and Bill Kinard received certificates from Hurst Rescue Seminar held in New Braunfels May 22 and 23. The use of the Jaws of Life over the last few years has saved many lives. Having this tool and the men properly trained to use it can make a would be disaster much less a disaster.

During the business meeting June 2 the previous minutes were approved. The department agreed to handle the 4th of July fireworks if called upon.

Membership application of Gary Ray Hugg was accepted. We want to welcome Gary to the department. Gary and his wife, Rhonda, live at 902 Gum and he is employed by Southwestern Public Service, Tolk Plant.

June has five Wednesdays, which means social time. Wives of firemen will be contacted for help with the ice cream, cake and pies.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Many retailers are looking for new ways to improve business. Some merchants have discovered there are benefits to offering a discount to customers who use cash, checks, or money orders instead of credit cards.

Merchants benefit because cash sales save them the fee otherwise paid to credit card companies, and it gives them immediate cash in return for their goods and services.

They are also able to attract new customers by advertising their discount policy.

Consumers benefit because the savings are passed on to them through the lower prices.

Merchants who start such a "discount for cash" program find that it is simple and inexpensive, and it does not require the approval of any federal agency. However, certain rules, as set out in the Truth-in-Lending Act, must be followed:

—The retailer must disclose clearly and conspicuously to all customers (not just credit card holders) that he offers a discount for cash sales. He can do this by posting a sign at each location where purchases are made, saying "We give discounts for cash," or something similar. Customers must be aware of the discount policy before they make their purchase.

—The discount may be as large or as small as the retailer chooses it to be.

—The merchant has the option of offering cash discounts only on certain types of products or services or only at certain stores in a chain. For example, a gas station owner could decide to give discounts for cash on gas, but not on items such as tires or batteries. However, the store must make the policy known to all customers.

Although the law allows a retailer to offer a discount for cash, it forbids the charging of a surcharge on purchases made by credit card customers.

The following are examples of the difference between a discount for cash and a surcharge:

If the store posts only the credit card price by each item and then deducts the discount when a cash sale is made, that is a discount for cash.

If a store posts both the credit card price and the lower cash by each item, that is also a discount for cash.

If a store posts the discounted cash price and then charges credit card customers a higher amount, that is adding a surcharge, and this is illegal.

The movement for discount-for-cash programs really began because supporters felt that cash-paying customers should not have to bear the extra costs for services used only by charge account customers.

It is obviously an idea whose time has come because all consumers are looking for ways to save money. With discount-for-cash programs gaining popularity, the consumer has the option of choosing the convenience of credit cards or the savings of cash.

SOVIET SKEPTICAL
MOSCOW -- The Soviet Union received President Reagan's strategic arms control proposals recently with skepticism, but indicated broadly that it was prepared to consider them as a basis for resuming talks with the United States on reducing nuclear arsenals.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

GOING UP...

A building is being erected. It is made of strong materials, steel and concrete. The foundation is firm and deep. The edifice is built to endure.

We need to build our homes to endure. They need a strong foundation. They need to be built on the rock of Christ. Psalm 127:1 reads, Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it. Attend church regularly that your house may be instructed in the ways of the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long survive since the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
