Lion Hall of Spearman, will be in charge of the Lions Club float in the big Tri-State Parade, down Polk Street in Amarillo Monday morning. The Spearman float will follow the Gruver High School twirlers and band, pictured above with Mr. Hall. Be sure and plan to watch the Spearman Lions Club float and the Gruver band on TV Monday morning if you can't go to the parade!

This was the way the officials looked last night at the Spearman Canadian football game. The Lynx scored a big 41-0 win over a fine Wildcat team. Steele ran this one in for a TD.

The Spearman 7th grade team played at Dalhart Thursday night. The Lynx team tied the Wolves 0-0 in the thriller. The Lynx 8th grade lost a hard fought game to the Wolves. The Spearman B team defeated Guymon 8-6 as Boone scored the winning TD.

This had to be Greg Sherwood's night in Spearman, as his Lynx shocked a good Wildcat team from Canadian, 41-0, and it could have been much, much worse. Not that it really matters to anyone in Spearman, but the Lynx were rated in the top ten in the Harris pole last week, and this week they were dropped to 165th! This just didn't set right in Hansford County, and it definitely upset the troops of Greg Sherwood.

Kent Hargis returned to the team this week, and put a spark in the Lynx, along with Steele, Newton, Morris and Fox! The Lynx definitely have a good offense, and of course the defense shut-out the Wildcats, and this sure was the difference!

Zane Newton opened the scoring in the first quarter, with a 6 yard run with 8:31 left in the first quarter. Mark Fox (the only Fox in the Lynx lineup) kicked the extra point to put the Lynx ahead. Kent Hargis came back to add a 53 yard touchdown run in the second quarter, and Fox kicked the extra point, to take a 14-0 lead with 8:01 left in the half. Rick Morris added another 8 yard TD run in the 2nd stanza, but the extra point try failed, to give the Lynx a 20-0 halftime lead.

David Steele added another TD on a 1 yard run in the third period, and Fox kicked the extra point for a 27-0 lead. In the last quarter, the Lynx tallied 8 points as Fox scampered for a 13 yard TD, and Steele passed to Beedy for a 2 point conversion.

Fox duplicated this play late in the 4th period on a 13 yard TD scamper, but the pass for the extra point failed and the Lynx stopped their scoring with a 41-0 win.

In a talk with Kent Hargis' mother early Saturday morning, she informed the newspaper that Kent's leg was very sore when he went to bed last night (he was injured in the last quarter) and the extent of the damage to the tendons in the leg wouldn't be known for a day or two. It was thought that his leg was not injured too badly, but he may be out for next week's contest at Sunray! None of the

Dance A Little, Help A Child

It's almost time. Time for the Cystic Fibrosis "Fabulous Fifties" Dance-a-Thon. Saturday, September 20, is the night. Eight p.m. until midnight is the time. Spearman Community Building is the place.

Individuals wishing to help the six million children suffering from lung-damaging diseases should pick up sponsor forms at any of the six locations -- Dairy Queen, T.G.&Y., Spearman Drug, Gordon's Drug, the Junior High and High School principals' offices. Then, collect sponsors-- friends, businesspersons, relatives, neighbors, clubs, organizations, anyone willing to pledge any amount of money for each hour the participant dances. The persons who raise the most money and get the most sponsors will win gift certificates donated by Spearman Drug and Gordon's Drug.

Get in the mood. Dress in 50's garb and be prepared to rock around the clock to authentic 1960's records by Elvis, the Platters, the Everly Brothers, Bill Haley and the Comets and many others. YOU DON'T HAVE TO HAVE A DATE. Come with a group of friends and choose partners at the Dance-a-Thon. And don't worry if you don't know how to hop or jitterbug. You can do any kind of dancing you know how. But, watch out! You'll soon be doing those "oldies" like you've been doing them all your life! There will be prizes awarded to the male and female with the best 50's costumes and to the winners of a short 50's dance contest. These prizes have been donated by Masada's, the Gift Box, Gates Men and Boys' Wear and Baker's Department Store. Homemade cookies, brownies, and sandwiches, donated by a number of concerned organizations and lemonade from Thrifway will be in abundance. Throughout the Dance-a-Thon, and especially during the intermissions, dancers and spectators alike will be able to purchase these refreshments.

The Dance-a-Thon will be carried live on KBMF-FM. Those who can not attend the Dance-a-Thon can still play a part in the success of this fund-raising event.

All proceeds from the Dance-a-Thon will go to support care, research, and education programs for children suffering lung-damaging diseases. The most serious of the children's lung diseases, cystic fibrosis, is the number one genetic killer of children. Cystic fibrosis affects one out of every 1,500 infants born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent. The parents can't have the disease, but they are among 10 million carriers of the gene for cystic fibrosis. Although incurable, cystic fibrosis can be effectively treated. Diagnosis and treatment of cystic fibrosis and other children's lung-damaging diseases are provided by more than 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers across the country supported by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Six of these centers are in Texas.

When the Foundation was founded in 1955, most children with cystic fibrosis didn't reach school age. Now, more than 50 percent of those with the disease live past the age of 18. And many of the treatment procedures developed for cystic fibrosis also help children with other lung-damaging diseases.

All individuals, especially parents, should know the signs of lung-damaging diseases. Knowing these signs can lead to early diagnosis and early treatment of the disease. Especially with cystic fibrosis, early treatment can help prolong a child's life.

Signs of lung-damaging diseases are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite with poor weight gain and clubbing or enlargement of fingertips. Other signs that are peculiar to cystic fibrosis are a salty taste of the skin, persistent and bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

SBA Farm Loans Nearer

Washington, D.C. -- Congressman Jack Hightower today announced significant legislative progress toward granting to farmers and ranchers full eligibility for Small Business Administration Loans.

The House Small Business Committee, of which Hightower is a member, this morning approved H. R. 9056, which was drafted to amend the Small Business Act.

"The bill's principal purpose was to make it absolutely clear to the Small Business Administration that small farmers and ranchers are eligible for full SBA assistance," Hightower said. "As the SBA interprets the act today, farmers and ranchers are eligible only for product disaster loans."

The Congressman said there was never a statutory prohibition against giving SBA assistance to farmers or ranchers, but the SBA had arbitrarily excluded farmers and ranchers by its administrative procedures.

"The committee's action today makes it very clear that we believe farmers and ranchers are business men and should be treated accordingly," Hightower said.

Hightower said that during subcommittee hearings he and other congressmen advised the SBA Administrator, Thomas Kleppe, that the Congress never intended to exclude small farmers and ranchers in the original SBA act.

Mr. Kleppe, who has been nominated as Secretary of the Interior, said the SBA would not change its interpretation of the act without clear statutory expression of eligibility.

"This bill will provide that expression," he said. The bill must now be passed by the full House and Senate and be signed by the President before becoming law.

"I will do whatever I can to assure its passage," Hightower said, "and to assure full compliance by the SBA with the intent of Congress."

PUBLIC NOTICE
 SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS (S. J. R. NO. 11)
 SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS CONSTITUTION."

The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS CONSTITUTION."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the GENERAL PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS CONSTITUTION."

ED NELSON, as President Harry S. Truman in "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!"

"Give 'Em Hell Harry!" To Play In Amarillo

Currently on its second coast-to-coast tour of American cities, Samuel Gallu's widely acclaimed play, "Give 'Em Hell Harry!" will be seen in this area during November. The show's opening tour earlier this year received SRO business at every single engagement. America went wild about Harry Truman - and Americans are wild about "Give 'Em Hell Harry!"

Portraying the thirty-third president of the United States on the current tour will be Ed Nelson, that fine character actor who has more than 1500 television performances and 21 motion pictures to his credit. On TV, he is perhaps best known for his running role of Dr. Michael Rossi in "Peyton Place." Among his movies were "Elmer Gantry," "Judgement at Nuremberg," and "Airport '75" to name just a few. His most recent stage appearances were in Jean Kerr's "Fishing Troughs" and Elizabeth Ginty's "Missouri Legend."

The movie, starring James Whitmore as Harry Truman, will be released in September in many communities throughout the country. This production of the play, during this portion of its national tour, is being presented by the Fort Worth-based firm of Dams-Shun Productions.

"Give 'Em Hell Harry!" which was hailed as "superb" by President Gerald Ford at its Ford Theater premiere in Washington, D. C. in April, is a full two-act play, with a complex set, imaginative lighting and several costume changes - an not a one-man recitation like Hal Holbrook's Mark Twain or Henry Fonda's Clarence Darrow. There are scenes in the Oval Office at the White House; in the front yard of the Truman home in Independence, Mo.; in the Vosges Mountains in France; in Sedalia and at Lee's Summit, Mo.; at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C. and at several other places.

The show has been directed by Peter H. Hunt, best known for his direction of "1776" and the Joel Grey musical, "Goodtime Charley."

Wrote the Associated Press: "Harry would have loved it!"

Ticket prices are the same in all locations--$5.50, $6.50 and $7.50, with marine seats $1 less at each price level.

Ticket locations in each city will be announced after September 15.

The play will be at Civic Center Auditorium, Amarillo, Nov. 27 at 8:00 P.M.

Postmaster Lists Rate Changes

Postmaster Ray Robertson announced today that some postage rates will change Sunday, September 14. Some of the changes will result in lower rates of postage for customers. The rate for the first ounce or fraction of an ounce of first class mail will be the same, 10 cents. However, each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce will be at the rate of 9 cents. This rate change affects the upper weight limit of ounce rate first-class mail, which changes from 12 ounces to 13 ounces. Heavier pieces are subject to the priority mail (Heavy pieces) rate which will not be changed. The rate for postal and post cards will be reduced from 8 cents to 7 cents. Fourth-class mail rates will be changed, except the library rates and single piece catalog rate, Robertson said. For instance, the charge for a five pound parcel mailed to Amarillo is no 90 cents. The new rate will be 99 cents. Rates for second-class mail will be increased. Copies mailed by the public will be 8 cents for the first 2 ounces; 4 cents for each additional ounce of fraction thereof, or the fourth-class rate, whichever is lower. A slight change will be made in third-class mail rates. The new rate will be 10 cents for the first two ounces or fraction thereof and 8 cents for each additional 2 ounces or fraction. Airmail rates will not change and all other rates will be substantially the same, the Postmaster said. Customers with questions are urged to telephone 659-3313.

Consumer Benefits Of Beef Research

DENVER, Colo. ---The Beef Research and Information Act will be voted on by the U. S. House of Representatives this month. According to the American National Cattle-men's Association, the bill will provide positive benefits to both the consuming public and the cattle industry.

If passed, the legislation will provide for an industry-wide referendum in which cattlemen vote on a self-help, "fair-share" uniform collection plan to provide funds for beef research, information and promotion. The program would not go into effect unless producers themselves voted for it. All funds would be provided by cattlemen.

ANCA President Gordon Van Vleck stressed the impact of expanded research on beef production. "Frankly," he said, "our industry may have reached a plateau in its technological and production efficiency. We need increased research at a time when the federal government has cut back on agricultural research. This self-help program would provide for research that could make cattlemen even more efficient producers of beef. The ultimate benefit would be to consumers."

According to Van Vleck, identification of consumer needs would be vastly improved through expanded research. Once identified, these needs could be met by developing better beef products and methods of handling and preparation. Research into health and nutrition is another area of vital interest to consumers and cattlemen. As it is now, cattlemen point out that science knows more about animal nutrition than human nutrition.

"We want to take on some of the tougher health questions in our research," Van Vleck said. "Some people say beef contributes to heart disease. Beef producers as well as consumers need to have the facts. So far no one has been willing or able to finance the research needed to come up with the answers. This program would take on that task."

The proposed legislation calls specifically for information that will assist consumers and other persons in making evaluations and decisions regarding purchasing, preparation and utilization of beef and beef products are required.

Distribution of beef is another major concern to cattlemen. Statistics show that 80 per cent of the increase in food prices last year resulted from increased costs in non-farm areas. Cattlemen say that unless beef distribution improves, farm-to-consumer margins will continue to mount.

"The cattleman's share is squeezed along with the consumer's budget by these rising non-farm costs," Van Vleck said. "Research can provide us with answers to many of our problems by improving productivity in distribution channels."

Van Vleck pointed out that the Beef Research and Information Act has broad support from beef and dairy cattlemen. He observed that the industry is ready to proceed as soon as Congress has given its approval to the program. "This is really a refreshing departure from the accepted practice in this day and age," Van Vleck said. "It's one of the few instances where consumers do not end up footing the bill for a new program through taxes."

Dance a little for the breath of life... so that others might breathe.

Editor's Letters

Dear Billy:
You are going to enter the 50's Dance-a-thon contest? I wish singles were admissible because I would challenge you AND your partner personally. The 50's music and dance aren't just forms of the art; they are a state of mind, and you have to be in your 50's and/or lived in New Mexico for several years to really qualify as an expert to you aren't old enough to beat me and you haven't lived in New Mexico.

I'll be there watching
A number of questions are asked of me as I travel about the City. So I am going to attempt to answer some of the ones most asked. If we were to have a major fire, do we have the necessary equipment to handle it?

Yes, at present, we have three pumper trucks capable of pumping at a combined rate of 1750 gallons per minute. Do we have sufficient personnel? Yes, we presently have 27 active members on our Department who are capable of operating the trucks and pumps.

Do we have adequate water supply? Yes, we have a capacity storage of 1 1/2 million gallons in overhead tanks which is distributed to our hydrants through a grid system to insure good flow.

Does the Fire Loss have anything to do with insurance premiums? Yes, we either pay a penalty or receive a dividend according to our fire loss record.

How do you rate the Spearman Firefighters? They are very eager to learn new techniques required to keep up with the ever-changing field of fire suppression technology. They have the true dedication of wanting to help their fellow man. So, I would rate them as a progressive department striving to reach the plateau of perfection.

How can I help? By supporting your fire-fighters in their community work. Become involved, let them know you care. If there are any other questions regarding fire prevention, direct them to Charles Littlejohn, 2525, or write to Box 214, Spearman.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:
People will believe anything if you whisper it.

He was encouraged to continue studying the WORD at a Christian college by a friend, so soon he was accepted at O. R. U.

and started the 1973 fall term as a junior.

This year he is studying as a senior, the gospel in English, French, Spanish, Green and leading the lost to CHRIST.

He was a piano player for T. L. Osborn meetings during this summer, witnessing at other times.

Only the LORD knows the future for Jonathan and his family, but his interest is in world evangelism, overseas, and as the Lord leads.

Production Symposium Slated

LUBBOCK--Ground-work for a comprehensive program for a petroleum production technology symposium to be held in November was laid by South Plains production engineers and Texas Tech University faculty and students this week.

The bi-annual symposium, which is expected to attract more than 200 petroleum production technicians and other professionals associated with the industry, will be conducted Nov. 13-14 at KoKo Convention Palace.

The symposium is sponsored by the South Plains Section and the Texas Tech University Student Chapter of the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE).

Charlie Miller of Levelland, with Amoco Production Company, is general chairman of the symposium and presided over the planning meeting in Engineering Center on the Texas Tech campus.

Meeting with representatives of the SPE were held in Lubbock, Texas, Sept. 10-11. The central market place for real estate utilizing a multi-listing concept has finally found its place in our society. Like many new ideas, it finally commenced to win gradual acceptance about 1953 and today dominates the residential markets in all of our major urban areas.

Petroleum engineering Profs. Duane Crawford and Phil Johnson, and Donnie Camp of Lubbock, senior petroleum engineering major and chairman of the student section of SPE.

The members of the committee included David Fry of Levelland, with Dowell Division of Dow Chemical Company; Jerry Bowen and John Lee, both with Levelland offices of Amoco Production Company; and Joe McArthur of Brownfield, also with Amoco.

Texas Farms & Ranches Best Investment

On May 17, 1972, twenty-four gentlemen met under a buttonwood tree in front of what is now 68 Wall Street and declared themselves broken for the sale and purchase of public stocks. This group of people were providing a central market. Out of custom and tradition came the rules of a strong self-governing body that today is known as the New York Stock Exchange.

From the camel caravans of Marco Polo, plodding cross the plains of the Far East to the instantaneous transmission of buy and sell quotes on the World Exchanges, the central market continues to provide the so necessary function of information on which to buy and sell.

The central market place for real estate utilizing a multi-listing concept has finally found its place in our society. Like many new ideas, it finally commenced to win gradual acceptance about 1953 and today dominates the residential markets in all of our major urban areas.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Agency, Inc. is providing a central market for farm and ranch properties. A multi-listing service available to member Real Estate Brokers provides thousands of properties of all sizes and shapes located all over Texas. The Central market of T.F.R.A. provides massive exposure to match the buy and sell orders of a billion and a half million dollar industry.

World population is growing at a frightening rate of 200,000 new people each day--eighty million a year. This is equal to the population of the United States every three years. Famine stalks the world and economists question whether we can maintain a minimum diet with the population explosion. With six percent of the world population, the United States produces fifteen percent of the world food supply.

Last year farm and ranch sales in Texas averaged over four million dollars a day. The central market provided by Texas Farm and Ranch Agency of Austin, Texas will facilitate the growth of this business. To be able to offer a large variety of properties to their clientele, multiplied by the efforts of the thousands of brokers, produces markets never before possible to the individual Real Estate Broker.

Lamar Golding, President of T.F.R.A., reports that the acceptance of this service agency has been remarkable. From the largest to the smallest, the brokers of Texas are utilizing its benefits. The ranch buyers of the State continue to use its toll-free state-wide number to inquire about available properties. These inquiries are processed and passed on to the local broker that has property available in the area requested. We have seen the dramatic effects of the energy crisis. The food crisis is at hand. The T.F.R.A. feels that Texas farms and ranches represent the best investment on earth.

How To Select An Agent

Having your own insurance agent is like having your own security blanket. If you don't already have a competent agent, I suggest you find one - just as you would locate a doctor or a lawyer. Inquire among your friends and in your community. Find an agent who knows his business - one in whom you can have confidence. How comforting it is to know that with one telephone number - all of your insurance problems and claims can be handled smoothly. When selecting an agent, keep in mind that you will be dealing with him through the years. You will want one who will become your trusted friend and adviser. The good agent has had extensive education in insurance and financial planning. In all states, he must pass a written examination before qualifying for a license. An agent is successful because of the quality of his advice and service. He wants to continue to serve his clients year after year, therefore he will always have their best interests at heart. This information has been brought to you as a public service by John R. Collard, Jr., your one-stop answer to complete business and personal insurance protection.
