

City Council Meets

Spearman City Council members annexed land to the City of Spearman, approved agreements with Texas Municipal League, and authorized the city manager to solicit bids for equipment for the fire department at their recent meeting.

Council members voted to adopt an ordinance annexing the South Park Unit #1 subdivision to the City of Spearman, effective Oct. 24.

Jim Murray, city manager, stated that the city has been a member of the Texas Municipal League Group Benefit Risk Pool and the TML Workers' Compensation Risk Pool for the past eight to 10 years and has received excellent service.

After discussion, the council voted to enter into an intergovernmental agreement with the Texas Municipal League Group Benefit Risk Pool to provide group benefits for city employees, and the Texas Municipal League Risk Pool to provide workers' compensation insurance.

The City of Spearman will take bids on the purchase of air packs and bunker gear for the Spearman Volunteer Fire Department.

In other business, the council considered becoming an active member of the Panhandle Area Alliance. Dave McReynolds, executive director of the PAA, attended the council meeting and explained the alliance's goals and objectives. He extended an invitation for Spearman to join the alliance at 20 cents per capita. The council tabled the matter for further consideration.

Approval was given to minutes of the Oct. 10 city council meeting, monthly bills payable and monthly revenue and expense report.

Those attending the meeting included Mayor Bob Pearson, Aldermen Wilson McClellan, Bob Boxwell, Mike Cudd, Burl Buchanan and Don Reed, City Manager Jim Murray, City Secretary Cheryl Gibson, Police Sergeant Steve Schmidt-Witcher, Fire Chief Johnny Ring and Bruce Duncan, visitor.

Coch Reed Cates' (upper right) sixth grade Social Science class raised $1,757 for the Red Cross relief effort in California. They undertook this project as part of their Peoples of the World and What Brings Them Together unit. They presented a check to the local Red Cross representative on Friday.

Health Fair Success

Over 120 people took advantage of Golden Spread Center's Health Fair, held Oct. 24.

The annual Health Fair is sponsored by Golden Spread Center to provide screening tests for better community health. Tests offered included blood pressure, dental, glaucoma, pulmonary function and hearing.

Laurence B. Behney, M.D. assisted with flu shots, as did Romeo B. Sangalang, M.D., who also drew blood for testing. Stanton W. Cobb, D.D.S. provided screening for oral cancer and answered questions concerning dental health care.

Blood pressure checks were done by Joan McClellan, R.N., with the Texas Department of Health. Rick Smith, C.R.T.T., R.C.P., measured pulmonary function, and blood tests were performed by personnel from Hansford Hospital.

Texas Society to Prevent Blindness provided glaucoma screening, and hearing tests were administered by High Plains Hearing Aid Center.

Other services were provided by Margaret Wilson, benefits advisor at Panhandle Area Agency on Aging, and by Linda Clayton with Lifeline at Northwest Texas Hospital.

Golden Spread Center expressed thanks to everyone who made the Health Fair a success.

Anti-Porn Campaign Gearing Up

Mayor Bob Pearson and the local Chapter of Concerned Women for America (CWA) have joined the growing number of Americans speaking out against the degrading effects of obscenity on their families, children, neighborhoods and business districts. Their message to law enforcement and elected officials is that they want pornography out of their communities. Their mediums to express community standards are snowy white ribbons and a Mayoral Proclamation.

The second annual, national White Ribbon Against Pornography (WRAP) Campaign will culminate during Pornography Awareness Week, Sunday, October 29th to Sunday, November 5th. White ribbons or bows will be decorating homes, businesses, churches and shopping malls; flying from car antennae, motorcycles, trucks and bicycle handlebars; trimming trees and personal mail boxes; worn on lapels and as arm bands. White ribbons also will be streaming from baby carriages to further emphasize concern for children in a time of heavy porn pollution via cable-TV, video cassettes, magazines, dial-a-porn and computer porn.

Many millions of ribbons were used during the first WRAP campaign last year in hundreds of locations nationwide. At one of the many rallies that took place, Marlene Reid, vice president of Morality in Media of Minnesota and chair of her state's WRAP Campaign, issued a rallying cry that is just as pertinent this year.

Speaking to a crowd on the steps of the State Capitol, she noted the proximity of the campaign to All Hallows' Eve and said, "It is fitting that this rally be held on Halloween weekend. We worry that some sick mind might lace children's candy with arsenic. But what about their spiritual well-being when they are exposed to pornographic materials?"

"As our children and grandchildren prepare for 'trick or treat', it is a good time to resolve that we will STOP the pornographers from playing tricks on our children and our families, and instead treat them to a porn-free society. Our children are our greatest resource. They deserve no less than that," she stressed.

A $9-billion-a-year industry, pornography reaches and corrupts children and degrades adults. Hardcore pornography traffic is largely dominated by organized crime. By advocating sex anytime, anywhere, with anyone of any sex or age, pornography has a very destructive effect on our society.

Mayor Pearson's proclamation is calling for the enforcement of obscenity laws and for the prosecution of those who break those laws. Locally, the WRAP Campaign is sponsored by Concerned Women for America.

The local coordinator is Leann Gillaspie.

National WRAP Co-Chairs are Norma Norris of Butler, Pa. who originated the White Ribbon concept, and Dom Gordon of Rothschild, Wis., who is founder and president of Morality in Media of Wisconsin.

WRAP is organized nationally by Morality in Media, INC., (MIM), headquartered at 475 Riverside Drive, New York, New York 10115.

Among The Neighbors

by Helen Fisher

Kristin Beedy is busy tutoring her grandmother, Twyla Wheeler of Dumas, this week in the homework of the third grade. Twyla is with the children while the Scott Beedys are in Las Vegas. They were accompanied by Kerry Hinton as their original schedule included a CPA school there this week.

Kevin Beedy, who is not yet in school, claims equal time with his grandmother during the week.

Woodie and Mary Mackey visited Bruce and Freda Sheets overnight this week. They were enroute from McCook, Neb. to Fulton, Texas for the winter. The Mackeys and Sheets have shared many wonderful winters on the coast through the years.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Love and J.C. Love of Laverne spent Sunday here to visit their sister, Faye Schmer who was a patient in Hansford Hospital.

Faye underwent surgery on Friday and was able to return to her home on Monday.

Other out of town visitors to the hospital was the Schmer's daughter, Donna Darling, and granddaughter of Pampa. They also visited in the home of her father, Don Schmer, and brother Ronnie and Christopher.

Carler Crawford reports that Marie is doing moderately well in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. She broke a hip in a fall at Hansford Manor on Monday morning and had surgery Tuesday morning.

It is expected that she will remain in the hospital for possibly nine more days.

Elaine Odegaard is staying with her mother.

It was heart-warming to read in the Thursday's Amarillo Daily News of the support and comfort shown by the people of Fayetteville and especially the University coaches and players to the family of Chester Cunningham and his family. Mr. Cunningham, of Fritch, was reported to be improving from the near fatal heart attack after the Texas U. football game last Saturday. Gladys Cunningham, wife of Supt. Cunningham and mother of Ed, is the former Gladys Haden of Spearman.

Shoes are art? Yes! Artfully drawn shoes by the Spearman High School students of art teacher, Jane Henton, are now on display at the Hansford County Library. The artwork depicts shoes the students wore to school one day. The pencil sketches are actually portraits of the various shoes and boots, and each is very distinct, unique, and loaded with character. A lot of talent is represented in these drawings. Come to the library and view these well-heeled pictures. . . it will be good for your Sole!

SISD Sayso

Influences

by Eddie Gage

When the waitress came to take the order, the six year old quickly responded, "I'll have swordfish steak with extra lemon, please."

The mother and father glanced quickly at each other, but said nothing. Their surprise was simple, the boy had always been a hamburger eater. Neither of them had ever ordered swordfish.

When the meal arrived the young diner squeezed lemon over the fish. His parents suggested he might want to taste it before adding the lemon. "No," he said, "it's better with lemon."

He covered an ample portion of the fish with juice and commenced eating.

During dessert, the mother's suspense could be contained no longer. "Why did you order swordfish?" "Because I like it," he replied. To which the mother said, "But, you've never had it before."

"So?" "How did you know you'd like it?"

"Miss Brown said it was great."

Ah! Mystery solved. Miss Brown was his first grade teacher.

Can too much ever be said about influence? A teacher makes a comment, probably off-handed, and a boy adds swordfish to his otherwise simple diet.

In education, as well as at home, what we say and do will probably last much longer than the topic of last week's homework. As administrators, teachers, and parents, shouldn't our commitment to children include the pledge to be someone they can always look up to?

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The Spearman Study Club would like to extend a big "Thank You" to all of the Spearman people who participated and supported our annual Arts and Crafts Show.

Without their support and patronage we would be unable to return as much money back into our community as we do. With their support they are helping their community with scholarships, needy Christmas funds, and various other community projects that need local support and funding.

We would like to say again "Thank You!"

SPEARMAN STUDY CLUB

The Spearman Study Club held its October meeting at Inch by Inch with owner, Nancy Shaner, giving the program.

She gave a little history and information on each machine, and then members got to try the ones of their choice. After the program, the club members moved next door to Lady Fair for the business meeting and refreshments.

FLAME FELLOWSHIP

Spearman's own Dorcus Colard, who has been a resident for 35 years, will be the speaker at the Flame Fellowship meeting Friday, Nov. 3.

She and her husband George have been instrumental in bringing peace and love in the hearts of many people in this area according to Flame Fellowship members. She has taught Christian ladies' groups across Texas and Oklahoma and ministered to many alcoholics and their families.

All this came to a sudden halt in 1983. Her husband suffered a severe stroke which left him paralyzed on one side. Mrs. Colard then became a full time minister to her husband. They are now working toward complete healing of his body.

"They are interested in the lives of people. Since this is what makes Spearman a strong community we invite you to come hear of their inspiration and joy," says the Flame Fellowship members.

The meeting will held at the Extension Homemakers Club at 305 North Bernice. Refreshments and fellowship start at 7:00 p.m. and the meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. Both men and women are welcome at meetings.

Spiritually Speaking

by Russ Gibbs

When a business establishment gets into financial trouble and has to be reorganized, the sign put out when it reopens for business usually says "Under New Management." This gesture is intended as encouraging information for past customers and prospective clients. It seems to indicate that things will be run better than before. There may be the same goods, the same staff, and the same work, but the offer of new methods, a new spirit, and better service promises a brighter future.

Like some business places, our lives can fail because they are badly managed. Fortunately, there is always hope for a second chance. When we turn control of our lives over to God and live according to His laws, He can make life a divine adventure "under new management."

The Bible says, "For whatever is born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world -- our faith. Who is he who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?" (I John 5:4-5)

Do you need "new management" of your life? You can find a new beginning and a fresh start by trusting in Jesus Christ. Our revival begins today. See you there!

Extension Homemakers Present Scholarship

Patty Wilkins was named recipient of the Ella Garnett Scholarship at Tuesday night's Home Extension Membership supper.

The event was held at the Extension Homemakers Club Room and included a fashion show, "Fashions Around Spearman," plus presentation of other special awards and installation of 1990 Extension Homemakers officers.

After a welcome given by Delinda McLaughlin, council president, a prayer was given by Michelle Scott and a meal was served by Hansford County 4-H members. Jettie Davis, recreation chairman, introduced special guests for the evening.

The extension homemakers' yearbook was dedicated to Joyce Byers, and "Woman of the Year" awards were presented to Elsie Watley of the Happy Homemakers and to Pam Ledgewood of Town & County. The special awards were presented by Elsie Watley, vice chairman.

Highlighting the evening's activities was a style show featuring fashions from The Bunkhouse, J.G.'s and Lady Fair.

Models for the style show included Delinda McLaughlin, Peggy Winegarner, Adalyn Barnes, Jettie Davis, Rhonda Bonham, Laura Mackie and Dalene Baker. Models for men's fashions were Joe T. Venneman, Garland Head, R.L. McClellan, and Buford Babitzke.

Other models were 4-H members Bonnie Jarvis, Karla Kunselman, Beverly Burton and Cinda Turner. Serving the meal were 4-Hers Carla Burton, Stacy Gardner and Traci Scribner. Pat Dear provided narration for the fashion show.

Karen Babitzke, county extension home economist, assisted with installation of officers for 1990.

Residents Reminded To Donate Blood

Spearman residents can benefit if they become blood donors Monday, Oct. 30. The Spearman High School Student Council is sponsoring a blood drive that day, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the SHS library.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center of Amarillo lists some of the benefits of being a blood donor. They include safety. An all volunteer blood donation program assures that blood will be available and that it will be safe.

One donation can help as many as 3 to 4 persons. Donors receive a mini-physical before each blood donation. Personnel from the Blood Center check blood pressure, pulse, temperature and iron level. Blood donations help control health care costs. Donors become a vital part of the community's lifeblood.

The local Blood Center may not use any means that could be interpreted as an enticement which could lead to the volunteer donation of an unsafe unit of blood. Blood must be available for everyone at all times. All blood donations must be more carefully screened than ever before. Only safe, healthy donors are urged to donate, as regularly as possible, so the safety of the blood can be maintained and an adequate supply is available upon request by hospitals.
